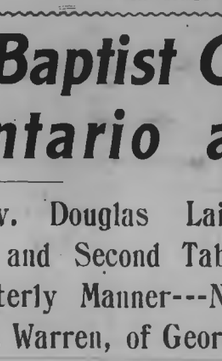
The committee on obituaries reported through Rev. G. R. Welch, B.A., of Lindsay. The report showed that the following members of the Church had passed away during the past year; Deacon Andrew McLaren, of Belfontaine; Bro. Jas. Lesser, of Olivet church, Montreal; Sister Esther A. Anderson, wife of Rev. W. K. Anderson, D.D., of Vankleek Hill; Mrs. Hannah Barrington Webb, mother of Rev. G. T. Webb, of Toronto; Rev. Archibald McNeill, of Baltimore, Ont.; Mrs. Jas. Mode, mother of Rev. P. C. Mode, M.A., of Vankleek Hill; two sons of Rev. P. H. Anderson, of St. Frances, Ont.; Bro. A. A. Martin, of St. Mary's; Rev. A. McLellan, of Jacksonville, Florida, once a Baptist church pastor at Stratford, and at other points in Ontario; Mrs. Wm. Davies, Toronto; Mrs. Hannah Pinfold Trotter, mother of Rev. J. E. Trotter, Rev. A. R. Bowerman, late pastor of the Osnabruck church; Mrs. Geo. L. Hughson, Sarnia; Wm. A. Smith, M.D., St. Thomas; Mrs. G. Monde, Owen Sound; Alfred Tracey, of Claremont; Miss Alice Baker, of Hodge, Montreal; Mrs. Sherriff London; Mrs. Josiah Taylor, Hamilton; Mrs. Daniel Hillsworth, Port Hope; Mrs. Geo. C. Roch, Perth; Deacon Harry Edwards, London; Deacon Levi Shirk, Hamilton; Deacon Alex. McLean, Nurse; Mr. Wm. Pavey, Woodstock, and many others.



PROF. F. TRACEY
Newly-Elected Member of the Home Mission Board.

The report of the Nominating Committee was then read by Rev. J. B. Webb, which was adopted. The nominations resulted as follows:

President—Bro. R. D. Warren, of Georgetown.

1st Vice-Pres.—Rev. W. M. Walker, B.A. London.

2nd Vice-Pres.—Rev. A. L. Therrin, Montreal.

Sec.-Treas.—Rev. F. K. Dayfoot, M.A., Simcoe.

The new president, Mr. Warren was then introduced, and was greeted with applause as he took his position in the pulpit. In a brief address he thanked the people sincerely for the honor conferred upon him. In electing him president of the convention

Mr Warren is a layman of the Georgetown Baptist church, and a gentleman who has taken a deep interest for many years in the Christian cause. He will undoubtedly make an excellent president, and will perform his duties with proficiency.

The first session of the great convention was then brought to a close by the singing of a hymn and the benediction.

Police Court's Daily Grind

Only One Man Disturbed the Peace Yesterday.

Thanksgiving Day was spent very quietly by the citizens judging from the roll call at the police court this morning. Mr. Peter Sauve pleaded guilty to the charge of being drunk and disorderly in a public place yesterday. He is a bricklayer and has been employed by Mr. J. Bogue. He was fined $2 to be paid in 10 days or the usual sojourn to the goal. This was the only case brought before the magistrate.

Ray Best The Winner Of The Examiner Cup

did well. Many were starting in their first race, and a ten mile run is a pretty hard gruelling for the first attempt, especially at the pace which was set yesterday.

As to the result. It may be said that the race was an unqualified success, and next year there will be an even greater number of entries. The success of the two local men will inspire others, and they will get into training earlier in the year. It is quite probable that, while, for the first race the time was as good as anyone expected, the record established yesterday will be steadily lowered in the future, until time equal to that in the Hamilton Herald race will be made.

Well Managed

All the arrangements for the carrying out of the race were successfully carried out, and the result is that there were no complaints of unfair treatment. The officials demonstrated their efficiency, and nothing which was essential to the satisfactory termination of the race was neglected.

At Lakefield Mr. J. D. Craig acted as starter, assisted by Mr. E. S. Clarry, and the start was most satisfactory. Mr. W. E. Wasson took the time at the start, and drove to the city, arriving here in time to catch the finish. At the Examiner office the judge was Mr. R. M. Roy, who had charge of the arrangements at this end. A space was roped off for the finishing tape, but the crowd swarmed over it, in the excitement of the critical movement.

There was, however, no interference and Mr. Roy is to be complimented on the complete arrangements which were made by him to ensure a satisfactory finish.

The Story of the Race

The race was due to start at 10.30 and the preliminary arrangements were so well carried out that it was only four minutes after that time when the seventeen men were started on their ten mile run to the city. Practically the whole population of the village was on the streets as the men passed through them, the event having awakened a deep interest in the residents of that community.

From the start the pace set was a rapid one, the whole seventeen men leaving the village at a good clip. For about a mile from the starting point, the runners kept along well together, but after turning the Phelan Corners they began to spread out. Spenceley here took the lead, and for fully half the distance was at the head of the bunch, at one time being about a quarter of a mile from the majority of the running men who were still bunched. For a considerable distance, Benton, the Lakefield man was a running mate for Spenceley, but about three miles from Lakefield the latter left him, and increased his lead.

The Position at Nassau

Approaching Nassau, however, he dropped back, and when the corner was reached Best was in the lead, the order then being :—

Best,
Wilson,
Spenceley,
Simpson,
McBurney,
Morphet,
Yelland.

The others had dropped out of the race at different points between Lakefield and that point, and were out of the running. A short distance south of Nassau Simpson took the lead closely followed by Best and Wilson with Spenceley fourth and McBurney next, the latter being some distance behind, but by a good sprint succeeding in coming up close to the leaders. The road from the waterworks power house to the city was filled with buggies and bicyclists, and the dust from these vehicles added to the discomfort of the runners.

After coming on to George street, at Smith, Best and Wilson passed Simpson, and gradually gained on him, until they crossed the tape. At the Y.M.C.A. corner, the two former men were together, but from that point Best gradually increased his lead, and finished, amid the cheers of the thousands who, had gathered, seven seconds ahead of Wilson, with Simpson third and only a few yards behind.

The Finish

The finish was as exciting as anyone could wish, the second and third men giving the winner a hard run right to the tape. McBurney finished fourth and Spenceley came in fifth.

Of those who finished, Simpson, the Indian from Hiawatha, was in the best condition, and had the race been another mile he would probably have won. Best, however finished strong, and was apparently good for some distance yet if it had been necessary. Wilson, who ran from Nassau with a lame ankle, collapsed as he crossed the tape, and fell into the arms of those waiting to receive him. Best and he were carried in triumph to the Y.M.C.A. on the shoulders of their cheering admirers.

The work of the five men who finished was worthy of special commendation, none of them have ever competed in a ten mile race before. They demonstrated that they have the ability to make names for themselves as runners. McBurney, the little Havelock boy, was in his first race of any kind, and, while he did not win either of the prizes, his work was such as to please his friends. He expressed himself as well satisfied, and declares his intention of entering again next year.

The experience gained by those who participated in yesterday's race will be invaluable to them in future events of this kind and the prospects are that this races will create an interest in last running in the city and county which will make this annual event one of the most popular of the whole year.

The Event of the Day

For local people the race was the great item of interest on the holiday programme.

It formed almost the sole topic of conversation on the street yesterday morning. The fact that there had been no long distance running here for years, and there was no past performances upon which to judge the men, added to the speculation as to the result of the race.

Fully two hours before the race finished, people began to congregate at the finishing point, at the Examiner office. An hour before the races started there were people waiting in points of vantage. There was great guessing as to the winners. Few had any favourite although Ray Best seemed to be considered by the majority of the crowd as a likely winner. McBurney too, had many supporters who thought that he would win.

Keen Interest

When a telephone message was received from Lakefield at 10.34 that the race was under way, hundreds of people had gathered at the finishing post to wait an hour for the finish. The crowd kept on increasing until the block was jammed. The sidewalks could not contain them all and although ropes had been stretched along the pavement the crowd swayed out into the road until the street was a mass of people. Every conceivable viewpoint was largely seized upon; even the windows of the buildings were jammed. It was impossible to keep the crowd back and from the Y.M.C.A. down there was a lane lined with spectators which almost turned into a blind alley when the runners arrived.

Excitement increased when a bulletin was hung out announcing the position of the first half dozen winners at Nassau. Best was ahead according to the bulletin, but there was no telling how soon the positions would be reversed and there was great excitement as to the ultimate result.

When the scores of rigs and bicycles announced that the great race was almost over, the impatience of the crowd could not be restrained; despite the efforts of the officials they swarmed into the road and the winners had to run the last few hundred yards in almost a sea of spectators.

Even after the race was over and the winners who finished had departed in search of rub-downs and the attentions of their friends, a large part of the crowd still remained in front of the Examiner building, discussing the race. Everyone appeared interested and excited over the struggle and some remained for an hour engaged in an animated discussion of "how this man would have won if," etc. The time 59.50 record was the subject of much favourable comment among the crowd who looked upon the performance as extremely meritorious.

Peterborough's Holiday Was Quietly Spent

How the Citizens Yesterday Gave Evidence of Their Appreciation of Benefits Bestowed—Many Left the City to Visit—Church Services Well Attended.

Thanksgiving Day in Peterborough was spent quietly, the only excite- of the day being that furnished by The Examiner Road Race. The weather was ideal for Thanksgiving Day —a marked contrast to the style being dished up to-day — and many took advantage of the pleasant weather to leave the city and spend the day with friends. The single return fare rates on the railways attracted many, and the afternoon trains on Wednesday and the morning trains yesterday were crowded, the railways reporting one of the most successful Thanksgiving Day businesses in the history of the city. Those who remained at home spent a quiet day. Many were entertaining friends from a distance, while others had as their guests some of the delegates to the Baptist Convention, the presence in the city of several hundred of the latter giving the streets a clerical appearance.

The street railway did a good business yesterday, the warm weather attracting many to the streets, and the cars were well patronized.

In the evening, two church teas, those at St. Andrew's and George street churches were attended by good crowds, who were well treated, and enjoyed the tea and the concert which followed.

Two good crowds were at the Grand Opera House and enjoyed the presentation of "A Bell Boy," a rollicking musical farce comedy.

The "at home" at the T.A.S. hall was well attended and was a most successful event.

At the Young Conservative Club rooms a smoker was held, and it, too, was well attended, a good programme being given.

The new officers of the local corps of the Salvation Army were welcomed at the Barracks last night, and Adjutant and Mrs. Wiggins, the new officers in charge were given a hearty reception by the Peterborough corps.

The day passed off without any mishaps, and must be characterized, generally, as one of the most pleasant holidays of the year. The church services held in the morning were well attended, the spirit of thanksgiving for the blessings, both temporal and spiritual, bestowed by a beneficent Providence during the year, being a characteristic of the services.

Thanksgiving Tea A Success

Ladies of St. Andrew's Church Gave Splendid Tea and Concert.

The annual Thanksgiving Day tea under the auspices of the ladies of St. Andrew's church was held last night and was a pronounced success in every particular. About 400 persons were served tea and this feature of the evening's programme was fully up to the standard of excellence established by the ladies of this church in the past. This tea, which was the third annual event of its kind held by this church, was attended by a larger number than any previous events of this kind, and as a consequence the ladies are feeling gratified at the success of their efforts.

Mr. Donald Potter in the absence of the pastor, occupied the chair, and announced the following excellent programme :—

Piano solo—Mr. Forsyth.
Vocal duet—Coleman Brothers.
Vocal solo—Miss Bella King.
Vocal solo—Mrs. Prust.
Vocal duet—Mr. and Mrs. Firth.
Vocal solo—Mr. Chas. Coleman.
Solo—Miss King.
Solo—Mrs. Prust.
Solo—Mrs. Firth.
Violin solo—Mr. Gilbert Markle.
Vocal solo—Mr. Firth.

At the conclusion of the programme Mr. J. Henderson moved, seconded by Mr. John Mathison, a vote of thanks to those who had contributed to the programme Needless to say it was enthusiastically endorsed.

The officers of the Ladies' Aid, the energetic and progressive members of which are responsible for the success of the tea last night are :—

President—Mrs. T. C. Elliott.
Vice-President — Mrs. R. McWilliams.
Secretary—Mrs. D. McMillan.
Treasurer—Mrs. John Anderson.

Banks To Keep Open Saturday

Bellevillo Banks Decide on New Departure.

At a meeting of the bank managers of Belleville, held last Saturday afternoon in the Bank of Montreal, at which all of the local bank managers were present, it was unanimously decided that all the banks would hereafter keep open on Saturdays from 10 until 3 o'clock, instead of from 10 until 1, as formerly.

Were Welcomed To Peterborough

Adjutant and Mrs. Wiggins Arrived in City Last Night.

Adjutant Wiggins, successor to Staff-Captain McAmmond, in charge of the local Salvation Army corps, accompanied by Mrs. Wiggins and family, arrived in the city on the 7.35 C.P.R. train last night and were given a hearty welcome by the Salvationists of Peterborough. They were met at the station by the band and members of the corps, and escorted to the Barracks, where there was a large gathering to greet them and give them a warm reception to Peterborough.

The meeting was in charge of Corps Sergt.-Major Brooks.

Ex-Ald. Batten, on behalf of the friends of the Army and citizens of Peterborough, was the first speaker, and extended a hearty welcome to the incoming officer.

Bandmaster Green, on behalf of the band, and Sergt.-Major Mrs. Lloyd, for the League of Mercy, also made addresses of welcome to the incoming officer.

Adjutant and Mrs. Wiggins both replied, thanking the Salvationists of Peterborough for their hearty welcome.

During the evening a song was effectively rendered by the Corps Cadets, and Oliver and Wilfred Wiggins, the little sons of the adjutant, were heard to great advantage in a duet.

Adjutant Wiggins has been engaged in Army work for about 20 years, the greater part of that time in Ontario. For the last six years he has been in the Maritime Provinces carrying on the work of the Army. His last station, before coming here was Halifax, N.S.

The meetings on Sunday will take the form of welcome services to the new officer.

Western Missions Claim The Baptists' Attention

Interesting Reports of Work in the New Field Presented a Thursday's Sessions—Committee on Nominations Report Adopted—The Standing Committees Named—Encouragidg Report on Church Building.

THURDAY MORNING

The convention re-assembled at 9.15 o'clock, Mr. R. D. Warren, the new president, presiding.

After devotional exercises, Rev. T. Watson of Kemtry, spoke on "Loyalty and Fraternity." He based his remarks upon the words, "One is your master, even Christ, and all ye are brethren." The address was a most gratifying key note to the convention.

Rev. W. D. Mages, of Clinton, led the convention in prayer.

Church Edifice Report

Rev. W. J. Scott of Toronto, presented the report of the Church Edifice Board. It showed that the permanent fund had been increased by $1000 during the past year. The number of churches contributing to the funds of the board had increased from 15 to 45. Two Sunday schools had sent gifts. The amount contributed by churches and Sunday schools was $398.67, being an increase of $189.22 over the previous year. The report referred appreciatively to the Toronto Baptist Church Extension Board during the past five years. By the aid of this Board church edifices involving an expenditure of about $53,000 have been, or are about to be erected in that city. About $13,000 have been expended through other channels in church edifice work in Toronto during the period now mentioned. Other church extension boards have been founded at Hamilton and Montreal.

London has enlarged the Adelaide street church, and rebuilt an enlarged church on Maitland street.

The question was raised whether these local organizations should not be affiliated with the Church Edifice Board. By the will of the late Mrs. W. Davies the Board will soon secure a legacy of $500. The following churches have repaid their loans: Park street church, Peterborough; Medora, and Caledonia. Six loans had been made during the year, totalling in amount $2,950. Other loans amounting to $1700, have been granted, but have not yet been issued. The total number of loans on the books is 31, amounting in all to $10,416.31. This with the money in the bank makes up the capital of the Board, which is $12,243.93.

The total number of churches helped since 1907 is 102, and the total amount of loans issued is $47,-950. Only a little more than the $1827 in the bank is unappropriated, so that the board require immediate assistance in the work.

The report was seconded in an instructive address by Rev. G. R. Welch of Lindsay.

Rev. J. R. Webb of Montreal, referred to the work done by the church extension board of Montreal. During the past five years $20,000 had been spent in extension work.

Rev. Dr. Cameron of Ottawa, said that many gifts and work done by many churches, were not often credited to them. All work for which contributions are solicited should be under the control of the Board.

The report was adopted, and the following brethren appointed to the membership of the Board: Rev. J. R. Webb, Bros. W. Davies, Henry Kew, and A. T. Gregory.

A resolution endorsing the work of the International Reform Bureau, now meeting at Brussels, Belgium, was then introduced, and the secretary was instructed to cable a message embodying these sentiments to the president of that body.

Committee on Nominations

This committee's recommendation was adopted as follows:

Western Missions

Rev. Jas. Grant of Dundas, presented the report of the committee on Western Missions. He spoke of the methods pursued in bringing western missions before the people. Great care had been exercised in the selection of association secretaries; good speakers had been among the churches and much literature had been distributed. The work in the west had been most encouraging. There are now 20 German Baptist churches, 13 Scandanavian churches, and active mission work among Russians, Galicians and Hungarians, also a German speaking and a Scandinavian speaking evangelist, giving their whole time to work among their own people, and a foreign speaking department under the superintendency of one of the brightest and ablest young ministers. During the year 40 new mission stations have been opened; 16 new churches organized; 500 candidates baptized; 1150 new members have been received, and at least 950 persons have been converted on the field. The report closed with a strong appeal for aid in developing the work in Western Canada.

The treasurer's statement showed total receipts of $10,872.36, of which $3,317.47 were from churches, $1,-007.13 from Sunday schools, $944.38 from individuals, $318.60 from the women's societies, and the balance from the other sources. The sum of $7,716.00 was remitted to the treasurer of the Manitoba Convention, and $2,538.00 to that of British Columbia. Expenses, etc., consumed the balance, with the exception of 75 cents now in the treasurr

Mr. Grant in moving the adoption of the report spoke of the number of foreigners who were flocking to the west and of the necessity of giving the gospel of Christ to them. Canadian boys who were going west were in danger of being swept away by the flood of wordliness which was surging over the land. The duty was to give such a Gospel that the type of citizenship in the west might be Christ-like.

Rev. J. J. MacNeil, B. A., of Walmer Road church, Toronto, seconded the report in an eloquent address. He said that the rosiest picture of the west could not begin to describe its possibilities. The question which had to be faced is: "Is the west to be distinctly commercial? Is there to be anarchy and sectionalism?" These questions must be answered now, and not fifteen years hence. The west was destined to have a great influence upon the east, and in point of wealth, influence, population and political power would soon outweigh the east.

If the west was saved, the east would also be saved. Baptist principles have a distinct fitness to meet the problems of the west. The Baptist church had a mission in Canada and throughout the whole world, having the key of the situation in Western Canada. The teaching of the church regarding the entire separation of church and state was much needed in the west.

Rev. W. B. Tighe of Whitby, said the young men of Ontario were the backbone of the west. The east must come to the help of the west in assisting them to solve the problems of that country.

Mr. William Graham of the Gilmour Memorial church spoke strongly against the establishment of Separate schools in the west. He denounced Sir Wilfrid Laurier's attitude on the schol questin and termed the premier "a traitor" to Canada.

Rev. Dr. Cameron of Ottawa, said that Hon. Alexander Mackenzie, who was a Baptist, was responsible for the establishment of Separate schools in the west.

Rev. W. H Wallace of Toronto, remarked that the ministers might do more in keeping the west and its needs before the churches.

The report of the committee on Western Missions was adopted. The convention then sang a Thanksgiving hymn, and the morning session was concluded.

EVENING SESSION.

The evening session last night was marked by three excellent and eloquent addresses on mission topics, which were listened to with close attention and punctuated with frequent outbursts of applause. The speakers were Rev. Jas. Grant, Dundas; Rev. A. T. Sowerby, LL.D., Toronto, and Rev. D. B. Harkness, M. A., Winnipeg. The church was crowded to the doors.

Rev. Mr. Walker, of London, vice-president, presided, and a short song service was conducted by Rev. D. Bentley, of Montreal, in which the audience heartily took part.

The session was opened with devotional exercises by the Rev. M. C. McLean, B.A., of Ingersoll.

Welcomed to Peterborough

Rev. F. J. Scott, B.A., pastor of Murray Street Baptist Church, expressed the appreciation of himself and congregation of the honour they were receiving in entertaining the convention. He referred to the information and inspiration given by the convention. It was a unique honour because the convention would make history. Rev. Mr. Scott spoke of the difficulty which the Baptists of Peterborough were having in entertaining the delegates on account of homes being crowded with Thanksgiving guests. He concluded by extending a hearty welcome to Peterborough.

Rev. D. Bentley, of Montreal, on behalf of the convention, replied to Rev. Mr. Scott's welcome, referring in kindly terms to the hospitality of the reception given by the Baptists of Peterborough. The ground, he said, was historic ground from a Baptist viewpoint, referring to the Gilmours and Edwards, whom, he said, were old stock here. In conclusion, he expressed a hope that the convention would prove a blessing and that they would go forward with more hope to do the work of the Master.

The Church Edifice

Rev. Jas. Grant, of Dundas, gave the first address, his subject being "The Church Edifice." He referred to the most encouraging report presented yesterday morning from the Church Edifice Board. He was always sorry that this department had been neglected. It was a small one, but the Baptists were not worshippers of the big. It had gone on doing its work year after year. The speaker spoke of the reception often given when a new Baptist church was established. He referred to the aid given by the Church Edifice Board in this connection. It gave a quality of permanence to the initial movement. Scores and scores of the most vigourous Baptist churches would not have come into being had it not been for the ministry of the Church Edifice Board. Much of the strength of the Home Mission Board was due to the co-operation to the Church Edifice. One hundred and two churches had been organized chiefly through the aid of that Board. He hoped that they were beginning to recognise their responsibility to do for others as for themselves.

Not Enough Churches

The speaker grieved at the large, flourishing districts which had no Baptist churches, but where there were Baptists ready to join. This was their function and duty. They were living in a day of hopefulness as far as this work was concerned.

He closed with an appeal for more financial support on behalf of the Church Edifice work.

Some Missions

Rev. Dr. A. T. Sowerby, LL.D., of Toronto, was the next speaker, his subject being "Home Missions." In beginning, he said that he would speak of the Lord's last will and testament. The Lord had made His will in view of His immediate departure from the world. It was one of the most serious moments of all His earthly life. He was laying down a policy for all the future of the Christian Church.

The will was very brief, but there was enough of thought and purpose to serve the church until the end of time. There was the command, "Go ye, therefore, and make disciples of all the nations. That will had become the great missionary charter of the church.

There was the command to evangelize the world. God was not only the Lord of heaven, but the Lord of heaven and earth. He used His authority in commissioning people to preach. The first claim that came for missionary work was not the misery of a lost world. The real motive sprang from the command of Jesus Christ.

The object of the will was to make disciples. Christ had one supreme purpose in making disciples, that of conquering the world.

The method of carrying out the will was the next point touched upon. The answer was evangelization. Christ was a great evangelist, going all through Galilee as a great prophet of the Good Word. He believed in the power of a mighty proclamation. The disciples, to a more or less degree, became evangelists. Philip was an evangelist, and caused a great revival in Samaria.

Editor of the Canadian Baptist

The speaker thought that it was reasonable to begin the work at home. If the missionary work was to prosper it must prosper at home. The cause that was vigourous outside would give greater satisfaction outside. It was not simply a matter of self-preservation. It was a matter of growth. To neglect the home interest was not only criminal, but suicidal in its policy.

The speaker referred to the appalling leakage from the fact that there was no Baptist church in some towns. He would establish a church in every town. Evangelization should be their watchword.

Western Missions

The concluding address of the evening was on "Western Missions," the speaker being Rev. D. B. Harkness, M.A., of Winnipeg. In opening, he referred to the regrettable absence of the general superintendent, Mr. Stackhouse, who was the first Baptist Canadian to whom had fallen the task of looking after the missionary work of four provinces.

The speaker referred to the extent of these provinces, stretching from the great lakes to the sea. He was present to express the gratitude of the Baptists of the West for the services rendered by the Baptists of the East, and to plead that they grow not weary in their work. There were those who replied to missionary appeals with cold dollars and cents. They might be glad to take the money, but deplored the spirit with which it was sometimes given. The duty of the Baptists was not only to make Baptists, but to give the Baptists' messsage.

Growth of the West

The speaker spoke of the growth of the Baptist Church in the West. Thirty-three years ago the first church was started, with seven members. Now there are 160, with a membership of 8,000. Thirty-two churches had averaged more than $20 per member. The speaker went on to speak of the amounts raised by some of the different churches of the West for mission purposes. Their argument was that a going concern was a good investment. Their capital, however, was not enough; they must have the non-resident partnership. Eastern capital invested in the mission work of the West had paid and he asked them to be patient yet a while, and it would be more and more rapid.

Missionaries should remember that they have an opportunity of moulding the destinies of the nation in the young West. The spaciousness of four provinces, the untold wealth of centuries, the wide prairies, the mountains, its streams, its timber-stretches, the fertile valleys, the fish-filled waters; here is coming the material for statesmanship from all parts of the world. Never again will such an opportunity be given for statesmanship as is given in the West now.

The present was the time of destiny, of determining; men in the West were apt to think that looseness was freedom. In the great tuning-up process going on in the West, the Baptist Church was one of the most important factors. It was a transition time in the West. Men coming from the Old Land take new thoughts and ideals, and new conception of things. Those people were often misjudged.

The speaker closed with an eloquent reference to the possibilities of the West.

During the evening a telegram of greeting was received from the Baptist State Convention of Michigan, to which a reply was directed to be sent.

On motion, messages of sympathy were instructed to be sent to Rev. Henry Graham, of Kinmount, and Rev. Thomas Bowen, of St. Catharines, both of whom are very ill.

Educational Work Important Factor In Baptist Church

Five names were mentioned for the new Publication Board the following being elected:—

Rev. L. S. Hughson, Windsor.
Rev. P. K. Dayfoot, Simcoe.
Bro. D. Bentley, Montreal.

Grand Ligne Mission

Rev. F. B Brown of Sherbrooke, Que., the convention representative on the Grand Ligne Board, spoke of the work in Quebec. He said this was the 70th report of the mission. God had marvellously sustained the workers during all these years. The need is as great as ever, however.

Dr. G. N. Masse has so improved in health that he is again teaching in the college. Rev. M. B. Parent, M.A., is still the able and beloved pastor of the Grande Linge church. Rev. A. S. Therrin is still doing excellent work in Montreal, assisted by Mr. E. Veins, B.A., and Mr. A. Tremblay. Rev. G. R. McFaul, M. A., is the tireless worker and successful soul winner in the Ottawa valley. Rev. A. J. Lebeau has completed 20 years' service without a vacation. He is now stationed in Quebec City. Rev. T. Brouillet of South Ely still labours on, although he is over 3 score and ten years of age. At Maskinonge Rev. N. Gregoire, holds the little band together. Rev. W. T. Bullock of Roxton, is not only preacher, but fellow workman with his people, enabling them to face the boycott bravely. Mr. Moise Robert is being much used at St. Pie, and Rev. Alcide Brouillet has had success at Marieville. Sec. Hosworth had worked with unflagging zeal in Canada, Britain and the United States, and enjoys the fullest confidence of the Board.

The report spoke of the attendance during the year at Feller Institute, as having 203 resident boarders, 76 girls, 127 boys, and 8 day pupils. Scarlatina and measles had been epidemic but had been stamped out. All the pupils of the Institute who were not Christians previously, professed conversion during the year.

At the Grande Ligne church 25 candidates had been baptized. This church pays $400 a year pastor's salary. In Montreal a number were baptized, and the work is encouraging; the total revenue has been $59.30. The Bible women and the young men have done splendid work. At Marieville, $321 has been spent in repairs on the chapel, and the offerings for the year amounted to $777.29, representing a per capita amount of $14.66.

In numerous other places the report showed great encouragement for the continuation of the work.

At Ottawa 11 have been baptized and some 36 persons have confessed faith in Christ during the year. The work reflects great credit upon the new secretary, Rev. J. R. Webb.

The financial statement shows receipts of $21,444.61, made up as follows: From province of Quebec, $2,-965.87; from Ontario, $8,923.69; from United States, $2,791.93; from Great Britain $817.37; from Maritime Provinces, $1,574.63; from the west, $385.45; from legacies, $3,-547.01. The debit balance is $2,-964.57. The endowment fund showed receipts of $8,358.12. The cash on hand amounted to $4,697.56, the balance being unexpended in various ways.

The adoption of the report was moved by Rev. G. R. McFaul, M.A., of Ottawa. He said he had more faith than ever before in the Grande Ligne mission, and cited many conversions he had seen in the Ottawa valley.

Rev. B. W. Merrel, B.A., of Ottawa, seconded the adoption of the report. Mr. Ayr, Rev. Mr. McKinnon and Dr. Farmer also spoke on the work of the Grande Ligne mission.

The report was adopted, and Rev T. B. Brown was appointed as delegate to the Grande Ligne Board.

This afternoon the report of the Senate and Board of Governors of McMaster University, by Chancellor McKay, was given.

Objection To The Use Of Glasses

Sometimes people object to glasses, claiming that once put on they can not see without them. If after putting on glasses the wearer finds it difficult to go without them, this simply proves that before he wore glasses he was forcing his eyes beyond the limit of safety, a practice if continued, is sure to affect the health and sight. The person who lets pride, even excusable pride, stand in the way of glasses is doing his eyes and health injustice and is merely paving the way for future suffering and discomforts.

We will test your eyesight carefully, and tell you just what condition your eyes are in.

D. Belleghem Secures Ambulance Another Year

Two Tenders Were Alike—Chairman Gave the Casting Vote—F. McPherson Gets Contract for Wiring Fire Hall—Tenders Opened For Fire Alarm Equipments—Contract Not Yet Awarded.

The important question before the Fire, Water and Light Committee last night was the opening of the tenders for the new fire alarm equipment which will be installed with the completion of the new fire hall.

Five tenders were received, but the contract was not awarded, as a joint meeting of the Manufacturers' Association and the Committee of the Whole will first have to be held to consider the placing of the alarm boxes, 25 in number.

Tenders were opened for the care of the Dan Spence ambulance, for the coming year, the contract being again let to Mr. D. Belleghem.

F. J. R. MacPherson got the contract for the wiring of the new fire hall, at $107.

Those present at the meeting were Chairman Adams, Ald. Elliott, Duncan, Graham and Mayor Best.

Dan Spence Ambulance

Tenders were opened for the care of the Dan Spence ambulance, the following being received:

A. Comstock..... ....$100
D. Belleghem... ... ...$100

The ambulance last year was in the care of the latter, who received $200, which was $25 higher than the previous year.

Moved by Ald. Elliott and Mayor Best, that D. Belleghem's tender be accepted.

Moved by Ald. Duncan and Graham that A. Comstock's tender be accepted.

The question was then left in the hands of the chairman, he being the only other member of the committee present. The original motion carried.

A petition was received from a number of ratepayers asking for an electric light on King street, about 1500 feet west of Park.

Moved by Ald. Duncan and Graham that four incandescent lights be placed on that street. This number was said to be equal to one arc light, and it was thought that they would give more light than one arc light. The motion carried.

A letter was received from Hugh Cameron & Co., Toronto, dealers in fire hall apparatus asking if the committee intended to purchase any apparatus this year and informing them that with next year the prices would advance on hose and all other equipments necessary.

For Wiring Fire Hall

The tenders for the electric wiring of the new fire hall were next opened. The following were the tenderers with their prices:

Alexander & Miller... ... ...$198.50
McGregor & Reid... ... ... 185.00
F. R. J. MacPherson... ... ... 107.00

Moved by Ald. Elliott and Graham that the lowest tender be accepted.—Carried.

Fire Alarm Material

The following tenders were opened for the material for the new fire alarm systems:

Alex. Anderson of the National Alarm System, Toronto, for material and erection, but not including poles, $4,470.

Northern Electric Company, of Montreal, for material only, $2,197.

Bell Telephone Company, for supplying material, $2,979.

Bell Telephone Company, for maintaining system, per annum, $500.

Ahern & Soper, Ottawa, representing the Gamewell system, for material only, $2,720.05.

George G. Beatty, Toronto, for material and construction, $4,778.

For maintaining system for five years, $290; for maintaining system for ten years, $610; supplying material only, $1,949.50.

The Mayor thought that the Committee of the Whole should first meet the Manufacturers' Association, with respect to where the fire alarm boxes should be placed, before any decision was arrived at.

Mr. Seymour Rathbone, representing the Ahern & Soper Co., Ottawa, was present and said that the tender they made was for material only. They did not, and would not, tender on the erection of the apparatus, although if necessary they would provide an expert to install the system.

Mr. Anderson was also present and answered a few questions in regard to the National system, but no action was taken.

Interesting Items From Across the Sea.

ENGLAND

At Richmond, Yorkshire, recently the ancient ceremony of the boundary riding, which takes place once in seven years, was observed by the mayor and corporation. An interesting feature of the proceedings was the unveiling by the mayor of a granite obelisk to commemorate the tercentenary of one of the most famous leaps in history. In the year 1606, according to the records one Robert Willance was riding to hounds in the cub-hunting season, when a terrific thunderstorm swept over the valley of the Swale. Terrified by the lightning the horse bolted with its rider, dashed over a cliff, and in three bounds cleared a distance of 200 feet into the ravine below. The horse was killed on the spot, but Willance escaped with a broken leg. The injured leg had to be taken off and it was buried with fitting ceremony in Richmond churchyard, where subsequently in the same grave, Willance, who was an alderman of the borough, also found a resting place. In gratitude for his marvellous escape he caused a stone to be erected near the scene of his adventure, and on were carved the following quaint sentences:—"Hear us! Glory to the merciful God who miraculously preserved me from the danger so great." These words also appear on the new obelisk.

An extraordinary story of a miser's misery and wealth was told to the Middlesex coroner recently, when an inquest was held at Edmonton workhouse on the body of John Sewell, aged 71 years, who died in the infirmary. About a week ago the man was removed to the workhouse in a most wretched condition from his house. The house itself was more like a pigsty than a human habitation, but when searched 140 pounds in gold and 465 pounds in notes were found, while scrip to the value of at least 10,000 pounds was lying about the rooms. The place was a veritable treasure house. In addition to the treasure there was also a well-stocked armoury, consisting of four loaded revolvers, a number of powerful air guns, and a long knife. Groans were heard coming from his room and the police entered the house. They found the front door locked and barricaded, but broke in from the back. Sewell, dressed in indescribably dirty rags, lay on the floor of one of the rooms. He was very weak, but when the police entered the room he struggled to reach a knife at his side, and when this was taken away from him a loaded revolver was found in his pocket.

A remarkable story of a second marriage has just come to light. A Mr. Bernard Bennett, formerly of Roumania, but now of Manchester, married in 1881 a Roumanian young lady, named Elise Shonsall. Mr. Bennett was then living in Paris, where he and his wife remained together for less than a month. They separated, and this separation was afterwards changed by a degree of the Roumanian courts into a formal divorce. For a period of 25 years they did not see one another, and practically did not know of each other's existence. About 18 months ago Mr. Bennett dreamed that his former wife was in great distress, and he immediately instituted enquiries. At the same time his former wife caused a letter to be written to England to inquire what had become of her former husband. A friendly correspondence went on for something like a year. Mr. Bennett learned that his former wife had remained single, and as he had not married again the idea occurred to him that it was his duty to remarry her if she would consent. A short time ago he went to Roumania and to his former wife's surprise proposed. He was accepted, and a religious ceremony followed.

SCOTLAND

The diving operations in quest of Spanish Armada gold have now been discontinued in Tobermory Bay, Argyllshire, for the season. The search was vigorously prosecuted for ten weeks this year, and many relics have been brought up, among them two silver plates, 11 inches in diameter, each weighing 2 lbs.; part of the rigging of the Florencia; a hand grenade, containing the original charge of powder; and quite a number of seabirds, cannon balls bottles and jars. This year the divers have thoroughly searched over eight acres of the bottom of the bay with boring apparatus, and Priestman's dredger. Last year the operations only covered about 100 square feet. The shafts cut in the clay by the dredger varied from 10 feet to 30 feet in depth, and this work was accomplished beneath from seven to fourteen fathoms of water. The divers think they have now recovered all the loose materials strewn about when the ship was blown up. They have accordingly narrowed down to the work remaining for next year and marked off that which has been already examined.

An extraordinary case of kleptomania recently was tried in Glasgow. A fashionably dressed woman apparently about 30 years of age, named Ada Mary Terry, was charged with ten acts of theft of jewellery committed in Glasgow, Edinburgh, Perth, Dundee, and Dunfermline, the articles stolen being, in all, 24 rings, two watches, two brooches, and two pendants. The Sheriff asked accused if she had anything to say. She replied: "I am very sorry, I can scarcely say anything to you, because you would not understand. I am scarcely myself when I do anything like this. I have no wish to evade punishment, but I can assure you I do not wish to do wrong. At times I cannot help myself, and seem forced to do wrong. That is all I can say. It is not because I want to do it. I just feel I have to do it. I am very sorry." She was sentenced to six months' imprisonment.

An entirely novel point under the Workmen's Compensation Act was discussed before Sheriff Guy, in Edinburgh, recently. In July last year a railway servant, named Patrick Heggerty Moran was engaged in shunting operations when he was run over by a goods train, and died in Glasgow Royal Infirmary. The parties had agreed to a sum of £165 2s., but the question was raised in court as to whether the man's widow was not entitled to part of that sum if she was wholly or partially dependent on deceased. It was explained that some time previous to her husband's death the woman disappeared, and nothing was known as to her whereabouts or whether she was alive or not. The Sheriff ordered proof to ascertain whether the woman at the time of her husband's death was either wholly or partially dependent upon him.

The prison authorities at Perth are much troubled by the extraordinary behaviour of an elderly convict, who for the past two years has stubbornly observed a solemn vow never to eat or drink in prison. However, much to his regret, apparently, this eccentric prisoner has not been allowed to accomplish his object of starving, for during the whole of that time food and drink have been artificially administered under the direction of the prison medical staff, and the patient is keeping fairly well. Morose and subject to uncontrollable fits of temper, he is the despair of the medical and nursing staff, who are wondering how much longer he will show this curious suicidal tendency.

The 2nd Battalion of the Seaforth Highlanders, who are in garrison at Edinburgh Castle, have lately had photographed a group of thirty of their men who are still serving, and who, for length of service, have a remarkable record. The group is made up of officers (including their commanding officer) non-commissioned officers and men whose total service extends altogether to 624 years and 9 months, giving each man an average of 20 years and 9 months' service. There are 99 medals amongst the thirty men—an average of three each, 114 clasps—an average of 4 4-5; 10 Long Service and Good Conduct medals, and two Distinguished Conduct medals. The medals include Chitral, Black Mountain Expedition, South Africa, etc. Some of the number have over 30 years' service.

IRELAND

From Ireland comes a pretty and romantic story. Some time ago a girl of good family became engaged to a first engineer on a local ship. The wedding was arranged, the house taken, and the vessel came back into port, but without the first engineer. He had left the ship at an American port and had never returned. He had in his possession a considerable sum of money, and the girl's family were of the opinion that he had been murdered. But she remained confident of his return. One month, two months, went by, without any message from him. Though the wedding day was long past, the anxious young lady retained her faith in her lover. At last she was rewarded by a cablegram, as it were from the dead, reporting that all was now well. The letter which followed told how he had lain for weeks in an hospital, sick to the point of death, with brain fever. There was nothing in his possession by which he could be identified, so that his friends could be surprised of his whereabouts, hence the long distressing silence that had ensued. There is a happy ending to the romance of course. Quite recovered, the engineer is on his homeward trip to the girl who kept her faith to him all through.

An extraordinary incident occurred in Dublin recently in connection with the formal opening ceremonies of the city main drainage by the improvement committee of the corporation. The function was fixed to take place at the Pigeon House Fort, and a little after noon the steamer Shamrock was lying at the custom house quay ready to convey Ald. Cotton's guests to the fort. When Ald. Thomas Kelly arrived he saw the ensign with the Union Jack quartered on it flying at the stern. Without a word to anybody he went aft, produced a large clasp knife, cut the cords and let the flag fall into the Liffey. No one objected to the action, but the incident created much suppressed excitement. Ald. Kelly made another demonstration at the conclusion of the luncheon at the Pigeon House fort, at which all were the guests of Ald. Cotton. The latter presided, and the first toast proposed was that of "His Gracious Majesty the King." Ald. Kelly cried out as the guests were standing up to honour the toast, "We won't drink it, sir! we decline to drink it." Ald. Kelly then walked out.

Guarantee What Men Wear

Gentlemen Prefer Made-in-Canada Serge When It's Worthy.

The blue serge suit for summer wear has a firmer hold on the affection of the well-dressed man than perhaps any other apparel he wears. It is at once cool, quiet, refined and good looking. The broadest, handsomest and worthiest blue serge made in Canada is the "Blunoz," and the Canadian agents of the British woollen mills say that they cannot compete with this rich true and lasting product of the Canadian mills.

In the Semi-ready wardrobe the Blunoz serge is shown this year at $18, but next season the fall and winter weights will cost $20. This is the fine serge worsteds which has made many Canadian men prefer the made-in-Canada woollens. A. W. Cressman, agent for Peterborough.

Help for the Kidneys Through Gin Pills.

A GUARANTEED CURE.

Read this letter. Read it twice. You have never heard such good news before—if your kidneys are sick. It tells how to be free of pain—how to have all your old-time health and vigor.

"I have been for years a sufferer with pain in the back and across the kidneys. There was scarcely a minute, day or night, that I was free of pain, and when I attempted to pass urine, the pain was almost unbearable. A friend of mine in Portage la Prairie, who was similarly afflicted, strongly advised me to try Gin Pills, as they had cured him. I bought a box of Gin Pills, and in less than a week, to my great delight, found myself without pain. I have had to go as often as every 20 minutes to urinate and several times during the night. Since taking Gin Pills, I sleep through the entire night and am not more than ordinarily inconvenienced during the day. I can earnestly recommend Gin Pills to anyone suffering from pain in the back, kidneys or bladder.

Mr. G. O. C. GOWLER, Portage la Prairie."

Your druggist has Gin Pills, or will get them for you. 50c box—6 for $2.50.

If you will send us your name and address and tell us the paper in which you have read this we send you a trial box of Gin Pills absolutely free. You will get such relief that you will gladly continue the treatment until cured. Do it to-day—now—and start to cure yourself.

Crimson Blind

BY FRED M. WHITE

Author of "Tregarthen's Wife," "The Robe of Lucifer," Etc.

Copyright, 1905, by R. F. Fenno & Company.

"Yes," he said, with a note of elation in his voice, "I have made a discovery, but I am not going to tell you how or where my discovery is. But I've found Van Sneck."

A shade of whiter pallor came over Henson's face. Then his eyes took on a murderous, purple-black gleam. All the same, his voice was quite steady as he replied.

"I'm afraid that it not likely to benefit you much," he said. "Would you mind handing me that oblong black book from the dressing-table? I want you to do something for me. What's that?"

There was just the faintest suggestion of a sound outside. It was Enid listening with all her ears. She had not been long in discovering what had happened. Once the ghastly farcical incubus was off her shoulders she had followed Littimer upstairs. As she passed Henson's room the drone of voices struck on her ears. She stood there and listened. She would have given much for this not to have happened, but everything happened for the worst in that accursed house.

But Henson's last words were enough for her. She gathered her skirts together and flew down the stairs. In the hall Williams stood, with a grin on his face, pensively scraping his chin with a dry forefinger.

"Now what's the matter, miss?" he cried.

"Don't ask questions," Enid cried. "Go and get me the champagne nippers. The champagne nippers at once. If you can't find them, then bring me a pair of pliers. Then come to me on the leads outside the bathroom. It's a matter of life and death."

CHAPTER XXI.

David did not appear in the least surprised; indeed, he was long since past that emotion. Before the bottom of the mystery was reached a great many more strange things were pretty sure to happen.

"So you bought that cigar-case yourself?" he said.

"Indeed, I did," Ruth answered, eagerly. Of course, I have long known you by name and I have read pretty well all your tales. I—I liked your work so much."

David was flattered. The shy, sweet admiration in Ruth's eyes touched him.

"And I was very glad to meet you," Ruth went on. "You see, we all liked your stories. And we knew one or two people who had met you, and gradually you became quite like a friend of ours—Enid and Chris and myself, you understand. Then a week or two ago I came down to Brighton with my uncle to settle all about taking the house here. And I happened to be in Lockhart's buying something when you came in and asked to see the cigar-case. I recognized you from your photographs, and I was interested. Of course, I thought no more of it at the time, until Enid came up to London and told me all about your synopsis, and how strangely the heroine's case in your proposed story was like hers. Enid wondered how you were going to get the girl out of her difficulty, and I jokingly suggested that she had better ask you. She accepted the idea quite seriously, saying that if you had a real, plausible way out of the trouble you might help her. And gradually our scheme was evolved. You were not to know, because of the possible danger to yourself."

"At the hands of Reginald Henson, of course?"

"Yes. Our scheme took a long time, but we got it worked out at last. We decided on the telephone because we thought that we could not be traced that way, never imagining for a moment that you could get the number of your caller over the trunk line. Enid came up to town, and worked the telephone, Chris was in No. 218; and I brought the money."

"You placed that cigar-case on my doorstep?"

"Yes, I was wound up for anything. It was I whom you saw riding the bicycle through Old Steine; it was I who dropped the card of instructions. It seems a shameful thing to say and to do now, but I—well, I enjoyed it at the time. And I did it for the sake of my friends. Do I look like that sort of a girl, Mr. Steel?"

David glanced into the beautiful shy eyes with just the suggestion of laughter in them.

"You look all that is loyal and good and true," he exclaimed. "And I don't think I ever admired you quite so much as I do at this moment."

Ruth laughed and looked down. There was something in David's glance that thrilled her and gave her a sense of happiness she would have found it hard to describe.

"I am glad you do not despise me," she whispered.

"Despise you!" David cried. "Why? If you only knew how I, well, how I loved you! Don't be angry. I mean every word that I say; my feelings for you are as pure as your own heart. If you could care for me as you do for those others I should have a friend indeed."

"You have made me care for you very much indeed, Mr. Steel," Ruth whispered.

"Call me David . . . . . How nice my plain name sounds from your lips, Ruth and David. But I must hold myself in hand for the present. Still, I am glad you like me."

"Well, you have been so good and kind. We have done you a great deal of injury and you never blamed us. And you are just the man I have always pictured as the man I could love . . . . David!"

"Well, it was only one little kiss, and I'm sure nobody saw us, dear. And later on, when you are my wife——"

"Don't you think we had better keep to business for the present?" Ruth said, demurely.

"Perhaps. There is one little point that you must clear up before we go any farther. How did you manage to furnish those two big dining-rooms exactly alike?"

"Why, the furniture is there. At the top of the house, in a large attic, all the furniture is stored."

"But the agent told me it had been removed."

"He was wrong. You can't expect the agent to recollect everything about a house. The place belonged to the lady whom we may call Mrs. Margaret Henson at one time. When her home scheme fell through she sold one house as it was. In the other she stored the furniture. Enid knew of all this, of course. We managed to get a latch-key to fit 218, and Enid and a man did the rest. Her idea was to keep you in the dark as much as possible. After the interview the furniture was put back again, and there you are."

"Diplomatic and clever, and decidedly original, not to say feminine. In the light of recently acquired knowledge I can quite see why your friends desired to preserve their secret. But they need not have taken all those precautions. Had they written——"

"They dared not. They were fearful as to what might become of the reply."

"But they might have come to me openly."

"Again, they dared not for your sake. You know a great deal, David, but there is darkness and trouble and wickedness yet that I dare not speak of. And you are in danger. Already Reginald Henson has shown you what he can do."

"And yet he doesn't know everything," David smiled. "He may have stabbed me in the back, but he is quite ignorant as to what advice I gave to Enid Henson, which brings me back to the cigar-case. You saw me looking at it in Lockhart's. Go on."

"Yes, I watched you with a great deal of curiosity. Finally you went off out of the shop saying that you could not afford to buy the cigar-case, and I thought no more of the matter for a time. Then we found out all about your private affairs. Oh, I am ashamed almost to go on."

The dainty little face grew crimson; the hand in David's trembled.

"But we were desperate. And, after all, we were doing no harm. It was just then that the idea of the cigar-case came into my mind. We knew that if we could get you to take that money it would only be as a loan. I suggested the gift of the case as a memento of the occasion. I purchased that case with my own money and I placed it with its contents on the doorstep of your house."

"Did you watch it all the time?"

"No, I didn't. But I was satisfied that nobody passed, and I was sufficiently near to hear your door open at the hour appointed. Of course, we had carefully rehearsed the telephone conversation, and I knew exactly what to do."

David sat very thoughtfully for some little time.

"The case must have been changed," he said. "It is very difficult to say how, but there is no other logical solution of the matter. At about half-past twelve on that eventful night you placed on my doorstep a gun-metal cigar-case, mounted in diamonds, that you had purchased from Lockhart's?"

"Yes, and the very one that you admired. Of that I am certain."

"Very well. I take that case with me to 218, Brunswick Square, and I bring it back again. Did I take it with me or not? Anyhow, it was found on the floor beside the body. It never passed out of my possession to my knowledge. Next day I leave it at the office of Messrs. Mossa and Mack, and it gets into the hands of the police."

"Was it not possibly changed there, David?"

"No, because of the initials I had scratched inside it. And beyond all question that case—the same case, mind you, that I picked up on my doorstep—was purchased by the man now lying in the hospital here from Walen's, in West Street. Now, how was the change made?"

"If I could only see my way to help you!"

"The change was made the day you bought the case. By the way, what time was it?"

"I can't tell you the exact time," Ruth replied. "It was on the morning of the night of your adventure."

"And you kept it by you all the time."

"Yes. It was in a little box sealed with yellow wax and tied with yellow string. I went to 219 after I had made the purchase. My uncle was there and he was using the back sitting-room as an office. He had brought a lot of papers with him to go through."

"Ah! Did you put your package down?"

"Just for a moment on the table. But surely my uncle would not——"

"One moment, please. Was anybody with your uncle at the time?"

Ruth gave a sudden little cry.

"How senseless of me to forget," she cried. "My uncle was down merely for the day, and, as he was very busy, he sent for Mr. Reginald Henson to help him. I did not imagine that Mr. Henson would know anything. But even now I cannot see what——"

"Again let me interrupt you. Did you leave the room at all?"

"Yes. It is all coming back to me now. My uncle's medicine was locked up in my bag. He asked me to go for it and I went, leaving my purchase on the table. It is all coming back to me now. . . . When I returned Mr. Henson was quite alone, as somebody had called to see my uncle. Mr. Henson seemed surprised to see me back so soon, and as I entered he crushed something up in his hand and dropped it into the waste-paper basket. But my parcel was quite intact."

"Yellow wax and yellow string and all?"

"Yes, so far as I remember. It was Mr. Henson who reminded my uncle about his medicine."

"And when you were away the change was made. Strange that your uncle should be so friendly with both Henson and Bell. Have they ever met under your roof?"

"No," Ruth replied. "Henson has always alluded to Dr. Bell as a lost man. He professes to be deeply sorry for him, but he has declined to meet him. Where are you going?"

"I am going with you to see if we can find anything in the waste-paper basket at No. 219. Bell tells me that your servants have instructions to touch no papers, and I know that the back sitting-room of your house is used as a kind of office. I want, if possible, to find the paper that Henson tried to hide on the day you bought the cigar-case."

The basket proved to be a large one, and was partially filled with letters that had never been opened—begging-letters, Ruth said. For half an hour David was engaged in smoothing out crumpled sheets of paper, until at length his search was rewarded. He held a packet of note-paper, the usual six sheets, one inside the other, that generally go to correspondence sheets of good quality. It was crushed up, but Steel flattened it out and held it up for Ruth's inspection.

"Now, here is a find!" he cried. "Look at the address in green at the top: '15, Downend Terrace.' Five sheets of my own best notepaper, printed especially for myself, in this basket! Originally this was a block of six sheets, but the one has been written upon and the others crushed up like this. Beyond doubt the paper was stolen from my study. And—what's this?"

He held up the thick paper to the light. At the foot of the top sheet was plainly indented in outline the initials "D. S."

"My own cipher," David went on. "Scrawled in so boldly as to mark on the under sheet of paper. Almost invariably I use initials instead of my full name unless it is quite formal business."

"And what is to be done now?" Ruth asked.

"Find the letter forged over what looks like a genuine cipher," David said, grimly.

CHAPTER XXII.

Bell followed Dr. Cross into the hospital with a sense of familiar pleasure. The cool, sweet smell of the place, the decorous silence, the order of it all appealed to him strongly. It was as the old war-horse who sniffs the battle from afar. And the battle with death was ever a joy to Bell.

"This is all contrary to regulations, of course," he suggested.

"Well, it is," Cross admitted. "But I am an enthusiast, and one doesn't often get a chance of chatting with a brilliant, erratic star like yourself. Besides, our man is not in the hospital proper. He is in a kind of annex by my own quarters, and he scoffs the suggestion of being nursed."

Bell nodded, understanding perfectly. He came at length to a brilliantly-lighted room, where a dark man with an exceedingly high forehead and wonderfully piercing eyes was sitting up in bed. The dark eyes lighted with pleasure as they fell upon Bell's queer, shambling figure and white hair.

"The labor we delight in physics pain," he greeted with a laugh and a groan. "It's worth a badly twisted shoulder to have the pleasure of seeing Hatherly Bell again. My dear fellow, how are you?"

The voice was low and pleasant, there was no trace of insanity about the speaker. Bell shook the proffered hand. For some little time the conversation proceeded smoothly enough. The stranger was a good talker; his remarks were keen and to the point.

"I hope you will be comfortable here," Bell suggested.

A faint subtle change came over the other's face.

"All but one thing," he whispered. "Don't make a fuss about it, because Cross is very kind. But I can't stand the electric light. It reminds me of the great tragedy of my life. But for the electric light I should be a free man with a good practice to-day."

"So you are harping on that string again," Bell said, coldly. "I fancied that I had argued you out of that. You know perfectly well that it is all imagination, Heritage."

Heritage passed his left hand across his eyes in a confused kind of way.

"When you look at one like that I fancy so," he said. "When I was under your hands I was forgetting all about it. And now it has all come back again. Did I tell you all about it, Cross?"

Bell gave Cross a significant glance, and the latter shook his head.

"Well, it was this way," Heritage began, eagerly. His eyes were gleaming now, his whole aspect was changed. "I was poor and struggling, but I had a grand future before me. There was a patient of mine, a rich man, who had a deadly throat trouble. And he was going to leave me all his money if I cured him. He told me he had made a will to that effect, and he had done so. And I was in direst straits for some ready cash. When I came to operate I used an electric light, a powerful light—you know what I mean. The operation failed and my patient died. The operation failed because the electric light went out at a critical time.

"People said it was a great misfortune for me, because I was on the threshold of a new discovery which would have made my name. Nothing of the kind. I deliberately cut the positive wire of the electric light so that I should fail, and so that my patient might die and I might get all his money at once. And he did die, and nobody suspected me—nobody could possibly have found me out. Then I went mad and they put me under Bell's care. I should have got well, only he gave up his practice and drifted into the world again. My good, kind friend Reginald Henson heard of my case; he interested some people in me and placed me where I am at present."

"So Reginald Henson knows all about it?" Bell asked, drily.

"My dear fellow, he is the best friend I have in the world. He was most interested in my case. I have gone over it with him a hundred times. I showed him exactly how it was done. And now you know why I loathe the electric light. When it shines in my eyes it maddens me; it brings back to me the recollection of that dreadful time, it causes me to——"

"Heritage," Bell said, sternly, "close your eyes at once, and be silent."

The patient obeyed instantly. He had not forgotten the old habit of obedience. When he opened his eyes again at length he looked round him in a foolish, shame-faced manner.

"I—I am afraid I have been rambling," he muttered. "Pray don't notice me, Bell; if you are as good a fellow as you used to be, come and see me again. I'm tired now."

Bell gave the desired assurance, and he and Cross left the room together.

"Any sort of truth in what he has been saying?" asked the latter.

"Very little," Bell replied. "Heritage is an exceedingly clever fellow who has not yet recovered from a bad breakdown some years ago. I had nearly cured him at one time, but he seems to have lapsed into bad ways again. Some day, when I have time, I shall take up his case once more."

"Did he operate, or try some new throat cure?"

"Exactly. He was on the verge of discovering some way of operating for throat cases with complete success. You can imagine how excited he was over his discovery. Unfortunately the patient he experimented on died under the operation, not because the light went out or any nonsense of that kind, but from failure of the heart's action owing to excitement. Heritage had no sleep for a fortnight, and he broke down altogether. For months he was really mad, and when his senses came back to him he had that hallucination. Some day it will go, and some day Heritage will take up the dropped threads of his discovery and the world will be all the better for it. And now, will you do me a favor?"

"I will do anything that lies in my power."

"Then be good enough to let me have a peep at the man who was found half-murdered in my friend David Steel's conservatory. I'm interested in that case."

Cross hesitated for a moment.

"All right," he said. "There can't be any harm in that. Come this way."

Bell strolled along with the air of a man who is moved by no more than ordinary curiosity. But from the first he had made up his mind not to lose this opportunity. He had not the remotest

Unsolicited Testimony.

Here is the unsolicited testimony of Mrs. C. A. Martin, of Granville, N.Y., concerning Dr. Hugo's Health Tablets for Women. We have her consent to publish her letter. It reads as follows:

I feel that I should tell you what wonders Dr. Hugo's Health Tablets have done for me. I had been running down, getting thin in flesh, and losing appetite for the past year, and though doctor's advice was sought and different remedies were used, there seemed to be no improvement. At length a friend who had received great benefit from Dr. Hugo's Health Tablets, advised me to try this remedy. I did so. In less than a week I began to see good effects. My appetite returned, my nerves began to get steady, my aches and pains began to leave me. I commenced to take on flesh, and I felt that I was being rapidly restored to health. At this moment I feel I am a new woman.

We want you to notice that the above letter proves our claims for Dr. Hugo's Health Tablets in two particulars.

First, that they will restore health after other remedies and even physicians have failed. Mrs. Martin had tried both.

Second, that improvement begins at once. Mrs. Martin saw good effects within a week.

If you are suffering from a run-down condition, or any weakness peculiar to your sex, you, too, can be made well and strong by these tablets.

Take them one week and note the improvement in your feelings and general health.

Synopsis Of Canadian North-West HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the North-west Provinces, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land is situate.

Homestead Duties.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:—

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Application for patent should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of his intention to do so.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy of the Minister of the Interior.

PORT ARTHUR BREAKWATER

NOTICE TO INTENDING CONTRACTORS

As it may be deemed advisable by the Department of Public Works to change the location of the proposed breakwater at Port Arthur, thereby excluding the non-removal of the inner 1,000 feet in length of the existing breakwater and a decrease or increase in the quantity of dredging to be performed for the foundation of the proposed work, intending contractors are requested to omit from the bulk sum of their tender the removal of the inner existing portion of the breakwater and the dredging and to quote a price per cubic yard for the dredging, and a bulk sum for the removal of the breakwater.

The Crimson Blind

idea what he expected to find, but he had a pretty good idea that he was on the verge of an important discovery. He came at length to the bedside of the mysterious stranger. The man was lying on his back in a state of coma, his breath came heavily between his parted lips.

Bell bent low partly to examine the patient, partly to hide his face from Cross. If Bell had made any discovery he kept the fact rigidly to himself.

"Looks very young," he muttered. "But then he is one of those men who never grow any hair on their faces. Young as he looks, I should judge him to be at least forty-five, and, if I am not mistaken, he is a man who has heard the chimes at midnight or later. I'm quite satisfied."

"It's more than I am," Cross said, when at length he and his visitor were standing outside together. "Look here, Bell, you're a great friend of Steel's, whom I believe to be a very good fellow. I don't want to get him into any harm, but a day or two ago I found this letter in a pocket-book in a belt worn by our queer patient. Steel says the fellow is a perfect stranger to him, and I believe that statement. But what about this letter? I ought to have sent it to the police, but I didn't. Read it."

And Cross proceeded to take a letter from his pocket. It was on thick paper; the stamped address given was "15, Downend Terrace." There was no heading, merely the words "Certainly, with pleasure, I shall be home; in fact, I am home every night till 12.30, and you may call any time up till then. If you knock quietly on the door I shall hear you.—D.S."

"What do you make of it?" Cross asked.

"It looks as if your patient had called at Steel's house by appointment," Bell admitted. "Here is the invitation undoubtedly in Steel's handwriting. Subsequently the poor fellow is found in Steel's house nearly murdered, and yet Steel declares solemnly that the man is a perfect stranger to him. It is a bad business, but I assure you that Steel is the soul of honor. Cross, would you be so good as to let me have that letter for two or three days?"

"Very well," Cross said, after a little hesitation. "Good-night."

Bell went on his way homeward with plenty of food for thought.

He stopped just for a moment to light a cigar.

"Getting towards the light," he muttered; "getting along. The light is not going to fail after all. I wonder what Reginald Henson would say if he only knew that I had been to the hospital and recognized our mutual friend Van Sneck there!"

CHAPTER XXIII.

The expression on Henson's usually benign countenance would have startled such of his friends and admirers as regarded him as a shining light and great example. The smug satisfaction, the unctuous sweetness of the expansive blue eyes were gone; a murderous gleam shone there instead. His lips were set and rigid, the strong hand seemed to be strangling the bedclothes. It wanted no effort of imagination to picture Henson as the murderer stooping over his prey. The man had discarded his mask altogether.

"Oh," he said, between his teeth, "you are a clever fellow. You would have made an excellent detective. And so you have found out where Van Sneck is?"

"I have already told you so," Littimer said, doggedly.

"How many days have you been hanging about Brighton?"

"Two or three. I came when I heard that Chris was ill. I didn't dare to come near the house, at least not too near, for fear of being seen. But I pumped the doctor. Then he told me that Chris was dead, and I risked it all to see the last of her."

"Yes, yes," Henson said, testily; "but what has this to do with Van Sneck?"

"I was looking for Van Sneck. I found that he had been here. I discovered that he had left his rooms and had not returned to them. Then it occurred to me to try the hospital. I pretended that I was in search of some missing relative, and they showed me three cases of bad accidents, the victims had not been identified. And the third was Van Sneck."

Littimer told his story with just the suggestion of triumph in his voice. Henson was watching him with the keenest possible interest.

"Do you know how Van Sneck got there?" he asked.

Littimer nodded. Evidently he had heard most of the story. Henson was silent for some little time. He was working out something in his mind. His smile was not a pleasant one; it was nothing like his bland platform smile, for instance.

"Give me that black book," he said. "Do you know how to work the telephone?"

"I daresay I could learn. It doesn't look hard."

"Well, that is an extension telephone on the table yonder worked in connection with the main instrument in the library. I like to have my own telephone, as it is of the greatest assistance to me. Turn that handle two or three times and put that receiver to your ear. When the Exchange answers tell them to put you on to 0,017 Gerrard."

Littimer obeyed mechanically, but though he rang and rang again no answer came. With a snarling curse Henson dragged himself out of bed and crossed the room, with limbs that shook under him.

He twirled the hand round passionately.

"You always were a fool," he growled, "and you always will be."

Still no reply came. Henson whirled angrily, but he could elicit no response. He kicked the instrument over and danced round it impotently. Littimer had never seen him in such a raging fury before. The language of the man was an outrage, filthy, revolting, profane. No yelling, drunken Hooligan could have been more fluent, more luridly diffuse.

"Go on," Littimer said, bitterly. "I like to hear you. I like to hear the smug, plausible Pharisee, the friend of the good and pious, going on like this. I'd give fifty years of my life to have just a handful of your future constituents here for a moment."

Henson paused suddenly and requested that Littimer should help him into bed.

"I can afford to speak freely before you," he said. "Say a word against me and I'll crush you. Put out a hand to injure me and I'll wipe you off the face of the earth. It's absolutely imperative that I should send an important telephone message to London at once, and here the machine has broken down and no chance of its being repaired for a day or two. Curse the telephone."

He lay back on his bed utterly exhausted by his fit of passion. One of the white bandages about his throat had started, and a little thin stream of blood trickled down his chest. Littimer waited for the next move. He watched the crimson fluid trickle over Henson's sleeping-jacket. He could have watched the big scoundrel bleeding to death with the greatest possible pleasure.

"What was Van Sneck doing here?"

The voice came clear and sharp from the bed. Littimer responded to it as a cowed hound does to a sudden yet not quite unexpected lash from a huntsman's whip. His manliness was of small account where Henson was concerned. For years he had come to heel like this. Yet the question startled him and took him entirely by surprise.

"He was looking for the lost Rembrandt."

But Littimer's surprise was as nothing to Henson's amazement. He lay flat on his back so that his face could not be seen. From the expression of it he had obtained a totally unexpected reply to his question. He was so amazed that he had no words for the moment. But his quick intelligence and amazing cunning grasped the possibilities of the situation. Littimer was in possession of information to which he was a stranger. Except in a vague way he had not the remotest idea what Littimer was talking about. But the younger man must not know that.

"So Van Sneck told you so?" he asked. "What a fool he must have been! And why should he come seeking for the Rembrandt in Brighton?"

"Because he knows it was there, I suppose."

"It isn't here, because it doesn't exist. The thing was destroyed by accident by the police when they raided Van Sneck's lodgings years ago."

"Van Sneck told me that he had actually seen the picture in Brighton."

Henson chuckled. The noise was intended to convey amused contempt, and it had that effect, so far as Littimer was concerned. It was well for Henson that the latter could not see the strained anxiety of his face. The man was alert and quivering with excitement in every limb. Still he chuckled again as if the whole thing merely amused him.

"'The Crimson Blind' is Van Sneck's weak spot," he said. "It is King Charles's head to him. By good or bad luck—it is in your hands to say which—you know all about the way in which it became necessary to get Hatherly Bell on our side. All the same, the Rembrandt—the other one—is destroyed."

"Van Sneck has seen the picture," Littimer said, doggedly.

"Oh, play the farce out to the end," Henson laughed, good-humoredly. "Where did he see it?"

"He says he saw it at 218, Brunswick Square."

Henson's knees suddenly came up to his nose, then he lay quite flat again for a long time. His face had grown white once more, his lips utterly bloodless. Fear was written all over him. A more astute man than Littimer would have seen the beads standing out on his forehead. It was some little time before he dared trust himself to speak again.

"I know the house you mean," he said. "It is next door to the temporary residence of my esteemed friend, Gilead Gates. At the present moment the place is void——"

"And has been ever since your bogus 'Home' broke up. Years ago, before you used your power to rob and oppress us as you do now, you had a Home there. You collected subscriptions right and left in the name of the Reverend Felix Crosbie, and you put the money into your pocket. A certain weekly journal exposed you, and you had to leave suddenly or you would have found yourself in the hands of the police. You skipped so suddenly that you had no time even to think of your personal effects, which you understood were sold to defray expenses. But they were not sold, as nobody cared to throw good money after bad. Van Sneck got in with the agent under pretence of viewing the house, and he saw the picture there."

"Why didn't he take it with him?" Henson asked, with amused scorn. He was master of himself again and had his nerves well under control.

"Well, that was hardly like Van Sneck. Our friend is nothing if not diplomatic. But when he did manage to get into the house again the picture was gone."

"Excellent!" Henson cried. "How dramatic! There is only one thing required to make the story complete. The picture was taken away by Hatherly Bell. If you don't bring that in as the denouement I shall be utterly disappointed."

"You needn't be," Littimer said, coolly. "That is exactly what did happen."

Henson chuckled again, quite a parody of a chuckle this time. He could detect the quiet suggestion of triumph in Littimer's voice.

"Did Van Sneck tell you all this?" he asked.

"Not the latter part of it," Littimer replied, "seeing that he was in the hospital when it happened. But I know it is true because I saw Bell and David Steel, the novelist, come away from the house, and Bell had the picture under his arm. And that's why Van Sneck's agent couldn't find it the second time he went. Check to you, my friend, at any rate. Bell will go to my father with Rembrandt number two and compare it with number one. And then the fat will be in the fire."

Henson yawned affectedly. All the same he was terribly disturbed and shaken. All he wanted now was to be alone and to think. So far as he could tell nobody besides Littimer knew anything of the matter. And no starved, cowed, broken-hearted puppy was ever closer under the heel of his master than Littimer. He still held all the cards; he still controlled the fortunes of two ill-starred houses.

"You can leave me now," he said. "I'm tired. I have had a trying day, and I need sleep; and the sooner you are out of the house the better. For your own sake and for the sake of those about you, you need not say one word of this to Enid Henson."

Littimer promised meekly enough. With those eyes blazing upon him he would have promised anything. We shall see presently what a stupendous terror Henson had over the younger man, and in what way all the sweetness and savour of life was being crushed out of him.

He closed the door behind him, and immediately Henson sat up in bed. He reached for his handkerchief and wiped the big beads from his forehead.

"So the danger has come at last," he muttered. "I am face to face with it, and I knew I should be. Hatherly Bell is not the man to quietly lie down under a cloud like that. The man has brains, and patience, and indomitable courage. Now, does he suspect that I have any hand in the business? I must see him when my nerves are stronger and try and get at the truth. If he goes to Lord Littimer with that picture he shakes my power and my position perilously. What a fool I was not to get it away. But, then, I only escaped from the Brighton police in those days by the skin of my teeth. And they had followed me from Huddersfield like those cursed bloodhounds here. I wonder——"

He paused, as the brilliant outline of some cunning scheme occurred to him. A thin, cruel smile crept over his lips. Never had he been in a tight place yet without discovering a loophole of escape almost before he had seen the trap.

A fit of noiseless laughter shook him.

"Splendid," he whispered. "Worthy of Machiavelli himself! Provided always that I can get there first. If I could only see Bell's face afterwards, hear Littimer ordering him off the premises. The only question is, am I up to seeing the thing through?"

CHAPTER XXIV.

Reginald Henson struggled out of bed and into his clothing as best he could. He was terribly weak and shaky, far more weak than he had imagined himself to be, but he was in danger now, and his indomitable will-power pulled him through. What a fool Littimer had been to tell him so much merely so that he might triumph over his powerful foe for a few minutes. But Henson was planning a little scheme by which he intended to repay the young man tenfold. He had no doubt as to the willingness of his tool.

He took a bottle of brandy from a drawer and helped himself to a liberal dose. Walker had expressly forbidden anything of the kind, but it was no time for nice medical obedience. The grateful stimulant had its immediate effect. Then Henson rang the bell, and after a time Williams appeared tardily.

"You are to go down to Barnes and ask him to send a cab here as soon as possible," Henson said. "I have to go to London by the first train in the morning."

Williams nodded, with his mouth wide open. He was astonished and not a little alarmed at the strength and vitality of this man. And only a few hours before Williams had learnt with deep satisfaction that Henson would be confined to his bed for some days.

Henson dressed at length and packed a small portmanteau. But he had to sit on his bed for some little time and sip a further dose of brandy before he could move farther. After all there was no hurry. A full hour was sure to elapse before the leisurely Barnes brought the cab to the lodge-gates.

Henson crept downstairs at length and trod his catlike way to the library. Once there he proceeded to make a minute inspection of the telephone. He turned the handle just the fragment of an inch and a queer smile came over his face. Then he crept as silently upstairs, opened the window of the bathroom quietly, and slipped on to the leads. There were a couple of insulators here, against the wire of one of which Henson tapped his knuckles gently. The wire gave an answering twang. The other jangled limp and loose.

Will be continued next Saturday.

FREAKS OF GOLF BALLS.

Have Killed Birds on the Wing and Caused a Sheep to Drop Dead.

It does not often happen that a bird falls a victim to a golf ball in its flight, although such a mishap has occurred in two or three instances, says London Tit-Bits.

Not long ago an incident of this kind was reported from Raynes Park Golf Club. It took place in the course of a bogie competition. One of the players, a Mr. Crocker, having driven off at the eleventh tee, his ball created some astonishment by coming in contact with a lark in midair and literally knocking off its head.

A similar incident happened last season but one on the ground of the Birkdale Club. Two members were playing a round when one of them made a brassie shot. The ball was in full flight when a bird of the wagtail species was seen crossing the line of flight, and the next moment both objects came into collision at a distance of about forty paces from the striker.

The consequences were fatal to the unfortunate bird, which was not only killed, but decapitated. As for the golf ball, its flight was stopped by the impact, the ball falling to the ground within a few yards of its slaughtered victim. The incident had the further object of losing the player the match, he having to make an extra stroke or two to cover the distance short covered, thus costing him the game.

A still more extraordinary freak of a golf ball resulted in a tragedy on the Balcomie links in Scotland. In the course of a match one of the players, in his drive from the sixth tee, put so much vigor into it that the ball struck a sheep on the head with such force as to cause it to fall dead on the spot.

A very different, but no less interesting, story was reported from another links in Scotland about the same time. In a foursome match, played at North Berwick, one of the golfers drove his ball against a wall. It rebounded into some rough grass and for a few minutes could not be traced, but ultimately the caddie found the ball lying in a lark's nest, in which were four eggs all unbroken. For a ball to drop into a nest of eggs without breaking any was surely an extraordinary occurrence.

It is not long since a player at Woking in approaching the hole landed a ball on the top of the clubhouse. This little incident did not, however, upset his equilibrium very much. As nimbly as he could he followed the ball to the roof and from that coign of disadvantage played it so well that he was successful in securing a half of a hole which everybody considered irretrievably lost.

A similar scene was once witnessed on the St. Andrews links in the course of a three ball match. One of the players happened to drive his ball on the corrugated iron roof of a shed and, in the belief that he had consequently given up the hole, the other two calmly proceeded with the match. But they had reckoned without their host, for the next moment there was a great clatter of feet on the iron roof. Barely had the warning cry of "fore" reached the players' ears when a ball whizzed on to the course close by. It was that of the other player, who had mounted to the roof and played it from that unexpected corner.

Origin of the Thimble.

The thimble was originally called a thumb bell, because worn on the thumb; then a thumble, and finally it obtained its present appellation. It was a Dutch invention, and was first brought to England in 1695. Thimbles were formerly made only of iron and brass, but in comparatively late years they have been made of gold, silver, steel, horn, ivory and even glass and pearl. In China beautifully carved pearl thimbles are seen bound with gold and with the end of gold.

PENNY PESSIMISM.

Britain's Prophet, "Old Moore," Tries to Make Flesh Creep.

Old Moore is a tried and cherished acquaintance of the British public, but if he had any true consideration for its feelings he would never issue his almanac on a day like yesterday, when the moist heat had reduced everyone's spirits to the lowest point.

Old Moore is a pessimist. His prognostications are never colored by a roseate view of life. He should be read only in mid-winter after a good dinner and in front of a blazing fire, when the senses are lulled into indifference to his depressing forecasts.

Old Moore says we shall all have a very bad time next year. The only man there is any consolation for is Lord Roberts, who will doubtless note with satisfaction that "in January especially keen interest will be taken in rifle shooting, not only among our schools, but in nearly every village."

In 1907 there will be "wanton disorders," "wild rumors," "terrible disasters," "startling news," "ominous happenings," "terrible plague," and all the horrible things that make our flesh creep. Old Moore would have a more appalling effect on us than the antics of the Fat Boy on the widow in "Pickwick" were it not that he is loftily vague about these untoward events, as becomes a true prophet.

Old Moore has a helping word for the House of Lords. They need not fear the onslaughts that will be made on them by sections of the Labor and Socialist party. They are under the smile of the stars, and Old Moore holds the stars in the hollow of his hand, so to speak.

If the prophet condescended to be specific about April he might have pleased us once, for he says in that month the British public will refuse to pay taxes. The results of this revolt are, however, known only to the stars.

In August "we shall become a germ-laden land, and Old Moore looks forward to a dust tax on all motor-cars." But a very grave situation will arise in October. Then "the subject of women's clubs will call for attention. The woman's club has a most pernicious effect on home life, and many a husband and wife have been separated simply because the lady has not time for household affairs or family ties. Old Moore gives a friendly warning to newly-married couples, to avoid club life, and advises them to spend their evenings as far as possible within the domestic circle."

The year, we are told, "will close cold and gloomy" — a fairly "safe" prognostication.

ANOTHER WONDEREUL CASE

Here is Something that will be Welcome News to Many a Discouraged One.

WILLIAM H. REED.

"For several years I have been troubled with gas around my heart, shortness of breath, in fact, if I walked my usual gait my breath would get so short I would be compelled to make several stops during my walk.

"Of late my food did not digest properly It turned sour in my stomach, causing me great distress; often, too, I had disagreeable attacks of belching gas and heartburn

"I was bothered with servere pains across the small of my back and the least bending or turning would cause me to almost cry out

"I was induced to try Dr Leonhardt's Anti-Pill, and from the very first found relief

"For the last three months I have had no recurrence of my former complaints, so I am bound to say 'Anti-Pill has indeed cured me"

That is the voluntary statement of Wm H. Reed, of 165 Queen street, Kingston, Ont

All druggists sell Anti-Pill The Wilson-Fyle Co, Limited, Niagara Falls, Ont

A Warning to Doctors.

A physician in The Lancet warns his readers against the hasty expression of opinion by doctors about the nature of their patient's ailments. At a clinic was a subject with a murmur in his heart and with one of his eyes much dilated. The peculiar appearance of the eye seemed to have some connection with the cardiac affection, but various opinions were expressed by the different students as to what the precise nature of this relation could be. The discussion was just becoming interesting when the patient remarked that his strange looking eye was made of glass! At another clinic the professor in charge was discussing learnedly about the importance of attending to minor symptoms. "Now," gentlemen," he said, "in the case of this woman here, certain things could be confidently affirmed from the condition of her teeth." He was proceeding to particularize, but just then the patient broke in upon him. "Please, sir," she said, as she took out her teeth. "I will hand them around; the young gentlemen might like to look at them closer."

Naming His Quiverful.

A farmer in an English town has eight daughters, who are named to represent his feelings at the time of their birth. The eldest is called "Joy," and the second bears the name of "Summer," as she was born in July. The third arrived at a time of financial difficulties and would have been called "Sorrow," but her mother refused to have the name. So Sarah was substituted. Things were brighter when number four came, and "Hope" was her portion, while five and six—twins—were respectively "Spring" and "April," this last being their birth month. The seventh was styled "Harvest" and the youngest "Comfort."

The Fox a Good Mouser.

The fox is an excellent mouser. He will lie and watch for a field mouse in the long grass like a cat, pounce upon it, kill it with a bite, and lay it on one side until he has caught another and another, when, picking them all up, he will canter away with them to serve them out to the cubs. This fact was confirmed by witnesses in Scotland who were examined by a committee of the Board of Agriculture when taking evidence on the occasion of the plague of field voles on the Lowland sheep farms in 1893.—London Graphic.

Guaranteed Rubber Tires.

To guarantee a solid rubber tire against defect is not to guarantee the quality of the rubber it contains.

Any inferior compound of rubber may be made into a tire that does not look defective.

But the qualities for wear and resiliency go only with carriage tires made of high grade rubber.

The name "Dunlop" stampt on a tire, and this trade mark, are a guarantee of good rubber.

In a carriage tire it will insure a resilient tire of good staying power and solid qualities of wear.

KITCHEN OF KING EDWARD.

Head Chef is Frenchman Who Looks After Details For Royal Table.

Preparing King Edward's meals is an elaborate business, but like everything else connected with the royal household it is worked on a carefully devised system. The under chefs, superintended by the royal chef, a Frenchman by the way, are all clad in spotless linen, they work by the clock, and each dish is commenced and finished to within a minute of the appointed time. The head chef simply walks about thinking out the final details of the masterpiece for the table, which he takes particularly under his own care.

Just outside the dining hall at Buckingham Palace there is an apartment containing a hot table where the dishes are put preparatory to being placed on the royal table. Relays of men and women convey the delicacies from the kitchen to this room, where they are taken charge of by another servant in immaculate evening dress and white gloves. The passages from the kitchen are long, with awkward corners here and there, and in order to prevent collisions there are ingenious arrangements of mirrors at each turning which enable the servants to see whether the road is clear.

Attendants are strictly forbidden to enter any other apartment than that with which they are immediately concerned, and even the dish bearers are prohibited from passing down other corridors than those which are set apart for their special use.

Encouraging Thrift.

The Swaffham (Norfolk) Urban District Council has decided that all their workmen who have joined friendly societies, or otherwise provided for illness, shall be paid as usual when absent from work through sickness, but that no wages shall be paid to such employes who had not made such provision.

The Blind Historian.

William Hickling Prescott, who was born at Salem, Mass., on the 4th of May, 1796, was the son of a prosperous lawyer, entered Harvard college in 1811 and graduated in 1814. Early in his college career he had his left eye blinded by a piece of bread playfully thrown at him by a fellow student, and the other eye soon became sympathetically affected. He traveled in England, France and Italy and then devoted himself to severe study, but it was not till the beginning of 1820 that he found the work of his life within the range of Spanish history. Fortunately his means were ample, so that he was able to procure the services of assistants and to live amid conditions of comfort. By constant habit he gained the power of carrying a great deal in his memory, and after he had revolved the whole of a chapter in his mind he quickly transferred it to paper by means of his stylus and an ingenious writing case especially constructed for the blind. He published his "History of Ferdinand and Isabella" in 1838, which carried his name across the ocean to the old world. This was followed by his "History of the Conquest of Mexico" in 1843, and of "Peru" in 1847. These gave him a great reputation.

A Fruitarian Diet.

A fruitarian diet consists of the fruits of trees (like apples, oranges, bananas and olives), the fruits of bushes (like currants and raspberries), the fruits of plants (like strawberries and melon, lentils and beans and cucumbers), the fruits of grasses (like wheat and barley and maize and oats), the fruits of nut trees (from filbert to cocoanut), together with some earth fruits (like potatoes), and a modicum of vegetables and salads. To these may be added butter, milk, honey and cheese, although their production is not so free from risk of contamination and animal infection as is the case with the products of the vegetable kingdom and the world of fruits. Grown under healthy conditions, with diseased specimens easy to detect and remove, it is far more possible to live healthily and well upon a fruitarian dietary than upon the products of the slaughter house.

SWIMMING.

How many a time have I
Cloven, with arm still lustier, breast more daring,
The wave all roughened; with a swimmer's stroke
Flinging the billows back from my drenched hair
And laughing from my lip the audacious brine,
Which kissed it like a wine cup, rising o'er
The waves as they arose, and prouder still
The loftier they uplifted me; and oft,
In wantonness of spirit, plunging down
Into their green and grassy gulfs, and making
My way to shells and seaweed, all unseen
By those above, till they waxed fearful: then
Returning with my grasp full of such tokens
As showed that I had searched the deep; exulting,
With a far dashing stroke, and drawing deep
The long suspended breath, again I spurned
The foam which broke around me and pursued
My track like a sea bird! I was a boy then. —Lord Byron.

The First Steam Power.

The power of steam was known to Hero of Alexandria, who exhibited what seems from the description to have been a small steam engine to Ptolemy Philadelphus and his court about 150 B. C. Pliny describes a small boat built by a "magician" of Rome which moved by means of a wheel "driven by a pot of hot water." Watt's invention of a rotary steam engine was patented in 1769. The first railway locomotive was built by Trevithick in 1804. The first practical locomotive was perfected by Stephenson in 1829. As early as 1707 Denys Papin built a model of a steamboat, which was destroyed by a mob of boatmen. The first practical steamboat was built by William Symington in 1802. In 1803 Robert Fulton in connection with Chancellor Livingston built a steamboat, which was tried on the Seine. In 1807 the Clermont began trips from New York to Albany.

No Influence With Him.

During a municipal election in a town in the west of Scotland a young lady who was canvassing on behalf of one of the candidates called at a house, the door of which was opened by the goodwife. "I have called to solicit your vote on behalf of Mr. ——," said the young lady.

"But it's not me that's got the vote. It's me man," replied the woman.

"Yes," said the young lady, "but I thought you might perhaps use your influence with him."

"Me influoence him?" said the goodwife. "I hiv nae influoence wi' him. Only this morning I asked him to wash the floor afore he went out, and he wadna dae it."

No Hurry.

The minister was shocked when the young woman declined an introduction to some of his parishioners. "Why, my dear young woman, did you ever think that perhaps you will have to mingle with these good people when you get to heaven?"

"Well," she exclaimed, "that will be soon enough."

Signs of Brain Exhaustion.

A doctor says that when a person begins to have doubts about the spelling of common words, to write an unnaturally small hand that shows a tendency to waver above and below a straight line and to grasp the pen with unnecessary force, especially at the end of a long word, then that person is suffering from brain exhaustion and ought either to take a complete rest or else to find work of an altogether new and different kind.

A Narrow Escape.

The company had assembled in the church, but the bridegroom was nowhere to be found. Finally a messenger announced that the young man had been run over and killed while on his way to the church.

"And just think," she said a month afterward to a friend, "what a narrow escape I had from becoming a widow!"

A Frank of Memory.

Why have we memory sufficient to retain the minutest circumstances that have happened to us and yet not enough to remember how often we have related them to the same person? —La Rochefoucauld.

A Wonder.

"Crime worked a miracle with that dumb convict."

"How so?"

"He was sent here for uttering forged notes."—Baltimore American.

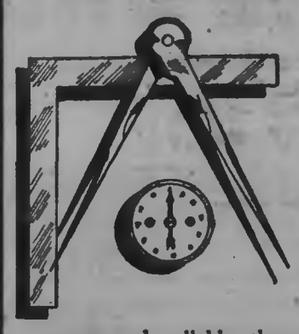
The Pandora Thermometer



The thermometer on the Pandora range oven means precisely as much accuracy to the cook what the square and compass mean to the draftsman. Without the square and compass the draftsman would have to work entirely by guess, just as you do without an accurate and reliable thermometer on your oven.

The Pandora thermometer reduces cooking to an exact science. You know precisely how much heat you have and what it will do in a given time. It is one of the small things which makes the Pandora so much different and better than common ranges.

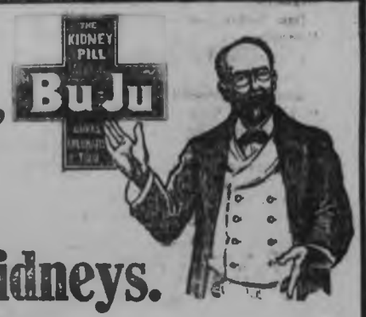
How "Bu-Ju" helps your kidneys.



"Bu-Ju" soothes irritation and heals inflammation.

"Bu-Ju" increases the excretion of urine. This flushes the kidneys—opens up the pores—clears the system of all poisonous deposits—and makes the kidneys well and strong.

"Bu-Ju" takes away the pain in the back and through the hips—cures the weakness and nervousness—and relieves all bladder troubles.

"Bu-Ju" will give you practically a new pair of kidneys, that will do their work in nature's way.

"Bu-Ju" does all this—and more—at a cost to you of only 3c. a day.

MARKHAM, ONT., Dec. 1st, 1905.

"I had suffered almost continually for seven years with Kidney Trouble. Could scarcely walk, and was unable to attend to my farm work. Saw "Bu-Ju," the kidney pills, advertised and procured a box from my druggist. After taking the first few pills, I feel much relieved; and after taking half a box, was able to do a full days work. I know one box of "Bu-Ju" saved me $40.00 doctor's bills and I think they are the finest pills made." JAMES ABBOTT.

ABANDONS HOPE.

Crew of Sunken Submarine, Lutin, Are Likely Dead.

Paris, Oct. 19.—In spite of the fact that it was announced from Bizerta yesterday morning that the spot where the submarine boat Lutin sank on Tuesday had been definitely ascertained, all hope of rescuing her crew alive has been practically abandoned at the Ministry of Marine.

The Ministry of Marine is coming in for a lot of criticism owing to its failure properly to equip the Bizerta naval station with salving apparatus.

The British Admiralty has sent a warm message of sympathy to the Ministry of Marine in connection with the loss of the Lutin.

It was established yesterday that the crew of the Lutin consisted of two officers and fourteen men.

The British battleship Implacable, the armored cruiser Carnavaron and the torpedo boat destroyer Albatross have arrived from Malta to assist in raising the Lutin.

REMAND FOR LEWIS.

Magistrate Refuses Bail—Mr. Kingsford Will Hear Charges.

Toronto, Oct. 19.—Thomas Lewis appeared in the Police Court Wednesday morning to answer to the formal charge preferred against him, of perjury in connection with his testimony in the London bribery investigation. Mr. Robinette urged that, in the indictment brought against Lewis, no specific offence was set forth, and was assured by Mr. Armour, for the crown, that any particulars required would be forthcoming.

The prisoner, who pleaded not guilty, elected to be tried by a jury. On Mr. Robinette's asking for bail, Magistrate Denison replied that, so far as he was concerned he would not allow any, "I'm tired of this continual perjury," he commented.

A remand till Monday was given.

New Yorker Brings Suit to Recover From Great Northern.

New York, Oct. 19.—Clarence H. Venner, who has frequently brought suits against some of the largest corporations in the country, has sued the Great Northern Railway and its president, James J. Hill, to compel the latter to refund $10,000,000 to the stockholders of the Great Northern and the Northern Pacific Railways.

Mr. Venner sues as a stockholder of the Great Northern, claiming to own 300 of its preferred shares.

In his complaint Venner practically charges Mr. Hill with defrauding the stockholders of his own company by unloading upon them at $200 stock which cost him $150 a share.

SEVERE SOUTHERN STORM.

East Coast of Florida Shut Off From Communication.

Jacksonville, Fla., Oct. 19.—A severe storm raged yesterday on the east coast of Florida, but the wires went down early in the day, and it was impossible to obtain details. Just before the wires failed the operator at Miami reported an unusual high tide with water two feet deep in the telegraph office and the low streets flooded.

At St. Augustine the tide was highest in ten years, and streets along the bay front were inundated.

Manoeuvres at Montreal.

Montreal, Oct. 19.—The attack and defence of the western approaches to Montreal were carried out yesterday by the Montreal garrison, augumented by the 43rd Infantry, the Queen's Own Hussars and the 23rd Field Battery, the net result being that the left flank of the defence was turned and one 4.7 inch gun of the heavy artillery fell into the hands of the invaders. Nearly 3,000 men were engaged.

Unknown Found Unconscious.

Hamilton, Oct. 19.—An unknown man, supposed to be a barber at the Commercial Hotel, was found in what is feared to be a dying condition in an excavation for a new building near the hotel. He had a deep gash on his head, and it is thought that he is suffering from concussion of the brain. He was discovered about 10 o'clock, and was taken to the City Hospital.

How to Make a Good Mouth Wash.

A good mouth wash can be made at home for a trifling cost as follows: Dissolve two ounces of borax in three pints of boiling water. Before quite cold add a teaspoonful of tincture of myrrh and a tablespoonful of good eau de cologne or spirits of camphor. Half fill a tumbler with this solution and add sufficient water to fill it up. Use this wash daily after each meal, and you will find your teeth are preserved and whitened.

COULD SCARCELY WALK

A Rheumatic Sufferer Cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Rheumatism is rooted in the blood—that is a medical fact every poor rheumatic sufferer should know. Liniments and outward applications cannot possibly cure rheumatism. They are a waste of money, and while the sufferer is using them the disease is steadily growing worse—is slowly but surely taking a firmer grasp upon the entire system. Rheumatism must be treated through the blood. That is the only way in which the poisonous acid can be driven out. Dr. Williams Pink Pills actually make new blood and thus always cure rheumatism. Every dose of these pills helps to make new rich red blood which sweeps the poisonous acid from the system, loosens the aching joints and muscles and gives the rheumatic new health free from pain. Among those who can bear witness to the truth of these statements is Miss Dorsina Langlois, of St. Jerome, Que., for weary months she suffered from rheumatism and had begun to think she was incurable. "I could not straighten up" says Miss Langlois, "My limbs were almost useless, so stiff were they. For many months I endured such pains as only rheumatic sufferers can understand. Although only thirty years of age the suffering I endured actually made me look like an old woman. I used liniments and tried several medicines but got not the slightest help until almost by chance my attention was directed to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I began taking them and in the course of a few weeks I could see they were helping me. Little by little the pain began to go, and the stiffness to leave my joints. I continued taking the pills for several months when every symptom of the trouble had disappeared. I have not felt a twinge of rheumatism since, and I bless the day Dr. Williams' Pink Pills came to my notice."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills never fail to cure rheumatism because they go right to the root of the trouble in the blood. That is why these pills cure all the common ailments due to poor and watery blood, such as anemia, headaches and backaches, indigestion, neuralgia, St. Vitus dance, general weakness, and the distressing irregularities that afflict women and growing girls. If you need a medicine you will save money by taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills at once. See that the full name Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People is printed on the wrapper around every box. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The Photographer Advises.

A photographer suggests that when having a photograph taken the lady dress her hair in a becoming fashion without regard to the latest mode, which will certainly change and make the picture look old fashioned, while a becoming style will not. Do not wear a new dress, and only young people should be photographed in white.

JEWELRY NEWS.

Long Earrings to Be Worn—Stunning Dog Collars—Care of Jewels.

Rumor, which had its birth in Paris, declares that large and long earrings will be worn. Collarless gowns, broad turnover collars with no standing band and fichus in all shapes and all manner of fineness predominate in the summer fashions, but a long expanse of bare throat, ending in a plain turndown linen collar or a tiny frill, is not universally becoming, so that the earring, it seems, will be an absolutely necessary adjunct to the summer gown.

Some of the latest and most effective collars are made of a very bright yellow gold, with richly decorated outlines, set with sapphires in panels connected by gold loops and chains. Gold filigree bracelets are also a novelty borrowed from old times, with gem set panels between the chains. The favorite ornament of the debutante this season is the single string of pearls that forms a necklace, but for day-

Very Parisian and smart is the empire gown illustrated. Pink radium silk of the best quality is employed. A decidedly novel feature is the wide sash of the same silk headed with a deep frill of lace. All over lace makes the crossed fichu effect. The puffed sleeves are cut up very high at the outer edge and trimmed with frills of deep lace. Mull makes the chemisette and high collar.

Turbine Locomotives.

L. Wilson of Greenock, Scotland, has devised a method intended to overcome the difficulties met with in applying turbines to locomotives. The locomotive bogie axles are extended on the outside of each wheel, and the turbine wheels and casings are mounted on the projecting axle ends. The steam pipes and exhaust pipes connecting with the cylinders and smokestack of the locomotive are connected by swivel ball and socket joints to the casing. Mr. Wilson's intention is that the turbines shall be driven by the exhaust steam from the locomotive cylinders, and the turbine valves are operated by the same links and levers as those which control the forward and reverse movements of those of the steam cylinder.

A CONFESSION.

I bear with me where'er I go
The image of a lady fair.
'Tis not my wife's; she does not know
How much for that bright face I care.

I often take it out and gaze
In rapture on its perfect lines.
It has inspired my happiest lays;
My sun of fortune in it shines.

O classic head with fillet graced!
O Grecian nose! O dimpled chin!
O lips so exquisitely traced!
O silvery hair and polished skin!

Yes; silvery hair, though still so young
And scarcely changed by lapse of time.
This maiden fair whose praise I've sung
Beams on me from a treasured dime!

"A Musical Tea."

The following is a very amusing competition for an afternoon tea:

A tale is read aloud by the hostess, and instead of reading the names of people, places and time she plays an air on the piano. Each guest is provided with a card with numbers marked on it, beginning at 1. The tale is numbered to correspond, the first tune played being 1, the second 2, and so on.

Almost any short tale can be adapted for the purpose. The following sentences illustrate the meaning. The inverted commas indicate the name of the air to be played instead of reading the words aloud:

One day "In Sweet September" a young couple were sauntering round "An Old Garden." The girl, whose name was "Dolly Gray," was a charming specimen of girlhood, and her companion, "Robin Adair," evidently found favor in her eyes.

The airs must be well known, and even then people do not recognize them or do not get the correct title. One can often fit the words to the music and yet forget the name of the song itself.

The Secret of Boiling Water.

To boil a thing well it is not necessary to boil it hard. The average kitchen maid thinks that the more commotion in the water the hotter it is, and in order to produce this she burns a great deal of fuel and ruins the stove by keeping it red hot. Water placed in a stewpan directly over a redhot lid will, of course, boil more vehemently, yet it will not cook meat or potatoes any quicker, and not so well as water that just keeps at the boiling point and quietly simmers.

Disastrous Tidal Wave Sweeps Over The Gulf

250 Residents Lost By Engulfment of Elliott Key.

HURRICANE IN CUBA WATERS

Steamer In Harbor Is Crushed and 25 on Board Killed—Dutch Steamer Also Reported to Have Gone Down—Wind Storm Sweeps Havana City—Twenty Deaths There—Loss Is Two Million Dollars.

Miami, Fla., Oct. 20.—The steamer St. Lucie, Captain Bravo commanding, has sunk off the Florida coast.

One of the excursion steamers arrived in port last night, bringing sixty wounded, who were taken to the hospital, and it is said there are twenty-eight dead bodies, which will be brought up to-day.

Captain Bravo says that he anchored on the leeward side of Elliott Key, twenty-five miles south of Miami, Thursday morning, and that soon after a tidal wave engulfed the island.

250 Lost in Tidal Wave.

He says there were 250 residents on the island, all of whom were lost.

The St. Lucie was crushed by the same wave, and of the hundred persons on board twenty-five were killed.

Captain Bravo was seriously injured.

A barge containing 100 persons is said to have been torn away from its moorings at Elliott Key and afterwards picked up near the Bahama Islands, fifty of her passengers being reported drowned.

It is believed now that a portion of the Florida Fish & Produce Co.'s fleet was destroyed and Manager Adams sent out one of their boats yesterday morning to look for the men and boats. On returning they reported no signs of the fleet.

20 Dead In Havana City.

Havana, Oct. 20.—A cyclone of unprecedented severity, accompanied by a terrific downpour of rain, swept over the Provinces of Havana and Pinar del Rio Wednesday night and resulted in 20 deaths in this city and the serious injury of a dozen or more persons.

The damage is estimated at $2,000,000.

The dead are all Cubans of the poorer class.

Buildings Badly Damaged.

In Havana City the buildings of the University of Havana sustained damages amounting to many thousands of dollars. A partition wall in the American legation was blown down. The office furniture was ruined and the books and records of the legation were wet through.

The light wooden structures over the sea baths at Vedado were badly wrecked.

The great unoccupied brick building covering the old United Railroad wharf near La Reela was demolished.

Many Dead and Injured.

New York, Oct. 20.—Advices received here by the Western Union from Havana state that 19 persons are known to be dead and many others were injured by the storm.

Much property was destroyed and the Prado and other parks were devastated. All traffic in the city was suspended, as a result of the storm. All American sailors and soldiers are reported to be safe.

Brooklyn Dragged Her Anchor.

The United States cruiser Brooklyn dragged her anchors at the height of the hurricane and touched bottom, but got off without damage.

The other warships, the Minneapolis, the Texas, the Denver and the Prairie rode out of the gale safely. More than one thousand tents at Camp Columbia were blown down and the barracks unroofed. One trooper had his shoulder broken.

The storm began with heavy wind and rain. About 6 o'clock in the morning it rapidly increased in violence and at noon was at its height, the wind blowing 80 miles an hour. The city streets were like rivers. Stores were flooded and there was two feet of water in the cable office.

After noon the wind blew at times at the rate of 120 miles an hour.

35 Lighters Sunk.

The greatest money loss was in the harbor when 35 lighters were sunk. Many of these were loaded with valuable merchandise. Nineteen of them belonged to the Ward line of New York.

All trains to the interior were discontinued.

Pinar del Rio was the centre of the storm. Extensive damage is reported to crops in that province.

100 Miami Houses Wrecked.

A conductor who has arrived at Fort Pierce from Miami reports that one hundred houses at Miami were wrecked by the storm.

The Episcopal Church and the Methodist Episcopal Church were blown down. The concrete jail is leaning.

The roof was blown off the P. & O. warehouse. The car shed was blown down.

100 Reported Dead.

A special cablegram to The Evening Telegram says: Over one hundred are dead from the worst cyclone which has ever visited Havana. Ninety-four of the fatalities are confined to natives, while 16 foreign residents are reported killed.

Buildings Shaken.

When the tempest reached its height buildings were shaken as with an earthquake, street cars were washed from their tracks, windows were blown in like paper and roofs and doors swept away.

Several of the smaller frame houses were blown from their foundations and were wrecked. These were situated in the poorer district and were the cause of so many deaths among the natives.

Weather Prophet Saved Lives.

It is estimated that the loss of life and damage would have been greater had it not been for the timely warning given by Father Love at Guneiti. He is a noted weather observator of Berlin College.

He telephoned to Columbia Camp at 7.30, one hour before the storm descended, that a cyclone was coming and his warning was immediately heeded.

Dutch Steamer Lost.

San Juan, Porto Rico, Oct. 20.—The Red line steamer Philadelphia, from La Guaira, Venezuela, for New York, arrived here yesterday 48 hours late. Her captain reports that a Dutch steamer was lost in the cyclone between Curacao and Luguanica.

The Philadelphia encountered the cyclone upon leaving the harbor of La Guaira on Monday. She was blown ashore and slightly damaged. This and the heavy weather accounted for her delay in reaching here.

20 Miles of Railway Destroyed.

Twenty miles of the railway connecting La Guaira with Caracas has been totally destroyed by the storm, according to officers and passengers of the Philadelphia. The Philadelphia left here for New York yesterday afternoon.

Damage Along Florida Coast.

New York, Oct. 20.—Communication with Miami, Florida, has been restored by the Western Union. Miami reports that the hurricane struck the coast there at 6 o'clock Wednesday morning. The trainsheds at Miami were badly damaged. The Methodist Church and a number of houses were unroofed.

Must Emigrate or Die.

London, Oct. 20.—(C. A. P.)—The Mail's special commissioner describes the terrible poverty of fishermen of the Island of Lewis. Many have emigrated to Canada, and Galloway Weir, M. P., says that hundreds more must do so or die.

Thousands Leave Britain.

London, Oct. 20.—(C. A. P.)—Some 102,250 persons, during the nine months of this year, sailed for Canada against 72,803 in the corresponding period last year; 117,648 sailed to the United States this year.

Late Manager McGill In Box; Did Not Plead

Ex-Bank General Manager Did Not Elect or Plead.

MR. COCKBURN ARRAIGNED

President of the Ontario Bank Pleads "Not Guilty," and Were Remanded For One Week — Charged In Toronto Police Court With Having Made False Returns to the Government—The Lawyers.

Toronto, Oct. 20.—The preliminaries in the criminal proceedings arising out of the collapse of the Ontario Bank only occupied the attention of the Police Court for about ten minutes yesterday morning. Both Chas. McGill and G. R. R. Cockburn were remanded for one week.

Mr Cockburn, who is charged with signing the statements Mr. McGill is charged with preparing, stood near his fellow-defendant in court yesterday, but they did not speak as they passed by. The temperature between them was several degrees below normal.

McGill Did Not Plead Or Elect.

The first defendant called was the late general manager, Col. Denison read the indictment, which alleged that the defendants "being the general manager of the Ontario Bank, a body corporate, did make statements and returns to the Minister of Finance and Receiver-General, known by him, Charles McGill, to be false, in material particulars, to wit, in the information returned and shown under the heading of "current loans in Canada," the amounts there shown being in excess of the true amount of about one million dollars, with intent to deceive the shareholders and creditors of the said bank."

Mr. E. F. B. Johnston asked for a week's remand. "I do not know the particulars," he said, "and desire time to examine into the case." Mr. James Bicknell, who assisted Crown Attorney Corley, added that the prosecution was not yet ready. The magistrate set October 26th as the date for the next appearance of the defendant.

Mr. Cockburn Pleads "Not Guilty."

"What about Mr. Cockburn," enquired his Worship.

The president of the defunct bank had been sitting at the lawyers' table with his counsel, Mr. Frank Arnoldi, K.C., and immediately rose, while Col. Denison read the charge that he "wilfully made false monthly returns to the Minister of Finance and Receiver-General under the provisions of the Bank Act, 1890."

"We are ready to go on to-day," said Mr. Arnoldi, "if the Crown is prepared."

Mr. Bicknell replied that the case would have to stand over with the other, and the counsel for the defence announced, "Well, Mr. Cockburn pleads not guilty."

Mr. Cockburn left immediately in company with his counsel; the magistrate renewed Charles McGill's bail of $50,000.

James Bicknell, K.C., represented the Bankers' Association during the proceedings. Crown Attorney Corley and County Crown Attorney Drayton represented the Crown.

Wholesale Ptomaine Poisoning.

Hamilton, Oct. 20.—At a big silver wedding feast given by Hector and Mrs. Foster, wealthy farmers of Oneida Township, near Caledonia, a great quantity of chicken cooked in copper pots and served with gelatine was eaten. Soon after Mr. Foster, mother and Mrs. (Rev.) Ferguson died from ptomaine poison. Rev. Mr. Ferguson is also in a critical condition, and eighty-three of the ninety guests are also suffering from the same cause, some of them being in a very critical condition.

Accidental Death.

Metcalf, Oct. 20.—An inquest was held here yesterday by Dr. Hayle, county coroner, and the following verdict was rendered:

"As that on the 18th day of October 1906, in the 5th concession Osgood, S. or about lot 31, Harry Cummings came to his death by a bullet wound in the left breast, caused by a gunshot accidentally discharged while in his own hands after being handed to him by a comrade while out hunting."

Bridge Builder Drowns.

Belleville, Oct. 20.—News has been received in this city that John Shannon, whose home was in Tweedmuir Township, not far from Belleville, was drowned Thursday at Three Rivers, Quebec. The deceased was a bridge builder by occupation, and was employed by a Toronto bridge-building concern when the accident happened. He was 25 years of age and unmarried.

First Shot In Buckingham Riot Fired By Charett

Detective Picard Testifies re Buckingham Strike Riot.

STRIKERS BEGAN FIRING

According to the Evidence of F. Smith—Same Witness Testified That Alex. Maclaren Fired a Revolver, But Not Until After Strikers Began to Fire—F. Kingsbury Found Unconscious—Who Beat Him?

Buckingham, Que., Oct. 20.—Detective Picard, who was wounded in last week's strike riot here, was the principal witness at the inquest yesterday morning. He said that he was shot by Hilaire Charette, one of the prominent rioters.

F. Smith, another witness, swore he saw Alexander Maclaren firing a revolver, but that was not until after the strikers had begun to fire. He saw rifles brought to the scene of the riot in a buggy and distributed among the strikers. The strikers began the firing, he stated.

Bailiff Cummings was the first man stretched out. He was hit with a club. Chief of Police Kiernan stated on Wednesday that Cummings fell back into his arms when he was hit, but Smith yesterday swore Cummings fell on the ground.

Some of the evidence is very contradictory. The inquest was adjourned owing to Picard feeling faint.

Louis Renaud, one of the witnesses, swore that the police fired fifteen to twenty shots before the strikers opened fire, while other evidence had gone to show the reverse.

Albert Maclaren, one of the proprietors of the mill, could not say who fired first.

Mistaken For Mayor, Is Beaten.

The finding of Frank Kingsbury in an unconscious state near Masson Station Thursday night created considerable alarm among Buckingham people, and the impression went abroad that strike hostilities were not yet ended.

The supposition is that Kingsbury was mistaken for Mayor Vallilee, manager of the Maclaren Co., on account of his driving outfit, and was attacked by strikers, who have greater enmity for the manager than they have for the Maclarens.

Kingsbury is employed as a yardman for W. H. Kelly, a Buckingham lumber manufacturer. He went to meet his employer, who was coming from Ottawa by train. When Mr. Kelly reached Masson he found his horse and buggy waiting alone. He looked around for the driver, and soon discovered Kingsbury lying on the road in a helpless state.

Kingsbury was cut about the head in several places, and was unable to tell what had happened. Kelly could not gather from him whether or not there had been a runaway, but that seemed unlikely.

Even after several hours, he was unable to explain the curious incident, saying that he remembered nothing from the time he drove down the hill.

SARRIEN'S RESIGNATION.

Vatican Apprehensive That Church and State War Will Be More Bitter.

Paris, Oct. 20.—At the Cabinet meeting yesterday morning, Premier Sarrien officially informed his colleagues that he had transmitted his resignation, on account of ill-health, to President Falleres, whereupon the Ministers resigned in a body. The session lasted only 20 minutes. Foreign Minister Bourgeois wrote a collective letter, which all present signed, joining their resignations to that of their chief.

Vatican Apprehensive.

Rome, Oct. 20.—The resignation of Premier Sarrien and the reorganization of the French Cabinet have caused a feeling of apprehension at the Vatican, where it is feared that the conflict between the church and state in France will become more bitter if M. Clemenceau assumes the premiership.

Killed On Russian Railway.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 20.—It is reported that one hundred persons have been killed or injured as the result of a railway accident yesterday at Oka, on the Moscow-Kursk line.

Italian Rioters Sentenced.

Kingston, Oct. 20.—The Italian rioters, Donifrio and D'Allo, were sentenced by Justice MacMahon to six months in Central Prison for assault and wounding.

WOT'S THE USE?

Wot's the use o' fireflies
Skootin' round at night
With their foolish twinkle?
They don't give no light.

Wot's the use o' ravin'
'Bout the blushin' rose?
You can't git their petals
Made up into clo's.

Wot's the use o' daisies,
Dewy-like an' wet,
Er the other flower
Hence they can't be et?

Wot's the use o' moonshine,
Fallin' on the bay?
'Twon't bring in no money—
Not fell jedgment day.

Wot's the use o' squawkin'
Like them noisy birds,
And, sence we're about it,
Wot's the use o' words?

If those things have value,
I din't found them worth.
Ain't no use in nothin'
On this bloomin' earth.

The Latest In Fashion's Realm; Items Of Interest To Ladies

HERE AND THERE.

Evening Gloves Have Silk Linings. Ribbon Corsets and a New Garter.

The new kid evening gloves have silk linings. The linings are in pretty shades that will not jar with the frocks the average woman will select and may even match if a little care is taken when buying them.

Ribbon corsets are among the fall novelties. They are beautifully made of rows and rows of wide satin ribbon, each ribbon overlapping the one below and held securely in place by hand embroidered daisies, fleur-de-lis or rosebuds. At the top there is an edging of baby ribbon fulled on or a piece of sheer valenciennes lace gathered to make a tiny finish. In white ribbon these corsets are delicate enough for a bride, but for practical use the ones of tan, light blue or pink are most serviceable.

There is a smart new garter made of colored silk gathered and smocked in an attractive fashion. Instead of being about an inch wide, as the styles of a year ago, the new ones are quite three inches in width. They are finished top and bottom with narrow baby ribbon or "val" lace.

Glove handkerchiefs are of plain colored linen in delicate shades with tiny white hemstitched borders. Some of the most expensive examples have scrolls of hand embroidery.

The girl's gown seen in the sketch is of ruby red serge. The skirt and bodice are kilted and the plaits held down for a short distance with smoke pearl buttons and simulated buttonholes. About the collar is a band of fancy braid. The guimpe is of allover embroidery. JUDIC CHOLLET.

STYLES FOR MERE MAN.

Radical Changes In Men's Attire. Trousers Less Baggy—Coat Models.

There are radical changes in men's clothes. The military sack coat is ruled out. Padded shoulders have gone the way of all flesh and have been succeeded by narrow ones. Sleeves will be fuller with just enough padding in the top to make them set well.

Coat lapels are not creased. The new ones have a long, soft roll. The thirteen inch lapel is the proper thing. The two button single breasted sack coat that has been worn through the summer will continue its reign. But both two and three button coats are cut with exaggerated chests and with a full back that has only the slightest suggestion of conformity.

The correct coat will not have side or center vents. The fronts are cut nearly straight with rounded corners showing an opening of about one and one-half inches.

The new vest is cut a little higher than the coat, so that it may be visible between the lapels of the coat.

Trousers, too, have changed their style. They will be full, but not baggy over the hips and will taper slightly, giving the figure a spiked effect.

The fall overcoat is a combination of the French back which fits the form and the Chesterfield. It is forty-six or forty-eight inches long and a trifle shaped at the waist. Gray mixtures will be very modish.

There is little change in the fall derby. The illustration shows the latest model. The crown is moderately rounded, the brim of medium curl, and there is a fairly well defined dip in front and back. JUDIC CHOLLET.

WHAT IS WORN.

Shirt Waist Modes—Lingerie Gowns. Quaint Golfing Sunbonnets.

The new features of the latest shirt waists are tiny frills down each side of the front box plait and bone buttons used instead of the popular pearl examples.

Lingerie gowns have never had such a vogue. They are thought very chic for evening frocks, whether decollete or high necked. One of the most beautiful models is a princess made of embroidered motifs, held together with scrolls of baby Irish and valenciennes laces.

Black and white is always a stylish combination and should be the standby of the middle aged woman, be she stout or thin. The opposite type of the plump woman, she of the thin, sallow class, should never wear a toilet entirely of black unless from necessity.

Quaint lingerie sunbonnets are smart for golfing and tennis, and a pretty girl looks mighty fetching in one of these old time affairs.

The gown of embroidered linen that is made in shirt waist style fills a great many needs, is handsome at the same time that it is simple and can be worn upon a great many occasions.

Lace sleeves in a gown of heavier material are the acme of smartness. A mingling of different fabrics promises to be one of the fall dress features.

The black hat illustrated is trimmed with black and white pekin silk, which is one of the new French fancies. Curling under the brim at the back is a white ostrich feather topped by a paradise plume. JUDIC CHOLLET.

WHAT TO WEAR.

Spanish Influences Dominate Fashions—Every Shade of Blue Worn.

Spanish influences are dominant in the millinery world just now. Milliners are showing quite a number of small, round toques and hats distinctly recalling the toreador and matadore models popular a dozen years ago. They are fashioned in the softest of

LACE BLOUSE.

French felts and trimmed with natural quills and cabochon rosettes of the felt itself.

Paris is sending over hats, gowns and wraps, together with accessories in every conceivable shade of blue. Browns are also to be much worn, with beguiling shades of green, apricot, mode and champagne in cloths, silks and crapes, but even with this wide color selection blue loses none of its favor.

Charming bridesmaid dresses are made of printed chiffon showing large designs of roses scattered over the surface or merely forming a wide border. With these frocks are worn girdles of plain colored silk of the most prominent shade in the color scheme.

In a bead shop is a double string of dark red beads that, catching the light, sparkle and flash like real rubies. It is well worth the dollar asked for it.

Black is to be very fashionable, but for women to whom this color is not becoming there are innumerable other shades that are quite as modish. Among them are marine, czar, gazelle, garnet, rose and myrtle, not to mention plaids and stripes of mingled coloring.

The dainty lace blouse seen in the cut is suitable for wearing over a lingerie shirt waist. The V yoke is outlined with a pale blue velvet.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

A THANKFUL MOTHER.

"I thank you with all my heart for what Baby's Own Tablets have done for my little girl," says Mrs. Antoine Charette, jr., of St. Boniface, Que. "When I began giving her the Tablets she seemed to be pining away, but after giving less than a box, she was rapidly gaining and she is now a fine, fat, healthy little one, and I write you this as the acknowledgment of a mother who will never forget what Baby's Own Tablets have done for her child." Letters like this must bring hope and comfort to all mothers who have feeble or weakly children. Baby's Own Tablets will cure all the minor ailments and can be given just as safely to a new born baby as to a well grown child. If you cannot get these Tablets from your dealers, write to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont., and get them at 25 cents a box.

VOGUE POINTS.

Smart Trimmings For Fall Gowns. Black and Yellow Combination.

Stitched bands trim many of the smartest new suits. They are applied straight or are put on in fanciful designs. Tiny bands trimmed with buttons are another favorite adornment.

Embroidered buttons appear on a number of stunning gowns, and a suspicion of beadwork beautifies many an otherwise plain costume.

Black and yellow is one of the new combinations of the season. It is not likely to be as generally becoming as the more tried and popular black and white magpie effect.

Shawl effects in wraps are very smart. Natty little capes and more ambitious larger wraps built along these lines are much in evidence. Long and voluminous circular capes, boasting hoods lined with silk, are going to be the modish theater cloak of the winter.

The theater hats introduced in Paris last spring by an ultra smart duchess have found their way to this side of the water. They are nothing more than a suspicion of chiffon or tulle tricked out with an ostrich feather or a pretty arrangement of roses and velvet ribbon loops. Sometimes these tiny headpieces consist of all three materials.

The cut shows a smart group of sleeve models designed for autumn costumes. The epaulet effect is very new, and the cape upper drapery is an old idea revived. JUDIC CHOLLET.

FACTS AND FANCIES.

Marquisette a New Fabric—Three Piece Suits—Smart Jackets.

Marquisette is a new fabric that is half veiling and half netting and wholly adorable for a smart frock. It comes in all the modish colors, gobelin green, dull blue, beige, lavender and gray. These frocks are worn over lingerie skirts and corset covers and make the coolest of summer wool dresses.

Three piece suits are wonderfully smart and serviceable, and they have done away almost entirely with the separate shirt waist. The effect of such a costume is chic in the extreme, and its usefulness is obvious. The coats are of the Eton style.

Little jackets draped in front, fichu fashion, or caught in several places in bow ends are unusually becoming to slender figures.

A touch of orange is again smart on gowns, but this vivid color to be successful must be used sparingly.

Many of the smartest gowns are made in two pieces, but joined at the waist and covered with a sash. The effect is that of a princess.

It seems that sailor hats, pitched and tossed on the crest of enormous bandeaux, are flourishing like the polo cap of malodorous memory.

Imported dresses invariably have the foot plaitings very full and edged with inexpensive cotton lace, white or black, that one buys by the bolt and sews on with the hem.

The suit in the sketch is of black veiling, trimmed with lines of white satin ribbon worked with a fancy stitch in heavy black embroidery silk. An applique of black braid over white satin defines the square neck. The deep cuffs are of lace and mull.

Talks on Orange Meat

(THE PURE FOOD)

Absolute Cleanliness Free.

It costs us twice as much to have Orange Meat absolutely clean—and does not cost YOU a penny extra. We need not be half as particular as we are—and save lots of money. Only—Orange Meat would not be the delicious delicacy—the brain and body building food it is—if we were not so insistent on cleanliness.

After the wheat comes into our grain elevators from the steamers, it goes into huge vats, filled with pure water. Here the wheat is thoroughly "scrubbed" until every tiny grain is "clean as a new pin."

Then, it's washed once more with fresh water "just to make sure." These extra washings—extra machinery—all mean extra expense to us. But they certainly help to make ORANGE MEAT extra good.

Here's what one Mother in Sterling says about it :—

Orange Meat

"After seeing advertisements of Orange Meat and its healthful qualities, we decided to try it. During the last six months, it has been continually in our house and we have used between 70 and 100 packages. My husband and children prefer Orange Meat to all foods we have tried."

Orange Meat weighs ⅓ more than any other package. At all grocers—15c. and 25c. 15c. package contains a coupon, good for new premiums. 25c. size holds 2½ times the quantity of 15c. size. Write "Orange Meat, Kingston," for new premium catalogue.

THE GROWTH OF CULTURE

The day is past when culture and true social enjoyment were confined to the few—to the privileged classes. We live in a day of enlightenment and democracy. Equal educational advantages, equal opportunities for culture and enjoyment of those things in life that are best worth while.

The luxuries of yesterday are the necessities of to-day, and in the musical world nothing is more noticeable than the demand of all classes for the highest possible grade of piano. The piano manufacturer who meets this demand is never slack for want of orders.

THE New Scale Williams PIANO

is Canada's greatest piano. Its improvements and latest features have gone far toward creating a better appreciation of good music all over Canada. It more nearly approaches the ideal piano than any other.

Its tone, quality, construction and architectural beauty are unexcelled. For good music, for accompanying the solo voice or chorus of song, great artists all over the world are loud in its praises. And yet it is a Canadian instrument—perhaps the highest exponent of Canadian industry.

If you will fill in the coupon below, cut it out and take to your dealer or send to the Williams Piano Co., we will send you ABSOLUTELY FREE SEVERAL BEAUTIFUL BOOKLETS, "The Making of a Great Piano," etc. We will also tell you of easy purchase plans that will interest you.

Tea Table Superstitions.

An old superstition is that if the lid is forgotten when the tea is put in the kettle to steep there will be visitors.

When a girl receives two spoons with her cup of tea she will be married within the year.

Those who help themselves to the milk or cream before putting in the sugar will be crossed in love.

A tea leaf floating on the top of a cup of tea means that the drinker has an admirer. If the tea is stirred quickly and the spoon held upright in the middle of the cup, the lover will call that day if the leaf is attached to the spoon. If, on the contrary, the leaf clings to the side of the cup, he will not come until another day.

Tenders To Be Called For In Two Weeks Time

For the Erection of the New Armouries Building for This City, Says Mr. Hall.

Two Members for Peterborough at Ottawa Interview Minister of Public Works on the Matter

Building Will be One of Best in the Dominion of Canada—Work to be Rushed.

In about two weeks tenders will be called for the erection of the new Armouries for Peterborough, and as quickly as possible afterwards the work on their construction will be commenced. This is the statement made to The Examiner to-day by Mr. R. R. Hall, M.P., who, with Mr. John Finlay, M.P., has just returned from Ottawa, where they took the matter up with Hon. C. S. Hyman, Minister of Public Works. He stated that the revised plans and specifications were now practically completed, and that they showed the building to be one of the finest and best equipped in the whole Dominion of Canada. The Minister assured them that work on the plans was being rushed, and that it was not anticipated that they would be delayed beyond two weeks.

The tenders would be called for at once and everything possible done to ensure the speedy completion of the building, of which the citizens of Peterborough will have every reason to be proud.

This will be good news to the military of this city, the members of which body have been anxiously waiting for word as to when work would probably be commenced on the structure.

Dan Whetung Tells Of Ice In Bay At Chemong Lake

A citizen meeting Mr. Dan Wheetung of Chemong, on the streets this morning, apropos of the beautiful weather, he was asked:

"Are we going to have summer all winter?"

"Don't know," replied Dan with his genial laugh.

"You didn't cross on the ice this morning?" — he is usually the first to use the Chemong Lake ice bridge each season.

"No," with another genial laugh; "but I tell you the lake was frozen over on October 2nd—I mean the little bay at Chemong village. This is the earliest time I have ever known the lake to freeze over."

Baptists Visit The Lift Lock

Excursion There To-day Was Well Patronized.

There was no session of the Baptist Convention this afternoon, and with the exception of the meeting of several committees, no business was done. Most of the delegates this afternoon took advantage of the excursion over the lift lock to see the wonderful mechanism in operation. The steamer Water Lily carried the visitors over the lock and a few miles up the canal. The afternoon was ideal and the delegates heartily enjoyed the excursion.

A Special Delivery Stamp Which Did Not Fulfil Mission

ROAD RACE ECHOES

MR. ERNEST A. WILSON

A Delay in Delivery of Special Delivery Stamped Mail Matter — What Was the Cause?

Parcel for Toronto Not Delivered for 13 Hours After it Should Have Reached That City.

The Examiner feels that it owes its readers an explanation to-day. The pictures published on this page to-day should have appeared yesterday, and it is enterprise on the part of the through no neglect or lack of Examiner that they were not published.

Arrangements had been made with Mr. R. M. Roy to photograph the winners immediately after the race, and this was carried out to the letter, the prints being completed early in the afternoon. These, with a photo of the crowd at the finish taken by Mr. Mendel, and offered the Examiner by him, were taken to the post office at 4.30, and posted under special delivery stamp addressed to the Examiner's lithographers in Toronto. The local post office staff assured the messenger that the parcel would leave here on the 5.15 C. P. R. train, and everyone rested easy in this belief.

The lithographers were in Toronto waiting for the pictures, which should have reached that city at 7.30 p.m., and becoming anxious at their non-appearance at 11.30 p.m. one of the staff made a special trip to the general post office, where he was informed that no parcel from the Peterborough Examiner had arrived in that mail, and, as a matter of fact, it was not delivered in Toronto until 8.30 yesterday morning, just thirteen hours after it should have reached that city.

The result was that the half-tones, which should have been received here at 11.38 yesterday morning, did not reach the city until night.

An investigation is in progress to ascertain the seat of the trouble, and to locate the cause of what was plainly inexcusable negligence on the part of some one. Special delivery stamps are sold for the purpose of ensuring speedy delivery, and they should do so, but in this case, at least, they were an expedient that failed.

Death Of Miss Margaret E. Lee

Well Known Peterborough Lady Dies In Frobisher, Sask.

A despatch from Frobisher, Sask., says: For the first time in the history of Frobisher the grim reaper visited our town and gathered in one of our most beloved and respected citizens in the person of Miss Margaret Emma Lee, cousin of our resident physician, Dr. R. Allen Lee. The late Miss Lee was advised by her medical adviser to come West for a change of climate about a year ago, when she came here with her sister from Lindsay. After coming here the change of air seemed to be very beneficial to her, and she began to steadily improve but unfortunately caught cold while attending to her household duties, from which she never fully recovered. It was thought that she was out of danger, when she took a change for the worse on Thursday of last week, and passed away to the great beyond on Sunday last at midnight.

The funeral service was conducted by Rev. Mr. Parker, of Oxbow, assisted by the Rev. D. McKeen Reid and Rev. W. D. Jackson.

The floral offerings were numerous.

Her sister, with whom she lived, and relatives, have the deepest and heartfelt sympathy of the whole community in their bereavement.

Miss Lee, whose demise is recorded above, is well known in Peterborough. She has a sister, Mrs. Geo. Campbell, residing at 252 Charlotte street. Miss Greening and Mrs. Vance are other sisters, the former residing in North Monaghan, and the latter in Toronto.

In and around Fleetwood, a village a few miles west of this city, are living three brothers: Herbert, Joseph and William.

Her death will be greatly regretted by her many Peterborough friends.

Chancellor McKay Makes Important Statement of Policy in Connection With the Baptist University.

Says Medicine May Soon be Added to Courses — Annual Alumni Banquet Held Last Night.

An Interesting Gathering of Graduates of McMaster — What University Stands For to the Church.

The McMaster College song and the McMaster yell sounded through the basement of the Murray Street Baptist Church last night from the throats of two hundred graduates, who gathered for the annual alumni banquet, and, judging by the enthusiasm displayed by those men, who were paying tribute to their alma mater, McMaster has some very warm friends among her graduates. The function was a most enjoyable one, and some very nice things were said of the university and of the men who were in charge of that institution's affairs. An interesting feature of the speech-making was the enunciation of Chancellor McKay of his policy in connection with McMaster. Dr. McKay is not retrograding in his efforts for McMaster, and his policy gave evidence of its progressiveness under his guidance. McMaster should continue to do valiant service for the church and for the young people who look to it for their educational equipment for life.

At 5.30, when the banquet opened, every seat at the four large tables spread in the basement was occupied, many ladies gracing the gathering with their presence. The dinner was served by Mr. Hooper, and was a credit to him.

Mr. W. E. Robertson, M.A., of Toronto, president of the Alumni Association, acted as toast-master, and, in opening, expressed his gratification at being able to welcome such a large number to the alumni dinner of the McMaster graduates. He called upon Prof. Arkell, of the Ontario Agricultural College, to propose the toast to McMaster. Mr. Arkell was very eloquent, and in his address did ample justice to his subject. He wanted the university to get into touch with the masses of the people, and for those who, in this age of commercialism, have a desire for technical education, McMaster should reach out and try to serve. It must, he said, meet the demands of those who want industrial knowledge. In these days, professional life and commercial life have much in common, and if the demands of the latter are neglected, McMaster will not be doing her duty. Commercialism today holds the world entralled, and the speaker expressed the hope that McMaster would seek to meet this class of men and to interest them. The country needs men as well as education, and this need McMaster should seek to supply.

A. C. McKay, LL.D., Chancellor of McMaster, upon rising to respond to this toast, was warmly greeted, and paid a tribute to many of the former members of the faculty, making special reference to Prof. Campbell, who, in eleven years, he said, was the only one who spoke to him on matters concerning religion. The Chancellor spoke of the special work of McMaster, which was to catch the young people for Christ. In this, he thought, it was succeeding, and he did not believe that a class had ever

Haliburton's Hopes For Another Railway

Gang of Men at Work Clearing Land—Said to be For This Purpose.

A despatch from Haliburton to The Examiner to-day states that another start has been made on the extension of the railway to the north, presumably to Whitney Station. This railway has been projected for some time, and its completion is something which the people of Haliburton would gladly welcome, and which, they believe, would result in the establishment of a new era of prosperity and progress in that section.

Mr. Thos. Preston has a gang of men at work clearing the land of the Canada Land Co., and they are heading towards Haliburton. Hopes are running high for another railway tapping this region, which, in natural resources, is reported to be very rich.

WHAT THE JUDGE SAYS

Mr. R. M. Roy, himself one of the best runners in Canada in his earlier days, in expressing his opinion of the race on Thursday, said that it was, considering the circumstances, a marvellous performance. He was greatly pleased with the work of the contestants, both those who won and those who were not so fortunate. The race would, he thought, be better in future years, and suggested that bicyclists and drivers of vehicles should keep off the road as much as possible, and not annoy the runners by clouds of dust,

Mr. Roy generously offered to donate a prize himself to the second finisher and suggested that another gentleman should do the same for the third man.

Big Bear Shot At White Lake

Mr. C. B. Coones, Of Apsley, Gets A Nice Prize

Another big black bear has been brought to earth. This time Mr. C. B. Coones of Apsley, was the lucky man. He was taking a stroll through the wood- the other day in the vicinity of White Lake, when he accidentally met Mr. Bruin whom he easily despatched with his 11. The animal weighed over 200 lbs.

Holy Communion At St. Luke's

Will Be Celebrated At 8 O'clock To-morrow

To-morrow will be the day of special intercession for Sunday schools in the Anglican churches, and at eight o'clock in St. Luke's Holy Communion will be celebrated, and the teachers and officers and other members of the school are asked to be present at that hour.

Spenceley Says He Finished 4th

In the Examiner Roae Race on Thursday.

Mr. A. W. Spenceley, one of those who finished in the Examiner road race on Thursday, called at the office to lodge a protest against the decision which gave him 5th place in the race. He states that he passed McBurney below Brock street, and finished ahead of that runner.

Presentation Of The Prizes Wednesday

The Contestants in Examiner Road Race to be Guests of Opera House Management on That Night.

The presentation of the prizes to the winners in the Examiner road race on Thursday, as well as to the three who finished after the winners, and who will be given medals, will take place on Wednesday night next at the Grand opera house, between the acts of "Charley's Aunt," the high-class comic opera, which will be presented that night.

The seventeen men who started in the race will occupy the boxes, as guests of Manager Bradburn of the opera house, and in the intervals between the acts Mr. J. H. Burnham, on behalf of the Examiner, will make the presentation of the cup, prizes, and medals for the men who finished the race.

It was decided to make this presentation at some public gathering, and the appearance in the city of "Charley's Aunt," and Mr. Bradburn consenting, made this possible.

The seventeen men who started will be furnished tickets for the boxes, and may have them on application to Mr. Hutchinson, of the Examiner editorial staff, any time after six o'clock on Tuesday night. Personal application must be made for these tickets.

No doubt a large number of the friends of the winners in this race, will want to see the presentation, and this will afford them a good opportunity.

Church Union With Disciples Was Discussed

Convention Thinks It Should Make Haste Slowly.

At this morning's session of the Ontario and Quebec Baptist convention, Rev. Dr. Tanner presented the report of the committee upon church union. The report dealt with the conference held with representatives of the Disciple Body, which showed that they had a desire for union with the Baptists, that there were some real obstacles in the way, and that it might be wise to hasten slowly; that in regard to the question of the relation of Baptists to the remission of sins, the Holy Spirit, and the Lord's supper, there was practically no difference in views generally held by the two bodies.

The report showed that the chief difficulty is the name to be adopted by the united body.

A communication from the Committee on Church Union appointed by the Methodist, Presbyterian and Congregational bodies, has led the committee to feel that the question of church union is before it in a much more definite form than last year and they recommend that a larger committee be appointed to consider the whole question.

Rev. Dr. Johnston of Grimsby, seconded the adoption of the report. He felt that the Baptists should meet other bodies frankly and that there was a great opportunity of placing themselves fairly before the bodies seeking union.

Verdict Given For The Plaintiff

$700 Judgment in the Case of Jewett Versus Cordage Co.

The following judgment has been given at Osgoode Hall in a case which was heard at the Fall Assizes here, and in which much interest has been displayed:

"Jewitt vs. Canadian Cordage Co. R. E. Wood, Peterborough, for the plaintiff, an infant, suing by next friend, F. W. Harcourt for the infant. J. R. Meredith for defendants. The plaintiff was an oiler in the defendant's employment, and while engaged in the performance of his duties as such, was, on the 22nd of March, 1906, struck on the head by a large bobbin filled with binder twine that broke loose from its fastenings while revolving at a high rate of speed, by reason of which the plaintiff has since been incapacited from continuing in his former or any laborious employment. Judgment, pursuant to terms of settlement, for plaintiff, for $700 (which includes $175 for doctor's fees, $85 for costs, and $15.50 for hospital fees), and permitting plaintiff who is in his 20th year, to invest the balance, after payment of above mentioned fees, in a grocery business owned by him."

UNION LABEL

SATURDAY, OCT. 20, 1906.

WELCOME

The Examiner desires to join in the cordial welcome due to the delegates to the Baptist convention. They should be, and are, welcome—for many reasons. For selfish reasons, for the sake of our reputation for hospitality, that we may make friends of them, and have them make good report of our good city; to speak good words of Peterborough, in the many and widespread centres from which they come, and to which they will return. They are worthy of welcome for the Christian culture which they represent; they are welcome for the sake of the cause they are met to promote. In this every citizen, no matter how worldly-minded, no matter how lightly moral claims may sit upon him, is interested. Take away the Christian churches, and the influences they wield, and we take away civilization, and all that Christian civilization stands for; we relapse into barbarism, and all that that stands for.

The subjects which will engage the attention of the convention, while they may be largely matters of internal denominational economy, include subjects which have an influence outside the pale of any denomination. A prominent feature of discussion has been home missions, something that interests vitally every Canadian. We are filling up the West rapidly, and the new population contains, and will contain, elements, which, while they mean increase of population, our great need, bring with them the germs of retrogressive influences, and there is need for bringing to bear upon them the civilizing influences of Christianity, without which, the work of assimilation will be made more difficult, if not practically impossible. In view of these conditions, home mission work gathers a new importance, and the question comes into prominence, whether it is better to expend energy in carrying the Gospel to the heathen, or in presenting the Gospel to the heathens—in a certain sense—who come to us for homes. These questions have a bearing upon another question, which will, no doubt, be a subject of discussion at the meetings of the convention, that of church union. While the practical importance of this subject cannot be over-estimated, it would seem that in relation to church union, there is too much church union now, too much concentration of effort, too much waste of evangelical energy, and church resources. Instead of union, it appears to a layman, who studies the situation, that there is too much union now. The churches unite in the idea and effort to size upon the most convenient unoccupied district, and enter upon their work. The consequence is that we have two or three, or more churches concentrating their efforts upon a handful of home heathen, or rivalling each other, in the attempt to gather them in to some particular fold. This is done, instead of the several denominations agreeing to enter each upon a separate field, thereby constituting three or four centres of Christian enlightenment, from which would radiate the influences they are equipped to put into motion. But in this matter the churches are able to look out for themselves, and, doubtless, need no advice. Yet if we had church union to the extent even of an agreement to divide—the work of evangelization, it seems the results would be greater. Whatever view the convention may take in regard to church union, or any of the great subjects that engage its attention, we may be sure that an honest and earnest effort will be made to promote the interests of the religion of the Saviour of mankind, and the beneficent results associated with it.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

A French Government has resigned again. A change of government in France seems to be as easy as a change of street car conductors.

It is stated in a despatch from Ottawa that the Parliament will meet in Ottawa on November 22nd, unless preparations for the session are not earlier completed.

"Hamilton," remarks the Toronto Star, "is indignant because Toronto soldiers have successfully attacked the Credit of Ontario." To be consistent the attack should have been led by the gallant Col. Mathieson, Provincial Treasurer, of the 96th (cents on the dollar) Ontario Regiment.

The Mail and Empire takes the peculiar ground, that Sir Wilfrid Laurier has incurred the hostility of the Foresters, because of the attacks of the Liberal press upon the land deals which affected the investments of the Foresters. There was no attack upon the Foresters—except that represented by criticising the actions of those supposed to protect their interests for practical breach of trust. Criticism was rather directed towards protecting the interests of the Foresters. The Mail and Empire would, if it could do so, try to make political capital out of its mother's funeral.

Some criticism is made of the running of the Examiner road race on Thanksgiving Day. This may be just to those who take the exact religious view of a day of thanksgiving. But unfortunately the mass of the people regard the day as a holiday, not as a holyday, and celebrate it according to their moral, or rather immoral, inclinations and yield easily to the temptations which a day of idleness presents. Though it is not permissible to do evil that good may come, yet it is evident that the road race constituted an attraction which drew thousands of young men together, and prevented them from celebrating Thanksgiving Day by indulgence in the social amenities which have strong drink, and not the most moral associates, as the media of expression. The typical Pharisee of Scripture was evidently a married man and left a large family.

Latest News Of Various Sports

Peterborough Team Given Some Bouquets

What the Hamilton Papers say of the Style of Play of the Easterners—Easton said to be Pick of the Bunch.

The Hamilton papers deal gently with the Peterborough rugby team, which the Tigers defeated by 42-1 on Thursday. The Times says:—

That the Tigers would add another to their unbroken record of victories and get one step nearer the O.R.F.U. championship for 1906, by defeating the Peterborough team yesterday was conceded and it was not even supposed that visitors would be able to make much of a showing, yet between 4,000 and 5,000 people went to the cricket grounds to see the game yesterday. They were rewarded by seeing their favourites pile up a larger score and hold Peterborough down to one point. They also saw a lot of fine, open play, splendid passing and running and some scientific combinations that were well executed and greatly enjoyed. It was not a really good game—the opposition was too weak for that—but it was a good holiday game, and gave a large number of people who cannot attend on Saturday afternoons a chance to see the Tigers in their best style of play.

Of the Peterborough team, the line was strong and fast, and the back section sure, but the whole team was outclassed. Carmichael, the full back, did a lot of useful work. Quinlan, at centre half, had most of the work, and did it pretty well, but both Gillespie and Mulhern were good. Easton, at quarter, was probably the best of the bunch. Orbugh, the deaf mute, who played with the Tigers one season, was the fastest on the wing line, and was responsible for the one point the visitors scored.

The Herald says:—

The visitors were outclassed in every department except in the tackling line. That part of the gentle art of rugby they have down pretty fine. They went after their man low, and, as a rule, got him. The back division played a strong defensive game in the first half, and kept the champions down to seven points. The first spasm closed with the score 5 to 0. The Tigers were in luck to get away with that. The Petes had possession of the ball near the Tiger line, and should have easily punted to the dead ball line, but just as the ball was snapped back, the referee's whistle blew for the twelves to change ends.

The easterners have an all-day action in handling the ball. When they were in possession they were so slow in handling the ball, and the wings were so utterly unable to hold their men that the Tiger wings would get through and nail the half-backs with the goods before they had a chance to boot the ball.

Press Opinions On The Examiner Race

Lindsay Post Says It Will Equal the Hamilton Herald Race in Time.

The Lindsay Post yesterday, said:—The Peterborough Examiner 10-mile Thanksgiving Day road race created much excitement yesterday, there being some 21 entries, among whom were a number of Indians from Hiawatha reserve, Rice Lake. The race was exciting and in the home stretch closed down to a neck-and-neck between one of the young Indians and a local runner named Best, of Best's hardware store, Peterborough. The Indian was a strong favourite in the betting. The time made excelled the majority of Marathons, being a few seconds over 59 minutes. The Peterborough Examiner is to be commended for its enterprise in introducing a race which bids fair to equal the Herald race at Hamilton.

Young Crescents Defeat The Grove

Sustain Their Reputation In A Close Game

A good exhibition of rugby, as played by juveniles, was given this morning, when the Lakefield Grove School team came down and played the Young Crescents. The local bunch won, but the game was by no means one-sided. Patterson, for the Lakefield boys, and Lewis, for the Crescents, were the scintillators. The score was 10 to 7 at the end of two twenty-minute halves. The teams lined up as follows:—

Grove.—Halves, Patterson, Sr., Capt. Allen, Nelles, Sr.; Quarter, Nelles, Jr.; snap Clarke; wings, Russell, Sr., Bradshaw, Patterson, Jr., Lumsden, Sr., Winslow, Lumsden, Jr.

Crescents.—Halves, Lewis and Layfield; quarter, Fortye, Capt.; wings Harold Wallis, Crane, Patterson, Bell, Gilbert, Hugh Wallis, Minorgan.

Mr. Ed. Wood refereed to the entire satisfaction of all and Mr. Gordon Cummings acted as umpire.

The New York Stock Market

(Furnished by J. R. Heintz & Co.)

New York, Oct. 20.—The stock market opened active and weak on lower London prices, and the disposition of traders to operate as low as possible in anticipation of heavy London selling here, but weakness was not confined to the international list. Transfer of accounts from the London market to this means selling, and pools in stocks like Reading were selling freely. Politicians have been carrying B.R.T., and sold heavily, but there was a good deal of Western selling in stocks like St. Paul. There was no real rallying power, but considering the heavy selling, especially by London, the market held very well. The speculative position in Steel must have been a strong one, and even on the decline, buying looked better than the selling. Amal. Copper had good friends, and the stock met with good support. Traders say there are few stop-loss orders on the Copper stocks. The bank statement was better than was expected in the cash item, but had little influence on course of prices. The close was weak at about the low for the day.

Announcement

I own a block of beautiful garden land, 650x1800 feet, adjoining the Sand-stone Brick Factory grounds, I am opening a street west from the Monaghan Road, through the centre of this block, which I have named Western Avenue, and am laying off the land on each side in lots 120x294 feet, each of these blocks may be subdivided into 8 good building lots, each 30x147 feet, and although each of those 8 lots should be good value for at present $100, I will sell in blocks of 8 lots at $50 per lot for the balance of this month on terms of $10 cash and $5 per month on each block of 8 lots; 6% discount will be allowed on all deposits over $10.00, no interest until April 1st, next, perfect title, 6 blocks reserved for Factory sites. While all the lots are perfect there may be a choice and that will be given in the order of paying deposit. The suburbs of Peterboro have already grown beyond this property and there is not the slightest doubt but each Small Lot will sell within a very few years for the price I am now charging for the Eight. This ought to be both a safe and very profitable Bank to put your money in.

You ask, why sell so cheap? I am not young and wish to settle up my business, lots can be selected from plan which may be seen and full particulars obtained at my office.

T. HURLEY.

Editor Post Card Column:

We hope the druggists are not going to spring on the public their patent medicine ware of advertising in the stationers' line which "may carry." I see one of the leading druggists advertising a fountain pen worth $2.00 for $1.00 and on comparison I find Stration's were selling as good if not a better fountain pen for 98c. This sort of advertising does not pay.

Most Dreaded Form of Kidney Disease

URINARY TROUBLES AND STONE IN THE BLADDER--PAINS WERE EXCRUCIATING--CURED BY

DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS.

To the person subject to derangements of the kidneys the outlook is indeed a gloomy one. On the one hand there is Bright's disease, which in its advanced stages is incurable; and, on the other, gravel or stone in the bladder, than which probably no ailment is accompanied by more agonizing pains.

Fortunately, both of these dreadful diseases are, in their earlier stages, positively cured by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills; and we publish here the letter of a man who was on the verge of despair, when he heard of this great medicine and was cured.

Mr. Daniel Brown, English River, Ont., writes: "For three years I suffered from urinary troubles, gathering of the nature of stone in the bladder, or gravel, and the pain which I endured can scarcely be described. I was unable to do any work, and frequently discharged blood. Though I spent hundreds of dollars in doctors' bills I received no relief, and at last decided that I would never be able to work again.

"While in this condition I was advised to try Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and, though I had no faith in them or in anything else, I decided to give them a fair trial. After using one box I felt a decided change for the better, and after taking five boxes I feel like a new man. I am entirely out of pain, and have no more discharge of blood. I can honestly recommend Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills to any fellow-sufferer, and will cheerfully verify this statement to anyone writing me."

Mr. W. Bowen, Postmaster and Station Agent at English River, Ont., writes:—"I have interviewed Mr. Daniel Brown of this place in regard to his long illness and cure, and hereby certify that the testimonial as given by him is correct."

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills; one pill a dose, 25 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

CITY AIDED BY GOVERNMENT.

Windsor Gets Whip Hand Over the Ferry Company.

Windsor, Oct. 20.—It was found four months ago that the Detroit, Belle Isle & Windsor Ferry Co. was quietly trying to secure from the Dominion Government a ten-year renewal of its franchise in Windsor, which expires in two years.

Through its own carelessness Windsor had lost the control of this franchise, but the city was yesterday notified that the Government has decided to put the matter of a renewal in the city's hands, and that if the Ferry Co. does not concede all fair demands the Government will ask for tenders for a new company to supply the service.

DEATH THROUGH LIVE WIRE.

Former Ontario Man Instantly Killed In His Nebraska Home.

Cornwall, Oct. 20.—Cornwall and Glengarry friends have been notified of the death of Chas. J. Woldsworth, formerly of Summerstown, at his home in Freemont, Neb. He was instantly killed by touching a live wire in his cellar where he had gone to attend the furnace. He was 42 years of age and a son of the late William Woldsworth.

Arthur Gallinger of Aultsville has lost his right arm. He was operating a threshing mill when something was caught in the cylinder and in attempting to remove it his hand and arm were drawn in and terribly lacerated.

Magyar Must Hang.

Regina, Sask., Oct. 20.—Magyar, the Hungarian, who was convicted of murdering his employer, a farmer, this spring, was refused a new trial by the court yesterday, and will hang on Nov. 29. The Hungarians of Winnipeg got up a big petition for a new trial, claiming that he killed the farmer in self-defence. The court failed to see it in that light.

Cuts Throat With Lamp.

Toronto, Oct. 20.—Mrs. Margaret McCoy, 46 Farley avenue, fell downstairs in her house about 8 o'clock yesterday morning. She was carrying a lamp, and, in the fall, gashed her throat. Her husband found her in a pool of blood. She remained unconscious until she died, three hours later.

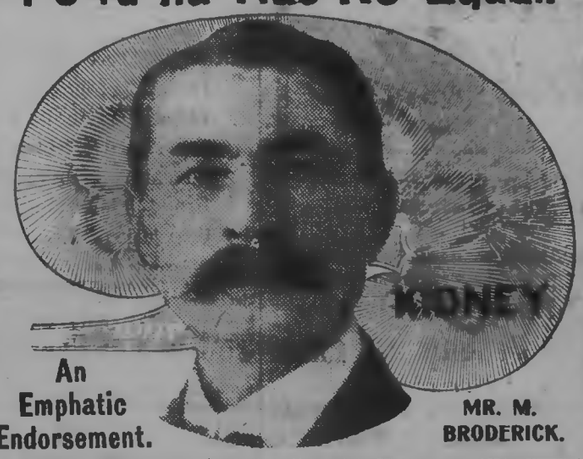
"FOR KIDNEY TROUBLE AND A WEAK BACK."

"Pe-ru-na Has No Equal."



An Emphatic Endorsement.

MR. M. BRODERICK.

Mr. M. Broderick, 435 E. 46th St., Financial Secretary Stable Employes Union, No. 1041, Chicago, Ill., writes:

"I have been suffering from a weak back and kidney trouble for some time and have been able to find relief only through the use of Peruna.

"During the winter season I usually keep a bottle of your medicine in the house and by taking a dose at night, I am feeling fine the next morning.

"Some of my friends assure me that Peruna is equally as good for their various ailments as it is for my complaint, but, I do know that for kidney trouble and suffering from a weak back it has no equal."

Kidney Trouble Is Not Always Recognized as Catarrh---Pe-ru-na Relieves Kidney Disease Because It Is a Remedy For All Phases of Catarrh.

TWENTY-FIVE years ago, before Dr. Hartman began distributing his pamphlets, books and newspaper articles, Bright's Disease of the kidneys was regarded as a disease wholly distinct from catarrh.

Now, Bright's Disease is thought by many the world over to be a phase of catarrhal inflammation.

To relieve Bright's Disease something must be used that has the power to relieve catarrh.

Any medicine that is a remedy for catarrh of one organ is obviously a medicine for catarrh of any other organ.

Peruna is an internal, systemic catarrh remedy.

Like catarrh, it pervades the whole system, and counteracts the effects of the disease.

A great many people believe that they have been cured of chronic Bright's Disease by the use of Peruna.

It is certainly true that in the earlier stages of Bright's Disease, Peruna is an effective remedy.

Numerous testimonials on this point establish the fact beyond all doubt.

Mr. Otto A. Fleisner, American epicurean, formerly Chef to Col. W. J. Cody, 1412 Sixth Ave., Seattle, Wash., writes:

"I suffered with kidney and bladder trouble until life did not seem worth living. I had tried many medicines, but did not get any relief until I took Peruna. It was really wonderful how much better I was after I used this medicine only a week. At the end of six months I found to my relief that it had rid my system of all poisons and I was cured to stay cured."

Boy Shoots Younger Brother.

Lindsay, Oct. 20.—A serious accident happened near Fenelon Falls yesterday. Fred Compo, a boy of 15 years, accidentally shot his brother John, aged 12, in the neck. The wound is of a serious nature, and small hopes are entertained of the lad's recovery.

Fatal Fall In Dark.

Owen Sound, Oct. 20.—Jacob Meadows was found unconscious in Ham's quarry by a workman and died in the hospital. He had evidently fallen in the dark during the night, a distance of 15 feet. A widow and six children survive.

Rev. Dr. Chown Spoke To The Convention

Noted Methodist Divine Addressed the Baptists on Temperance and Moral Reform Questions.

This morning's session of the Baptist convention was a busy one. Among other things, the report of the Board of Ministerial Superannuation was presented. Rev. Dr. Clown, of Toronto, of the Temperance and Moral Reform Department of the Methodist Church, was present and delivered a most inspiring and eloquent address upon the subject of moral reform, his remarks being loudly and frequently applauded. The Committee on Resolutions also reported this morning.

Rev. John Craig, B.A., a returned missionary, led the devotions, and a tender and earnest spirit pervaded the convention. Prayers were offered by Rev. H. C. Priest, B.A., of Georgetown, and Rev. J. E. Trotter, of Port Hope.

The report of Mr. Clive's address in his presentation of the report, and that of Rev. Dr. Chown, of Toronto, are held over until Monday on account of lack of space to-day.

4000 Delegates At The Street Railway Convention

Mr. T. J. Larmonth Returned Home Last Night—Exhibition of Railway Materials Proved Very Instructive—Delegation Hospitably Entertained by People of Columbus.

Last night Mr. J. H. Larmonth manager of the Peterborough Rail Railway Company, returned home from Columbus, Ohio, where he attended the 25th annual convention of the Street and Inter-urban Railway Association. Mr. Larmonth was accompanied on his southern trip by a large number from various parts of the Dominion, Toronto, and Montreal sending the largest delegations. The convention was the largest in the history of the great Association, there being over 4,000 delegates present including, besides managers of Street Railways, engineers, claims agents and accountants, who combined under one name at the World's Fair at St. Louis a few years ago.

Mr. Larmonth expressed himself as having an excellent time at Columbus, the delegation being hospitably treated by the people of that city and the Street Railway.

The Convention which opened on Monday was a great success. The chief attraction was the large exhibition of all kinds of Railway material made by the Manufacturers' Association in connection with the Street Railway Association. The exhibition was an exceptionally good one, Mr. Larmonth considered. It was held in the Ohio State Fair Grounds and showed all classes of material, cars, trucks, etc., which the delegates were free to handle and take apart at their pleasure. The education derived from this was a most profitable one and as it was practical will not soon be forgotten.

A banquet was given to the delegates on Thanksgiving night but Mr. Larmonth left for home just previous to it. The convention which closed last night proved to be the most successful ever held.

The Convention next year will be held at Boston, Mass.

Appreciate The Benefits Of Canal

Lakefield Cement Company Still Shipping by Water to Peterborough.

The tug Ajax arrived yesterday from Lakefield, with another scowload of cement, which was transferred to the C. P. R. line and shipped out of the city.

The Lakefield Portland Cement Co. has not been slow in appreciating the benefits which the canal confers on shippers, and the experiment is proving a success.

Sheep Swam In Mid Stream

Rescued From the Otonabee Before Becoming Exhausted.

A swim from the Locks bridge to Jubilee, was apparently the intention of a sheep yesterday afternoon, seen making good headway, in mid stream in the Otonabee River. The animal was first noticed by residents near the end of the street car line, calling their attention by its sorrowful bleatings, yet always remaining in the middle of the stream.

Two gentlemen put out in a punt and rescued the animal before it became exhausted in the cold water. On reaching the shore it was unable to walk, and had to be carried to Mr. John Holmes' stable, where it now awaits an owner.

HAIR WON'T FALL OUT

If You Kill the Dandruff Germ With The New Treatment.

John N. Fuller, a well-known citizen of Colfax, Wash., says: "I had dandruff so badly that it caked on my scalp. Herpicide completely cured me." George H. McWirk, of Walla Walla, Wash., says: "Herpicide completely cured me of a bad case of dandruff of thirty years' standing." They took the only sensible treatment, a remedy that destroys the dandruff germ — Newbro's Herpicide. Stop dandruff, hair won't fall out, but will grow naturally, luxuriantly. Always itching instantly and makes hair glossy and soft as silk. One bottle will convince any doubter of its merits. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to the Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Ormond & Walsh, special agents.

Recognition Of Their Services

Mr. R. A. Morrow's Generous Donation to Fire Brigade.

Secretary J. Gibbs of the Peterborough fire brigade, has received a cheque for $20 from Mr. R. A. Morrow, for the Firemen's Sick Benefit Fund, in recognition of the good services performed by the brigade in connection with the fire in the City Photographing Establishment on Hunter street. The brigade wish to express their hearty thanks to Mr. Morrow for his kindness.

Military Tailor At Convention

Also Has Been Taking Orders for Officers' Suits.

Among the Baptist delegates to the city is Mr. J. E. Austin, Toronto, the military tailor, who is well known to the military men of Peterborough. He has taken orders for a number of suits required by officers, and expects to hear from others. He is billeted at 249 Parkstreet and will remain here until Tuesday.

THE WEATHER.

The rainfall yesterday was of an unusually heavy character. While it did not fall in such volumes as we sometimes witness during a heavy thunderstorm, yet owing to the uninterrupted steadiness with which it descended, the amount that fell on the level is not often exceeded. Two inches and one-tenth were the official figures.

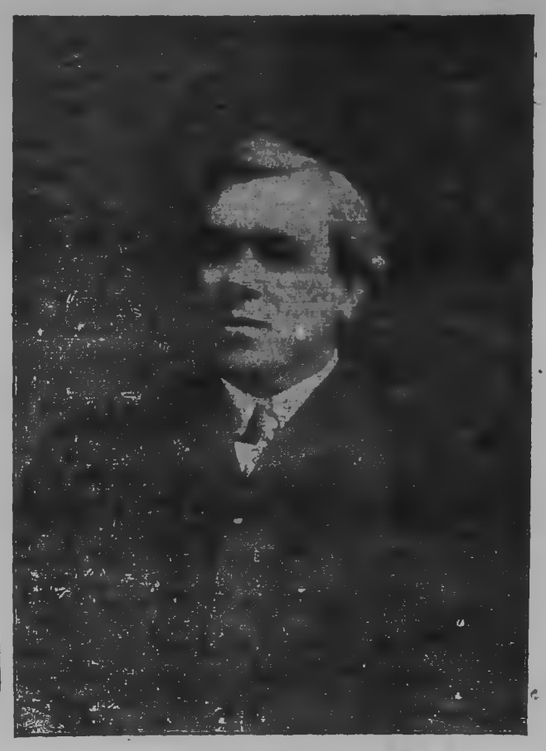
Ministerial Association Greeted the Baptists

Delegation From that Body Attended the Convention Yesterday Afternoon—Resolution on Church Unity—Chancellor McKay Presided—Annual Report of Senate and Board of Governours of McMaster University—Educational Subjects Discussed at Evening Session Grand Ligne Mission and Its Work Presented to Convention.

Yesterday afternoon after the usual opening devotional exercises, the Baptist Convention welcomed a representative of the Peterborough Ministerial Association who was given a seat on the platform together with Rev. A. L. Therrien, of Montreal, 2nd Vice-President, presiding in place of the President, Mr. Warren, who was attending to other business. The representative of the Ministerial Association was Canon Davidson, of St. John's Anglican Church, introduced by Rev. F. J. Scott, B.A., pastor of the Murray street Baptist.



CHANCELLOR McKAY-
Who Presented the Report of the Senate and Board of Governors of McMaster University.

Having been introduced to the Convention Canon Davidson, as President of the Association, said it was a pleasure to him to meet the Baptist delegation in Peterborough. He referred to the warm brotherly love which the various denominations are beginning to feel for one another. In so doing he made reference to the basis of the Peterborough Ministerial Association—loyal adherence to principle coupled with close fellowship. He hoped that the movement would take root and spread throughout the Dominion. The work was a happy one, he said, in as much as it broadened the minds of men as they received the opinions of others.

He paid tributes to the Rev. Mr. Bistow, who had once belonged to the Peterborough Ministerial Association, to Rev. Mr. Brace, of Park street, and also the Rev. Mr. Scott who was about to leave for another field of labour. He admired the Baptist church for the traits of loyalty to truth shown by them. These were the days of church union, he said, and he trusted that in any decisions, which were arrived at the denominations may include all true distinctive principles. The greatest danger, he thought in church unity was undenominationalism. He desired to have the church united and that the great body resulting should be, in vital connection with, the Christian Church of all ages.

Rev. F. J. Scott also spoke a few words eulogizing the actions of Canon Davidson, who, he said, was a man with a broad mind who was equally considerate for the welfare of men of all denominations.

Dr. Cameron, of Ottawa, in a humourous address replied to this greeting and moved the following resolution which was unanimously adopted by the Convention:—

Resolved,—That this Convention most heartily reciprocate the very cordial greetings of the representative brethren of this denutation; that we tender to them our sincere thanks for honouring us with their presence and addressing to us sentiments of Christian and denominational fellowship which deserve our serious consideration, not merely on the grounds of denominational comity, but in the interest of our common heritage in the Divine oracles and of that spirit of truth which is one of unity and love; moreover that this body gives expression to our fervent prayer, that while honestly discerning differences, we may so emphasize our agreements as to deem it a privilege to witness in our respective assemblies such expressions of Christian regards for one another and such acknowledgment of Christian service, now common, and as have been furnished to us this afternoon, and that we further assure our brethren that we shall cheerfully join with them in the cultivation of the spirit of union that will lead those who are without to exclaim "see how these denominations love one another."

Chancellor McKay's Report

The report of the Senate and Board of Governors of McMaster University for the academic year 1905-06 was presented by Chancellor A. C. McKay.

This showed the enrolment in the University to have been, in Arts, 153; in Theology, 4; registered twice, 7; net enrolment 187. In Woodstock College there were 150 students. In Moulton College, 155; making a total of 501 for the entire University. Eighteen students were pursuing the M. A. course, and 4 the course for B. D. Woodstock College had had enrolment of 12 more than that of the previous year and the largest since Woodstock College became a boys' school; 100 of these were boarders, and 50 day students. Eighty were Baptists, 25 Episcopalians, 20 Methodists, 7 Roman Catholics, 3 Congregationalists, 1 Plymouth Brethren, 1 Unitarian. Thirty-four had the ministry in view; 30 of these being Baptists. The graduating class numbered 37, of whom 13 go to McMaster University.

In Moulton College the boarders numbered 46 and the day pupils 86. Seventy-six of the pupils were Baptists, 13 Presbyterians, 11 Methodists, 9 Episcopalians, 5 Congregationalists, 1 Friend, 1 Unitarian. The total number of persons registered for lectures and examinations at Moulton and Woodstock was 238.

The spiritual life of the University has been strong and constantly in evidence. The Fyfe Missionary Society showed unusual vigour, and the influence of the delegates to the Student Volunteer Convention at Nashville had been most helpful. The general health of the student body had been excellent.

The various societies of the University were referred to at length, it being mentioned that the representatives of the Ladies' Literary League had won the intercollegiate championship for the third time in four years.

The revised curriculum in Theology was brought into effect at the beginning of the year, and has proved to be most satisfactory. The testimony of the different members of the Theology Faculty to this effect was embodied in the report. Dr. Perry in Pastoral Theology, and Rev. W. H. Cline, B.D., in Homiletics and Church Polity, had rendered the University great service, as had Dr. Harris, special lecturer in English Bible.

The new members of the Arts Faculty, Dr. Oliver and Professor Findlay had brought strength and vitality to the teaching body.

The library is growing steadily in size and in value to both professors and students. Six hundred and eleven volumes had been added during the year. The library now contains 15,200 volumes.

Oxford University had admitted McMaster University to the privilege of the statute on Colonial and Indian Universities.

On May 10th, 1906, A. L. McCrimmon, M.A., LL.D., was appointed professor of Economics, Education and Sociology. J. L. Hogg, M.A, Ph. D., Lecturer in Physics. Elmore Harris, B.A., B.D., Honourary Lecturer in English Bible. H. F. Perry, B.A., D.D., lecturer in Pastoral Theology for 1906-07. On June 22nd, 1906, J. N. Dales, M.A., Professor in the Modern Language Department, and on Oct. 19th, 1906, Joseph Leeming Gilmour, B.A., D.D., Professor of Homiletics, Pastoral Theology and Church Polity.

In Woodstock College a most gratifying work of grace had occurred. The material equipment of the college had had much improved. The following appointments had been made:—A. T. McNeill, B.A., Principal; D. Buchanan, B.A., teacher of History and English, and teacher of Commercial Work.

Moulton had had a good year. The teachers had done most satisfactory work. Twelve of the resident pupils had professed faith in Christ of whom six had been baptized and the whole tone of the school had been most encouraging.

Edwin A. Hardy, B.A., had been appointed Principal of Moulton and Miss Charlotte Thall, Vice-Principal.

The amount pledged towards the forward movement during the year is $30,565.96, and the total amount subscribed in two years, $75,094.96. The total amoun tof cash received on this fund so far is $52,781.00.

The Board of Governors and Senate acknowledged the kind co-operation of the pastors. Subscriptions towards the new Science building amounted to $20,805.00. The building is under way and will be ready for occupancy in January next.

Treasurer's Statement

The Treasurer's report of McMaster showed the total receipts for the year to be $92,246.85, and the disbursements, $89,685.70, leaving a surplus of receipts over disbursements for the year on current account of $2,561.15. To this is to be added a former balance on Education Fund transferred to this account, $1,474.18, making a balance at credit, of $4,035.33.

In moving the adoption of the report Chancellor McKay dealt more minutely with various questions mentioned in his report.

In seconding the adoption of the report Dr. S. S. Bates, of St. Catharines, referred to the magnificent progress of the Educational work which should call forth thankfulness from the convention.

Many remarks of approval of the work of the McMaster University were received from a number of brethren. Mr. D. Bentley, of Montreal, however, objected to the removal of Dr. Gilmour, B.A., from the Olivet Baptist church, Montreal, to the staff of McMaster University, which the Chancellor had referred to in his report. Mr. Bentley characterizing the action of the University as having harassed Rev. Mr. Gilmour until he had relaxed the command of his church in Montreal. He believed that the interests of the University were not to be overlooked but he considered the church itself was more important.

Chancellor McKay pointed out that Rev. Mr. Gilmour was not harassed. He had been tendered the appointment as a member of the staff of McMaster some time ago, but had then declined. Recently, however, Mr. Gilmour himself had reconsidered his decision without being canvassed and it was for that reason that his services were accepted.

Sheep-Folds Raided By Roving Mongrels

Worthless Dogs Ravage Smith Farmer's Flocks—Precautions Should be Taken by Owners of Sheep.

The old story is heard again about dogs worrying sheep. The last time this dog mania or epidemic was felt was in the summer among the farmers in Otonabee. Now reports are brought from Smith that quite a number of farmers have sustained rather heavy losses. The farmers say they do not know the owner of the dog or dogs and have not seen the offenders.

Night after night depredations are committeed among the flocks of sheep and fine young lambs, and the dogs always escape in safety. The farmers should unite and take measures to rid themselves of these destroyers. It is too bad to see the dead sheep after these nightly attacks, and it is a loss too to the farmers and the people in general.

Hunting Accident In Fenelon Falls Woods

John Camps Seriously Injured By Shot From His Brother's Rifle—Boy May Die.

Fenelon Falls, October 18th.—A very unfortunate accident, which may have serious results, occurred three miles south of this village on Wednesday afternoon, on the farm of Mr. H. W. Johnston.

The boys named John Campo, aged 12 years and Fred. Campo, aged 15 years, both sons of Mr. Peter Campo, were hunting in the woods. Fred. carried a 32 calibre rifle, when in some way was accidentally discharged, the ball striking his younger brother in the back.

Mr. Johnston at once drove the injured boy to this place, and Drs. Graham and Gould were summoned to attend him. The wound is of a serious nature, and last particulars state that as yet the ball had not been located and very poor hopes were entertained for the young lad's recovery.

McMaster University In Medicine

left the university of which any member was not a Christian. He had a policy in connection with McMaster, and in the first place, after its efforts to instill Christian principles into the students, his policy was to make McMaster grow. It is not now too big for the Baptist church, and he wanted to see the number of students increase. He hoped, too, to see the work extended, and to include science courses. McMaster, he said, had a full medical charter, and in the near future advantage might be taken of it. He saw every reason why a course in medicine should be created in connection with McMaster. In every community the medical men should be men of clean and upright lives, and if McMaster could help to bring this condition about it would not be overstepping its bounds.

"The Denomination" was the next toast honoured. It was proposed by Rev. N. A. Fritch, of Smith's Falls. The speaker said there were two supreme tests which Baptists must stand, those of truth and service, and if the church demonstrated that it preached and practised the truth, and if it rendered the service for which it was instituted, it was fulfilling its mission. All Baptists looked with pride to the work of the denomination in the educational field, and McMaster held a very warm place in the hearts of all Baptists.

Mrs. Millar sang a solo before the response to this toast by Mr. R. D. Warren, the new president of the convention, who conveyed greetings from 50,000 Baptists in Ontario and Quebec to the Alumni Association. He said that, personally, he had always entertained a kindly feeling toward McMaster, and at one time he thought that he might take a degree in it, but the cares of this world and (amid roars of laughter from those who were familiar with the Biblical story) the Baptist Book Room prevented it.

Rev. N. Therrien, of Montreal, vice-president of the association, also responded briefly, and presented a problem which confronted the Baptists of Quebec, and which, he thought, might be solved by the appointment of a French professor at McMaster University.

The National Anthem brought the gathering to a close.

Number Of Cases Disposed Of

At This Morning's Police Court East City Cows Cause More Trouble

The first case before Magistrate Dumble this morning was a rather distressing one. Patrick Gorman, an elderly man, pleaded guilty to being a vagrant, without any means of support and a homeless wanderer on the streets. The Magistrate thought that six months in Central Prison should be his lot, but gave him what he had demanded, two months in the gaol to sober off and try and start anew.

Albert Miller an old countryman, acknowledged that the exhilarating effect of over-indulgence in the cheering liquid had made him very boisterous yesterday. It all occurred on King's highway and that is where the trouble commenced. He was fined $2 and costs, amounting to $5.75, which was paid in court.

Another case of cattle running at large in East City, was up this morning. Mr. Jas. Conroy has a cow in pasture in Mr. Henry Cox's field, and a few nights ago it with a number of others from the same field got out of the field and did considerable damage to nearby gardens. Two East City men testified that their gardens had been trespassed by the cows, but could not say whether Mr. Conroy's was there or not, owing to the dark. However, it was proved that Mr. Conroy's cow was there, but the Magistrate held that he was not guilty as there was no negligence or wilfulness on his part. The owners of the field should provide for proper enclosure when the cows are at pasture.

Mrs. Hillier Wins Law Suit Against Brother-in-law

Defendant Placed Money in Bank to His Own Credit Instead of to That of His Brother's Wife—Balance of $684.49 Allowed Her.

The case of Hillier vs. Hillier, which was booked for the fall sittings of the High Court of Justice, a few weeks ago was settled yesterday by His Honour, Judge Weller.

The plaintiff was Sarah Hillier, the widow of Samuel Joseph Hillier, and the defendant, Henry H. Hillier, a brother of Samuel Joseph Hillier. The plaintiff claimed that a cheque for $1000 being a benefit of a policy of insurance on the life of the late Samuel Jos. Hillier in the Canadian Order of Foresters, was delivered by the plaintiff to the defendant to be deposited by to her credit in the Ontario Bank, and that beyond the sum of $150, she had not received any of the balance, nor was there any amount deposited in the bank to her credit.

The plaintiff claimed the payment to her of the balance of the sum.

The defendantt chlaimed that he from time to time paid out the said moneys to the plaintiff, and to other persons as requested by her, until the said sum of $150 had been expended; and that he had not retained any part of the money for his own benefit.

From the evidence nothing went to show that Henry Hillier had paid over any money to the plaintiff except $150 and it appeared that the defendant had failed to account for the balance. He had paid some accounts, which Mrs. Hillier agreed were all right but besides this she had received no money but that paid over when first she received the cheque which she gave to her brother-in-law to look after and to deposit to her credit.

The judge allowed her the balance due $621, together with interest at 3 per cent., which amounted to $63.49.

R. F. McWilliams for the plaintiff and Dennistoun, Peck and Kerr for defendant.

Steamboat Trip From Orillia To Peterborough

To Signalize the Completion of the Trent Canal Between These Two Important Points.

Arrangements are now reported to be in progress for a trip over the Trent Canal, from Orillia to Peterborough, says the Bobcaygeon Independent. Yacht and steamboat owners along the route of the canal have been approached on the subject, it is understood, and they have fallen heartily into line with the suggestion to run a special trip between these two points. The Kirkfield look is said to be practically ready for service now, a number of experimental lockages having been made, and, with this completed, navigation will be open from Orillia and all points on Lake Simcoe to the lower portions of the canal.

This trip, if it materializes, will be an important event in local circles, and will represent new and, at one time, unthought-of possibilities in inland navigation.

Smith Lady Drank Some Carbolic Acid In Mistake

Now Lies Seriously Ill at Nicholl's Hospital—Much Improved To-day and Expected to Recover.

Mrs. Andrew Johnston, of Smith Township, now lies in Nicholls Hospital seriously ill from a dose of carbolic acid. By some inexplicable mistake she swallowed part of the bottle of poison which had lain in the house for more than three years. Mrs. Johnston was quickly placed under medical care at the hospital and was so much improved to-day that it is expected she will recover.

Bobcaygeon's Light Dazzles Peterborough

The Plant for Street Lighting Was Supplied by Canadian General Electric Company.

The Bobcaygeon Independent has the following on the innovation of electric lights on the streets of that village, the plant for which was furnished by the Canadian General Electric Company of this city:—

Bobcaygeon is always doing something to keep the eye of the world on her. Wednesday evening the new electric plant was turned on, and Peterborough, Lindsay, Toronto, and our other suburbs fairly blinked with the dazzling rays, and wondered what the dickens was up, till they wired in and got wise to the fact that the Little Bob Plant was grinding out electricity instead of lumber, lath, and sawdust. The street service showed up well, and every house that was wired turned the button, and let her go. Some little changes may naturally suggest themselves, but the first effect was good, and everything went of creditably to the Engineer of the plant, Mr. C. Peeling. It is certainly a great convenience, a splendid light, and a great improvement to the village.

Eyes Worth Having

Did you ever stop to think that with the exception of the heart, the eye is the hardest worked part of the body.

As long as you are awake and your eyes are open they are working in your service.

Three pairs of muscles control the movement of each eyeball.

The two eyeballs move exactly together. Would you know the effect of their not working together—press your finger against one, so that it's position does not exactly correspond with the other.

How important it is that if these muscles tire and you have headaches and require Glasses, that your Glasses suit your eyes—our long experience makes us experts and able to fit you correctly.

Board of Governors

Five names were suggested to fill the vacancies on the Board of Governors for the McMaster University, the Nominating Committee agreeing on the following:—

S. J. Moore, Toronto.
Hon. John Dryden, Toronto.
C. Cook, Bramford.
Rev. S. S. Bates, D.D., of St. Catharines.

Dr. Farmer, of McMaster University, spoke at length on the supplying of students from the University for vacant pulpits and the expenses connected therewith.

The report of Chancellor McKay was adopted.

EVENING SESSION

Last evening's session at the convention was marked by two excellent addresses on educational subjects, by Mr. E. A. Hardy, B.A., principal of Moulton College, and Mr. A. T. McNeill, B.A., principal of Woodstock College. Rev. J. R. Webb, of Montreal, also gave an earnest and loquent address on the Grand Ligne Mission Work. The attendance was quite large.

The session opened with devotional exercises conducted by Rev. D. Brigge, of St. Catharines.

Chancellor McKay

Chancellor McKay, of McMaster University, in introducing the new principals of Moulton and Woodstock Colleges, said that they could speak without introduction. He referred to the various principals of Moulton College, and paid a tribute to Mr. Edwin A. Hardy, B.A., the first male principal of the college. There were in attendance at the college the largest number of girls for some time. Tribute was also paid to Mr. A. T. McNeill, B.A., principal of Woodstock College.

Mr. Hardy's Address

Mr. E. A. Hardy, B.A. principal of Moulton College, was the first speaker. In beginning, expressed appreciation of the kind words which had been said of his predecessor. He referred to the field which was open to Moulton College. There are 1,200 students in Ontario, and from 800 of these, people had to send children outside for the purpose of getting secondary education. One in every eight should be expected to send a student. If one church out of four in the Province were to send a pupil to the college the enrolment would be twice as large.

Passing on, the speaker discussed the plan by which it was proposed to meet their opportunities. The plant cost $150,000, and it was one of the finest residential girls' schools in the Province of Ontario. The teaching staff compared favourably with that of nearly every ladies' school in the Province.

The weakest point was class-room accommodation. The appliances for physical culture were also not what they should be. It should be the aim of the school that every student should develop physically and mentally.

In conclusion, Mr. Hardy said that the student who goes away from the school should have the qualities of open-mindedness and open-hearted ness. They should go out with hearts and minds open for all kinds of impresions of good. Another quality that they should possess is that of service. If the stamp of these two things could be left, their efforts would not be in vain.

Mr. McNeill's Address

Mr. A. T. McNeill, principal of Woodstock College, was the next speaker. He thanked the convention for the kindly welcome they had given him, and also thanked the Senate for the position to which he had been appointed. Reference was made in terms of tribute to his predecessors in the office.

The hopes for the nation lay in the young, and the hopes for the young lay in their training and environment. It should be remembered that the training of the youth had its fruition in after years. What was needed was a manhood that stood four-squares to all the winds that blew; men who dared to live their life and live it to their fellowmen, their conscience, and their God; men who should become leaders in all phases of the social life.

True education, said the speaker, in its very essence was a spiritual rather than a mental process. Knowledge was not education. One man could serve his nation better by instilling into the minds of young men the principles of true religion.

Miss Pilling, of Park Street Church, was heard to great advantage in a solo, "Sweet and Low."

Grand Ligne Missions.

Rev. J. R. Webb, of Montreal, gave the concluding address, his subject being the Grand Ligne Work. In beginning, he stated that he wanted to ask three questions. First: Is French Canada a legitimate field for the expenditure of Baptist missionary effort and money? The question was often asked, was it really necessary to seek to evangelize these people? To answer the question, he simply had to ask the question, what sent them to India and Bolivia?

Rev. Mr. Webb then presented some striking and forcible arguments in support of the plan to evangelize the French-Canadian people. He dealt with his subject in an earnest manner which showed that he was familiar with every detail, and left no doubt in the minds of his hearer of the conditions existing in the lower provinces.

The second question dealt with was whether the Grand Ligne Mission was a suitable method of carrying on the work. In Feller Institute there were 200 students, and the policy of the Board was that only one-tenth should be English students. This was situated thirty-five miles from Montreal. During the past winter every member of the institution had professed conversion. Here the speaker referred, in complimentary terms to the Rev. M. B. Parent the pastor of Grand Ligne, and to Dr. Godfrey and Arthur E. Mason and to the noble band of teachers and colporteurs in connection with the work. Other prominent men in the French-Canadian field were referred to in terms of the highest tribute.

The last question was whether a backward glance of seven years gave encouragement to go on with the work. The speaker referred, to the story of Henrietta Feller. The there were not three French Protestants in Canada, while now there are 40,000 in the United States and Canada. There was not a single Protestant church in Canada then. Two million souls had been touched by the influence of the work.

The speaker closed with an earnest appeal on behalf of the work.

During the evening the convention quartette rendered a number in splendid manner.

Sour Milk and Silver.

As a silver cleaner sour milk is invaluable and will save the busy housewife much time and hard work. All that is necessary is to put the silver in a deep bowl of sour milk, let it lie there for ten or fifteen minutes and then rinse it in scalding water, drying it immediately with a flannel cloth. The lactic acid in the milk removes the tarnish from the silver and leaves it bright and clean.

Teach Children Prudence.

Wise parents will ever strive to impress upon their children the necessity of forming prudent habits; of spending money to advantage, so that some article of utility or value is always obtained for it; the duty of exercising systematic and judicious charity, and that the purest happiness which can be experienced upon earth springs from the practice of benevolence.

Who Gets the Most Out of Life?

Not the wealthiest, not the most learned, nor the idler—but the man who has good health and works for his living. This truth is trite, but not trivial.

Every man should guard his health as his most valuable possession. The more so because health is easier to retain than regain.

Keep your grip on health by regular exercise, reasonable care in eating and requisite sleep. Take Beecham's Pills occasionally, to tone the stomach and keep the liver and bowels in good working order. And don't worry.

Observe these simple rules and you will agree that the one who gets the most from life is DEATH FOR 10 IN FIRE.

Holocaust in Birmingham, Ala., Boarding-House—Two More May Die.

Birmingham, Ala., Oct. 20.—Ten men were burned to death, two others were perhaps fatally injured, and a third was slightly hurt in a fire which destroyed the boarding-house of Mrs. E. E. Watley, on Third avenue, early yesterday.

There were 26 boarders in the house, almost all being street railway employes.

In addition, there were three other persons, Mrs. Watley and her two sons. They have been accounted for.

$200,000 Fire at 'Frisco.

San Francisco, Oct. 20.—Fire Thursday night in the freight sheds of the Southern Pacific Co., in Berry street, caused $200,000 damage. Surrounding property was saved by the fire department. Four tracks full of freight cars were consumed. It is thought that most of the cars were empty.

A Half Million Blaze.

Altoona, Pa., Oct. 20.—Fire started yesterday in the five-storey furniture building of Oliver Rothert, and before it was brought under control property to the amount of nearly half a million dollars was destroyed.

Toronto Exhibition Fire.

Toronto, Oct. 20.—It is practically assured that the new grandstand at the exhibition, when built, will be of amphiteatrical design, and will be without a gallery. The board of control paid a visit to the grounds yesterday afternoon to look over the ruins, and to consider plans for dealing with the situation. The Mayor said Architect Gowanlock will begin at once to prepare plans for the new buildings. The losses are estimated by Manager Orr to be $205,000. The grandstand cost $108,000, the stables about $3,000 each, and the transportation building cannot be replaced at less than $125,000. Insurance totals $99,000, divided among forty-seven companies.

PATRIOT-POET'S MONUMENT.

Memory of Alex. McLachlan Is Honored at Orangeville.

Orangeville, Oct. 20.—The monument erected in the Forest Lawn Cemetery here by public subscription, in honor of Alexander McLachlan, the patriot poet, who died at Orangeville in 1896, was unveiled in the presence of a large number of people by Miss Elizabeth McLachlan, a daughter of the poet.

Addresses were delivered by the chairman, Dr. Hamilton, of Toronto; William Algie, Alton; Dr. Kennedy of Toronto; W. T. Bailey, Orangeville, and Joseph F. Clark, Port Elgin.

The monument is of Aberdeen granite, and bears the following inscription: "Alexander McLachlan, Canadian Patriot and Poet—1818 to 1896.

"Untutored child of nature wild, with instinct always true, thy voice did weave songs consecrated to truth and liberty."

GIRL FOR THE FOOTLIGHTS.

Dressed in Boy's Togs and Runs Away From Home.

North Bay, Oct. 20.—Stage struck, Aurora Aubrey, aged 17, daughter of a C. P. R. conductor, evaded the vigilance of her stepmother, and dressed in boy's clothes, left here Wednesday night for New York.

She purchased her ticket on the train and made her way via Toronto for the Falls. Here she was detained having no funds except twenty cents.

Thursday night her father received a telegram to this effect and he left last night to bring back the fair maid runaway. She will be placed in a convent at Montreal, from where she graduated in music and art a few months ago.

House For Immigrants.

Toronto, Oct. 20.—The Alexander residence, with a frontage of 90 feet on Wellington street and 126 feet on Peter street, has been acquired by the Provincial Government for the purpose of lodging immigrants under the care of the colonization department. Hitherto these have been accommodated at an hotel, but the Minister of Agriculture thinks that it would be better to have a house under Government control, where the men would be away from the temptation of an open bar.

Railway Heavily Fined.

New York, Oct. 20.—Judge Holt, in the U. S. Circuit Court yesterday, imposed a fine of $108,000 on the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad Co. for granting rebates to Lowell M. Palmer, who has charge of transportation for the American Sugar Refining Co. There were six counts, and a fine of $18,000 was imposed on each. Frederick L. Pomeroy, assistant manager of the New York Central, was fined $1,000 on each count, a total of $8,000.

Standard Oil "Guilty."

Findlay, Ohio, Oct. 20.—After deliberating 32 hours, the jury in the case of the State of Ohio against the Standard Oil Co. of Ohio, returned a verdict of "guilty" on the charge of conspiracy against trade, in violation of the Valentine Anti-Trust Law. The verdict was rendered at 4.35 o'clock yesterday morning. The defendant will move for a new trial.

Gift of $50,000 to Queen's.

Ottawa, Oct. 20.—Sir Sandford Fleming, chancellor of Queen's University, stated yesterday that Mr. John Charlton, ex-M. P. for Norfolk, had made a Thanksgiving Day gift of $50,000 to endow a chair of moral philosophy.

Italian Bank Fails.

Turin, Italy, Oct. 20.—The liabilities of the banking house of Zuckermann & Co., which closed its doors Thursday, are estimated at about $1,200,000, and it is believed that the assets will amount to about the same sum.

For a Serious Assault.

Norwood, Oct. 20.—George Stevens, dealer in ashes and junk, was placed under arrest here yesterday charged with attempted criminal assault on an old lady. He was later released on bail.

Junk Dealer in Trouble.

Brockville, Oct. 20.—Jacob Bronstein a junk dealer, is under arrest, charged with stealing 400 pounds of brass from the G. T. R. The brass was found secreted under weeds on his premises.

Youth "Down" For Four Years.

Stratford, Oct. 20.—Matthew Granger, aged 17 years, was sentenced yesterday to four years in Kingston Penitentiary for passing a forged note.

The Bedclothes.

To keep the bedclothes from pulling away from the foot of an iron bedstead, on the foot end of the mattress sew three large buttons, one in the middle and the others near the corners. On one end of the sheets and blankets sew tape loops to correspond with the buttons. This overcomes the only fault of iron and brass bedsteads.

Everybody Agrees

that COD LIVER OIL and IRON are beyond question the greatest medicines known. Then why does not everybody take Cod Liver Oil and Iron? Simply because most people cannot take the Oil and few can digest the Iron in any ordinary form. These difficulties have been entirely removed by the introduction of FERROL, in which the Iron is scientifically combined with the Oil, rendering the Oil palatable and the Iron digestible. While is manufactured from the best quality of Cod Liver Oil (the whole of the Oil) and is richer in oil than any other emulsion, and while it contains just the right quantity of the best form of Iron and Phosphorus, it is so scientifically prepared that not one person in a thousand finds any trouble in taking it, and infants digest it without difficulty. Moreover the well-established value of the Oil and Iron is immensely enhanced by the process of manufacture, and as the formula is freely exposed it is not to be wondered at that physicians everywhere have fully endorsed FERROL and used it largely in their practice. FERROL is invaluable for the treatment of any kind of Lung or Bronchial troubles, while for wasting diseases it has no equal, and GUROFSKY OUT ON BAIL.

Italian Is Getting Along Well—Pleaded Not Guilty.

Toronto, Oct. 20.—Joseph Gurofsky was arraigned in the Police Court yesterday on the charge of "shooting with intent" Dominic Trevani. Mr. Robinette, his counsel, said not guilty for the accused and declined to elect. A remand was made for a week.

Mr. Corley said the offence was too serious to consider a cash bail of even $10,000. Mr. Robinette later saw the Attorney-General, who fixed the bail at that amount, and Gurofsky was given his liberty at 5 o'clock.

Trevani is getting on well at St. Michael's Hospital. A charge of wounding Louis Gurofsky has been laid against him.

For carrying and pointing a revolver John Goss, an Italian, was fined $30 and costs by Magistrate Denison.

HOG CHOLERA REDIVIOUS.

Disheartening Discovery Just When Regulations Were Relaxing.

Chatham, Oct. 20.—News comes to the city that on Wednesday over sixty hogs were destroyed by Dr. Perdue on the farm of William Thompson, about three miles south of Blenheim, on account of the animals being infected with hog cholera.

An autopsy held on a number of the hogs revealed lesions of the disease, both in the acute and chronic form.

A few days ago the announcement was made that the regulations governing the shipments of hogs from this county, among others in this section, had been withdrawn and the situation now is a serious one.

Funeral of Mrs. Jeff Davis.

Richmond, Va., Oct. 20.—The train bearing the body of Mrs. Jefferson Davis arrived here yesterday and was met by Lieut.-Governor Ellyson and details from Lee and Pickett camps of Confederate Veterans, who escorted the body to St. Paul's Church. The funeral took place at 3 o'clock.

Bank of England Rate Raised.

London, Oct. 20.—The Bank of England raised its rate of discount to 6 per cent. yesterday morning. The multiplicity of the demands for gold, it is pointed out, emphasized the necessity of protecting the already depleted reserves of the Bank of England.

Hit on Head by Robber.

Chatham, Oct. 20.—A daring hold-up was made by a stranger at the Tecumseh House Thursday, as a result of which a farmer named Parks, who lives in Raleigh, is minus a watch and a considerable amount of money. Parks was knocked in the head when he was leaving the hotel, and before he regained his senses the robbery was committed and the robber was out of sight. The police have been notified.

Ask For Banwell's Release.

Toronto, Oct. 20.—A petition is in circulation, asking that a pardon on a parole be granted to young Banwell. He is now in Kingston Penitentiary, with about three years' confinement ahead of him.

Falls Off the Train.

London, Oct. 19.—William Conwell, brassworker, of London, will die, as a result of injuries from falling off a fast train yesterday morning, near Komoka. His skull was fractured. His artificial leg may have caused his misstep.

Bad Fire at Birmingham, Ala.

Birmingham, Ala., Oct. 19.—Fire, which broke out after midnight in the six-storey building of the Prowell Hardware Co. on First avenue, burned for six hours and caused a loss of about $300,000.

The Provincial Loan.

Toronto, Oct. 19.—Hon. Mr. Matheson reports that the $2,000,000 provincial loan is attracting investors more actively of late, and considerably less than a million more remains to be subscribed.

"Charley's Aunt" Star Tells of Early Days

Etienne Girardot And His Many Roles

Not only in this country, but in England, "Charley's Aunt" has achieved in its revival this season one of the greatest successes that has fallen to the lot of a dramatic production in the past decade.

This highly amusing effort of Brandon Thomas deserves popularity. The degree of favor with which "Charley's Aunt" has been received was largely due to the work of Etienne Girardot, who will be seen in this city during the season in his original role of the supposititious aunt, which he has played over one thousand times in America.

Mr. Girardot is one of the most serious of modern actors, yet he has scored his greatest hit in a farce, and one repiete with situations of a most incongruous description even when judged from a farcical viewpoint. He played old men's roles at the age of eighteen. He has played young men's roles after twenty years of actual stage experience. He has appeared in no less than two hundred farces, including those numbered in his stock company experiences. He once in England played eight roles in one production of "Macbeth." In "The Crossing" he was seen as an aged French exquisite in the time of the directory in 1793. In "Leah Kleschna," with Mrs. Fiske, his role was that of a young Frenchman of the quartier Latin. In "Charley's Aunt" he plays the character of Lord Fancourt Babberly, who, to aid two young friends, disguises himself as a woman of, say, sixty-five years, and passes himself as Donna Luchia D'Alvadores, "of Brazil, where the nuts come from." He is an expert horseman, a long distance walker, a fisherman extraordinary, an artist of considerable ability, and a talented stage manager.

In Volume XXX, of the new edition of the Encyclopedia Britannica, Augustine Birrell, K. C., and Minister of Education in the British Cabinet, says: "That very risible farce, 'Charley's Aunt,' has made more money than is represented by the united fortunes of Scott, Thackeray and Dickens."

In his character portrayals of old men Mr. Girardot's true to life effectiveness has long been a cause of wonderment to his audiences.

"That old fellow certainly does well," said a leading London critic, after watching one of Mr. Girardot's earliest performances in an old man's role. "He's only eighteen years old," was the reply of the manager of the theatre. "Impossible," ejaculated the critic, who had to be presented to the actor to be convinced of his youth.

In a recent interview with Mr. Girardot, he spoke in an entertaining manner of his career, and of various phases of the drama.

"The popularity which certain farces have won of late," he said, "is not due to any particular public demand for farces as such. The public has favored these farces because of their merit.

"Some people imagine farcical roles are comparatively easy to play. That is a misapprehension. These roles are most difficult and exacting, for it is far from easy to make farcical scenes appear natural. In fact, the trouble is with most farces that the actors don't conceal the improbability of the situations. They do the 'business' in such a manner that every one realizes that it is stage business. It has been gratifying to me to have heard critics say that 'Charley's Aunt,' in spite of the recurring ludicrous situations, has been performed along entirely natural lines.

"This result has been attained largely by means of careful and oft repeated rehearsals. Even though 'Charley's Aunt' is at the height of its run, rehearsals are not in the least neglected. I believe in the play, and play it sincerely, and that is the reason why even the trivial things are rehearsed over and over again.

"Stock training is the best preparatory school in the world for actors. My out door life has been a potent factor, too. Fishing, horseback riding and walking have given to me and preserved vitality that has stood me in good stead in overcoming the strain of exacting and engrossing work such as accompanies a stage career.

"My early education along artistic lines has been a decided aid. My father, E. Gustave Girardot, who was a prominent artist, desired me to follow in his footsteps, but I found that profession overstocked, and chose the stage. This was after I tried commercial life, and found it not to my liking.

"As a child I had always been a lover of the theatre, and was continually attending performances. Finally I began to fill in an extra when occasion offered, though a mere lad.

"My stage career dates from 1885, and my early adventures in England will always be in my memory. We played Shakespeare in the provinces at the rate of 40,000 lines a week, and produced many of the classic old plays with a 'fit up.' A 'fit up,' as you may know, was a kind of movable set that could be carted about from town to town. A back drop, with three or four columns painted on it, did for a palace; a few curtains, that looked heavier than they were, made a chamber, and one or two chairs, with the help of a scarf or a piece of imitation ermine, made thrones and halls of state. The 'fit up' could be erected pretty much anywhere where a platform was available. It went together like a child's puzzle, and could be taken down and stowed away in a cart in a marvelously short space of time.

"Another time, at Plymouth, I was with a small stock company. One night Tom King came down from London to play 'Macbeth,' which was, of course, for us, a good deal of an event. As luck would have it, we were uncommonly short of actors that week, and I found myself cast for eight parts.

"There was nothing to do but make the best of it, so I arranged a system of wigs, coats and smocks hanging around in convenient places in the wings, and started in. It was a hot pace. I tore on and off that stage like a man doing two armies—off as Malcolm, into another wig, back again as an old man, then out for a change to Macduff. Once I found I had to rush off as one murderer so that I could come in again and be murdered as Banquo.

"On one occasion, in 'Hamlet,' I played the ghost, the first actor, Laertes, and the priest; took part in a farce, which followed the tragedy, besides helping to erect the little theatre and take it down.

"Sometimes the 'fit up' was pretty shaky. Duels and battles were apt to loosen its joints. I remember one night, when the play again had me down to be 'Hamlet,' that directly I gave up the ghost as Laertes, I rolled over and grabbed one of the wooden braces, just in time to keep the whole structure from falling on top of us.

"All the while the growing astonishment of Tom King's Macbeth, who had not been posted as to our makeshift, was a sight to see.

"When I appeared before him in the third disguise his astonishment became too much for him. As I hailed him in each succeeding part, now as Macduff, now as a servant, he began to greet me, under his breath, in characteristic fashion.

"When I stalked in as Banquo's ghost, he came out with a terrific—

'Prithee, see there! Behold! Look! Lo! How say you now?'

adding, sotto voce, for my especial benefit:

"'Great Gabriel, how many times is this?'

"As I rose from the witches' caldron came the usual:

'Strike me blind! Thou art too like the spirit of Banquo. Down!'

with an added:

"'Merciful heaven, here's six!'

"When in the last act I rushed on as the servant, to be greeted with:

'The devil damn thee black, thou cream faced loon!
Where gott'st thou that goose look?'

and an added:

"'And that seventh wig!' I nearly choked with laughter.

"After it was all over King looked me up and told me I was the most comprehensive—with several intensifying adjectives—Shakespearean player he ever hoped to see."

Music and Drama

CHARLEY'S AUNT

Wilfrid North's triumphant revival of "Charley's Aunt," with Etienne Girardot in the title role, after a ten week's successful engagement in New York, where it was greeted by the largest audiences seen in the metropolis last spring, and kept theatre goers laughing long after the curtain had been drawn down after the final act nightly, will be the attraction at the Grand shortly.

The popularity of the comedy is remarkable and is all the more remarkable when it is taken into consideration that its vogue is not confined to any one country or nationality. It has been translated and performed in Sweden, Norway, South Africa, Russia, Switzerland, Australia — in fact almost every country on the face of the globe. It ran for five consecutive years in London, and was a favourite in the principal cities of this country for several years. Mr. Girardot was personally engaged by the author to portray the principal part in the original production of the comedy in this country, and its great popularity was in no small measure due to the admirable work of this excellent comedian. The revival here will be effectively illustrated by a series of picturesque and realistic scenic settings, and the cast interpreted by a carefully chosen company of artists, among its members being Messrs. Henry Warwick, Sol Saiken, Frank Hollins, Galway Herbert, Jacques Martin, John Norris, Misses Nina Herbert, Pauline Neff, Helena Byrne and Alice Martin.

ON THE BRIDGE AT MIDNIGHT

In refreshing contrast with the cheaply sensational claptrap of some plays of alleged heart interest, is "On the Bridge at Midnight," a comedy drama which will be seen here in the near future. The story is the frank, honest and natural narration in play form, of the search of a blind mother for her stolen child and her experiences, exciting and sometimes tinged with pathetic humour, grip the attention of the audience from start to finish. It is moreover a wholesome story and there are few characters on the stage that have won wider popularity than Germany and Reddy. The scenery is remarkable and of course reaches a climax in the setting that gives the play its name, showing with faithfulness in detail the huge lift bridge over the Chicago River, scenes along that city's hidden stream, and a steamer passing through the draw. The company is far above the average.

ROSELLE KNOTT OPENS SEASON

A special despatch from Newburg, N.Y., to the Mail and Empire, says: "Roselle Knott, the favourite Canadian agress, opened her season in "The Duchess of Devonshire," tonight supported by a strong cast, and created an unmistakable sensation. Her resemblance to the Gainsborough painting was striking. In point of gorge and the production equalled Carter's Du Barry. Andrew Robson and Viola Knott won distinction. The star and author were called before the curtain many times. The play is a decided success, and sure of New York recognition."

TRIO OF GREAT CONCERT ARTISTS

At the Grand Opera House on Monday next, October 22, Alys Bateman, the great English soprano — unrivalled; Parlovitz, the brilliant pianist, and Grace Merry, the popular Canadian entertainer, a favorite all over Canada. Toronto World:—"The honour of the evening probably fell to Miss Merry, who was recalled no fewer than fourteen times at her two appearances on the programme." Seats 75c, 50c, 35c. Plan now, open.

Busy Morning At The Docks

Cement and Grain Unloaded at Wolfe Street Wharf.

Another scow load of cement reached the city from Lakefield yesterday and this morning a number of men are engaged unloading it at the Wolfe street wharf. It will be shipped per C. P. R. to different points in the province. The steam tug Ajax brought it down from the northern village.

A load of mixed grains from the Rice Lake regions was also unloaded this morning. The steamer Water Lily brought the grain up the river yesterday.

Hastings Lady Removed To City

Was Severely Injured by Fire and is Now at St. Joseph's Hospital.

Miss Lucy Lemoire the young lady who was badly burned in Hastings during the early part of the week, was brought to Peterborough this morning and removed to St. Joseph's Hospital in the Dan Spence Ambulance. Her condition is very precarious and hopes for her recovery are unexpected.

Buyers Alarmed At High Prices

Many Articles Show Advanced Prices at This Morning's Market.

The feature of this morning's market was the advanced price of hay. Those who have to buy this article were surprised when $14 was asked this morning for timothy hay. If it were not for its scarcity, the price might not be so high, but people have to buy it and the farmers who bring it to the market demand the highest price. It seems reasonable to expect that a still higher price will be asked in the near future. Butter was the same price as a week ago. The good housewives of the city are watching with alarm the advancing price of eggs. Quite a few have already packed away many a dozen for future use, and the this morning's price, 22 cents a doz, was too high for some buyers. What will happen when thirty-five or forty cents is asked can be scarcely guessed, but according to some men, that price is bound to be demanded before next spring. Potatoes were 55c a bag, and a very scanty offering was made even at that price. The following is a list of this morning's prices:—

Potatoes, per bag	55
Apples, per bag	75
Onions, per peck	25
Beets, per peck	10
Cabbage, per head	5
Butter, per lb	27 to 28
Eggs, per doz	22
Ducks, per pair	1.25 to 1.00
Chickens, per pair	1.00 to 75
Geese, each	1.00
Hay, per ton	14.00

On a whole this morning's market was not very promising to the thrifty buyer. The farmers have the upper hand and are asking the highest prices. Now is the time to buy potatoes and such produce that will keep. It means money saved later on.

HARVEST HYMN.

Lord of the harvest, Thee we hail;
Thine ancient promise does not fail;
The varying seasons hasten round,
With goodness all our years are crowned;
Our thanks we pay
This holy day;
Oh, let our hearts in tune be found!

If spring doth wake the song of mirth;
If summer warms the fruitful earth;
When winter sweeps the naked plain,
Or autumn yields its ripened grain;
Still do we sing
To Thee, our King;
Through all their changes Thou dost reign.

But chiefly when Thy liberal hand
Scatters new plenty o'er the land,
When sounds of music fill the air,
As homeward all their treasures bear;
We too will raise
Our hymn of praise,
For we Thy common bounties share.

Lord of the Harvest, all is Thine!
The rains that fall, the suns that shine,
The seed once hidden in the ground,
The skill that makes our fruits abound;
Now, every year,
Thy gifts appear;
New praises then our lips shall sound!

—John Hampden Gurney.

S. S. LESSON.

Lesson III., October 21.—The Parable of the Talents.—Matt. 25: 14-30.

Golden Text.—"A faithful man shall abound with blessings."—Prov. 28: 20.

BETWEEN THE LESSONS.

The parable of the Talents forms a part of the same discourse as the parable of the Ten Virgins. Our text follows directly that of last Sunday.

CRITICAL NOTES.

14. It is as when. The situation arising out of the departure and return of the Son of man "is as when." A man, going into another country, represents Christ about to depart to the Father and expecting to come again. Called his own servants, and delivered unto them his goods. It was not unusual for a wealthy man to intrust the administration of his estate to the able officials of his household, albeit they were slaves or freedmen. Gen. 24: 2; 39: 1, 4-6; Matt. 18: 23, 24; 24: 45-47.

15. The parable of the Pounds was spoken publicly at Jericho, Luke 19: 1, 11, 18. The parable of the Talents was uttered a few days later, on the Mount of Olives, to a chosen few. Matt. 24: 3; 26: 1; Mark 13: 3. Five talents. The Attic talent was used in Palestine at this time, and was worth about $930. Compare Matt. 18: 24, margin. To each according to his several ability. Responsibility is vested in men according to providential and gracious qualifications.

19. After a long time the Lord . . . cometh. A hint that the return of the Son of man might be long delayed. Ch. 25: 5; Luke 19: 11, 12.

21. I will set thee over many things. The faithful servant is given increased authority and larger opportunity, but he is still the Lord's servant. Enter thou into the joy of thy Lord. Share in the power, ease of life, and glory which he enjoys. Such was the lot of a trusted slave raised to an especially high position in a great house. He was not equal to his Lord; but he prospered with the prosperity of the house, shared in its festivities, and became the confidential friend of his master rather than his slave. Contrast this joy with separation from the Master, Matt. 25: 30, 41.

24. A hard man. A stern man who would hold his servants responsible for the loss of money committed to their care.

26. Wicked. He had not acted according to the known wishes of his Master. Slothful. Evidently diligence is required of servants.

27. The bankers. Banks had already been in existence for centuries. The lending of money on interest was a custom of long standing and recognized legitimacy. The Israelites were, however, forbidden by the law to exact interest from their needy brethren.

29. Unto every one that hath shall be given. After "hath" supply in thought "acquired", and then "made attainment," and then, "capacity." A law of life is stated, which Jesus often cited. Ch. 13: 12; Luke 19: 26. From him that hath not, even that which he hath shall be taken away. The principle of decay.

30. Outer darkness. Outside of the house or kingdom, with its lights and gladness. In other words, into the furnace of fire (Matt. 13: 42) or gehenna or fire (ch. 5: 22), or everlasting fire (ch. 25: 41) or, without the use of figurative language, into everlasting punishment. Ch. 25: 46.

Men's Meeting In The Grand Opera House

Good Speakers Engaged for the Christians' Convention Sessions in it To-morrow.

In order that all may have an opportunity of hearing some of the more prominent preachers and evangelists who are in the city at present, two big mass meetings have been arranged for, and will be held in the Grand Opera House to-morrow (Sunday). The first will be opened at half past three in the afternoon, and the second at 7 o'clock in the evening. The speakers at both meetings will include Mr. Geo. Nasn, of Hamilton; Mr. Richard Irving, of Belleville; Mr. Sockett, of Kingston, and Messrs. John Gilchrist, Fleming Macey, E. Morton, D. Morrison, T. Clapp, of Kilmarnock, Scotland. All the audience will be given a song sheet with the hymns to be used, so that all may join heartily in the song services, which will be conducted for about fifteen minutes before the regular services. The management desire parents or guardians to accompany children, as in such a crowd they cannot be admitted unattended. The doors will be opened half an hour before each meeting to prevent crowding. The top gallery will only be opened in case of necessity.

Clean the keys of the piano with a cloth moistened with alcohol.

Rub the bottom crust of the pie with the white of an egg, and it will prevent the juice from soaking into it.

Former Pastor Of Gilmour Memorial

Rev. A. C. Macleod, of Port Burwell Here as Delegate.

Among the delegates to the Baptist convention this week, is Rev. A. C. MacLeod, of Port Burwell. Mr MacLeod was for a number of years pastor of the Gilmour Memorial church, Smith, and during his pastorate there became quite well known in Peterborough, where he made many warm friends, who welcomed him back after his absence of eight years. He was greatly surprised at the remarkable progress made by the city in that time, and expressed his pleasure at its evident prosperity.

Bad Attack of La Grippe.

A year ago I had a bad attack of la grippe, and all the doctor's prescriptions proved to be of no avail. I was told to try Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, and found it a great blessing, as it thoroughly cured me. I told my doctor that I intended to recommend it to all my friends." — Mrs. L. Objection To The Use Of Glasses

Sometimes people object to glasses, claiming that once put on they can not see without them. If after putting on glasses the wearer finds it difficult to go without them, this simply proves that before he wore glasses he was forcing his eyes beyond the limit of safety, a practice if continued, is sure to affect the health and sight. The person who lets pride, even excusable pride, stand in the way of glasses is doing his eyes and health injustice and is merely paving the way for future suffering and discomforts.

We will test your eyesight carefully, and tell you just what condition your eyes are in.

Dr. C. B. Coughlin Gets Important Position

Will Succeed Dr. Mathison as Superintendent of Deaf and Dumb Institute—New Appointee a Native of Peterborough County—Has Lived Most of Life in Western Ontario.

This morning Dr. C. B. Coughlin received from the Minister of Education notice of his appointment to the position of superintendent of the Deaf and Dumb Institute at Belleville, in succession to Dr. Mathison, who resigned to take the position of Supreme Secretary of the I. O. F. Dr. Coughlin will take up the duties of his new position at the close of his predecessor's term, probably about November 15, and will, of course, remove from Peterborough. Honours are coming thick and fast upon the doctor. A few weeks ago he was made a member of the Provincial Board of Health. Whether he will continue to act in this capacity or not is not known. The doctor was asked this question to-day, and stated that he had not considered the matter yet, and was not in a position to state definitely.

For the past four years Dr. Coughlin has been a resident of Peterborough, where he has practised his profession, coming here from Arthur, Wellington County. He is a native of Peterborough County, having been born in the township of Asphodel, and is a son of the late Richard Coughlin, who died some years ago, and who was one of the earliest settlers in that township, going there about the year 1829.

Dr. Coughlin lived for a number of years in Western Ontario, where he practised his profession. He was reeve of the village of Arthur, and was prominent in political circles, have contested twice—unsuccessfully—the riding of East Wellington for the local House.

Since coming to Peterborough he has taken an active interest in politics, and stumped for the Conservative candidates in the last two elections. He is a prominent member of the A. O. H., and is also identified with the Knights of Columbus, being physician of the local council of that order.

He will remove from the city in a short time.

The Globe, referring to the appointment, says:

Interest concerning the appointment was general among medical men of the Province, and a number of physicians had intimated to the department that they were available as Mr. R. Mathison's successor. The salary that goes with the office is $2,000 a year and a free residence. The retiring superintendent, owing to his long term of service, was receiving much more than this amount.

Dr. Coughlin assumes his new responsibilities in the prime of life. He practised for several years at Arthur, Wellington County, and less than a decade ago was Hon. J. M. Gibson's opponent as Conservative candidate in East Wellington for the Legislature. Four years ago Dr. Coughlin moved to Peterborough, and on the reorganization of the Provincial Board of Health, was appointed a member of that body by the Government. Dr. Coughlin is a member of the Roman Catholic Church.

Body Found Floating In River At Fenelon

A Mystery Solved by Discovery of Body of Miss Powers To-day at Fenelon Falls—Disappeared Two Weeks Ago—Supposition is That She Committed Suicide in Despondent Fit.

Examiner Special.

Fenelon Falls, October 22. — A mystery which surrounded the sudden disappearance two weeks ago of Miss Powers, who for some years was employed as cook at Twomey's Hotel, was solved this morning, when her body was discovered floating in the river by a young man named Shann, who was fishing. He saw an object floating in the river, which looked like a human body, and returned to the village to report. Mr. G. L. Main's launch was secured and a doctor was conveyed to the spot, where the body was seen. It was found to be that of the late Miss Powers, and it is supposed that in a fit of temporary despondency she threw herself into the river. The body was not badly decomposed, and was easily identified.

The deceased lady was 41 years of age, and a daughter of Mr. J. J. Powers, of this village. She was highly respected, and deep sympathy is felt for the bereaved family. For some little time before her disappearance Miss Powers was seen to be in a despondent mood, and it is supposed that this fact explains her disappearance, and subsequent discovery of her body. It is not expected that an inquest will be held.

To-Day Was Church Day At The Convention

"Settlement of Pastors", and "Shall We Have Two Degrees or Orders of Ordained Ministers" Were the Problems—"Grit, Grace and Gumption" Needed by Ministers, Says Deacon Graham—Important Discussion.

To-day was Church Day at the Baptist Convention, and some very important problems came up for discussion. The questions which were discussed at great length were the settlement of pastors, and "Shall we have two Degrees or Orders, of Ordained Ministers?" Before the close a committee was appointed to consider the problems discussed, the committee to report later on to the convention.

After the devotional exercises, which were led by Rev. E. P. H. King, of Quebec city, the Committee on Resolutions presented a supplementary report. The first resolution expressed horror at the Congo atrocities, and recorded the emphatic protest of this convention at the system of forced labour which obtains in the Congo Free State, and asking the influence of the Government to put down this injustice.

The Moral Reform Committee reported what it had done during the year and suggested a programme for the year: The observance of the Temperance Sunday; the duty of Christian citizenship to be urged from the pulpit; books for Sunday School libraries to be selected, and the names of such books to be published in the Canadian Baptist, and the matter of denominational co-operation to be left with the Executive.

The nominating Committee suggested the following as a committee on church union: Dr. Farmer, Superintendent Norton, Dr. T. S. Johnson, Dr. S. S. Bates, Prof. J. L. Gilmour, Dr. J. A. Gordon, Rev. J. G. Brown, B.D.; Dr. Perry, Rev. W. J. McKay, B.D.; Dr. A. A. Cameron, Brothers J. G. Scott, K.C.; R. D. Warren, D. C. Thomson, K.C., and Rev. W. M. Walker, B.A. They were all appointed.

To-day being Church Day the settlement of pastors was the first subject upon the programme for discussion. Rev. E. J. Stobo, Jr. B.D., of Mount Forest, showed the present methods of settling pastors; showing first how ministers' names were brought to the notice of pulpit committees and then how the churches proceeded in the choice of a pastor. Four plans were discussed: The no plan at all, the competitive and the deliberative. He especially condemned competition between pastors seeking a charge and held that a man should be called largely upon his record. He believed that the time had come when a change was needed in the methods of settling pastors.

The remainder of the report is unavoidably crowded out of to-day's issue

Mrs. Cyril Hill Won Championship

An Interesting Series of Games at Golf Links.

The finals in the ladies' golf tournament were played at the links on Saturday afternoon between Mrs. Denniston and Mrs. Cyril Hill, Mrs. Hill winning by five up and four to play. The match was a fine exhibition of golf, some really good play being made. Some good players are coming along well, and Miss Pearl Lundy and Miss Bertha Moore will give a close run for the championship next year. There was a large gathering of spectators with the players in the finals, and deep interest was evidenced in the playing.

Horse Died On Road To Ennismore

An Unlucky Bargain For a Farmer of That Township.

An Ennismore man who bought a horse on Saturday is now lamenting the fate which caused him to take the step. The animal became sick on George street on Saturday night and had to be left in the city over night. Yesterday it appeared well enough to make the trip to Ennismore, but near the corner of Reid and McDonel streets, it dropped. Veterinery Surgeons were called but could not save the animal which lay there the greater part of the afternoon before dying. A large number of people gathered at the spot.

Company's Solicitor Was In Peterboro'

Went Over the Terms of Agreement Between City and Company.

Mr. Walter Gow, solicitor for the Costes Manufacturing Company of Canada, Limited, was in the city to-day and went over the terms of the agreement between the city and the Costes Company, with the city solicitor, Mr. E. H. D. Hall. As soon as this is signed, and the terms have been agreed upon by both parties, only the work of the solicitors being unfinished, the Costes Company will go ahead with their work.

Big Party Of Girls Arrive

About 100 Barnardo Home Girls Reach City.

This morning a party of 95 girls arrived at the Barnardo Home, here. They arrived at Quebec by the steamer Dominion, and were at once sent on to Peterborough by special train. They had a very pleasant voyage and all are in good health.

The majority of the girls have places waiting for them and the first will leave on Wednesday for their new homes.

Conservatives Change Year

Decide That Their Year Shall Henceforth Begin in October.

At a meeting held in their clubrooms on Saturday evening, the Young Conservatives decided to change the beginning of their year from January to October. Accordingly a full meeting of all local Conservatives of the club is called for Thursday evening, October 25, when the annual nomination and election of officers will take place. Other business matters will be considered.

ON THE BRIDGE AT MIDNIGHT

The plot and story of "On the Bridge at Midnight," which is to appear for one night, Tuesday, October 23, at the Grand Opera House, which is a triumph of ingenuity and play construction, are among the cleverest and most interesting on the stage. A blind mother seeks her kidnapped child and meets with an experience that would overwhelm anybody but such a mother. The child is an important part that furnishes much of the interest. The play was an instantaneous success in Chicago, where the scenes are laid, and the famous bridge located. The prices are low for this great scenic production—15, 25, 35 and 50c.

Application For Winding Up Order Made

F. B. Poison, Shareholder in Ontario Bank, Applies For Order to Wind Up Institution.

Toronto, Oct. 22.—Franklin Bates Poison, owner of 120 shares of Ontario Bank stock, applied through his attorney, James Bicknell, of Bicknell and Bain, for a winding-up order for the bank on Saturday before Justice Mabee at Osgoode Hall.

J. H. Moss opposed the motion on the grounds of an affidavit made by W. E. Stavert, curator of the bank, to the effect that "a winding-up order would result in the most serious loss to the shareholders of the bank, both by reason of depreciation of the assets through forced liquidation, and by reason of the great additional cost which would be thereby thrown upon the estate."

Justice Mabee concurred in this view and adjourned the motion sine die, giving either party the privilege of reviving it on 24 hours' notice.

TEACHERS' SALARIES

Where our readers are concerned it is not difficult to become enthusiastic. With very good reason, teachers complain of inadequate salaries. It is, therefore, no surprise that, though the legislation of last session, prescribing what salaries rural municipalities shall pay teachers, smacks very strongly of Russian methods, it should meet with the approval of teachers. At its recent meeting, the West Grey Teachers' Association adopted the following resolution, a copy of which has been forwarded for publication:

At the annual meeting of the West Grey Teachers' Association, held at Owen Sound on October 16th and 17th inst, the following resolution was unanimously adopted, on motion of T. A. Reid, principal of the Owen Sound public schools:

"That the teachers of West Grey in convention assembled hereby express their appreciation of the efforts of the Ontario Government and Provincial Parliament which have in view the greater stability of the teaching profession, the improvement of our schools, and the betterment of the position of the Public School teachers of the province; that this association respectfully begs to submit, however, that existing evils cannot be remedied by the legislation of last session, which fixed the various minimum salaries to be paid by rural schools only; that the legislation should be extended to include urban as well as rural schools, with minimum salaries adapted to various classes of schools, and to the positions of principals, head masters and assistants respectively; and further that inducements by way of grading and special grants should be made to secure liberal salaries above the minimum; that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the Minister of Education, to the Ontario Educational Association, to the various school teachers' associations of the province, and to the leading daily papers."

While, it is desirable, in the interests of education, that teachers should be attracted to the profession, and be given such remuneration as would lead to permanency, and consequent effectiveness, yet it is doubtful if this end can be accomplished in the best way by arbitrary enactment, which may tend to create hostile sentiment. Some measure that would result in impressing a deeper feeling of the value of good education upon ratepayers and in turn, result in the election of broader-minded and more liberal trustees, would be much preferable.

GENEROSITY

Queen's University is to be congratulated upon the substantial evidence of interest in the educational influences she represents, shown by her friends, and the friends of advanced enlightment. Mr. John Charlton exhibited a spirit of thanksgiving, in a most commendable, and substantial manner, by making, on Thanksgiving Day, a contribution of $50,000 to the gratifyingly growing endowment fund of Queen's College. Wealthy men can find no nobler, nor more beneficent employment for their means, than applying them to the promotion of national educational interests, whether in regard to Queen's University, or other great seats of learning, in Canada. Much can be forgiven to the prevailing greed of gain, if the results are used as wisely, and generously, as in the case of Mr. Charlton.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Newfoundland may now be tempted to come into the Canadian confederation, if it can be assured of making easy demands upon the Federal exchequer.

Canada's trade grows amazingly, under the Liberal tariff, which Sir Charles Tupper and the Conservative organs, denounced as certain to bring ruin and disater to the country's industries. For the first quarter of the present fiscal year it was $150,435,000 — $26,774,479 over that of the corresponding period of last year. And the domestic trade is equally prosperous. It need astonish nobody, says the Hamilton Times, if our foreign trade for the year exceeds $700,000,000.

At the time of the general elections of 1904, Liberal journals, which, in crediting the great growth in Canadian trade largely to the policy of the Government, were considered extravagantly optimistic, when they predicted that our total trade would be at the five hundred million mark in the course of five years. Yet, with only three years elapsed, Canada's total trade has passed this mark, and the indications are that the present fiscal year will close upon a total Canadian trade of seven hundred millions.

The Globe, and other journals, are taking the view of the Examiner, that the increase in provincial subsidies, involves the danger of establishing an undesirable precedent, inasmuch as an incentive to extravagant expenditure, will be furnished, and afford grounds for other demands. If each province collected, and provided its own revenue, there would be a greater incentive to economical management. There is a field for the employment of the Dominion revenue in the development of the transportation facilities of the country at large, in the interests of the general good.

The Toronto Farmer's Sun ridicules the pretence that the fleecing of the farmer by higher tariff could be compensated for by higher duties on pork. It says: "Of all the hogs slaughtered in Ontario, fully one-half are exported as bacon and hams to Great Britain. Of the remainder, the great bulk are consumed by farmers who produce them. The duty against American hogs and bacon is of no more value to our farmers than is the duty on cheese." That is doubtless true. But, remarks a contemporary, does the Sun, or anybody fit to be out without a guardian, think that if no advantage were to be gained over their fellows by it, these tariff shouters would whoop so lustily for increase of duties?

It is probable that there is little justification for the report that Lord Kitchener is coming to Canada, to put our land forces upon a satisfactory basis. While we should be honoured with a great warrior, like Kitchener, yet Canada is too busy making and spending all the money it can in building up the country, and increasing the population, to consider seriously the imposition of unnecessary military burdens, and diverting industry from the channels of achievement to the comparative idleness of a military establishment. Our volunteer army should, doubtless, be kept upon an efficient basis, but there should be a reasonable limit to expenditure for this purpose. If we spend money upon our militia, we should use enough to make it tell, and no more, considering the claims upon our national revenue. If Lord Kitchener should come in a proper mood, without Dundonaldistic ideas, his great executive ability would be of invaluable advantage to our military interests.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Timothy Hay In Good Demand

Six Loads Were Sold Early This Morning.

To-day was a live day at the market for hay. The wet weather prevented the farmers from attending to their ploughing, so that many loads appeared for sale. Hay has probably never been in greater demand, and this morning, before 9.30 o'clock, the six loads that were weighed on the scales were immediately disposed of. Good timothy hay is now worth $14 per ton.

Convention Sunday At Park Street

A Gathering of Baptist Preachers at This Church Yesterday—Helpful Services Held.

Notwithstanding the great attractions north of Park street, the crowds were large and enthusiastic at the Park Street Baptist Church, and the preachers were in shoals, filling the platform at each service. It was literally an old-time revival service in the evening.

The morning preacher was Rev. Jessie Gibson, of Dovercourt road, Toronto, supported by Rev. Jas. Chapman, of Barrie, and Rev. Mr. Smith, of Rodney, and Rev. A. H. Brace, each taking part in the service.

The text of the morning was "For all are yours." It was a masterly effort, full of teaching and tenderness, and most helpful.

In the afternoon the speakers were Rev. Mr. Pady, of Vankleek Hill, an old pastor, and a lover of children, from whom he received a hearty welcome, and Rev. James Stretton, of Thornbury, who displayed a special gift in dealing with children.

In the evening the platform was again filled by Rev. Mr. McEwen, of York Mills; Mr. Alex Biddow, student, of Woodstock; Rev. Alex White, of First Avenue, Toronto, and the pastor. The addresses were all along the line of present salvation. Rev. Mr. White making the appeal, which was almost irresistible. The after meeting, which was fruitful in blessing and decision, was most responsive, and the church will surely reap benefits as a result.

Convention Sunday, with such hearty co-operation of the visiting pastors, will not soon be forgotten.

• PHYSICALLY EXHAUSTED ? •

You're out of joint with everything—lacking in courage—no nerve—scarcely on speaking terms with yourself. Such low spirits are pitiable. Your brain is fagged, vitality exhausted till your nerve-wracked body has gone all to the bad. FERROZONE is what you need.

FERROZONE

IS A BODY-BUILDER, A VITALIZER, A NUTRITIVE TONIC.

It's by making flesh and blood, by infusing iron and oxygen into the system that FERROZONE helps. It repairs the weak spots, instils energy, vim and endurance into worn-out organs—makes you feel like new. Why not use this grand restorative? It lifts age from the old, brings new resiliance and buoyancy of spirits to the depressed. Be vigorous, manly, ruddy-colored, cast aside weakness and enter into that happy life that follows the use of FERROZONE.

Ferrozone is sold everywhere in 50c boxes or six for $2.50. By mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., and Kingston, Ont.

A CHILD can clean house with "SURPRISE" Soap. It loosens up the smoke and dirt and fly-specks on woodwork and paint so that no hard rubbing is necessary.

Simply take a cloth and some hot water, make lather of "SURPRISE" Soap, and then rub the doors and window-sash very lightly. It will surprise you to see how quickly and easily the dirt comes off.

"SURPRISE" Soap is the best to clean everything washable. It never injures anything or makes the hands sore or rough.

SURPRISE A PURE HARD SOAP It is a pure, hard soap, and costs no more than common kinds.

Don't Use Drug Cures for Headache

They Hurt You. Use Zutoo.

Don't think because the drug cures for headache do not make your heart palpitate, dull your nerves or upset your stomach just when you take them, that they are not hurting you, for they are.

The magazine "Health" speaks truly when it says: "Every dose of such drugs is at the expense of vitality, and sooner or later the penalty for outraging nature will be exacted."

You can avoid this penalty and cure your headaches just as quickly by taking the vegetable cure, Zutoo.

It is Harmless as Soda.

The Offer Was Not Accepted

Lindsay Cheese Board Was Adjourned For One Week.

At the Lindsay cheese board today, 1200 boxes were offered for sale, but no business was transacted. The highest offer for the cheese boarded to-day was 12 1-4 cents, which the salesmen refused to accept, the result being that the sale was adjourned for one week. Mr. Gillespie offered the highest figure. Cheese is considerably easier to-day, and the buyers felt they were not justified in offering more, with the market at its present state.

The New York Stock Market

(Furnished by J. R. Heintz & Co.)

New York, Oct. 22.—Stocks recovered their losses of Friday and Saturday to-day with a whirl and a rush. Opening prices were generally from 1 to 1 1-2 points above Saturday's close and the march upwards never hesitated a minute right up to the close. Gains were recorded of from 1 to 6 points and shorts were in a panic, frantically trying to buy back the stocks which they sold Saturday and finding the market practically bare. Room traders thought the advance was too fast and kept selling on the advance, but these offerings were well taken. Call money was easy declining from 7 per cent. at the opening to 2 per cent. at the close. It is probable that some announcement of relief from Secretary Shaw is forthcoming and in the event of such, it would not be surprising to see another bear attack on prices, but we would buy the good issues on any recessions. The close was very strong at the best of the day.

Eloquent Sermon On The Subject Of Foreign Missions

Delivered by Rev. John MacNeill, B.A., of Toronto—Church Packed to the Doors—Christ's Vision of the Cross Was His Theme—Victory Has Been Achieved, the Spoils Remain to be Reaped.

The Murray street Baptist church probably never contained a larger gathering than that which congregated there last night, to hear the address delivered by Rev. J. J. MacNeill, B.A., pastor of the Walmor Road Baptist church, Toronto. After all the available seats had been occupied, the aisles were filled with chairs, which were quickly taken, and some even had to remain in the passage way to the rear of the church.

The sermon, which was on the subject of Foreign Missions, and preached by Rev. J. J. MacNeill, an orator of no mean ability, and one of the leading Baptist divines in the province, was a masterly one, which demonstrated the speaker's great range of knowledge of an important subject, and was a sermon which could not fail to leave a lasting impression upon those who were fortunate enough to hear it.

Rev. F. J. Scott, pastor of the Murray street church, and Rev. H. F. LaFlamme, and Rev Dr. Bates of St. Catharines, also assisted at the services.

The singing was especially fine last night and appropriate to the subject of Foreign Missions. Miss Clara Kidd sang a solo in excellent voice.

The text chosen by Rev. Mr. MacNeill, was the words of the 23rd verse of the 12th chapter of St. John's Gospel: "And Jesus answered them saying, 'The hour is come that the Son of Man shall be glorified.'"

It is not so much the phraseology of the passage, began the speaker, but the spirituality which it breathes, that was so important to the subject he had selected. The incident of which Jesus spoke these words, took place during the Passover Week. He had had a vision, which foretold to Him the death upon the cross at Calvary, and henceforth His superiority over all natural things. Men who had come to learn history, succeeded in making it for Christ, found the little company slowly widening until it had become too large to number. The great picture that flowed before His mind was only to be realized as years rolled by; He was living in the unspeakable intoxication of that hour in which He afterwards gave up His life for the salvation of mankind; He had suddenly realized that that great end could only be achieved through the cross, just as the wheat can only be reaped after it is thrown into the ground to die. Like a man soloquizing he related that truth and a voice from heaven, answered back again, which some thought to be thunder, and His spirit calm and strong left the penumbra of doubt.

The speaker exhorted his hearers to breathe the atmosphere of the Home Mission Work. There was an intense and thrilling fascination, he said, for Christ, in watching that universal kingship over the world shaping itself. It was a dream of kingship in the material realm of man's life, which Christ had. All men are dependent upon Him, as far as material things are concerned, but they do not always obey Him.

The events that have happened, and are happening in the world today, are simply the wish of the great God, who in ages past started on its perpetual journey the great pendulum of progress. The changes that have taken place among the nations were within the visions of Christ as He saw Himself enter the realm of human life as the one great pivot upon which are balanced the minds of men. He knew all the final pronouncements of men of science, and moral philosophers, and foresaw their relations in a vital way to His own personality. All spiritual movements in every heart, and in every clime, are under His immediate command. He sees the sin-sick soul of man grasping for life. He is the consoler of every man's conscience, and He initiates in every heart the divine inspiration of God.

Christ's vision was realized. It became virtually achieved because of the one stupendous thought — the cross. It was by the cross that Christ was catholicized, that Christ was imperialized, and the cross was the guarantee of His victory.

The church must travel back to that time in order to be enterprising in its missionary work, for it was there that the great victory over the prince of the world was achieved. The mainspring of missions is not the judgment; that will fail, but the judgment that has fallen. All that we were now asked to do said the speaker was to pick up the spoil of the vanquished, and to tear down, with hilarious glee, the buildings, whose partitions were irretrievably gone.

In closing, he pointed out how the perennial power of the Cross was drawing towards it the souls of the millions of China and of India, over whom God is letting the fire of His Holy Spirit play.

Rev. Mr. MacNeill was followed by short addresses from Rev. John Craig, and Rev. H. F. LaFlamme, two missionaries attending the convention from India.

Board Of Health Had No Quorum

The Isolation Hospital Question Still to the Fore.

A meeting of the Board of Health was called this morning for the purpose of discussing the Isolation Hospital question, but as usual there was no quorum. Chairman Eyres, Dr. Burnham and Mr. R. Neill were on hand, but although their intentions were good, their number was too small to permit of any business being done. They talked over the Isolation Hospital question, the point at issue being whether the Board should call for tenders before going to the Council for the money, or vice versa. A second attempt will be made to get a quorum to-morrow morning.

A Record Collection At Downeyville Parish

At Request of Rev. Father McGuire Parishoners Placed $1,277 on the Plates on Sunday Week.

The Lindsay Post of last Monday has the following in reference to the good work of a priest who is quite well known and greatly beloved in this city:—

"We were informed this morning by a resident of Downeyville that St. Luke's parish gave a record collection yesterday. This year the annual picnic for the raising of funds for parish purposes was dispensed with, Rev. Father McGuire stating that as the labour connected therewith fell almost entirely upon the laics of the church, he thought he would endeavour to raise the necessary funds some other way. Church, presbytery, schools, etc., have been placed in a model condition, and a couple of weeks ago Father McGuire discussed the deficit and his ideas in relation to the picnic with his parishioners and asked them to do their duty in the matter of a collection to be taken yesterday. The grand sum of $1,227 was the response of the generous Irishmen to the appeal of their beloved priest—a sum sufficient to wipe off every cent of debt remaining on the parish."

The church and presbytery and grounds of St. Luke's have been greatly improved since Rev. Father McGuire went to Downeyville, and he is to be congratulated upon the progress made by this parish since he was placed in charge of it.

Mr. Percy Jameson Given A Promotion

Is Transferred From Lethbridge to Winnipeg Branch of Bank of Montreal -- A Popular Young Man.

The Lethbridge Herald refers in the following terms to a young man, well known in this city, son of Mr. F. J. Jameson:—

Percy Jameson, who has been on the staff of the Bank of Montreal here for about five years, has been transferred to the Winnipeg branch. Mr. Jameson enjoys much popularity in Lethbridge. He entered the service of the bank here as junior and from that very moment until the present he has conducted himself as a perfect gentleman. With a character above reproach, he could not help but win the esteem and regard of those with whom he came in contact. He was always most attentive to his duties in the bank and obliging to the customers. In social circles he was the life of many a gathering. He was an enthusiastic emmber of the Young Men's Club and was also an official of the Tennis Club. Mr. Jameson departs for Winnipeg with the warmest wishes for success of the people of Sunny Southern Alberta's capital.

Rev. W. R. Young In Journalist's Eyes

Former Peterborough Methodist Pastor Who Is Now at St. James Church, Montreal, and His Work.

The Montreal Herald, in its series of articles on the churches of that city, published on Saturday a most interesting description of St. James' Methodist Church, of which Rev. W. R. Young, formerly of George Street Church here, is pastor. The writer of the article, speaking of Mr. Young, makes these remarks: Rev. W. R. Young is a tall, grave man, of striking appearance, with a well-cut face and chiselled features, a prominent aquiline nose and a general expression as severe as that of a judge. In fact, you would not be surprised if his first words were: "Prisoner, stand up. You have been found guilty, etc." There is a certain cool detachment in his eye that shows he is not easily subdued by mere emotion. If he were a bank manager none of his clerks would defalcate—they would be afraid to. Mr. Young's bearing is dignified and appropriate to his sacred office, and the only thing out of harmony with its general effect is the surprising height to which his hair is brushed up in front. Yet this is quite natural, for a sort of steel-wire energy pervades him. His voice is hard and distinct, rather than mellow, and his face has the long, thin, capable cut which is commonly regarded as being characteristic of the North American countenance that has been looking out on life for about half a century.

Large Attendances At Grand Opera House

Evangelists Preach to Attentive Crowds Yesterday—Speakers at Sessions of Christian Convention.

Yesterday the general public was given an opportunity of hearing some of the prominent preachers who are in the city, attending the Christians' convention. In the afternoon a large crowd was present to hear several eloquent addresses by notable speakers. Throughout the service hymns were sung in a very hearty manner, sheets being passed around with the hymns printed thereon. The singing greatly enhanced the impressiveness of the occasion, and gave all present an opportunity of assisting.

The first speaker was Mr. Geo. Nunn of Hamilton. He chose as his text the beginning of the first chapter of the Epistle of St. Paul to the Hebrews: "God, who at sundry times, and in divers manners spake in times past unto the fathers by the prophets, etc." The speaker first referred to the verse, "How shall we escape if we neglect so great a salvation," and then pointed out how utterly impossible these words could be but those of the Lord Himself. The beauty of the address was the simplicity of the speaker's general trend of thought. He appealed to man's reason and common sense, to seek the truth, if such had not yet been done, and persevere in following it in order to gain everlasting bliss of eternity in heaven.

Mr. Richard Irving of Belleville, was the next speaker. He chose as his text the 14th verse of the 14th chapter of the second book of Samuel, "For we must needs die," etc. He said that almost everyone wished to enjoy a happy death, but the striving to live in a righteous manner was a task that did not appeal to everyone. The speaker pointed out how man leaves all his earthly pleasures and possessions behind, and asked what did it benefit the man's soul hereafter, to pursue the vain pleasures of earth. It will be said of many, like Judas, "Good for that man that he had never been born."

The services throughout were impressive and earnest and could not fail to influence the audience.

MR. STUART FAVOURABLY IMPRESSED WITH WATER

The Bobcaygeon Independent says: Mr. Robert Stuart, head of the Canada Cereal Works, in Peterborough, has in contemplation the development of the fullest capacity of the dam at Peterborough, and as the production of power is limited by the quantity of water at its lowest point, Mr. Stuart had a trip over the Kawartha Lakes last week, with a view to estimating the probabilities of water supply. The storing and regulating of the water throughout the district is becoming of greater importance each year, and it is now imperative that all the dams be maintained in the best condition. It is understood that Mr. Stuart was favourably impressed.

OBITUARY

MRS. JOHN BRITTON.

The death occurred last night at 11 o'clock at her residence, 13 Harvey street, of Mrs. John Britton, an old and highly esteemed resident of this city. The late Mrs. Britton has been ill for the last few weeks and finally succombed to paralysis. She was born in Enniskillen, Ireland, where she spent her youth, coming to Canada in 1876. Her maiden name was Marjory Brownlee. Her husband, the late John Britton, whom she met and married in the Old Country, predeceased her about 11 months ago. A family of six children are left to mourn her loss and cherish the memory of a kind and affectionate mother. They are, Thomas, of Bowmanville; Charles, of Detroit; John of this city, and Mrs. R. Farrell and Mrs. E. C. Sutherland, of Toronto, and Miss Martha Britton at home. The late Mrs. Britton will be missed by a large circle of friends whom she had made during her long residence in Peterborough. She has always been a member of the church of England. The funeral which will be private will take place from her late home, 13 Harvey street, on Tuesday, at 3 o'clock, to the Little Lake Cemetery.

GEORGE HENDERSON.

Word has been received in the city of the death yesterday morning of George Henderson, one of the best known residents of Barrie, and father of Mr. R. H. Henderson, formerly of the establishment of F. A. Clarke, city. Mr. Henderson was for thirty-five years leader of the Barrie Band, and has been connected with military bands all his life, having seen service in India. He was 78 years of age.

Mr. Fred. Clarke leaves to-night for Barrie to attend the funeral, which takes place to-morrow afternoon.

Any Person who misses the Alys Bat man Concert Company To-night misses the Greatest Concert Treat of the Season. Do not let any other engagement stop you from hearing Miss Bateman and her Company.

Unexpected Bath For Little Boy

Keith Caverly Fell Into the Water at Foot of Charlotte Street.

Yesterday afternoon an accident occurred at the east end of Charlotte street which might have been attended by serious results. Master Keith Caverly, the little son of Mr. John Caverly instead of going for a walk with his parents as he usually does, went with a number of other youngsters to the scene of the filling in operations at the foot of Charlotte street. This work has been advanced very rapidly so that now only a few yards remain to the shore. A wide plank has been laid across the intervening stretch of water to enable the workmen to reach the west shore in a short time. Cleats have been nailed to this plank to ensure a safe footing and as little Keith was crossing over he stumbled on one of these and went head first into the water. The water is rather deep although near the shore and would have completely covered him had not Robert and Nina Smith been nearby to help him. They soon brought him to a safe place and hurried him home to his parents who keep a restaurant on George street. Needless to say they were very much alarmed at first but as the boy was only well drenched that feeling soon disappeared.

Cough Lasted 3 Months.
"I was taken with a severe cough which lasted for three months, and though I tried all sorts of medicines they failed to do me any good. A friend advised the use of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, and I was completely cured by two bottles." — Miss Ada O'Brien, Cape Cove, Gaspe Co., Quebec.

Farewell Recital Of Miss Roger's Pupils

Farewell Recital at the Conservatory—A Beautiful Presentation Gracefully Acknowledged.

On Saturday afternoon, the pianoforte pupils of Miss Alice Roger gave a farewell recital at the Peterborough Conservatory of Music. Miss Roger is retiring from the staff of the Conservatory to assume new social relations. The closing recital of her pupils was attended by a large number of the parents and friends of the pupils, as well as by many of the many friends for exceptional musical abilities and charming personal qualities have attracted. The following good programme was excellently presented:

1.—Hungarian sketch ... ...Vorkmann
Miss Jean Hill
2.—Sonata (violin) ... ...Correlli
Master Frank Halpany
3.—Christmas Bells ... ...Wade
Miss Ethel Goodenough
4.—Coming through the Rye (violin)...
Miss Greta Rountree
5.—(a) Allegro s Allegretto, from Sonata Op. 10. No. 2... ... ... Beethoven
Miss Gladys Seward
6.—Air Varice (violin) ... ... Dancla
Miss Edwina Palmer
7.—Allegro from Sonata Op. 2. No. 1.... Beethoven
Miss Jean Hill
8.—Romance from 2 piano suite Op. 16... Arensky
Miss Gladys Seward

The contributors to the programme, while principally young, in their performance, gave evidence of the excellent instruction they have received. Miss Roger has, for a long time, been most creditably identified with the interests of music, of which she has been a most creditable exponent, both in the field of teaching and artistic presentation. While she has endeared herself to her pupils and her musical associates by her artistic musical qualities, she has developed a large claim to warm personal respect and esteem. On her retirement, Miss Roger was made the object of a presentation on behalf of the staff and pupils of the Conservatory, who sent her a beautiful cut glass water set, to which Miss Roger gave the following written reply:

To Mr. and Mrs. Gliddon, the Conservatory Staff and all My Dear Pupils,—

"I am going to try to say something to you all this afternoon, but if you could know how I feel, you would not be surprised if I failed utterly and so I write this. The beautiful gift came this morning and it is so exquisite that nothing I could say could ever tell how much I admire it. It will always remind me of the happy days I have spent in the Conservatory. It is not so much the gift as the love and good wishes which go with it that have touched me so far. I guess when I try to speak of it I will have what is commonly known as "a lump in my throat". So I hope you will all forgive me for not being able to tell you even a little of all that is in my heart and that you know how I feel. It is awfully hard for me to leave you all for I have loved my work and do love the Conservatory and wish it great prosperity. I only hope if I come to Peterborough again Mr. Gliddon will have me on his staff once more. I do thank you all most lovingly."

Many cordial wishes for happiness will follow Miss Roger into her new relations in life, not only from those who have, musically and personally, associated with her, but from the public at large, who have learned to regard her with feelings of admiration in respect of her artistic acquirements and for the amiable qualities of character which have won universal regard.

The BEST STOVE AND HARDWARE CO.

THE SHILLING.

Suggested by Rev. James Grant's address on Western Missions.

The polished structure ready stood,
Prepared for action swift and good,
Its great design fulfilling;
And there this notice you might read:
"If you would see the work proceed,
Then just drop in a shilling."

And He who heaven and earth controls,
And is unto all human souls
His wondrous love instilling,
Directs the ministers of love,
And says, "If you would see them move
Then just drop in your shilling."

"Your shilling" which may represent
The rich returns which He hath sent
To fields which you are tilling;
His saving forces ready stand
To forward move while you command
By dropping in your shilling."

Co-workers with our Lord are we;
It is our earnest prayer to be
For His great work made willing;
And, as we seek to serve our King,
Our lives and gifts to Him we bring
And so drop in our shilling.

The weary world in waiting stands;
Great is the need in Western lands;
The call our hearts is thrilling;
And we may go where Jesus leads,
And help to meet the urgent needs
By dropping in our shilling.

Teacher The All-Important Factor In School's Success

Rev. B. W. Merrill Addresses Charlotte Street Methodists on Sunday School Problems—Some Essentials to Success of Work Among Young Persons.

Yesterday Sunday School anniversary services were held in connection with Charlotte street Methodist church, advantage being taken of the presence in the city of the Baptist preachers to secure two of them to address the congregations at the morning and evening services on Sunday School subjects. In connection with these services, too, a special appeal was made for funds to meet the $1,800 balance due on the account for the enlarging the Sunday School building.

In the morning the pulpit was occupied by Rev. Dr. Bates, of St. Catharines, and at the evening service the speaker was Rev. W. B. Merrill, B.A., of Ottawa, Superintendent of Sunday Schools in the Ontario and Quebec Baptist Convention. Both of these gentlemen are enthusiastic believers in the Sunday School in its relation to the church, and their addresses were very practical and gave evidence of a knowledge of the conditions surrounding Sunday school work.

REV. B. W. MERRELL, B.A.
Whose Address on Sunday School Teachers at Charlotte Street Church Last Night Was Much Enjoyed.

Rev. Mr. Merrill, in his address at night spoke more specially of the teacher in the Sunday school, his mission and his equipment. He considered the teacher the most important person in the Sunday School, outside, of course, the scholar. A school might have the most perfect equipment and be well organized but unless it had capable teachers, it would be a dismal failure. The teacher, he said, was the hinge upon which the Sunday School turns.

In the early days the world paid homage to, and admired, men of might—warriors—the men who returned victorious from the field of battle were acclaimed as heroes. A German Monk invented gunpowder. Another German Monk, the printing press, and an Englishman discovered the power of steam, and these three inventions and discoveries revolutionized the ideas of men. The world still pays homage to its great inventors and poets and statesmen, but high ideals in men are being recognized and honoured to-day as never before. The teachers of the world are recognized as its greatest benefactors. This was the place which Christ chose to occupy while on earth. He could have been a great poet, or a great editor, but He preferred to be a great teacher.

There are a million and a half Sunday School teachers, the speaker said, and he challenged anyone to find another million and a half persons as devoted to Christian service as these Sunday School teachers.

In the last analysis the success or failure of a Sunday School depends upon the teacher. If they are capable and devoted the school will make progress and fulfill its mission, but if they are not, it will be a failure.

Referring to this important factor in Sunday school success, the teacher, the speaker dealt with his mission, and his equipment. The former was fourfold; he must be an assistant to the pastor, and an assistant to the superintendent; he must be a trainer, and he must be a teacher, in all that the word implies. In the teacher's equipment, also four essentials were referred to. In the first place—and this was indispensible—he must have a definite Christian experience; he must have a consistent Christian life; he must feel a love for human souls and especially for those whom he is teaching, and he must possess knowledge.

For success in Sunday School work trained teachers were necessary, and in the case of failures in schools the cause could invariably be attributed to incompetent teachers and inefficient teaching. The duty of providing teachers capable of doing the best service rested primarily with the church, to which the Sunday school was a necessary adjunct.

The musical portions of the services were of an interesting character. In the morning the anthem was "Praise the Lord," by Hall, and after the sermon Miss Bellegham sang, in splendid voice, Gounod's "O Divine Redeemer."

The anthem at the evening service was Stearn's "Come, O Creator," which the choir rendered with good effect. The offertory selection was a duet by Miss Manning and Mr. Freund, "The Lord Is My Shepherd," by Ausliff, and in the rendition the singers' voices blended well, the number being much enjoyed.

Contracts Let For Southern Hotel

Secured by McIntyre Brothers —Brick Work by Jas. Rose.

McIntyre Bros. have secured the contract of building the addition to the Southern Hotel and raising the present structure some three feet or more. Work will begin immediately on the excavation of the cellar, and the foundation, which will be a concrete one, will be constructed in about two weeks.

The contract for the brick work has been sub-let to Mr. Jas. Rose, who will begin when the foundation has been completed. The building will have a 20-foot frontage, and will be 70 feet long, necessitating in the neighbourhood of 80,000 brick.

Largest Crowd In 5 Years' Time

Was That Which Gathered at Y. M. C. A. Men's Meeting Held Yesterday Afternoon.

Not for five years has so large a body of men gathered together in the Y.M.C.A. Hall on a Sunday afternoon as yesterday, when Evangelist Torrey, of the Baptist Convention, was the speaker. Every available seat was occupied, and many stood during the meeting.

Mr. R. Freund sang a selection with very helpful effect. Mr. Freund's efforts were appreciatively referred to by the chairman, who stated that Mr. Freund was leaving the city this week.

Evangelist Torrey gave a telling gospel address, basing his remarks on the pathetic story of the offering of Isaac by Abraham. He is a very forcible speaker, and his words produced conviction in many who listened. Rev. Dr. Torrance will speak next Sunday.

Eyes Worth Having

Did you ever stop to think that with the exception of the heart, the eye is the hardest worked part of the body.

As long as you are awake and your eyes are open they are working in your service.

Three pairs of muscles control the movement of each eyeball.

The two eyeballs move exactly together. Would you know the effect of their not working together—press your finger against one, so that it's position does not exactly correspond with the other.

How important it is that if these muscles tire and you have headaches and require Glasses, that your Glasses suit your eyes—our long experience makes us experts and able to fit you correctly.

Moral Reform Question Discussed At Convention

Rev. Dr. Chown Addressed the Baptists on This Question on Saturday—Report of Board of Ministerial Superannuation.

The following is a continuation of the report of Saturday's proceedings at Saturday's session of the Baptist Convention:—

Rev. W. H. Cline, B.D., presented the report of the Board of Ministerial Superannuation on Saturday morning. The report emphasized the pressing necessity for aiding the aged ministers, and deplored that these saintly fathers are, in many cases, being sadly forgotten. During the year the Board has aided 22 individuals; 15 of these being ministers, 6 widows and 1 orphan. Three of these have been added to the list during the year. Fifty-three churches have contributed to the funds of the Board, being 15 more than last year. The hope was expressed that the place given to ministerial superannuation upon the new schedule of offerings, might lead to increased contributions towards this most worthy object. The time for the offering is Thanksgiving Day or as soon as possible thereafter.

The financial statement showed receipts of $3,050.01, made up of balance on hand Oct. 1905, $783.46; churches, $976.27; individuals, $35.00; legacy Eliza Gibson, Morrisburg, $50.00; from members, $160.28; interest, $1,015.03. The disbursements were as follows:—Paid annuitants, $2,-235.00; administration expenses, $45.80, leaving a balance on hand of $769.21.

Rev. Mr. Cline moved the adoption of the report, which was seconded by Rev. Mr. Weeks, of Athens, in a very eloquent speech in which he referred to the fact that the church members had given in the proportion of one to every six thousand of the membership. The speaker made a strong plea for the superannuation work, referring to the fact that other denominations were increasing the stipends of their pastors.

He asked that the date of the offering for this fund be changed and that the permanent fund of the Board should be increased to $100,000.

The report was adopted.

G. R. Roberts of Toronto, speaking of the report stated that it was the only one of which Baptists had to be ashamed.

The report carried without further discussion. The following were elected to the Board:—Rev. C. S. J. Philips, of Montreal; J. M. Foster, Rev. W. H. Cline, Toronto. E. J. Stobo, Toronto, was elected auditor.

Dr. Chown's Address

Rev. Dr. Chown, representing the sociological work of the Methodist Church was then introduced and in beginning, expressed his appreciation of being asked to address the Convention. He said that he thought that he was the first man had been appointed to study sociology. The work had been in progress for three years and had been endorsed by the general conference. Its scope was as wide as the whole field of sociology. The work while supported by a denomination was not denominational. Its object was to get the people everywhere to live out the principles of the Kingdom of God. It was understood that the Kingdom of God was God's primeval thought. The Bible was written for the purpose of establishing it. The work of Christ was not done until he was established on the throne of every heart. The kingdom was preached by Paul and also by Christ.

Men who had no respect for the Divine will had no right to govern in a world which belonged to the Lord. It was better to say that man was a soul than to say that he had a soul. The importance of the work was found in the mission fields. The Japanese were finding Canadians out. They were reading Canadian newspapers and found them reeking with embezzlement, graft and political corruption. Our own door steps should be cleaned before they went outside.

Very Large Question

The social question was a very large one. It began with the church, now it is a question of money madness. The system of business carried on in Canada is not based on Christian principles. The principle of competition means that this man will get all he can out of that man. The great call of the church seemed to him to make practicable the golden rule. The man who put money first was a Pagan. Mammon and God could not both be served, and the man who put money first was paganizing his Christianity.

Canada was in danger of repeating Rome's experience. Men were measured by their dollars. Not by their services. The mony power could not dominate a church and dictate its policy without destroying it.

Political Questions

The political question was one that should be handled by the moral forces of the country, by the Christian church. He had had no idea until a few years ago to what extent political corruption had been carried in Canada. A sense of the sacredness of the ballot should be cultivated. The ballot represents the very soul of our liberty. There never would have been a ballot had it not been for the men who had poured out their blood to obtain it.

In conclusion Rev. Dr. Chown asked for help in the work. They were up against a legion of devils, the liquor evil, the cigarette habit, bad literature, gambling, the immoral theatre, and many other problems.

Vote of Thanks Passed

Rev. Dr. Thomas, of Toronto, paid a tribute to the Rev. Dr. Chown and assured him that he would have the support and sympathy of the Baptists in the work he was carrying on. In conclusion he moved that the thanks of the convention be the extended to the Rev. Dr. Chown, which was carried by a standing vote.

Committee on Resolutions

Rev. Dr. Cameron, of Ottawa, presented the report of the Committee on Resolutions.

A resolution of thanks to the Government for the Lord's Day legislation recently passed; thanks to the Premier of Canada for his interest, and all the members of both houses supporting him in the matter, and expressing appreciation of the work of the Lord's Day Alliance, was moved by Bro. Thomas Urquhart, of Toronto, and carried unanimously. It was seconded by Rev. M. P. Campbell, of Bothwell.

The request of the executive of the B.Y.P.U. of Ontario and Quebec, that a column in the associational reports be set apart for their special use, was granted.

The preparation of a small primer of Bible doctrine for use in Sunday Schools, Young People's Societies and Bible classes was approved and its preparation urged upon the Sunday School Board.

The Church Edifice Board was requested to publish in its annual report the amounts contributed by the Church Extension Boards, Churches and individuals for building churches.

A resolution regretting the revelations regarding political corruption, dishonesty in business and the growth of the speculative craze and urging the proclamation of Gospel standards of life and their adoption by all people, was moved by Bro. Wm. Craig and seconded by Rev. W. P. Reekie, of Sparta. The latter speaker said that local option was not a failure in East Elgin.

A committee to secure opinions on a site for a Baptist head-quarters in Toronto was appointed by another resolution. They will report to the next convention.

The work of the Canadian Bible Society was commended and the observance of Bible Sunday by the Baptist churches recommended.

Another resolution protested against grants by the Dominion towards religious work amongst the Indians as a violation of the principle of separation of church and state, for which the Baptists, as a denomination, stand.

Commissioners Began Their Duties In This District

Messrs. Irving and Clarke, the Horse Experts in Employ of Ontario Government, Visited Ennismore This Morning—Horses of Good Quality.

Messrs. J. W. Irving of Winchester, and J. A. Clarke, of Ottawa, the commissioners employed by the Ontario Government to investigate the horse industry of Ontario, in an effort to improve the standard, commenced their labours in this district this morning. In company with Mr. William Collins, secretary of the West Peterborough Farmers' Institute, they drove to Ennismore, where nine stallions were inspected.

Mr. Irving, when seen at noon by the Examiner, stated that the quality of the horses examined was good, although there were some poor animals. Six of the horses inspected were shire stallions, belonging to Mr Jas. Jacobs.

This afternoon the commissioners went to South Monaghan to carry out their investigations in that district. They expect to be through with this section by Wednesday evening.

Mayor Stopped Work On Water Street Gas Trench

Compelled Gas Company Men Under Penalty of Arrest to Desist Operations Until George Street Work Was Completed—Special Meeting of Council to Deal With Matter.

The attempt of the Peterborough Light and Power Company to begin the excavation for their gas pipes on Water street, at the corner of Simcoe, to-day, without first finishing the work at George street, caused trouble this morning.

Mayor Best ordered the work to stop at once, and notified the Chief of Police, that if the men were to persist in their digging operations, they were to be arrested immediately. Needless to say, the digging stopped, although when the Chief was at dinner the men took advantage of his absence to do some work in the Water street trench.

A meeting of the council has been called for to-night to deal with the matter, and it is expected that the session will be a lively one.

NEW TENDERS WILL BE CALLED FOR THE SCHOOLS

A despatch from Toronto says:—After a week's extension of the original time for their reception, tenders for the proposed new normal schools at North Bay, Peterborough and Stratford were opened in the Public Works Department on Saturday. It is said that all were found to be higher than the estimated amount for each school—$50,000— and that new tenders may be called for.

J. A. CORRY HERE ON WAY TO INVESTIGATION

Ottawa, October 21.—Mr. J. A. Corry, contractor of this city, who is wanted at the bribery investigation, was arrested at his house, at 7 o'clock on Friday evening by a detective from Toronto for failure to respond to a subpoena. He was subsequently granted bail by Judge MacTavish, Mr. T. Birkett, and Mr. Taillon, manager of the Banque Nationale, becoming sureties. Last evening Mr. Corry left for Peterborough, where he had business to transact, and from there will go on to Toronto. Mr. Corry claims that he has been unfairly treated.

Delegates Visited St. John's Church

The delegates to the Baptist Convention, through the kindness of the rector and wardens of St. John's Church, were enabled to visit that place this afternoon and apparently enjoyed their visit to the historic old edifice very much. They were received by the rector and the wardens, Messrs. C. H. J. Mitchell and Robt. Fair and were taken to the summit of the tower, the highest point in Peterborough, and from which a splendid view of the city and surrounding country can be obtained. From this lofty height the various features of interest were pointed out and the visitors descended the steps with a much clearer idea of the size and importance of Peterborough. The City presented a striking appearance from the tower and many of the delegates were heard to refer to the beauty of the place in admiring terms.

In returning to the church, Rev. Canon Davidson briefly addressed the delegates welcoming them to the church and referring to the history of the beautiful edifice. The gathering then sang "Blest be the tie that Binds" and several of the visitors led in prayer.

Yesterday At The Barracks

Yesterday was the first Sunday on which the new officers, Adjt. and Mrs. Wiggins appeared at the barracks. It was marked also by the presence of two Baptist clergymen who are attending the Convention. There were many present at both afternoon and evening services and all expressed their appreciation and pleasure with the addresses. In the afternoon Rev. Mr. Brown spoke from the 14th chapter of St. John, the 6th verse: "Jesus says unto him, I am the way, the truth and the light." In the evening Rev. A. E. de St. Dalmas addressed a large gathering from 3rd Chapter of St. John the 16th verse: "For God so loved the world, that He gave His only begotten Son that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish but have everlasting life. The people were very much pleased with both sermons, and Adjt. Wiggins and his wife were also delighted with the large gatherings that were present.

NATURE SPARES

The Stricken Rose From Grief.

What a fortunate provision of nature it is, that deprives the rose of mental suffering; for how poignant would be its grief to discover, in the height of its blooming glory, that a canker fed at its heart, and that its beauty and fragrance were doomed forever. Nature always spares the suffering: she is a veritable storehouse of pleasing rewards, for these who seek her aid. In the years gone by falling hair and grayness have cast a gloom over the lives of thousands of young women, but thanks to the investigations of scientists the true cause of hair destruction is now known to be a germ or parasite that burrows into the hair follicles. Newbro's Herpicide absolutely destroys this germ, thus permitting the hair to grow as nature intended. Sold by leading druggists. Canadian General Team Won First League Game

Quakers Lost on Saturday by 11-1 in a Good Exhibition of Rugby—Result of Game Was General Surprise—Quakers Have Protested.

Fred. Whitcroft's C. G. E. team sprung the biggest surprise of the season on Saturday when they put the Indian sign on the Quakers in the opening game of the City League to the tune of 11-1. The Quakers were looked upon as winners but they were never in any danger of carrying off the game. It was a clean-cut decisive victory for the electric bunch, who put up a strong game at all stages. Both on the back division and on the wing line they seemed to be superior.

The game was a good exhibition of rugby and was much enjoyed by the hundred spectators, most of whom appeared to be C.G.E. supporters. There was plenty of open work and the game was warmly contested enough to make it interesting.

The C.G.E. team, considering that they have had comparatively no practice, made a remarkable showing. They had no team play to speak of but their straight football tactics were effective and they used good judgment, taking full advantage of the strong wind in the first half to run up the score. The The back division was strong. Lang made few mistakes at full back and played the position coolly and accurately. Doris at centre half caught and punted nicely. The two wing halves McGrath and Hendry had speed to burn and got away for some pretty dashes. Capt. Whitcroft, at quarter, was always on hand with the merchandise. He handled his team well and his individual stunts were of great assistance. He punted splendidly, his long kicks being great factors in the score.

FRED WHITCROFT

On the wing line all showed up prominently. O'Connor was the star. He touched like a pile-driver and his ferocious line plunging always gained ground. Roddy did some pretty touching at outside, his speed making him of great service.

Quinlan was the main squeeze of the Quakers' back division and did three quarters of the work. His playing throughout was faultless. He caught and kicked splendidly and generally gained ground when he caught the ball. The other men on the back division fumbled badly and were slow in getting away, being generally stopped in their tracks with the goods on them. Walker and Collins on the wing line did a lot of useful tackling and played splendidly throughout. The Quakers were handicapped by the absence of Kelly from the back division.

The officials, Chris. Graham, referee and L. M. Watson, of the Bankers, umpire, gave great satisfaction.

The teams were:—

C. G. E.		Quakers.
	Backs.
Lang		Moore
	Halves.
Kendry		Bolin
Doris		Quinlan
McGrath		Fitzgerald
	Quarter.
Whitcroft, Capt.		Sisson
	Centre.
Armstrong		Canniff, Capt.
	Inside Wing.
O'Connor		Clarke
Dickson		Giroux
	Middle Wings.
McDonald		Latimer
Williams		Hamilton
	Outside Wings.
Hall		Walker
Roddy		Collins

Referee—Chris Graham; umpire,—L. M. Watson.

The C.G.E. team jumped into the game at the start, kicking with the wind they pressed at once. Sisson made a bad pass to Fitzgerald, which resulted in Whitcroft getting away for a 30 yard run. An end run by McGrath gained ground and then Whitcroft kicked over the line to Moore. The Quaker full back made a poor return to McGrath and the latter romped over the line for the only try of the game. Whitcroft was able to force a rouge. Score 6-0.

The Electric bunch still pressed. A moment after the kick off Dorris kicked over to Moore who managed to run out. Things looked bad for the Quakers when Fitzgerald's kick was blocked almost on his own line. The Quakers regained possession of the ball, however. Quinlan punted to Dorris, who returned into touch-in-goal for Another point. Score 7-0.

The C.G.E. kept up the kicking game and succeeded in scoring four more singles before half time was called, leaving the score 11-0.

Playing with the wind in the second half, the Quakers kept their opponents from scoring, but the C.G.E. had every bit as much of the play. The Quakers scored one point on a kick over the dead line by Quinlan. The play was very even, both sides kicking on nearly every case. The C.G.E. had the ball on Quaker's 10 yard line when time was called.

During the last period Dickson, O'Connor and Sisson were off for high tackles.

The Quakers played the game under protest on the ground that Geo. McDonald, having played O.R.F.U., is not eligible for the City League. The matter will be taken up by the executive this week.

No Cigarettes For The Lindsay Hockey Players

Manager Parkin, of That Town, Says It's "No Cigarettes or No Hockey" This Year.

Manager Parkin, of the Lindsay junior hockey team last year, and who will probably handle the team again this season, has been giving an interview to the Post, in which he makes the following observations:—

"The second consideration was the type of player we wanted. The first requirement was that he should be what is known in sporting circles, as "straight", which means he will always do his best and cannot be bought. Next, he must not drink intoxincats or smoke cigarettes. The cigarette end of it troubled some of the boys, but those who had a few "sub-rosa" at least cut the number down so materially that they were in pretty fair condition. This year it is NO CIGARETTES or no hockey. If the game's not worth the cigarettes, stick to the cigarettes."

Seniors Practice In Rink To-night

Every Man Wanting to Catch a Place Must be Out.

The Peterborough team will practise to-night in the rink at 7.30 o'clock, sharp, and every man is asked to be out in uniform. Those not turning out to practice this week cannot expect to catch a place on the team. Crowley and Ford will be out to-night to coach the team and Ford will be in the game on Saturday to give the signals and handle the squad. The team must get in shape to meet the Argos on Saturday.

Argo Match Will Be Great Game

Best Contest of the Season is Scheduled for Saturday.

The game here on Saturday between the Argos and Peterborough will be the best of the season as the two teams are the most evenly matched in the O.R.F.U. and will put up a great game. Peterborough made a great showing against the Tigers on Thanksgiving Day, holding them down to 7-0 in the first half, a really better showing than that made by the Argos. Condition, however, told in the end and the Tigers got going in the second half. The locals will be in much better shape on Saturday and should beat Chaucer Elliott's Chinamen. There should be the biggest crowd of the season on hand for the event.

City League To Meet Thursday

To Consider the Protest Entered by the Quakers.

The Secretary of the City League has received from Mr. Chris Graham, referee in Saturday's contest, notification that the Quakers have protested the game on the ground that Geo. McDonald is not eligible to play in the City League and that his playing is in direct violation of the rules. A meeting of the City League has been called for Thursday night at 7.30 o'clock at the Examiner office. All representatives should be present.

Arrows Defeated Midland Team

36-35 Was Score in Game in Bay Town.

The Arrows returned Saturday from Midland, where they played the senior team of that place Friday night, winning by the close score of 36-35. The half-time score was 20-18 in favour of the Arrows. All the local boys played a great game, the defence men checking close and the forwards shooting extremely well, scoring many very difficult shots. Excitement ran high throughout the game on account of the closeness of the score. The teams were:—

Arrows.		Midland.
	Defence.
N. Darling		Gould
R. Green		Tompson
	Centre.
R. Dobbin		Broad
	Forwards.
F. Cressman		Morgan
G. Miller		Bos Tuelle

The Arrows lost to Collingwood on Thursday night by 14-12, being much handicapped by the smallness of the gymnasium and different kind of baskets.

Movements Of Professionals

Lavioletta and Petre May Not Play on Soo Team.

Soo News—It is barely possible that oSo people will not see "Jack" Laviolette and Pitre on the hockey ice this coming season. "Jack" stated that he and "Pete" would play hockey this season, but that they were not yet certain as to whether it would be with the Soo or Montreal.

The boys like the Soo and like to play on a Soo team, but they have received some very good offers to go to their home town and play with a professional team this season, and are not yet certain that they will not take it up. "Pete" is now in Montreal, and wants "Jack" to come there, but he will come here if "Jack" insists upon staying in the International League. The boys are determined to play together.

If Laviolette decides to go to Montreal, he will leave the Soo about the first of neext month.

Brockville Man Goes To Sault

Harry McRobie Will Play Cover Point on Hockey Team.

Brockville, Oct. 22.—Harry McRobie, for the past three years cover-point player of the Brockville senior hockey team, has signed a contract to play that position with the Canadian Soo professional team, and will leave here on November 20th, to report for duty. McRobie comes originally from Iroquois, and is a strong defence man.

RUGBY.

The Crescents are requested to turn out in larger attendance to a meeting in Y.M.C.A. to-morrow evening at 8 o'clock. It is important that all should be present. Mr. Williamson has kindly given them permission to use the room adjoining the Assembly Hall.

Re-Christianize Our Education Was Message

Eloquent Educational Sermon by Rev. Dr. Cameron Yesterday at Murray Street Church—Large Congregation Present.

There was a very large congregation present at the afternoon service, in the Murray Street Baptist Church, when Rev. Dr. Cameron, of Ottawa, preached an eloquent and inspiring educational sermon. The president, Rev. Mr. Warren, Rev. Dr. Farmer and Rev. L. H. Hughson, B.D., took part in the services.

Rev. Dr. Cameron chose as his text Isaiah xxxii., 1-4,—"Behold a king shall reign in righteousness, and princes shall rule in judgment. And a man shall be as a hiding place from the wind and a covert from the tempest.

"As rivers of water in a dry place, as the shadow of a great rock in a weary land. And the eyes of them that see shall not be dim, and the ears of them that hear shall hearken.

"The heart also of the rash shall understand knowledge, and the tongues of the stammerers shall be ready to speak plainly."

In beginning, he stated that the statement made in the text was an assurance of a coming epoch. Human forecasts are speculative, inspired, prophecy is not. The paragraph points to an ideal state of enlightenment, in which knowledge shall be universal. It emphasized a golden age of knowledge which we are approaching, when the heart of the hasty shall understand knowledge. This God-given recognizance comes to the world through a God-man, the Christ.

"The prediction centres all our ideals of life, of progress, and of destiny," said the speaker. "Men shall have their vision clarified, their hearing quickened. Then divinity breathes in the air, the poetry of nature is whispered by an unseen voice, knowledge is as new-born. During these periods, rivers of revelation shall become the heritage of man. It is the early summer time of all ripened knowledge. Speech shall be equal to the expression of the most abstruse thought."

The prediction has an application to the current hour. While we rejoice in the overflowing rivers of knowledge, the rivulets of to-day should not be overlooked. The religion of the Christ can be made to minister to the increase of knowledge, even in the pre-millennial period.

Education fails of completion when Christ is not made central in its curriculum. Christian truth is a mighty mental inspiration. It means everything in our education when the mind finds its centre, and that centre should be Jesus Christ. All Bible History centres in Christ, hence its tremendous power. Give us the cream of all Oriental systems of religion, and how weak is the mental tonic compared to that of the Bible. As we study the Bible, thought rises above thought. We feel conscious that we are climbing. It is a mighty mental larder of brain and nerve food.

The wonder of the Bible is that it never dies. The library of Parliament is a great cemetery, but the Word of the Lord endureth because it has in it the spirit of its author. The best there is in man has been wakened and strengthened through the study of the Bible. The one magnificent conception of the Bible of Christ is a perpetual inspiration.

Imagination has been enriched when we have the right conception of Christ. The thinkers of the twentieth century do Him honour, the painter has no greater model. The nations who, to-day, have made the morality of Christ their law, are the governors of the world. Japan found this out thirty years ago, hence the growth of her military power. "The East aroused, are we to permit slumber to overtake us in the West," asked the speaker. Unless we have more advanced Christian education, this will be the destiny of our country and our culture will become our curse.

"Our great need in Canada is men of profound Christian instincts, as her rulers and teachers. Every such man is a factor of power and hope. God is calling over the western prairies, 'Give Me men, Christian men, men with empires in their purpose and new eras in their brains.'"

The demand for trained teachers also keeps growing. "In whose power are our best national achievements at this hour of Canada's development?" They are in the power of our ministers, missionaries and teachers. Canada is not so fortunate as to be born great, but greatness has been thrust upon her. Her national life seems to be in a transitional state. It may be our only safeguard to organize a mighty, active reserve force, moulded after the character of Christ. The combines of the rash and ignorant are always a menace, but their harm will be shortlived in a land where intelligence is the watchword. There is nothing greater than a great thought, except a greater thought. It makes revolutions and revelations, it is Marconigraphic. It is power, it is steam engine, it is electric motor, but in our age it needs direction, a criterion of right. Education should be made to run on the bed-rock road of Christian truth.

Dr. Cameron said that spirit is nearer the apprehension of God than mind. "Except a man be born of the Spirit he cannot see the kingdom of God." Until the true light enters the spirit, man's eyes are still dimmed to the wonders of the kingdom. Spiritual things are spiritually discerned. Education is first upwards to God, then downward from God to His creation.

Truth, as it is in Jesus, stands as the corrective to all our speculations in science and philosophy. Christ, in our curriculum, must reign in righteousness. Christ throned as chancellor becomes to our educational system a hiding place from the storm.

In Canada the highest education is ministered by the state. Its service has been incalculable in making secular education open to all. The result has been the secularization of education. The great demand of the times is the re-Christianization of our education. Culture was not always a friend of Christ, although Christ was always a friend of culture.

There is a drift towards dishonesty in business, and graft in politics. The cry is, "Give us education without Christ." "We must see to the re-Christianizing of education," said the speaker, "until the Christian schools of learning are so arranged as to re-Christianize education, progress is being made backward.

"As Baptists, we should evangelize and then educate," said Dr. Cameron. "Our university should stand with a denominational standing for the supremacy of Jesus Christ, for a liberal Christian education as the best safeguard of national liberty. The best assets of the state consist in the disciplined, intelligence and practical piety of her sons and daughters."

Christianity Greatest Of World's Religions

Rev. Dr. Waffle, of Woodstock, Preaches Able Sermon in Murray Street Brptist Church—Some of the Evidences of Christ's Greatness.

The Home Mission sermon was preached in the Murray street Baptist church yesterday morning by Rev. Dr. Waffle of the First Baptist church, Woodstock, Ont. It was an able effort, Dr. Waffle being a forcible and thoughtful speaker. He took his text from revelations 1st chapter, 12th and succeeding verses. He said, looking at these words as a mere portrait, some of the details were unattractive, and the picture was not impressive. If taken as a representation of the Lord Jesus Christ, the words were overwhelming in their magnificence and significance. Let the words suggest to us the greatness of God.

The first way to estimate the greatness of a man is to consider the impression made and left upon humanity. Other religious teachers like Buddha, Mahomet, Confucius, etc., might have had greater numbers, but influence was not always to be measured by numbers. In other religious teachings, there was no such development of character, as there was in Christianity, and when we consider the civilization brought about by Christ, we still find a greater divergence. It is easy to get men to follow what is their natural love, or their tendency to follow, but Jesus Christ went against human tendencies, and in the production of superior character and civilization has shown Himself supremely great among men. The speaker then referred to the moral greatness of Christ, His gentleness, patience, long-suffering, calmness. Then there was Christ's truthfulness, from which he never deviated. He was great in courage also. Few men to-day could be found who could be trusted to speak the whole truth when it was going to cost them money or social standing, or power. Yet Christ never flinched in higher courage. The speaker referred to the simplicity of Christ's character. His outspokenness and His straightforwardness at all times. All men were made by their environment to a large extent. We have never discovered a Shakspere among the Hotentots, or a Raphael among the Esquimaux. Christ was independent of His age and people. He had great power of insight, while another element of His greatness was indicated by His moral enthusiasm. He lived a life at the white heat of moral earnestness, and intense passion for humanity. Christ was also intellectually great. Man's greatness was often measured by the number, origin, and importance of the ideas he gave to the world. Christ's idea was to make all the kingdoms of the world into one kingdom — a world-wide kingdom, including the whole race, men of different habits, and conditions. Christ said very little about the church, but much about the kingdom. The church is not the kingdom, but represents the kingdom, and constitutes part of it. The cross is the power of God for the establishment of His kingdom. We are to conquer the world by the cross — not the cross of Christ alone, but by the cross on which all must die. Another idea was that the law of this kingdom should be the law of love. Christ taught no law of class or distinction. The world must be won for Christ. Men and money were needed; good progress had been made in combatting the wickedness and worldliness of the people, but under Christ, all things were possible, and the speaker rejoiced in the bright outlook for the future.

Rev. F. J Scott and Rev W. E. Norton, superintendent of Home Missions, took part in the service, and during the offertory Mrs. Miller sang a solo in good voice.

Objection To The Use Of Glasses

Sometimes people object to glasses, claiming that once put on they can not see without them. If after putting on glasses the wearer finds it difficult to go without them, this simply proves that before he wore glasses he was forcing his eyes beyond the limit of safety, a practice if continued, is sure to affect the health and sight. The person who lets pride, even excusable pride, stand in the way of glasses is doing his eyes and health injustice and is merely paving the way for future suffering and discomforts.

Sunday School An Important Factor In Work Of Church

General Opinion of the Baptist Convention—Young People's Societies Commended—Idea of Holding a Dominion Convention is Favourable—Church Day an Important One at the Convention.

At the afternoon session of the Baptist convention yesterday, Young Peoples' work and Sunday schools, were the subjects for the discussion. The convention was general in its opinion that the Young Peoples' Society was doing a good work in connection with the church.

The Sunday school report showed increases in the number of schools, officers, and teachers over last year. The treasurer's statement showed the receipts to be $302.09 greater than expenditures.

In the discussion that followed the presentation of the report, the importance of the Sunday school was recognized as the great factor in church work. The report of the Dominion Convention Committee was also received.

Devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. S. E. Grigg, B.A. of Belleville, Second Vice President Rev. A. L. Therrien being in the chair.

Mr. W. L. McKinnon of Toronto, presented the report of the B. Y. P. U. It spoke of the character of the work being done by these societies. The officers of the Union found that it was practically impossible to get into touch with the local organization. This was much to be deplored. The financial resources of the Provincial Union should be much strengthened, and the Union had decided to ask all Societies to take a collection on November 17th for the Provincial and International work. The splendid courses of study furnished by the International Committee, were commended in the highest terms.

The Young Peoples' Column in the Canadian Baptist had been helpful, but the pastors might make it more valuable by calling attention to any facts that were of interest to the young people. The new course of Bible study prepared by Dr. Geistweit was strongly commended. This course was published in book form and all the young people were recommend to read and study "The Young Christian and his Bible." The Young Peoples' Societies have brought strength and enthusiasm to the churches, but if churches do not possess such societies the young people should in some way be trained for service. The work however should be unified so that the enthusiasm of a good large organization would help the local gathering. It was a matter of gratification that the Young Peoples' Societies were training the young life of the churches in service, and that many ministers sprang from them. Success was generally traceable to good leadership.

Dr. A. A. Cameron of Ottawa, said that a good deal of the enthusiasm in Young Peoples' Societies had evaporated. He was a thorough believer in the Society, but thought that the evangelical spirit of the Societies had not been emphasized as it should have been.

Rev. Mr. Burt of Windsor, said that in the Society, the young people had been much helped by the courses of study.

Rev. E. S. Grigg of Brockville, said that the organizations of a B.Y.P.U. had a good effect upon the church prayer meeting.

The report was adopted.

Prayers for the Sick

At this junction word was received by the convention of the critical condition of Rev. T. J. Bennett, of Hamilton, and prayers for him were led by Rev. J. C. Sycamore, M. A., Hamilton.

Sunday School Report

The report on Sunday schools was read by Rev. B. W. Merrill, B.A. of Ottawa, General Superintendent of the Sunday school work. It showed that they had in their convention 425 schools, with 4,528 officers and teachers, and 338,372 scholars, an increase over last year of 15 schools, 131 officers, and 1773 scholars. In only three associations did the Sunday school enrolment equal the membership of the churches. The total average attendance in the schools last year was was 26,651, an increase of 739. The proportion of attendance to enrollment was .627. Sixteen hundred and fifty scholars joined the churches during the year an increase of 61 over last year. The total additions by baptisms was 3151, so that the Sunday school furnished 52 per cent. of all baptisms. The scholars contributed $7,118 to missions, an increase of only $5.39 over last year. The average contribution per enrolled member of the schools to missions was 17 cents; 145 schools contributed $432.38 to the work of the convention Sunday school committee; 280 contributed nothing. The schools raised for all purposes $32,631.33, an increase of $4,543.50 over last year, and an increase of seven cents in the avorage contribution per member. In view of these significant facts and figures the question was asked, whether the Sunday school was not the most important department of church work at the present day. The splendid service of the late General Superintendent of Sunday schools, was commented upon.

Treasurer's Statement

The treasurer's statement, which was also presented by Rev. B. W. Merrill, showed receipts of $1133.09, and expenditures of $302.09 less.

The adoption of the report was moved by Rev. J. C. Sycamore of Hamilton. In the course of his remarks he thought that it was a sad fact that 196 schools with nearly 14,000 scholars, report no baptisms during the year.

An Important Factor

The report was seconded by Rev. S. E. Grigg of Brockville, who was greatly pleased with the encouraging report, as presented by Rev. Mr. Merrell. In referring to the work he thought the Sunday School was the place where the greatest work was to be done, and he would just as soon give up the work of preaching as he would the teaching in the Sunday schools. He believed that the best method of keeping the young men together was to have an organization of some description which would keep them in a body, and reaca movement on behalf of young men.

Rev. B. Davis of Colborne, said that perhaps the number of scholars reported as being baptized during the year might be larger if church clerks were more accurate in making assocational returns.

Mr. H. Moyle commended the lesson leaflets. He thought that if the young men could be put to work their interest in the Sunday school would be increased.

Rev. C. J Cameron, B.A., Toronto, commended the summer schools of the Ontario Sunday school association, as a splendid aid in teacher training. McMaster University would soon do something for the young ministers in respect to Sunday school pedagogues.

Deacon Graham, in discussing the educational qualifications of Sunday school teachers said that the only thing the church could do was to use the very best talent available.

The report was adopted.

The committee appointed in the morning, regarding two orders in the ministry, a ministerial information bureau, etc., asked that they be continued until next convention. This was agreed to.

The Nominating Committee recommended through Rev. H. C. Priest, Georgetown, that a Sunday school Board be formed for the election of twelve members, in open convention, and by the appointment by the Association of a representative to serve upon the Board. This was agreed to. The following were elected to serve on the board: H. F. Stark, C. Cook, Prof. Cross, Dr. Bates, Rev. W. J. McKay, E. E. Hardy, S. J. Moore, Thos. Urquhart, D. Bentley, C. J. Cameron, Rev. J. C. Sycamore, and H. W. Brown.

Dominion Convention

The committee appointed to consider the advisability of forming a Dominion convention, reported through Superintendent Norton. The report of the joint committee had already appeared in the columns of the Canadian Baptist, whose readers were familiar with the progress made in the question thus far. The plan of forming such a convention, was approved, and the details were recommended to be referred to a committee of the convention to cooperate with similar committees from other conventions, in formulating a plan for such a convention. The other conventions have approved of the idea, and have appointed the committee asked for. Supt. Norton moved the adoption of the report.

Rev. H. F. Laflamme seconded its adoption and strongly supported the idea of a Dominion convention.

The report passed, and the following committee was appointed: Chancellor McKay, Rev. W. E. Norton, Dr. Bates, Rev. J. C. Sycamore, Rev. J. G. Brown, Editor McKay, Rev. William John Scott, D. W. Karn, C. Cooke, D. E. Thompson, W. Lamport, William Craig, Hiram Calvin, Dr. Perry, S. J. Moore, Dr. A. A. Cameron, J. McKergow, and Rev. H. F. Laflamme

Internal Church Matters Discussed At Convention

The Settlement of Pastors was Dealt With in Different Phases—An Advisory Ministerial Bureau Proposed—Suggestion to Have Two Orders of Ordained Ministers Arouses Much Discussion.

At the Monday morning session of the Baptist convention

Rev. V. H. Cowsert, Th.M., of Toronto, spoke on the question as to whether an advisory ministerial bureau was a necessity. He stated that the Congregationalists of the United States had had such a bureau in existence since 1819, and that the Baptists of New York State had established such a bureau in 1904, with Dr. A. Coit, of Syracuse, as secretary. Rev. Mr. Cowsert said that the benefits of such a bureau in New York State were all they had to go by in proceeding to consider the advisability of its adoption in Canada. The speaker showed that during a year's term the New York bureau had managed settlements of twenty pastors, and helped many a church and minister with good advice. All communications from churches and pastors are kept in inviolable secrecy. The forms sent out by the bureau were read. The general conclusion of the brethren in New York State was that the bureau should be continued as a part of the convention work and should be supported by the funds of the convention. Rev. Mr. Cowsert thought that if a similar bureau was established before they proceeded to organize it, all the facts about the New York State bureau should be placed before the churches and pastors, that it should be purely advisory, and should be adequately supported. He thought the bureau would be a happy solution for a difficult situation.

Rev. J. G. Brown, B.A., had as his subject, ministerial unrest, its cause, and its cure. There was ministerial unrest, he said. Most of the ministers came from the home mission churches, which have had a procession of pastors, and the early training had made the pastors accustomed to change. There was a tendency, too, in modern education, to breed in men a worldly ambition. He was afraid, too, that perhaps some of the young men had not consulted the Lord about the settlement they make. Some churches get men under false pretences. The facts concerning the real condition of the church were often withheld. Some restlessness is due to the anxiety on the part of pastors to reach results too quickly. Other restlessness is due to conditions in the church. Sometimes a pastor runs away from difficulty. Want of support makes many a minister restless. The remedy for the condition of things was that the fathers and mothers of the young members should teach them the importance of standing by their pastors. McMaster University should also impress this upon the students. There will be far less restlessness if men wait more upon God. The Home Mission Board was doing much to quell the restlessness of the ministers. There should be an induction service wherever a man enters upon a pastorate, for it would help to steady both churches and pastors. The question of salary was often due to himself. The ministers should not hold themselves too cheaply.

Following the three addresses, three-minute talks on the subjects discussed were given.

Deacon Wm. Graham thought that preachers should have the three most necessary qualities—grit, grace and gumption, and if they have them they will be sure of support. "Give us the McMaster men," he said "but there are many who have been through that institution who should be behind the church. You can not put the brains into a man when he hasn't got them," he concluded.

Dr. Brownlee, of Mount Forest, thought that perhaps not enough of the law of Christ enters into the relations between the pastors and churches. A church should not approach a pastor who was not satisfied with a view to a new pastorate. A pastor should never leave a place in debt to merchants, but this often had been done.

Rev. O. C. Elliott, of Stratford, thought that an advisory ministerial bureau might trench upon the liberty of the local church.

Rev. F. J. Scott, B.A., of Murray Street Baptist Church thought that perhaps there was a danger that the college course might develop the ambition of the student to an undue degree.

Rev. W. P. Reekie, of Sparta, thought that a committee which would furnish information to pastors and churches might be a help in the solution of pastoral students.

The second part of church problems, "Shall we have two degrees of orders of ordained ministers?" was taken up by Rev. W. E. Norton. The main idea he presented was that there were men who did good work in small home mission churches. These men have not had the advantage of much culture, but they were rich in common sense, and were consecrated workers. The question arises whether it might not be a wise thing to have an order of ordained missionaries, as compared with the regular ordained ministers who have received college training. Such an order was no reflection upon the worth of the ministers, but a regular ordination should represent a certain amount of theological education. So far, it has not done so. The Home Mission Board had as one of its rules that no home mission church should call a council for the ordination of the pastor without consulting the board. There were men who were in churches which should have pastors with power to baptize and solemnize ordination; they have no special training, and should they not be placed in a class by themselves, as ordained evangelists? This was the problem the board was facing. Rev. Mr. Norton presented the delicate question with great tact, and thought that such an order of preachers would not be unapostolic.

In answer to a question Supt. Norton said that the local church had no power to authorize the pastor to solemnize marriages.

Rev. Jesse Gibson said that there was a precedent in the case of Rev. H. F. Adams of Lewis street church, Toronto, and that any church authorizing its pastor to solemnize marriages was legally qualified.

Rev. Dr. Farmer said that the independency of the church must be upheld. The call made the man pastor—not the ordination.

Rev. Mr. Cowsert was opposed to the theory which seemed to prevail in the convention, regarding the ordination of ministers. He believed that the convention should not insist that all regularly ordained pastors should have a theological course. The best ordination under Heaven was the Spirit of God placed upon a minister.

Rev. L. S. Hughson, B.D., of Windsor, thought an induction service might make it possible for pastors legally to solemnize marriages. He believed that ministerial unrest was due to the fact that the pastors did due to the fact that pastors did not receive salaries upon which they can live decently. He suggested that perhaps ultra study would help the ministers to condition themselves to do better work in the pulpit and thus lead to larger pastorates.

Rev. James Grant, Rev. E. A. Brownlee, B.A., of Walkerton, Rev. A. A. Fanjoy, of Listowel, Rev. W. C. Weir, B.A., also addressed the convention on the subjects under discussion.

A committee consisting of Dr. Farmer, Dr Gordon, Rev. V. H. Cowsert, Rev. L. S. Hughson, Rev. W. E. Norton, Rev. Jas. Grant, and A. McNee was appointed to consider the problems that had been discussed, and it was decided that the committee should report later to the convention and if possible this year. The committee was also instructed to report upon how men may be stripped of ordination.

SMUGGLING JAPANESE.

Schooner Detained at Victoria—Severe Penalties Under Act.

Victoria, B. C., Oct. 23.—The Japanese schooner Sulan Maru is held here for attempting to run a number of Japanese into Canada. Twenty-two Japanese out of fifty-three on board were landed twenty miles from here on Friday. Nine have been apprehended. The detained schooner is liable to confiscation and a fine of $100 for each man not listed.

The captain said that heavy weather had blown them from the Copper Islands, where they had been fishing. The schooner was short of water.

Canada imposes no poll tax on the Japanese, but they are expected, with all other immigrants, to submit to inspection.

CAPITAL CRIME IN PONTIAC CO.

Two French-Canadians Have Fatal Quarrel Over a Woman.

Ottawa, Oct. 23.—Another crime is reported from the northern section of Pontiac County, and Jules Higelin, aged about 40, lies in Bryson jail to await the outcome of his alleged shooting of Jules Ghasqueleres, near Ville Marie. They are alleged to have quarrelled over a woman.

It is rumored that Ghasqueleres has died since Higelin's arrest, and an officer of the provincial force is now penetrating the Temiskaming wilds to investigate.

Higelin is sullen and refuses to speak.

DEPREDATIONS OF REBELS.

300 Men of United States 17th Infantry to Go to Subdue Them.

Havana, Oct. 23.—Because of the unsettled conditions which still prevail in Puerto Principe Province, where armed rebels are still hovering on the outskirts of the capital committing depredations, 300 men of the 17th Infantry under command of Col. John T. Vansordale, will be ordered to Puerto Principe to-day.

French Cabinet Making.

Paris, Oct. 23.—M. Clemenceau has begun the formation of a Cabinet. He offered the Foreign Office portfolio to M. Poincare, Minister of Finance in the Sarrien administration, who declined. M. Caillaux, who was Finance Minister in the Waldeck-Rousseau Cabinet, has accepted the portfolio of Finance. It is regarded as certain that M. Briand, Minister of Public Worship; M. Barthou, Minister of Public Works; M. Ruan, Minister of Agriculture; M. Thompson, Minister of Marine, and M. Doumergue, Minister of Commerce, will remain, and that Gen. Picquart will get the War portfolio, and M. Millerand the Justice Department. A new Ministry of Labor may be created with M. Vivian, the well-known Socialist Deputy, at its head.

To Make Recommendations.

Toronto, Oct. 23.—Mr. A. B. Ingram, vice-chairman of the municipal and railway board, returned yesterday from Columbus, Ohio, where he attended the American Street and Inter-urban Railway Association. The meetings were held from the 16th till the 19th, inclusive, and were attended by 4,000 delegates. Mr. Ingram stated that he would have some recommendations to make to the board as a result of his visit, one of which would be about fenders. The continuous rail is another point which attracted attention, and demonstrations were given of the welding of steel rails in 55 seconds.

Police Fire on Strikers.

Newcastle, Pa., Oct. 23.—Three strikers were wounded, two perhaps fatally, in a riot yesterday afternoon, following a strike of trestlemen at the four local Carnegie Co. steel furnaces. While a body of strikers attempted to stop operations at the Red Jacket furnace by stoning the workers and the Carnegie police, the officers fired a volley from their revolvers and three of the strikers fell, the others running to cover. The wounded are foreigners.

Even Better Than Frumenty

Old English Dish Is Now Surpassed by a Malted Grain Food.

Writing on the food problem and advocating a rational health diet, Dr. Josiah Oldfield, author of "The Claims of Common Life" and other well-known works, declares a sufficiency of grain food is necessary and refers to the old English dish of frumenty as a most excellent article of food. He also speaks of malted grain as a food for increasing years. This eminent author thus strikes the very keynote of health and strength.

There is a modern food which embraces all the qualities of frumenty and has even more, for it is malted grain. We refer to Malta-Vita—all pure grain and nothing else.

Malta-Vita is made by an extended and elaborated process of the old way of making frumenty. The whole wheat grain is thoroughly cleaned, then boiled in water and cooked in steam to gelatinize the starch. After the starch cells have broken down, the wheat is mixed with pure barley malt extract which converts the gelatinized starch into maltose, or malt sugar, highly nutritious and easily digested even by the weakest stomachs. Then each grain of wheat is rolled into little wafer flakes and goes to the great ovens where, under intense heat, it is baked crisp and brown, "done to a turn," and ready for your table.

All grocers sell Malta-Vita. 10 cents.

Forty-nine Men Picked Up At Sea From Wrec k

Houseboat With 150 Men Crushed By Giant Waves.

TWO-THIRDS OF THEM DROWN

Awful Loss of Life In Latest Southern Hurricane—Vivid Description of Horrible Plight of Laborers on Houseboat No. 4 of Florida East Coast Railway Extension Along Keys —Many Cling to Timbers.

Key West, Fla., Oct. 22.—Survivors from one of the houseboats of the Florida east coast railway extension along the Keys tell a harrowing tale of death and destruction caused by the storm of Thursday.

Crushed by the Waves.

W. P. Dusenbery, civil engineer in charge of the work on Long Key, who wonderfully escaped death, arrived here on the Austrian steamer Jennie, among other survivors rescued.

He said houseboat No. 4, on which were 150 men, was struck by the storm early Thursday morning, and was driven out into the gulf. The houseboat soon began to break up, and as the great waves hit her, men, singly and in twos and threes, were washed into the sea and drowned. Some went below for protection, but when the top of the boat was carried away the waves rushed in and the boat soon went to pieces. Thirty or forty of the men were crushed to death in the collapse.

Men Cling to Timbers.

The others grabbed timbers to save them from drowning. Mr. Dusenbery was in the hold, but succeeded in getting a log, and floated until Friday night. To one piece of timber sixteen men were clinging; nine were hanging to another. The sides of the houseboat were crowded with men. It turned over three times, each time reducing the number.

The Jennie sighted the wreckage, and succeeded in rescuing the forty-nine men who were brought here. Three other steamers, with searchlights, were picking up dead and alive men when the Jennie left the scene.

There was another houseboat with 150 men on board on Long Key, which Mr. Dusenbery thinks was also swept to sea.

Picked Up at Sea. 6

Miami, Fla., Oct. 22.—The steamer Virginia, with 21 bodies from the ill-fated steamer St. Lucie, arrived here Saturday from Elliott's Key.

A partial list of the survivors of the wreck contains the names of John Feeney, Buffalo, and Joseph Jury, Burlington, Vt.

A wireless message was received Saturday night from the Standard Oil steamer Lucas, 200 miles out at sea, announcing that she picked up at sea Friday morning, 35 miles from Flowery Creek lighthouse, seven men, all of whom were employes of the Florida Fish & Produce Co. Their boat broke loose, and they were carried out to sea, where the Lucas rescued them after a thrilling experience.

Lost Off Vessels.

Jacksonville, Fla., Oct. 22.—A special to The Metropolis from Miami, Fla., says.

The Miami steamer St. Lucie was crushed by the high waves in Thursday's hurricane, and out of 100 persons on board 35 were lost. The steamer Peerless also lost about the same number, they being blown off the vessel. The launch Elmora was capsized, and is thought to be a total loss.

MARINE GRAVEYARD.

The Daisy After Battle with Storm Disappears.

Victoria, B. C., Oct. 22.—The marine graveyard of the North Pacific has won another headstone, the schooner Daisy, hailing from one of the Puget Sound ports, being reported to have foundered off Pachena (not far from where the Valencia met her doom), with all hands on board.

E. E. Hardwick, arriving from Clo-se yesterday, states that last Saturday afternoon he and others sighted a small fishing schooner battling with the wind and waves some distance off the coast. There were several occupants.

As the wind was blowing hard, and a tremendous sea running, Mr. Hardwick and those watching with him followed the movements of the schooner with anxiety, feeling sure that she could not live long under such difficulties. The next day D. Logan found a plank, apparently from a sailboat, upon which was printed the name "Daisy."

Both have reached the conclusion that the fishermen manning the schooner Daisy came to their death by drowning in the recent storm.

SOME SAVED; 180 DROWN.

Russian Coasting Steamer Struck a Floating Mine and Foundered.

London, Oct. 22.—A despatch received here from Vladivostock by Lloyd's agency says the Russian wooden coasting steamer Warjagin struck a floating mine and foundered on Oct. 20.

A portion of her passengers and crew were saved, but the remainder, numbering 180 persons, were drowned.

DEATH FOR THREE BROTHERS.

Gale Upset Skiff and They Never Reached Home.

Hubbard's, N. S., Oct. 22.—Three brothers, sons of Freeman Young of Dover, were drowned on their way in a sailboat from Ingram Port to Dover.

The boys, the oldest of whom was about 18, had been given money last Tuesday morning to go to the lumber mills at Ingram Port for a load of firewood.

They reached here, got their load, which not only filled the sailboat, but also a dory they had in tow. They sailed for home on Tuesday evening but never reached there. Driftwood and oars were washed ashore at Seabright, and it is supposed that these came from their boat, which, doubtless, was capsized off that point in the gale that blew so fiercely.

Falls Off Scow, Drowns.

Kingston, Oct. 22.—John Nobes, carpenter, was knocked off a scow Saturday night, while going to the Thousand Islands Park with lumber. His two companions could not find him owing to the darkness, and the old man perished. His body was washed ashore at Wolfe Island and discovered yesterday morning.

Indian Ferryman Drowned.

Cornwall, Oct. 22.—Peter Mitchell, a Cornwall Island Indian, was drowned at International Park, Massena Point, just across the river from here, Saturday night. He had been ferrying parties from the Point to Cornwall, and fell out of his boat. The body was recovered yesterday morning.

Falls From Scow and Drowns.

Port Burwell, Que., Oct. 22.—Early Saturday, Bruce McKinnon of this place, who has been employed by the Manley Co. as scowman on the dredge St. Lawrence, fell off the scow and was drowned before help arrived He could not swim.

Two Boys Drown.

Montreal, Oct. 22.—Willie Wright, aged 11, and his brother, Harry Wright, aged 6, sons of William Wright of Island street, Point St. Charles, fell into the Lachine Canal basin and were drowned Saturday.

Walked Off the Deck.

Montreal, Oct. 22.—Henry Bergeron was drowned in the river Friday night off the Donaldson Line Wharf. He accidentally walked off the deck of the barge into the river. The victim was 40 years of age and leaves a widow and four children.

Drowns In Three Inches of Water.

Nelson, B. C., Oct. 22.—Joseph Sovell, roustabout on the lake steamer Kokanee, lately from Manchester, Eng., was found drowned in three inches of water. He had been drinking over night.

SOME TERRIBLE ABUSES.

Governor Magoon Finds Cuba's Insane Asylum In Awful State.

Havana, Oct. 22.—Gov. Magoon visited the national insane asylum yesterday and discovered a deplorable state of affairs there.

One thousand six hundred and sixty persons of both sexes are crowded into filthy and delapidated buildings, with a capacity for 400 people only. They are sleeping on broken cots, relics of the last American occupation.

Congress made an appropriation to enlarge the asylum, but the money was never expended. The conditions to-day are very little better than under Spanish control.

Governor Magoon will take instant steps to erect additional buildings and remedy the abuses.

LUTIN'S CREW DROWNED.

Divers Succeed In Getting Rope Under Sunken Submarine.

Bizera, Tunis, Oct. 22.—The divers working on the French submarine boat Lutin, which went down off this coast, Oct. 16, with 14 men and two officers on board, yesterday succeeded in digging a tunnel under her stern, through which a hawser was passed.

All efforts to remove the bodies from the Lutin have proved vain. Through the window of the hatch divers have perceived two corpses.

Memorial to Archibald Lampman.

Toronto, Oct. 22.—The annual convocation of Trinity College, which took place in the chapel yesterday morning, was marked by the special ceremony of unveiling a medallion of the late Archibald Lampman, M. A. The students and invited guests attended in such numbers that the chapel was filled to overflowing. The sermon was preached by the Rev. Frank DuMoulin, rector of St. Peter's Church, Chicago.

Aged Woman Suicides.

Brockville, Oct. 22.—A few rods from her home, near Carthage, was found the body of Mrs. Emerson Peck, aged 63, with an ugly cut in her throat. Nearby was a large butcher knife, which explained the cause of death. She was just recovering from the effects of a stroke of paralysis and her mind was unsettled.

A Premature Blast Cause Of Their Deaths

Sent George Ryan and Wm. Bowler to an Awful Death.

BLASTING WITH DYNAMITE

Party of Men Was Working at Point Anne Works of Belleville Portland Cement Co. When Accident Occurred—Men Died Soon After Receiving Their Injuries—An Inquest Will Be Held.

Belleville, Oct. 22.—A terrible accident occurred at the Point Anne works of the Belleville Portland Cement Co. Saturday afternoon, by which two men lost their lives.

A party of men were working in the quarry, and there was a premature blast. George Ryan and William Bowler, two of the employes, were so badly injured that they died soon after.

An inquest will be held. Bowler was a resident of this city, and was about 18 years of age. Ryan, who was also a young man, lived in the country. The men were blasting with dynamite when the accident took place.

HEAD SEVERED FROM BODY.

John Corrigan, Too Deaf to Hear Train, Was Run Down.

Hamilton, Oct. 22.—John Corrigan, a G. T. R. carpenter, was run down by a yard engine in the Stuart street yards yesterday morning and instantly killed.

He was very deaf, and while walking in a narrow space between two tracks the engine backed into him, dragging him some distance. His head was severed from his body, his hand was cut off and his body frightfully mangled.

The unfortunate man was 66 years of age. A widow and a grown-up family survive him. An inquest will be held.

DASHED TO PIECES.

Twenty-Three Chinese Laborers Fall a Thousand Feet In Mine.

Johannesburg, Transvaal, Oct. 22.—The rope of a cage, which was descending the East Simmer gold mine here Saturday, snapped, and the cage fell a thousand feet.

Twenty-three Chinese laborers, who were being lowered into the mine, were dashed to pieces.

A MIRACLE NONE KILLED.

One Hundred Injured and Three May Die In Football Accident.

Syracuse, N. Y., Oct. 22.—During the progress of the football game between the teams from Syracuse and Colgate universities at New Star Park here Saturday afternoon, a portion of the upper section of the bleacher stands collapsed.

The stands were densely packed and 400 people were precipitated into the enclosure under the stands.

It is a miracle that none was killed. Of the 100 or more injured, the death of three of them is expected, Rev. Christopher J. Donigan, assistant pastor of St. John the Evangelist Church, sustained an injury to his spine which may prove fatal. Prof. William Lusk, principal of the Union Free School, Hamilton, also sustained a serious injury to his spine, and he is in a precarious condition at a hospital. John West of Rome is injured internally and may die.

The accident occurred just after the resumption of play in the second half.

MINE FIRE AT GLACE BAY.

Twelve Hundred Employes May Be Idle Several Weeks.

Glace Bay, N.S., Oct. 22.—Yesterday morning the reserve colliery bank head was discovered to be on fire, the conflagration originating in a pile of slack coal beneath the structure. The colliery brigade turned out, but were unable to save it. The machine-shop also went up in flames, and but for a favorable wind the other buildings would have been burnt.

When the bank gave way the haulage ropes broke and blazing coal cars went careering down the slope with a possibility of setting the mine on fire, but were wrecked by the side of the track.

Spur Line at Port Hope.

Port Hope, Oct. 22.—Options were closed Saturday by E. Donald of the G. T. R., for the property required for the new spur line from the Midland Railway, through the central and eastern portions of the town, to the main line of the G. T. R.

Exodus of U. S. Marines.

Havana, Oct. 22.—The exodus of the American marines in Cuba will begin to-day, when 700 will sail. Six hundred will remain at Camp Columbia, while 1,200 are still scattered throughout the island.

Bavarian Fast.

Quebec, Oct. 22.—Attempts to float the steamer Bavarian have been abandoned.

FLASHLIGHTS OF FASHION.

Materials In Cloth, Silk, Crape and Velvet to Be Worn This Season.

It is interesting to know that stripes are to be in high style this winter. A smart design has each alternate stripe made up of complimentary shades. The stripes are shown in mannish mixtures of fancy suitings in many of the new cheviots.

Bedford cord is to take on a new lease of life, and prunella, a fabric very like broadcloth, is to be fashionable this season. Paris dressmakers are looking, too, with approval upon rep, a glossy, piece dyed fabric.

There are charming suitings in broken checks and blurred stripes showing a black satin overstripe. The ground colorings are effective in dark combinations of blues, greens and deep reds.

The new broadcloth takes on more of a velvet than a silken finish this year. It is soft and exceedingly beautiful. Printed satin brocades scattered with large floral designs will be much used as foundations for chiffon and silk grenadine gowns.

Something new in silken fabrics is plaid crape. It is shown in pompadour patterns, white crapy background, with the most fascinating of white silk stripes and big flowers in pink, blue or yellow scattered carelessly over it.

This stunning gown is constructed of smoke gray striped cheviot. The skirt is cut with a center seam, and the stripes hit exactly, forming a pointed effect. The bloused waist has a vest of gray messaline silk and revers and collar of crochet lace.

Cord Chair Seats.

When the cane is worn from chairs and they are not considered sufficiently valuable for the expense of new cane seats they may be reseated with heavy cord and will wear for a long time. The old cane should all be cleared away and the lengths of cord run in the same holes and knotted securely beneath. Then weave them in and out, after the manner of weaving the cane, although it is not necessary to attempt any special pattern. After reaching the opposite side the free ends are pushed down through the holes and tied beneath. Give the seat a coat of paint or stain to match the chair frame, and a very acceptable chair is the result.

BEAUTIFUL ARMS.

How They May Be Obtained With Little Effort.

A leading artist recently described the ideal arm as follows:

"A woman's arms are of just the correct length," he said, "when with the tips of her fingers she can measure just her own height with arms outstretched. The shape of her arms, however, is far more important than their length. They must be symmetrical to be pretty, the color must be white, while not pallid, and the skin soft and smooth. Perfect arms are round arms, and the roundness should extend all the way from the shoulder right down to the wrist. The arms must be plump, yet not fat, and finished off with a dimple at the shoulder, at the elbow and at the wrist.

"Dimpled wrists are rare, yet one does see them. A pretty wrist is one that is small and tapering. Certain wrists are so tiny that they look as though a string were tied around them above the hand. This kind of wrist is very childish and gives the owner an appearance of youth.

"Nice hands go with nice wrists, of course, and the woman whose arms and wrists are good will not neglect to make her hands nice also. She must preserve their plumpness and must see to it that they are the right color and shape."

A few simple exercises, which can be practiced in the privacy of one's bedroom, are all that are required, in many cases, to make an ugly arm pretty. There are very few with supple arms, and very few can lift the arms over the head high enough to escape the latter completely and touch the finger tips.

To make the arms graceful, clasp the hands at the back of the head and lean the head back. A great many persons cannot even do this simple thing. And, to make them supple, lift them over the head, swing them around and try in all ways to exert every muscle of the arms at least once every day of your life.

Women with good arms should endeavor to keep them nice in color as well as nice in shape. To keep the arms white there are several recipes, one about as good as the other. A great deal depend upon the nature of the skin, and the food that will whiten one cuticle will have no effect whatever upon another. Lanolin, with a little peroxide of hydrogen intermixed, will make the neck and arms exquisitely white in some cases. In others it takes a milk made of cucumber juice, benzoin and peroxide acid.

VANITY'S VISION.

Rich and Smart Are the Plaids. School Frocks—Millinery Fads.

The new autumn plaids in their dark, rich colorings are exquisite and rival in beauty the classic plaids of the famous Scotch clans. Olive and emerald green plaided in black, black plaided in maroon, dull heliotrope grounds, dull greens and blues, bronze that merges into blues and greens, are all to be seen in the shops.

Simple school frocks with waists and skirts in one will be worn by the small girl this winter. These dresses follow the prevailing style and are trimmed with rows of tailor stitching. The skirts are either plain or plaited, hang full from the waist and reach to a point below the knee that is becoming to the little wearer.

The willow plume is a smart variety of the ostrich feather that will adorn many winter hats. In some cases it is exquisitely shaded, the lighter effect forming the under part of the feather.

Pretty little pointed toques are trimmed with stiff wings arranged at the sides between a large oblong buckle.

The illustration shows a smart black velvet hat. The brim is bound with folds of black silk, and the same silk encircles the dome crown and is knotted and drawn through a pearl buckle in front. Two handsome feathers fall gracefully on the hair.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

THE GIRL WHO EARNS MONEY

She Owes a Duty to Herself In the Disposal of Her Income.

The girl who throws her money around carelessly, who never realizes the difference between use and abuse, who never has the courage to say that she cannot afford any pleasure, is not doing her duty. Her mind is going to be troubled and her life will be full of worry unless she mends her ways.

The girl who earns money owes a duty to herself in regard to it.

It is very delightful to buy this and that, to give here and there and to feel that it is one's very own that is being used. Did you ever stop to think that you give so much of your life in exchange for this money? Shall you count your lifeblood as nothing and waste it?

Shall you forget your duty to yourself as a natural sequence to everybody else?

The money that is earned so hardly should be spent so that it will bring the greatest comfort, so that it will be an umbrella for the rainy day.

It is the duty of the girl who earns money to be thoroughly informed not only as to her income, but her outgo.

It is the duty of the girl who works to buy clothes of good standard fabric. The girl who works is to be honored because she is a worker, but she must not put on the garb of a butterfly.

The girl who works generally has some one else to care for, and that is much to her credit. Sometimes it is the people at home, sometimes it is a younger sister who is to be helped with her education, but always a helping hand is needed.

The girl who works and uses her money only for nonsense is not fit to control money or to be the wife of either a rich or a poor man.

Learn the value of money. Have that knowledge, no matter whether you are a worker or an idler, whether your income be great or small.

The girl who earns money will never do her duty, will never do what is right, until she is brave enough to draw the strings of her purse against extravagance and sickly sentimentality and to open it to justice and proper generosity.—New York Press.

The Thin Woman's Clothes.

One of the unsolved mysteries is why the average thin woman is inclined to wear her clothes in such a way that they only accentuate her thinness. Instead of diminishing the length of her back by a deeply shaped belt she too often wears a belt so narrow that it looks as though she had taken particular pains to hunt down the narrowest to be found, and instead of wearing her blouse generously full and pouched in front she seems to take pleasure in pulling it down skin tight. In fact, the thin woman should wear frills and furbelows as much as possible instead of accentuating her long lines and acute angles by clothes that seem to be cut on her own pattern.—New York Mail.

SNAPSHOTS OF FASHION.

Artificial Flowers on Evening Gowns. Painted Parasols in Use.

Artificial flowers trim many of the latest models for summer evening gowns, skirts as well as bodices being trimmed in this way with sprays of lilies, apple blossoms and maidenhair fern.

White brussels net is always attractive at this time of the year and is especially pretty for a young girl.

Marabou stoles in dull blue—a light shade of the well liked Alice blue—are lovely.

A pansy painted parasol is among the most attractive sunshades to be seen in a fashionable shop.

A chic sailor hat is of fine greenish gray chip. Around the rather high crown is a broad fold of peacock blue silk edged at the top with peacock blue velvet. On the right side is a long graceful peacock feather, blue, green and gold.

Among the full length new corsets come French models made in two materials. The lower part of the corset is made of coutil or of batiste, firmly incasing the hips and so cut and made as to reduce their size as much as possible. From the waist line up the corset is made in what appears to be an open mesh heavy silk webbing, soft and elastic enough to be comfortable, though boned to shapeliness.

The waist illustrated is a dainty pattern for foulard silk. Tucked chiffon used on the cross makes the chemisette and collar. An emplecement of Irish lace trims the V opening at the neck and outlines the shoulder seams.

MODES OF THE MOMENT.

Blue a Popular Fall Color—Attractive French Flannels For Shirt Waists.

New shades of blue promise to be very fashionable this fall and winter. They are brighter in tone than those of the summer. One of the prettiest of the new shades is in an exquisite cornflower tint. China blue combines beautifully with gray blue and promises to be a favorite combination of the season.

Many attractive striped designs are offered in the new shirt waist flannels.

BLOUSE OF RADIATE SILK.

The color scheme often includes many bright tones that blend into inconspicuous harmony.

Radiate, a variation of radium, takes first place among the fall silks. It is almost transparent and very lustrous. This silk will be made up into elaborate blouses, but the waists require a thin lining of some description.

All kinds of lace and embroidery will be used on winter gowns, but heavy cushion embroidery is the newest fad.

Black silk lace will trim many smart black costumes, with a touch of color to relieve the somberness.

Sleeves are still elaborately trimmed, and it seems one can hardly overdue the matter in this respect. The short puffed sleeves are as full as ever, but they are less epaulet in fashion, most of the fullness being drawn toward the elbow, while the shoulder is flattened as much as possible to give a narrowing effect to the figure.

The blouse pictured is of opalescent gray and pink radiate silk. Bands of Irish lace ending in motifs trim the fronts, supplemented by groups of tiny tucks. The elbow sleeves carry out the same idea. JUDIC CHOLLET.

Imitation Taffeta Petticoats—White Canvas Slippers—New Gloves.

Petticoats of imitation taffeta that wear better than silk are to be had in all colors and in black and white. They are trimmed with plaited flounces or with single ruffles and range in price from $2 up.

Shadow voile is a new material that is likely to be worn all through the summer.

White canvas slippers are more popular this summer than ever. The smartest ones have a pretty bit of embroidery on the toe, a vine or a flower done in mercerized cotton.

Long black silk gloves with insets of black val look well with black short sleeved gowns.

and suits. The shades range from the palest blue and old rose to black, brown and the neutral tones.

Coin spotted silks are new. The spots are as large as a nickel, white ones in black and blue grounds and dark spots on white grounds.

Hand embroidered collar and cuffs in coarse linen, with a block of Hardanger lace in the corner, are attractive.

Peter Pan caps are smart and particularly becoming to round faced little girls who have long curls and cute little faces.

SINFUL HABITS IN YOUTH

MAKE NERVOUS, WEAK, DISEASED MEN.

THE RESULT of ignorance and folly in youth, overexertion of mind and body and future happiness of thousands of promising young men. Some fade and wither at an early age, at the blossom of manhood, while others are forced to drag out a weary, fruitless and melancholy existence. Others reach matrimony but find no solace or comfort there. The victims are found in all stations of life—the farm, the office, the workshop, the pulpit, the trades and the professions. Nervous Debility and Seminal Weakness are guaranteed cured by our New Method Treatment or No Pay. You run no risk 25 years in Detroit. Bank security.

CURED WHEN ALL ELSE FAILED. No same cure without written consent.

"I am 33 years of age and married. When young I led a gay life. Early indiscretions and later excesses made trouble for me. I became weak and nervous. My kidneys became affected and I feared Bright's Disease. Married Life was unsatisfactory and my home unhappy. I tried everything—all failed till I took treatment from Drs. Kennedy & Kergan. Their New Method built me up mentally, physically and sexually. I feel and act like a man in every respect. They treated me six years ago. They are honest, skilful and responsible financially, so why patronize Quacks and Fakirs when you can be cured by reliable doctors."—W. A. Belton.

WOMAN'S WORLD

MISS ESTHER KUNSTLER.

A Clever Lawyer Who Helps New York's East Side Poor.

New York's east side has a successful Portia, and she is only twenty-two years of age. She rarely loses a case and has become champion for the defense of hundreds not only in the police courts, but in the supreme court. The name of this girl lawyer is Esther Kunstler, and she occupies a cosy office with up to date furnishings at 158 Rivington street.

The girl is becoming famous for court room repartee. She talks to judge and witness in a "winning" manner, and her witticisms keep everybody in good humor. She generally creates somewhat of a sensation when she appears in any court for the first time, looking more like a schoolgirl than a lawyer, in simple dress.

As she speaks six languages fluently, her list of clients grows steadily. Many of the east side poor whose rights she has championed look upon her as a sort of angel on earth.

Miss Kunstler was born in a small town in Austria and has been in this country fourteen years. When only twelve years of age she began to study the big law books in her father's office, Felix Kunstler being a well known notary public on Rivington street. A little more than a year ago she was admitted to the bar. She loves her profession, and her father says it is hardly likely that she will ever abandon it to marry. On this question, however, Miss Kunstler is uncommunicative.

"My work is my life," she said. "I am happiest when I am defending one of my clients. It is a great work, and it is hard work, and I hope to make my mark some day."—New York Globe.

Don't Remain a Seamstress.

I believe that I have met more unhappy, sickly women among dressmakers and seamstresses than in any other two trades put together. It takes a girl of exceptional will power and physical endurance not to degenerate physically and nervously in this trade. The close confinement, the cramped posture in which you work, the constant strain on eyes, first affect the appetite and then the general health. The girl beyond you cannot stand a draft, so the window is closed, and you get not a breath of God's pure air. The proprietor of the establishment can save rent by selecting a dull, electric lighted workroom, and so you are deprived of God's health giving sunlight. Do not go into a workroom unless you are firmly resolved to bend every energy to getting out of it again—that is, you must determine to learn as rapidly as possible and utilize the knowledge thus gained on broader lines than eight or ten hours spent under the dictation of a forewoman who will drain your lifeblood if necessary to meet the exactions of a wealthy patron.—Anna Steese Richardson in Woman's Home Companion.

The Art of Chatting.

Can you chat?

Of course you think you can, but can you? The more you think of it the more you think you could if you would.

Not all of us even know what it is, says the Philadelphia Record. Of a truth, it is not mere talking. Neither does it approach the art of conversation. Conversation, if there be people capable of it, makes fascinating and stately entertainment.

Chatting is different.

Above all, it gets away from speaking on any special subject or hobby. Not that it may not dwell upon one topic, though should it do so it must sparkle from many different viewpoints. Above all, it must not be monologish. The woman who talks continuously of her ailments or servants and the man who never rests his hobby can neither of them chat. In real chat there's the element of the unexpected, the sport of chasing vagrant ideas that are based on everyday topics in which the company joins generally. It's a charming, informal accomplishment, as endearing as mediocre formality is chilling.

Voluntary Well Doing.

Children do many things that they are not told to do, and many of such things are worthy of a little notice. You cannot hope to direct a child in all his doings that are purely "free will" on his part. Many of them you will not see or know of until done. If your boy has been kind to a playmate, has been able to sacrifice his own wishes that some other boy "may have his way," it will help to form and maintain the habit of regard for others if you tell him that his action is known to you and that you approve it. It is always right to recognize his voluntary well doing. It is not necessary to tell him that he is better than other boys. In fact, he should never be told that or given to understand that. But if his action is in conformity with what a boy ought to be it will not hurt him to know that you know and are glad because of the fact. Tell your boy that you are proud of him, mother, and he will think that you are the best mother in the world, and that's a good thing for any boy to think.—Mother's Magazine.

Maid's Cap and Apron.

When one is giving a reception, tea or any little function in which the maid is in evidence at door or dressing rooms, a short, round apron with bib and fancy bretelles is worn, and the cap is a fancy little affair. One of the prettiest designs and easiest to make is a narrow lawn bow made with two short upstanding loops and two long ends and the bow set on a little half circle of frilled swiss. This is formed of a circular piece doubled over and caught down with the bow. The most approved cuffs and collars which can be worn now are the simple hemmed bands of swiss pinned on over, of about three inches depth in the cuffs and a low band for the neck.

Potato Patties.

Potato patties filled with minced vegetables make an attractive and dainty entree. Put hot boiled potatoes through a vegetable press, season them with salt, pepper and a little butter and add just enough flour to make a paste that can be rolled without breaking. Roll the mixture into a thick sheet, cut it out with a patty cutter, brush the cakes lightly with egg and bake. Fill the centers with peas and diced carrots, with French beans or asparagus heads. The patties may be baked before they are wanted and be reheated before serving.—New York Sun.

Raw Eggs Made Palatable.

If you have to take raw eggs to build up your strength (and there's nothing much better), take them without beating them up, without breaking the yolk. A dash of rich grape juice over the egg, a quick swallow, and, although you feel that a glove stretcher has been applied to your throat, the egg is down, and all the taste is a delicious bit of grape juice. Try taking it another time with a squeeze of lemon juice on it or beaten up with lemon and sugar and water—egg lemonade, in fact. And beating it up with milk is still another way.

Breakfast Bacon.

Slice the bacon very thin and shave off the rind, lay the slices in a pan, covering them with cracked ice. After fifteen minutes lift out and broil on one side, lay back on the ice until chilled and broil on the other. Break the slices into small pieces with a silver knife, mix with a soft boiled or scrambled egg and serve on toast. This manner of cooking bacon will consume more time than the ordinary way and a little more trouble perhaps, but the deliciousness of it will reward the labor spent.

Incombustible Woodwork.

Make a solution of silicate of soda and apply several coats of it to the woodwork. Make a second solution of the soda and mix with it sufficient whiting to make it of the consistency of ordinary paint. Then paint the woodwork over with it. Wood treated in this way will not take fire from mere contact with flame; it requires to be heated so thoroughly that gases will be given out, which, of course, would ignite quickly.

ARTISTIC WALLS.

Beautiful Results May Be Produced With Appliqued Paper.

Many women who have time and taste to expend in the beautifying of their homes are not aware of the novel and beautiful results to be obtained by the appliqueing of wall paper when attempted with care and a preconcerted plan.

Usually paper of solid tone is used for the background, the figures from another paper being carefully cut out and mounted on this according to the decorator's own design.

In this way it is possible to obtain combinations and effects not to be found in the regulation papers. Usually the designs chosen for appliqueing are floral.

Two of the most successful rooms in a recently formed woman's club are created in this way, the results being most successful. In one trailing rose sprays cut from wall paper are applied in the form of a low trellis along the lower part of the walls, which are covered in a solid tint.

The decorator, being an artist, has suggested with her brush a wall or fence over which the roses come tumbling in profusion. A frieze is formed in the same way around the upper wall. It is a room which never fails to evoke little "ahs" and "ahs" of delight from the visitor who sees it for the first time.

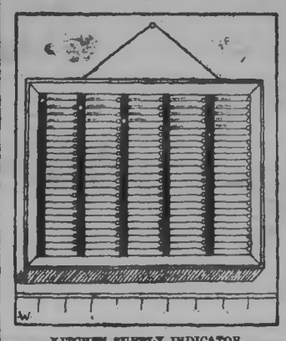
Another lovely room in the same house is papered in rough cartridge paper of soft gray tint. From another paper the decorator has cut out daisy-like flowers in primrose yellow rising on tall stems of soft yellow green, which tone in charmingly with the gray of the walls. These yellow sprays (whether or not they have a counterpart in nature) rising from the floor and terminating a couple of feet above the wainscoting give the effect of a tangle of bloom in some weed grown field.

Given leisure and an eye for color the devising of many such schemes suited to the appliqueing idea is a pastime open to any woman.—Pittsburg Press.

SUPPLY INDICATOR.

A Convenient Reminder For the Busy Housewife.

Every business man uses a reminder of some kind. Why should not the housewife do likewise? She has only her memory to remind her of what groceries and other supplies are wanted. No wonder she sometimes forgets. A great help to her would be an indicator similar to the one shown here.



KITCHEN SUPPLY INDICATOR.

Within a frame is a plate having rows of names of articles of household use arranged in horizontal lines across the front.

In front of and parallel with the names are rods, transverse rods extending at points adjacent to each row of names. Moving freely on each horizontal rod are indicators in the form of small balls, one for each name on the plate. In front of each row of names a black strip is painted on the plate. Normally, all the indicators are to the right of the names. When the housewife discovers she is short of sugar or salt, etc., she moves the corresponding indicator to the left. Before going to market she looks at the board and jots down each article she needs to purchase.—St. Louis Republic.

To Restore Nerve.

A certain doctor in Paris much sought after by fashionable ladies whose nerves are overwrought by pleasure adopts some curious remedies with which to cure his fair patients. To one fine dame he said: "You are on the verge of nervous collapse. Now, what you have to do is this. Every afternoon walk to such and such a hospital. When you get there ask for Nurse X. She will take you to the second floor, into a room entirely furnished in white. She will sit down in this room. You take a seat opposite to her and remain for a full hour without saying a single word. Then go back home by such a road, such a boulevard, such a square and such a crossing." In three months' time the lady was once again calm, strong, energetic and in excellent health.

Castor Oil.

Children who refuse to take castor oil will take it if fixed in this way: Take one cupful of milk, one of molasses, a half cupful of sugar, two teaspoonfuls of ginger, one teaspoonful of soda, a half cupful of castor oil and flour to roll out. Cut in shapes and bake in a quick oven. One or two are as good as a dose of oil.

THE WHOLESOME WOMAN.

Some Plain Words on the Real Secret of Feminine Beauty.

If the woman of the twentieth century is going to give the greater part of her waking hours to unnecessary care of her body, she sinks to the level of the Indian squaws who were the pets of the great chiefs hundreds of years ago. The squaws were oiled and painted and overhung with sharks' teeth and wampum—they had rings on their fingers and bells on their toes. What real differences are there between those fine ladies of the Choctaws and the Iroquois and the fine ladies of today? And yet there echo in the ears of the modern woman the cry of the child laborer, the cry of all the pressing, unsolved problems of the home and of the world—the cry of her own immortal soul—the while she dawdles over her silly face and grimaces before a mirror! The squaw was the nobler woman of the two. At least she "lived up to her lights."

The whole "beautification" enterprise is delusive. The woman who scrupulously regards neatness, who observes the laws of health, who does the duty of each day as though it might be her last and then gives her best efforts to making her world better and happier, without much considering her own complexion—that woman is not only admirable for her character, but she is also likely to be far better looking than her belaced, overdressed, powdered, rouged, "cerated," massaged and overmanipulated sister.—Kate Upson Clark in Leslie's Weekly.

TIGHT STOCKINGS.

Their Bad Effects Are Even Worse Than Those of Tight Shoes.

The habit of wearing tight shoes is a bad one, but worse even than narrow toes is the habit that many women have of buying hose too small for their feet and wearing them constantly.

It is needless to say that binding flesh in tight stockings is one of the most harmful forms of lacing, because it restricts circulation, and when that is impaired the individual becomes a prey to all sorts of ailments.

Stockings too large, the other extreme, are also bad, but the ill effects they cause are not to be compared with the wearing of tight hose. When they are too long and wrinkle over the instep and under the arch of the foot they cause callous places, and the folds of the material pressing into the flesh frequently irritate the skin, because of the constant friction of rubbing up and down with every step taken.

The ideal stockings have broad toes, so that the feet can lie straight in them. They should fit close to the flesh, not snugly enough to be uncomfortable, but just shape themselves nicely to the feet. Once such hosiery is put on, no other kind will ever be purchased again.

The seams are, of course, small and soft, and if possible get the types that have them on the outside of the foot instead of down the center, where, if the threads are drawn a trifle tight, they often chafe the flesh.—New York American.

Ships.

The first ship was brought from Egypt to Greece by Danaus in 1485 B. C. The first double decked ship was built by Tyrians 786 B. C.

Shaving.

Few nations have raised shaving to the dignity of a religious ceremony. In the Koran there is no mention of shaving at all, yet the Mohammedans shaved their heads in the same manner as the Hindoos.

CURE SICK HEADACHE.

THE HOME DOCTOR.

If choking, get down on all fours and cough.

After the use of a mustard poultice on any part of the body rub that part with camphorated oil to avoid the possibility of taking cold.

At the first intimation of a sore throat try a gargle of one teaspoonful of salt and one of carbonate of soda to half a glass of water.

If stung or bitten by an insect, make a paste of starch powder with chloroform and eau de cologne and apply to the affected part at once.

Persons predisposed toward erysipelas should avoid wines, strong tea and coffee and highly spiced or seasoned foods. The more laxative and cooling the diet the better.

When the youngsters burn their fingers, apply oil of peppermint. It is a wonderful remedy. If the skin is bruised, this cannot be used. In case of that kind apply a solution of baking powder or borax.

To Wash Laces.

To wash laces, make a suds with naphtha soap and tepid water, put the laces in it and let them soak for half an hour, then souse them around and squeeze between the hands to get the water out. Make fresh suds, souse laces around again, but do not rub, lest you break the meshes; squeeze, then rinse in two waters, with a few drops of dissolved gum arabic in the last water. If the lace is cream or ecru add a few drops of orange dye to the last water, or, if pure white, a few drops of bluing. Spread on a sheet to dry. When nearly dry pull gently into shape and roll from one end, keeping edges even, then wrap in a damp cloth and let lie for half an hour and press with a not too hot iron.

MAKE HOME PLEASANT.

Avoid Fussiness and Court Method and Neatness.

The best housekeeper is not she who spends the whole day slaving in the house—"doing the work," she terms it; muddling is the correct expression. A woman with method gets through her domestic duties even without the aid of a servant by midday or soon after and is ready to take a walk, make a call or two or rest comfortably with a book or her needlework. Her home is tidy, and she is always neatly and consistently dressed. Meals are prepared tastefully and economically and are always punctually served.

Although no one enjoys a pleasant chat more than she does, she avoids anything like idle gossip, and no one can tempt her to waste the early morning hours in talking over her neighbors' affairs.

A good housekeeper also avoids debt. She insists upon paying for everything as she gets it and sees that she gets good value for her money.

A fussy woman may be a prim old maid, but is probably an untidy wife, always very unpunctual, for she has "no time" to do anything, her faculty for fuss retarding her actions. She never spares herself, never idles a moment and thinks nothing can be done so well by any one as by herself; hence she is quite unnecessarily overworked, overfatigued and frequently fractious.

The husband goes to his club. The children are so accustomed to continued scolding that they become either hypocrites or unusually unmanageable and heedless of rebuke. To some extent they deserve pity, for they are teased about their food, clothes, health, exercise, games and lessons. Nothing is done without plenty of fuss and discussion, and many harmless pleasures are lost.—Exchange.

THE MEAT CHOPPER.

It May Be Made a Great Labor Saver In the Kitchen.

The grater has a black eye in housewifely favor. In its place the meat chopper has sprung into popularity. Many of the things for which the former was exclusively used are now done more quickly and with greater ease by the latter.

The meat chopper is a godsend to one woman, who makes chowchow so appetizing that she is forced to do it by the job lot. Formerly she cut the different ingredients separately until one day the brilliant idea struck her—why not put everything through the chopper? In went tomatoes, peppers, cucumbers and pickles one at a time, and all the former work of two days was done in a morning.

Apples, pears and quinces for butters are also put through the meat chopper with great saving of time and temper. Being cut much smaller, moreover, than they would otherwise be they boil down more easily.

All the juice from fruits prepared in this way must be carefully caught. The chopper itself should be scrupulously clean to remove all taste of meat. Boiling the parts in soda water insures perfect cleanliness.

CULINARY CONCEITS.

Beef or mutton reheated in a double boiler is a vast improvement over the ordinary stew.

Bread which is to be kept long should be kneaded longer than that which is meant only for tomorrow's use.

If custard is cooked too long and curdles, take a bowlful of it at a time and beat with a patent egg beater until creamy.

If a little boiling water is added to the sweet milk used in making biscuits it will be found that less shortening is necessary and the result just as good.

Before frying them try dredging cold potatoes with flour and you will be pleased to discover that they will brown much more rapidly and be greatly improved in flavor as well.

If the fat in which foods are fried is overheated and allowed to burn they will become positively unwholesome, especially to people of delicate digestions, because of the chemical change which takes place in the fat.

A SIMPLE DISGUISE.

Easy Way of Masking Yourself With Two Almond Shells.

Here is an easy way to disguise yourself and have fun with your playmates:

Take two half shells of an almond, large enough to be held between the upper eyelid and the cheek. Bore a small hole in the middle of each one a little larger than the pupil of the eye. You must do this with the sharp end of a penknife, as such a tool as a gimlet will crack the nut.

The inside of the shells should be thoroughly cleaned. Paint the outsides white with water colors. You can use oil colors if you like, only water colors dry quickly, which will enable you to make the monster pop eyes the faster.

Paint an iris of dark green around the pupil hole, leaving a white spot for the "high light," or, in other words, the reflected light which is in every eyeball. Make the iris (or dark portion of the eye) somewhat larger than in the natural eye. You may get the natural color by mixing blue with a little yellow and red.

Now fit these "goggle eyes" in position after the fashion of a monocle or single eyeglass, and you will find that you are practically masked. The eyes and their expression play a very important part in the makeup of a face, and these two simple "eye masks" will make people stare and stare at you ever so closely before they can be sure of identity.—New York Mail.

GRAMMAR GAME.

Any Number Can Play, and It Makes Lots of Fun.

Paper and pencil are necessary for this game, which can be played by any number of children.

Each player writes a noun at the top of a paper and turns it down and then passes the paper to his right hand neighbor, who writes a verb on that paper, turns it and passes it on as before; then an adjective is written, next time a pronoun. After the papers have passed round three times (the process is repeated as described above) they are collected and shaken up in a hat or in some other convenient way, and each player draws a paper and is given ten minutes to write a paragraph or sentence containing the words. With the words on the paper may also be used as many times as necessary the articles a, an and the, the conjunctions and, but, etc., also prepositions and adverbs. Proper names may be used for nouns when desired, and the verb may be used in any form. Here is a sample paper:

Noun, Bench.	Adjective, Toothsome.
Verb, To giggle.	Pronoun, He.
Adjective, Gorgeous.	Noun, Rhinoceros.
Pronoun, I.	Verb, Purr.
Noun, Polly.	Adjective, Silky.
Verb, Was.	Pronoun, Her.

Sample sentence from the above words:

He and I were on the bench giggling at gorgeous Polly when a silky, toothsome rhinoceros purred at her.

Magic Photography.

It is said that a photograph may be quite effectively developed by means of tobacco smoke. Nothing is seen on the paper, which is previously prepared, until it is held in the smoke, when the picture gradually comes out in strong black and white. The preparation consists in the treatment of a small photograph on chloride of silver paper, which is dipped into a solution of bichloride of mercury so as to bleach it and make it disappear. It is necessary to prepare the photograph without gold. The bichloride of mercury changes the photograph partly into protochloride of mercury, which is also white, and thus renders it invisible on the white paper, but if it be exposed to ammoniacal vapor, of which tobacco smoke partly consists, the image will appear. Our young folks who are interested in amateur photography should make the experiment.—Chicago News.

The Neck of the Waist.

Here's a point about the neck. The width of the back between the shoulder seams should equal in width that of one of the front portions of the blouse between the shoulder seam and the front of the neck. All told, the neck should be divided into exactly three equal parts, one for each side front and one for the back. A back that does not measure exactly the width of one side front is too narrow and the neck will neither fit properly nor comfortably. The shoulder seam should always remain straight at the neckband. If it needs to be moved the alteration must only be made more toward the back or toward the front at the armhole.

City Noises.

We hope it is true, as reported, that the antinoise movement is making headway in other cities. It certainly is not doing that in Chicago. In this town the notion always has obtained that noise is indispensable to activity and that the noisiest man must necessarily be the most active one. It is going to take a long time to eradicate this fallacy. In the meantime the interior of the loop is about as restful a place as a great battlefield. It is a perfect hell of noises, most of them absolutely wanton and unnecessary.—Chicago Chronicle.

A PRELATE DENOUNCED.

Mob Resents Archbishop's Statement That Civil Marriages Are Not Legal.

Madrid, Oct. 22.—The dogged opposition of the bishop to the royal decree permitting Catholics to contract civil marriages, is arousing the wrath of the country.

There were serious riots in the city of Valencia Saturday in consequence of a statement by the Archbishop of Valencia, that couples having been united by civil marriages only were living in a state of concubinage. There was a great demonstration against the prelate, who was fiercely denounced.

Amid cries of "Death to the archbishop!" the mob moved toward the archbishop's palace, but troops prevented them from reaching it.

The archbishop has been summoned to Madrid in order to allay the excitement.

MAINE SHAKEN.

Two Distinct Shocks Destroy Portion of Big New Bridge.

Portland, Me., Oct. 22.—Two earthshocks destroyed about 100 feet of the temporary highway structure known as Vaughan's Bridge, which crosses the upper harbor, Saturday night. The first shock was felt at 6 o'clock, the second at 7.07. Both shocks were light, but were distinctly felt.

Will Quit Using Seines.

St. John's, Nfld., Oct. 22.—The agents and captains of the American herring fishing vessels at Bay of Islands yesterday signed an agreement with the native fishermen to abandon the use of purse seines for the present season. This is a concession to the colonial fisherfolks, who strongly resent the employment of these contrivances.

The Jury Returned An Open Verdict

Saturday's Evidence Favors the Buckingham Strikers.

SAW THE FIRST SHOT FIRED

Alex. Cunningham, a Buckingham Lumberman, Says Alex. Maclaren Pulled the First Trigger—Were the Strikers on Public Property?—Right of Private Detectives to Act and Carry Firearms?

Buckingham, Oct. 22.—The jury returned an open verdict Saturday afternoon after the inquest on the death of Detective Warner of Montreal, who was mortally wounded in the battle between the local lumbermen strikers and the special constables, aided by the brothers Maclaren.

The evidence taken yesterday went heavily against the Maclaren side of the case. One witness stated that Alexander Maclaren had fired the first shot, which opened the fight.

First, in the case of a navigable river, is there any public property on the banks such as the foreshore of the sea border? On the bank of the Lievre River the police stopped the strikers.

Second, can proprietors employ armed men as watchmen even though they are sworn in as private constables?

Third, is it not the duty of persons who suspect trouble to notify the provincial or Dominion authorities, as it the case in England, where there is no such individual as the private armed detective authorities?

These are some of the points which will be threshed out and will probably form a precedent in Canadian law.

A Boy Was Killed.

One fatality occurred. Four small boys were driving a company's team when their horse ran away, and, dashing into a gatepost near the stables, overturned the wagon. Three of the boys escaped, but the fourth fell underneath the wagon, crushing his skull. Death came inside of half an hour.

The property loss to the coal company, some $5,000 to $6,000, is the lightest loss. It will take a few weeks to get up, even a temporary bank head to handle run of the mine coal, and in the meantime 1,200 employes will be idle.

Fatal Fall Off Car Steps.

Montreal, Oct. 22.—Homer Taylor, 60 years of age, and a well-known business man, was killed on the C.P.R. near Alexandria. He had left the train at that place for refreshments, and when it started the vestibule doors were shut and before they could be opened Taylor fell off. When picked up he was dead.

Shot While Hunting.

Montreal, Oct. 22.—Geo. Smith a skilled mechanic of the American locomotive works, accidentally shot and killed himself on Saturday while hunting at Lake Macassa, near Labelle.

Shot While At Play.

Toronto, Oct. 22.—Seven-year-old Cyril Storey, of 189 First avenue, is in the General Hospital, unconscious, with a 22 calibre rifle bullet in his forehead. He is the victim of a brother's unintentional act while at play together about 6 o'clock last evening

Auto Causes Fatality.

Essex, Oct. 22.—While driving his brother from Wheatley to Windsor yesterday afternoon, Benjamin Goodison was thrown from his rig and killed His horse was frightened by an automobile standing on the road.

Killed Handling Revolver.

Paris, Oct. 22.—Francis H. Raybon, a young Englishman, was accidentally shot while trying to turn the cylinder of a rusty revolver, and died in 15 minutes. His wife saw the accident.

Badly Hurt by Fall.

Cornwall, Oct. 22.—Robert McKay of Cornwall, Dominion Government inspector of the work on the Morrisburg water power improvements in connection with the new tin plate works, was badly hurt Saturday by falling into the concrete wheel pit.

Right Hand Shattered.

Brockville, Oct. 22.—While blasting for a sewer excavation the premature explosion of a small quantity of powder caused injuries to a driller named Burns, who right hand was so terribly shattered as to require amputation. A fellow-workman named Francis Troy had his sight slightly, but not permanently injured.

AN ENQUIRY PROBABLE.

Fernie Lumber Co. May Have Paid Royalties on Only a Portion of the Cut.

Nelson, B. C., Oct. 22.—Sensational evidence was given yesterday in the Fernie Lumber Co. suits for damages against the Crow's Nest Southern Railway, through fire originating on the right of way of the railway.

Inspector Martin for the Government testified that royalty had been collected on 900,000 feet of timber only, whereas accounts of the company produced showed more than double this cut. Government officials say that the books produced in court were not those inspected by him at the mill.

The mill accountant said he had never seen the inspector examine the books. He knew nothing of the books required by the statutory enactment.

An enquiry is probable into the whole matter. The court has adjourned and will examine ground at Fernie to-day.

CONTRADICTS PRITCHETT.

Mr. W. T. R. Preston Says He Had No Dealings With Pritchett.

London, Oct. 22.—(C. A. P.)—Friday evening the staff of the Canadian emigration office presented Mr. W. T. R. Preston with a handsome dressing cap, accompanied by an illuminated address expressing regret at his departure and the affection and appreciation felt for him by each member of the staff, and wishing him all possible happiness and success. Mr. Preston said he felt very deeply the severance of his ties with the staff, and spoke in very high terms of appreciation and regard for those associated with him in the work of the office.

Mr. Preston was shown by the Canadian Globe of Oct. 12, headed "Pritchett and His Story." Mr. Preston was most emphatic in his denial of Pritchett's statement. "Pritchett never received from me," he said, "either in the Ontario or any other election any money whatever. In that election I was not in charge of the party organization and had no intercourse with Pritchett whatever. I do not even know Pritchett."

Dynamited For Revenge.

Belleville, Oct. 22.—It turns out now that the reason for the dynamiting of the Marble Spring cheese factory, near Bridgewater, which took place recently, was enmity towards the cheesemaker, Bert Bouth. It is alleged that two men have a grudge against him. A provincial detective may look into the case.

Will Not Be Renewed.

Windsor, Oct. 22.—Hon. R. F. Sutherland has received a letter from the Inland Revenue Department, Ottawa, which intimates that the application of the Detroit, Belle Isle and Windsor Ferry Co. for a renewal of its Canadian franchise will not be granted.

MAKING FRENCH CABINET.

Col Picquart, Defender of Dreyfus, May Be Offered Portfolio.

Paris, Oct. 22.—M. Clemenceau, Minister of the Interior, was summoned yesterday to the Elysee Palace and entrusted with the task of forming a new Ministry.

He expressed his acceptance, and then consulted M. Sarrien, the former Premier, with regard to the political situation; M. Dubost, president of the Senate, and M. Bourgeois, Minister of Foreign Affairs whom he urged pressingly to retain his portfolio. M. Bourgeois was inflexible in his refusal, pleading ill-health.

M. Clemenceau also held conferences with his political friends, including Col. Picquart, the defender of Dreyfus, who was restored to the army and promoted in July. M. Clemenceau declares he has not yet offered any portfolio, and saw Col. Picquart only to obtain information on certain phases of the army estimates. It will take him four days to choose his Ministers.

PETITION FOR COMMUTATION.

Hungarians Will Look for Clemency for Vincleur Magyar.

Winnipeg, Oct. 22.—Hungarians of Winnipeg will appeal to the Department of Justice at Ottawa to extend clemency to Vincleur Magyar, who is under sentence to be hanged at Regina on Nov. 29 for murder, and in whose the full court at Regina, Friday dast refused tog rant a new trial.

Magyar was convicted of shooting James Campbell a farmer of Frobisher, for whom he was working, and with whom he had a dispute over wages.

FREEDOM FOR RUSS PEASANTS.

May Live Where They Please—Communal System Is Abolished.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 22.—The Government has issued a ukase removing all restriction regarding employment by the state, making all equal before the law and releasing the peasants from the vexations communal system. It proprescribes also that the peasants are now free to choose their place of residence, and abolishes the poll tax from January 1st, 1907.

Third Victim Dies.

Hamilton, Oct. 22.—Haakon Foster, Oneida Township, at the celebration of whose silver wedding 83 guests were poisoned by eating chicken, died to-day. This makes three guests of the feast who have died. The doctors think the trouble was caused by Ptomaine poison in potted chicken dressed with gelatine.

Gen. Andre Beaten.

Paris, Oct. 22.—A banquet attended by 600 Freemasons, given in the chapel of a former Carmelite convent here Saturday night, caused considerable rioting, and led to a number of arrests. During the disturbance General Andre, the ex-Minister of War, was beaten with sticks.

Two Disturbing Questions.

London, Oct. 22.—Parliament will re-assemble next Tuesday with two vexatious controversies before it the house of lord and education question and the labor party and the workmen's compensation bill. The meeting promises to attract a renewed attention to public questions.

Costly Blaze in Kansas.

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 22.—A fire that started Saturday afternoon in a booth connected with a street fair in Kansas City, Kas., caused a loss estimated at over $150,000, and for a time threatened the business centre. The Masonic Temple, valued at $50,000, 80 booths, containing valuable exhibits of various kinds, and five residences were destroyed, and the Central Christian Church was damaged.

REPARTEE

—FROM HEALTH OFFICER—

A FEATURE

Some Lively Remarks by Dr. Bingham at Meeting of Board of Health To-day.

Architect's Plans for the Isolation Hospital were Approved by the Board of Health.

Some lively repartee on the part of Dr. Bingham, the Medical Health Officer was the feature of this morning's meeting of the Board of Health, which body succeeded in getting a quorum together on the second attempt this week. Trouble began when Dr. Bingham was asked if he had a report to present in connection with the milk inspection.

The Medical Health Officer had no report. He stated that he had been taking a few holidays and had not prepared a statement. He had, however, began inspecting milk, the day after the Board's last meeting and the samples he examined were all right. This was shown by the fact that there was not much sickness in the city.

No doubt the Medical Health Officer, will hand in a report later, said Dr. Burnham.

Dr. McNulty said that the inspection of milk was a very important matter and he did not think that Dr. Bingham possessed the proper qualifications. Special instruments were needed and there were so many different ways of adulterating milk, that an expert was required to detect them. There was a great deal of sickness among children of the city and the work of inspection should be done by one who was competent.

This aroused Dr. Bingham and he retorted "I studied all these things when this young man was amusing himself on the banks of the canal at St. Catharines. I know all about it. I have the best text books and I study them. He has not been long in our city, but thinks he owns Peterborough and rents Ashburnham."

The matter was allowed to drop after this speech. Dr. Bingham was asked to bring in a report at the next meeting.

Once more the isolation hospital plans littered the board table. Architect Blackwell, acting on instructions from the Board had revised the plans according to the suggestions of the Central Medical Association and presented them for the approval of the Board. The chief change was the addition of a convalescent ward to the building originally planned.

After a little discussion the revised plans were adopted and Architect Blackwell asked to prepare a written report to be presented at a joint meeting of the council and Board of Health, probably on Friday evening.

Annual Meeting Ladies' Auxiliary

This Branch of Y. M. C. A. to Elect Officers on Thursday.

The annual meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Y.M.C.A. will be held on Thursday afternoon at 3.30 in the Y.M.C.A. parlours, when the reports of the officers for the year will be presented, and the election of officers will take place.

The past year has been a successful one for this important branch of the Association and by reason of this fact considerable interest attaches itself to the annual meeting.

OBITUARY

DAVID McKINLEY

Father Time called away a very old resident yesterday afternoon at 4 p.m., in the person of Mr. David McKinley.

The deceased has been suffering from an attack of bronchitis for the past few weeks, and was removed to the hospital yesterday morning. But this was unavailing, the old gentleman succumbing to the overpowering disease.

The deceased was born in the County of Armagh, Ireland, 76 years ago. In 1854 he was married to Margaret Truesdale coming to Canada with her three years later. Together they have been long residents of this city. Mrs. McKinley pre-deceased her husband eight years ago, and since then Mr. McKinley has been living with his daughter, Mrs. Robert Graham. There are left to mourn his loss three sons and one daughter. The sons are William and Thomas of this city, and Hugh of Toronto; the daughter is Mrs. Robt. Graham, of Roger street, East City.

The deceased was a Presbyterian in religion, and in politics a Conservative. He was a staunch Orangeman, a member of No. 424, Oak Hill Lodge.

The funeral will take place tomorrow to the G.T.R. station, and the body will be conveyed to Garden Hill and thence to Perrytown, for interment.

KING'S CAR

—GOING HIGH SPEED—

HIT A MAN

On Way to Newmarket To-day King Edward's Motor Car Struck a Pedestrian.

Serious Injuries Inflicted ---King Showed Great Concern for the Injured Man.

Examiner Special.

London, Oct. 23.—An automobile, in which King Edward was travelling to Newmarket, while going at a high rate of speed, struck a man near Hyde Park to-day, knocking him from the roadway and inflicting serious injury. The King got a severe shaking up when the motor car was brought to a sudden stop, but was not hurt otherwise.

He jumped from the car and superintended the sending of the man to the hospital in an ambulance. King Edward took great concern over the man's injuries, and expressed his regret that his car should have struck one of his subjects. His journey to Newmarket was continued at reduced speed.

Good Photo Of Examiner Race

N. A. Howard-Moore Took One at Central Park.

Mr. N. A. Howard-Moore showed the Examiner some post card photographs which he took of the Examiner road race on Thanksgiving Day.

The snapshot was made just above Murray street as Best and Wilson were passing the Central Park. At this point there was not more than two feet between the two men, both of whom seem to be running well.

It is the best photo of the race the Examiner has seen yet.

PORT HOPE

—ACCORDING TO REPORTS—

IS LUCKY

$250,000 Will be Spent There This Year in Railway Improvements on the G. T. R.

New Station, Freight Sheds and Refreshment Rooms to be Erected East of the Viaduct.

Examiner Special.

Port Hope, Oct. 23. — During the past two days Mr. E. Donald, on behalf of the G.T.R., has been in town closing options previously secured on property in the central and eastern portions of the town, through which the new spur line from the Midland Railway to the G.T.R. main line will run, in completion of the new G.T.R. grain route from Midland to Montreal. The G.T.R. have also purchased land on John street for new freight sheds, while a new station and refreshment rooms will be erected east of the viaduct at the junction of the new Midland spur. A quarter of a million dollars will, it is estimated, be spent in and near Port Hope during the coming year.

Another Railway

The numerous lake shore towns between Toronto and Kingston, which have hitherto been exclusively G.T.R. feeders, are now on the verge of the desired railway competition by the entrance of both the C.P.R. and C.N.R. Surveyors for the C.N.R. are working north of the town on the proposed Toronto-Ottawa branch, while Mr. D. Hillman, of the C.P.R., with a large staff, has gone into camp for a few weeks at the old agricultural grounds, making this point the base for the district between Newtonville and Cobourg in the survey of what is destined to be the main line of the C.P.R. from Toronto to Montreal. From Cobourg west the C.P.R. will run sufficiently north of the G.T.R. to establish more direct connections with Port Hope, Newtonville, Newcastle, Bowmanville, Oshawa and Whitby, entering Toronto via Leaside Junction.

BEST CONVENTION IN CHURCH'S HISTORY

Mr. R. D. Warren, the new President of the Baptist Convention, stated to the Examiner to-day that the present session being held in Peterborough was the most successful in the history of the Church in these two Provinces. The attendance was large, the reports highly satisfactory, and the Churches, as indicated by the reports, are in a flourishing condition.

He had nothing but words of praise for the Peterborough Baptists and citizens in general, the visit of the delegates to this city having been made very pleasant.

Carnival At The Roller Rink

On Thursday Evening, Oct. 25th —Four Prizes Open for Competition.

A Big Carnival will be held on Thursday evening of this week, at the Roller Rink. Four prizes of $5 each will be given for the following: One for the best lady's costume, one for the best gent's costume, one for the best lady skater, and one for the best gentleman skater, both to skate together and separately. Any person, with or without costume, will be allowed to skate the same as on other nights. It is not necessary to dress in costume to compete for the skating prizes. The prices for admission will be 15 cents to the gallery, or 25 cents for admission and skates. The rink will be open from 7.30 to 10.30 o'clock the night of the carnival. The band will be in attendance. Skates can be reserved at any time up to 7 o'clock Thursday night.

Steam Engine Broke Down

Saw Mill Hands Enjoy an Enforced Holiday.

The mill staff of the Point St. Charles mill are enjoying an enforced holiday, owing to a break down in the steam engine supplying power to the mill. The accident occurred yesterday afternoon and the men are off work to-day. It is expected that everything will be in working order to-morrow.

THE TOWERS

—ON NORMAL SCHOOL—

HAVE TO GO

This Is Said to Be the Decision of the Ontario Government Because of the High Tenders.

$75,000 and More Was What Builders Wanted to Erect the New Normal Schools.

The towers will have to go off the Normal Schools. This is reported to be the decision of the Government in respect to the new schools, one of which is ito be built in this city. The tenders received for the erection of the buildings are, the Toronto News learns, officially, all at, or over, $75,000, which is $25,000 more than the estimate of the Government architect, who prepared the plans. The News says:

"Some six tenders were received from various parts of the Province.

"The great disparity between the estimates and tenders has caused the Education Department to determine upon a somewhat thorough revision of the plans, with a view to reducing the expense. The ornamental towers provided for may be eliminated and other economical changes made.

"This will be done immediately, when new tenders will be called for.'

It is a regrettable fact that the towers, which add greatly to the appearance of what would otherwise be a plain building, have to be dispensed with, and it is to be hoped that it will not be deemed necessary to take this action.

It appears that local architects are not the only ones who are unable to figure closely, the difference between the architects' estimate and that of the tenders, in regard to the Normal Schools, being greater than that in the local Collegiate Institute tenders.

Chosen Friends

—The regular meeting of the Council of Chosen Friends will be held in the Sons of England Hall on the evening of Wednesday, October 24. All the members are requested to be present. 1d

HE MAY BE

—THINKS MRS. McALPIN—

HER COUSIN

Unknown Man Who Was Killed by C.P.R. Train Near Burketon 2 Weeks Ago.

May be Samuel Slattery of Ottawa--His Cousin Is in the City To-day Investigating.

Two weeks ago Friday an unknown man was killed on the C. P. R. track near Burketon station, and although the body was held for some days in order to establish the identity of the victim, no one could be found who knew him, and the body was buried.

It appears however that after nearly three weeks he is to be identified. Mrs. McAlpine of Ottawa, is in the city to-day and informed the Examiner that she believed the dead man to be her cousin Samuel Slattery, of Ottawa. She states that he was an umbrella repairer, and that he was in Peterborough and Omemee about three weeks ago, and was on his way to Toronto. Since that time nothing had been heard of him and she was afraid that he had been killed, since the somewhat meagre description furnished of the dead man corresponded with that of her cousin.

He was a man about 45 years of age, thick set, and about 5 feet 6 inches tall, and carried with him his umbrella repairer's kit of tools.

He was a cousin of Mr.. Barnes Slattery of Ottawa,, who, with Mrs McAlpine, was his only surviving relative.

Mrs. McAlpine will probably go to Burketon to learn if possible more of the man who was taken there, to ascertain if he was her cousin.

BEST YEAR

—SO THE REPORT SAYS—

IN HISTORY

Report on State of Religion Presented at Baptist Convention To-day is Most Encouraging.

Foreign Mission Day--- Christian Stewardship Report Presented by Rev. W. C. Weir, B. A.

To-night will see the culmination of the great Baptist Convention of Ontario and Quebec for the year 1906.

The convention, at which more than five hundred delegates were in attendance, has discussed some of the great questions pertaining to the welfare and advancement of the Baptist church, and progress has been made in every department. This was Foreign Mission Day at the convention — Christian Stewardship and State of Religion, being the subjects for discussion.

Before commencing the programme for the morning, the thanks of the convention was tendered the local press, Toronto Globe, and the organist and choir of the Murray street Baptist church.

Word was at this juncture received of the gradual recovery of Rev. T. G Bennett of Hamilton, for whom the convention offered prayers yesterday. The convention again offerd prayer for Rev. Mr. Bennett. The chair was occupied by the First Vice-President, Rev. W. C. Walker, of London.

Christian Stewardship

The report of the committee on Christian Stewardship was presented by Rev. W. C. Weir, B.A., of Villa Nova. During the year 32,000 leaflets on Christian Stewardship have been sent to the churches, and 400 special leaflets to the pastors. The year began with a deficit of $25; the expenses incurred during the year wre $64.72, and the income was $59, so that the present deficit was $30.72.

Rev. Mr. Weir, in moving the adoption of the report, compared the giving of the Baptist churches in the east as compared with those in the west. If the convention had risen to the level of the western churches there would be an addition of $822,000. The giving of Christian people towards the cause of Christ, as compared with their givings for amusements, tobacco, liquor and jewelry, was small; on the latter $34 per head was spent, while they gave only about $8.50 per head for Christian work. This showing was due to a lack of consecration on the part of the professed followers of the Nazarene. The work of the committee on Bible Stewardship was a campaign of education, and he pleaded for the support of the committee in its most improtant work. He supported the "tithe-ing" system. If the people adopted it they would give about six times as much as they do at present.

In seconding the adoption of the report Mr. D. Bentley of Montreal, hoped that the great work of Christian Stewardship would continue in the future.

State of Religion

The report of the committee on the State of Religion was presented by Rev. C. J. Cameron, B.A., of Toronto. The report showed that 12 ministers had been ordained during the year, 7 of whom had attended McMaster University. There had been 113 changes in the pastorates as compared with 119 of last year. The average length of pastorates had been about three years. Eight churches had been organized, and 20 church edifices had been erected. The committee had sent out circulars to all churches to elicit information. The numerical statistics showed that 3098 baptisms had taken place during the year, as against 2823 of last year; the net gain in membership was 1741; the net loss 107; present membership 47,245. During the past five years 12,317 baptisms had been made. About one-half of the baptisms had been made on Home Mission fields, and one half from the Sunday schools. During the year the churches expended $408,724, as against $408,918 last year; $99,051 on work abroad as against $72,234 last year. The total expenditure at home and abroad was $490,775, as against $482,152 of a year ago.

The average giving per member for work at home was $8.61, as compared with $8.86 last year, and $1.90 for work abroad, compared with $1.59.

The New President Dined The Pastors

Mr. R. D. Warren the Host at an Interesting Gathering at Oriental Hotel Yesterday.

An interesting gathering was held at the Oriental Hotel yesterday at noon, when Mr. R. D. Warren, the newly-elected president of the Baptist convention, entertained at dinner the pastors who had served at his home church, that at Georgetown. Those present were Rev. H. C. Priest, the present pastor, Rev. W. E. Norton, of Toronto; Rev. A. E. St. Dalmas, of Dixville, Quebec; and Rev. W. S. McAlpine of Brampton.

After dinner a few toasts were proposed, and responded to, the pastors in turn giving short addresses, in which they made many complimentary and congratulatory references to Mr. Warren, and to his work on behalf of the Baptist convention.

He was warmly congratulated upon his elevation to the highest office in the gift of the church, and the prophecy was made—and it was one which will undoubtedly be fulfilled—that the new president would fill the duties of his office with credit to himself and with profit to the convention.

Mr. Warren replied to the many kind things said of him, expressing his appreciation and referring to his happy associations with the different pastors of his home church.

The gathering was in many respects a unique one, and will undoubtedly live long in the memory of those who participated in it.

WEDDING BELLS

BOLAND--FINN

A very pretty wedding was celebrated on Wednesday, October 17th, at St. Paul's church, Norwood, by Rev. Father Conway, when Miss Mabel Finn, eldest daughter of Mr. John Finn, of Asphodel, was united in marriage to Mr. John E. Boland, eldest son of the late Peter Boland, of the same township.

The bride's dress was navy blue silk, with hat to match, and she was attended by Miss Mary Boland, sister of the groom, who wore a costume of navy blue chiffon, broadcloth. The groom was assisted by Mr. Jos. Finn, brother of the bride. After the wedding ceremony the happy couple drove to the home of the bride's parents, where the wedding breakfast was served.

The young couple received a number of useful and valuable presents. They are spending their honeymoon in Toronto, and on their return will reside in Asphodel.

Mr. D. J. DeVine Gets New Appointment

Is Made Ticket Seller at Union Station, Toronto, for the G. T. R.—Leaves Nov. 1st.

Mr. D. J. DeVine, who for the last twenty-seven months has been on the staff of the city ticket office of the G.T.R. here, has received the appointment of ticket seller at the Union Station G.T.R. office in Toronto, and enters upon his duties there on Nov. 1st.

Mr. DeVine is to be congratulated upon his good fortune in being given this appointment which is one much sought after in the traffic department. That he was able to secure it without solicitation and after having been in the service a comparatively short time, is a tribute to the thorough training he received in this branch of the business under Mr. Buston.

Mr. DeVine has been a resident of Peterborough for the last seven years, and during that time has made a great many friends, who, while they will naturally regret the circumstances which makes his removal from the city necessary, will warmly congratulate him on his new position which is a decided promotion. With the travelling public Mr. DeVine is very popular, and his countesy and geniality of manner made him hosts of friends. That he will make a success in his new position is a foregone conclusion.

He will not remove from Peterborough until next spring.

VENGEFUL ANIMALS TURN MEN INTO MIMIC MULES AND TOMCATS

Baldheaded Fellow, Poisoned by Eagle, Imagines He's a Bald Eagle—Lobster Fisherman Walks Backward and Apiarist Stings With Hatpin.

BALD-HEADED DICK THINKS HE'S AN EAGLE

Jermyn, Ia., Oct. 23.—When Dick Bermick was arrested on Friday for stealing a lamb he astonished Judge Joly by gravely announcing that he was a bald eagle and the lamb was his lawful prey. Dick is bald-headed.

Bermick seems to be insane, and his brother told the court that he had been acting strangely ever since a desperate battle with a bald eagle along the Mississippi bluffs.

Finding an eagle's nest, Bermick tried to capture the young ones, but was attacked by the parent birds. Before he had succeeded in driving them away he was covered with deep wounds inflicted by talons and beaks.

Evidently a poisonous virus entered his system, for his whole nature is seemingly changed. He makes unprovoked attacks on nearly every person he meets; he sits for hours in tree-tops screaming like an eagle, descending only to make a swoop on a chicken or rabbit.

His arrest came when he caught the lamb in a field, and after slaying it tried in vain to soar into the sky by waving his arms as if they were wings.

Judge Joly appointed a commission to inquire into Bermick's sanity.

MEOWS AT NIGHT SINCE CAT BIT HIM

New Orleans, Oct. 23. — Suffering from hydrophobia in its most horrible form, Samuel Bents was taken to a local hospital. Mr. Bents was bitten by a pet cat about two months ago but the disease did not manifest itself until four days ago.

Then he was noticed to be acting like a cat and crawling around on all fours. One moment he would be sitting quietly in his favourite chair making a purring sound and the next instant he would bound into the air and dash madly around the room, wildly endeavouring to climb the walls.

Bents stole into the yard at times and rolled in ecstasy among the catnip, and by night it was his favourite mood to sit on a back fence plaintively meowing until he had gathered around him all the cats of the neighbourhood.

At the hospital it is believed he can be cured.

LOBSTER FISHERMAN WALKS BACKWARD

Eastport, Me., Oct. 23.—There is no longer any danger that blood-poisoning will kill P. M. Zeigler, a local fisherman, but he still continues to act like a lobster.

While attending to lobster pots recently, Zeigler was caught by one large lobster, that tore his hand until the bone was exposed. Blood poisoning set in, and for a time it was thought the arm would have to be amputated.

With the healing of the wound Zeigler's skin took on a deep green hue. Strangely enough, when he became overheated this changed to a bright pink.

Then, too, the infected man, instead of walking in the usual manner, found that he could go about easier by running backwards, and in this form of locomotion he became quite expert. Zeigler has a strange fancy for lobsters as pets.

CRAZED BEEKEEPER STINGS WITH HATPIN

Savannah, Ga., Oct., 23. — "Pop" Shell, a famous beekeeper residing near here, who has been stung more than any other man in the United States is dangerously ill, suffering from a most peculiar disease.

He is so immoculated with the poison that he believes himself a honey bee and from morning until night he keeps up a low, buzzing sound.

Shell hovers over the flowers in the garden, and armed with a small syringe tries to extract honey from the buds. Always on the move, the poor man is wearing himself down to a shadow, and the physicians fear that unless the poison can be overcome he will die.

He is usually mild, but when aroused to anger he tries to stab his tormentors with a large hat pin. Fortunately these spells are not frequent.

KICKED BY A MULE EATS OATS AND BRAYS

Long Gap, Pa., Oct. 23.—Kicked by a gray mule four months ago, George Cole's brain was so affected that he has taken on many characteristics of that animal, and his friends are deeply concerned about his condition.

Mr. Cole was trying to induce the mule to draw a heavy load of cordwood up a steep hill, supplementing his words of encouragement with a hickory club. When picked up later Cole had a long cut over his temple and he seemed to have lost his mind.

A few weeks after this while at dinner he suddenly hurled a dish of food across the room, at the same time crying loudly for "oats, and plenty of 'em!" He would not be pacified until the oats were brought.

Then some of his cronies noticed that his laugh at jokes was most unusual, resembling strongly the "hee-haw" of a jackass. It was especially disconcerting one day when he broke up a camp-meeting with his laugh.

Quite recently he insisted that he be hitched up in a light buggy, and acting for all the world like a skittish mule he trotted down the road. Nearing Enck's Mill he shied at a piece of paper on the road and ran away, breaking the buggy to bits, and kicking at all who came near him, until he fell from exhaustion.

HOMES FOR WORKINGMEN

The argument for the $700 exemption on all dwellings has been much strengthened by recent events.

In the last two years everyone has been talking of the scarcity of houses for rent, and especially houses suitable for workingmen. To meet this want it has even been proposed that the city itself shall build houses and let them at moderate rents.

The $700 exemption would help to accomplish the same object without engaging the city in any experimental project, and without any appearance of paternal legislation. It would help the workman to help himself. It would encourage the man of small means to build his own house, and encourage others to build houses for renting purposes.

To illustrate, suppose a man has $1,000, and is in doubt whether to build one house, or two at $2,000 each. If the $700 exemption is granted, he will be inclined to build two because that will give him two exemptions, amounting to $1,400, instead of one of $700. Owners of vacant land will also be encouraged to build, knowing that they can obtain a sure revenue from rent, with a very moderate increase in taxation. A $1,400 house with a $700 exemption would mean, at 18 mills a taxation of less than $15 a year instead of $29.

A reduction of $14 in taxation, applied to house rent, would mean about a dollar and a quarter a month, quite a serious item in a house renting at $15 a month. But the main advantage would be the stimulus to the building of small houses. If we want Toronto to be an industrial centre, we must provide homes for the workers, or, better still, help them to build and own their own homes.—Toronto Star.

SLOW BUT SURE IMPROVEMENT

The Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario, on a recent occasion publicly called attention, and in rather forcible terms, to the apathy which prevails in Great Britain towards Canada. We all feel that there was some justification for his remarks, but it appears that they are not, in the fullest extent, borne out by the facts. We must bear in mind that the undemonstrative Briton does not wear his heart on his sleeve, and often thinks more than he speaks, and often quietly acts in a way not generally known, as would be the case if he ranted a little. The Canadian Gazette (London) has answered Lieutenant-Governor Clark, and seeks to show that Great Britain is not as apathetic towards Canada as has been intimated, and gives facts and figures to bear out its contention. It says that the Canadian loans, and municipal, railway and industrial enterprises listed on the London Stock Exchange have grown from £131,792,000 in 1882 to £308,808,000 in 1905. Secondly, in the course of ten consecutive days prominent British newspapers published 2,011 inches of news concerning this country, an average of 200 inches a day, or about 10 columns. The Gazette says that, according to the population, Canada secures much more attention in the newspapers than any other portion of the King's dominions. This is the other side of the case and gives information we are glad to get. The conditions are, doubtless, improving—Canada and her resources are forcing recognition of their importance upon the solid, not to say, stolid, British mind. Still the force of old-time habit remains, the British nose is still in the air, rather supercilliously. We must have patience. Britain's mighty power, solidity and world-wide influence are not the growth of a day, but the development of centuries, and we cannot expect that nationally characteristic attitudes towards the colonies will change in a moment. The patronising regard in which Britain has in the past too greatly held her colonial possessions is gradually wearing away, and there is a slow, but certain improvement taking place.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Mail and Empire says that Hon. Mr. Hyman persuaded Mr. Shepley to go into the land deals of the Conservative members of Parliament in connection with forester investments. Without any knowledge of the circumstances, there is prima facie evidence that the statement is incorrect—it is a political statement of the Mail and Empire. But even if Mr. Hyman did what he is credited with doing, he did well. We have had exposed the evil of directors of a trust making personal profit out of investments, an exposure which will, for many a long day, prevent others, similarly situated, from acting similarly.

It has been pointed out that while a few years ago most of the English papers devoted far more space to the development, and colonization interests of the United States than to those of all the British colonies put together, at the present time Canada alone receives about as much, if not more, of the same kind of advertising than the Republic. There is an excellent reason, says the Montreal Herald, for this, in the fact that the returns for both colonization and investment are now more promising in this country. Newspapers are run on business principles, and newspaper readers have a singular preference, or what is to their own advantage. Of course, the "Imperial spirit" is a factor as well, but the Imperial spirit ought to make Australia just as good reading, and the staring fact remains that it does not.

Best Year in History.

or a total giving per member of $10.51, an increase of six cents on last year. During the past five years for work at home, the denomination raised $1,849,784; for work abroad $391,816, a total expenditure of $2,240,822. The past financial year was the finest in the history. Several associations, however, decreased contributions. During the year one baptism had taken place for every seventeen members in the denomination.

Rev. Dr. Crothers, of George Street Methodist Church, who was present, was introduced by the chairman, and called upon to say a few words.

The adoption of the report was moved by Rev. J. B. Kennedy, M.A., of Toronto, and seconded by Mr. H. Moyle, of Toronto.

Rev. J. H. Cameron, B.A., of Collingwood, thought that sometimes emotion was mistaken for spirituality, and that when men were brought into real fellowship with Christ there would be a great increase in our gifts to His work.

Deacon Wm. Graham thought that dancing professing Christians got too soon into the water. He thought that if a Baptist could drift into any other church, the training he had received must have been defective.

Rev. J. B. Kennedy, M.A., had a resolution regarding pastors' salaries. Forty per cent. of the churches had made no increase in pastors' salaries during the past five years. He believed there was a close connection between the smallness of the salary and the constant change in the pastorate. He referred to the increase in Methodist and Presbyterian pastors' salaries, and asked, "Shall the Baptists be behind these other denominations? We claim we are the people of God—that we are orthodox," and it was a shame, he thought, that so many salaries of pastors had been left unraised.

The resolution respectfully asked the churches to provide for their ministers a salary of at least $750 per year, and that the raising of this should take the first place in their financial efforts. Rev. Mr. Kennedy said that churches gave contributions to missions and McMaster University and left the pastors' salaries unpaid. Denominational representatives should insist that the churches should pay the pastor first before they gave to other objects.

Rev. G. R. Welch, B.A., of Lindsay, suggested that the adoption of the resolution should be moved and seconded by laymen, as it would then have more force.

The report of the Committee on State of Religion was then adopted.

Rev. J. B. Kennedy then moved his resolution regarding pastors' salaries. It was seconded by Mr. Moyle, of Toronto.

It was moved and seconded that the motion be deferred until the convention next year.

Rev. Mr. Kennedy's resolution was carried by a majority of 9.

T. HURLEY'S LOT BARGAINS

This is fortune knocking at your door. Investigate before it passes to another.

Buy one block, 8 lots, 30x147 ft., cost $400—$10 cash, and balance $5 per month. When half is paid I will assist with building.

I believe those lots will be worth $400 each within 10 years. Cut it in two and say they will be worth $200 each, or $1600 for the eight. This gives you a profit of $1200.

Suppose you put $400 in the bank it will yield say $1.25, or $1,075 less than the lots at half estimated value, besides, the lots will supply many wants for your family.

There is brick factory and school at door; other industries will be added very soon. The low price quoted will not be accepted after this month. Call, see plan and get full information at office, 282 Hunter Street.

An Old Wound Would Not Heal

UNTIL THE BLOOD WAS ENRICHED BY DR. CHASE'S NERVE FOOD AND THE SKIN HEALED BY

Dr. Chase's Ointment

It is sometimes impossible to heal an old sore because of the weak, watery condition of the blood, and this is also frequently the case with chronic eczema or salt rheum. Under such circumstances Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is recommended as a means of restoring the quality of the blood, while Dr. Chase's Ointment is used to heal the raw, flaming flesh.

The cure of an old would as described in the letter below gives an illustration of the splendid results obtained from the combined use of these medicines.

Mr. Chas. Wheeler, Grand View, Man., writes: "I am pleased to recommend Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and Ointment. I had a very bad leg as the result of an old wound which I received years ago. It seemed impossible to get it healed up. As I was very much run down in health. I began the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to enrich the blood and build up the system, while Dr. Chase's Ointment was applied locally to heal up the old sore.

"Ten boxes of the former and six of the latter were sufficient for a complete cure, and I am glad to say I have had good health ever since. It is a year since I discontinued the treatment, so I consider the cure a permanent one."

As a means of curing eczema, salt rheum, old sores and every form of itching skin disease, there is no treatment to be compared to Dr. Chase's Ointment. By its healing, soothing, antiseptic influence, it cleanses the sores, allays the inflammation, stops the itching, and heals the raw, flaming flesh.

Dr. Chase's Ointment is a necessity in every home where its merits are known and is indispensable in the nursery; 60 cents a box, at all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. 3

"Rochester Jr" Time Can Be Easily Overcome

Local Company Builds Motor Boat Which Possesses Many Features of Speed—An Advance Made in Boat Building In This City.

Readers of The Examiner will remember reading, about a month ago, of the departure made in boat building by the Peterborough Canoe Company. Under the direction of Mr. Batisto Audette, the foreman of that company, who was its designer, a motor-boat was constructed. These boats are built for the purpose of speed, and this particular one was built for the same purpose. With a proper engine, it was thought that almost any speed up to twenty miles an hour could be made, although that seems a rather high figure. The test was made yesterday, when the boat was launched at the rear of the company's premises. The engine it is fitted with is only a temporary one, being of six h.p. It was too late in the season to wait until an ordered one should arrive, and as the owners desired that the first run be made this fall, this engine was installed. The greatest hopes of the designer were fulfilled, if not surpassed. The boat proved to be a great success in its trial trip, with only an inferior engine. The rate of speed made yesterday was at least twelve miles per hour, while it was running, and, with a better engine the result can scarcely be estimated. Those who saw the Rochester Jr. this summer know that its speed was no more than fifteen miles per hour, and it is believed that even with the present engine, that speed can be equalled. Several motor-boat enthusiasts, who saw yesterday's performance, were very much surprised that the boat was so successful.

The manufacture of these boats will become a specialty at the Peterborough Canoe Company's works in the near future, and owing to the universal demand for them, should develop into an important branch of boat building. The company and Mr. Audette are to be congratulated on their enterprise and foresight, and should meet with success on all sides in this venture. A very desirable feature of these boats is their price. The builders claim that they will surprise intending purchasers of motor-boats by the low prices they intend to ask. It is thought that there will be quite a number of these boats seen in local waters next year, and buyers need not go beyond their own city to procure the best and the cheapest.

New Dental Office For Dr. Wightman

In the Premises Formerly Occupied by Dr. Bagshaw.

Dr. Wightman, whose office for some time has been situated in the Bank of Commerce building, and who has been practicing in Peterborough for about eight years, has changed the location of his office. He has secured the fine, central and commodious premises recently occupied by Dr. Bagshaw, over McDonald's drug store, corner of George and Hunter street. For the past week the doctor has had workmen engaged in remodelling the interior and adapting it to meet the requirements of a large and increasing patronage. He is now in full possession where his patrons will find him in future, better equipped to carry on his profession.

The New York Stock Market

(Furnished by J. R. Heintz & Co.)

New York, Oct. 23.—There was a good deal of profit-taking at the opening to-day on the part of last week's buyers, while some weak long holdings were still overhanging the market and the floor element was disposed to sell for a turn. In consequence the opening was rather weak, most of the active issues showing fractional losses which were enlarged in the next two hours. The London market was not particularly active in view of the settlement and prices were inclined to work easier, especially in the American department. It was reported from good sources that the London selling to our market is about over.

Some good investment buying is reported in good stocks for outside account. Issues returning about 5 per cent. or more are taken, buyers seeming to think money on time will go below that figure before the end of the year.

The market rallied strongly in the afternoon, bringing prices back to the opening figures or above that. There was very heavy buying of steel common and U.P. The close was active and strong.

The Irwin-Hamilton Nuptials This Afternoon

Few more interesting or popular weddings have ever been celebrated in Peterborough than that which took place this afternoon at 2.30, at "Highland Hall," the beautiful residence of Mr. Wm. Irwin, when his eldest daughter, Annie, was united in marriage to Mr. James Hamilton, eldest son of Mr. Peter Hamilton, the respected head of the Peter Hamilton Manufacturing Company, Limited.

Guests to the number of about 75 were present at the enjoyable function, many of them coming from out of the city to participate in the pleasing event.

It was a chrysanthemum wedding, the decorative scheme being carried out in this flower, pink and white flowers being used in the drawing and dining rooms.

The Ceremony

The ceremony took place in the spacious drawing room, which was artistically decorated with smilax, ferns and pink and white chrysanthemums, the bridal party taking their positions beneath a beautiful arch of greenery, relieved by the pretty settings of Japan's national flower. Rev. Dr. Torrence, pastor of St. Paul's Church was the officiating clergyman. As the bridal party descended the wide stairway, Miss Marian Bilton, of Toronto, who presided at the piano, played the wedding march from Lohengrin, Miss Eva Irwin, sister of the bride, being the accompanist on the violin. Miss Lizzie Irwin, sister of the bride was maid of honour, the bridesmaids being Miss Marlie Hall and Miss Alison Hamilton.

The bride, who was given away by her father, was attired in a pretty Empire gown of white silk crepe de chine embroidered in velvet, over chifton and taffeta, the bodice being adorned with rare old lace and pearls. She wore a tulle veil and the conventional wreath of orange blossoms, and carried a handsome bouquet of bridal roses. The bridesmaids and maid of honour were all robed in white point d'esprit, over white taffeta, trimmed with baby Irish lace and baby ribon. Each carried a bouquet of pink carnations and wore a wreath of pink rosebuds.

The bridegroom was supported by his cousin, Mr. Wm. Hamilton, of this city. While the guests were gathering and after the ceremony an orchestra provided sweet music.

The Dejeuner

After the nuptial knot had been tied, the guests and bridal party repaired to the dining room, the latter taking up their position at a central table, while the former were seated at several small tables. The artistic decorations for the wedding, which were carried out by Jordan Bros., included a large basket of pink and white chrysanthemums for the bridal table and small baskets filled with ferns for the guests' tables.

Toasts to the health and happiness of the bride were proposed and appropriately acknowledged, while congratulations cordial and sincere were offered Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton.

The newly wedded couple left on the 5.15 C.P.R. train, on an extended trip to points west, and on their return will take up residence at the corner of Brock and Sheridan streets.

The bride's going away costume was a tailor-made suit of navy blue, with hat to match.

Many Gifts

The wedding gifts were thoroughly representative and characteristic of the occasion, the office staff and salesmen of the Peter Hamilton Company, Limited, presenting the bride with a beautiful hand painted china berry set, while the various foremen of the firm sent a very handsome clock. The bridegroom's gift to the bride was a sunburst of diamonds, and was worn by her during the ceremony. The gifts to the maid of honour and bridesmaids were pretty pins with the initials "I. H." set in pearls, while the pianist was given a pearl pin.

The Guests

Among the invited out of town guests were Hon. Frank Cochrane, Mrs. and Miss Cochrane, Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. T H Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Bilton, Miss M. Richardson, Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Sheppard, Coldwater; Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Sheppard, Oridlia; Mr. and Mrs. B. Conkling, Chicago; Mrs. and Miss Chambers, Newburg, N.Y.; Mr. and Mrs. R J N Pither, Kenora; Mr. and Mrs. D C Irwin and Master Davie Irwin and the Misses Lakeman, Vancouver, B.C.; Mrs. Rich. Moffatt, Tara; A. W. MacPherson, Toronto and others.

Pretty Gowns

The dresses worn by the ladies were dainty and artistic, Mrs. Stewart, grandmother of the bride, wearing black silk, with lace collar and cap; Mrs. Irwin, mother of the bride, grey brocaded silk, with rose point lace and panne velvet; Miss Eva Irwin, sister of the bride, blue French voile, over pale blue taffeta; Miss Mamie Hamilton, sister of the bridegroom, white silk organdie over pink taffeta; Miss Florence Hamilton, sister of the groom, white point d'esprit over white taffeta; Miss Marian Bilton, pale green silk trimmed with cream lace.

Two Notable Musical Events In Peterborough

Alys Bateman Concert in Grand Opera House, and Recital of Conservatory of Music Teachers at Y. M. C. A. Hall Last Night.

THE ALYS BATEMEN-PARLOVITZ CONCERT

There is no hyperbole nor literary hysterics in asserting that the Bateman-Parlovitz concert in the Grand Opera House last night was, everything considered, the most exquisitely enjoyable and perfectly artistic concert presentation made in Peterborough in many years. It is an unfortunate loss to the music-loving citizens of Peterborough that, owing to insufficient announcement, unfavourable weather and counter attractions, there was not a larger audience present, for the occasion was in every way worthy of the largest possible patronage. Of course, Miss Alys Bateman, the great English soprano, was the central element of the programme, and the triumph of finished and flawless vocalism she achieved was thoroughly enjoyed and appreciated by her hearers. To a voice of exquisitely beautiful, natural quality, clear, resonant, unalterably sweet and musical in every note of its wide range, are added perfection of method, an opulent warmth of sympathetic temperament, musicianly intelligence, and ease of execution, which leave nothing to be desired. Last night, on more than one occasion, she took high "c" with an effortless ease which brought no impairment of charming clarity of tone and melodious quality. At this altitude, her sustained tones were as even and smooth as the level flow of a crystal stream. Her singing of the valse song from Gounod's "Romeo and Juliette" was a musical cameo, clear cut, and a type of perfect vocalism. Her success was instantaneous. She held her hearers spellbound for the time, and was enthusiastically recalled, re-appearing with a dainty production of "Spring Is Coming." Miss Bateman's second appearance in Arne's "The Lass with the Delicate Air," stamped her as a peerless soprano balladist, and Bishop's "Should He Upbraid" was another triumph, and another recall was richly rewarded with a beautiful encore, "Lovers in the Lane." Arditi's sprightly "Il Bacio" was — this is the highest praise—sung as only Miss Bateman sings it. Her singing was an unalloyed delight. With her fresh, sweet voice, and captivating singing, she has a graceful and alluring presence, and a personality of great charm. She was splendidly supported by the pianist-accompanist of the party, Mr. Eduard Parlovitz, an artist who, in former appearances here, made himself a great favourite. He played last night quite up to his reputation. With his facile technique, broad tone, crisp digitation and correct taste, he did splendid justice to his numbers, a Chopin polonaise, Liszt's "Love Dream"—deliciously dainty in treatment — Chopin's valse in A flat and Rosenthal's Irish Rhapsody. He is not only a solo artist of premier rank, but an incomparable accompanist—an infrequent conjunction of artistic qualities. Miss Grace Merry, the elocutionist of the party, is, in her sphere, quite in keeping with her company. Her dialect — Irish and Scotch — selections were quite perfect, and her serious and mimetic numbers were skilfully read. Altogether, the Eduard Parlovitz Concert Party, starring Miss Alice Bateman, "the English soprano," is, at least, one of the best, if not the best, and altogether most satisfying musical organizations that has ever appeared in Peterborough. The concert was given under the management of Miss Maude C. Bradley, of Brockville, who has established a reputation of directing only first-class musical organizations; and it is a pleasure to know that in the not distant future she will give the public of Peterborough another opportunity of hearing the fine trio of artists who presented a thoroughly artistic and satisfying musical entertainment last night.

CONSERVATORY TEACHERS RECITAL AT Y. M. C. A.

Miss Lina Drechsler Adamson, violinist, Miss Laura A. Brodigan, pianist Mr. Geo. Collen, vocalist, and Miss Eugenie Quehen, accompanist were the artists who delightfully entertained a large and representative crowd in the Y.M.C.A. Hall last evening. To say that the concert, which was in aid of the Y.M.C.A. Ladies' Auxiliary, was a rich treat, is to use a hackneyed phrase which after all however, gives the clearest conception of the merit of the entertainment. The artists, who are all members of the staff of the Conservatory of music presented a programme every number of which was heartily to the liking of the audience, if the applause which followed each selection is to be taken as a criterion. Encores were demanded in almost every case and were graciously responded to by the artists. The programme was varied well chosen and not too lengthy, qualities which made it most delightful.

The concert, apart from its artistic merit was conspicuous in that it was the first public appearance in Peterborough of two brilliant young members of the Conservatory staff, Miss Brodigan and Miss Adamson, both of whom are destined to become prime favourites in Peterborough, judging from the enthusiastic reception they were given last night.

Miss Adamson's playing was a revelation to the audience. Her skilful manipulation of the bow, her faultless technique showed complete mastery of her difficult instrument. Rounds of applause followed both her numbers and in each case a recall number had to be given before the audience was satisfied. Her first appearance was in the "Scherzo Tarantelle" by Hans Sitt a most difficult and intricate number which fully served to demonstrate Miss Adamson's consummate ability. The spirited finale was faultlessly and brilliantly executed. As an encore number an arrangement of "Home Sweet Home" was given, the bid familiar air taking on new beauty under the skilful manipulation of Miss Adamson. Her second number was a double one (a) Romance (b) Canzonetta, two beautiful compositions by d' Ambrosio, the execution of which was magnificent and amply deserved the warm applause which followed. The second part was re-played in response to a recall.

Miss Brodigan, who also made her first appearance before a local audience, demonstrated that she is a remarkably brilliant pianist of great ability. Her touch, her mastery of technique, above all her faultlessly correct interpretation of her well chosen numbers made her performance at once a delight and an inspiration. In few pianists are these qualities so effectually combined as in Miss Brodigan. She was heard in two double numbers, both of which were splendidly executed. The first was Sonata in A Major, theme and variations; Mozart and Chopin's prelude No. 23, and the second number was Nachtstuck, by Schumann, and a beautiful ballad by Reinecke.

Mr. George Collen's splendid tenor was effectively displayed in his well chosen numbers. His voice, while not unusually powerful, possesses a clear, true tone, which combined with clearness of enunciation and expression, makes his singing extremely enjoyable.

His first number, two beautiful Indian love lyrics, "Less than the Dust" and Kashmiri song were splendidly sung. "Godard's song, "Angels Guard Thee" with violin obligato by Miss Adamson, was a number that enthused the audience and a hearty encore was thee result. The well known old English song, "Down the Vale" was the concluding number and was the most popular of the three.

Miss Quehen by her brilliant and sympathetic accompaniments was a materail factor in the success of the concert.

The following is the complete programme:—

(a) Sonata in A Major, Theme and Variations, ... Mozart
(b) Prelude No. 23 ... ...Chopin
Miss Laura A. Brodigan
Scherzo Tarantelle ... ...Hans Sitt
Miss Lina Drechsler Adamson
Indian Lovee Lyrics, (a) Less than the Dust" (b) Kaanmiri song,... ...Amy Woodforde-Finden
Mr. George Collen
(a) Romance; (b) Canzonetta,d' Ambrosio
Miss Lina Drechsler Adamson
Angels Guard Thee ... Benjamin Godard
(Barceuse de Jocelyn) ... ...
Mr. George Collen
(a) Nachtstuck ... ...Schumann
(b) Ballad ....Reinecke
Miss Laura A. Brodigan
Down the Vale .... Frank Moir
Mr. George Collen

It is to be hoped that the music loving people of Peterborough may be privileged to hear many such programmes during the season, which are at hand. Certainly there cannot be too many concerts of the calibre of the one presented last evening.

Some Facts About Bank Building

Traders' Bank is 17 Stories High and Cost $1,000,000

The Toronto Star, in its "Everybody's Column," yesterday had the following information in reference to the Traders' Bank building in Toronto:

"The dimensions of the Traders' Bank building are as follows: Seventeen storeys, including basement and machinery house on top; 100,000 square feet of floor space; 100 feet deep by 90 feet wide, and 200 feet high; 4 plunger hydraulic elevators, 300 offices.

The exact figures as to cost are not available, but the building permit called for an expenditure of $600,000. It is understood, however, that the cost is in the neighbourhood of $1,000,000.

"The rentals are considerably higher than in other buildings, such as the Temple Building, as it is the only building in Canada of its kind. The rentals would be at least a third higher.

Saved The Life Of Columbus

When Christopher Columbus was in Jamaica he would have died but for the herbal medicines the natives brought him. There is no doubt that aboriginal tribes know more of the medicinal virtues of herbs and roots than is sometimes conceded. When Captain Cook discovered Australia he was amazed by the freedom from disease which the natives enjoyed, in consequence of using certain roots and herbs as medicines. It was in this country that the herbal remedy Bilcans was first produced. Their use spread as their value was made more known, till to-day all over the globe Bilcans are a household remedy.

Miss E. Reed, of Kingston, Ont., says: "I suffered terribly with acute indigestion all last winter. Pain followed all food, with wind spasms, rifting, etc. My sleep at night was fitful and broken and my strength failed. Bilcans were introduced to me, and I found relief from their use within a very short time. They have now cured me." Bilcans cure constipation without causing griping, cure piles, biliousness, indigestion, sick headache, etc., and give strength and energy to run down systems. All druggists sell at fifty cents a box, or post free from the Bilcan Co., Toronto, on receipt of price.

Joint Committee Meets To-night

To Arrange for Institution of New Rebekah Lodge.

The Joint Committee meets this evening to complete arrangements for the institution of the Rebekah Lodge in Peterborough on Friday evening, Oct. 26. A letter from the captain of Kawartha Degree Team, Lindsay, states that about 22 members of that team will be here to assist in the work. They will come by the regular noon train and a special train will come at 7.30, bringing a large number of other members of the Rebekah Degree from Lindsay. All will return by this special train after the work is over. The dispensation has arrived from Grand Master Johnston, who will probably be present as instituting officer. Word has also been received from the Assembly Secretary, Mrs. Pearce, of Toronto, and everything points to a very successful launching of the new lodge, which will be number 81.

It is exected that every member of the committee will be on hand at 8 p.m. sharp, at the hall, to-night, as some important matters will be arranged. Many of the members of the Order in Peterborough intend taking the Rebekah Degree next Friday evening, and becoming members of the newest lodge in Ontario.

Beat American Bridge Companies

A Notable Victory Won by the Canada Foundry Company.

Montreal, Oct. 23. — The Canada Foundry Company of Toronto has been awarded a large portion of a 20,000-ton contract for structural steel by the C. P. R. The steel is for bridges in Ontario. The Dominion Bridge Company also secured a part of the contract.

The Canada Foundry Company busied bids of a number of large American companies.

Simcoe Street Gas Pipes Must Be Laid Within Five Days

Mr. Larmonth Explains Why Street Was Left Open for So Long—Delay in Getting Apparatus—Inspection for City's Wiring System.

The question of the city's right over private corporations was the subject of discussion at the meeting of the Committee of the Whole Council last night, when Mr. J. H. Larmonth was present to answer for the excavations on Simcoe street remaining open so long. The matter was, however, amicably settled when Mr. Larmonth explained how his men were unavoidably delayed, and when he agreed to have the trench closed again within a specified time. The mayor, who ordered the Gas Company to cease operations yesterday, was indignant with the way the street had been left open.

Other questions touched on were the appointment of an inspector to look after the street and house wiring in the city, and that of better roads in the vicinity of the street car tracks.

Those present at the meeting were Mayor Best, Ald. Graham, Elliott, Duncan, Ball, McIntyre, Wilson, Johnston, Adams, Hicks, City Engineer T. A. S. Hay, City Solicitor E. H. D. Hall and Mr. J. H. Larmonth.

Object of Meeting

The mayor explained that the object of the meeting was to arrive at some agreement between the city and the Peterborough Light and Power Company with regard to opening the city streets for the laying of gas pipes. The company claimed, he said, that under a past agreement they had the right to open up streets whenever they wished.

The City Engineer said that Mr. Larmonth filed the plan some time ago of the streets on which he wanted to lay pipes. The company, he said, had no authority from him to have the streets opened. He considered that the company was a long time in getting the work done, and he had been hurrying them along to have the work concluded as soon as possible. Some delays, he found out, were caused by the bridge over the creek and a water pipe the company did not expect to encounter.

The City Solicitor read a bylaw passed in 1869 regulating the conditions upon which the Gas Company, then formed, was allowed to open the streets to lay down gas pipes. This showed that an inspector appointed by the city and paid by the company, had the right to see that the work was done properly.

The mayor, in explaining his action, said that on Wednesday last he asked the company not to open Simcoe street, from Water street, east, before the mains were laid to Water street. On Saturday afternoon he saw them continuing with the work before George street was finished. He therefore, to-day, gave instruction to the Chief of Police to have the work stopped.

"You should have done it a week ago," remarked Ald. Ball.

"It wasn't my place," remarked the mayor.

Mr. Larmonth, when asked to explain the delay, said that the pipes were delivered there about July 1. The clamps were to have been there during the first week in July, and it was his intention to begin at the Gas Works and work outwards. The 12-inch clamps did not come when expected, but the 8-inch clamps arrived, and so Aylmer street, on which the latter were used, was commenced first. It was not the intention of the company to keep the streets open, he said, and they had done the best they could. They could not finish at George street before a connection was made with the Gas Works, as they had to supply some patrons on Simcoe street, west of George street, and until this connection was made George street trench could not be filled. A valve there would have to be taken out as soon as the works were joined with pipes. Mr. Larmonth said that within three days the work of connecting (with the Gas Works would be finished, if there was nothing to prevent them.

Ald. Johnston asked why it was that the pipes were not laid on Simcoe street west as soon as the excavation was made.

Mr. Larmonth stated that the bridge held them up for a time, but the pipes were laid within three days after the trench was dug.

Ald. Johnston thought it was very unfair to leave pipes along the street, where they had to be removed to allow people to get into their yards.

The City Solicitor suggested that an agreement be made whereby the company would have the work completed within three days.

Mr. Larmonth said the company would agree to that proposition.

The mayor still believed that, notwithstanding Mr. Larmonth's explanations, unnecessary delay had been caused.

Ald. Duncan, Adams and Wilson thought that three days should be given to the company to conclude laying the pipes.

Ald. Wilson and Hicks suggested that water should be used when replacing the earth in the trenches, so that the streets would be left smoother.

The mayor also said the city wanted to known why streets were left by the Peterborough Radial Railway Company, with low spots, which generally filled with water whenever it rained, and also, he referred to the way the tracks were left too far above the surface after being repaired. The company, he said, was obliged to leave the streets in as good condition as when found. Under the Railway Act, the Solicitor explained that the company is obliged to look after the roadbed between the rails and to keep that roadbed within an inch of the top of the rails.

Moved by Ald. Johnston and Duncan that the Gas Company be given five days to finish the excavation on Simcoe street, between George street and the Gas Works, and that the street be put in good condition within a reasonable time.—Carried.

Street Levelling

The question of keeping the street in the vicinity of the railway tracks in proper condition was further discussed.

Ald. Elliott thought that filling in between the rails was of the greatest importance, as it was almost impossible to drive over except by going crosswise. This condition, he said, existed on Water street.

Mr. Larmonth said that a year ago last spring the Railway Company were asked to raise their tracks on Water street six inches. They did so, but the city did not fill in with gravel on the outside. The matter was left with the Board of Works.

Wiring System

The question of street and house wiring was brought before the committee by Ald. Ball. The members were unanimous in their opinions that an inspector should be appointed to look after the wiring and prevent further damage. Ald. Hicks suggested that both the Board of Works and the Fire, Water and Light Committee meet and decide the matter.

The mayor thought it would be better to leave the question in the hands of the Fire, Water and Light Committee, to have them report.

Ald. Hicks suggested that the inspector, besides looking after the wiring, might also see that when poles are installed that this be done in such a way as not to interfere with others, upon which are wires.

The City Engineer stated that the fire limits would soon have to be extended, and that the inspector might look after the buildings and see that the walls are properly built.

Moved by Ald. Johnston that the question of appointing an inspector should be left in the hands of the Fire, Water and Light Committee and the Board of Works.

Moved by Ald. Hicks and Duncan, that the committee consider it desirable that an inspector be appointed and that his duties be left with the Fire, Water and Light Committee, to be defined.—Carried.

Missionary Society's Silver Anniversaries

An Important Gathering Being Held in Belleville This Week — Woman's Missionary Society of Methodist Church to Hold Convention—Peterborough Ladies Hold Offices.

Examiner Special.

Belleville, Oct. 23.—The Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church in Canada and Newfoundland, will be much in evidence in this city during this week, as the Board of Management will hold its annual meeting, commencing this afternoon, at three o'clock, in Bridge street church.

The Society was organized in Hamilton, Ont., on the 8th of November, 1881, so that the meeting here will be an epoch in its history, as its first quarter of a century of operations will be tabulated and celebrated How it has grown will best be seen by stating that its first year's income was $2,916, while during this year it has been over $90,000. The total amount received in the twenty-five years has exceeded $900,000.

The session will continue until Friday, and on Wednesday night a service of special interest will be held when the silver anniversary of the organization of the Society will be celebrated, addresses being given by Rev. A. Sutherland, D.D., and Rev A. Carman, D.D.

Mrs. R. A. Campbell, of Peterborough, is 3rd Vice-President, of the Bay of Quinte branch, and Mrs. Joseph Kilgour, also of Peterborough, is a district organizer.

The meetings are being attended by a large number of delegates.

Peterborough's Good Name Is Better Than Riches

This is the Opinion of the Kingston Whig and it Shows Cause—Tribute to our Spirit, Temper and Character.

The following from the Kingston Whig, under the heading of "Central Heating Plant" is not unpleasant reading for Peterborough people:—

A good name for a municipality is better than riches. Riches follow the name. Peterborough is realizing this. It has to make very little effort apparently in order to attract attention. Having the reputation for progressiveness, and being worthy of this reputation, it becomes a centre of interest for enterprising men. One has but to visit it in order to see what capital and industry are accomplishing. And it is not the cheap power which is the great or only drawing attraction. There is something in the spirit of the place, in the temper and character of the people, that makes for success.

Hence it is that Peterborough is practically invaded by those who have business to do. The latest venture is of the Dominion Steam Heating company, whose plan is to install a great plant, and, by pipes and services similar to those of the gas and water departments, heat the houses and stores. The cost will depend upon the space or room occupied by the individual or company. The initial cost would be about $50,000, but if the business succeeds there would be a constant outlay and consequent enlargement of the capital involved.

The system is that of the American Steam Heating Company, which is in operation in three hundred and sixty-five places in the United States. The nearest points in which it can be viewed are Chatham, Lockport and Detroit, and a committee of Peterborough men will probably visit one of those places, or all of them, in order to pass upon the merits of the scheme. The franchise is not a valuable one to the municipality. It is not saleable. The only consideration is the effect of tearing up the streets without the assurance that the pipes when laid will be used to large advantage.

The process may be expensive, but the heating of the homes and offices and stores from a central plant is the ideal one and affords the largest measure of comfort. The system that involves no work to the user of heat, no dust or ashes, no care or cleaning of furnaces, is to be preferred if it does not cost too much.

"Save The Boy" Rev. Imries' Message To The Convention

Eloquent Address by B. W. Merrill, B.A., of Ottawa—Rev. A. Imrie, of Brantford, Delivers Splendid Address on Young People's Work.

Last evening the Murray street Baptist church was crowded to the doors with the large number that were present to hear the two addresses. The first speaker was Rev. B. W. Merrill, of Ottawa, who spoke to some length on "Sunday School Work." The speaker said that the words "Sunday School" was a misnomer for that work. Sabbath was the wrong word entirely, while Sunday Sunday School which was originally intended to represent a service for little ones, also misrepresented the work.

The speaker thought a suitable name would be "Bible School." This indicates a regular service of church work. It indicates the central purpose of this work distinguishing it from other bodies or schools of the church. Bible study is also the chief end of Sunday School work. It indicates the real nature of Sunday School work that is the study of the Bible. The name lastly indicates the real scope of the work of the entire church. Every member of the church should be enrolled in the Bible School. Let the Sunday School seek to quicken, promote and improve religious instruction and to have the Bible School to effect what the name denotes.

The next important point was the pastor. The strength of a Sunday School depends on the pastor. He is chosen as the overseer and superintendent and thus everybody should come to some extent under his supervision.

Especially true was this of the Sunday School. He should be able to act as superintendent, teacher and choirister if necessary, but especially should act as pastor over each of these officials. His thoughts should be "How can I do most and best for my Sunday School, while working for this highest idea." His work was laborious but was overcome easily by pastoral sympathy, pastoral knowledge and pastoral oversight. The school should be well officered, teachers well trained and pastor should be present regularly at all sessions. He must have sympathy for those who were doing the work, and thus encourage them in their tasks. He should also be better acquainted than any in his school with Sunday School movements, and keep as his motto, "Use spiritual forces to produce spiritual results.

The teacher was the next potent factor in this work. In fact he was the foremost person. He was the unit and if the unit is strong the result was firm and lasting. The teacher is the unit of power on which Sunday School work depends. Therefore the teachers should be thoroughly educated for their duties. They should have a training in Sunday School teaching. Good teachers were a strong attraction to pupils young and old and hence added to success of the school.

Two things were needed to bring about this result, viz., Thoroughly trained teachers. The first was a teacher's training class, the other was a Home Department. The first should be for those who are preparing to act as teachers. The demand was very extensive the present supply not sufficient. But there is plenty of material in the churches and this raw material could be trained in the teachers' training class.

The Home Department should be for those who are unable to attend Sunday services for some reason or other. They were required to give a half hour during each week to the study of the Scriptures. Meetings might be held during the week and members appealed to by, sympathy, love, interest and heart to heart contact. Thus the school would soon be in a flourishing condition in all respects.

Rev. A. Imrie

In the interval between the two speeches, Mrs. Miller sang a solo, "Resignation" in a beautiful manner. Rev. A. Imrie, B.A., of Brantford, who gave the second address immediately attracted attention. His address was eloquent and earnest and was right from the heart. He spoke from the 19th chapter of St. Luke, verse 10. His address was on Young People's Work, but he chiefly dealt with the duty all have of uplifting and rescuing the outcasts and the sinner. Especially the young boys who were the objects of so much temptation. God loved all, and died for all therefor all should enjoy the fruits of His death. Hence those who were living with God should not forget those who have fallen away. Determination is the mainspring of this movement; it is the guidance for those who are working for God. Sacrifice was also an essential, and a very great one. In everything of consequence that the world has seen done some one has made a sacrifice. The work of rescue is blessed when you know you follow the footsteps of Jesus. The great requirement was constant prayer to God. Without prayer but little could be accomplished. Great movements in religious revival for instance, were brought about through long and earnest prayer.

The addresses were indeed very eloquent and influential and could not fail to leave an effect upon the audience.

Eyes Worth Having

Did you ever stop to think that with the exception of the heart, the eye is the hardest worked part of the body.

As long as you are awake and your eyes are open they are working in your service.

Three pairs of muscles control the movement of each eyeball.

The two eyeballs move exactly together. Would you know the effect of their not working together—press your finger against one, so that it's position does not exactly correspond with the other.

How important it is that if these muscles tire and you have headaches ac. require Glasses, that your Glasses suit your eyes—our long experience makes us experts and able to fit you correctly.

All Ready For The Cup Presentation

The Examiner Road Race Winners Will be Honoured Tomorrow Night at Opera House

The seventeen men who started in the Examiner Road Race on Thursday may have their tickets for the boxes at "Charley's Aunt," at the Grand Opera House for to-morrow night, on application to this office any time after six o'clock to-night.

The presentation of prizes and medals will be made after the first act by Mr. J. H. Burnham, and no doubt this fact, in addition to the excellence of the play which is one of the best farce comedies on the circuit, having played at the Princess in Toronto, will attract a large number.

This fact is evidenced by the big demand for tickets, the plan selling rapidly. The attraction is one of the best seen at the Grand this season, and with the double drawing card, the house should be filled to capacity.

The seventeen men who were starters in the race, will occupy the boxes, as the guests of the Opera House management.

Argos Here On Saturday In Season's Best Game

Two More Evenly Matched Teams Have Seldom Played in the Same Series—Locals Will be in Good Shape for the Great Struggle.

The seniors had a fine practice in the rink last night when nearly all the men were out in uniform and indulged in a likely work-out and signal practice. The team will be in splendid shape for Saturday's game with the Argos, the sporting event of the year in Peterborough. No two teams in the senior series of the O.R.F.U. are matched as evenly as these two and the struggle they put up will be worth going miles to see. The locals by their good showing at Hamilton showed that they are not going back any. For half an hour they held the fast scoring Tigers down to seven points. Only lack of condition prevented them from keeping the score away down. They were not in shape then, but they will be on Saturday and should make the Argos look a plugged half dollar.

Every man must be out to practice to-night at the rink at 7.30 o'clock.

Young Men of Local Y.M.C.A. To Form An Athletic Club

There Are Many Who Would Make Successful Athletes With Proper Instruction—To Rejuvenate the Harrier's Club.

A movement is on foot among the young men of the Y.M.C.A. which is carried into effect, as it assuredly will be, will have many beneficial results. It is in a sense due to the interest shown in the Examiner Road Race, that this movement has been initiated. There is abundant material for good athletics about town, requiring only systematic training and coaching. With this end in view it is the intention of the young men of the Y.M.C.A. to organize or rather re-organize the Harriers Club. This would give the impetus to athletics which is needed to produce sound athletes and would further local interest in physical culture. One of the aims of this club would be to form a basketball league this winter in the Y.M.C.A. This has been done to some extent in the past but its true scope has not been fully realized. Then preparation would be made for track athletics and in the spring a field day could be held thus bringing to a climax the winter's exercises. There are many men interested in this organization who would be willing to offer prizes and thus make it worth while to the competitors. In the autumn fall sports and athletics such as cross country running, etc., could be run off. Hence it is evident that there are many opportunities for the young men to accomplish great results by systematized culture in the athletic line. A meeting is called for to-night in the Y.M.C.A. for the purpose of discussing organization. The following are requested to be present:—E. M. Best, W. Richardson, J. Lang Green, Robt. Fitzgerald, Max Yelland Dingman, G. Gally, Peters, Rose, E. Wilson, W. Elliott, F. Bruce, Fred. Roy, Ray Best, R. Baker, L. Bruce, A. Emmerson, Cook, Jas. Collins, Sawyers, W. Campbell, Geo. Robertson, Jas. Downing, N. Darling, L. Dobson, A. Bravender, R. Grave.

The meeting will be called at 7.30 to-night in order to enable those wishing to attend any concerts to do so after the meeting.

Marlboros Were Turned Down

On Application to Enter the Eastern Hockey League.

It is said the Marlboros of Toronto applied for admission to the E.H.L. with Ottawa, Wndererss, and other clubs, but the application was turned down, ostensibly because of the small rinkk in Toronto. The Marlboros are now seeking admission to the Federal League, it is reported, which Smith's Falls and Brockville have deserted, having lost their costly teams.

RUGBY.

The Quakers will practice to-nigh: at 8.30 in the rink. Every man is asked to turn out.

* * * *

Every man of the following list must be out to-night in uniform. Several of the men were not out last night and the executive want to see them on hand to-night:—Mulhern, Quinlan, Easton, Gilleaple, Carmichael, Ford, Hurtubise, Dillon, Meagher, Crough Craig, McDonald, Gilbert, O'Connor, Leclaire, Whitcroft. Ford is out in the game again and will give the signals in Saturday's game, which promises to be the best ever seen in Peterborough. The contest is now condensed down into a race for second place, between the Argos and Peterborough and the Baby senior team will make a big effort to win out.

Big Money For Harry Brown

Said to Have Been Offered $35 a Week at Soo.

The C.G.E. team will practise to-night in the rink at 7.15. The following players are requested to turn out:—Lang, Dixon, O'Connor, Whitcroft, Dorris, Hendry, McGrath, Williams, McGill, Armstrong, Hook, Nicholls, Heffernan.

Good Crowd At The Roller Skating Rink

Clever Work of Prof. Waltz Was Enjoyed by Many Last Night.

Last night at the Charlotte street roller rink a large crowd gathered to witness the very clever manouevres of Prof. Waltz, and to enjoy an evening's skate. Roller skating has become very popular in Peterborough and the rink is well patronized each evening.

The band was in attendance and added much to the pleasure of the evening.

At 9.15 the floor was cleared and Professor Waltz, of New York, champion roller skater of the world, was introduced. He was greeted with hearty applause. His skating was very graceful and his several daring feats received the heartiest applause. Some of his movements were two step on skates, going at full speed and lifting a handkerchief off the floor with his teeth, skating on stilts, skating on two wheels, and several other wonderful feats.

Prof. Waltz will perform both afternoon and evening to-day and to-morrow. His evolutions are well worth the price of admission.

The management have announced a fancy dress carnival for Thursday evening of this week.

THE CONQUERING HAND

Suggested by Rev. James Grant's address to the Convention.

The leader charged his trusted friend
That frowning rampart to ascend
Which did the field command;
Then said his friend, "I gladly go,
But first the presence I must know
Of your all-conquering hand."

And when the fateful hour was past,
They saw the gallant host at last,
On heights of triumph stand;
The army moved with dauntless will,
Because through him there came the thrill
Of that all conquering hand."

As those who know the great design,
Of Him who sends the light divine
To this most favoured land,
We forward move at His appeal;
But much we need the touch to feel
Of His all conquering hand.

To everthrow existing wrong,
Where dangers frown and foes are strong,
May utmost nerve demand;
But then we know the case is such
That every loyal soul may touch
Our Lord's all conquering hand.

Before our eyes the morning gleams;
Upon our lives His blessing streams
In power sublime and grand;
And we possess the smile of Heaven,
And unto us new strength is given
Through His all conquering hand.

While at His call we onward press,
Amid the battle's smoke and stress,
We see His cause expand;
He comes our earnest souls to fill,
While we delight to feel the thrill
Of His all conquering hand.

DANDRUFF CAUSED BY A GERM

A New Discovery That Kills the Germ and Prevents Baldness.

Pretty nearly all the hair preparations for dandruff have some merit in allaying itching of the scalp, and in being a fairly good dressing for the hair, but there is only one that recognizes what causes dandruff, falling hair, and baldness, and that destroys the cause, a little germ—and that is Newbro's Herpicide. This germ eats its way into the scalp, it digs up the scalp into little white scales. Unless it is destroyed there's no permanent stopping of falling hair and cure of dandruff and baldness. Newbro's Herpicide kills the germ. "Destroy the cause, you remove the efect." Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Chinese Army Manoeuvres.

Chang Te Fu, Province of Honan, China, Oct. 23.—The autumn manoeuvres of the Chinese imperial army began yesterday in the neighborhood of Chang Te Fu. About 30,000 troops are engaged, under the command of Yuan Shikai, commander-in-chief of the Chinese forces, and including cavalry, infantry and artillery, the latter army consisting of 150 guns. The troops engaged in the operations are equipped with the most modern accoutrements, and have been drilled and trained by foreign officers. Thirty artillery attaches of foreign powers are closely following the operations.

Norway's Parliament Opens.

Christiania, Norway, Oct. 23.—The newly-elected Parliament was opened yesterday by King Haakon, in the presence of Queen Maud and the diplomatic corps. The King said he rejoiced at the "great good-will shown by foreign countries towards our fatherland since the establishment of its independence," and spoke hopefully of Norway's future prospects.

English Regiment For Halifax.

Halifax, N. S., Oct. 23.—It is reported in military circles that the West Surrey Regiment will arrive here from England next spring to increase the garrison here. The permanent corps stationed here is 500 men below its complement. As recruits cannot be obtained to bring the garrison up to full strength, a British regiment, it is understood, will again be stationed here.

Fell Into the River.

Kingston, Oct. 23.—Dennis McGuire of Strathcona was found drowned in the Napanee River, near Newburg, on Saturday. He was last seen on Friday night about 10 o'clock. The supposition is that he took the wrong road and fell into the stream. Coroner Leonard of Napanee deemed an inquest unnecessary. Deceased was 65 years of age and unmarried.

Hon. George Simpson Is Dead.

Charlottetown, P. E. I., Oct. 23.—Hon. George Simpson, member of the Provincial Government, died on his farm in Bay View yesterday morning from blood-poisoning. Three days ago his arm was amputated, in the hope of saving his life. Hon. Mr. Simpson represented the first district of Queen's in the local Legislature since 1900. He was born in 1856.

All Wires Torn Down By Gale In Northwest

Terrific Wind Storm Between Salt Lake City and Ogden.

KANSAS AND COLORADO, TOO

On the Oregon Short Line 30 Freight Cars Were Blown From the Tracks and Two Passenger Coaches on Salt Lake and Ogden Railway Shared the Same Fate—Snow Fell For a Day at Port Arthur, Ont.

Salt Lake City, Utah, Oct. 23.—Railway service between here and Ogden, is utterly disorganized. The terrific wind Saturday night and Sunday morning carried down all the telegraph wires, making the despatching of trains in regular order impossible.

The Denver and Rio Grande system is moving few trains. The Oregon Short Line is blocked by a wreck near Woods Cross, where 30 freight cars were blown from the tracks. Two passenger coaches on the Salt Lake and Ogden Railroad were blown from the track near Centreville and the conductor and two passengers were bruised.

The Salt Lake and Ogden Line is blocked by many trees blown across the track. In Salt Lake City 2,000 trees were uprooted and several frail buildings in course of construction were wrecked.

Snow Stops Railway Traffic.

Kansas City, Kas., Oct. 23.—A blizzard prevailed yesterday in Western Kansas, the most severe for this time of season in many years. In some places snow, driven by a wind, is piling up in the cuts, stopping railway traffic and playing havoc with telephone and telegraph wires.

Snow Inconveniences Navigators.

Port Arthur, Oct. 23.—Snow fell here all day yesterday, at times quite heavily. Much of it has melted and not more than an inch or so now covers the ground. The falling snow caused inconvenience to the vessels in the bay and a constant tooting of whistles was kept up to indicate the position of ships.

Heavy Fruit and Stock Losses.

Denver, Colorado, Oct. 23.—Snow, wind and cold extended over nearly the entire country between the Rocky Mountains and the Missouri River yesterday, causing heavy losses of live stock and of late fruit. Telegraph wires were prostrated and railroad schedules disarranged.

The storm is almost unprecedented for severity at this season of the year and takes rank, according to the weather bureau, with the snow fall on April 22 and 23, 1885.

Up to six o'clock last evening about 20 inches of snow had fallen in Denver. Much of this snow melted soon. While the temperature on the plains has fluctuated from 20 to 30 above zero, it has been much colder at higher altitudes. At Corona, the highest point on the new Maffat Railroad, two degrees below zero early yesterday was reported.

Drifts Nine Feet Deep.

At Emery Gap, on the Colorado Southern Railroad, snow drifted nine feet deep and traffic was tied up yesterday. Two rotary snow ploughs were sent out to open the road.

A Santa Fe train was detrained between Wagon Mound and Spring, N.M., Sunday night and the road was blocked for several hours. Snow caused the mail coach and two baggage cars to jump the track, and they rolled down an embankment. Only one man, the mail clerk, was hurt, and his injuries are not severe.

Objection To The Use Of Glasses

Sometimes people object to glasses, claiming that once put on they can not see without them. If after putting on glasses the wearer finds it difficult to go without them, this simply proves that before he wore glasses he was forcing his eyes beyond the limit of safety, a practice if continued, is sure to affect the health and sight. The person who lets pride, even excusable pride, stand in the way of glasses is doing his eyes and health injustice and is merely paving the way for future suffering and discomforts.

We will test your eyesight carefully, and tell you just what condition your eyes are in.

Rev. Dr. Symonds On The Desire To Be Rich

A Notable Sermon Preached in Montreal by Former Peterborough Anglican Minister—Men in Privileged Positions Fail to Realize Their Responsibility.

Montreal, Oct. 24.—A very notable sermon was preached by Rev. Dr. Symonds at Christ Church Cathedral before a large congregation on Sunday morning. It was in a sense a review of certain aspects of the country's national life, and while frankly acknowledging that Canada was the greatest country in the world so far as its material progress was concerned, the preacher pointed to certain dangers that could not be viewed without misgiving. "We are always ready to proclaim Canada's greatness," he said, "but could any one, with a full sense of moral responsibility, go to England and declare that the life of Canada was honourable to its people?"

The subject upon which the preacher based his remarks was the eighth chapter of Deuteronomy, from the seventh verse to the close of the chapter—and particular emphasis was laid upon the words, "and thou say in thine heart my power and the might of mine hand hath gotten this wealth. But thous shalt remember the Lord thy God, for it is He that giveth thee power to get wealth." After drawing attention to the earliest recorded charter to man, "Be fruitful and multiply and replenish the earth and subdue it"—words of dominion over all things that constituted the justification for the marvellous material developments of successive periods in history, he pointed out that the world gave us the raw material of civilization that could not be used by civilized man without being worked up — shelter, clothing, food — metal, minerals that were turned into jewels that ministered to our intellectual needs and artistic tastes. It was when we allowed these things to supersede all other desires that undue became materialistic, and when the warning in Deuteronomy, "Beware that thou forget not the Lord thy God," had a meaning that could not be ignored.

CAUSE OF FALLING HAIR

Dandruff, Which Is a Germ Disease—Kill The Germ.

Falling hair is caused by dandruff, which is a germ disease. The germ in burrowing into the root of the hair, where it destroys the vitality of the hair, causing the hair to fall out, digs up the cutile in little scales called dandruff or scurf. You can't stop the falling hair without curing the dandruff, and you can't cure the dandruff without killing the dandruff germ. "Destroy the cause, you remove the effect." Newbro's Herpicide is the only hair preparation that kills the dandruff germ. Herpicide is also a delightful hair dressing. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Company, Detroit, Mich. Osmond & Walsh, special agents.

Darcy's Restaurant And Boarding House

Comfortably Equipped Premises for Boarders and Roomers.

The new Palace restaurant and boarding house, which has been in process of refitting during the past month, is now open to the public. The proprietor, Mr. Fred Darcey, has shown spirited enterprise, as well as good practical taste, in the remodelling of this new establishment. It occupies the two upper flats over what was so well known as the Palace restaurant, conducted for a number of years by Mr. Brooks. Entrance is made by the hall door of George street, the stairway being treated to new linoleums, and carpetings. At the entrance to the first landing the waiting room and office is approached, and from there access is had to the dining room, for gentlemen, and a separate private room for ladies. The rooms are nicely furnished and have the privacy of a home dining room, where guests may enjoy their meals free from noise and publicity. The kitchen is in the rear part, and is fully equipped.

The third floor is comfortably furnished. There are rooms enough to supply accommodation to perhaps fifty roomers, with special arrangements for cots in case of an unexpected rush. Each room is handsomely furnished with carpet, iron bed stead, etc; also bath rooms.

Mr. and Mrs. Darcy of the Burleigh House, are at present assisting in the opening of the restaurant, and giving the benefit of their ripe experience in catering to the public.

The work of decorating the "Palace" was in charge of Mr. E. M. Taylor, our local painter and paperhanger, who has executed his contract in a very creditable manner.

Big Excursion From Lindsay

A Large Number From That Town Will Hear Roselle Knott.

Those who have made up their minds to hear Roselle Knott in the "Duchess of Devonshire," at the Grand on Friday night will have to secure their seats early. Lindsay I.O.O.F. Court No. 75, have decided to run a special to Peterborough that night and it is expected four or five hundred will be here from that town. The plan opened this morning at 10 o'clock.

Music and Drama

ON THE BRIDGE AT MIDNIGHT

"On the Bridge at Midnight," a melodrama of the usual type, but of more than usual merit, was the attraction which pleased a very large audience at the Grand last night. The plot is one that affords many striking situations, the climax being the great knife-bridge scene in the third act, where the heroine is saved after being hurled into the Chicago River. Several comedy characters are introduced and a lively vein of humour pervades the deep heart interest. Gus Arthur, as Herman Von Schalabung, who eventually turns out to be a German baron; Miss Carrie Starr, as "Reddy," the kidnapped daughter of a millionaire Chicago lady, and W. B. Frederick, as Antonio Gallicippi, a villainous Italian, were the hits of the play. The scenery was magnificent, and the acting throughout superior to the average melodrama.

A TRAINED NURSE

After Years of Experience, Advises Women in Regard to Their Health.

Mrs. Martha Pohlman of 55 Chester Avenue, Newark, N. J., who is a graduate Nurse from the Blockley Training School at Philadelphia, and for six years Chief Clinic Nurse at the Philadelphia Hospital, writes the letter printed below. She has the advantage of personal experience, besides her professional education and what she has to say may be absolutely relied upon.

Many other women are afflicted as she was. They can regain health in the same way. It is prudent to heed such advice from such a source.

Mrs. Pohlman writes:

"I am firmly persuaded, after eight years of experience with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, that it is the safest and best medicine for any suffering woman to use.

"Immediately after my marriage I found that my health began to fail me. I became weak and pale, with severe bearing-down pains, fearful backaches and frequent dizzy spells. The doctors prescribed for me, yet I did not improve. I would bloat after eating and frequently become nauseated. I had pains down through my limbs so I could hardly walk. It was as bad a case of female trouble as I have ever known. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, however, cured me within four months. Since that time I have had occasion to recommend it to a number of patients suffering from all forms of female difficulties, and I find that while it is considered unprofessional to recommend a patent medicine, I can honestly recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, for I have found that it cures female ills, where all other medicine fails. It is a grand medicine for sick women."

Money cannot buy such testimony as this—merit alone can produce such results, and the ablest specialists now agree that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the most universally successful remedy for all female diseases known to medicine.

When women are troubled with irregular, suppressed or painful periods, weakness, displacement or ulceration of the female organs, that bearing-down feeling, inflammation, backache, bloating (or flatulence), general debility, indigestion, and nervous prostration, or are beset with such symptoms as dizziness, faintness, lassitude, excitability, irritability, nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, "all-gone" and "want-to-be-left-alone" feelings, blues and hopelessness, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once removes such troubles.

No other female medicine in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement.

The needless suffering of women from diseases peculiar to their sex is terrible to see. The money which they pay to doctors who do not help them is an enormous waste. The pain is cured and the money is saved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

It is well for women who are ill to write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass,. The present Mrs. Pinkham is the daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, her assistant for many years before her decease, and for twenty-five years since her advice has been freely given to sick women. In her great experience, which covers many years, she has probably had to deal with dozens of cases just like yours.. Her advice is strictly confidential.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Succeeds where Others Fail.

British Schooner Southern Queen Driven Ashore Goes to Pieces.

Mobile, Ala., Oct. 23.—The first news of a terrible hurricane that visited the towns of Ruatan, Tela, Utilla, Colorado and El Provence, Honduras, on Oct. 12, was brought here Sunday night by the Norwegian fruit steamer Harold.

A number of vessels were wrecked, several destroyed and buildings in each of the towns mentioned badly damaged. The loss to the owners of the fruit plantations will, it is stated, reach almost a million dollars. The British schooner Southern Queen was thrown on the beach at Ruatan and went to pieces in less than an hour, and the Harold suffered somewhat and will have to be docked.

A tidal wave accompanied the hurricane and swept everything before it. Capt. Henrychsen reports that when he left, the beaches were strewn with vessels of all kinds, including three large sailing vessels. No lives were reported lost.

$10,000 Bail Is Demanded By The Court

Magistrate Kingsford Commits Tom Lewis For Trial.

ARRESTED INNOCENT MAN

A Peculiar Incident In London Bribery Case—An Apology to the Victim—Contractor Corry Tells of Election Contribution — Dropped Into Committee Room and Gave Mr. Geo. Reid $300 For Expenses.

Toronto, Oct. 23.—Thomas Lewis appeared before Magistrate Kingsford yesterday on the perjury charge.

T. C. Robinette, for the defence, got permission to ask for particulars, but waived the right, pleaded not guilty and asked for a jury trial. He did, however, register formal objection to the jurisdiction of the magistrate to try the case.

Crown Attorney Corley asked to have the information amended so as to have the evidence of Oct. 4 added.

The portions of the evidence given in the investigation, upon which the charge of perjury was laid, were then submitted.

The first was the evidence of Alfred J. Clark, and Mr. Robinette objected that perjury could not be proven in that case, as Clark and Lewis were alone at that time, and it was simply a case of oath against oath.

Only Oath Against Oath.

Said Magistrate Kingsford: "Your argument is that it would be only a case of oath against oath?" and in this Mr. Robinette concurred.

"Well, you can only make the objection in law now and a ruling can be given after the evidence is heard," was the reply.

Mr. Armour then proceeded to read portions of Lewis' evidence to show that he had made contradictory statements regarding the day he went to Detroit.

Mr. Robinette pointed out that the witness had afterwards corrected this evidence and the magistrate held that no perjury could be proven if the witness corrected his statements and told the correct version.

Committed For Trial.

After the reading of Lewis' contradictory evidence, and his explanation that he was ill and his memory poor when testifying, the magistrate expressed the opinion that there was already sufficient evidence to commit for trial.

Before the proceedings opened yesterday afternoon, Mr. DuVernet told Magistrate Denison that, by an arrangement with the Attorney-General, the prisoner, Thomas Lewis, would be freed on his own bond of $5,000 and two additional bonds of $2,500 each. One of the bondsmen is R. M. Tooth, the London barrister, and John Lewis, a brother of the prisoner, will arrive this morning to furnish the other $2,500 bail.

Arrested the Wrong Man.

The crown prosecutor was evidently disappointed and annoyed by the developments in the London bribery case yesterday. A witness named John O'Meara, who had been arrested in London on Saturday on a Bench warrant, and kept in custody since as a material witness, turned out to be the wrong man. He made a vigorous protest against the ill-treatment which as an innocent man, he had been subjected to, and counsel for the crown, after being convinced that they had the wrong man, offered him a letter of apology. The offer was not, however, accepted, and it is understood a writ for damages may be issued.

Contributed $300.

Mr. James A. Corry, the Ottawa contractor, who was arrested on a Bench warrant, and who explained that his failure to appear earlier was owing to a misunderstanding, testified that he had given $300 to Mr. Geo. Reid, whom he had not known previously, as a contribution towards Mr. Hyman's election expenses. At the time he held a contract under the Government at St. Joseph's, on Lake Huron, and from past experience he knew a little money was useful for legitimate expenses at an election.

Three other Ottawa "workers" in the election testified, but without much result.

More Bribed Voters.

The following London voters examined in the bribery case yesterday morning swore to having received the amount set opposite their names in the Hyman-Gray bye-election:

John Clarke	$ 9.50
Edward Tolhurst	10.00
Frank Pickles	9.50
Henry Clarke	5.00
Wm. Clarke	9.50
John D. Valker	10.00
Wm. Flannery	10.00
Wm. Jarvis	9.50
John Riley	10.00
David Armstrong	5.00
James Thompson	9.50
Justin Jeffreys	10.00

Edward J. Bowles, an elderly man, told of having been bribed in an election in East Middlesex by Collins, who paid him $5. The court adjourned at 5.45 p. m.

London, Oct. 23.—P. MacFadyen, head of MacFadyen & Co., whose suspension was announced Saturday, committed suicide within an hour after posting the notice of the failure on the door of the bank by throwing himself before a train in a tunnel about half a mile away from his place of business. His body was shockingly mutilated.

Dismiss The Appeal In The Election Case

Judgment of the Full Court In Prince Albert Election Case.

TWO OF JUSTICES DISSENT

Chief Justice Sifton, Justices Harvey and Newlands, the Majority—Justices Wetmore and Scott Favor Appeal Five Separate Opinions Delivered —Summary of Judgments— Case To Go to Privy Council.

Regina, Sask., Oct. 23.—The full court met at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon and handed down judgment in the matter of the controverted elections ordinance, Albert Alexander Strachan, petitioner and appellant, and Hon. John H. Lamont, respondent. Each of the five judges handed down a separate opinion, three in favor of the dismissal of the appeal, and two dissenting from the majority decision. Chief Justice Sifton and Justices Harvey and Newlands rendered the majority verdict, while Justices Wetmore and Scott declared in favor of the appeal.

Chief Justice Sifton.

Chief Justice Sifton said in part:—This matter came before the court on an appeal from an order made by Hon. Mr. Justice Prendergast, whereby for reasons therein stated he dismissed the petition herein. The facts shortly stated are: That at the first general election of a Legislative Assembly for the Province of Saskatchewan the respondent herein was returned and gazetted as member for the electoral district of Prince Albert, said gazetting taking place on 30th day of January last. Within one month thereafter, on the 27th day of February, the appellant filed a petition under the provisions of "the controverted elections ordinance of the Northwest Territories," asking to have such election set aside, and, the respondent having been served with the same, took out a summons upon a number of grounds to have the petition removed from the files of the court, one of these grounds being that the said ordinance was not in force in the Province of Saskatchewan, and this contention was upheld by the trial Judge in the order appealed from. His ruling on the other grounds is not material, because if he was correct in his interpretation of the law on the other grounds set forth in the summons, the sole question of importance before this court is as to whether the controverted elections ordinance of the Northwest Territories is in force in the Province of Saskatchewan. If it is in force it must be by some provision of chapters 42, 43 and 45 Edward VII., cited as "the Saskatchewan act." Two sections of this act were referred to in the argument as being the only ones dealing with the matter, viz., sections 14 and 16. Section 16 is the one continuing in force the body of general law of the Territories until altered by the Provincial Legislature or other competent body, and it was argued that failing section 14, upon which the principal reliance was placed, section 16 was broad enough on a liberal construction to embrace the ordinance in question. There is the serious objection to this argument that the ordinance in question referred in specific terms to a body, "the Legislative Assembly of the Northwest Territories," which was no longer in existence, and the only power it gave the court was to remove and in some cases replace a member of that Assembly.

What Parliament Declares.

It is, however, unnecessary to expand the argument in regard to this section, because Parliament has by section fourteen explicitly declared that in its opinion section sixteen was not intended to cover any special legislation, and has, if it were possible, strengthened that declaration by subsection three of section sixteen, which continues in existence until dissolved by the Governor in Council all societies and associations, such as legal, medical, dental, pharmaceutical and the like. We are, therefore, confined to the effect of the provisions of section fourteen of the Saskatchewan act, which reads as follows:—"Until the said Legislature (Saskatchewan Legislature) otherwise determines, all the provisions of the law with regard to the constitution of the Legislative Assembly of the Northwest Territories and the election of members thereof shall apply, mutatis mutandis, to the Legislative Assembly of the said Province (Saskatchewan) and the election of members thereof, respectively."

Two Distinct Provisions.

Here are two distinct provisions:—First: All the provisions of the law with regard to the constitution of the Legislative Assembly of the Northwest Territories shall apply to the Legislative Assembly of Saskatchewan, with necessary changes. Second: All the provisions of the law with regard to the election of members of the Legislative Assembly of the Northwest Territories shall apply to the election of members of the Legislative Assembly.

After a lengthy review of this clause the Chief Justice drew the conclusion that the decision of Judge Prendergast was a proper one, and that section fourteen did not convey power to bring the controverted elections act into force.

Sixteen election petitions depended on the decision, out of a House of twenty-five. It is stated that the Provincial Rights party will take the case to the Privy Council, on the ground that if the controverted elections act was not in force neither was the election act, and no legal elections had therefore been held.

Gin Pills Will Cure Your Sick Kidneys

OR MONEY REFUNDED.

Don't you want to be rid of that nagging, biting, torturing pain across the back and through the kidneys? Don't you want to sleep through the night without being disturbed by the sick kidneys? Don't you want to feel well and be well? Here's the way:

"I suffered from pain and stiffness in the back. Sharp pains would catch me unexpectedly, which were sometimes so severe as to produce fainting spells. Rheumatism followed, and the sharp pains were so severe that I had to take to the bed for several months. I started to take Gin Pills, and in five days I was up and around the house. My pains are gone now, and I have not had a return of the old trouble since. And Gin Pills gave me the first painless passage of urine I have had in two years.

DUGGAN TO GO ON TRIAL.

Judgment In "Thin Red Line" Case Is Reserved.

Winnipeg, Oct. 23.—Lawrence Duggan, returning officer at Selkirk in the Dominion elections of 1904, must go to trial again.

At a sitting of the Appeal Court yesterday, the decision of Judge Perdue, withdrawing the case from the jury, was reversed. The court orders that the plea of not guilty must be set aside, and that Duggan, who is accused in what is known as the "thin red line" case, of having erased, or caused to be erased, the names of persons entitled to vote on the lists of the Dominion election, must go to trial again.

CATHOLIC ASSOCIATIONS.

Bishop Chapon of France Thinks Modus Vivendi Is Possible.

Nice, France, Oct. 23.—While disclaiming to speak on the authority of the Pope, Bishop Chapon in an interview yesterday flatly declared his conviction that if the Church hierarchy, through the Bishops, is given the right by a decision of the Council of State to decide on the regularity of the Catholic associations in France to which Church property may be surrendered a modus vivendi between the Church and the Government is possible, and the Vatican will not insist upon Parliamentary action.

Man Badly Scalded.

Owen Sound, Oct. 23.—Sunday morning at Williams' Lake, where are situated the Imperial Portland Cement Co.'s marl beds, an employe, Joseph Hooper, was in the boiler-room of the digger when the blow-off pipe burst, enveloping him in a cloud of steam. He was very badly scalded. No fatal results are looked for. Hooper is about fifty years old.

Lineman's Frightful Death.

Montreal, Oct. 23.—A young man named Kelly, an employe of the Montreal Park & Island Railway, missed his footing, and in trying to prevent himself from falling, seized hold of a live wire. Sparks were noticed flying from his hands, and in the twinkling of an eye the deadly wires were embedded in the flesh of his hands with fatal results.

Saw 79 Drown.

Mobile, Ala., Oct. 23.—The Mallory Line steamer Colorado, which arrived yesterday, had as passengers Joseph Melson, Charles Oslon, Charles Anderson and Otto Brink, who were picked up at sea on Saturday morning 90 miles off Key West. Melson says he saw 79 men drowned from a houseboat which was wrecked off Long Key, Ala., in last week's storm.

Power Co. Interviews Premier.

Toronto, Oct. 22.—General Green, president of the Ontario Power Co., and several others interested in that corporation had an interview with Premier Whitney on Saturday. Just what was afoot did not transpire, as all parties observed the strictest reticence.

Announcement

I own a block of beautiful garden land, 650x1800 feet, adjoining the Sand-stone Brick Factory grounds, I am opening a street west from the Monaghan Road, through the centre of this block, which I have named Western Avenue, and am laying off the land on each side in lots 120x294 feet, each of these blocks may be subdivided into 8 good building lots, each 30x147 feet, and although each of those 8 lots should be good value for at present $100, I will sell in blocks of 8 lots at $50 per lot for the balance of this month on terms of $10 cash and $5 per month on each block of 8 lots; 6% discount will be allowed on all deposits over $10.00, no interest until April 1st, next, perfect title, 6 blocks reserved for Factory sites. While all the lots are perfect there may be a choice and that will be given in the order of paying deposit. The suburbs of Peterboro have already grown beyond this property and there is not the slightest doubt but each Small Lot will sell within a very few years for the price I am now charging for the Eight. This ought to be both a safe and very profitable Bank to put your money in.

You ask, why sell so cheap? I am not young and wish to settle up my business, lots can be selected from plan which may be seen and full particulars obtained at my office.

Plague of Inventions.

Human ingenuity is a plague to modern life, and there is some excuse for the view of a great man who regarded the inventor of railways as a curse to his race. The truth probably is that no invention is at first perfect, and we have to suffer from its transitory imperfections—London Lancet.

LA MODE'S FOIBLES.

White Suede and Linen Pocketbooks and Cardcases a Summer Fancy.

For carrying with white cloth or linen costumes there are little pocketbooks and cardcases of white suede decorated with tiny gilt beads. The clasps and corners are of French gilt. Embroidered linen cardcases are also very smart for summer use.

Advanced showings of fine white figured lawns are seen in the shops. The grounds are mostly white, and the design is generally in pink, blue, lavender, yellow or green. These lawns are deliciously dainty and only cost 15 cents a yard.

Gold valenciennes lace is an exquisite novelty. Both edging and insertion are woven of the gold thread. On a severe tailor gown used as inserted bands and narrow ruffle for the collar this innovation is stunning.

A new way of getting a touch of gold and at the same time half concealing it is by the use of flowered gold tissue—beautiful wide ribbon of gold, with flowers scattered all over it and so sheer that the colors and the gold melt into each other in a lovely manner.

Tailors and dressmakers are vying with each other in seeing how many buttons they can crowd into a square inch. Some of the new tailor made skirts are literally covered with buttons, numbering several hundred, each seam of the princess corsage and full skirt being outlined with a close row of tiny buttons.

The debutante's gown illustrated is of spotted white net. The full sweep length skirt is trimmed with shirred flounces of the pretty, airy material. A bertha of net shirred to fit the shoulders and crossed back and front brotelle fashion outlines the decollete neck. The bebe waist is encircled with a deep girdle of white silk with long sash ends. JUDIC CHOLLET.

HERE AND THERE.

Streamers Fly From Sashes and Hats. Yards of Lace on Gowns.

Little girls' sashes nearly always have a little bunch bow set at each side of the front part of the sash that passes around the waist. The bow at the back is not long, as this style is mostly worn with the little short skirted French dresses. Often there is no sash, but only a tiny bebe ribbon run through the beading on the embroidery belt, and then there are full bunches of bebe ribbon tacked in the same way to each side of the front of the belt.

Many of the imported hats have ribbon streamers introduced at the back. A trimming the American woman likes is a modified form of the same thing where the soft, broad ribbon turns over the brim, forming a bow beneath, with soft, wide ends hanging to the depth of a little bobbed off veil.

Beaded elastic belts, with buckles fashioned from large beads in shades to match, are used with white lingerie frocks. They are narrow, and most of the belts shown in the shops are white, with a row of gold beads at the edges and outlining the buckle. Some of them are made in fancy designs.

Five hundred yards of lace on a handmade lingerie dress seem an enormous quantity of trimming to the average woman, but now that these gowns are so popular a prominent modiste asserts that many such orders are given by wealthy patrons.

Socks in preference to stockings are now worn by young children, and sandals and rubber soled canvas shoes will be worn for play with and without stockings.

The blouse in the cut is of white net. Each of the wide tucks that form the body and sleeve portions is trimmed with plaiting of the net. A skeleton bolero is a novel feature made of white silk embroidered in Greek key pattern in silver. JUDIC CHOLLET.

Fortifications.

The city and the tower which the sons of Noah proposed to build were the earliest recorded instances of fortification. The tower in this case was undoubtedly a citadel.

Latin and Italian.

Several hundred writers on the subject claim that the Italian, with such changes as naturally come about in the course of ages, has always been the language of the common people living in the boot shaped peninsula. These writers assert that Latin was the language of literature, the law and the educated classes, while Italian was spoken by the people.

FALL MILLINERY.

Black Taffeta Hat Trimmings—Eagle and Vulture Feathers Popular.

A great deal of black taffeta trims many of the fall hats. Stiff little kilted frills and "organ" plaits of this silk are important adjuncts in autumn millinery.

The vogue for eagle and vulture feathers is very pronounced. The plumes are laid flat on the crown of the hat and spread out in the form of a fan.

Soft French felts and beavers are the first hats of the season, but later on will come hats of velvet, cloth and fancy combinations of braid.

The unlucky peacock feathers, together with the sad, bedraggled, uncurled ostrich plume, are in evidence. But the peacock feathers are not in natural colorings, and the ostrich plumes take on a more cheerful mien than those of last year.

Enormous roses trim many of the stunningest hats, mingled with huge bunches of grapes.

The helmet is a new shape that is extremely chic. The crown is spoon shaped, and the back of the hat is cut off in a queer square fashion. It is worn flat on the head and tilted slightly over the face.

The all gray hat is to share honors with all black models. The large picture black hat is trimmed with an ostrich feather, often fifteen inches long, that curls gracefully down to the shoulder. A smart jet or cut steel buckle is the only other trimming.

The hat illustrated is a charming creation for morning wear. It is of olive green felt. A band of darker green velvet encircles the crown, and shaded green ostrich plumes are arranged at the side.

A BABY BAG.

Good Scheme For Keeping the Little One Covered at Night.

Keeping the baby covered at night is often a difficult task, for the little ones do love to kick off the clothes, with a cold or an attack of croup frequently the result. The scheme shown in the illustration seems to solve the problem. Take half an old blanket (use a cotton one in summer), stitch up the sides and make a bag. Open at the top, put baby into it and pin at sides on to his nightdress. He can't get out, and he can kick or twist as much as he likes, and you can put on a little worsted jacket in cold weather to protect the chest and arms.

WHIMS OF THE MOMENT.

How the Summer Girl Will Arrange Her Sash—Sleeves of Lace Smart.

Some of the smartest sash effects are achieved by twisting the ribbon into designs on each side of a dressy bodice and bringing the ends down on each side, the front to hang loose to the bottom of the skirt.

The regulation loop bow of the old fashioned sash has the bow hanging over the sash ends instead of sticking out on each side. Some girls knot the sash in the middle or near the bottom, while others trim it with inserted bands of lace or embroidery and add frills of lace or chiffon at the ends and across the lower portion.

BLUE LINEN DRESS

Many dressy frocks show entire sleeves of lace. In this case the bodice is cut with a deep shoulder running out over the top of the lace sleeves like a cap.

Shoulders of the smartest toilets are square rather than drooping, although there is none of the high military appearance.

Strasse buckles are used on many French dresses of sheer materials, and the buttons are more ornamental than ever. Those of carved Chinese ivory are extremely popular this summer.

Foulards have taken on an added beauty this season, and they make up into the nicest kind of little costumes, either of the shirt waist order or made more elaborate for afternoon wear with lace trimmings.

The pretty little frock illustrated is of blue linen trimmed with bands of English embroidery. It is suitable for a girl of five or six years.

VAGARIES OF FASHION.

The Correct Length For Skirts—Now's the Time to Buy Furs—Outing Hats.

Madam Fashion has decreed that the skirts of walking frocks shall be two inches from the ground. Carriage and dressy costumes have graceful sweep length skirts or short pointed trains.

Those who know say that now is the time to buy furs. They are cheaper at this time than they will be a month later and the modes are fully established.

Very smart are the fall outing hats of gray felt, with their rather tall sugar loaf crowns and wide brims, one side of which rolls becomingly and is caught with a paradise plume. side is the only trimming unless one includes a long automobile veil that goes with the hat.

A charming autumn frock is of bright brown veiling made with a skeleton bodice over a full blouse of heavy brown net. The net in turn is made over white batiste, and there are touches of heavy white batiste embroidery and lace.

The wrap illustrated is designed for a girl of fifteen and is of hunter's green broadcloth, trimmed with bands of black cloth outlined with white soutache braid.

CHALK dust is fine and white, but it won't make good bread. Fine, white flour is all right as far as it goes, but if it lacks nutrition its other qualities amount to nothing as far as baking is concerned.

Foe of the Aged.

With Enervated Strength and Impoverished Blood, this is a Season of Danger.

Right now, to-day, is the time to look for better health. If you use Ferrozone you'll find it. Ferrozone is a grand blood renovator, makes the vital fluid rich, red and nutritious. By strengthening the blood, a current of life is sent into every nook and corner of the body that puts stamina and staying power into all weak organs.

A complete restoration to the health and spirits of youth is within the reach of everyone that uses the food tonic Ferrozone. You can hardly afford to miss the benefit of such a strength-giving medicine. Hadn't you better try it?

FERROZONE

It is impossible for any one to be weak or nervous if they use Ferrozone. It possesses the power to kindle new vitality and strength in systems of people almost dying of weakness.

It is an extraordinary and magical tonic, a wonderful rebuilder, far famed for its lasting cures.

You'll never know what real good health means until you have used Ferrozone, which contains more actual nourishment and strength-giving elements than you can get in any other way

As a blood purifier, nerve-strengthener, and appetizing tonic, Ferrozone has positively no equal.

Ferrozone is sold by all dealers in 50c boxes, or six boxes for $2.50. By mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont., and Hartford, Conn., U.S.A.

No Sleep For The Kidneys.

Old people are especially liable to Kidney and Bladder Irritation. The organs are weakened by age. This starts up inflammation—blood is not properly purified as it goes to the kidneys—and the bladder is unable to retain the urine properly. There is a constant desire to urinate day and night—and sound, restful sleep is unknown.

OCEAN AVALANCHES

Some of the Great Engulfing Waves of the Glutton Sea.

There is one consolation about the two great earthquakes which destroyed respectively the two great cities of San Francisco and Valparaiso, and that is that they raised no seismic waves to speak of.

This was because the earth tremors were wholly on land and did not extend beneath the bed of the ocean. It is when this latter eventuality happens that these terrible waves are created, causing widespread havoc.

For instance, it was this kind of ocean avalanche that engulfed Lisbon, with 50,000 of its inhabitants, in 1755, and in 1883 a submarine earthquake started in the straits of Sunda a so called "tidal" (seismic) wave that traveled twice around the globe and drowned 35,000 people.

In 1891 again a submarine earthquake threw up a wall of water seventy feet high and more than 800 miles in length, which overwhelmed the greater portion of the Niphon islands. On this occasion 84,000 houses were swept away and 10,000 people lost their lives.

Worse still was a huge wave which in 1868 wiped out of existence in a few minutes the cities of Arequipa, Iquique, Tacua and Chencha, drowning 25,000 persons and destroying property worth £60,000,000. The waters of the Pacific first retreated nearly half a mile, then rushed forward with irresistible force, so that great ships were carried far inland and there left high and dry for future generations to wonder at.

At Port Royal, Jamaica, again, many houses were engulfed forty fathoms deep, with above 3,000 of their inhabitants, while about the same time an earthquake made wave so completely demolished Catania, in Sicily, that of the town and its 18,000 inhabitants not a trace remained. — Pearson's Weekly.

How Would You Like This Laundry?

Prices are high in South Africa, and bills for laundry are frequently exorbitant. Persian, Kaffir and Cape women do the work after a fashion. "One usually pays $5 per month a head," says a woman correspondent, "and the woman who washes for you takes everything for that, but is apt to vanish for a month on end with your clothes. You seek and find her after infinite difficulty and discover her in the bosom of her family, her husband and sons arrayed in the clothes of your mankind, if you have any, and her daughter and herself in yours. I walked in on my laundress one morning after seeking her ten days and found her in my best white silk tea gown, squatting on the earth cooking herself a meal, while her daughter sat near in my valenciennes lace petticoat and tea jacket peeling potatoes."—Chicago News.

Absinth Bonbons.

"Look out for absinth in bonbons," says a large candy dealer. "They are on the market, and they are loaded. I doubt if any are on sale as yet in Philadelphia, but they have been offered to us, and I have seen samples of them. I have no doubt they will soon be seen here. It's likely that their stay will be short, however, for the authorities and the temperance people will surely be after them. Four of the kind of bonbons that were sent to us would make a pretty stiff drink of absinth, and an innocent customer might get laid out cold before he knew it. Those sent to us were from Europe, where, I understand, their manufacture has resulted from certain restrictive legislation concerning the sale of alcohol."—Philadelphia Record.

Remembering Niagara.

If you didn't buy a red glass tumbler, with your name written on it in Spencerian characters while you wait, you'd forget all about ever having been to Niagara. As it is, when people ask you, "Have you seen the falls?" you inquire: "Niagara falls? Niagara falls? Name sounds familiar somehow. Mother, were we ever at the falls?" And she answers: "Why, yes, dear. Don't you remember? You got that red glass cup there." And you say: "Oh, yes, yes, yes! Why, certainly. Very pretty view there, as I recall it." I stick up for souvenirs.—Eugene Wood in McClure's.

Slight Mistake.

"Waiter, what does this mean? Twenty-five francs for two hard boiled eggs?"

"Very sorry, sir. Slight mistake, sir. I've given you the bill intended for the American at the next table."—Pele Mele.

An Air Brush.

Dottie was asked, "What is a fan."

After a moment's thought Dot replied, "A fan is a thing to brush warm air away with."

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Actress' Arm as a Relic.

"This is the arm of Mme. Allcoyne, the celebrated actress, burned in the great Paris bazaar fire. It was amputated and presented to Dr. Baker of Worthing after the inquiry held in Paris."

So runs the notice that hangs beneath a grewsome relic in the saloon bar of the Black Bull at Whetstone, Middlesex. Charred and mummified, it is nailed to the wall within reach of any one and occupies the place of honor among such monstrosities as a two headed kitten and a double bodied dog.

The name, "Mme. Allcoyne," is not found in the records of the terrible disaster of May, 1897, and another story has it that the arm was removed from the body of an actress after the fire at the Opera Comique in Paris in May, 1887.—London Mail.

Brains.

All over the civilized world there is a strong demand for brains that are a little above the average in quantity for purposes of dissection. Scientists have for the most part nothing better to dissect than the brains of paupers and lunatics. These, however, leave much to be desired, and it is to the interest of the human family that the brains of cultured and learned people should be placed at their disposal. A certain number of such brains are forthcoming. In the great majority of cases they are bequeathed by their respective owners.—New York Tribune.

Sirius and the Sun.

A new estimate of the comparative amount of light received on the earth from the sun and from the brightest (apparent) fixed star in the heavens, Sirius, has been made by Mr. Ceraski of the Astronomical observatory of Moscow. The sun, according to his estimate, sends us about 17,000,000,000 times as much light as Sirius does. But this of course is a matter governed by relative distance, so that if the earth were halfway between Sirius and the sun Sirius would appear between sixteen and seventeen times as bright as the sun.

Croquet.

Croquet stands as high in favor today as it did when Leech immortalized the game in the Punches of the sixties and seventies of the last century. Croquet is played in London and the country, at Ranelagh and at Hurlingham. Several men and women in smart society have become experts, and much high betting takes place when a match is in progress.—London M. A. P.

A Runaway House.

A runaway house is certainly a novelty, but a record performance by one is reported from Butte, Mont. It was moved on rollers, broke away, ran a distance of three blocks and killed four horses, as well as tearing down telegraph poles and wires and wrecking vehicles. A house that has not been trained to stand quietly is dangerous to have around.—Baltimore News.

THE REAL COLONEL SELLERS

Optimistic James Lampton, as Mark Twain Knew Him.

In the opening chapter of his "Autobiography," printed in the first fortnightly number of the North American Review, Mark Twain tells thus of the original Colonel Sellers:

Many persons regarded Colonel Sellers as a fiction, an invention, an extravagant impossibility, and did me the honor to call him a "creation," but they were mistaken. I merely put him on paper as he was. He was not a person who could be exaggerated. The incidents which looked most extravagant, both in the book and on the stage, were not inventions of mine, but were facts of his life, and I was present when they were developed.

John T. Raymond's audiences used to come near to dying with laughter over the turnip eating scene; but, extravagant as the scene was, it was faithful to the facts in all its absurd details. The thing happened in Lampton's own house, and I was present. In fact, I was myself the guest who ate the turnips. In the hands of a great actor that piteous scene would have dimmed any manly spectator's eyes with tears and racked his ribs apart with laughter at the same time. But Raymond was great in humorous portrayal only. In that he was superb, he was wonderful—in a word, great. In all things else he was a pygmy of the pygmies.

The real Colonel Sellers as I knew him in James Lampton was a pathetic and beautiful spirit, a manly man, a straight and honorable man, a man with a big, foolish, unselfish heart in his bosom, a man born to be loved, and he was loved by all his friends and by his family worshiped. It is the right word. To them he was but little less than a god. The real Colonel Sellers was never on the stage. Only half of him was there. Raymond could not play the other half of him. It was above his level. There was only one man who could have played the whole of Colonel Sellers, and that was Frank Mayo.

James Lampton floated all his days in a tinted mist of magnificent dreams and died at last without seeing one of them realized. I saw him last in 1884, when it had been twenty-six years since I ate the basin of raw turnips and washed them down with a bucket of water in his house. He was become old and white headed, but he entered to me in the same old breezy way of his earlier life, and he was all there yet—not a detail wanting. The happy light in his eye, the abounding hope in his heart, the persuasive tongue, the miracle breeding imagination—they were all there, and before I could turn around he was polishing up his Aladdin's lamp and flashing the secret riches of the world before me.

A Simple Cure for Piles.

Pile sufferers know that Ointments and other local treatments sometimes relieve, but never cure. They don't remove the cause.

There is a little tablet that, taken internally, removes the cause of Piles and cures any case of any kind no matter how long standing.

A month's treatment costs $1.00. Ask for Dr. Leonhardt's Hem-Roid (a thousand dollar guarantee goes with every treatment).

Cold Storage in Irish Bogs.

For long it puzzled me to know what the poachers did with the birds they shot in July. There is no cold storage in the north of Ireland, but they have discovered an excellent substitute. The birds are buried four or five feet deep in dry peat, and, I am told, come out perfectly fresh at the end of two or three weeks. When one remembers the bog butter dug out of the peat bogs in a comparatively fresh state after being buried for probably 200 or 300 years, it is not difficult to believe that grouse might keep, under the same circumstances, for two or three weeks.—Letter in Country Life.

The Tact Market.

Chancellor James R. Day was once advising a young undergraduate of Syracuse university to cultivate tact. "But, alas," he said, "I fear that advice on such a subject must always be wasted. On tact the last word was spoken by Barbey d'Aureville when he said:

"'If tact could be bought, only those already possessed of it would want to buy it.'"

Making New Rubber Plants.

From a rubber plant which is growing in a living room, the best way to get plants is by scoring the bark of the limb where you want the roots to grow and covering the injury with sphagnum moss, which must always be kept damp. Roots will soon permeate the moss, when the limb should be cut off and potted.—Garden Magazine.

Too Much Exercise.

Unfortunately a good many men have the conviction that they must keep exerting themselves all the time. They call every moment wasted which is not spent in activity of some kind, either physical or mental. Such men are taking the quickest means to burn themselves out. You cannot live well and keep happy under a constant and tyrannical sense of effort. There must be times of play, times to let up the tension and to do easy and natural things which don't require conscience and exact attention. Horace Bushnell, the great Connecticut minister, recognized this when he said, "Let's go sin awhile." Sinning has the advantage of being easy, and there are times when the easy thing is the right thing. A man who takes no time off for one kind of play or another, but who keeps the anxious, conscientious look on his face day in and day out, may be on the road to heaven, but he will find that the sanitarium is a way station.—Dr. Luther H. Gulick in Good Housekeeping.

A Few Corrections.

A few things picked up from a child's schoolbook: Never say, "I don't think it will rain." What you mean is, "I do think it will not rain." "All over the world" is bad; say "Over all the world." "The reason why" is not only incorrect, but doesn't sound as well as "The reason that." In the King James version of the Bible, quoted by some authorities as a standard of pure English, one may find the following, which occurs in Isaiah xxxvii, 36: "Then the angel of the Lord went forth and smote in the camp of the Assyrians a hundred and fourscore and five thousand, and when they arose early in the morning, behold they were all dead corpses." In other words, the corpses arose early in the morning and found themselves dead. Don't say "A man fell off the dock." A man might fall into a dock, but to say that he fell off a dock is no better than to say he fell off a hole.

The Crested Rat.

The crested rat of East Africa is remarkable, first because of the great length of the black and white hairs down the ridge of the back, which are rendered the more conspicuous because the hairs along the sides of the body are so short and so differently colored, being brownish gray and looking for all the world as if some one had taken a pair of scissors and maliciously shorn off the decorative hair, leaving only a dull underfur. Secondly, it is remarkable because the skull has a roofing of bones exactly resembling that of some turtles, while, furthermore, this roof has a granulated appearance recalling that presented by the skulls of certain fishes. In its habits it appears to be arboreal while from the structure of its teeth it would appear to be at least partly insectivorous.

The Dropt Letters.

The postmaster at Benson's Bend chuckled happily.

"Yep," he remarked, "this office is ther headquarters fur simplified spellin'. Leastwise, this air ther place where folks drop their letters."—Judge.

Cruel of Him.

A Curiosity In Figures.

The following remarkable contribution to the curiosities of figures consists of two series of numbers, of which no description is necessary, as they speak for themselves. Perhaps there is no special profit in them, but they are worth preserving nevertheless;

1 times 9 plus 2 equals 11.
12 times 9 plus 3 equals 111.
123 times 9 plus 4 equals 1111.
1234 times 9 plus 5 equals 11111.
12345 times 9 plus 6 equals 111111.
123456 times 9 plus 7 equals 1111111.
1234567 times 9 plus 8 equals 11111111.
12345678 times 9 plus 9 equals 111111111.
1 times 8 plus 1 equals 9.
12 times 8 plus 2 equals 98.
123 times 8 plus 3 equals 987.

White Animals Can't Smell.

"Pure white animals," said a pet stock dealer, "have no sense of smell. Hence they are continually eating things that disagree with them, and in eight cases out of ten poison themselves and die. Pure white pigs should never be allowed to run loose in the fields and woods. For, without the protection of a sense of smell, such pigs, when they get out, eat all sorts of poisonous roots and berries and die off rapidly. "In Africa the white rhinoceros poisons itself by eating the euphorbia, and pure white sheep are difficult to rear because they are continually munching shrubs and grasses that don't agree with them."

Butler's Flag.

Feb. 21, 1866, General Benjamin F. Butler presented to congress the first genuine American flag, made of American materials by American labor, ever constructed in this country. Prior to that time all American government flags had been made of English bunting. Since then all our official flags have been the product exclusively of American material and labor. There were twenty-six stars in the flag at that time.

His Last Name.

A gentleman once asked a lad what was his last name.

"Johnny," replied the boy.

"Well, what is your full name?"

"Johnny Brown, sir."

"Well, how can Johnny be your last name?"

"Because, sir, when I was born my name was Brown, and Johnny wasn't given to me till I was a month old."

A Narrow Escape.

The company had assembled in the church, but the bridegroom was nowhere to be found. Finally a messenger announced that the young man had been run over and killed while on his way to the church.

"And just think," she said a month afterward to a friend, "what a narrow escape I had from becoming a widow!"

Synopsis Of Canadian North-West HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the North-west Provinces, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land is situate.

Homestead Duties.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:—

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Application for patent should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of his intention to do so.

SOME GOOD STORIES.

No Reward Offered—Proved an Alibi. Blessed Are the Compassionate.

"Have you lost anything, madam?" asked the polite floor walker of the square jawed, austere looking shopper who stood before the "lost and found" window of the large department store.

"Yes, sir," she replied. "I've lost 114 pounds of husband in a light brown suit, with black derby hat, small tuft of hair on its chin and a frightened look. I lost it in a crush at the fancy goods counter. It's probably wandering through the building in search of me, and I thought perhaps you could find it easier than I can. I want it on account of a bundle it is carrying under its arm."

"We hear some strange things in this office sometimes," said the superintendent of sewers.

"One of our inspectors went one day to inspect an old house in the country. There was a good deal of smell about the old place. The inspector walked about sniffing.

"'Dear me,' he said, 'what an unpleasant odor. Can it be the drains?'

"The owner of the house shook his head positively.

"'It can't be the drains,' he said, 'because there ain't none.'"

The young man stooped, picked up a coin from the floor of the street car, examined it attentively, and then, "Has anybody lost a five dollar gold piece?" he called in a loud voice.

Instantly the solemn man at the other end of the car strode forward. "Yes, I've lost a five dollar gold piece," he said eagerly, holding out his hand.

"Well," said the young man, giving him the coin, "I'm sorry for you. Here's 5 cents toward making good your loss."—Woman's Home Companion.

The Modern Stage Robber.

"One moment," said the affable stage robber. "The lady with the camera evidently wants to take me. Will this do, ma'am?" And he struck a tasty attitude.

The lady smiled. She was a camera fiend, and the chance to humor her pet fad quite overcame all thought of danger.

"Look pleasant, please," she said.

The stage robber smiled.

"I will give you the pleasant look of the man who has just taken several thousands from the express box, a few hundreds in loose change, two bags of dust, eight watches, four diamond rings and an opal scarfpin," he merrily said.

Then the camera clicked, and with a sweeping bow the robber remounted his horse and dashed away.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The Lucky Rich.

Mamma Roxtoburn — Ethel will be five years old in a week.

Papa Roxtoburn—True!

"Of course she will have to have her own footman now, as well as her three maids."

"Of course."

"And I've been wondering"—

"Well?"

"If she oughtn't to have her own social secretary likewise, what with all the affairs she will be invited to."—New York Life.

Crooked Joke.

"Say, Bill," exclaimed the second story man as they wended their way down the avenue on a warm night, "I'm all but roasted. Let's go in here and get a soda."

"Not for mine, pal," laughed the safe cracker.

"Why not?"

"Well, you see, I might be a safe cracker, but I don't want people to say I am a soda cracker."—Chicago News.

Leaves the Holes.

The Gourmet—I tell you I certainly am fond of Swiss cheese sandwiches.

The Dyspeptic—Oh, that's the cheese with the holes in it! Very indigestible.

The Gourmet—They are, eh? Well, I never eat them.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Explained Satisfactorily.

Percy—I say, Chappie, old boy, why do you—aw—smoke bwown papah cigawettes?

Chappie—To match me wusset shoes, doncher know.

An Inch or So Below.

"It's funny," began the long winded bore, "but nobody ever seems glad to see me."

"Well, and have you never found out the cause of your unpopularity?"

"No, I can't discover it."

"That's strange, because it's right under your very nose."—Philadelphia Press.

A Contingency.

"Haven't I a right to do as I like with my money?" inquired the multimillionaire.

"You have," answered the sardonic person, "if your lawyer is smart enough to draw up a will that can't be contested."—Washington Star.

Our Voices Deepen.

The primitive inhabitants of Europe were all tenors; their descendants of the present time are baritones, and future generations will have semibass voices. The voice has a tendency to deepen with age. The tenor of twenty becomes the baritone of twenty-eight and the bass of thirty-six. The inferior races have higher pitched voices than the more cultured. The negro has a higher voice than the white man. Among white races, the fair complexioned man has a higher voice than his darker skinner brother. The former is usually a baritone or a tenor, the latter a contralto or bass. It is asserted that tenors are usually of slender build, whereas basses are stout, but there are too many exceptions to such a rule for it to be reliable. The same remark applies to the statement that thoughtful men have deep toned voices and vice versa. The tones of a voice are perceptibly higher before than after a meal, for which reason tenors are generally careful not to sing too soon after dinner.—Pearson's Weekly.

Henry Clay's Popularity.

The greatest popular idol in a political sense the country has ever known was Henry Clay. Only one other American statesman ever possessed the quality called personal magnetism to the same extent that he did, and no other ever had a more enthusiastic personal following. He was an aspirant for president from 1824 to 1848, but never reached the goal. He received 37 electoral votes in 1824, 49 in 1832 and 105 in 1844, but never enough to elect him. Clay was elected speaker of the house of representatives on the first day of his term in that body and was five times re-elected. He was twice elected United States senator, once unanimously by the Kentucky legislature, and held several other high offices. If there was ever a popular idol in the politics of this country, it was Henry Clay, but he could not be elected president.—Indianapolis Journal.

The Old Plane Tree of Cos.

In the island of Cos, in the Ægian sea, there stands, jealously guarded, a huge plane tree measuring nearly eighteen yards in circumference. It is surrounded by a podium, or raised platform breas high, doubtless built to support the trunk of the tree after it had become hollow and weak from age. The lower branches are still well preserved and have been shored up by pieces of antique columns, over the upper ends of which the branches have grown like caps in consequence of the pressure of their own weight. Close by the tree is a solid marble seat, which is said to be the chair of Hippocrates, the father of medicine, and it is supposed that he taught the art of healing from that seat. He was born at Cos 460 B. C. This gives a clew to the age of the celebrated plane tree, which must be considerably more than 2,000 years old.

This Peculiar World.

This is a peculiar world, says an exchange. One is struggling for justice and another is fleeing from it. One man is saving to build a house and another is trying to sell his for less than cost to get rid of it. One man is spending all the money he can make in taking a girl to the theater and sending her flowers, with the hope of making her his wife, while his neighbor is spending what gold he has in getting a divorce. One man escapes all the diseases that flesh is heir to and gets killed on a railroad. Another escapes with a scratch and dies with the whooping cough. One man stands off his creditors and goes traveling while another pays his debts and stays at home.

Consoling.

A New England congressman once went to Franklin Pierce demanding an office for a constituent. Pierce sent him to James Guthrie, secretary of the treasury. By and by the congressman returned to the president in great dudgeon.

"What did Guthrie say to you about appointing your friend?" inquired the president. "He said he would be hanged if he would."

"Did Guthrie talk that way to you?"

"He did."

"Well, that's the way he talks to me, too," was Pierce's consoling reply.

Golf or Croquet?

It was a twosome. The player who drove off first had bandy legs. The second in driving off did not notice that his opponent had got in front of him and the ball ran through between the opponent's legs. Turning around in anger the bandy legged one said, "Here, mun, that's no golf!" "Weel," said the other, "if it's not golf it's croquet."—Scottish Referee.

The Oak.

The Druids considered the oak as the emblem, or rather the peculiar residence, of the Almighty, and accordingly chaplets of it were worn both by the Druids and people in their religious ceremonies. The fruit of it, the mistletoe, was thought to contain a divine virtue and to be the peculiar gift of heaven.

Lake Erie's Fish.

It is claimed that Lake Erie produces more fish to the square mile than any other body of water in the world.

Soap Bubbles.

In the Louvre, at Paris, there is an interesting old vase of Etruscan manufacture, whose age is computed at about 2,500 years. It is interesting as bearing a group of children in relief who are engaged in blowing soap bubbles from pipes.

A Unique Law.

A unique law is still in force at Stratford, in Prussian Pomerania. A paragraph of the police regulations of 1840, which is still being enacted, reads, "Smoking in the streets of promenades of this town is positively prohibited, violators of this law being punished by a fine, or eventually by a number of marks the fine amounts to."

The End of Books.

What brings about the end of books? Is it fire, water, worms? As every ship launched is bound to be wrecked, every theater to be burned, the fate of the book is its reduction to ashes. What became of the Alexandrian library? Did the Saracens burn it in 640? There is this question asked: Was there any library at Alexandria containing 700,000 books? Gibbon inclines to the opinion that there was no such library. Canon Taylor insists that if there had been a library it was burned in the time of Julius Caesar. Tradition seems to indicate, however, that there was a library in the serapeum, by no means a large collection, but whether destroyed by Theophilus or Theodosius is not known. It looks as if the charge brought against the Arabs rested on no foundation. Explorations of Alexandria in 1895-96 show no traces of the serapeum. The seaport of Egypt was built on a damp foundation, and granting that there was a library, if not destroyed by fire, then the papyri might have suffered from decay due to water. Books of today taken to India, to the southern states and to the West Indies perish through mildew.

Robinson Crusoe.

The second volume of "Robinson Crusoe," by Daniel De Foe, published on Aug. 20, 1719, was the first story published in England with illustrations. The illustrations consisted of a map of the world, in which the different voyages of the hero of the tale were delineated. The first volume of "Robinson Crusoe" was published in April, 1719, and became popular at once. A second edition was printed seventeen days after the first, twenty-five days later another followed, and a fourth was published on Aug. 8 of the same year. On Aug. 20 the second volume was issued under the title of "The Further Adventures of Robinson Crusoe; being the second and last part of his life and of the strange, surprising account of his travels round three parts of the globe. Written by himself. To which is added a map of the world, in which is delineated the voyage of Robinson Crusoe."

BETTY'S BURGLAR

By RUTH CATHERWOOD

Copyright, 1906, by E. C. Parcells

Grenville looked about him contentedly. When a man has been absent for a month and has slept in sleeping cars most of that time home seems pretty good, even though it may only be a four room flat.

He washed the stains of travel from his face and hands, slipped on his smoking jacket and went over to the humidor. To his surprise the box was empty save for a card on which was scrawled: "Had a party. I owe you a box. Bert."

With a laugh he started for the window. Bert Niblo lived on the floor below. He would demand the immediate return of a couple of the cigars. He wanted a chat with Bert anyway, and the quickest way down was by the fire escape.

His slippered feet made little or no noise against the iron rings, and presently he stood on the landing below. The windows were open, and he stepped into the room.

For a moment the gloom blinded him, then as his eyes became accustomed to the dusk he started forward. As he did so there was a click, and a feminine voice commanded him to throw up his hands.

The command had to be twice repeated before he obeyed, but at last he comprehended that the order was intended for him, and he raised them above his head.

There was a rustle of feminine draperies, then the light was turned on, revealing a girl who was pretty even in spite of the white eagerness of her face.

"I beg your pardon," said Grenville. "I am afraid that there is a mistake somewhere. I thought these were Mr. Niblo's apartments."

"They are," was the quiet response. "You made the mistake of seeing Mr.

SHE INDICATED A SEAT BY THE WINDOW, AND INTO THIS HE BACKED.

Niblo go out and not knowing that I was here."

"Not remarkable, considering the fact that he is a bachelor," he smiled. "I'll bet you are his sister."

"I am," she admitted stiffly.

"Then you must know me," he began. "I am Fred Grenville."

Miss Niblo's nose raised itself in protest. "That is very clever of you," she said, "only Mr. Grenville is out of town and will not be back for another week."

"Great heaven!" he gasped. "You don't take me for a burglar, do you?"

"Who else would be likely to make entry by means of the fire escape?" she asked.

"But a burglar in smoking jacket and slippers?" he protested.

"I suppose it is a new dodge," she explained. "Something like the dress suit burglar, isn't it?"

"But I really am Fred Grenville," he pleaded. "I always drop down to see Bert by way of the fire escape. He took all of my cigars for some party, and when I got in ahead of time tonight I found his note and came down after some."

"So you've been robbing Mr. Grenville's flat, too?" she said. "You must have been to some pains to find out the safe places."

"But I tell you that I am Grenville," he persisted. "I will show you."

He reached into his hip pocket for his cardcase, but at his first move the pistol went up again. "Put up your hands or I'll shoot," warned a steady voice, and Grenville's hands went up. He knew that she meant what she said.

"I wish you would call up the house," he said. "Most of the tenants know me, and identification will be easy."

"My brother will be in soon," she said. "I feel safer this way."

"It's a mighty uncomfortable way," he pleaded. "May I not lower my hands?"

"If you keep them in your lap," she agreed, "but keep them away from your pockets. Sit in that chair."

She indicated a rocker by the window, and into this he backed. She took a seat in front of him, her finger on the trigger of the nasty looking revolver, ready to shoot at the first sign of an outbreak. She was a western girl, he remembered, and trained to the use of firearms.

"How did you come to have that gun?" he asked curiously.

"I heard some one in Mr. Grenville's rooms and knew it must be a burglar. I was just going upstairs when I heard you coming down."

"When will Bert be back?" he asked anxiously.

"Mr. Niblo will be back in a short time now," she said formally.

"Don't you think you had better call the janitor or some one?" he pleaded. "It will save a lot of time."

"I think it is safest just as we are," she said sharply.

"Do you really think I look like a burglar?" he asked.

"I never saw a burglar before," she admitted. "I don't know what they do look like, but I suppose that there are some Raffleses in real life."

"Well," he said complacently, "I'm glad I look like a gentleman burglar, anyhow. I should hate to have you think I look like the Bill Sikes type."

Betty smiled in spite of herself, but it was just for a moment, though long enough to make Grenville hope that she would smile again.

"I should think you would try to be respectable," she scolded. "You look like a man who might become a good citizen."

"I'm a gilt edged citizen," he protested. "I'm a member of the Reform club and all sorts of good government things. I forget just what they are, but I remember that I belong to a lot."

"I suppose they cannot be very careful in these large societies," she commented. 'Still, it is a pity that they afford you an excuse for posing as a good citizen."

"Bert will guy the life out of you for this," he said irrelevantly. "I'll bet he shrieks when he comes home."

Betty started. This visitor seemed to know her brother very well. What if she had made a mistake? She knew he spoke the truth when he said she would never be permitted to forget it. Her lips parted as if to speak, when a key grated in the lock, and the hall door opened.

"Hello, Bert!" shouted Grenville. "Come on in."

"Hello, Fred!" came the surprised reply. "When did you get back?"

With a quick gesture Betty thrust the revolver under the pillows of the sofa and looked appealingly at Grenville. He smiled and nodded just as Niblo came into the room with outstretched hands.

"I came down after those cigars," he laughed. "I found your sister here, and we've been having quite a chat. I wanted to get back upstairs, but she insisted that I should wait until you came."

"Glad you found some one home," laughed his chum, attributing Betty's confusion to another cause. "Betty's got a compelling way about her. When she says 'stay' you might as well make up your mind to stay."

"So I've found out," he agreed. "I couldn't have got away if I had tried."

"Well, let's have some supper," suggested Niblo. "I'm hungry as a bear."

Betty slipped out to set the table, and presently the three sat down to a cold lunch. The girl exerted herself in every way to be agreeable, and long before the meal was over Grenville decided that she was the burglar—she had stolen his heart.

At last he stood by the window taking his leave. "You were very good," whispered the girl as his hand closed over hers.

"Not good, but selfish," he corrected. "I shall hold that over you like a rod of iron to make you always nice to me."

"Is that needful?" she asked, but her eyes told him more.

Reading an Inscription.

That all inscriptions are not as ancient as they look was once proved by the French Academy of Inscriptions and Belles Lettres, which discovered a stone upon which was:

ICIL
ES

The unraveling of the mystery occupied the academy for a considerable time, and savants with different versions of the inscription's meaning grew angry with one another. The explanation and translation of the inscription were eventually found by a Parisian tradesman, who explained that he was a friend of the beadle of Montmartre church, who had told him that the stone had acted as a signpost to the workmen who went up to Montmartre with their donkeys for plaster of paris, of which there used to be large quarries there, and that the inscription merely meant "Ici le chemin des anes" ("This is the path for the donkeys").

England Has Largest Eggs.

"Egg cups are bigger in New York than anywhere else in the world except England," said a globe trotter. "I can't say the same for the eggs, although the hens in this country perform their duty of helping to feed the human race pretty creditably. Still, they cannot come up to the English hens. Their contribution to the food products are extraordinary in size; hence the corresponding capaciousness of the egg cups. The further south you go on the continent the smaller the egg cups grow. In Egypt they dwindle away to the size of the average thimble. Their diminutive proportions are commensurate with the size of the eggs, however, which are the smallest laid by self respecting hens any place on earth. Place an ordinary Egyptian egg in the British cup and it is absolutely lost."—New York Press.

Our Only Fortress.

The only fortress in the United States is Fortress Monroe, at Old Point Comfort, in Virginia. It was built for the purpose of defending the naval yard of Norfolk against any possible attack. Its area is about eighty acres, surrounded by a moat filled with water from eight to fifteen feet deep and from seventy-five to a hundred feet wide.

Cronstadt.

The strongest fortress in European Russia is Cronstadt. It is the Russian naval depot of the Baltic sea.

PETERBOROUGH WEDNESDAY OCTOBER 24 1906

ENTHUSIASM MARKS THE CLOSING HOURS

Murray Street Baptist Church Crowded Last Night at Last Session of the Convention.

Address on Foreign Missions One of the Features—A Most Successful Gathering Closes.

Next Meeting Will Probably be Held at Woodstock College—City Created Good Impression

The 500 or more delegates to the great Baptist Convention who spent nearly the past week in the city have gone and a noticeable silence reigns since their departure. Peterborough was fortunate in securing the convention which this year was one of the greatest in its history. It is quite probable that next year it will be held in Woodstock College although this was a matter left with the Executive to deal with. During the week many of the vital questions pertaining to the Baptist church were discussed by the ablest men of the denomination and of course some wise things were said which will certainly be of much benefit to the Baptist communities who have or will hear them.

Last night the convention was brought to a close as well as the day on Foreign Missions. The Murray street Baptist church was filled by a large congregation for the closing addresses, many being present from other congregations in the city. The choir was present and rendered excellent music which was much appreciated.

The chair was occupied by Mr. Warren, the President, who conducted the convention in its final stages.

Business Concluded

Rev. W. S. McAlpine, B. A., of Brampton, presented a comprehensive resolution expressing thanks for the cordial hospitality of the people of Peterborough. Rev. F. J. Scott responded.

Another resolution authorized the Home Mission Board to appeal this year for $40,000 as compared with $32,000 of the past year.

Still another resolution authorized the Foreign Mission Board to appeal for $53,000 this year. This was the revised form of Mr. Lefiamme's resolution of the afternoon.

The convention will probably be held at Woodstock College next year, but this question was left with the Executive to decide.

At this juncture a duet was admirably rendered by Rev. Mr. McAlpine and Rev. Mr. Davis.

Dr. Bates of St. Catharines then introduced Rev. and Mrs. Scott, who shortly leave for South America. Rev. Mr. Scott in a brief address said he was glad he had become the people's representative to do missionary work in Bolivia. He trusted they would be remembered in the prayers of the convention when in that southern continent, "the land of to-morrow." It seemed to him that the door of Bolivia was wide open for missionaries and he knew that those who were left would remember him and Mrs. Scott while in that mission field.

Foreign Mission Address

Rev. John Craig, B.A., missionary from India was then introduced and spoke on Foreign Missions. God, he said, had graciously blessed the work all along at their various missions and and stations of India. In 1891 when Rev. Mr. Brown took hold of the work at a station, there were only 366 converts; now there were 1800. Among those who were converted, Rev. Mr. Craig referred to three men in particular who had been among the worst of the transgressors previous to their conversions and he believed that God was doing a wonderful work in that far off land. In looking at the moral atmosphere in which the Christians live and in the atmosphere from which they came, it was simply horrible, he said, to think of the abominable conditions existing there. Rev. Mr. Craig had in his possession a small clay idol which the Mohammedans and other non-Christians worshipped. He also referred to the obscene figures upon the great towers and pagodas of the Hindoo temples and of the disgraceful sins of dancing girls and others. He read a letter from a lady missionary in India who was present at a revival meeting there just a few weeks ago.

She spoke of the sorrowful condition of the heathens who had for the first time realized Christ and their sins and referred to the rapid outflow of the Gospel in those dark lands.

He exhorted all, in conclusion, to assist with their most earnest prayers and activity the great movement

Will Present Annual Reports

At Meeting of Ladies' Auxiliary To-morrow.

To-morrow afternoon the annual meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Y.M.C.A. will be held in the association's parlours, when the reports of officers will be presented, and the officers for the coming year elected.

All the members of this most important branch of the association's work are asked to be present,

Nerve Exhibited By Injured Man

Dan. Connor Had Finger Amputated and Would Not Take Choloroform.

Dan Connor, of Havelock, a young man who has been employed at the Canadian General Electric Works, and who met with an accident last Monday, has a degree of grit which few men have yet given evidence of. Mr. Connor met with an accident on Monday while at work in the C. G. E. shops. One of the fingers on his left hand was practically cut off, and he was taken to the Nicholls Hospital to be given the usual medical attention. Dr. Young, the physician for the company, was called, and before amputating the finger and dressing the wound, wanted to apply chloroform, but Mr. Connor would not stand for anything which would deaden the pain. The advice of the doctor and nurses was without avail, and the operation was performed with Connor in full possession of his faculties. Dr. Young stated that he had seldom seen a more striking exhibition of nerve, the injured man showing no signs of pain, except when the stitches were being placed in the finger, when he breathed a little heavier.

The injured man will be able to leave the hospital in a few days, unless something unforeseen occurs.

Many Horses Were Inspected

Lecturers on the Horse Industry Gather Important Information.

Mr. Wm. Collins, Secretary of the West Peterborough Farmers' Institute has been busy during the last few days directing Messrs. J. D. Clarke and Jas. Irving through the country on their inspection tour of stallions. They have visited a number of owners in Otonabee, Smith, Ennismore and North Monaghan, and have obtained the necessary information which they intend to submit to the Government at the conclusion of their tour. If the present conditions in the horse breeding industry or a part of them, are found to be defective, the Government will enact legislation to right the defects.

The meeting to-night in the Council Chambers will certainly be an educative one and any who wish will be given an opportunity to ask or answer questions.

C. G. E. Officials Were In City

Mr. Frederick Nicholls and Other Members of Company Here.

Mr. Frederick Nicholls, General Manager of the Canadian General Electric Company, E. N. Wedd, E. J. Jenking, and E. D. McCormack, all connected with the same company, were in the city to-day, and inspected the company's plant this afternoon. Mr. Nicholls, when seen by the Examiner, said that there was nothing new or of public importance in connection with his visit.

Juvenile Circle Is To Be Formed

Court Stanley A. O. F. Will Assist in the Work.

The regular meeting of Court Stanley, A.O.F., was held last night in the S.O.E. hall, when there was a fair attendance of members. C. R. Bro. Hanwell occupied the chair, and one candidate was initiated into the mysteries of Forestry. It was decided to assist Companion Circle Queen Alexandra in forming a juvenile circle of the order.

CHOSEN FRIENDS TO HOLD PUBLIC MEETING

A public meeting of the Peterborough Council of Chosen Friends will be held in the Sons of England Hall on Friday evening, October 26th at 8 o'clock. Addresses will be given by the Grand Councillor, E. T. Essery, of London; Grand Recorder, F. Montague, of Hamilton; Grand Organizer, W. T. Campbell, of Hamilton, and A. T. Adams, Secretary of the Hospital Cot Board, of Toronto. There will also be a programme and refreshments. 3d94

New Roller Rink Will Be Erected

Evidence of Popularity of Pastime is Furnished by Decision to Build Handsome New Rink.

The proprietors and management of the Peterborough Roller Skating Company, at a meeting held yesterday afternoon, decided to erect a building to be used for roller skating purposes. The unanimous opinion of those in charge was that it was a money-making proposition, and it was decided to secure at once a site in the central portion of the city, which would be suitable for such a building. Several good offers have been received from property-owners in the centre of the city, and there will be no difficulty in securing a site.

Work on the rink will be commenced early in the spring. The building will be 200 feet long and 100 feet in width. It will be built of fire-proof material, the greater part of sheet steel. Every provision will be made for the comfort and convenience of patrons.

These arrangements include large waiting-rooms for both ladies and gentlemen, a smoking-room, rooms for the storage of skates, and also refreshment rooms where hot drinks may be obtained. A heating system is included in the plans, which will enable the management to keep the rink open all the year round.

This decision to build a new rink so soon after the opening of the Charlotte Street Rink is an evidence of the sudden and great popularity of the pastime, which seems to have captured all the young people of the city, and, it might be added, too, some who are not so young. The Charlotte Street Rink, which the company first secured on coming to Peterborough, has proved too small for the crowds desirous of participating in the roller skating game, and the management are to be congratulated upon their decision to build a larger and more suitable building. It looks as if roller skating had come to stay.

WEDDING BELLS

LEAHY—DELANEY

Invitations were received by many in the city to attend the nuptials this morning of two former residents of the city, now residing in Toledo, O. The wedding was that of Miss M. A. Delaney, daughter of Mr. P. Felaney, formerly of Peterborough, to Mr. F. F. Leahy, son of Mr. T. Leahy, late of the township of Douro. The ceremony was performed in St. Michael's Church, at 8 o'clock.

Many Apply For Membership

Rebekah Lodge Committee Making Rapid Progress.

Good progress was made last night by the Joint Committee arranging for the institution of the Rebekah Lodge here next Friday evening, October 26. The new lodge will be number 81.

A committee has been appointed to meet the Lindsay degree team, who will arrive on the noon train on Friday. A special train will arrive here shortly before 8 o'clock in the evening, bringing several others from Lindsay. All will return by this train later in the evening.

Many applications for membership have already been received, and there seems no reason to doubt the success of the new lodge. Any others who wish to join may hand in their names to any of the committee, or be present on Friday evening at the hall. Brothers who intend to join are reminded that they must produce their official receipt from the subordinate lodge as an evidence of membership therein, and of good standing. Arrangements are being made to serve refreshments at the close of the evening. A pleasant and profitable time is anticipated.

Arrangements For Harvest Supper

Rev. Dr. Symonds of Montreal Will be Guest at St. Luke's.

At the meeting held in St. Luke's last night, the final arrangements were made for the harvest supper and entertainment, to be held next Monday in the fifth ward town hall. The supper will be served from 5.30 to 8 o'clock. Rev. Dr. Symonds of Montreal, and Rev. W. L. Baynes-Reed of Norway, will be present to give addresses. A choice programme is being prepared for the entertainment, at which Mr. J. H. Burnham will be chairman.

Epworth League To Hold A Convention

Methodist Young People of Dtstrict Will Meet on Nov. 6th in George Street Church.

The Epworth Leagues of Peterborough district will hold their annual convention in the George Street Methodist Church on Tuesday, November 6. Delegates will be present from all the leagues in this district, and sessions will be held in the morning, afternoon and evening. Addresses will be given at each of these sessions on matters of interest to leaguers, and reports of the progress of the work in the various leagues in the district will be presented.

The gathering will be an important one in league circles, and much interest is being aroused in the event among the members of the local leagues of George Street, Charlotte Street and Mark Street Churches, who will entertain the visiting delegates to the convention.

Lake Steamers Land Cargos

Water Lily and Rainbow Up With Loads.

The steamers Water Lily and Rainbow arrived at the wolfe street wharf last night from Rice Lake with cargoes of grain, consigned to local millers.

The steamers left again to-day for another cargo, the freight business between Rice Lake and Peterborough this fall being the best in many years, and the steamers have no trouble in securing cargoes.

Guerin News Of Personal Interest

The Happenings of the Last Week in That Section.

Examiner Special.

Guerin, October 24. — Mr. Stabler of Peterborough shipped from here on Thursday last three car loads of hogs for the George Matthews Company.

Mr. John Leahy and Mr. James Leahy shipped 100 hogs from the cheese factory on Thursday last, finishing up their season in the business.

Miss Nellie Duggan of Fenelon Falls, is spending a couple of weeks visiting her cousin, Miss Clara Christie.

The new bridge which should have been erected at Evans' some time ago is now being rapidly placed together by the Hamilton Bridge Co.

A Live Market This Morning

Hogs and Hay Came From the Suburbs in Abundance.

Market Clerk Lee was one of the busiest men in the city this morning. The calm of the past two days was followed by a rush on the market scales and hay and hogs came thick and fast. Over 100 hogs were weighed this morning previous to shipments made by local buyers. The price of select hogs is now $6.15 per cwt.

Hay was conspicuous, too, but was not disposed of as quickly as a few days ago. The best timothy now ranges in price from $13.50 to $14.00.

—An effort will be made to have Longboat, the Indian who won the Hamilton Herald race, Cave, who who the ten mile race at Beaverton; Daniels, the winner at Woodstock, and Shipman, who won the Montreal Herald race, compete in Toronto. What about Best, who won at Peterborough?—Port Hope Guide.

Industries Close For Lack Of Water

Bowmanville is Without Police Protection and Had No Water — Who Runs the Town?

The Bowmanville Statesman asks: Who is running this town anway? This week already citizens have complained to us about the poor electric lighting, the inefficient water supply, the want of police protection and the poor fire protection. Industries have had to shut down for want of water, and had a fire occurred on Monday night, no one could tell what would have happened. The town was without a police service. Mrs. George C. Haine's house was burglarised, and some money stolen, the boys held a carnival on King street and the other parts of the town, and things municipal were in a state of confusion and helplessness. The experience of the rubber factory fire should have been a warning for the future, but it seems that condations are worse instead of better.

YOUNG MEN'S GUILD

DR. M. A. MORRISON,
Who was last night Elected Hon. Vice-President of Charlotte Street Young Men's Guild.

Deputation To Visit Detroit and Lockport

To Inspect the System of the District Steam Heating Co. Manufacturers Committee Will be Divided Into Two Sections.

The Manufacturers' Committee, at a meeting held yesterday afternoon, decided that a deputation should be sent to inspect the Steam Heating Company's system. This deputation will be composed of the whole Manufacturers' Committee and the City Engineer. The committee will be divided into two sections. One of these will go to Lockport, N.Y., which city contains the plant of the company and is also the first place in which the system was operated. The second section will visit Detroit, one of the largest cities in which the company is operating its methods. The deputation will go next week.

The object of their visit is to gain as much information as possible regarding the district heating system, so as to be able to deal intelligently with the matter when it comes before the Council. The Dominion Company are desirous of having the matter settled as soon as possible.

ONTARIO BANK STATEMENT SHOWS DECREASE OF ASSETS

The bank statement for September, issued to-day, includes a return made by the curator of the Ontario Bank, Mr. W. E. Stavert, which is submitted, however, subject to correction by reason of that gentleman's not having had time as yet to check all details of the Ontario Bank's accounts.

The most conspicuous changes are in the items showing the current loans and the total assets and liabilities. The assets were given last month as $17,371,862. In the September return they appear as $15,930,-307.

The total liabilities, which were last month given as $14,991,479, are now placed at $15,272,371. The current loans in Canada in the August statement appeared as $13,725,227. In the present statement they are placed at $12,287,691. The call loans were $583,-079 in the August statement and $589,402 according to this. The capital of the Ontario Bank is the same in both returns, $1,500,000, and the reserve, $700,000.

The note circulation, which stood at $1,242,627 in August, has risen to $1,351,102 last month. Deposits payable on demand were $2,918,922 in August and $2,965,038 in September. Deposits payable after notice were $9,861,313 in August and $9,591,264 in September.

Among the assets the Ontario Bank returns for August showed $50,000 in government securities, $149,276 in Canadian municipal and British foreign public securities, and $1,087,368 in railway and other bonds, debentures and stocks. The respective figures in the September statement are as follows: — $20,000, $242,317 and $917,303.

The September statement for all the 35 Canadian chartered banks together shows a note circulation of $77,209,346, an increase of over seven millions over the August return; deposits of $167,-439,689 payable on demand, a decrease of $800,000; deposits of $387,052,103, payable after notice, an increase of two millions; deposits outside of Canada of $55,287,013, an increase of close on two millions; call loans of $59,-495,888 in Canada, a decrease of nearly one million; call loans outside Canada of $63,771,628, an increase of three millions; current loans in Canada of $515,213,110, an increase of seven and a quarter millions; current loans outside Canada of $35,776,-470, which is about the same as in August; total assets $899,194,394, an increase of over nine millions, and total liabilities of $730,136,124, an increase of over twenty millions.

THE NORMAL SCHOOL BARN

It would appear that our Normal School building, which we were, very properly, so anxious to get in Peterborough, is to degenerate into a mere educational barn. We have provided a free site. In view of this fact, one would think that the additional amount represented by a site —several thousand dollars—might be spent by the Government to provide a respectable structure, which would be architecturally presentable among our public buildings, an ornament to the city, and, in this regard, exercise, in respect of the development of structural taste, an educative effect. For the sake of a few thousand thousand dollars excess of tenders over the architect's estimates, the ornamental towers are to be eliminated, and a decent sort of barn, or coach house, substituted for a building that should be dignified, and architecturally exemplary of good taste, and beauty. The Ontario Government can afford to avoid a cheese-paring policy in the matter of building the Normal Schools. The Provincial revenue is rapidly increasing. Not to speak of a very large increase in succession dues, and other revenues, the province is, by the new arrangement with the Federal Government, to get an increased subsidy of nearly $800,000 a year. Without danger of financial embarrassment, the Government might well give us a decent Normal School building. To secure the Normal School, the city is committed to expending $20,000 or $25,000, to put the Barnardo avenue school in a condition to serve the purposes of a Normal School. The implied, if not specifically expressed understanding, is that the Government, provided without cost, with a site, will erect a creditable building. The cut of the proposed building, printed in the Examiner, showed a graceful and elegant elevation, with two ornamental towers. For penny-wise purposes, these towers are to be cut out of the plans, and the resulting building will assume all the dignity, and architectural impressiveness, of a brick freight shed. We may be told that in venturing to criticize the Government's action in this connection, we are looking the gift horse in the mouth. This does not apply. Taking into account the eight or ten thousand dollars represented by the site given, and the twenty or twenty-five thousand dollars to be expended upon a public school building, we have invested in the new Normal School building much more than half of the munificent sum of $50,000, which the Government insists must be the limit of expenditure. It is not too much to say that the Government is taking a narrow-gauge and contracted, not to say, parsimonious, view of its responsibility in the matter under consideration. There is, however, this much to be pleaded in extenuation: The Government selected a retired situation, which forced an expenditure upon the city of a large sum, in additions to public school buildings, which might have been avoided without loss to any interests, by the choice of other eligible sites, with properly sized, and equipped, public school buildings, conveniently near. In choosing a site upon which the Normal School building will not be exposed, to any glaring extent, to the public view, the Government's offence in erecting an educational barn, is, to a large degree, condoned.

A COURTLY, KINDLY KING

King Edward's humane qualities are behind the causes that have made him the world's pre-eminent peace maker. In this regard the influence of his attitude, and actions, possesses incalculable value. Of similar value, in another direction, is his example of kindly solicitation for one of his subjects injured by being run down by an auto, in which the King was riding. We have before us daily examples of the heartless indifference of drivers of bicycles, vehicles and autos, who ride down, disable and maim inoffensive foot passengers, and pass on their reckless way, without taking a thought of investigating the extent of the injury they have inflicted, or giving the help which their criminal recklessness has made necessary. Such heartless conduct is to be seen almost every day. How great contrast is presented by the action of the King, in personally interesting himself in the condition of the man injured, not by his own carelessness but by some person serving him. He acted the part of a Christian gentleman, and nothing more. He did what we should expect of him. This incident shows that the King's reputation for tact is not built on calculation but in doing the right thing, at the right time — obeying the promptings of a good heart, and a gentlemanly nature. This is something his meanest subject can do equally well, if he have the inclination.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Toronto is feeling proud because its building permits record this year is eleven millions, nearly equal to that of Winnipeg.

Speaking at the "Soo" Mr. Borden, one of the leaders of the Conservative party in the House of Commons, handled the question of public ownership with padded gloves. He uses it when it can be employed to discredit the Government of the day, but as to his own policy in regard to it he is entirely non-committal. He will have to show cause to Mr. McLean.

Irregular habits in the matter of strong drinking are no more fatal than irregular habits in voting upon local option. The local option by-law passed by the township of Elma, Perth County, was quashed at Osgoode Hall yesterday by the Divisional Court, because persons representing each side were not appointed to act at the polling booths.

The total note circulation of the chartered banks of Canada for the month of September amounted to $77,209,846. The total assets were placed at $899,499384, an increase of three millions over the preceding month, total liabilities $730,126,124, an increase of over ten millions; still leaving a wider margin between obligations and assets.

Latest News Of Various Sports

Argonauts Will Have Strong Team Saturday

When They Meet Peterborough Here—The Two Most Evenly Matched Matched Teams in the O. R. F. U. Come Together in a Great Game.

Saturday's game between Peterborough and the Argos will be the best exhibition of rugby seen in Peterborough for many moons. The Argos under the coaching of Chaucer Elliott have developed into a remarkably fast team and they will be here on Saturday with their strongest team to head Peterborough off from second place, in fact the Argos still have strong designs upon the championship and feel that they can trim the Tigers in the return game. Peterborough will have to go the limit to be at their on Saturday.

The people of Peterborough do not appreciate the fact that they are getting good rugby at prices which compared with those ranging in other places are remarkably low. 25 cents is the limit of prices charged here while in Toronto and Hamilton 25 cents and even 50 cents extra is charged for the grandstand.

There should be the biggest crowd of the season on hand when the initial whistle is blown. Peterborough will have a strong team and will make Elliott's Chinamen extend themselves to win.

Y. M. C. A. Harriers' Club Is Now Re-organized

A Handsome Cup Up for Competition, Presented by Mr. J. J. Howden—Officers Were Elected.

An enthusiastic meeting was held in the Y.M.C.A. last night at which the Y. M.C.A. Harriers Club was re-organized, officers elected, and things put on a good working basis. About twenty-five young athletes gathered together, and keen interest was shown in the club, the object of which is to promote the physical work in general, and running in particular, among Y.M.C.A. men. A number of new men have joined the club, and more are coming in. Cross country runs, paper-chases and road runs will be indulged in, and the men will also take the gymnasium course of physical culture under the leadership of the Physical Director.

Medals are belong put up for frequent competition among the members. A basketball team from the club will also be entered in the Y.M.C.A. League, for which four teams have already entered. Another thing which is putting life into the athletes, is the presentation of a beautiful cup by Mr. J. J. Howden to the best all round amateur athlete in the city, the sports to be run off on a regular field day to be held about the 24th of May. The Y.M.C.A. will be well represented in this.

The officers elected were:—
President—Mr. E. Best.
Hon. President—Mr. J. J. Howden.
Captain—R. P. Best.
Vice Captain—E. Wilson.
Secretary-Treasurer—A. Emmerson.
Trainers—Messrs. Baker and Redgrave.

The executive committee will be composed of the officers, along with the Physical Director, Messrs. Bruce and Roy.

Nat Ray Has Great Season Of Success

Clever Peterborough Jockey Has Ridden 21 Winners This Year — New York Telegraph's Tribute.

The Hamilton Times, referring to a Peterborough Jockey says:—

Nat Ray has had a successful season, having ridden 21 winners. His record in what might be termed the cross-country classics includes four victories in the Grand National, three in the Champion, and two in the Whitney Memorial, a record of which any rider might justly be proud.

New York Telegraph:—Ray's riding was all the more meritorious, as for the last turn of the field he was handicapped by an accident to Hylas' bridle bit equipment. To guard against the horse's desire to run out at the home turn a chain curb bit was used. Passing the stand the second time the chain became loose at one end, and Ray rode the last turn of the field with his entire strength on one rein. His efforts to keep Hylas from bearing out were successful until the last fence was reached, and the determined finish he put up after his tiring ride was one of the gamest exhibitions of never-say-die courage ever seen on a race track.

Oarsmen Of The Old World To Visit North America

Will Compete Against Picked Teams From Canada and the United States—Champion Belgians and Best Men of France, England and Australia Are Invited.

Examiner Special.

Washington, Oct. 24.—It is now an almost assured fact that the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen will select Jamestown, Va., as the meeting place for the regatta next year, and also it will be held in the month of August, when the number of visitors to the exposition will be at its highest tide from every section of the country. With this much settled, it will be the aim of the Potomac River Regatta association to fix upon a date for its regatta in close proximity, in order that the oarsmen may visit this city and participate in the local regatta. It will be the only opportunity the rowing men of this city will have to get the clubs from the north, east and west, as experience has taught them the fruitless task of endeavouring to induce crews to make two trips south in one year.

At next year's national regatta the executive committee of the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen is going to make heroic efforts to induce some of the best crews and scullers of Great Britain, Germany, France and Belgium to cross the Atlantic and measure strokes with the picked ones of the United States and Canada.

Although the executive committee does not expect much success in landing any of the crews of Great Britain, there are bright hopes that the noted Belgian crew, the one that beat the world at the Henley regatta three years will come, as will also the Royal Berlin club of Germany, and shares are being laid to gather in the famous "All Paris" crew of the Royal Seine navy of France. Of course, if these distinguished visitors come to our shores to test their mettle against our representatives, the Potomac River association will arrange the date of its regatta at such a time as to bring all the stars here. The national regatta is generally held for two days—Friday and Saturday—and the members of the Potomac River association believe that if they should select a day in the week following—Wednesday, for instance—they could corral the best of the visitors. This belief is taking firm root in the minds of the local people, and it is pretty certain that steps will be taken in a very short time to approximate the date of the national association, in order that the time may be set for this city.

A GREAT VALUE!

Suit to Order $18

We are stating an acknowledged fact when we say that we are making some of the best clothes made in Peterborough.

This holds good regardless of the price other tailors may ask for their work.

We put more style, fashion, value and wearing qualities into our garments than most tailors do, and we do it at a little over half the price. For the next thirty days we are going to sell the best Scotch Tweed Suit made to your order for $18. and a nice Black or Blue Twill Suit for $20.00. Don't miss these offings, the goods are number one and the linings first-class. Leave your measure at once, these prices won't last very long.

Deer Season Near At Hand

Many Preparing for a Sojourn to the Tall Timbers of the North.

With the advent of cold weather the sports are dreaming of days spent in the chase in the near future. The guns are well oiled and primed, the belts are filled and all is readiness for the opening of the season. From present prospects there will be quite a large number of hunters go north from Peterborough to the haunts of the deer. The question in the minds of all is, are the deer plentiful this year. Last season was very disappointing in this regard, being one of the worst seasons experienced, and it is only reasonable to expect that when the deer are not sufficiently protected in the close season there is bound to be a scarcity when the open season arrives. The time is not far distant when unless radical measures are at once undertaken the deer will become extinct in our northern limits, and one of the greatest of sports will be at an end. Lieut.-Col. Miller is this year issuing licenses and they may be procured from him at any time.

Quakers' Protest To Be Heard

City League Will Meet To-morrow Night.

City League representatives are asked to remember the meeting of the league to-morrow night at 7.30 o'clock at the Examiner office for the purpose of discussing the protest entered by the Quakers against the C.C.E. on the ground that Geo. McDonald was not eligible to play in the City League.

RUGBY.

Messrs. Hayes and Robbins, of Hamilton, the best officials in the business will handle Saturday's game. The Argonauts leave for Peterborough on the 9.15 C. P. R. train.

• • • •

The seniors had a great practise last night in preparation for the big game with the Argos on Saturday. The back division is working with a snap and vim that promises great things for Saturday's game. The signals are working splendidly.

The advance sale of tickets indicates a very big crowd on Saturday. The tickets are going very fast and there should be 3,000 people at the game.

The rooters club are especially asked to turn out on Saturday and help to encourage the boys.

• • • •

The Quakers will practise to-morrow night at 8.30 at the Brock street rink. All members of the team are requested to turn out in uniform.

HOCKEY

Pete Charlton, last year with Berlin, has lined up in Toronto, where he has been since spring.

• • • •

Percy Le Suer, last year's goalkeeper and captain of the Smith's Falls team, will play goal for the Ottawa Hockey Club this winter.

DISCOURAGING.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—Recent events do not forecast for this city, a very good future in the interests of music. I was at the Opera House on Monday night, one of the small audience assembled to greet and be delighted with the greatest or at least one of the greatest, lyric sopranos who has ever appeared in the city in my recollection. Some may think that the praise in the press of Miss Alys Bateman's voice, of her method and of her execution are overdrawn; but, speaking for myself, I should say that they do not do her full justice, nor exaggerate the merits of her associates, Parloyitz, pianist, and Miss Merry, entertainer. I had hoped great things from the establishment of the Conservatory of Music, in developing a higher musical taste and spirit of appreciation, and expected that there would have been a rush of the music-loving people of Peterborough to hear Miss Bateman, who occupies so prominent a position in England, indeed, a foremost place, as a ballad soprano. For the development of the musical spirit of the city there must be harmony. Yet we find a musical establishment holding a recital by members of the staff on the very night selected for the Bateman concert, and this, with its local influence, local entourage and a fine programme, was able to command a good house, and divide our musical forces. It is difficult at any time to secure a respectably large gathering of music-loving citizens with souls above the froth of ragtime or the scum of musical comedies, without having them divide the possible auditory. All this is very discouraging; and, in the interests of the higher class of music, there should be a larger spirit of co-operation. We should aim to have, at least, three or four first rate concerts in the season. We have, as Mr. Branscombe, of the Westminster Abbey party, says, and, as I am told, Miss Bateman, also, says, an opera house, with perfect acoustic properties for a music hall.

We are bound to have a sufficiency of the mediocre class of music, but we should have a certain proportion of the best, such as was provided on Monday night. I should like to see Bateman return. I would gladly give a double price, if necessary, to be again regaled with such music. Let those who love music in its better forms and manifestations, unite to promote its production under the best conditions.

Yours, etc.,
A TEMPO.

Severe Kidney Trouble

Mrs. George Lawson, of Consecon, Ont., writes: "Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills completely cured me of constipation, rheumatism, stomach troubles, and a very severe kidney trouble, after years of suffering. I am now 68 years of age, and very grateful for what Dr. Chase's Kidney, Liver Pills have done for me."

Peruna Drug M'f'g. Co.,

Dear Sirs:—A short time ago I found my condition very serious. I had headache, pains in the back, and frequent dizzy spells which grew worse every month. I tried two remedies before Peruna, and was discouraged when I took the first dose, but my courage soon returned. In less than two months my health was restored."

—Mrs. M. Brickner.

The reason for so many failures to cure cases similar to the above is the fact that diseases peculiar to the pelvic organs are not commonly recognized as being caused by catarrh.

PELVIC DISEASE NOT RECOGNIZED AS CATARRH.

Catarrh of one organ is exactly the same as catarrh of any other organ. What will relieve catarrh of the head will also relieve catarrh of the pelvic organs. Peruna relieves these cases simply because it relieves catarrh.

The New York Stock Market

(Furnished by J. R. Heintz & Co.)

New York, Oct. 24.—A dull and professional stock market was presented to the trading element to-day. The activities were largely made in the room. The professional operators were busy with manipulation for scalps. Liquidation for London practically ceased. The buying on reactions continues good, but there is no aggression. The division of sentiment of election waiting make for a trading market with a hardening tendency under present outlook. We would be conservative, meantime, and operate for but small profits, which are all that can be promised until some radical development takes place.

About 2.30, the announcement that Norfolk had been placed on a 5 per cent. basis, an increase from 4 per cent., caused that issue to run up a couple of points, but the general market failed to respond, and the bears made quite a drive at prices in the last few minutes, closing the market weak.

WOMEN UNITED IN DEATH.

Prediction That One Would Not Survive Other Has Strange Fulfilment.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 24.—Mrs. Jennette Falkner of London, Ont., is dead at the home of one of her sons in Fairview.

Mrs. Falkner, who was 70 years of age, had lived the greater part of her life in London. Next door to her lived Mrs. Kinsella, 69 years of age. The women had been close friends for years, and each had said she would not survive the death of the other.

Upon one of Mrs. Falkner's sons telephoning to relatives in London of the death of his mother, he was told that Mrs. Kinsella had died very suddenly only six hours before.

The funerals of the two will be held in London on the same day, and they will be buried in adjourning lots in the same cemetery.

Detroit Divorces For Canadians.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 24.—Of ten divorce cases heard Monday by Judge Rohnert, three decrees were given to Canadian women, who had lived here little more than the statutory two years.

A divorce was refused a woman, who was married in Lambeth, Ont., and lived in Ingersoll, because she had accepted $700 from her husband, and signed an agreement not to bother him further.

Henry Rockett secured a divorce because his wife refuses to leave her Canadian home to live with him. They formerly lived in Manitoba.

Socialists Condemned to Death.

Warsaw, Oct. 24.—Fourteen members of the Socialists fighting organization, who were arrested Oct. 20, have been condemned to death by drumhead court-martial. It is expected that the action of the court will result in a general strike to-day.

Ontario Bank Advisory Board.

Toronto, Oct. 23.—A meeting of the Advisory Board appointed in connection with the Ontario Bank's affairs, was held at noon yesterday with all members present, and in addition Harry Wright, counsel for the bank, and Jas. Bicknell, for the Bankers' Association. It was stated that only a general discussion had taken place.

Questions Of Duty, Interest Were Discussed

Directors Joining With Companies In Investments.

MR. MACAULEY'S POSITION

Witness Declares It To Be Advisable For Directors to Buy the Same Securities as Their Companies, So Long as the Securities Were Not In Companies Controlled by Directors— Sun Life Co. Again.

Montreal, Oct. 24.—The Insurance Commission resumed here yesterday afternoon, the Sun Life being again the object of investigation, with Secretary and Actuary T. B. Macaulay still on the stand.

The proceedings dealt almost entirely with purchases by the Sun Life of Illinois Traction securities, so-called. In 1902 and 1903 the Sun Life decided to go into the underwriting and purchase of bonds at first hand from companies issuing them.

Traction companies were preferred. Circulars were sent out to many traction companies in Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Michigan, and the Sun Life got into communication with Hon. W. B. McKinley of Champagne, Illinois, who was deeply interested in several companies of the kind in Illinois.

A scheme was proposed by the latter to amalgamate many utilities companies in the neighborhood of Urbana, Champagne and Danville, under the head of the Illinois Railways and Light Co.

Half the Stock as Bonus.

The Sun Life was to buy two-thirds of the bonds issued and to get one-half the stock as a bonus. T. A. Macaulay went down to inspect the plants, etc., in Illinois. In 1903, the scheme was changed. It was decided to have the Dayton and Urbana Railway buy other lines and issue bonds to be taken up by a holding company, the Illinois Traction Co., which issued no bonds. In this the Sun Life had one-half the stock as a bonus.

The question will be further discussed to-day.

Of the $750,000 bonds of the latter company, the Sun Life got $406,000, Mr. McKinley $250,000, and persons in Montreal, some of whom were Sun Life directors, $94,000.

Investments of Directors.

The witness discussed with Mr. Shepley the advisability of the directors joining with insurance companies in any investment.

Mr. Macaulay declared that it was advisable, because, if the directors bought the same securities as the company, it showed they had confidence in the enterprises into which they were taking the company. It was an entirely different state of affairs, when the company bought securities of companies which were controlled by directors.

Another statement made by the witness was that he would rather have a company invest in traction bonds than municipal debentures, on the ground of safety. He said that the Sun Life had lost money on Toronto Junction, New Westminster, Brandon and Sault Ste. Marie debentures.

Mr. Langmuir expressed surprise at the stand taken by the witness.

The New French Cabinet.

Paris, Oct. 24.—The new French Cabinet has been completed as follows:

Premier and Minister of the Interior—M. Clemenceau.

Minister of Justice—M. Guyot-Dessaigne.

Minister of Foreign Affairs—M. Pichon.

Minister of Education—M. Beriand.

Minister of Finance—M. Caillaux.

Minister of War—Gen. Picquart.

Minister of Marine—M. Thomson.

Minister of Public Works—M. Barthou.

Minister of Commerce—M. Doumergue.

Minister of Agriculture—M. Ruau.

Minister of Labor—M. Viviani.

The portfolio of Minister of the Colonies was offered yesterday afternoon to M. Millies-La Croix.

Murphy's Charges Fall Through.

New York, Oct. 24.—At the conclusion of an investigation by the grand jury of charges made by Charles F. Murphy, the Tammany leader, that Tammany Hall candidates had been "held up for cash considerations" by the managers of the Independence League, it was announced yesterday that the charges had fallen through completely.

Charge Withdrawn.

St. Thomas, Oct. 24.—The infanticide case, in which Mrs. Louise Smith was charged with murdering her daughter's illegitimate child, has been disposed of by the murder charge being withdrawn and a plea of guilty of concealment of birth being entered and accepted. Sentence was deferred.

Immigrant, Pauper, Thief.

Montreal, Oct. 24.—George Williams, an English immigrant of three months' standing, was scored by Judge Scott yesterday when sentencing him on a charge of theft. "A pauper you came here, a thief you are here, but unfortunately I can't send you back. You English criminal, you are a charge on the Canadian public. Three months in jail."

ASK FOR RECEIVER.

Farmers' Bank of Canada, Not Yet In Business, Has Writ to Meet and Answer.

Toronto, Oct. 24.—Before the Farmers' Bank of Canada has actually started to do business a writ has been issued against it at Osgoode Hall, and the court has been asked to appoint a receiver.

Fraud and misrepresentation on the part of the agents of the bank is alleged, and the prospectus is also called in question.

The bank has now $175,000 of its $1,000,000 capital stock subscribed, but before it can get its charter or begin business it must have a quarter of a million subscribed.

Plaintiffs and Defendants.

John Sproatt, George Castle, W. A. Dixon, Wm. McLean, Finlay McCallum, Robt. Hume, James Murray, Geo. Denoom, John McLeod, James Shuert, and Wm. Harris sue on behalf of themselves and all other persons alleged to be subscribers for shares of the capital stock of the Farmers' Bank of Canada. The defendants are the Farmers' Bank, Jos. Gallagher, John Watson, John Ferguson, Alex. Fraser, Alex. S. Lown, W. R. Travers, C. H. Smith, A. G. H. Luxton, W. J. Lindsay.

The plaintiffs dispute the validity of alleged contracts to take shares in the capital stock of the bank. They claim they were induced to subscribe for shares through fraud and misrepresentation. They ask that these contracts be declared void, and demand an accounting of all promissory notes received on behalf of the provisional directors of the bank.

The Bank's Side.

Mr. W. R. Travers, the general manager, made the following statement yesterday:

"The Farmers' Bank of Canada today, through their general manager, W. R. Travers, deposited with the Bank of Montreal $250,000 for the credit of the Receiver-General, in accordance with section 13 of the Bank Act. And notice has been given in The Canada Gazette of a meeting of the shareholders for Nov. 26, 1906."

STATEMENT OF ONTARIO BANK.

Figures Differ Between August and September to Large Extent.

Ottawa, Oct. 24.—The curator of the Ontario Bank, W. E. Stavert, makes a return in the bank statement issued by the Department of Finance yesterday. This return, the curator says, is subject to correction.

Some of the most important changes from the August statement of the bank, which was the last one filed before the bank failed, is that one in regard to current loans and total assets and liabilities. The assets were given in August as $17,371,862. In the September return they are quoted as $15,920,307. The total liabilities in August were placed at $14,991,479, and in September at $15,272,271. These figures would apparently give a showing of $1,718,328 worse than the previous month. The current loans in Canada in August were $13,725,287. In the curator's statement they are $12,287,691. There is only $6,000 in the call loans, that of September statement being the highest.

The capital in both instances is the same, being $1,500,000, and the reserve $700,000. The note circulation has risen in September to about $100,000. Deposits payable on demand were $2,918,922 in August and $2,965,038 in September. Deposits payable after notice were $9,861,343 in August and $9,859,264 in September. The assets included in August $149,276 in Canadian municipal and British and foreign public securities, $1,087,568 in railway and other bonds, debentures and stock, and $50,000 in Government securities. The September statement shows respectively $242,317, $917,595, and $50,000.

The 35 Canadian chartered banks together for the month of September shows a note circulation of $77,209,846, which is an increase of $7,000,000 over the August returns. The total assets $899,494,394, an increase of $9,000,000, and total liabilities of $730,736,124, an increase of over $20,000,000.

CORONER M'MAHON.

Will Conduct Inquest on Two Men Killed In Buckingham Riot.

Montreal, Oct. 24.—Coroner McMahon of this city will conduct the inquest into the death of the two men, Belanger and Theriault, who were killed in the labor riot at Buckingham.

The inquest will likely open on Thursday, and the coroner will be sworn in as joint coroner for the district of Ottawa at Hull to-day.

Buckingham Strike Over.

Ottawa, Oct. 24.—The Royal Dragoons have been withdrawn from Buckingham, and the strike is practically over. Nearly all the strikers have got work, and the Maclaren mills are running.

The inquest on the bodies of Belanger and Theriault will begin to-day.

JOSEPHINE JACKSON SHOT.

Winnipeg Man's Crime Incited By Jealousy—Also Wounds Himself.

Winnipeg, Oct. 23.—Frederick Drew, a man of bad reputation around the city, while infuriated by jealousy, shot his paramour, a negress named Josephine Jackson, yesterday afternoon, inflicting three painful, but not dangerous wounds. One bullet struck her in the left arm, another in the left side, and the third in the thigh. She was taken to the hospital, and Drew was arrested.

The prisoner is also suffering from a painful wound, having shot himself through the hand while preparing to execute his murderous purpose.

Sea Captain Suicides.

Halifax, N. S., Oct. 23.—Capt. Nelson Paysant, a well-known retired sea captain, committed suicide yesterday by hanging himself. Despondency caused by ill-health, is the supposed cause.

Another Guest Stricken.

Hamilton, Oct. 23.—Rev. Mr. Ferguson, another of the guests of the H. Foster silver wedding feast in Oneida Township, is reported to be in a critical condition from ptomaine poisoning.

Foreign Mission Board Presented Its Report

Lengthy and Interesting Report From Rev. J. G. Brown Feature of Yesterday's Session of the Convention—The Discussion.

Yesterday afternoons session was marked by one of the most important reports of the convention, that of the Foreign Mission Board. Despite the fact that it was the last day of the convention, there was a large attendance present. The president, Mr. Warren, presided.

The report of the Foreign Mission Board was read by the secretary, Rev. J. G. Brown, B.D. The report was very lengthy, being presented as a printed pamphlet of 36 pages, and therefore only its salient features can be given. It referred to the fact that the foreign mission work is forty years of age, the importance of distributing missionary literature, the remarkable success of the young people's missionary movement, and the value of its text-book for the present year, "The Christian Conquest of India."

The secretary had visited 160 churches, Sunday schools, etc., and delivered 189 addresses. Returned Missionaries Laflamme and A. B. Rookie had afforded valuable service in deputation work. The visit of the chairman and several members of the Board to the Western Provinces has served to cement the bonds that bind the churches there to the work of the Board. Already they support five missionaries—Rev. J. R. and Mrs. Stillwell, Miss J. F. Robinson and Rev. A. A. and Mrs. McLeod.

Missionaries on Furlough

The report referred to the return, on furlough, of Rev. John Craig and wife and Miss Sarah Simpson from India, and to the fact that the Board now had on hand a fund, amounting to $4,500 for the purchase of a home for missionaries on furlough. It is hoped that such a home, located in Toronto, will shortly be provided.

Reinforcements have been provided for the mission in Bolivia in the persons of Rev. F. J. Scott, B.A., and wife, of Peterborough, and Miss Janet Carmichael. Bro. Rookie has recently married Miss Manzer, of Midland, and has returned to Bolivia. Mrs. Mitchell has rejoined her husband after over a year's stay in Canada, and St. Ramon Vallifuetert, a Peruvian Baptist, has been added to the Bolivian staff. Rev. A. S. Woodburne and wife and Miss Jessie Allyn, M.D., have been appointed to work in India, and sailed on the 5th instant from Quebec. Rev. H. C. Laflamme, owing to the state of Mrs. Laflamme's health, has thought it advisable to return to India this fall.

The report deeply regrets the death of Mrs. Wm. Davies, of Toronto, one of the most liberal supporters of this work.

Income

The total income for the year from all sources was $46,676.49, divided as follows:—Churches, $14,499.33; Sunday schools, $2,270.10; individuals, $8,408.60; Young People's Societies, $615.10; women's societies, $13,925.71; Manitoba and the Northwest, $2,257.04; British Columbia, $1,329.16; legacies, $2,522, 85, and sundries, $671.97. The increase in net receipts over last year is $2,545, which is very gratifying.

The report goes on to rehearse the great changes that have occurred in the political and religious history of India during the year, and then proceeds to state that the year had been one of unusual trial to the missionaries in that country. Several of them have been seriously ill,—Rev. H. D. Cross, Mrs. Ar A. Scott, Miss A. E. Baskerville, Rev. A. A. McLeod and Mrs. A. C. Murray,—but all have been spared to us and their work.

The Year's Harvest

The addition to the native churches, which now number 43, has been, by baptism, 432; by letter, 68; by experience, 11, and by restoration, 31, making a total accession of 542, while the losses have been, by death, 125; by letter, 96; by exclusion, 98, and by erasure, 241, or a total of 560, leaving the present membership of the mission, 5,531.

The report goes on to speak of the appointment of Rev. H. E. Stillwell, B.A., as principal of the Seminary of Sanaloota, and the encouraging character of the work of the year. The work in Bolivia during the year was confined to the service of Rev. C. N. Mitchell, M.A. The opportunity for evangelistic work is greater than it ever has been, owing to the fact that the bill for liberty of worship has been approved by the Bolivian Government. The prospects are that a great commercial awakening is sure to occur very shortly in Bolivia, and this is the day of opportunity there. Bro. Mitchell is being freed from school work, and will devote himself entirely to evangelization. He appeals for at least five new workers for Bolivia during the next two years.

The Revival in India

The report closes by giving particulars respecting the revival in India, and shows that it has its secret in prayer, that it is a call to gratitude and confidence in God, and an immediate advance all along the line, and a challenge to prayer, not so much for India as for Canada. The revival is a divine demonstration of the power of intercessory prayer, and Canada may receive even a greater blessing than India if prayer be made on behalf of our people. "Ye have not because ye ask not."

Report Seconded

Rev. Jesse Brown, in seconding the report, stated that it was a peculiar privilege to rejoice with them in endorsing the report. It seemed as if God was pouring out a blessing upon the native churches, which should cause great gratitude. Today, in the fourth decade of the Foreign Missionary Society, they looked back with grateful hearts for what God has done. Those who planned for the work little dreamed what the ultimate harvest would be. If these six brethren could have seen forty years into the future their hearts would have been filled with gladness.

There was great cause to be thankful to God for the men whom He had given for this work. The heroes were not all dead. Those who laboured amongst the dangers of that famine-stricken country were true heroes. The revival had come in answer to prayers, arising from the missions of India, as well as from the churches of Canada. All over India there are hearts who are realizing their privileges as intercessors, and it was from these, he believed, that th blessing had come. He believed that the sum contributed was the largest sum yet given for foreign missions, but yet some churches had not given a single cent. "Isn't it a crying shame?" asked the speaker.

Discussion on Report

Rev. Mr. Brown, in answer to a question, said that the new National Missionary Society of India, will work on the line of the China Inland Mission, and will not interfere with distinctive denominational teaching.

Rev. John Craig, a returned missionary, supported the idea of doubling the finances for the next five years, for we may now look for a wonderful ingathering.

Mr. Moyle said that from the Ontario point of view, the only force that will keep India loyal to the British Government is the work of the missionary.

Incresed Income Asked

Rev. H. F. Laflamme moved that an appendix be added to the report, asking for an income of $60,000 for the coming year, an immediate enlargement of our foreign mission work, and a reversion to the method of accepting all men and women offering for the work, who are suitable, trusting to the Lord to give us the money to support the workers.

Bro. Laflamme said that five ordained men should be added to the staff in India, and five to Bolivia. He said that a brother in the west wishes to go to India, and an Ontario pastor wants to go to Bolivia. The invalids among the membership might bring blessings upon the work by keeping a prayer list. He said that the revival in India was co-incident with prayer offered in Toronto for the outpouring of the Spirit.

Rev. Dr. Waffle of Woodstock, said that if the churches in the home land were revived, many of our problems in regard to pastors, salaries, etc., would be solved. Such a revival would lead many of the members to see that they had been robbing God. When the Spirit of God comes upon a Christian he becomes a fountain of living influence, which will bless all about him. A revival in a church will increase missionary offerings. The question of how to get a revival in our churches was the important theme, and he suggested that the convention be turned into a prayer meeting, to ask God for a revival.

Report Adopted

The adoption of the report was passed unanimously.

By a resolution moved by Rev. Jesse Gibson, seconded by Rev. C. W. King, the convention expressed its thanksgiving to God for the blessings being experienced in India, and calling upon the churches to be much in thanksgiving and prayer for the continuance of the work, and also for its increase.

The Doxology was again sung with deep feeling.

The following were elected to fill vacancies on the Board: Bros. J. G. Scott, B.A., and S. J. Moore, of Toronto; and Rev. Dr. Gates of Montreal.

Treasurer's Statement

The statement of the treasurer of the Foreign Mission Board, was read by Rev. E. T. Fox. The details are to be found in the secretary's report. The receipts were $46,676.49; the disbursements $52,427.40, and the deficit $535.48. If $2000 were given for special purpose to be added to this the deficit is $7,535.48, as against $4681.44 last year, but the the offerings have increased by $2,545.00 on last year. The increase of the deficit is therefore due to the volume of the work undertaken.

The statement was adopted, subject to the report of the auditors.

Further Business

Rev. John Craig seconded the resolution presented by Bro. Laflamme during the discussion on the report of the Foreign Mission Board.

Rev. E. Norton said that he was in sympathy with an appeal to the people provided that the $60,000 included the $7000 the Foreign Mission Board will soon receive as a legacy.

Rev. H. C. Priest, B.A., of Georgetown, said that it was unfortunate that a resolution so far reaching in its character should be presented to so small a representation.

Rev. E. T. Fox asked if the Board was committed by this resolution to raise $60,000 during the coming year. He was afraid that they were undertaking too much.

Rev. Mr. Laflamme said the resolution did not commit the Board to spend more money than they raised.

Rev. J. G. Brown said that the members of the board thought that the present financial policy was a very wise method of procedure.

Rev. J. R. Webb thought that they should not change the financial policy in view of the resolutions adopted by the convention of 1897.

Rev. J. G. Brown said that in spite of the largest income in all its history the Foreign Missions Board is increasing its deficit.

Rev. Mr. Laflamme's resolution was left over until the evening session.

Repudiation

Before adjourning the president referred to certain remarks of a political nature, which had been made at an earlier session, and wished it to be understood that they were not sanctioned nor endorsed by the convention.

QUEEN QUALITY

Distinctive styles, great variety, wearable quality, moderate price—"ease the first day worn." These are the distinguishing features of "QUEEN QUALITY" Shoes, which have caused them to be favoured beyond all other women's shoes in the world. The season's new styles are now ready. For street and general wear, Glazed Kid and Pat. Colt leathers, will be the vogue with discriminating dressers.

Lech & Sons' New Hat Showroom

Handsomely Furnished Quarters Upstairs.

Gentlemen callers at W. Lech & Sons fur and hat store, will be interested in seeing one of the handsomest upstairs hat showrooms in in Canada. This show-room has been opened up for the convenience of patrons of the hat section of this house, as well as for a double purpose, that is certain to merit the appreciation of all classes of customers. In a well regulated hat and fur establishment — especially during the fur season — the interests of both lady and gentlemen patrons are best conserved when each can have as much privacy as possible, while making their selections. It will thus be seen that the Messrs. Lech have, with keen intuition, been carefully considering the personal regards of their patrons, in providing this new hat section, where gentlemen may quietly select their hats, apart from the fur section on the ground floor.

It is a fact, too, that Messrs. Lech & Sons carry better and finer stocks of [illegible] average store. This has helped to make it necessary to use greater care in handling their hats, and increased safety in providing perfect protection from the dust of the open street door.

The new hat show-room occupies a floor space of 70 feet long by 23 feet wide. A very happy combination has been effected in the interior furnishings of the room. The walls have received a specially appropriate decorative treatment, consisting of a beautiful garnet shade of ingrain, combined with an effective gilt border design. The woodwork is finished in cherry, and the floor in varnished light oak. On the walls are suitably hung several excellent water-colour scenes by a local amateur, handsomely set in broad gilt frames. Hat racks, wall cases and storage cabinets are displayed; and large British bevel-plate mirrors are set in well lighted positions. Several handsome combination electric light fixtures are installed in the ceiling, which ensure ample light at night. The show-room is also well lighted during the day by three open French front windows. In the centre of the room stand two unusually large fur coat racks, each containing 75 samples of gentlemen's fur coats of varying qualities.

The Messrs. Lech have often been complimented on their ideal store front, as well as their high class stock. They will now, in addition, be complimented on their having one of the most up-to-date show rooms to be seen anywhere. Both brothers have had a thorough training in the hat trade as well as in furs, and they attribute their success to the confidence they have inspired in the public by their strict attention to business.

On Friday and Saturday of this week the firm will hold their formal fur opening event, when a special display of beautiful furs will be made.

Enthusiasm Marks The Closing Hours

of the spreading of the Gospel in India.

An interesting feature of the session was inserted at this point. A quartette consisting of Messrs. Laflamme, Priest, Craig and Brown sang the Glory Song in the Telugu language—that of a tribe in India.

Rev. H, E. Laflamme

Another address on foreign missions was delivered by the Rev. H. F. Laflamme. He first referred to the quaint dress of an Indian lady who pretended to be among the better class.

There were 300,000,000 of a population in India alone, he said, but for all this great number there was only one-third as many ministers of the Gospel as there were in New York City with a population of only 3,000,000. Christianity is confronted in that great country by three of the most powerful heathen religions that existed. There were over 60,000,000 followers of Mohammed and added to that vast host, were the followers of Budda and the thousands of believers in Hindooism.

Rev. Mr. Laflamme referred to the disgraceful degradation of the widow women by the heathen of India, who were treated in the most shameful manner.

The speaker denounced in strong terms the Hindoo temples of India which were an abomination to not only the Christians there but to the best of the native heathens. He was thankful that he was commissioned to preach the story of the Cross and the simple love of God and not some theological or philosophical doctrine. Prayers were then offered for the missionary cause in India, South America and in Canada as well, and with the singing of the Diadem the great Baptist Convention of Ontario and Quebec for 1906 was brought to a close.

A Housewife's Experience

Zam-Buk Tested By Results

Judge a remedy by its cures. Zam-Buk has won its position by what it has done. If you have skin disease, barbers' rash, eczema, scalp sores, a troublesome ulcer, an old wound—if you have a bad cut, chapped hands, or any sore, disease or inflamed condition of the skin, give Zam-Buk a trial, and contrast what Zam-Buk can do for you with what benefit you have reaped from other preparations. To help you in this the proprietors offer a free sample box to all who send in a one-cent stamp to pay postage. Merit alone should tell in medicine.

Zam-Buk has the merit. It is compounded from the finest medicinal herbal extracts yet discovered. It is at the same time antiseptic and healing. It kills all disease germs, it builds up damaged or diseased tissue. Doctors prescribe it, nurses use it, mothers of families swear by it. "I have been keeping house for forty years, and never found anything to equal Zam-Buk," says Mrs. Angus, of Fenelon Falls. "As a household balm and salve it is wonderful." Use it for chapped hands, chilblains, burns, bruises, children's injuries etc. Also cures piles. All druggists sell at 50c. a box, or direct from the Zam-Buk Company upon receipt of price; 6 boxes for $2.50.

From Parcel Boy To Thrifty Merchant

Mr. Roland Johnson's Success in Lakefield.

The following is from the September number of the Dry Goods Review: "Roland Johnson entered a dry goods store at Lakefield, Ont., fourteen years ago, as parcel boy. Later he went to Peterborough and acquired considerable experience as a salesman. Four years ago, he purchased the business at Lakefield in which he had received his first lessons in methods of merchandizing. Since then dry goods have been supplemented by house furnishings, millinery, mantles, dress making, clothing and groceries. When he took over the store one clerk was employed; last year the staff was increased to 18, and this year to 20. 'I would have more if I could get them,' he stated. Lakefield is situated ten miles from the city of Peterborough, and is connected with it by railway. 'When I returned to Lakefield, about the first thing I did was to establish city prices in the store,' Mr. Johnson told the Dry Goods Review; 'to that fact in itself I attribute a great measure of my success. Formerly rates were higher in the village, and many people bought a good quantity of merchandize at Peterborough.' We recently overheard a commercial man speak of Mr. Johnson as an 'awfully good buyer.'"

Pretty Wedding This Afternoon At "Cordach"

One of the most popular young ladies in Peterborough, this afternoon became the bride of one of the city's successful young men. The wedding took place at "Cordach," the suburban home of Ex-Mayor G. M. Roger, and the bride was his niece. Miss Alice H. Roger, only daughter of the late Walter M. Roger. The bridegroom was Mr. Alexander James Collins, third son of Mr. J. D. Collins, at present accountant of the Bank of Montreal, Mount Forest, in which town the newly married couple will live in future.

More than usual interest attaches itself to this pleasing event by reason of the fact that the bride is one of the city's most accomplished young ladies, and coupled with the best wishes which will be extended for her future happiness there will be a feeling of regret that the city will, by her marriage, lose one of its most brilliant musicians.

The bride has, since the institution of the Conservatory of music here, been a member of its staff, giving piano instructions, and her work both as a player and teacher and song writer of some distinction, has proclaimed her as a most finished and capable musician, and one whose place will be hard to fill.

On account of the comparatively recent death of the bride's father, the wedding was quiet, only the most intimate friends of the contracting parties being present.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Torrance, pastor of St. Paul's church, in the drawing room, one corner of which was artistically banked with palms, ferns and chrysanthemums.

The bride, who was given away by her uncle, Mr. G. M. Roger, former Mayor of Peterborough was attired in a beautiful white silk gown, with berthe of Houiton lace. She wore the conventional veil and wreath of orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of white roses. The bridesmaid, Miss Flora Collins, sister of the bridegroom was gowned in cream eolienne, over blue silk taffeta, and wore a black velvet hat with black plumes. She carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses.

The groomsman was Mr. Robin Collins, of the Molsons Bank staff, Toronto, brother of the bridegroom. Previous to the ceremony Miss Bertha Moore, who presided at the piano played Nevin's Love Song, and after the solemn matrimonial rite had been performed, Mendelssohn's wedding march.

An adjournment was made to the dining room where a dainty dejeuner was served, from tables very prettily decorated. Toasts were drunk to the health and happiness of the bride and congratulations bestowed upon the newly wedded couple. Mr. and Mrs. Collins left on the 5.15 C.P.R. train for points west, and will take up their residence in Mount Forest. The going away gown of the bride was a grey tailor-made suit, trimmed with white broadcloth. She wore a black hat with wings. The presents, which included a handsome cut glass water set from the Director, teaching staff and pupils of the Conservatory of Music, were in point of numbers and quality eloquent tributes to the popularity of the bride. The bridegroom's gift to the bride was a gold necklace, set with pearls, while the present of the bride to the bridesmaid was a dainty pearl ring.

The costumes worn by the ladies bore evidence of good taste. Mrs. Roger, mother of the bride wore black poplin with jet trimmings; Mrs. Fairbairn, and Miss Roger, aunts of the bride, black silk; Mrs. Collins, mother of the bridegroom, black silk, trimmed with rose point lace, with mauve hat, and white plumes; Miss Collins, sister of the bridegroom, white net, over white silk; Miss Annette Collins, white serge; Miss Elinor Collins, cream cashmere, with all-over lace trimmings.

A Move To Elevate The Horse Industry

Meeting Held To-night at Which Two Lecturers Will be Present—Invitation to All Horsemen.

To-night at 7.30 an important gathering of horse owners and those interested in the horse industry will be held in the Council Chambers. The meeting will be addressed by Messrs. J. D. Clarke, of Ottawa, and Jas. Irving of Winchester, two lecturers sent out by the Department of Agriculture for the purpose of raising the standard of stallions and therefore that of horses in the country.

An invitation is extended to all horsemen interested in the elevation of the industry and it is certain that a large number will attend to get the opinions of horsemen who know.

Messrs. Clarke and Irving have now been on the road lecturing for about three weeks and will not conclude the tour of their circuit for about three more. Those who have heard these men on that all-important question on the elevation of the horse kind have been much benefitted and the meeting to-night should be well attended.

Mr. Wm. Collins is the energetic worker in the interests of the industry in this district, and further information may be obtained from him.

Promise Big Crowd For The Presentation

Much Interest Being Centred in Presentation of Examiner Road Race Prizes To-night at the Grand Opera House.

The prospects are that there will be a bumper house at the Opera House to-night, when the presentation of the prizes to the winners in the Examiner road race, will take place. Mr. J. H. Burnham will make the presentation on behalf of the Examiner.

The presentation will take place after the first act, when the curtain will be raised, and the winners will take their places on the stage, and will receive the prizes at the hands of Mr. Burnham.

"Charley's Aunt" was presented at to-night, is a refined farce comedy. It was in Hamilton on Monday and Tuesday nights, and the Times of that city referring to it, says:

"Charley's Aunt" was present at the Grand opera house last night, and was greeted by a full house. The old English comedy was more enjoyable than ever, being presented by a most capable cast. The performance on the whole was one of the most enjoyable given at the local play house this season."

Any of the seventeen men who started in the race, and who are to be the guests of the opera house management, who have not received their tickets, may secure them at this office any time before eight o'clock to-night.

Young Men's Guild Has Good Prospects

Officers Elected to Direct Charlotte Street Young Men's Guild for the Coming Year Plans for the Work.

The Young Men's Guild of the Charlotte Street Methodist Church entered last night upon what promises to be a most successful year's work. The attendance at the inaugural meeting, while it was not large, was representative, and those who attended gave evidence of their practical and sympathetic interest in the work of the guild. The election of officers took place and resulted in a way which ensures to the guild a set of officers under whose guidance the organization should make good progress. Plans for the season's work were discussed, but details will be decided on at a later meeting, which will be held prior to the special services, which the pastor will inaugurate on November 7, and in which the members of the guild will no doubt take an active part.

The retiring president, Mr. W. Galbraith, opened the meeting and briefly reviewed the work of the guild for the past year. The honorary president, Rev. Mr. Manning, was then asked to take the chair, and the election of officers for the present year was proceeded with. The result of the election was as follows:

Honorary President, Rev. H. M. Manning.
Honorary Vice-President, Dr. M. A. Morrison.
President, Mr. Ira Moore.
First Vice-President, Mr. Charles Harmer.
Second Vice-President, Mr. D. W. Elliott.
Secretary, Mr. Wm. McLaren.
Assistant Secretary, Mr. A. Staunton.
Treasurer, Mr. Ed. Carr.
Pianist, Mr. Dixon Nichols.
Councillors — Messrs. Webb and Cunningham, and Dr. Neal.
Convenor of Lookout Committee—W. Galbraith.
Convenor of Social Committee—N. E. McWilliams.
Convenor of Literary Committee—Mr. Bell.

It was decided to give a banquet to the baseball team which won the Guild League championship, and the Examiner Cup, and a committee was appointed to make arrangements for holding this function, which will take place during December.

Open Air Rink For Norwoodites

Mr. Wm. Fleming Will Erect One Again This Year.

The Norwood Register says:—

Mr. Wm. Flemming is at work this week preparing the ground for his new open-air skating rink. The new rink will occupy a much larger space than the old one. It will be about 70 x 160 feet and will afford ample room for hockey matches. He is getting the ground levelled off now before the hard frosts come, so that the difficulties experienced last year in making ice may be avoided and the young folk may have a good long season to enjoy their winter amusements.

OBITUARY

MRS. MICHAEL CROUGH

One of Ennismore's oldest residents passed away last evening at 6 o'clock, at her home on lot 5, con. 10, Ennismore, in the person of Mrs. Michael Crough. She was born in that township 70 years ago, and had lived there all her life. She saw that settlement when only in its infancy and watched it grow, as the years passed, to the flourishing place it is to-day. Mrs. Crought, whose maiden name was Katherine Tracy, was married about 45 years ago to Michael Crough. There are three sons and three daughters, who are left to mourn her loss. They are John, of West Dakota; William and Timothy, of Ennismore, and Mrs. Matimothy, of Ennismore, and Mrs. Moloney, Mrs. Henry Mohor and Miss Annie, at home. Her husband also survives.

The funeral will take place on Thursday morning, October 25, at 9 o'clock, from her late residence, and proceed to St. Martin's Church. The remains will be interred in the church cemetery.

The notion that tea is injurious to persons of weak nerves is a false idea, as has been proven by the eminent scientist Jonathan Hutchinson. Tea is in reality a nerve nutrient and is extremely beneficial to weak nerves, especially when you use pure tea direct from the gardens packed in sealed lead packages, such as "SALADA" Tea, which received the highest award and gold medal at the St. Louis Exposition in 1904.

Cough Lasted 3 Months.

"I was taken with a severe cough which lasted for three months, and though I tried all sorts of medicines they failed to do me any good. A friend advised the use of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, and I was completely cured by two bottles." — Miss Ada O'Brien, Cape Cove, Gaspe Co., Quebec.

Special Police For Hallowe'en

Almost Every Other Man Will Carry a Baton.

Hallowe'en is now only one week distant. The Chief of Police is already anticipating the pranks of the boys, small and large, and is preparing to give them a reception, if they continue to celebrate that old historic night. He is making arrangements to have half a hundred, or more, special police on for the night, and a diligent watch will be kept upon the breakers of the stillness.

The Chief is determined to put a check on the rowdyism which has for so long been associated with Hallowe'en.

Eyes Worth Having

Did you ever stop to think that with the exception of the heart, the eye is the hardest worked part of the body.

As long as you are awake and your eyes are open they are working in your service.

Three pairs of muscles control the movement of each eyeball.

The two eyeballs move exactly together. Would you know the effect of their not working together—press your finger against one, so that it's position does not exactly correspond with the other.

How important it is that if these muscles tire and you have headaches or require Glasses, that your Glasses suit your eyes—our long experience makes us experts and able to fit you correctly.

Roselle Knott Who Appears In The Duchess Of Devonshire

Roselle Knott, as "The Duchess of Devonshire." in the Grand on Friday Night.

In considering the relation of the actor, and more especially the actress, toward the intellectual universe one instinctively thinks of the beautiful and immortal words DeQuincy wrote in recalling the oratory of Charles James Fox: "Pit sleeps where the carols of the larks are sleeping that gladdened the Springtides of those years, sleeps with the roses that glorified the beauty of their summers." As with the orator, so with the actor. If he wins a lasting name it must be by becoming enshrined in the memories of those to whom his eloquence appealed. In the history of the English-speaking stage or that of any country few actors have arisen who could merit the tender tribute that DeQuincy paid to the orator Fox. But surely one of these is Roselle Knott. Since the days of Helen Faucit, who, if memory does not betray one, still survives as the wife of Sir Theodore Martin, but few actresses have brought to the interpretation of the higher class of plays that I compare of sweetness and melody which, to body forth the poet's thought, they must exhibit. Adelaide Neilson, cut off in her youth, is enshrined in the hearts of the older generation; Ellen Terry, who has celebrated her jubilee, Roselle Knott, who was but a child when these women were famous, and one or two more, perhaps. It may safely be said to-day that Miss Knott is one of the most distinguished interpreters of the English-speaking stage, and happily one may assume she is an artiste with many achievements yet before her.

Miss Knott appeared in Peterborough some months ago, and now we must rejoice that she is coming back to us, and though it is hardly possible to suppose that she will exceed the lovely ingenuousness of the "Princess Mary Tudor" that she gave, it is safe to assume that whatever Roselle Knott touches she will make beautiful.

The great realm of Shakspere affords to a woman of her beauty, power and charming personality other fields to conquer, for she could be a Katherine of Aragon, a Cleopatra, a Constance that would make the bustling world stand still and listen for a moment.

From beginning to end there have been few plays in the history of the stage more completely equipped than is "The Duchess of Devonshire" touring this season under the management of Mr. Ernest Shipman with Miss Roselle Knott as Georgiana Spencer, the "Duchess of Devonshire." The costumes for the historical figures in the play have been prepared by the best costumers in New York and are complete in every detail. The old furniture, the tapestry, the armour, the wall plates, the books, all have been selected because of their special fitness, and one of the handsomest things at the rehearsals of the play has been the old fashioned dances which are introduced. In its last act the play is unique in that the good old atmosphere is retained to the very last. Taking "The Duchess of Devonshire" as a whole with its gorgeous scenery, magnificent costumes, and a cast which includes some of the best actors and actresses of the day, it is safe to say will draw one of the largest audiences of the season to the Grand Opera House on Friday, the night of its presentation.

Mr. Franklyn Roberts, Nephew of Lord Roberts, Who Appears With Roselle Knott in "The Duchess of Devonshire," on Friday Night at the Grand Opera House.

Did O'Meara Work Bluff On Police Officer

London Police Declare They Made No Mistake In His Case.

DENIES HELPING PRITCHETT

Birtle D. Grant, a Young Goderich School Teacher, Is Not Shaken In His Denial by the Crown—Ardy Steps From Prisoner's Pen to the Witness Stand and Tells of His Illegal Work—Voters Bribed.

Toronto, Oct. 24.—The examination of Birtle D. Grant, a young school teacher of Goderich, to the end of securing evidence corroborative of a portion of the testimony of J. T. Pritchett, instructor in the gentle act of switching ballots, failed to yield the positive results which the Crown sought at the continuation of the London bribery investigation yesterday. Pritchett, in his sensational story, referred to a school teacher as having delivered into his hand a number of deputy-returning officers to receive a course of "training" at the time of an election some years ago in West Huron.

Denied Any Wrongdoing.

On the information supplied by Pritchett, Grant appeared as a witness yesterday, and, though subjected to a searching examination, he denied from beginning to end having had any associations whatever with the wizard of West Elgin. He did not refute having been in West Huron at the time of the election, and having rendered party service, and it was also elicited that he was in London for three weeks prior to the bye-election, doing clerical work. He also admitted an acquaintance with O'Gorman, Reid and Lewis, extending back a number of years, but gave comprehensive disclaimers of any knowledge whatever of wrongdoing in election work.

Did O'Meara Bluff?

Before the proceedings opened, Mr. DuVernet said re Accountant John O'Meara:

"The London police claim that he is the right man, and that there is no question about it. They say that he never even protested that he was the wrong man, and they are highly incensed at the charge that they made a mistake. They are positive that he is the right man."

Magistrate Denison gave the opinion that, in this case, O'Meara had "committed deliberate perjury." Mr. DuVernet agreed, and pointed out that, O'Meara having sworn that he left London ten years ago, had later made remarks, from which the inference was to be drawn that he was there seven years ago. The court said this matter should be followed up, and Mr. DuVernet intimated that it would be.

Found Money In His Pocket.

Andrew Robson, a worker for Mr. Hyman, having been assured of the protection of the Crown, testified to having bribed several voters in the bye-election and in the bye-election with $35 which some mysterious and unknown individual surreptitiously introduced into his pocket. He had paid money "directly" to men named McLaren and Ackerman, and "indirectly" to a man named Williams. It transpired that this trio had been likewise been bonused in the Beck election, and that Robson had also held out cash allurements to one Genis. He had offered $15 to him, as Genis claimed the Conservatives had bid as high as $10.

"Did he get the ten from the other party?" asked Mr. Robinette, alertly.

"I don't know; I guess he did," returned Robson.

More Votes, More Cash.

Another batch of witnesses who received cash for their votes were examined by the court.

James Dewar got $10 for his vote in the Hyman-Grey election, and $5 in the Beck-Rumble election.

John Trollope received $9.50 in the Hyman election and $5 in the Beck contest.

John Orr got $10 for staying away from the polls.

James Hay got money.
C. E. Downing got $9.50.
Harry Johnston got $10.
Charles Paul got $10.
Joseph H. Jones got $10.

Ardy Discharged.

George Ardy, one of the envelope dispensers, was here discharged at the instance of the Crown and was placed in the box as a witness. Mr. Ardy explained that he was chairman of subdivision 82, in the election, and that he had been the medium through which six money envelopes had found their way to voters. The names of these favored individuals were Rose, Johnson, Haun, Jones, Riley and Tolhurst.

Lewis Secured Bail.

Thomas Lewis, the London hotelkeeper who was committed for trial on a charge of perjury in connection with the London bribery case, was yesterday liberated on $10,000 bail. John Lewis, a brother, went surety for $5,000, and the defendant's own bond was accepted for a similar amount. Lewis has been in jail for a week.

Local Option Quashed.

Toronto, Oct. 24.—The Divisional Court has quashed the local option by-law passed in Elma Township, Perth County, by a majority of 201 in a vote of 811. The court found that the by-law omitted a clause provided for in such cases by the Municipal Act, for the summing up of the votes, and also that there were numerous irregularities in the closing of the poll books. It is said that in only one polling place was this done properly. The township, therefore, loses and pays the costs in both courts. Judge Anglin had ruled that on account of the majority, the technical objections were not sufficient weight.

Laudanum Causes Death.

Brockville, Oct. 24.—Taking an overdose of laudanum to relieve indigestion caused the death of a young man named Kennedy, residing near Burke. He was found in his room in an unconscious condition, and all efforts to revive him failed. He had been hunting and retired in good health. Sounds from the room aroused the family, and a doctor was summoned.

The Campaign Opens Warm In North Bruce

Mr. Tolmie and Mr. McLellan Are the Candidates.

THE MINISTER OF JUSTICE

Hon. A. B. Aylesworth Has Opportunity to Meet and Deal With His Especial and Self-Constituted Political Antagonist, Mr. W. F. Maclean, M.P. —Mr. Aylesworth Foreshadows Postoffice Improvements.

Port Elgin, Oct. 24.—It was a typical North Bruce audience that participated yesterday in the formal inauguration of the bye-election campaign in this constituency. The hardy pioneers who form the basis of the riding's population, mostly Highland Scotchmen whose memories of the old land still linger, had placed in nomination a Liberal and Conservative candidate, each of whom speaks the Gaelic with fluency.

The nominations received by Returning Officer James Walmsley of Wiarton were Abram McLellan, farmer, of Kincardine township, and John Tolmie, ex-M. P., manufacturer, of the town of Kincardine. At the close of the nominations Mr. Walmsley took the chair and opened the public meeting.

Aylesworth Meets Maclean.

The occasion was rendered notable by the presence of Hon. A. B. Aylesworth, Minister of Justice, and unusually interesting because of the distinguished head of the Department of Justice was afforded an opportunity to personally meet and deal with his especial and self-constituted political antagonist, Mr. W. F. Maclean, M.P., who occupied a seat on the platform.

Among other gentlemen prominent in public life who were present were Messrs. Richard Blain, M.P., Peel; W. H. Bennett, East Simcoe; Peter H. MacKenzie, M.P., West Bruce; Mr. Ernest Campbell, former Liberal candidate in North Bruce, and Mr. John George, who has fought several political contests in this county.

Mr. Aylesworth's Address.

In the course of a thoughtful and carefully followed address Mr. Aylesworth took occasion to refer to the splendid surplus in the Postoffice Department, and intimated that he believed his Ministerial colleague had under careful investigation the whole situation with the hope of giving back to the people of Canada much of that money in the way of better service, better postal delivery and better salaries.

Mr. W. F. Maclean M. P., announced at the outset that his own ancestors had been among the pioneers of Bruce. That was one reason why he was pleased to say something on behalf of Mr. McLellan, as one of the pioneers of the county. Another was that Mr. McLellan had at heart the reforms respecting public utilities which the speaker had advocated in Parliament.

ROBITAILLE WINS.

Independent Liberal Candidate Carries Quebec County Easily.

Quebec, Oct. 24.—After one of the keenest political contests known to the Quebec district, the bye-election in Quebec County to fill the federal vacancy caused by the elevation of Hon. Charles Fitzpatrick to the chief justiceship resulted yesterday in the election of Lorenzo Robitaille (Independent Liberal) by a majority of 447 votes over George E. Amyot, the Government nominee.

The majorities by polls was as follows:

Robitaille—Beauport 514, Charlesbourg 48, Sillery 32, Ancienne Lorette 12, St. Foye 3; total 609.

Amyot—St. Arbroise Jeune Lorette 34, Cap Rouge 27, Valcartier 34, Lake Beauport 13, Tewkesbury 30, Stoneham 24; total 162.

Majority for Robitaille 447.

$1,200 For Breach of Promise.

Toronto, Oct. 24.—Mrs. Jennie McArthur, a widow, 32, was the plaintiff in a breach of promise suit in the Assize Court yesterday. She resides in Galt. It was there she met W. J. Patterson, now of the Union Life Insurance Co. They met on the street. She worked in a laundry and he would wait for her. They became engaged in March, 1904, the marriage to take place in January, 1906. When the time came W. J. failed to appear. The jury yesterday gave her a $1,200 verdict. The defendant did not appear in court.

Objection To The Use Of Glasses

Sometimes people object to glasses, claiming that once put on they can not see without them. If after putting on glasses the wearer finds it difficult to go without them, this simply proves that before he wore glasses he was forcing his eyes beyond the limit of safety, a practice if continued, is sure to affect the health and sight. The person who lets pride, even excusable pride, stand in the way of glasses is doing his eyes and health injustice and is merely paving the way for future suffering and discomforts.

Indian Flam Rescued Canoeist From Drowning

A Chemong Indian Who Proved a Good Angel to Two Persons Yesterday — Mr. J. E. Belcher Relates Act of Bravery—A Co-incidence to Which Canoeist Owes His Life.

Mr. J. E. Belcher, who is the architect for the new church being erected for the Chemong Indians at Indian Village, by Mr. E. J. Quinn, of Lakefield, was at the village yesterday, inspecting the work, and reports a very narrow escape from drowning which a daring canoeist had on Mud Lake.

Mr. Belcher had arranged with the contractor to meet him at 12 o'clock to paddle him across the narrows to the village. When he arrived at the lake the wind was blowing a gale, white caps were plentiful and there was no one there to meet him.

After waiting for about half an hour, Mr. Belcher saw an Indian named Flam, fishing about a mile up the lake. He displayed a signal on a pole, and the Indian seeing it, came to his assistance. He was taken across the narrows, and the Indian was instructed to wait until Mr. Belcher's return. It is to this circumstance that the reckless canoeist, referred to, owes his life. While Flam was waiting on the shore for Mr. Belcher's return he saw a canoe under full sail coming down the lake. When it came within a short distance of Flam, a sudden gust of wind upset the boat, and its occupant was soon struggling in the watre. But for the prompt assistance of the Indian he would undoubtedly have been drowned.

The latter immediately put out to his assistance, and succeeded in getting him into his own canoe, towing the up-turned boat to shore, where the water was emptied, and the man once more set out on his journey—this time with no sail, however.

When Mr. Belcher returned, Flam told him the story of how for the second time that day he had proved himself a friend in need; Mr. Belcher having first been befriended, and afterward the man in the canoe, who would have unmeredly been sent to a watery grave had Mr. Belcher's contractor kept his appointment, to convey the architect across the lake.

Water Street House Was Broken Into

With Evident Intention of Burning the Property—Mr. Ed. Green's House Entered Tuesday Night.

On Tuesday night, a house belonging to Mr. E. A. Green, on Water street, at the corner of Charlotte street, was broken into, and it is the supposition that the intention of the parties guilty of this misdemenour was to set fire to the property.

The house is the last in the terrace owned by Mr. Green, and has been vacant for a few days. On Tuesday night one of the side doors was forced open and a quantity of dry leaves piled in a heap in one of the rooms in the rear of the house.

When those living next door heard the noise, and knowing that no one lived there, came to investigate, the intruders made their escape. No damage, fortunately, beyond that to the door, was done, but it is considered a most fortunate circumstance that they were discovered in time to prevent the carrying out of what was undoubtedly intended to be an attempt to burn the property.

The matter was reported to the police department and will be inquired into.

Peterboro' Boy Died In Utica

Mr. Burton Doyle's Sudden Taking Off.

Mr. Wm. Doyle received word from his daughter, Mrs. Porter, in Watertown, N.Y., advising him of the death of his son, Burton, which occurred in Utica, N.Y., yesterday. This was the first intimation Mr. Doyle had that there was anything wrong with his son, and he does not know how long he was sick nor the cause of his death.

The deceased was 35 years of age and was a native of this city, where he lived until about seven years ago.

The body will arrive here to-morrow, and the funeral will take place to-morrow afternoon to the Little Lake Cemetery.

Stole From The Hospital And Committed Suicide

Mrs. Andrew Johnson Ended Her Life After Second Attempt—Stealthily Left Her Ward and Decended the Fire Escape—Her Clothing Was Traced to Water's Edge Where Corpse Was Found—Melancholia Appears to be the Cause.

Most tragic was the death of Mrs. Andrew Johnson, whose lifeless body was this morning found in the Otonabee River in the spot where she had thrown herself in and committed suicide. Mrs. Johnson until this morning was a patient at the Nicholls Hospital from where she stealthily made her escape and deliberately walked to the river half a mile distant and ended her life.

Almost two weeks ago she had attempted suicide by taking carbolic acid at her home in Smith, but was discovered before she had taken sufficient to cause death. On the 14th of the month she was brought to Nicholls Hospital and appeared to be recovering rapidly.

Stole Quietly Away

This morning, however, while the attending nurse had left the room for a few minutes she snatched the opportunity which she apparently had been awaiting. Grabbing an armfull of her clothing she left the chamber, which is a private one on the second floor, stepped out on the fire escape and descended to the ground.

Clothing Was Traced

When the nurse returned Mrs. Johnson's bed was vacant and her clothes gone. A few minutes' search revealed the fact that she was not in the building but had opened the window by the fire escape where she had dropped some of the loose clothing, and made her escape. Two nurses traced her apparel to the Grand Trunk Railway track, on down to Argyle street where she turned towards the river. Her footsteps could then be easily seen and were followed by the nurses to the water's edge at the rear of Inverlea Park where they discovered the corpse close to the shore in shallow water.

Messenger Sent to Home

At the same time as her footsteps were being traced, Mr. Roseborough, an employee of the hospital was despatched to Mr. Johnson's residence in Smith, only to find that the lost woman had not returned home nor did he, of course, find any trace of her on the road. The Johnson farm is situated on the Lakefield road about two miles and a half from the village.

Was Apparantly Recovering

Miss Delamater, the superintendent of the hospital, stated to the Examiner this morning that Mrs. Johnson had apparently been improving very much during the last few days. Her appetite had returned and she even ate between meals. Her melancholy appearance had almost worn completely away and she was rapidly regaining strength and composure. In view of these circumstances the superintendent was very much surprised to hear of her suicide this morning. She had been closely watched ever since her entrance to the hospital and her rash act was most unexpected on the part of the hospital officials and the doctor in attendance.

Nervous Prostration

Dr. Halliday who was attending her, visited the ward yesterday. To the Examiner he stated that at that time she was in the best of spirits. Nervous prostration had affected her together with melancholia, she had been very pessimistic and to this he attributed the cause of her suicide.

Various reasons are advanced as to the initial cause of her melancholy disposition. It appears, however, that domestic money affairs was the primary reason.

Mrs. Johnson was forty years of age and besides her husband leaves three children.

The body when found was taken to D. Belleghem's undertaking establishment from where it was conveyed to the family residence in Smith. The remains will be buried in the Lakefield Cemetery, but the date of the funeral had not been arranged at the time of going to press.

Coroner Gray was notified of the incident and deemed it unnecessary to hold an inquest as it was evidently a case of suicide.

Government To Lease Power At No. 4 Dam

One Who Secures It Must Spend $50,000 in Development During First Year of Lease.

The Superintendent of Railways and Canals is advertising for tenders for the lease of water power privileges at No. 4 dam on the Trent Canal between Peterborough and Lakefield. Tenders will be received at the office of the Department at Ottawa, until Nov. 29th, 1906.

In tendering it is understood that in developing the power, the discharge below must not interfere with navigation and the Department reserves the right (without compensation to the lessees) to raise dam No. 5 two feet.

The term of the lease shall be for 2 years, renewable for three on like terms, but the rent to be paid shall be adjustable at each renewal term.

As evidence of good faith the lessees will be required to expend in developing the power not less than $25,000 within six months and not less than $50,000 within twelve months from the date of the acceptance of the tender.

An accepted bank cheque for $2,000 must accompany each tender, the latter to be sent to the Minister of Railways and Canals, Ottawa.

The decision to lease this water power property will be learned with pleasure in this city, which will, no doubt benefit largely from the development of the power. The expansion of this city from an industrial standpoint, and the prospects that a large amount of power will be required in the near future, will, probably result in a good rental being derived from the power property.

Sewer Connection To Be Made Compulsory

Board of Works Adopts a Resolution Recommending Board of Health to Take Action Along This Line.

A new feature has been adopted by the Board of Works Committee. They have decided to select a district, within which it is compulsory for all residences or places of business to connect with the sewers. The question was talked of some time ago, but the committee could not decide on the boundaries of the district, and it was referred to the Board of Health.

That body had the medical health officer and health inspector visit a certain section in the centre of the city and report to the Board. As a result of that report the Board of Health recommend the city council to compel connection with sewers on the following properties:

Your Board of Health and Sanitary Inspector recommend that the following places be connected with the sewer: "All places on the east side of Water street between Hunter ter and King streets; also on the west side of George street between King and Dalhousie; also on both sides of McDonel, between Bethune and Stewart streets; also that Methoral's terrace at corner of George and Murray streets; also the terrace on the north side of London street, east of George; also the house occupied by George Carton, so as to do away with the cess pool.

It was the opinion of the chairman that some action along such lines should be taken, but whether the district recommended by the Board of Health should be adopted or not, is a question. The city could, however, set aside any district where sewers are constructed and compel all houses to use the sewer.

Moved by Ald. Elliott and Ald. Johnston that a bylaw be prepared adopting the Board of Health's recommendation.

CONDITIONS DIFFERENT

The Toronto News announces as its motto in the approaching municipal campaign: "No party in civic politics." There seems to be no more reason for politics entering into the choice of a municipal servant than for politics becoming a prime factor in the choice of a coachman, gardener, physician or solicitor—the best qualifications for the respective positions are, or should be, the determining element. In parliamentary politics, party issues become legitimate considerations, because government by party is part of the recognized machinery of our representative parliamentary institutions. In most cases there is a real or simulated distinction between the issues by which the respective political parties are influenced. Each has its platform of policy generally assented to by the mass of the supporters of the respective parties. In municipal politics, if regard be had to the best interests of the civic constituencies, we shall find many men men of opposing political creeds, at one upon civic issues. There is no clear-cut line of demarcation between the moieties of a civic electorate.

AVOID THE DUST

The remarks made by Mr. Burnham on the occasion of his presentation of the trophies won in The Examiner Road Race, in the Grand Opera House last night, were well judged and instructive. One particular remark might well have been more strongly elaborated and its import emphasized—one that is of the greatest importance to future contestants, and, consequently, to the success of the series of races which will hereafter annually take place over the same course. The dust raised on the highway by wheels and other vehicles was a source of great embarrassment. When the runners were straining every muscle, with every nerve keyed up to the highest tension, every vital force in full play, and their severely-taxed lungs were demanding every possible breath of vivifying air, they were compelled to breathe in thick, choking dust. The interest shown by these indiscreet admirers, and doubtless friends of the runners, was due, it is assumed, to no desire to hinder them, but their eagerness to see every foot of the race created conditions that interfered with the runners as seriously as if they had acted with premeditated and deliberate malice, and desire of obnoxious interference. It is surprising that so many finished in as good condition as they did do. If it had not been for the interference of spectators referred to, and the stiff head Wind, it is morally certain that many minutes would have been cut off the time, and that the winners in the first Examiner Road Race would have established a new time record for a ten-mile course. It is to be hoped that the public who interest themselves in future road races will see that their zeal and desire to see the race, and even to see their favourite win, will not result in a course of action which will interfere, not only with the success of the race, but with their desire to see their man finish first. It will only be by the assumption of reasonable restraint on the part of the public that the course in a road race can be kept clear for contestants, and the best conditions provided for their making the best race in their power to make. A handicap in the shape of dust and an obstructed course cannot conduce to the success of a road race.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Mr. Foster should use his admitted eloquence in addressing electors in the bye-elections. He could, for instance, make an effective speech, knowing whereof he speaks, upon the subject, "The Land for the Settler."

It isn't often that our Yankee cousins will let anybody get the start of them, but Canada's Thanksgiving Day is happily over, and the United States' annual saturnalia of gratitude and gluttony—thanksgiving and over-eating—will not come till November 26.

Speaking in reference to his relations to the revelations in the Foresters' investigation, Mr. Foster shows a bold front. He says: "Let any man attack me on the report when it comes before Parliament, and he will find me there." There is courage, there is check, there is effrontery, and whoever wishes to characterize Mr. Foster's attitude may take his choice of terms. Mr. Foster boldly faced and justified his betrayal of his leader in the role of brood hen of the nest of traitors. He should, therefore, find no difficulty in facing Parliament in respect of his relations to speculation in trust funds.

If Kingston is not to be distinguished for its enterprise and liveliness to-day, it is to be honoured for its interesting old age, rich in history and historical associations. It seems quite the thing that the Sunday School Association of Ontario, should hold its jubilee session, in the good old "Limestone City," where it was organized fifty years ago. Under these circumstances, the Whig, itself over three-quarters of a century old, remarks that the jubilee of the institution, which is rich in its memories, in its records of splendid achievements, should be an event of more than passing importance. It is an incident that marks the progress of a movement, which, because of its effect on the public morals, on the lives of the young, on the character of the times, is entitled to the support and sympathy of all right-minded people.

The London Advertiser is much moved by the torrents of scorn and denunciation that are being poured out upon that city in consequence of recent evidences of corruption. It earnestly declares that London challenges comparison with any city of the Dominion in respect to the character of her citizens and her moral tone. It is gratifying to learn that the chief city of Western Ontario does not bow the head in stricken shame before the vilifications of the pert paragrapher, and if all her citizens feel about it as the Advertiser does, we may be sure it will not be long before her virtue will be re-established as spotless as ever. The Advertiser asks that the people of London be allowed to "clean their own doorsteps." London has every liberty in this respect. The Advertiser is naturally anxious to be loyal to its bread and butter, and to defend the good name of the city. For years London has had a named. For years London has had a named, deserved and undeserved, for moral obliquity not to be envied. There seems to be no monopoly of political peculiarities by either party. Unfortunately, there is not much consistent opportunity in our political pot indulging in recrimination against another political kettle.

Almost Crazy With Headache

EXHAUSTED NERVES, INDIGESTION PALPITATION AND SLEEPLESSNESS—AN EXTRAORDINARY CURE EFFECTED BY

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

Many a woman has experiences similar to those of Mrs. Edwards, though it may be that few suffer so keenly.

You find yourself a frequent sufferer from headache, little things worry and irritate you, digestion fails, you cannot rest or sleep, gradually you become weaker and more discouraged and look forward gloomily to approaching prostration or paralysis.

Cure can only come when the richness is restored to the blood and vitality to the nervous system by the use of such treatment as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Mrs. R. W. Edwards, 32 McMurray street, Brantford, Ont., writes:—"For five years I suffered more than words can tell from nervous headaches, nervous dyspepsia and exhaustion. The pains in my head would at times almost drive me crazy. I could not sleep nights, but would walk the floor in misery until I fell exhausted and unconscious. I was pale, nervous, irritable, easily exhausted, was reduced to a mere skeleton of skin and bone, and my heart would palpitate. My greatest suffering was caused by dreadful pains in the head, neck and back and all this was in spite of the best efforts of three leading doctors of this city.

"For the past nine months I have used Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and for considerable time I have not experienced a headache, or any of the symptoms mentioned above. From a mere skeleton this medicine has built me up in flesh and weight, until I am strong and well and am thoroughly restored to health."

This great food cure is radically different to the medicines that are usually used for nervous diseases, for, while they stimulate tired nerves to over-exertion, or, by narcotic influence, soothe and deaden them, Dr. Chase's Nerve Food revitalizes the wasted nerve cells and so accomplishes lastingly beneficial results.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box, 6 boxes for $2.50, at all dealers or Edmanson Bates & Co., Toronto.

WEDDING BELLS

MULLEN—PRIME.

At All Saints' rectory yesterday afternoon an interesting wedding took place when Rev. Wm. Major, rector of All Saints church, united in the Mullen, of Smith, son of Mr. Richard Smith township, a son of Mr. Richard Mullen, and Miss Maria Prime of Chesterfield, England. The bride was dressed very prettily in brown broadcloth, with allover lace blouse, and a hat to match. She was attended as bridesmaid by Miss Minnie King, of Peterborough, who wore cream panama cloth with lace blouse and champagne hat. The bridegroom was supported by his brother, Mr. David Mullen of this city. The gift of the bridegroom to the bride, was a gold watch and chain, and to the bridesmaid a gold bracelet set with bloodstones and diamonds. Mr. and Mrs. Mullen left on the 5.15 C.P.R. train for Toronto, and on their return will reside in Smith township.

MAHONEY—SCOTT.

Rev. Father Phelan united in the holy bonds of matrimony two of the most popular young people in Chandos, on Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock in the Chandos Catholic Church. The contracting parties were Miss Clara Scott daughter of Mr. Jas. Scott, and Dennis Mahoney, son of Mr. Simon Mahoney, both of that township. The ceremony was performed in the presence of a large number of friends, the church being entirely filled. There were friends from many outside points, as well as from this city, while the community in which the young people live was well represented. This is the third of Mr. Scott's daughters that has been married within the past year, attesting to the popularity of the girls in the northern township.

After the marriage, the guests, in a long procession, returned to the Scott home, where they hymenal festivities were held. There were about seventy-five guests for dinner, which number was increased to about 175, who sat down to the wedding supper, the main event of the day. The spread was the equal of, if not better than, that which city caterers supply, there being an abundance of everything. Another important feature was the dance that was held, all participating in it. The day, indeed, was spent in a happy manner, the spacious home being taxed to its utmost with the friends and relatives of the young couple.

The presents received were many and beautiful, testifying to the popularity of the bride and groom. The party broke up at an early hour Wednesday morning, after wishing Mr. and Mrs. Mahoney a long and happy wedded life. They will reside in Chandos, where Mr. Mahoney has a fine, new house for his bride.

BEAVIS—McGREGOR

Yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock Sarah Jane McGregor, the second daughter of Mr. Wm. McGregor, 413 Sherbrooke street, was given in marriage to Mr. David Beavis, of this city by Rev. Wm. Major, of All Saints church. The wedding was a very quiet one, only the immediate relatives and friends being present. The bridesmaid was Miss Anna Buck, while Mr. Wm. McGregor acted as groomsman. The bride was gowned in blue ladys cloth with light blue trimmings. She wore a white hat and the conventional veil. Miss Buck wore a grey silk dress with hat to match. After the ceremony the wedding party retired to Mr. Bevis' new home on Elm street, where the wedding party retired to Mr. Beavis' new evening was spent, after which the party broke up, wishing Mr. and Mrs. Beavis a happy wedded life.

A large number of presents indicated the popularity of both parties among their friends. The groom's gift to the bride was a set of furs, to the bridesmaid an opal ring and to the best man, a pretty gentleman's ring.

Mr. and Mrs. Beavis will reside at their new home on Elm street.

OBITUARY

ALEXANDER McFARLANE

The demise of Mr. Alex McFarlane occurred last night at his residence, 108 Weller street. The deceased had been a lifelong resident of Otonabee until a year ago, when he retired from active business and removed to this city. The immediate cause of his death was anaemia, although for some time he had not been so robust as was usual with him.

He was born in Otonabee 63 years and 11 months ago in the neighbourhood of Mather's Corners. Thirty-two years ago he married Mary Jane Stark, who has been his faithful helpmate through their married life. There remain to mourn his loss, his wife, two brothers and two sisters. They are Duncan A., of Toronto; Donald, of Mather's Corners; Mrs. Alex Drummond, of Peterborough, and Mrs. John MacPherson, of Fingal, Elgin County. The deceased was an old member of the Keene Presbyterian Church, and a staunch Liberal in politics. He was a respected member of the community in which he spent his life.

The funeral will leave the family residence, 108 Weller street, tomorrow afternoon at 1 o'clock, for interment in the Keene Cemetery.

SOCK SOCIAL

Pandora Range

Managed Like an Engine.

One-third of a housekeeper's life is spent in her kitchen.
One-half the labor of housekeeping is at the cook stove.
Your range can double or halve the cooking slavery of housekeeping.
A poor range adds worry as well as work, and worry multiplies the housekeeper's care.
Get a range that reduces the work and eliminates the worry.
The Pandora Range is as easily and accurately managed as an engine—it responds to the touch as quickly and certainly as the huge engine obeys the hand of the engineer.
The Pandora Range saves worry, and because worry kills, it prolongs life. Sold by enterprising dealers everywhere. Write for booklet.

Urgent Demand For Moderate Price Houses

Labour Gazette Correspondent Reports to This Effect—The Condition of Labour for Last Month—Continued Activity in Labour Circles—Extensions of Many Manufacturing Establishments.

The report of Ald. Johnston, the correspondent to the Labour Gazette on labour conditions in the city during September was a most encouraging one, and gives evidence of great prosperity. The report is as follows:

Industry continued very active during September. The building trades were more active than in August, several large buildings having been begun, and requiring a large staff to close them in before the cold weather, thus causing a large demand for outside mechanics.

The Brinton Carpet Company's factory was about completed, and the machinery placed, and this large industry will soon be working to full capacity. Large contracts on sewers were being carried out for the city; also some by day labour, which is proving a financial success. Over $1,000 has been spent during school vacations on general repairs on the several schools. The large addition to the Canadian General Electric Company's works is now under way, some 175 workmen being at work. The building will be 90 feet wide and 300 feet long, and the walls will be of concrete reinforced by steel. The work on the large gas tank has been completed and has passed examination. A large number were employed on the construction of this work. When the water-pipe extensions, now under way, have been completed, the commissioners will have some 26 miles of water mains.

A large staff of men were employed on a roller skating rink, which will be in active operation soon. A large contract has been awarded by the township of Cavan for the excavating of a drain 4 to 5 feet deep, 10 feet wide, and several miles long. The cost will be approximately $12,000. The completion of this work will reclaim at least 3,000 acres of land now under water.

The Machine Telephone Company has been given a franchise at Lindsay for placing a system in that town.

The work of dredging on the water front, and the filling in of the old channel with the dredgings, is still under way.

Trade and banking were very prosperous. Wholesale and retail trade was very active, especially in fruit, thousands of baskets of peaches being sold.

During the past summer there has been a great dearth of workingmen's houses, and a company has been organized to erect a class of small houses to rent for $7 to $8 per month. Nearly all houses at present are equipped with modern conveniences and easily rent for $15 per month, which is beyond the ordinary workingman's means. The building of the class of houses above mentioned will be welcomed by many people. The activity of building has not ceased, and present indications point to another busy season next year.

Condition of Local Industries

Agriculture — Cooling rooms in connection with cheese factories will be installed the coming season. The loss by shrinkage during the time the cheese is in the curing process will be considerably lessened by cool curing, and the cheese cured in this way brings better prices. The prices paid by the cheese boards have been as high as 13 7-8c. Thirty-three cents per bushel was being paid by the Quaker Oats Company for new oats.

Lumbering. — Trade was very active. The Peterborough Lumber Company, was sending men to its camps for the winter operations.

Manufacturing. — Activity prevailed in all lines. Carew's box and planing factory, Lindsay, was in full operation. Fraser's hub factory, Norwood, was very active, with orders which will keep the factory busy for months. The Prepayment Electric Meter Company of Peterborough, was turning out large quantities of its goods, which are in great demand. The Quaker Oats Company's mills were running day and night to keep up with orders. The William Hamilton Company's works were also working night shifts; the firm has orders ahead for months. Twenty carloads of marl were being shipped daily to the Lakefield cement works for the manufacture of cement. This cement is in great demand.

Mining. — While operations were quiet, valuable discoveries were reported in the northern part of the county of Peterborough, including iron and copper, and a rich vein of silver in the county of Haliburton. If the tests of these minerals proves satisfactory work will begun immediately.

Railway construction and Employment. —The short line between Midland and Lindsay on the Grand Trunk will soon be completed. Section work in all parts of the district was being loosed after and put in shape for the winter.

Condition of Particular Trades

Building.—All were very busy.

Metal, Engineering and Shipbuilding. —With the exception of one or two trades that were active, all were busy.

Woodworking and Furnishing. —Wood workers, pattern makers, coopers and carriage workers were very busy. Upholsters, varnishers and polishers were active, and car builders busy on repair work.

Printing.—These trades had a good month.

Clothing. — Journeymen tailors, garment workers and hat makers were busy, as were boot and shoe workers.

Food and Tobacco Preparations.—Bakers, ice-handlers and cigar makers wre active, and butchers very busy.

Leather.—All were busy.

Miscellaneous. — Barbers, broommakers, clerks and stenographers, active, and delivery employees, furriers, hotel and restaurant employees, and laundry workers, were busy.

Transport. — Railway workers had an exceptionally busy month in all departments. Steamboat employees had a very busy month. Street railway employees were active; and cab drivers, teamsters and expressmen very busy.

Unskilled. — Labourers were very busy.

District Notes

World throughout the district has consisted chiefly of threshing and preparing the ground for fall wheat sowing. It is feared that there will be a scarcity of hay, and that the price will likely be as high as $20 per ton, as a result of heavy shipments to foreign markets. The demand exceeds the supply at present. General business has been excellent and the markets well attended.

Mr. Hughes-Charles To Stop Cruelty

Local Horse Lover Went to Toronto to Testify Against Man Who Abused His Horse.

The Toronto Star of last night said: Mr. David Hughes Charles, banker, and lover of horses, came all the way from Peterborough to tell Magistrate Kingsford yesterday afternoon how John Sullivan, who drives a coal wagon for Mrs. Judge, abused his horse.

"I was coming up from the Union Station, Your Worship, about 11 o'clock last Thursday," said Mr. Charles. "At the McKinnon Building I saw this boy flogging his horse. There was no apparent reason for the cruelty, as the horse was willing to do what the boy wanted him to do. I went on a little way, and came back. The boy was still beating the horse about the head, legs and shoulders. 'You mustn't flog the horse like that,' I said. 'You mind your business or I'll put you in a hole!' was the reply I got.

"The lad was very abusive," Your Worship, so I went up to King street for a policeman."

The policeman bore out the testimony of Mr. Charles.

In reply to a question from the Magistrate, Mr. Charles said that when in Peterborough he related the occurrence, and was told that it was very common in Toronto.

"It is not common in Peterborough, Your Worship."

"And it'll not be common in Toronto," returned His Worship.

Sullivan said that the horse was sulky, and that he did not abuse it.

Magistrate Kingsford thanked Mr. Charles for his evidence.

"Be here to-morrow at 2 o'clock, Sullivan, and you will hear my final word on the matter," His Worship said.

Peterborough Farmers Discuss Horse Culture

Horse-Breeding the Subject of General Discussion by Those Interested—Meeting Was Well Attended and Encouraging to Inspectors.

Last evening a gathering of local farmers and horsebreeders met in the Council Chambers to listen to addresses by Messrs. Clark and Irving. These gentlemen have been sent throughout the country for the purpose of investigating into the culture of good horseflesh in this district, that only the best conditions may be permitted to exist and that all bad influences against the breeding of best horses may be removed. However, there were practically no addresses as the inspectors invited all present to a general discussion of the subjects which they were to have spoken on.

In the absence of the president, Mr. J. N. Telford, Mr. E M Elliott presided in a very satisfactory manner.

Among those present were:—

Mr. Brown, Mr. Jas. Elmhirst, Dr. Poole, V.S., W. Renwick, Keene; M. Healy, of Westwood; S F Redmond, Andrew Hagg, Jas H. Brooks, Smith Milburn, F H Bourk, Jas. H Gardner, Jas. Davidson, Robt. Arnott, Jacob Brown, Jas. Chambers, H Nelson, R H Nesbitt, M Mitchell, W Parnell and others.

Mr. Clarke, the first speaker, explained the character of his duties while in the city. At any meetings that might be held, the inspectors were to have the farmers and horsebreeders enter into discussion regarding the culture of blood horses. He read a circular containing the points to be discussed and from the breeders' practical opinions they were to report to headquarters that any defects in good breeding might be remedied and any good conditions might be furthered.

The first point for discussion was the conditions having good effects or bad effects on the proper breeding of first class horses.

Mr. J. H. Gardner said that the best horses were sold to outsiders and thus were taken from the country. Added to this was the fact that poor horses such as "bronchos" have been brought to this part of the country.

The matter of issuing licenses in order to protect the best breeders was discussed very heartily.

Stallions should be registered and licensed, and then only the best breeders would be in requisition and by controlling the fees the farmer would be protected. Care, however, should be taken in any advice given the Government in the matter of licensing sires. Foreign horses should not be privileged as Canada should be and is able to produce horses the equal of any imported ones. A vote was taken on the matter of licensing and registering horses, and the majority were in favour of such action.

Mr. Andrew Hogg an extensive breeder gave an interesting account of the best practical manner of raising general purpose horses.

The question of what kind of horse was the easiest and best to raise in this district was discussed to great length. A vote of thanks was then moved by Mr. Gardner, seconded by Dr. Poole, V.S., to the gentlemen who were here as inspectors. Mr. Clark expressed his gratitude at the support given his colleague and himself in their operations in this district by the resident farmers.

Mr. E. M. Elliott on behalf of the Farmers' Institute, thanked all those present for the interest they had shown and the eagerness with which they discussed the various points. He said he was sure that good effects would be spread throughout the country as a result of the inspectors' visit.

"Sovereign" Left For Upper Lakes

Government Steamer Off to Rosedale—Other Late Navigation News.

The steam tug Ajax reported at the Wolfe street wharf yesterday, with a scow load of cement consigned to points east on the Canadian Pacific Railway.

The Government tug Empire, which is in waiting on the dredge Emmerson, which is working down the river at "Dangerfield," was in port yesterday coaling up.

The steamer Water Lily is up the Lakes after a consignment of wood, for one of our local dealers, and is due to arrive to-day.

The Government tug Sovereign, Capt. Tuffield Morin, arrived in port last evening, and left again, after coaling up, for Rosedale, on the upper waters.

The steamer Rainbow arrived in port last evening with a scowload of plank consigned to the city of Peterborough. She also had a quantity of wood on board for a resident of East City.

Bad Knee Cured By Zam-Buk

A Footballers' Valuable Experience.

As an example of the value of Zam-Buk in cases of abrasions, and injuries to muscles and tendons, as well as to the skin, the recent experience of Mr. E. Leslie, of Harriet street, Winnipeg, may be mentioned. He says, "While playing football I received a kick on the knee. I had had previous trouble with that knee, and expected that I would be laid off, unable to walk, next day. I rubbed on some Zam-Buk however, and to my surprise and pleasure, it prevented all serious consequences. Before I had used the second box the knee was quite cured! Now I always carry a box when travelling, for I think Zam-Buk a blessing to humanity."

Such it has proved on many occasions. Made entirely from herbal essences it is a purely natural balm. Eczema, ulcers, abscesses, sore on the back or lions, piles, scalding sores, itching or chafed surfaces, sore feet, blistered or chapped hands, sore nipples — for all of these, as well as for cuts, burns, bruises, scalds and everyday skin injuries, it is a veritable boon. For household use nurses, doctors and mothers, everywhere give it a good word. Of its value to athletes the above case is but an example. Sherring, the winner of the Marathon race, used Zam-Buk while training, and uses it for bruises, sore feet and as an ambrocation. The leading athletes of the world have expressed their appreciation of its value. All druggists at 50 cents per box, or post free from the Zam-Buk Company, Toronto, upon receipt of price; 6 boxes for $2.50. Send one cent stamp and full name and address, and a free sample box will be mailed you.

Electric Elevator And New Operating Room

Improvements Which Will be Installed at St. Joseph's Hospital—His Lordship Bishop O'Connor's Determination to Make This Institution Thoroughly Modern in Every Way.

The Examiner is informed that extensive improvements are to be carried out at St. Joseph's Hospital, at the direction of His Lordship Bishop O'Connor, whose practical and sympathetic interest in the welfare of St. Joseph's, has been given evidence to on many occasions.

It has been decided to instal a new and thoroughly modern electric elevator, to connect the various floors of the building. The installation of this elevator will greatly facilitate the work of the staff, and will increase the efficiency of the hospital.

It is understood that steps will be taken at once to order and install this elevator.

In addition to the elevator, a thoroughly modern operating room, with all the latest surgical appliances, and operating room equipment, will be supplied. The hospital at present has a well equipped room for this purpose, but in his desire to place the hospital in possession of the very latest and most modern equipment, His Lordship has decided on this course, and work on it, too, will, it is understood, be proceeded with in the very near future, the plans having already been prepared. The work will be under the supervision of Mr. J. E. Belcher, who was entrusted with the preparation of the plans.

Board Of Works Had Very Busy Session Last Night

Sidewalk Gang Will be Held on as Long as Weather Permits—$25 Damages for Accident to Horse—More Sewers are to be Built This Fall.

The Board of Works had a busy session last night for this time of the year. There are very few matters of vital importance to be taken up, for the most part of the business consists of a struggling piece of sewer, or a sidewalk, or something of that nature which the people desire to have done before the snow flies.

There is, however, one feature which deserves mention, and that is that the committee have decided to retain the services of the gang working on cement walks as long as possible. Work on the walks must cease about the end of the month. Instead of laying the men off, they will be put on sewer work, by day labour, and kept employed as long as the weather will permit. Some of these men are excellent workmen, and have been on Commissioner Evans' gang for several years, and it seems desirable that they should continue on the force for years to come.

Those present at the meeting were Ald. Hicks, chairman; Graham, McIntyre, Wilson, Johnston and Elliott. City Engineer Hay and Street Commissioner Evans were also present.

Renting Hilliard Farm

The City Engineer presented a report in regard to the action the City Trust Commissioners intend to take in renting the Hilliard farm for a term of years. He recommended that the Commissioners be conferred with to see how the city gravel pits will be affected.

On motion of Ald. Johnston and Elliott, the City Clerk was instructed to ask the Commissioners to confer with the City Engineer and Street Commissioners before renting the farm.

The City Engineer reported in regard to a letter from Hon. J. R. Stratton re grading Rink street in front of the Shovel & Tool Company's premises. He said the work would require 440 cubic yards of gravel at a cost of $220, if gravel was drawn from the pit, of $120 if the gravel could be purchased from cellars.

It was left with the Engineer to look after, and he could arrange to get gravel from cellars.

Wm. McMaster, of Stewart street, wants a sidewalk in front of his new house. The walk there is a wooden one and only requires about 50 or 60 feet of extension. It will be done as requested.

$25 Damages

Mr. H. Mason, whose horse met with an accident on the bridge in front of the Wm. Hamilton Co.'s foundry some time ago, appeared before the committee and stated his claim for damages. He said that on July 16 he was crossing the bridge, when the horse's hind leg went through the bridge. The horse was laid up for two weeks, but it is still far from being well. It has cost considerable money already.

"What damages would you ask?" said Ald. Wilson.

"Just what the committee considers would be fair for medical attendance and loss of the use of the horse. I put in my claim at $75. If I had to replace the horse it would cost $150."

Ald. Elliott said he thought $25 would be an outside limit for the claim.

Chairman Hicks said he considered the claim was very high, but he would like to talk the matter over with the committee. Mr. Mason therefore withdrew, and the committee decided to pay damages to the extent of $25.

Mr. Mason agreed to accept the amount offered rather than go to law. His expenses would, he said, be more than that, but $25 would help him out a little.

A temporary walk will be placed on both sides of Williams street to last over the winter.

A letter was received from Mr. Tiffin, of the G.T.R., re the crossing of their tracks by the proposed extension of George street. He said that the company refused the application, but if the city would assume all risk of accidents and pay wages of gate-keeper he would take it up with the management again.

The committee decided to leave it in the hands of the City Solicitor.

An application was received to have Stewart street, south of Perry street repaired, as the sewers have settled and, as a result, there are several holes. No action was taken because the letter was unsigned.

A communication was read from the Board of Health asking that a sewer be placed on King street for sanitary reasons.

On motion of Ald. Johnston and Elliott, the sewer was ordered built.

More Sewers

There is a piece of sewer to be built on Aylmer street. "Now," said Chairman Hicks, "the sewer gang cannot work much longer on cement walks, so how would it be to have them do it?" The committee thought this would be advisable.

Ald. Johnston and Ald. Wilson moved that as soon as the sidewalk gang had to stop work that those men be used for the continuation of sewer work, beginning on Aylmer street.—Carried.

OBITUARY

LUCY LEMOIRE.

Death released Miss Lucy Lemoire, the young lady, who was badly burned in Hastings, from all earthly sufferings, yesterday afternoon at 4.30 o'clock. It is a little over a week since she was brought to St. Joseph's Hospital, in a very serious condition, and at that time small hopes were extended for her recovery. By her death Hastings has lost one of its most promising young ladies, who was respected and esteemed by the people of her native town.

The deceased was born 16 years ago in Hastings. She was one of a family of 13, there being seven sons and six daughters. Her father's name is Mr. Peter Lemoire, who with his bereaved wife and the rest of the family remain to mourn her sad demise. Her body will be taken to Hastings on this afternoon's train when further arrangements for interment will be made.

A Citizen Suggests Some Improvements

Wharf at Wolfe Street and Street Leading to it Would be Better for Some Attention.

A suggestion by a resident having occasion to do business at the Wolfe street wharf quite frequently, is that now that the Government dredge is working up stream, immediately above the wharf, that if a few loads of gravel were deposited there, and a log or two added to raise the present wharf, a much needed improvement would be made, and would be greatly appreciated by the business men having occasion to use the wharf, especially in the spring, when, as has been the case, the approach to the boats has had to be made on a single plank, with the chances of falling off, and getting mixed up with the mud.

There is also another matter in connection with the wharf calling for the attention of the street commissioner; that is, the state in which the new street leading to the wharf is at present, and which could be remedied with a load or two of gravel. A deep rut has been formed across the street, and causes a lot of trouble and time to the many drivers with heavy loads, especially at this time of year, when heavy loads are of hourly occurrence.

A General Mix-up On Bethune Street

Three Bicycles Collide in the Dark—No Severe Injuries to the Riders.

An accident occurred last night on the cinder path on Bethune street that might have been accompanied by serious results. Mr. Ford Turner, who is employed in the draughting department of the C.G.E. Works, was wheeling home about fifteen minutes after six when he collided with Mr. Howard Wareham who was also on a wheel and a general spill occurred. They were going at a good clip when the collision took place and as a result both were thrown heavily to the ground. The wheels became locked together and while the owners were endeavouring to separate them, a third individual rode right into the melee. He however, suffered no injury beyond being thrown into the cinders. The other wheels had quite a number of broken and loosened spokes as a result of the mixup, besides bent handlebars. The street lights were not burning and this spot between King and Sherbrooke streets was very dark. This is by no means the first accident that has happened along the cinder path and something should be done in the way of placing more lights that the general gloom may be dispersed.

HAIR SOFT AS SILK.

New Scientific Treatment Kills Dandruff Germs, and Makes Hair Soft.

It is an accepted fact, a proven fact, that dandruff is a germ disease, and it is also a demonstrated fact Newbro's Herpicide kills the dandruff germ. Without dandruff falling hair would stop, and thin hair will thicken. Herpicide not only kills the dandruff germ, but it also makes hair as soft as silk. It is the most delightful hair dressing made. It cleanses the scalp from dandruff and keeps it clean and healthy. Itching and irritation are instantly relieved, and permanently cured. There's nothing "just as good." Take no substitute. Ask for "Herpicide." Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Ormond & Walsh, special agents.

Music and Drama

CHARLEY'S AUNT

Etienne Girardot, in that most laughable of all farce comedies, "Charley's Aunt," entertained one of the biggest audiences of the season at the Grand last night. The production fully lived up to its reputation as a fun maker, and kept the audience in hysterical laughter from start to finish. The play abounds in situations and climaxes of the most amusing characters.

The play centres around Lord Fancourt Babberley, an Oxford undergraduate, who impersonates the said aunt of one of his chums, Charley's aunt, from Brazil, "where the nuts come from." The funny situations that evolved from this can easily be imagined. There are not less than four pairs of lovers, and to make matters worse, the real aunt appears on the scene. Everything is cleared up eventually, and happily, of course.

Etienne Girardot's work in the title role was very fine, and his acting could hardly have been improved upon. The acting of the entire company was splendid throughout—not a weak spot could be found anywhere. The female roles were in good hands.

Etienne Girardot and "Charley's Aunt" deserve all the good things that have been said about them. Rarely has a farce comedy played here been presented with so little artificial acting as the production of last night.

Wage Dispute Ends In Quarrel

Market Bystanders Separate the Two Men

Frequenters of the local market yesterday afternoon were amused at a little incident which from its beginning became the centre of attraction. Two gentlemen one the employer, the other the employee, became mixed in a little dispute about wages. The latter had been hired at the rate of $1.50 per day for two days, but when settling he was only given $2.50, the employer stating he had missed a trip and was worth no more.

This of course was resented by the other, who stated that had it not been for age he would give somebody "more than his". At this the two men clinched and the older went down. Market Clerk Lee, together with a number of the bystanders, separated them as quickly as possible before any damage was done.

After diligent search the "two and a half" was gathered in from under the boots of the crowd that had assembled—and the two men left.

The New York Stock Market

(Furnished by J. R. Heintz & Co.)

New York, Oct. 25.—A dull dragging stock market is to be reported to-day from the opening with only intermittent rallies, which had no special force beyond short covering. Sales on rallies and hammering of specialties by the bearish professional element took place. The Street did not like the betting more in favour of the anti-Wall Street candidate, nor did it like the prospect of a wiping out of the surplus reserves on Saturday, through cash losses loan expansion by the banks. The market yielded stubbornly and there was only dribbling liquidation, but the large interests seemed to be inanimate so far as aggression on the long side was concerned and the drifting process was permitted without much opposition.

The floating supply of stocks is low This will operate to produce an oversold condition in a short time. We think the market will continue in the trading rut for a time. A sharp drive at Reading right at the close brought recessions all around and the close was weak at about the lowest.

Mr. P. Kane Home From Chandos

Was Present at Mahoney-Scott Wedding in That Township Events en Route

Mr. Patrick Kane, who was present at the wedding of Miss Clara Scott to Mr. Jas. Mahoney, in Chandos, has returned to the city after a very enjoyable trip. He started Monday morning with his wife, to drive out and returned on Wednesday. He visited friends at Clydesdale and other places while in the northern township. The wedding, he said, was a very popular one, and there was the largest number of people present he had ever seen at a wedding.

Everyone enjoyed himself or herself immensely. The dance, which is always the main feature of these weddings, was continued from after supper till early morning. The drive was a very enjoyable one the only distressing event being that Mr. Kane forgot to take with him firearms. Otherwise he would in all probability be the proud possessor of a couple of fine black bears. On the way out and back, it is stated, he saw a bear each time and although it may have been the same one, still this point could not be determined on. He was driving through the northern part of Burleigh when his horse showed signs of fear. Casually looking around he saw Mr. Bruin in the hedge about seventy-five yards from the road. He presented a very pretty sight to the huntsman's eye, although he seemed to be unaware of the presence of human beings. On the way back a bear was seen in the same vicinity and chances are it was the same one. The truth of the statement "What sights you see when you have not got a gun", were painfully felt by Mr. Kane in that instance.

Radiator Works Use Many Brick

An Order Said to Have Been Placed For 200,000

The Hastings Star this week says: We understand that the Peterborough Boiler and Radiator Company has placed an order for about 200,000 sandstone bricks to be used in their new buildings here. Surveyors were down from Peterborough on Saturday last and laid out the ground for the Radiator Company, and we are told that building operations will commence at once. This means that over a quarter of a million sandstone bricks will be used in Hastings alone this season. Mr. L. F. Clarry and Mr. G. Barrie both having used them in their new houses.

Shareholders Will Hold A Meeting

Ontario Bank Shareholders Will Meet Soon

It has been decided to call a meeting of the shareholders of the Ontario Bank on December 11. The announcement has been made that the directors of the bank have proferred their resignations, and that at the meeting called by the curator, Mr. W. E. Stavert, the Board of Directors will be reduced from seven to five.

Attention has been directed to the fact that in the first appeal made by the directors of the Ontario Bank to the Canadian Bankers' Association, of necessity the general manager of the Bank of Montreal, as president of the association, was applied to.

The Use of Malt Extract in Food

Cooked Wheat Treated With It and Then Baked Crisp and Brown Is Nutritious and Delicious.

Remarkable results are secured by treating whole wheat with malt extract, as is illustrated by that widely known food product, Malta-Vita, sometimes called "The Perfect Food."

In the preparation of Malta-Vita we have these two factors,—(a) the whole wheat, steamed and cooked in absolute cleanliness and containing every food element necessary to the sustenance of the human body, (b) pure malt extract containing all the nutrition of best selected barley in a readily digestible form, so nutritious and strengthening that doctors everywhere recommend it.

The malt extract, mixed with the cooked wheat, converts the starch of the wheat into maltose, or malt sugar, an active digestive agent. The result is a perfect food, rich in all the nutrition that builds up bone and blood, brain and muscle, healthy tissue and nerve force.

And Malta-Vita is good to eat. There's nothing like it, nothing that can take its place. After being mixed with the malt, the wheat is rolled into wafer-like flakes,—every grain a little flake—and then baked in great, clean ovens under most intense heat. From the ovens Malta-Vita comes crisp and brown, "done to a turn," the most delicious, the most healthful food in the world. All grocers, 10 cents.

Greatest Rugby Game In Years Is Promised

Saturday's Game Between Argos and Peterborough Will be a Spectacular Contest—Argos Will Have a Strong Team and Are Confident of Winning.

With favourable weather the biggest crowd that ever saw a rugby game in Peterborough will be at Riverside Park on Saturday when the Toronto Argonauts will meet Peterborough in a senior O.R.F.U. game. Those who have seen the two teams in action state that they are evenly matched as any pair in the series and will put up a lightning fast game. The Argonauts will have their strongest team and as they have been working out under the watchful eye of Charley Elliott, will be a hard proposition to encounter. They must beat Peterborough to have any chance for the senior championship and they may be relied upon to put up the hardest kind of a struggle. The locals, however, have been "making eyes" at second place and will give the Argos a great game. The team will be strong and in the best shape of the season as they have been practising faithfully. It will be welcome news that Ford is back in the game again and will give the signals on Saturday. The game will be called at 2.30 sharp and the officials will be Messrs. Hayes and Robbins, of Hamilton.

Sunday School Athletic Union Proposed Here

Local Gentleman Suggests This as a Measure Calculated to Prove of Mutual Benefit.

A gentleman in the city who takes a deep interest in church athletics has called the attention of the Examiner to a movement which has been started in Montreal to establish a Sunday School Athletic League and suggested that a similar organization might be formed in this city. The plan as mentioned by one of the Montreal papers, which reported the meeting held for the purpose of discussing the proposal, is told as follows:—

"A meeting of unusual interest was held in the Young Men's Christian Association last evening for the purpose of organizing athletics among the different Sunday Schools of the city. For some time past the physical department of the association has been contemplating such an organization in order to direct into helpful channels much of the pure amateur spirit that is going to waste, and to this end a meeting was called. Twenty-five schools were represented, and after hearing a presentation of the plan by Mr. J. E. Merritt, physical director of the association, the delegates were unanimous in favour of the organization.

The plan is this: Once a month to hold an athletic meet in the association gymnasium for different churches comprising one denomination in Montreal, and the next month another denomination, and in the spring to hold a city athletic meet comprised of all denominations for the Sunday School championship of the city in athletics.

The churches were represented from all over the city. Those present were requested to report back to their respective Sunday Schools, and to attend another meeting to be held Monday evening, October 29th, in the Association building at 9 o'clock."

Ray Best Before He Came Here

What the Winnipeg Free Press Says of Cup Winner.

The Winnipeg Free Press of Monday said:

At Peterborough, Ont., on Thanksgiving Day, the ten mile road race was won by Ray Best, formerly of this city. He is the son of Inspector E. E. Best, of 565 Balmoral street, and a nephew of Mr. T. Best, the well known distance runner, formerly physical director at the Brantford Y.M.C.A.

The race was won in the remarkably good time of 59 minutes, in a field of a dozen competitors. He was the winner of the handsome Examiner cup and gold ring.

Ray Best was well known in the junior athletic circles here before he went east two years ago, being a member of the Garry lacrosse club, and afterwards with the Y.M.C.A. He was also prominent in the gymnasium classes of the same institution.

Seniors' Last Practice To-night

Every Man is Expected to be Out in Uniform.

Protest To Be Heard To-night

City League Will Deal With Disputed C. G. E.-Quaker Game.

The protest of the Quakers against the C.G.E. will be taken up at a meeting of the City League Executive to-night at 7.15 o'clock in the Examiner office. The Quakers claim that McDonald had no right to play in a City League game on the ground that he had previously played O.R.F.U. The matter will be threshed out to-night and it is important that all representatives should be present as the close of the season is not far off and the schedule must be furnished.

Poor old Gross will be brought down from the Home for the Aged on a stretcher and shoved into the game, while a squad of intermediates will try for places on the senior team.

JUVENILES WANT A ROAD RACE

The interest in long distance running has been so thoroughly aroused by the recent Examiner road race that the enthusiasm has spread to the juveniles and a large number of them would like to see a similar race established for boys seventeen years of age and under from Lakefield to Peterborough.

Mr. F. R. Oliver, president of the Board of Trade, Saskatoon, has accepted the position as manager of the Perrin Foundry Company, of Smith's Falls.

Peterboro' Needs A Modern Hotel

Local Commercial Hotels Have Often to Turn Away Those Desiring Accommodation.

We often repeat that Peterborough is becoming a great business centre and daily this statement is verified. One criterion is the conditions of our hotels. Many times have guests been turned away from our leading commercial hotels because of their already crowded condition. Last night the National and Oriental had to refuse travellers accomodation and turn them over to other hotels.

This makes apparent the growing necessity of increased hotel accomodation in order to keep this prosperous town on a level with its growing commercial business.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

HELLO BILL

The play, "Hello, Bill," in which Frank W. Nason is exploiting the comedian, George F. Hall, and in which he will be seen at the Grand Opera House on Monday night next, is entirely different from any of the plays which Mr. Hall has ever before been seen in. It is a musical comedy pure and simple, enlisting the services of a large company of principals, aided and abetted by a pony ballet of eight young girls, who make no less than twelve complete changes of costumes during the play.

Some of the song hits in the piece are "Holding Hands," "The Jackies of the U. S. A.," "Joe Miller," "The Gibson Girl," "I'm a Chef," and Mr. Hall's entrance song, "General Delivery."

Mr. Hall has been seen here the last few years in comedy drama and melodrama, and his coming in musical comedy will be watched with more than passing interest.

Sleighing On George Street

Cutter and Occupant Went Northward To-day

A good example of thoughtfulness and foresight was displayed by a youth this morning, who was seen wending his way up George street in a cutter. He evidently was travelling to lands in the north where he expects to find sleighing as that condition is easily within the range of possibility considering the local brand of weather existing.

At any rate he can safely say he had the first sleigh ride on city streets this season.

MARLBOROS WILL ENTER TWO TEAMS

Successful Athletes Were Given Prizes

Presentation of Cup and Medals to Examiner Road Race Winners Took Place at Grand Opera House Last Night—Mr. J. H. Burnham Revived the History of Marathon Race in Greece—Examiner's Efforts to Encourage Runners Are Comended.

A fitting climax to the Examiner road race on Thanksgiving Day, was reached last night, at the Grand opera house, when, in the presence of one of the largest audiences that building has ever held, the prizes won by the young men who competed in this, the first, annual race, were presented by Mr. J. H. Burnham on behalf of the Examiner.

The young athletes were the heroes of the night and the appearance of sixteen out of the seventeen men who started in the race, in the boxes, which they occupied as guests of the opera house management, was the signal for prolonged cheers, which were renewed loud and long, when, after the first act, the curtain lifted, and the five men who finished, were seen seated on the stage.

The boys are very modest, and it is safe to say, that had they been given their choice they would have preferred to run the ten miles over again to sit behind the footlights, and receive the plaudits of the crowd.

The five men who were honoured last night were: Ray P. Best, winner

MR. J. H. BURNHAM,
Who, on Behalf of the Examiner, Presented the Prizes to the Winners in the Examiner Road Race.

of the cup, E. A. Wilson, winner of the gold tie pin, and Fred Simpson, W. J. McBurney and A. W. Spenceley, winners of medals. They were given seats on the stage at the close of the first act, and Mr. Burnham, in a short address, presented the prizes to the respective winners.

Mr. Burnham began by saying that the excellence of the play which they were enjoying, must not be allowed to dwarf the more serious business of the evening—the celebration of the victory of those who so signally distinguished themselves in the race on Thanksgiving Day. To the Examiner, he was sure, they were all grateful. It was an affair that, taking place annually, would have a far-reaching and most beneficial effect upon athletics in this locality. The name "Marathon," he said, by which these races everywhere had now come to be known, was taken from the great battle between the Persians and the Greeks, fought upon the plains of Marathon, more than 2,000 years ago. The battle was of such importance to the liberties of Greece that it was not too much to say that the people of Europe and America of the present day, owed their enjoyment of the privileges of responsible government to it. It was a struggle between Grecian civilization, with all the glories of its art, science, philosophy, and spirit of freedom, on the one hand, and Oriental despotism, upon the other. In commemoration of this event, the grateful Greeks united in establishing the Marathon race over the course between the plains of Marathon and the city of Athens, which had been followed by the runner who first brought the news of victory to the Athenians. It became the chief athletic event of the great Olympian games. These games had been revived of late years, not only in Greece but the world over. It was felt by all the athletic nations that it was in the best interests of international athletic competition that it should take place under the name of these Olympian games. They occur every four years. This year they were held at Athens, and it must have been a source of pride to every Canadian when the news arrived that Sherring, of Hamilton, had won the chief event. This little runner, almost without money or other assistance, took the long journey in the hope of taking part in this meeting of the champions of all countries. The speaker then described the splendour of the preparations, of the enormous marble Stadium, capable of seating 100,000 people, and of the extraordinary effort made by royalty and the chief men of Europe to do honour to the occasion. They all knew how Sherring won. "When shall his glory fade?" But his victory would have been impossible without the Herald road races in Hamilton. In the same way the Examiner is endeavouring to encourage this noble sport in Peterborough. From the complete success of the race on Thanksgiving Day, it might well be said that the Examiner's efforts had been amply rewarded. The speaker then described the race — how endurance, courage, and a strong will, were ever more necessary than good legs and a sound heart. Pure sport is the finest possible education he said, for the young men. Fairness, large-heartedness and self-control, were its chief moral virtus, while the requirements of training demanded a perfect physical life.

Mr. Burnham introduced some pleasant references to the ladies, whose smiles, he said, were after all the most welcome reward of all young men. He then presented the prizes, on behalf of the Examiner, in a few appropriate words, after which, amidst the applause of the audience, the athletes returned to their box.

Recalled Accident On Peterborough Streets

Farmers' Horse in Brockville Almost Killed by Electrical Shock From Tie Chain.

The Belleville Intelligencer says: "A peculiar incident is alleged to have happened in Brockville. A farmer drove into town, and, while tying his horse, came in contact with a spike which held the end of a chain by which an arc light was raised and lowered. The farmer received a severe electric shock, and was nearly killed. Now he alleges gross negligence on the part of the management of the light company. It appears that the day the farmer was injured was a very wet one, and experts say that on rainy days objects which otherwise are almost completely free from electric influences, may become highly charged with electricity. The incident, says the Brockville Times, will remind many that about a year ago, at Peterborough, Ont., a team of horses was instantly killed by electricity when driven into a muddy puddle on one of the streets of that city, which puddle had in some mysterious manner, become highly charged with electricity. It should also have the effect of inducing people to keep their hands off all electrical appliances"

The occurrence at Brockville is also very similar to another which took place near the Peterborough Hardware Company's store, in August last when a horse was killed.

ENCOURAGING

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Sir,—I beg to take exception to a somewhat censorious letter which appeared in your last evening's issue signed "A Tempo" from the facile pen of one of your most able contributors, whose identity is quite obvious. The writer says he had hoped for a great deal from the Conservatory of Music, suggesting that it had not fulfilled its high calling. It is scarcely fair to expect very much from an institution which has been in existence little more than a year, but is it not true that the Conservatory has already done a great deal in the cause of higher music? There is undoubtedly a finer appreciation of, and more ardent desire for attainment in, the works of the great composers than ever previously existed in our midst, and I venture to assert that this is largely due to all that Mr. Gliddon has done as well as Bandmaster as by the establishment of the Conservatory which required all the enterprise and courage of an enthusiast. Pray let the Conservatory be treated with sympathy and encouragement and let the spirit of carping be suppressed.

The chief burden of complaint of "A Tempo" is that a recital by three of the Conservatory teachers was given on the same night as Miss Bateman's concert. It was certainly regrettable that these two events should have clashed for I am sure most of those present at the Y.M.C.A. Hall would have been delighted to be at the Opera House, but the programmes for the recital had been printed and invitations issued long before Miss Bateman's concert had been heard of, and although the effort was made, it was found impossible to change the date of the recital, which as is well known, was being given wholly for the benefit of the Y.M.C.A. Women's Auxiliary.

I trust this explanation will satisfy the public as well as my friend "A Tempo", that the Conservatory is not and cannot be actuated by any narrow motive, but will at all times be foremost in the advance of musical culture.

Yours etc.,
PI.

Objection To The Use Of Glasses

Sometimes people object to glasses claiming that once put on they can not see without them. If after putting on glasses the wearer finds it difficult to go without them, this simply proves that before he wore glasses he was forcing his eyes beyond the limit of safety, a practice if continued, is sure to affect the health and sight. The person who lets pride, even excusable pride, stand in the way of glasses is doing his eyes and health injustice and is merely paving the way for future suffering and discomforts.

We will test your eyesight carefully, and tell you just what condition your eyes are in.

Knox Church Favours Separation From St. Paul's

Congregational Meeting Last Night Passed a Resolution Providing for Separation by a Unanimous Vote—$494 Was Raised Last Night.

The congregation of Knox Church, at a largely attended and representative meeting held last night, unanimously decided in favour of separating from St. Paul's Church, in the belief that more efficient and better work could be accomplished under these conditions. This was the wish of the Peterborough Presbytery, expressed at their last meeting, and is evidently heartily approved of by the people of Knox Church, judging by the sentiments expressed at last night's meeting. There was not a dissenting voice to the idea of separation. It was pointed out that the only difficulty was the matter of finances, but this it was felt could be overcome. A subscription was commenced last night, and most of the gathering promised to pay so much per Sunday.

The proposed separation will be discussed by a joint meeting of the sessions of St. Paul's and Knox Churches in the near future, before being submitted to the Presbytery.

Rev. Dr. Torrance, after conducting devotional services, said that they were met together to consider what should be done in view of a resolution passed at a recent meeting of the Presbytery, to the effect that to do more efficient work, Knox Church should be raised to the status of an independent church.

Sheriff Hall was elected to the chair. He recalled the fact that Knox Church had been set apart as a mission church under the wing of St. Paul's. Early in the summer a petition was prepared by the congregation, asking that Rev. Mr. Bright should be made the ordained missionary of Knox Church. At the Presbytery meeting in Hastings, the petition was presented. He then read the resolution to this effect, which had been passed by the Knox Church congregation. The speaker had supported the resolution before the Presbytery, but the Presbytery was almost unanimously against the proposal, and they refused to grant the petition. Then the resolution referred to by Rev. Dr. Torrance had been passed without a vote being cast, that the congregation separate itself from St. Paul's altogether, and the matter be left to the sessions of St. Paul's and Knox Churches. It was important that the minds of the congregation should be learned. Mr. J. W. Buyers was elected secretary of the meeting.

The Discussion

Mr. J. F. Morrison advocated faith in God in the matter that was before the meeting. It might be necessary to make sacrifices, but faith would carry them through. He referred to the increased number of church officers that would be necessary if they were to separate.

Mr. J. W. Bennet said that there was the financial end to be considered. They had talked the matter over and had thought they ought to pay a minister $1,000 a year. The current expenses were $300. If $1,300 were not raised it would not, perhaps, be wise to separate. How was this money to be raised? It would be necessary to raise another $500 in addition to that already raised yearly by the church. The other $300 could be raised without difficulty, by assistance from the Presbytery for the first year. He thought that people would be willing to double their subscriptions in view of the advantages they would receive in having a minister of their own. For instance, the minister could be present at the Sunday school. The only disadvantage was the financial one, and if the people would unite together this could be overcome. In conclusion, he said that he was strongly in favour of the separating of the two churches and the assuming of the responsibilities it would entail.

Resolution for Separation

It was moved by Mr. G. H. Savigny, seconded by Mr. D. Hamilton, that this congregation heartily comply with the expressed wish of the Presbytery of Peterborough to become an independent congregation, so that more effective work may be accomplished in the neighbourhood, provided the necessary funds for the support of a minister and payment of current expenses can be obtained.

Mr. Wm. Shea stated that if the financial situation could be overcome he was in favour of separation. It would mean larger congregations for Knox Church.

Mr. Duncan Campbell spoke in favour of separation, advocating faith and work.

Mr. J. W. Buyers said that the great question was one of finances. The expenses in connection with separation would be about $1,500, and that if there were 85 members of the church, it would mean that each member would have to contribute in the neighbourhood of $15.

Mrs. Morrison, on behalf of the Ladies' Aid of the church, spoke in favour of the separation.

The resolution was then carried unanimously by a standing vote.

The next question was that of how the money was to be raised. Mr. Bennett discussed the ways and means by which this was to be done. It was decided to begin a subscription at once, and the gathering last night raised $494 in a few minutes.

It was moved by Mr. J. F. Morrison, seconded by Mr. J. W. Bennet, that a canvass of the congregation be made by a committee composed of the members of the session and of the Finance Committee, and that this committee should be judges whether or not sufficient funds are available to become an independent charge.

Not Much Typhoid Now; But What Of The Future?

Peterborough This Summer Has Escaped Remarkably Well —Condition of Rapid Growth May, However, Result in an Epidemic Such as Prevails in New Toronto.

Peterborough has been more fortunate in its experience with typhoid fever this year, than many places, including Toronto. A member of the medical profession, and one associated with the Board of Health, today informed the Examiner, that, so far as he could learn there had been very few cases, comparatively, of fever in the city during the past summer, a fact which gives cause for self-congratulation on the part of the citizens of Peterborough. He spoke of the fact that the city's ice supply was taken from the Little Lake, a circumstance which some members of the medical profession looked upon with anxiety the city has been remarkably free from fever this year; and it has not been because the ice has not been used for domestic purposes. A warning was issued by the Board of Health at the beginning of the year to ice users, advising them to use ice for cooling purposes only, but the Examiner is informed, that in many cases this advice was disregarded, and the cooling material was used for domestic purposes.

It is to be hoped that the present satisfactory condition of the city's health will be maintained, but in the light of the experience of other places this seems almost too much to expect. The city is growing at a rapid rate, and this condition in other places seems to have resulted in an epidemic of typhoid fever. This is the case in Toronto, apparently, judging by the following from the News of that city:

New Toronto is in a very serious—not to say alarming—state in regard to health conditions.

In a suburb whose total population does not reach 200 there are 26 cases of typhoid fever—and during the past few days the number has been increasing by three and four cases each day.

The situation demands the immediate attention of the health authorities. So far as could be learned by the News yesterday nothing has yet been done officially to deal with the situation.

Mr. Arthur Munro, manager of the Menzie Wall Paper Co., says he communicated with Dr. Hodgetts, secretary of the Provincial Board of Health, two days ago, and was informed, somewhat curtly, that the matter did not come within his jurisdiction and that appeal should be made to Dr. Bull, medical health officer for the district. Dr. Bull lives at Lambton, and so far the people of New Toronto, have been unable to get in communication with him.

May Approach the Government

The residents are now talking of sending a delegation to lay the matter personally before the Provincial Secretary, Hon. W. J. Hanna, as the case is deemed most urgent. An appeal is also being made to Dr. Sheard, the newly appointed chairman of the Provincial Board of Health.

Allegations of lethargy are being made against the Provincial Board of Health. "They soon busied themselves with far-away Sudbury," declared Mr. Chas. W. Henderson yesterday, "but an even more serious situation almost at their own doors, is absolutely neglected."

Mrs. Coolidge Asks For Damages For Accident

Injuries Were Sustained at Toronto by Falling From Street Car In September.

The Toronto Telegram had the following last night:

"Alice Coolidge has issued a writ against the Toronto Street Railway Company to recover unstated damages for injuries received by her through being thrown from a car through what she alleges was the negligence of the company's servants."

Mrs. Coolidge is a Peterborough lady, a daughter of Mr. Jas. Chatten, Smith street. The accident for which she asks damages occurred on September 7th, at the corner of King and Yonge streets, while she was returning from the exhibition. She was alighting from a car when it started, and she was thrown to the ground, and her ankle was broken and other injuries sustained.

Messrs. Cassels, Brock, Kelly and Falconbridge are acting for Mrs. Coolidge.

Board of Health Want Hospital Started At Once

Will Ask the Council for Sufficient Funds.

The Board of Health will meet the City Council to-night when the isolation hospital plans will be submitted to the latter Body and the Health Board will ask for sufficient funds to go ahead with the erection of the building at once. The Board of Health think that enough delay has taken place over the isolation hospital and would like to see the building erected as soon as possible. Whether the Council will give them the money or not is another matter, the solution of which will be seen to-night.

WOMENS' NEGLECT

SUFFERING THE SURE PENALTY

Health Thus Lost is Restored by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

How many women do you know who are perfectly well and strong? We hear every day the same story over and over again. "I do not feel well; I am so tired all the time!"

Miss Clara Beaubien

More than likely you speak the same words yourself, and no doubt you feel far from well. The cause may be easily traced to some derangement of the female organs which manifests itself in depression of spirits, reluctance to go anywhere or do anything, backache, bearing-down pains, flatulency, nervousness, sleeplessness or other female weakness.

These symptoms are but warnings that there is danger ahead, and unless heeded a life of suffering or a serious operation is the inevitable result.

The never-failing remedy for all these symptoms is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Miss Clara Beaubien, of Beauport, Quebec, writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:

"For several years I have suffered with a female weakness which proved a serious drain on my vitality, sapping my strength and causing severe headaches, bearing-down pains and a general worn-out feeling, until I really had no desire to live. I tried many medicines, but did not get permanent relief until I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. In two months I was much better and stronger, and in four months I was well; no more disagreeable discharge, no more pain. So I have every reason to praise the Vegetable Compound, and I consider it without equal for the ills of women."

For twenty-five years Mrs. Pinkham, daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, has under her direction and since her decease, been advising sick women free of charge. Her advice is free and always helpful. Address, Lynn, Mass.

UNION LABEL

FRIDAY, OCT. 26, 1906.

IN PETERBOROUGH, TOO.

Mr. D. Hughes-Charles, in going to Toronto, as related in yesterday's Examiner, to testify against a man charged with beating and ill-treating a horse, performed a most humane, manly and commendable action. In giving his evidence, however, he made, in one respect, a slight mistake. He told Magistrate Dennison that such an offence was not common in Peterborough. The accuracy of this statement depends upon what is meant by "common." Any person who has occasion to be much about the streets, will say that the instances of the ill-treatment of horses in this city is far too common. It is to be especially noted that delivery wagon boys are addicted to slashing, beating and over-driving horses in a way that does not merit the approval of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. Mr. Charles, perhaps, fortunately for the perpetrators, may not have seen such cases, but many a poor starved, staring-ribbed, underfed and overworked horse, if he could talk would say that his ill-treatment is altogether too "common." Synods, Conventions and Conferences very properly grow enthusiastic over sending the Gospel to the heathen, but there are some heathenish practices at home that might well receive attention.

WHERE DO WE GET OUR PULL?

The Belleville Intelligencer pathetically moans —

"Can anybody tell me," said the man on the next block, "where Peterborough gets its pull with the Ontario Government?" When the score Worldship was taken away from Mr. H. K. Smith, of Belleville, it was given to a Peterborough man. Then there was the matter of the Normal School. A lot of towns were after it, Belleville among them, but Peterborough landed the prize. Now there is the Institute (Deaf and Dumb) job. It was thought a Belleville man had a pretty fair chance for that, but Peterborough winked the other eye, and there was nothing doing so far as this beautiful city was concerned. Sure thing, Mr. Bradburn, M. P.P., of Peterborough, must have been seeing the new moon over his right shoulder ever since he was elected."

The Intelligencer should not lay all the blame upon Mr. Bradburn, especially in the case of Dr. Coughlin's appointment. Perhaps the wail of the Intelligencer as to Peterborough's pull can be fairly well explained by referring it to the law of physics relating to the attractive force exercised by large bodies, with great specific gravity Peterborough is solid, while Belleville may be catalogued as a beautiful dream.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

George Bernard Shaw is a lust-for-lime-light crank. He likes saying things that will get him talked about. His latest bid for notoriety consists in advocating the killing of every person who cannot furnish a good cause for living. He would form a splendid subject for the exemplification of his own theory, much the same as Mons. Guillotine was the first to perish by the instrument he invented.

Toronto is moving towards sixty-cent gas. At a meeting of the directors of the Toronto Gas Company it was decided to reduce the price from 80 cents to 75 cents. The increased consumption almost certain to follow such a reduction will permit of a further reduction, so that it is hoped that eventually the price will fall to 60 cents. But there is no certainty that the gas bills will be any less. Gas meters are creatures of habit, and besides, gas users will think they can well afford to burn more gas.

The Toronto Mail belabours Rev. W. J. Clark, of Toronto, because he pronounced corruption, and said it was common to both parties. It declares that "he can speak for his own party, and not for the Conservatives. The evil may be common in Rev. Mr. Clark's party, but it is not common elsewhere, or we would have known it long ago." The Hamilton Times asks, didn't the Mail know it long ago? Didn't the strong arm fall on the Mail's manager as a leading member of the "brawling brood of bribers," that tried to buy up the Ontario Legislature en bloc? Faugh! The Mail's hypocrisy is sickening.

The Farmer's Sun affects alarm over the growing national expenditure of Canada. The expenditure is growing, so is the country, so is our population, so is every material interest of the country. The revenue is growing, and the necessity for public expenditure is growing. Canada is in her developmental stage, and we must meet the demands which development imposes. It seems that expenditure is the wrong term to apply to the disbursement of national funds for development purposes. Investment would be a better word. The millions we are spending upon transportation — railways, canals, harbours, wharves, etc. —are investments which, taking the whole field of national interests, will yield cent per cent dividends.

Our good Conservative friends are diligent in claiming that their great party is immune from corrupt political methods, and that it is only the degenerate "Grits" that pay electors money for their votes. And the investigation into the London election seems to prove they are right. The Attorney-General's Department of Ontario instituted an investigation to escape "Grit" corruption, and out of the mouths of their own Crown witnesses they prove that the Conservatives scorn to pay $10 a vote—they only pay $15 to a man for not voting. That's a splendid piece of morality—especially if the elector is inclined to vote "Grit." There may be a recondite moral distinction between the two, which only a morally sensitive authority like the Mail and Empire can discover.

The Ottawa Free Press says that whatever may be said against George Eulas Foster, nobody can accuse him of being a coward. Imagine this man, it says, who, in association with other Conservative members of Parliament, had benefitted to the tune of many thousands of dollars by "ground floor" tips from railway companies and by land speculation of the worst kind, having the temerity to stand up in the House and preach the gospel of purity! We are forced to admire the audacity of the act. Nor can we fail to recognize the remarkable ability of the man. What could be cleverer than the statement which he read before the Insurance Commission in defence of his actions as general manager of the Union Trust Company? By the artful use of corporate names and the elimination of the fact that these corporations were merely the associated names of himself and one or two others, he was able to draw around George Eulas Foster a pretty cloak of plausibility warranted to deceive the superficial thinker.

The Conservatives are not to blame for extracting every grain of comfort possible from the results of the recent by-elections. It is needed. The Ottawa Citizen especially draws comfort from the feeling that the Government has lost prestige, adducing as evidence the results of the bye-elections in East Elgin, North Renfrew and Quebec County. It is easy to believe what we greatly wish to believe, but the circumstances do not bear out the conclusions of the Citizen. It may be pointed out that East Elgin was lost because the Liberals swapped horses while crossing the stream—in other words, they had to find a new candidate because of the retirement, just before the elections, for personal reasons of the standard bearer they had selected. Mr. White's big majority in North Renfrew was due to causes with which the Government had nothing to do, and the two Liberal candidates were permitted to fight their battle unaided. As for the result in Quebec county, a Liberal was elected and there is not the slightest ground for assuming that the support he will give the general policy of the Government will represent any loss of prestige.

SKINNING THE INNOCENTS

Hamilton Times.

If we may believe the Bobcaygeon Independent, a paper which is in high favour with the Tory organs, the "real facts" in the Healey's Falls power deal show that Hon. Dr. Willoughby and Hon. Frank Cochrane were played for a pair of guileless innocents, hence the humiliating position of the Government in the matter.

Acoding to the Independent, Mr. Culverwell, the general manager of the Northumberland-Durham Power Company, has had his eye on Healey's Falls for years past, but so long as the Liberal Government was in power he could not get it. The franchise was a Provincial asset, not to be given away for a trifle. The Hydro-Electric Commission and the statute of last session created obstacles which only circumvention could overcome. But Culverwell knew his men. He and his friends quietly secured other water powers on the Trent, formed the Northumberland-Durham Power Company, of which he retained personal control, distributed the minority of the stock so as to give an appearance of wide scope to the company's ownership, and then stirred the municipal corporations up to demanding that his company be allowed a franchise of Healey's Falls for the production and distribution of electric energy. Into this trap walked Dr. Willoughby and Mr. Cochrane, the former the member for East Northumberland, the latter the Minister of Mines, but both members of the Whitney Ministry. This is in substance the Independent's theory of this very singular give-away of a public and very valuable property on a virtually perpetual leasehold.

When the exposure came there was a great scurrying around to "find a way out" or at least to break the force of the fall. One way out was to charge so much per horse power as a revenue to the Province, which will eventually be paid by the users of power, contrary to the intention and spirit of the statute. Another was to keep the regulation of the price to users in the hands of the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council, that is Dr. Willoughby and Frank Cochrane and their colleagues. A third was to induce the chief promoter to secure from his Board of Directors an admission that the regulation of rates is under the authority of the Hydro-Electric Commission created by the statute. That admission is absolutely worthless, and cannot be enforced unless the terms of the lease are changed, and it is not intended to change them. Even if the plan succeeds, the deal stands as an utter abandonment of the ownership and operation principle to which the Premier and his colleagues were so ostentatiously pledged.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Give Fair Play to

A really reliable remedy for headache —Zutoo.

If you have got it into your head that Zutoo Tablets will hurt you, you are mistaken.

It isn't fair to us for you to judge Zutoo by the drug cures.

It isn't fair to yourself to suffer from headache, when this really harmless vegetable headache cure is within your reach.

The fair thing for both of us is—to judge Zutoo on its merits—to test it.

If you find it does not cure your headache, sick, nervous or otherwise, in twenty minutes, and leave you feeling good every time—no bad after effects, then discard it.

But do not condemn it unfairly without a trial, and keep on suffering from headaches. You really do not have to, and one trial of Zutoo will prove it.

All we ask for Zutoo is fair play—that you give it a trial before concluding as to its merits or demerits.

Wont you do this? You'll be glad ever after if you do.

We'll send trial tablets for nothing, or you can buy them at dealers in 10c. and 25c. packages.

SURPRISE

A PURE HARD SOAP

QUICKNESS.

THREE TIMES A DAY the year round is too often to do anything anyway but the easiest way, so we recommend everybody to use "SURPRISE" Soap for dish-washing.

It loosens up the grease and dirt so that they slide off the dish easily. Any child can wash the dishes in a few minutes with "SURPRISE" Soap.

And it doesn't hurt the hands or make them sore and rough. There is nothing harsh about "SURPRISE" Soap, and it takes so little of it to do a big lot of work that it is the most economical soap you can buy.

"SURPRISE" costs no more than common soaps.

The case is likely to arouse considerable interest. The parties live a few miles from the city, and the defendants are father and son.

Delegates Home From Sunday School Convention

Ontario Provincial Held at Kingston This Year—Some Unique Circumstances—The 50th Anniversary.

The delegates from Peterborough who attended the Golden Jubilee of the Ontario Provincial Sunday School Convention at Kingston this week, returned to the city this morning. Among those from Peterborough were Rev. A. Bright, Inspector Lees and Mr. Wm. Madill. The latter when seen by the Examiner to-day was very enthusiastic over the success of the convention at which were more than 300 delegates outside of Kingston people.

The gathering met in the Sydenham street Methodist church on exactly the same spot where the convention was founded 50 years ago. It was chiefly for this fact that it met in Kingston this year. Another unique circumstance was the fact that a number were present at the opening session on Tuesday that were at the institution half a century ago.

The feature of the convention, Mr. Madill stated, was the addresses delivered by Dr. A. F. Schauffler, of New York City. He spoke on the questions "Pastor's Relationship to the Sunday School," "What to Teach" and "How to teach," and his remarks were most profitable.

The convention was a grand success and from all directions reports showed that the work was rapidly forging ahead.

The chief business transacted was the important decision reached to send a secretary to the Northwest to take charge of Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia. For his purpose the convention raised $1,600 in subscriptions before disbanding all showing marked interest in the work. Four thousand dollars is needed altogether and the balance has been promised by co-workers in Toronto.

Fishing Club Has Returned

Spent a Delightful Time at Ketchecum Lake.

The Ketchecum Lake Fishing and Hunting Club arrived home last night after a two weeks' successful outing. The lake trout were the chief species hooked, these ranging in weight from 1 to 9 lbs. The weather was ideal for an outing but rather mild for good fishing. The largest fish was hooked by Mr. J. J. Lundy, the President of the Club, who had a hard struggle to land his prize. The party consisted of Messrs. J. J. Lundy, E. A. Peck, W. H. Denham, Alex. Elliott, W. J. McCallum, Henderson Nesbitt, W. S. Davidson, L. Bennet, Port Hope; H. C. Winch and Alex. Simpson & Son, of Harvey.

Mr. Archie Jackson was cook and looked after the wants of the party in an excellent manner.

Met to Select City's New Bankers

Nothing For Publication Was The Word Given Out To-day.

A meeting of the committee appointed to secure new bankers for the city in view of the Ontario Bank failure, met yesterday afternoon to discuss the matter. "Nothing for publication," was the only satisfaction the Examiner could get when seeking information as to the result of the meeting.

The committee is composed of the Mayor, Ald. McWilliams, the city treasurer, and the chairman of the Board of Education, City Trust Commissioners and Water Commissioners.

Bleeding Piles Cured

—after Years of Suffering.

Miracle-days may be past—but the day of saving people from suffering is ever-present.

What is more distressing than Itching, Bleeding Piles? Some say the only cure is the knife. We say, operations are unnecessary. Read this letter:

"For years I had Piles, which protruded and bled freely. The sticking pain was sometimes almost unbearable. Often I suffered so severely it was next to impossible to remain on duty. It was a hardship to walk. I tried many remedies, but with poor success.

"This winter, in New York—at the Bench Show—I suffered greatly—was almost compelled to remain in my room. I tried several remedies—without relief.

"On my return home, Mira Ointment was advised. I used it. In only a short time, all the irritation and pain ceased. I can now walk with ease and attend my duties as a member of the Fire Department.

"I strongly recommend Mira Ointment to anyone suffering from this annoying complaint.

Successful Carnival At Roller Skating Rink

Over 700 Were Present—57th Band in Attendance—A Popular Pastime—Prizes Won by Misses Logan and Guerin and Messrs. Mellis and Spenceley.

The interior of the roller skating rink last night gave not the least indication of the disagreeable weather without. The popular pastime introduced by Mr. Sheridan a short time ago has now become one of the chief amusements in the city. Last night at the grand carnival more than 300 were skating and between four and five hundred looked on from the galleries.

Although there were not many in the competition for the best costumes yet those who did compete selected some excellent types. The judges therefore had a difficult task to perform in awarding the prizes.

A section of the 57th Band was in attendance and rendered excellent music which was much appreciated by not only the skaters but those who graced the gallery.

Of course the interesting feature of the evening was the announcement of the winners and the awarding of the prizes. Those not in uniform were called to the boards while the others occupied the rink. The prize for the best costumed lady was won by Miss Logan and for the best dressed man by Mr. W. Mellis. Miss Logan was dressed as "Queen of May" and Mr. Mellis as a "Cavalier."

For the best double skaters, the prizes were captured by Mr. A. W. Spenceley and Miss Guerin.

The judges for the evening were Messrs. Ald. Hicks, T. Brightman and R. M. Glover, and their decisions appeared to meet with the unanimous approval of all the spectators.

The prizes were presented by Ald. Hicks, who in a brief address stated that the judges had found it difficult to decide the winners as the competitors were almost equal in merit. He also referred to the proprietor's appreciation of the manner in which the skaters conducted themselves while on the floor.

The prizes for the best costumes were a gold bracelet and a gold watch guard and chain, and for the best skaters, umbrellas.

At 9.30 the grand march was put on and was led by the prize winners with the following ladies and gentlemen, and characters represented:

Irene Craig—Gypsy Queen.
M. Bennett—West Indian Boy.
Pearl Sheridan—Good Luck.
Eva Conroy—Jockey Girl.
L. M. Brooks—Coachman.
C. D. Lacombe—Cavalier.
Miss Nina Edgar—Queen of Roses.
Miss C. D. Mowry—Tambourine Girl.
Miss Vinnie Logan—Queen of the May.
Noma Logan — Queen of Water Lilies.
W. H. L. Mellis—Cavalier.
R. Winch—War Eagle.
Miss Rae Logan—La Gardenia.
Mr. H. Lee—Spanish Gent.
Mrs. H. Lee—Spanish Lady.

Good Time In Store For Orillia Citizens

That Town Will be Visited by Canal Officers by Nov. 1st—Trent Canal Open by That Date.

The Orillia Packet this week says: In acknowledging receipt of one of the souvenir photograph albums presented to the members of Hon. Mr. Emmerson's party by the Board of Trade. Mr. J. H. McClellan, superintendent of the Trent Valley Canal, writes Mr. Gibson: "As to the lift lock at Kirkfield, there have been some unavoidable delays; but the engineer now thinks we shall be able to get a boat over it not later than the 1st of November. As soon as we can get over it, I intend to go to Orillia from Gamebridge. I may say that the canal from Balsam Lake to Lake Simcoe is completed, with the exception of the lift lock. As soon as I know definitely when we can get over the lift lock, I shall advise Mayor Miller and yourself."

The Times, of the same town, referring to the same matter, adds: Mr. Gibson has also received acknowledgments from the Hon. Mr. Emmerson, Mr. M. J. Butler, deputy minister, and Mr. Alex J. Grant, superintending engineer of the canal, who all say how delighted they are with the booklets, and still retain pleasant memories of the trip.

Held Up By Youth With Revolver, Say Newsboys

The Young Man Was in Police Court This Morning — Fined For Being Drunk—Boys Were Indignant.

The prisoner's box at the Police Court this morning was decked with one offender of the law in the person of a city resident. He was charged with being drunk in a public place, and was assessed $2 and costs, amounting in all to $6.85. Mr. R. F. McWilliams was present to plead for him and asked to have a few days grace in which to pay the fine. The Magistrate, however, ruled that it must be paid forthwith, as such a young man as the prisoner had no business getting drunk. The counsel again asked for time.

"What's the use of sending the boy to jail?" he asked.

"I'm the judge here," was the Magistrate's reply. "The fine must be paid forthwith."

A quartette of newsboys, with most indignant faces, were on hand to testify to more serious actions on the part of the youth. They were not called to the witness stand, but expressed their indignation to the chief and bystanders. The prisoner, they alleged, pointed a revolver at them last night near the corner of Aylmer and Charlotte streets as they were selling their evening papers. They informed P.C. Newhall of this circumstance, who arrested him.

At this juncture in their story, the prisoner's voice was heard from the cell, stating that he never carried a revolver in his life, and did not point anything but a handkerchief at them. He, however, was not called upon to answer this charge.

Fourteen Months Old Cheese Good

It's All In Knowing How to Properly Cure It.

The other day there was brought to this office a sample piece cut from a cheese that is fourteen months old. When the cheese in question was bored in the curing-room a year ago it was said to be good, but it is tenfold better to-day. The owner, one of our Norwood citizens, has kept it at or near the temperature of 60 degrees, and it is indeed mellow, buttery and delicious. A numberof people who have sampled it, have ordered cheese weighing from forty to sixty pounds from their own local factories to keep over for themselves. We are morally certain that when the people of this province learn how to keep cheese until it is really palatable and nutritious, there will be less exported, as there will be a good market created in our midst. The cheese to which we have drawn attention was made last year in the Killarney factory by Mr. Bass, who this year has shelved a number for some of his patrons and friends.—Norwood Register.

Norwood Again Has The Militia

Headquarters of One of 40th Reg. Companies Transferred There.

In the last issue of the Canada Gazette notice is given of the change of the headquarters of Company No. of the 40th Regiment from Hastings to Norwood. It is some years since Norwood had a company of militia. A company of the 57th Regiment was located here at one time, but for some reason or other—possibly lack of interest—lapsed into obscurity. Now that an effort is to be made to revive the military spirit by making our village the headquarters of a company of the 40th, we hope that the officers will be encouraged in every way possible so that the company may not only be a strong one numerically, but that it will be composed of men who will be an honour to the force and a credit to the community.—Register.

OBITUARY

DOROTHY ELIZABETH HANNAH

The death occurred last night of Dorothy Elizabeth Hannah, the three-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. Hannah, at the family residence, 356 Sherbrooke street.

LILY SWAN.

The death occurred early this morning of Lily Swan, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Swan at the family residence on the River Road, near Auburn. The funeral took place this afternoon to the Little Lake cemetery.

MRS. JOHN PEACE

Elizabeth Muir Peace, wife of Mr. John Peace, passed away last night at the family residence, 412 London street, after an illness of six months. The late Mrs. Peace, who was born in Scotland, was 55 years of age. She was married to her now bereaved husband, and with him came to Peterborough, 19 years ago, where they have since resided amongst the most respected members of the community. Mrs. Peace leaves behind her a deeply bereft husband and two sons, both married and settled in life — John D. Peace, of Sault Ste. Marie, and William Peace, of Hamilton. She was a faithful and affectionate wife and mother, and a model neighbour, whose kindly offices will be greatly missed in many a home. She was a member of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, and took a deep and active interest in her day of health in promoting its interests.

The funeral will take place on Sunday, October 28th, at 2 o'clock, p.m., from the family residence, to the Little Lake cemetery.

SIMON MAHONEY

News was received in the city yesterday of the death of Mr. Simon Mahoney, of Chandos, whose son, Dennis, was married on Tuesday to Miss Scott, of the same place. This sad event, following so closely upon the marriage, has cast a gloom on that section of the community. The late Mr. Mahoney was born in Douro about 65 years ago. He married Miss Johanna Torpey, of the same township, where they lived for a number of years after their marriage. They moved to Chandos about 25 years ago, where the best period of their lives was spent. Mr. Mahoney was a successful farmer and was highly esteemed in his community. Nine children blessed their marriage, and these, with his bereaved wife, remain to mourn his loss.

It is thought that the cause of his death was weakness of the heart. It is not yet known when the funeral will take place, but his remains will be interred in the Catholic Cemetery in Chandos.

DENIS HURLEY

The Norwood Register says: At his home, lot 15, concession 7, township of Asphodel, on Sunday, the 21st inst., there passed away Dennis Hurley, on the farm where he was born, August 1st, 1835, and has resided continuously ever since.

Deceased was in poor health for some time, suffering from serious stomach trouble, and although his death was not unexpected, it came as a sad blow to his family and friends.

The late Mr. Hurley was of an unassuming nature, a devout Catholic, honest, industrious, and his untiring zeal has been crowned with success. He was highly respected by a large circle of friends, as was evidenced by the funeral cortege that followed his remains to their last resting place, the Roman Catholic cemetery at Asphodel.

The funeral took place on Tuesday, the 23rd inst., at 9.30 a.m., from the family residence to St. Paul's church, Norwood, where requiem high mass was sung by Rev. Father Conway, who after the service in a few well-chosen words, paid a fitting tribute to the sterling qualities of the deceased.

The late Mr. Hurley married Mary O'Shea, daughter of the late Michael O'Shea, and their union has been blessed with a family of eleven children—ten of whom survive—six daughters and four sons, who will always miss the kind counsel of a loving husband, and a prudent and devoted father. There also remain to mourn his loss two sisters, Mr. O'Connor and Mrs. Charles Grant; and a brother, Mr. T. Hurley, all residing in Peterborough.

In politics the late Mr. Hurley was a life-long Liberal and always took an active interest in municipal matters. He was also for 40 years, school trustee for S. No. 6 Asphodel, where his services were highly appreciated, as was shown by the fitting tribute paid him at the close of that long term.

The pall-bearers were his four sons, William, James, Frederick and Frank, Dennis Dinan, son-in-law, and Philip Fitzpatrick, nephew.

Fun Accident Proved Fatal

John Campo, of Fenelon Falls, Died From Its Effects.

Master John Campo, the twelve-year-old- son of Mr. Peter Campo, Fenelon Falls, died yesterday morning as the result of injuries sustained from being shot in the back last week by his brother Fred. It will be remembered that theb rothers were out hunting in the woods of Mr. Johnston, when the rifle which Fred, the elder brother was carrying, was accidentally discharged.

NO. 4 DAM IS OPEN TO POWER TENDERS

Reference to an advertisement in another column will show that tenders are invited for the lease of No. 4 dam, on the Trent Canal, with a view of its development for the production of power. It offers a good chance for local enterprise, which might secure this lease. It seems evident that thereby the city's interests would stand to be better protected and promoted than if the lease fell into outside hands.

Struck In Temple By Engine Shaft

Mr. Jas. Logan Severely Hurt in Huntsville.

Word has been received by a friend in the city of a serious accident to Mr. Jas. Logan, Huntsville, formerly of East City. Mr. Logan is an engineer on one of the great lake steamers, and the other day he was struck by a part of the engine in the temple. He was taken to the hospital there, and, it is understood, is recovering. Mr. Logan has many friends in the city who will regret to learn of the accident.

ANOTHER GERM DESTROYER

Herpicide is Death to Dandruff Germs

The germ burrows into the scalp, throwing up the cuticle in thin scales, called dandruff, or scurf, and digging at the root of the hair where it saps the hair's vitality. First comes brittle hair, then lustreless and dead-like hair, then falling hair, and, finally baldness. Nine-tenths of the hair troubles are caused by dandruff. Without dandruff, hair will grow luxuriantly, as nature intended. "Herpicide" kills the dandruff germ leaving the hair to grow unhampered, as it does with the American red man. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Company, Detroit, Mich. Ormond & Walsh, special agents.

WEDDING BELLS

SKINNER–LARGE

On Wednesday of last week a very interesting wedding took place in Walkerville, which is of local interest. Miss Addie M. Large, a sister-in-law of Mr. F. W. Doan, the manager of the local office of the Bell Telephone Company, was married to Mr. E. B. Skinner, of New York City. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Geo. Jackson, of Windsor, amidst very pretty surroundings, at the home of Dr. J. A. C. Hoggan.

The honeymoon will be spent in New York, where Mr. Skinner has an important position with Messrs. F. K. Stearns & Co., wholesale druggists. A large number of friends had been invited to witness the ceremony and see the young couple started in their new life.

Term Of Lease Is For 21 Years

Not Two Years as Stated for No. 4 Dam Power.

In the Examiner yesterday an error occurred in the article referring to the tenders for leasing the power at No. 4 dam. It stated that the lease was for a term of 2 years, whereas it should have read 21 years, the term mentioned in the advertisement which appeared in the same issue.

Official To Look After Water Supply

Joint Meeting Will Take Up the the Matter To-night.

A matter that may cause considerable difficulty in unravelling, will be heard at the council meeting to-night, when the Board of Health and Water Commissioners, will confer with the council in reference to appointing an officer for the purpose of looking after the water supply of the city.

When the matter was taken up at a recent meeting of the Board of Health the Mayor thought that the Water Commissioners, being the persons most interested in the keeping pure of Peterborough's water supply should appoint the official. Accordingly a joint meeting of the three bodies was arranged for to-night.

Barrie Gets Delivery Why Not Peterborough?

System of Mail Delivery is Re-established in That Town Which is Only Half Size of Peterborough.

The mail delivery for the town of Barrie, discontinued after the resignation of Mr. Ottaway, will be resumed at the beginning of November. Mayor Ross, who has been in communication with the Department regarding the matter, received a letter from the Deputy Postmaster-General, stating that it had been decided to continue the service, and that Oscar M. Doane had been appointed postman. He will receive $1.50 a day.

All persons wishing their mail delivered should send a written application, giving their street and number to Postmaster Paton. Delivery will be made only to those making application.—Barrie Examiner.

In view of the fact that the town of Barrie, with a population only half that of Peterborough, is again being given the delivery system, it seems not unreasonable to suppose that the application of Peterborough for a delivery will be considered favourably by the Postmaster-General. The quantity of mail matter received at the local office is many times that of the Barrie office, and constitutes additional reason for the inauguration of a delivery system here.

PETERBORO' CHURCHES SET GOOD EXAMPLE

The Bowmanville Statesman of this week, has an appreciative editorial reference to the late fellowship tea, in St. John's school house. After describing the event, and giving in full Canon Davidson's letter reviewing the meeting, the Statesman continues: "We sincerely suggest that a similar union meeting be held in Bowmanville to consider how the Church may best help the community.....We mingle and unite as citizens in various organizations and our children are educated together in the schools. Why should not the Churches join hands for the betterment and advancement of the community?.....Peterborough has by this meeting demonstrated how to begin the work of uniting the Churches, a subject that is commanding the attention of the four Church organizations represented at that meeting."

GRAND MASTER SPROULE TO ADDRESS ORANGEMEN

The Executive Committee of Dinmond L.O.L. No. 80, Live, completed their arrangements for November 4 and 5. They have been fortunate in securing Dr. T. S. Sproule, M.P., the Grand Master and Sovereign of British America, for an address on November 5 at their banquet and entertainment.

Rev. A. H. Bruce will take the chair, and a programme of recitations and music will fill up the evening.

A church parade of the Orangemen Prentice Boys and other lodges to the Charlotte Street Methodist Church on the morning of the 4th, and to the Park Street Baptist Church in the evening, will take place.

Annual Live Stock Show at Guelph in December.

The annual winter fair will be held at Guelph this year on December 10 to 14, under the auspices of the Dominion Cattle Breeders' Association, Dominion Sheep Breeders' Association, Dominion Swine Breeders' Association, and the Western Central Poultry Association. It is probable that a number of local livestock men will attend this increasingly important fair.

Cough Lasted 3 Months.

"I was taken with a severe cough which lasted for three months, and though I tried all sorts of medicines they failed to do me any good. Young Men's Club At George Street

Proposition Discussed at Length Last Night.

More than twenty of the young men of the George Street Methodist Church assembled in the Sunday school room last night to discuss the proposition for a young men's club. The chairman of the evening was Mr. Geo. Robertson, who has been working diligently in the interests of the proposed club, and who introduced the subject to the gathering present. After considerable discussion the gentlemen present practically decided to organize such a club and have arranged a meeting for next Thursday night to elect officers and define the duties of the members. In the meantime, a list of the young men who will give their assistance in the interests of the organization will be obtained.

The chief purpose of forming such an institution is to promote social intercourse among the members, and to instil a better taste for literature. Athletics, too, will take an important place in the constitution. Regular meetings will be held during the winter, at which current questions will be discussed and a better social feeling promoted. The objects of the club are most desirable, and there is no doubt that the organization will be a success.

Another question discussed at the meeting was the re-arrangement of the ushering for the purpose of obtaining a better system.

MARIE ADDELL MOLL

A sad death occurred at the family residence on Charlotte street, of Marie Adell Moll, the six-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolp Moll. The little one has been ill for some time past, but its condition was not thought serious. The funeral will take place to-morrow morning at 11 o'clock to the Roman Catholic Cemetery.

The New York Stock Market

(Furnished by J. R. Heintz & Co.)

New York, Oct. 26.—The stock market was hammered and worried down again to-day by professional bearish interests, assisted by some loan calling and shifting, which resulted in a little liquidation in spots, but the general market showed itself in hand, and the buying improved as the market yielded, according to good authorities. On rallies, the professionals sell, and then depress till the list is sold out, when it mechanically rallies, all the time, however, with a reduction in the floating supply of stocks. The trading position, with preference for the long side, should, generally speaking, be maintained for the present. Extension of rally for the time being is not unlikely, but we would not wait long for profits. We are advised from the same source as before to take on a line of Republic Steel at these prices. The close was firm.

Wood For A Local Dealer

Steamer Majestic Brings a Load For R. Hicks & Co.

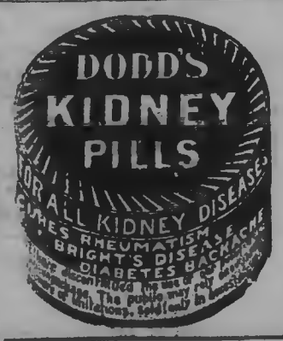
The steamer Majestic arrived in port at Lakefield to-day with a consignment of wood for R. Hicks & Co. The scow held 100 cords, and was brought down from South Bay, near the head of Stony Lake. The wood will be shipped per G.T.R. to the city.

Bears Galore At Stony Lake

Mr. "Bob." Goheen Has a Story Of the One He Saw.

The season in the northern woods has been a particularly fine one for bears. Representatives of the bruin family have been seen galore on the shores of Stony Lake and hunters are on the watch for them.

The other day Mr. "Bob" Goheen, who is employed by Mr. P. T. Young, loading wood at South Bay, was paddling up the lake to join the steamer Majestic when he caught sight of a monster on a rock at the Third Line Creek. A shot gun was the extent of his firearms and he was forced to pass on with a melancholy spirit and leave bruin unmolested.



Next Year's Ice Supply Will Come From Little Lake

There Will Be No Change in the Source—Little Probability of Obtaining Ice From Clear Lake.

The season for cutting ice for next season's supply is drawing near, and from present appearances there will be no change from other years as far as the place from which the ice is to be cut is concerned. The city's ice supply for next year will come from the Little Lake, as usual, and there is little probability of obtaining it from Clear Lake.

The Examiner called up Mr. T. Rehill, the well-known local man in reference to the source of supply for next season, and that gentleman stated that as far as he knew, the ice would be taken from the Little Lake. Early in the season samples of ice from Stony Lake has been sent to the Provincial bacteriologist, Dr. Amyot, and had been pronounced free from any impurity. Since then there had been no attempt to prevent the sale of Little Lake ice. Mr. Rehill said that Mr. Wm. Eyres, chairman of the Board of Health, recently informed him that there would be no objection to local dealers obtaining their ice from the usual source of supply. He had heard nothing about a railway to Clear Lake for the purpose of bringing ice down to Peterborough.

Traction Engine Went Through Douro Bridge

And 24 Hours' Time Was Occupied In Extricating It From the Water and Mud.

A faulty culvert was the cause of an accident in Douro on Wednesday night. Mr. Whatley of Lakefield, was bringing his traction engine with the separator and water tank from Lakefield to Mr. Daniel Shea's farm to thresh, and while crossing a culvert on a small creek about two miles from Douro church, the engine crashed through the structure into the water below.

Fortunately no one was injured, and the engine was damaged but slightly.

It took, however, all of Wednesday night and Thursday, to extricate the engine from the bed of the creek and place it on the road again. The assistance of several horses were necessary to again place the engine in a position where it could be used. The engineer as soon as the bridge broke, shut off the steam, and the result was that the separator remained on the road.

Edmonton Visitors Like Peterborough's Appearance

Mayor May and City Solicitor Beck, of Alberta Capital, in the City To-day—Inspected Machine 'Phone System and Like It—Mr. May Tells of the Progress Made by Edmonton—$2,000,000 in Building Permits Issued This Year.

Mayor May and City Solicitor N. D. Beck, of Edmonton, Alta., are interested visitors in the city to-day, and in an interview with The Examiner, Mr. May gave some decidedly interesting facts concerning the new capital of Alberta Province. Mr. May and Mr. Beck, the latter an old Peterborough boy, and a brother-in-law of Mr. R. M. Dennistoun, were in Ottawa on business in connection with their city, and on their way home dropped off in Peterborough, Mr. Beck to visit his relatives, and Mr. May to see the equipment of the Canadian Machine Telephone Company. Edmonton has bought 1,500 telephones from this company for installation in connection with the city's municipal telephone system, and Mr. May, of course, was naturally deeply interested in the machines. To The Examiner he expressed his satisfaction at what he had seen of the system here. It was, he said, fully up to his expectations, and he felt that Edmonton was making no mistake in selecting it as the system to be adopted by the city. Mr. May's city is strong on municipally-controlled franchises, and, according to the mayor's statements, the experiment has been satisfactory. A profit of $5,000 was made on the operations last year, with prices of $20 and $25 a year for the service.

Edmonton is a growing city, the permits for buildings for the year, up to the time Mr. May left home, amounting to $2,000,000. The population at present is 12,000, and this number is increasing daily. In respect to keeping tab on its building operations, Edmonton is much in advance of Peterborough. Everyone who wishes to build in the city must file plans and receive a permit before work can be commenced. This system of civic government, too, is a modern one, and it is one which apparently has much to commend. Three commissioners, one of whom is the mayor, are appointed, and to them is given all the detail work, usually handled by committees. Everything which comes before the Council is first submitted to the commissioners, who report on it, and after the Council decides, the details are again handed over to the commissioners. Their salary is $2,000 a year each, except that of the mayor, who receives $1,200. This system has been in vogue for two years, and Mr. May states that it has worked out very satisfactorily indeed.

Edmonton's mayor is an Ontario man, having been born in Wellington County. He went West when a boy, in 1880, and has lived there ever since. He has been in Edmonton, however, only four years, and has rapidly risen to the front, as is evidenced by the fact that he was elected mayor such a short time after his arrival in the city.

Mr. May will leave the city to-night.

Late Mr. Doyle Laid To Rest

Funeral This Afternoon to Little Lake Cemetery.

Millbrook Man New President

R. W. Clarke Elected Head of Sunday School Association.

Kingston, Oct. 25.—Mr. R. W. Clarke, of Millbrook, was to-night chosen president of the Ontario Sunday School Association. The vice-presidents and Executive Committee show few changes over last year. Mr. Clarke was introduced to the great audience in the convention church and heartily received.

Two speakers to-day deplored the way the Bible was pushed aside in schools. Rev. Dr. Armstrong, of Ottawa, ex-Moderator of the Presbyterian Church, said the Church should never allow the child to get away from the Scriptures. To a certain extent the knowledge of the Bible was dying out in the schools. When such was the case it was time the Church and other religious bodies awakened to the fact.

Applicants For Civic Position

Many Will be After Job as Electric Wiring Inspector.

It is expected that there will be a number of applications for the position of inspector of electric wiring, which the Committee of the Whole decided to appoint. It is probable that at the next Council meeting some applications will be considered.

Whooping Cough

"My three youngest boys had whooping cough this winter and we could get nothing to help them until I sent for Dr Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine. It arrested the coughs at once and they kept right on improving until they were all cured at the cost of one dollar. That was not a large bill for so dangerous and distressing an ailment." — Mrs. Wm. Ball, Bracebridge, Ont.

EXPLANATORY

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—I noticed in the Examiner of Wednesday a communication from a correspondent calling attention to the unfortunate conflict of the dates of the Conservatory Concert for the benefit of the Y.M.C.A. Ladies' Auxiliary with the Alys Bateman Concert. I also noticed a letter yesterday, written without my knowledge or suggestion, explaining the situation. I only wish to add that I endorse the explanation given and assure the public and those concerned that the date of the recital was fixed and the printing done before the advertisement of the concert appeared. In the interest of both concerts, no one regrets more than myself that the unfortunate conflict of dates occurred.

My aim is to make the Conservatory a help to the musical interests of the public at large. I recognize the importance of the Conservatory pupils and all musicians having the opportunity of hearing the best artists; it is an important part of their musical education. I am sure that every pupil of the Conservatory would have been glad to have heard a finished vocal artist like Alys Bateman who has a splendid reputation in England and is regarded as one of the most distinguished artists in her sphere. The pupils would have been helped and inspired. I regret that by the fault of nobody a misunderstanding arose; for the interests of music can only be promoted and be made to serve the public through the harmonious co-operation of all musicians and musical organizations.

Yours truly,
RUPERT GLIDDON,
Director of Conservatory of Music.
Peterborough, October 26, 1906.

SCOTT'S EMULSION is more than a fat food. There is no animal fat that compares with it in nourishing and building up the wasted, emaciated body. PRICE PROTECTION

What's to prevent a retail dealer who sells a not-priced shoe from sizing you up as a well dressed prosperous person and charge you $6.50, or $5.50, or $4.50 for a $3.50 shoe? Never thought of that, did you.

What do you know about the quality or value of a shoe? Nothing! You can't tell whether a dealer should charge you $3.50 or $6.50. Even if you were an expert you couldn't tell, as all shoes look alike when painted and polished. Paint and polish veneer cover up a multitude of shoe sins.

There's but one way you can prevent the dealer from overcharging you. There's but one way for you to know that you're paying the right price. That way is to buy a Slater in an authorized and chartered Slater Shoe Store or Agency.

That store is bound by contract to sell genuine Slater Shoes and to sell them at not one cent higher, nor one cent lower than, $3.50 and $4.00, for women and $4.00 and $5.00 for men.

Besides, the price is labelled on the lining of each and every Slater Shoe.

Moreover, our advertisements proclaim from the house tops that the price of Slater Shoes is $3.50 and $4.00 for women and $4.00 and $5.00 for Men.

You've absolute Price Protection in the Slater Shoe. Costs a dollar less than the best American makes, and is precisely the same shoe. For men and women.

Peterborough In Good Shape For To-morrow's Big Game

Chaucer Elliott's Chinamen Will be Here With Their Strongest Team and a Big Bunch of Confidence—Most Exciting Struggle in Years.

The Peterborough team had their final practice in the rink last night and are in good shape for to-morrow's game between Peterborough and Argos, which promises to be one of the most exciting ever seen in Peterborough. Both teams are anxious to win the game, Peterborough to have a chance for second place and Argos to be in the running for the championship. Argos to have a chance to be on equal terms with the Tigers must beat Peterborough to-morrow and they may be relied upon to put up a game struggle. Peterborough's team will be strong and the baby outfit should come very near to carrying off the honours. At any rate the game will be interesting enough to attract an enormous crowd to Riverside Park to-morrow afternoon. Those who take in the game will have the opportunity of seeing the C.G.E. Quaker game which in view of their great contest last Saturday promises to be decided interesting.

The game will be called at 2.30 sharp, the Argos arriving on the 11.13 C.P.R. train, Messrs Hugh Hayes and F. C. Robbins, of Hamilton, will look after the game which assures good clean rugby.

Tigers Have Had A Good Record

Have Scored 145 to Their Opponents 8 Points.

Hamilton, Oct. 26.—In the four O.R.F.U. senior games played so far this season the Tigers have secured 145 points, while only 8 points have been scored against the champions. The Argonauts are the only team that has crossed the Tigers' line for a try, and in the opinion of the majority of those who witnessed the game the score should never have been allowed, according to the Spectator, as it was made on an off-side play. The team's record to date is:—

Tigers	36	Peterborough	0
Tigers	42	Peterborough	1
Tigers	19	Argonauts	6
Tigers	43	Victorias	1

The cleanest score made against the team was the rouge scored by the Victorias last Saturday. Chamberlain broke through the line, blocked Simpson's kick, and forced Toupe to rouge. With a little luck the Vics would have scored a try on the play.

In the four games scored this season the Tigers have scored 22 touchdowns, of which 14 were converted by Moore. Moore also leads the list, with five to his credit. The touchdowns were scored as follows:—Moore, 5; Marriott, 2; Murray, 2; Simpson, 2; Burkholder 2; DuMoulin, 1; Ballard, 1; Craig, 1; Isbister, 1; Ecclestone, 1; McKeand 1; Kirkpatrick, 1; total, 22; converted by Moore, 14.

Quakers Won Their Protest

Game With C. G. E. Will be Replayed on Saturday.

At a meeting of the City League last night the protest of the Quakers against the C.G.E. was heard and it was decided that another game should be played between these two clubs on Saturday afternoon. The Quakers protested McDonald on the ground that he was not eligible to play in the City League.

It was decided that in event of a team playing men who are not eligible, the game shall be awarded to their opponents.

There were present Fred. Whitcroft and F. O'Connor, of the C.G.E., J. E. Sullivan and S. Canniff of the Quakers, L. M. Watson, of the Bankers and the secretary.

C. G. E. Team Will Play Quakers

An Exciting Struggle Is Promised To-morrow.

Those who patronize the big Argo-Peterborough game at Riverside Park, will see a double header, as there will be a City League game between the Quakers and C.G.E. which will be well worth seeing. The game last week between these two clubs was a good one and to-morrow's struggle will be even more exciting.

FOOTBALL

An important meeting of the Ontario Football Association has been called for next Saturday morning to take place in the Walker House, Toronto. The following among others will attend:—President Brownlee, Secretary Ward, Forsyth, of Berlin, Brigden of All Saints, Atkinson of the Broadviews, Crawford, ex-president and Dr. Thomson. The Thanksgiving Day semi-finals for the alleged Canadian championship will be discussed among other things.—Toronto News.

Last Year Plenty For Goderich Team

Will Not Have Senior Team This Year.

Goderich, Oct. 26.—It is doubtful if Goderich will be able to place a senior hockey team in the field this season. Donald McIver, goal keeper, will not have returned to town; Carr-Harris may possibly go away, and it is not certain that Harry McGaw will be here. On the whole, prospects are not bright. There is a possibility of a junior team entering the league; there is plenty of material, but nothing definite will be known till a meeting is held. A meeting of the seniors will also take place in a couple of weeks.

Brown Has Had Tempting Offer

Well Known Eastern Hockey Player in the City Yesterday.

Harry Brown, the well-known hockey player, who played point for the Belleville team in the memorable days of injunctions and protests when Belleville resorted to the law courts to prevent Peterborough's chances for the championship, was in the city yesterday. Brown was with Harold Armstrong on the Smith's Falls team last year and was a material factor in winning the Federal League championship. He has had several offers to play with western teams, who are offering $55 a week for stars, but so far he has not decided upon any of these.

RUGBY.

"Bill" Boycott will play with the Quakers to-morrow in their game against the C.G.E. on Saturday. Bill, it will be remembered was the star outside left of the champion Association team.

• • • •

The Quakers and C.G.E. will play their game after the senior game to-morrow and a big crowd will likely remain for the event.

• • • •

The team to represent Peterborough against the Argos will be chosen at a meeting of the team committee to-night at 7.15 at Mac's cigar store. The team will be chosen from the team which played at Hamilton and Crowley and McWilliams.

• • • •

All those holding season membership tickets of the Peterborough Rugby Club must present them at the ticket office at the grounds to-morrow when they will be given another for admittance to the game.

Bonnycastle Dale In "Rod and Gun"

Rice Lake Author Contributes Article on "Golden Eye."

A wide range of subjects, all dealing with outdoor life in Canada, find places in the November number of "Rod and Gun and Motor Sports in Canada" published by W. J. Taylor, at Woodstock, Ont. The opening paper describes a trip to Abittibi, the fine northern lake, one of the shores of which is to be traversed by the Grand Trunk Pacific. A study of the American Golden-Eye, by Mr. Bonnycastle Dale, follows. Mr. Frank Pawley, whose paper on Scientific Deer Hunting in the October number created great interest amongst hunters on both sides of the line, follows it up with another one on "Some Common Mistakes of the Deer Hunter"—a paper which will serve to maintain the interest the first one created. How very wide is the interest felt in the subject of game protection is shown by a paper summarising the legislative attempts and achievements throughout Canada and the States during the Sessions of 1906. The stir in the Provinces of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick on this subject is also dealt with in two well informed papers. The illustrations in this number are particularly fine, and include a series of western views of great interest to Alpine Club members. There are many other papers and the whole number sustains in every page the high character which distinguishes the magazine.

The steamer Kathleen of Lindsay left to-day for home with two scow-loads of lumber from the point for Mr. Parkin of Lindsay.

Regular Meeting St. John's Y. P. A.

Will be Held in the School House Monday Evening.

On Monday evening next, at eight o'clock, sharp, the regular meeting of St. John's Anglican Young People's Association will be held in the school house. The meeting will be of a business nature, and it is hoped, in view of the many important matters to be dealt with, that there will be a large attendance of young people. Among other matters to come before this meeting will be the reading of the annual financial report, the adjourned election of officers, the adoption of a constitution, the selection of the characters for the presentation of Gilbert and Sullivan's "Mikado", and the election of a delegate to represent St. John's branch of the A.Y.P.A. at the annual convention to be held at Galt, Ont., on November 13th and 14th.

TRENT CANAL.
TENDERS FOR WATER POWER.

Sealed tenders addressed to the undersigned and endorsed "Tender for Water Power", will be received at this office until 16 o'clock on Thursday, the 29th November, 1906, for the surplus Water Power at Dam No. 4, Peterborough, on the Trent Canal.

Parties tendering must understand that in developing the power, the discharge below, must in no wise interfere with Navigation, and the Department reserves the right (without compensation to lessees) to raise Dam No. 5 two feet.

Lessees, as an evidence of good faith, will be required to expend in developing the power not less than $75,000 within 6 months and not less than $50,000 within 12 months from the date of the acceptance of the tender.

The term of ease shall be for 21 years renewable for terms like terms, but the rent to be charged shall be subject to adjustment at each renewal term.

In the case of firms there must be attached the actual signatures of the full name, the nature of the occupation and place of residence of each member of the same, and further, an accepted bank cheque for the sum of $2,000 must accompany the tender; this accepted cheque must be endorsed over to the Minister of Railways and Canals, and will be forfeited if the party tendering declines entering into lease on the terms stated in the offer submitted.

The accepted cheques thus sent in will be returned to the respective parties whose tenders are not accepted.

This Department does not, however, bind itself to accept the highest or any tender.

By order,
L. K. JONES,
Secretary.

Young Conservatives Elect Their Officers

Club is in a Satisfactory Condition—Debts Have Been Decreased—Good Membership—New Officers for the Year.

The annual meeting of the Young Conservative Club last night, revealed to the membership a satisfactory condition of its material and social interests.

Last evening the cosy assembly hall was well filled with interested members, who had assembled for the annual election of officers. The date of this event was formerly in January, but, for good reasons, it has been changed to Thanksgiving Day. Chief of these reasons is that the busy season of the year is not broken by the election of officers, as formerly, but now they are to act throughout the winter, when the heaviest burdens fall upon the officers. A noticeable feature of the evening was the friendliness exhibited other, and the zeal displayed.

Among those present were Mr. Kendry, ex-M.P., Mr. T. E. Bradburn M.P.P., and Mr. R. C. Strickland, of Lakefield, with many others.

Mr. Hampden Burnham, the president, called the meeting to order, and, after a short address, called on Mr. M. Mowry, the secretary, to read the minutes of the last regular meeting held in 1905. The minutes of a special meeting were also read, and both confirmed and adopted.

Mr. Mowry then read his report, which, on motion of Mr. Kendry and Mr. Phelan, was received.

Mr. Jas. Edgar, the treasurer of the society, gave an account of the club's condition financially, which was considered satisfactory. The assets of the club were $502.13 in excess of the liabilities. The club's debt during the past year had been reduced by $440.33.

Mr. Layfield, in discussing this question, said that all that was needed was th hearty co-operation of the members, increasing the membership, and by paying their dues. With proper support, he declared that in four years time the Society would be strong enough to build a fine club house, and thus place themselves in an independent position. The local club was held up as an example by Mr. Borden in recent addresses in different cities. By clubs for the young men could the party become healthy, and this is the motto of the Conservative generals.

The treasurer's report was adopted, on motion of Mr. R. E. Layfield and Mr. Perry.

Mr. Kendry also extended his congratulations to the officers and members of the club on its good showing. He wanted to see more young men enrolled. It was moved by Mr. Kendry and seconded by Mr. Green, that Messrs.. Perry and Wallace be re-appointed auditors.

Mr. H. Phelan, chairman of the Rooms Committee, next read his report. It showed that there had been satisfactory attendances during the past year. The pool tables were well patronized. Good reading was provided, and a piano had been secured and was a source of much enjoyment to the members. The report was adopted.

The election for officers was then held, resulting in the following being chosen:

Hon. President — Mr. James Kendry, (re-elected.)

Hon. Vice-President — Mr. T. E. Bradburn, (re-elected.)

President—Mr. H. Burnham, (re-elected.)

Vice-President—Mr. J. Wilson.

Secretary—Mr. Mort Mowry.

Treasurer—Mr. Wm. Buller.

Finance Committee — Messrs. Edgar, Layfield, Peck, Adams.

Representatives from No. 1 Ward —Messrs. Geo. Benton, Derrick and Carson.

Representatives from No. 2 Ward —Messrs. Phelan, Batten and Clements.

Representatives from No. 3 Ward —Messrs. S. Sharp, F. Bartlett.

Representatives from No. 4 Ward —Messrs. J. Jordan W. Hill and Geo. Baird.

Representatives from No. 5 Ward —Messrs. Gardiner, Gibbs and Morgan.

From North Monaghan — Messrs. R. Waddell, H. Walker, Jas. Madill.

From Smith township—Messrs. E. Milburn, S. Milburn and Mr. Dean.

From Lakefield — Messrs. R. C. Strickland, O. A. Langley and John Cooper.

Mr. Burnham, who was unanimously re-elected president, thanked the members for the honour done him. He wished to state that if the officers had done good work during the past year it was mostly due to the hearty co-operation existing among them, and also to their untiring efforts on the club's behalf.

Mr. Mowry, who was re-elected secretary, was a very popular choice. All were in favour of his re-election, owing to his satisfactory work in the past.

Mr. Edgar, the retiring treasurer, was a real loss to the Society. His business was claiming too much of his attention and he could not give the time required to properly fulfil the duties of treasurer.

It was moved by Mr. T. Wilson, and seconded by Mr. Hicheliffe, that a record be placed in the Society's books expressing the deep gratitude and appreciation of the members of Mr. Edgar's work, and their disappointment at his retirement.

The following members were appointed to attend the meeting of the Conservatives of West Peterborough: Messrs. Burnham, Buller and Layfield.

Mr. T. Wilson suggested that the members strive more earnestly in the endeavour to enroll new members. He thought it was advisable to issue a pamphlet for such a purpose, and those at a distance could send their names and fee and thus the membership would be increased, and the finances strengthened.

Mr. T. Wilson and Mr. J. Wilson were designated to look after this matter.

The members then sang "God Save the King," after which the meeting was adjourned.

Port Hope Girls Use Profanity

Shocking Conduct of Some Girls In That Town.

On Tuesday afternoon of last week while on their way home from school, four or five girls, between the ages of 8 and 12 years, without provocation, began using vile language to a young lady who happened to be passing along William street. The lady who is a student at the Model School, hurried along followed by the foul-mouthed girls. The continual howling and bad language drew the attention of passers-by, as well as of people within their homes, and the young lady at last took refuge in the home of Wm. Stevenson. The girls then passed on.—Port Hope Times.

The Humane Society Praised Mr. Charles

Passed Vote of Thanks to Him For His Attention in Preventing Cruelty to Animals.

At the regular meeting of the Humane Society in Toronto yesterday afternoon, objection was taken to the large number of boys who were employed to drive delivery wagons, and who, for the sake of showing off in public, drove the animals too hard, and fostered a practice of jerking their heads with the lines. The society favoured a regulation prohibiting boys under sixteen years of age from handling horses. Cases of neglecting to feed the horses at night have been reported to the society. The humane officer reported 120 cases of cruelty to, and destruction of, animals during the month. A vote of thanks was passed to Mr. Hughes Charles, of Peterborough, for coming all the way to Toronto to give evidence in the Police Court on Tuesday, resulting in the imposing of a fine of $2 on a man for abusing his horse. That the fine in aggravated cases should be much more than $2 is the unanimous opinion of the members of the society, and it is intended to advocate for heavier fines.

State Of Crime In The County

70 Convictions Made by Magistrate in the Past Year.

County Magistrate Edmison made his yearly returns to the Minister of Agriculture of the Dominion yesterday and states that crime in the county doesn't seem to be getting better or worse. During the year which ended September 30th last, he made 70 convictions, there being soemthing less than 20 summary trials. This number, the Magistrate says is about the same as a year ago.

The report is a very exhaustive one, practically giving the whole past history of the convicted, including age, place of birth, religion, past record, place of abode, disposition, taste for intoxicants, etc.

During the year a Mohammedan was convicted, the only one in the history of the Magistrate's long experience.

Have Deciced On An Entertainment

Charlotte Street Sunday School Board Held Meeting Last Night

The Board of the Charlotte street Sunday school met last night in the school room, and discussed the proposition of holding a Christmas entertainment.

The chair was occupied by the pastor of the church. The Board decided to hold an entertainment at Christmas, for the children particularly, and also to hold a more pretentious concert later on in January.

A scarcity of occasional teachers is reported in the Toronto Public Schools.

Cures Rheumatism Too.

Bu-Ju cures Rheumatism, because it cures the Kidneys. Every drop of blood in the body passes through the kidneys, to be filtered. If the kidneys are sick—tired—inflammed—they don't filter out the uric acid. It is this acid, deposited in the joints—on the nerves — that causes Rheumatism.

Objection To The Use Of Glasses

Sometimes people object to glasses, claiming that once put on they can not see without them. If after putting on glasses the wearer finds it difficult to go without them, this simply proves that before he wore glasses he was forcing his eyes beyond the limit of safety, a practice if continued, is sure to affect the health and sight. The person who lets pride, even excusable pride, stand in the way of glasses is doing his eyes and health injustice and is merely paving the way for future suffering and discomforts.

We will test your eyesight carefully, and tell you just what condition your eyes are in.

Will Improve The River Navigation

Superintending Engineer Grant of Trent Canal at Hastings to Investigate Ground for Complaint.

The Hastings Star says: On Thursday of last week, Engineer Grant and Overseer Gordon, of the Trent Canal staff, were in Hastings inspecting the river between the dam and the railway bridge. It is well known that until seven or eight years ago there was a beautiful stretch of navigation for small craft all the way between these points, but when the new channel was cut, some few years ago the rock was thrown on each side of the channel, and ever since has been a menace to navigation. Complaints have been made in respect to this for years, but the matter has always been turned down. But we are now informed that there is a possibility of having the matter remedied. Mr. Grant and Mr. Gordon, the engineers, were over the ground in Mr. L. F. Clarry's gasoline launch, accompanied by Mr. C. R. Fowlds, who is well acquainted with the river.

Peterborough Lacks Essential To Success

Bowmanville Statesman Makes Some Comment on the Reason This Fair Did Not Pay.

In its issue of this week the Bowmanville Statesman has some pertinent remarks on the Peterborough Fair. It says: Peterborough Fall Fair this year fell short of paying expenses by about $100. Why should such a prosperous city, surrounded by a purely agricultural district, fail to hold a successful agricultural exhibition? There are people enough within the city limits to carry the show, far beyond the bounds of necessary expenses if they would only make one visit to it. We in West Durham, holding our fall fair in this town, with a third of Peterborough's population, have never known failure, and we have numerous other exhibitions all around us. Evidently Peterborough lacks some essential that contributes to success in running a paying show. The question with the directors is to discover what is the unknown quality, quantity or motive power.

Prayers Saved Wife Murderer

Judge Was Soft Hearted and Granted Children's Request.

Examiner Special.

Chicago, Oct. 27.—The prayers of his three little daughters saved Anthony Bemis, convicted wife murderer, from the gallows to-day. In answer to the children's plea, Judge Kersten set aside the verdict recommending the death penalty, and sentenced Bemis to imprisonment for life.

The first words of the sentence which would send the prisoner to the gibbet were forming on the judge's lips, when Rose, the convicted man's ten-year-old daughter, burst into a childish appeal for her father's life. Her sisters, Sylvia and Mary, joined her, while Bemis broke down and wept.

"I must grant the children's prayer," exclaimed the judge. "Bemis was convicted on their stories alone, when they might have refused to testify. Bemis, I will spare your life, but you must spend it in a cell."

Bridal Pair Dodge Charivari

Were Locked Up in Gaol While Party Broke Into House.

New York, Oct. 27.—There was a wedding feast without the bride and bridegroom in Pleasantville, West Orange, N.J., Thursday night. Ambrose Conklin and his bride, Annie Townsend, were to have arrived home from a two weeks' honeymoon at dark. A hundred of their friends broke into the cottage they were to occupy, set the table with flowers and bunting and a wedding cake, and hid in the house to await the entry of the bride and bridegroom. The bride and bridegroom failed to arrive. Hours passed and the "surprise" party gradually appeared from nooks and corners and decided it had been fooled by the couple it was to have fooled. They stayed until midnight, ate the cake, then locked the nuptial cottage and departed. The bride and bridegroom returned home yesterday noon. Their friends asked them where they had been.

"Why, we have been in jail. Wasn't that exciting?" returned the delighted bridal couple.

It had been exciting. Ambrose and his bride were going home Thursday night when they fell into their first quarrel. They got excited in the discussion. Ambrose fled, and his bride, to bring him back to her side, cried, "Help!" "Murder!" "Police!"

It happened that Carl Rupert, the police force of the little town of Verona, heard her cries, captured the fleeing bridegroom and took him back to his bride. The village policeman couldn't see the joke of it and refused to listen to the plea that it was only a honeymoon tiff. He took both to the town lock-up, where they spent the remainder of the night in separate cells. In court yesterday morning they were fined $10, which they paid, and then hurried home.

Headless Body Is Found On Trestle

Wedged Between Ties, Trolley Car Killed Man—Not Identified

Special to the Examiner

New York, October 27th. — The beheaded body of a man was found early yesterday wedged between the of the high trestle of the Newark trolley line where it passes over the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad tracks, three miles outside of Elizabeth, N. J.

Probably one car decapitated the man, and each succeeding one for hours of the night buffeted his broad shoulders which refused to slip through the ties.

The only thing by which the man may be identified is a card showing he was a member of the printers' union in Providence, R. I. The last name on the card is Ford. The first name is blurred.

The man took a trolley at Newark and asked the conductor to let him off at Cranford. By mistake he was put off at Roselle, and he started to walk back over the trestle.

A rainstorm driven by an east wind was sweeping across the trestle. The water on the oil soaked ties made the footing uncertain. Just where the railway tracks pass under the man evidently slipped and his legs and the lower part of his body shot down between two ties in the centre of the trolley track.

But his deep chest would not pass through. He was firmly wedged between the ties.

Residents in the vicinity recall hearing shouts, as though some one in distress were calling for them. Some opened their doors, but the rain was too strong to venture out.

The first car out yesterday discovered the body, and it took the wrecking car an hour to extricate it. The body and head were sent to the Elizabeth morgue.

ENGLAND

The impending marriage between the Hon. Charles Molesworth and Miss Elizabeth Longworthy, revives a romance of twenty years ago, the tale of which at that time aroused passionate championships for a deserted woman and child. In the early eighties Edward Martin Langworthy inherited a great fortune, emigrated to Argentina and there lived in almost royal state in a colony of his own founding. He sailed on a visit to Europe in his private yacht in 1882, and in a Paris hotel met and fell in love with Miss Mildred Long, an Irish girl of great beauty. Accompanied by a chaperon, Miss Long, after her engagement to Mr. Langworthy, consented to make a trip on board his yacht. The vessel lay off Southampton, when Langworthy suddenly urged an immediate union. They crossed to France and were married at Caen. The husband refused to celebrate the English marriage his wife demanded before sailing with him for Argentina. Arriving at Buenos Ayres he brutally told her the marriage was a sham, gave her 50 pounds and sent her back to England. Her case was taken up by Mr. W. T. Stead, then editor of the Pall Mall Gazette, and that fiery champion secured for her in the courts a verdict of 29,000 pounds damages, together with an annuity of 500 pounds for the child—the Miss Langworthy who is shortly to become sister-in-law to a peer. The case is famous in legal circles as one in which a comparatively unknown junior laid the foundation of his legal success by "standing up to" Charles Russell, then the doyen of the bar. The junior is now Mr. Charles Gill, K. C. Ten years after the trial Mildred Langworthy, reconciled to her husband, died in a Paris hotel, and Edward Langworthy declaring that he could not survive her, ended his life shortly afterwards.

A fresh attempt is to be made to discover the shrine of St. Etheldreda, in Ely Cathedral, Cambridgeshire. Nearly 400 years ago when Henry VIII. suppressed the monasteries, the shrine, which was of great value, disappeared, and notwithstanding all their exertions, the King's men were unable to recover it. Tradition says that the shrine was placed in some cunningly devised hiding place within the cathedral, and from time to time search has been made for it. Now a further attempt is to be made, and the dean, Dr. Stubbs, hopes that it will be successful. At the south east corner, in the two angles of the facade, are two octagonal towers, with a circular staircase in each. But while in the west tower the staircase goes from the top to bottom, in the east the staircase extends only from the top to the first floor. Below this is apparently solid masonry, and it is conjectured that the shrine may be hidden there. The shrine was covered with rich gems, and the silver reliquary blazed with pearls, onyx, beryl, amethist, and other stones. The corpse of the sainted queen was placed in a sarcophagus of white marble.

It was intimated to the Longridge, Lancashire, District Council, at their meeting recently, that a deputation was in waiting desirous of urging on the members the necessity for a recreation ground. The council decided to see the deputation, which was thereupon ushered in. It consisted of three small boys. But if their stature was little they felt that the justice of their cause was great, and taking heart of grace the spokesman of the party read out the petition with which he and his fellows had been entrusted. It was in the following terms: "We respectfully petition the council to provide us with a recreation ground, for if we play in the streets the policeman is always after us so that we cannot play in peace." That was all—brief, pointed and explicit; it set forth the prayer of the petitioners, and the reasons why they thought it should be granted. To the petition the signatures of some hundreds of children had been affixed in due and proper form. The council promised careful consideration.

A gigantic engineering scheme has been undertaken in order to bring the city of Newcastle into closer proximity with the suburban districts of Heaton and Byker, entailing the filling up of the valley of the Ouseburn, some 1300 feet wide, with a depth in places of 120 feet. Among the operations will be those of diverting a river from its bed and cutting a new channel for a ferro-concrete culvert, partially through old colliery workings. The valley presents an aspect of much animation. In the dry bed of the river steam navvies are at work digging out the new channel and depositing the material excavated into trucks, which are lifted bodily by powerful cranes and deposited on the lines of mountain railways running up each side of the valley to the upper surface level. The ultimate filling of the valley will require an enormous quantity of material, probably not far short of five million cubic yards.

IRELAND

One of the most shocking stories of brutality which has for years come under the notice of the public was heard at Cork police court recently, when a man named Burrell and his second wife were charged with cruelly ill-treating the man's daughter, a girl aged ten years. For years the child had been ill-treated, and her body was found to be literally one mass of bruises from head to foot. On one occasion the child was left in a room with some money, and later in the day she was accused of having stolen a sixpence, and though she denied it strongly, she received a violent beating from the male defendant. A clothes-line was placed round her neck, and she was threatened that she would be hanged. Next day the violence was renewed, and she was told that she would be thrashed until she did confess. Then, in order to avoid further ill-treatment, she admitted that she had taken the sixpence. On this the defendants lost all control over themselves. The child was thrashed by the woman, and subsequently flogged by the father with a heavy belt. Then a new form of terrorism was adopted. A towel was tied round her neck, and she was strung up behind the kitchen door. The child remained hanging until she lost consciousness.

Mrs. Charlotte E. Riddell, the popular Irish novelist, died a few days ago. She was born at Carrickfergus. Mrs. Riddell published her first novel, entitled "The Moors and the Fens," under the pseudonym of F. G. Trafford.

An Apple Tree In Full Bloom

Bush, Too, In Bloomfield, N.J., Has Roses.

Examiner Special.

New York, Oct. 27.—An apple tree in full blossom is a novel sight on the property of the Ward estate, in Bond street, Bloomfield, N.J. Supt. Thomas W. Smith, of the Bloomfield Cemetery, reports a rose bush in one of the plots containing about twenty large red roses.

The heavy rain of Friday night aroused a large number of mosquitoes from their lethargy. They were pernicious in their activity, and the citizens who had removed their window screens and doors regretted their haste.

Lover Stole Silk For His Fiancee

The Pretty Young Woman Made It Into Pillows.

Special to The Examiner

New York, Oct. 27.—With four silk sofa pillows produced in the Jefferson Market Court yesterday, in evidence of her fiance's guilt, Miss May Patrick, a pretty young woman told Magistrate Mayo that the pillows represented to her the labour of love, and not the theft charged to her fiance, Joseph Tatten, a salesman in a Twenty-third street department store.

Tatten was arrested Friday night. Twenty-five dollars' worth of silk was found wound around his legs underneath his trousers. Miss Patrick told Magistrate Mayo that Tatten was accustomed to bring her silk which he said he bought cheap owing to his position in the silk department. She said she made the silk into sofa pillows, which she sold. In this way she had earned quite a fund toward an early start in housekeeping.

The girl was discharged. Tatten pleaded guilty and was held in $300 bail for the Court of Special Sessions.

Gained 25 Pounds

Some months ago I began using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and to-day I am pleased to say I am completely restored to health. I have gained over twenty-five pounds in weight, sleep well and feel strong and healthy." — Miss Annie Evans, 339 Gottingen street, Halifax, N.S.

Reflections of a Bachelor

SOMETIMES a woman does a thing the way she sets out to unless you expect her to.

When a man bets on an election he is sure the country is going to the dogs unless his side wins.

The reason most people don't lose more money in their investments is they haven't it to lose.

A girl is no longer a bride but a married woman when instead of crying because her husband doesn't praise the biscuits she gets angry.

One of the truths a man learns by getting married is that it doesn't cost any more to feed two than one; but, at the same time he learns it costs fifty times as much to dress them.

Absolutely white flour makes the most beautiful white bread—the kind we all like.

But white bread is not necessarily pure because it is white. To be pure it must be made from purified flour.

There is only one method of making flour absolutely pure, and that is by electricity. No impurity can withstand the searching, purifying work of this electrical process.

The electrical method is employed by every big mill in the United States.

In Canada the only flour purified by electricity is therefore it is the only flour that can be considered as absolutely pure.

Royal Household Flour

Crimson Blind

BY FRED M. WHITE

Author of "Tregarthen's Wife," "The Robe of Lucifer," Etc.

Copyright, 1905, by R. F. Fenno & Company.

"One of the wires cut," Henson muttered. "I expected as much. Madame Enid is getting a deal too clever. I suppose this is some suggestion of her very astute friend David Steel. Well, I have given Mr. Steel one lesson in minding his own business, and if he interferes further I shall have to give him another. He will be in gaol before long charged with attempted murder and robbery with violence, and so exit Steel. After that the girl will be perhaps chary of seeking outside assistance. And this will be the third I have had to get rid of. Heavens! How feeble I feel, how weak I am. And yet I must go through this thing now."

He staggered into the house again and dropped into a chair. There was a loud buzzing in his ears, so that he could hardly hear the murmur of voices in the drawing-room below. This was annoying, because Henson liked to bear everything that other folks said. Then he dropped off into a kind of dreamy state, coming back presently to the consciousness that he had fainted.

Meanwhile Frank Littimer had joined Enid in the drawing-room. The house was perfectly quiet and still by this time; the dust-cloud hung on the air and caused the lamps to burn with a spitting blue flame. Enid's face looked deadly pale against her black dress.

"So you have been seeing Reginald," she said. "Why—why did you do it?"

"I didn't mean to," Frank muttered. "I never intended him to know that I had been in the house at all. But I was passing his room and he heard me. He seemed to know my footsteps. I believe if two mice ran by him twice in the darkness he could tell the difference between them."

"You had an interesting conversation. What did he want to use the telephone for?"

"I don't know. I tried to manipulate it for him, but the instrument was out of order."

"I know. I had a pretty shrewd idea what our cousin was going to do. You see, I was listening at the door. Not a very ladylike thing to do, but one must fight Henson with his own tools. When I heard him ask for the telephone directory I ran out and nipped one of the wires by the bathroom. Frank, it would have been far wiser if you hadn't come."

Littimer nodded gloomily. There was something like tears in his eyes.

"I know it," he said. "I hate the place and its dreadful associations. But I wanted to see Chris first. Did she say anything about me before—before——"

"My dear boy, she loved you always. She knew and understood, and was sorry. And she never, never forgot the last time that you were in the house."

Frank Littimer glanced across the room with a shudder. His eyes dwelt with fascination on the overturned table with its broken china and glass and wilted flowers in the corner.

"It is not the kind of thing to forget," he said, hoarsely. "I can see my father now——"

"Don't," Enid shuddered. "don't recall it. And your mother has never been the same since. I doubt if she will ever be the same again. From that day to this nothing has ever been touched in the house. And Henson comes here when he can and makes our lives hideous to us."

"I fancy I shook him up to-night," Littimer said, with subdued triumph. "He seemed to shudder when I told him that I had found Van Sneck."

Enid started from her chair. Her eyes were shining with the sudden brilliancy of unveiled stars.

"You have found Van Sneck!" she whispered. "Where?"

"Why, in the Brighton Hospital. Do you mean to say that you don't know about it, that you don't know that the man found so mysteriously in Mr. David Steel's house and Van Sneck are one and the same person?"

Enid resumed her seat again. She was calm enough now.

"It had not occurred to me," she said. "Indeed, I don't know why it should have done. Sooner or later, of course, I should have suggested to Mr. Steel to try and identify the man, but——"

"My dear Enid, what on earth are you talking about?"

"Nonsense," Enid said, in some confusion. "Things you don't understand at present, and things you are not going to understand just yet. I read in the papers that the man was quite a stranger to Mr. Steel. But are you certain that it is Van Sneck?"

"Absolutely certain. I went to the hospital and identified him."

"Then there is no more to be said on that point. But you were foolish to tell Reginald."

"Not a bit of it. Why, Henson has known it all along. You needn't get excited. He is a deep fellow, and nobody knows better than he how to disguise his feelings. All the same, he was just mad to know what I had discovered, you could see it in his face. Reginald Henson——"

Littimer paused, open-mouthed, for Henson, dressed and wrapped ready for the journey, had come quietly into the drawing-room. The deadly pallor of his face, the white bandages about his throat, only served to render his appearance more emphatic and imposing. He stood there with the halo of dust about him, looking like the evil genius of the place.

"I fear I startled you," he said, with a sardonic smile. "And I fear that in the stillness of the place I have overheard a great part of your conversation, Frank, I must congratulate you on your discretion, so far. But seeing that you are going and impressionable, I am going to move temptation out of your way. Enid, I am going on a journey."

"I trust that it is a long one, and that it will detain you for a considerable period," Enid said, coldly.

"It is neither far, nor is it likely to keep me," Henson smiled. "Williams has just come in with the information that the cab awaits me at the gate. Now, then!"

The last words were flung at Littimer with contemptuous command. The hot blood flared into the young man's face. Enid's eyes flashed.

"If my cousin likes to stay here," she said, "why——"

"He is coming with me," Henson said, hoarsely. "Do you understand? With me! And if I like to drag him—or you, my pretty lady—to the end of the world or the gates of perdition, you will have to come. Now, get along before I compel you."

Enid stood with fury in her eyes and clenched hands as Littimer slunk away out of the house, Henson following between his victim and Williams. He said no words till the lodge-gates were past and the growl of the dogs had died into the distance.

"We are going to Littimer Castle," said Henson.

"Not there," Littimer groaned—"not there, Henson! I couldn't—I couldn't go to that place!"

Henson pointed towards the cab.

"Littimer or perdition!" he said. "You don't want to go to the latter just yet? Jump in, then!"

CHAPTER XXV.

If you had asked the first five people on the Littimer Estate what they thought of the lord of the soil you would have had a different answer from every one. One woman would have said that a kinder and better man never lived; her neighbor would have declared Lord Littimer to be as hard as the nether millstone. Farmer George would rate him a jolly good fellow, and tell how he would sit in the kitchen over a mug of ale; whilst Farmer John swore at his landlord as a hard-fisted, grasping miser devoid of the bowels of compassion.

At the end of an hour you would be utterly bewildered, not knowing what to believe, and prepared to set the whole village down as a lot of gossips who seemed to mind everything but its own business. And, perhaps, Lord Littimer might come riding through on his big black horse, small, lithe, brown as mahogany, and with an eye piercing as a diamond-drill. One day he looked almost boyishly young, there would be a smile on his tanned face. And then another day he would be bent in the saddle, huddled up, wizened, an old, old man, crushed with the weight of years and sorrow.

In sooth he was a man of moods and contradictions, changeable as an April sky, and none the less quick-tempered and hard because he knew that everybody was terribly afraid of him. And he had a tongue, too, a lashing, cutting tongue that burnt and blistered. Sometimes he would be quite meek and angry under the reproaches of the vicar, and yet the same day history records it that he got off his horse and administered a sound thrashing to the village poacher. Sometimes he got the best of the vicar, and sometimes that worthy man scored. They were good friends, these two, though the vicar never swerved in his fealty to Lady Littimer, whose cause he always championed. But nobody seemed to know anything about that dark scandal. They knew that there had been a dreadful scene at the castle seven years before, and that Lady Littimer and her son had left never to return. Lady Littimer was in a madhouse somewhere, they said, and the son was a wanderer on the face of the earth. And when Lord Littimer died every penny of the property, the castle included, would go to her ladyship's nephew, Mr. Reginald Henson.

In spite of the great cloud that hung over the family Lord Littimer did not seem to have changed. He was just a little more caustic than ever, his tongue a little sharper. The servants could have told a different story, a story of dark moods and days when the bitterness of the shadow of death lay on the face of their master. Few men could carry their grief better, and because Littimer carried his grief so well he suffered the more. We shall see what the sorrow was in time.

There are few more beautiful places in England than Littimer Castle. The house stood on a kind of natural plateau with many woods behind, a trout stream ran clean past the big flight of steps leading to the hall, below were terrace after terrace of hanging gardens, and to the left a sloping, ragged drop of 200ft. into the sea. To the right lay a magnificently-timbered park, with a herd of real wild deer—perhaps the only herd of this kind in the country. When the sun shone on the grey walls they looked as if they had been painted by some cunning hand, so softly were the greys and reds and blues blended.

Inside the place was a veritable art gallery. There were hundreds of pictures and engravings there. All round the grand staircase ran a long, deep corridor, filled with pictures. There were alcoves here fitted up as sitting-rooms, and in most of them some gem or another was hung. When the full flood of electric light was turned on at night the effect was almost dazzling. There were few pictures in the gallery without a history.

Lord Littimer had many hobbies, but not one that interested him like this. There were hundreds of rare birds shot by him in different parts of the world; the corridors and floors were covered by skins, the spoil of his rifle; here and there a stuffed bear pranced startlingly; but the pictures and prints were the great amusement of his lordship's lonely life.

He passed along the corridor now towards the great oriel window at the end. A brilliant sunlight filled the place with shafts of golden and blue and purple as it came filtered through the stained glass. At a table in the window a girl sat working a typewriter. She might have passed for beautiful, only her hair was banded down in hideously Puritan fashion on each side of her delicate, oval face, her eyes were shielded by spectacles. But they were lovely, steady, courageous blue eyes, as Littimer did not fail to observe. Also he had not failed to note that his new secretary could do very well without the glasses.

The typewriter and secretary business was a new whim of Littimer's. He wanted an assistant to catalogue and classify his pictures and prints, and he had told the vicar so. He wanted a girl who wasn't a fool, a girl who could amuse him and wouldn't be afraid of him, and he thought he would have an American. To which the vicar responded that the whole thing was nonsense, but he had heard of a Boston girl in England who had a passion for that kind of thing and who was looking for a situation of the kind in a genuine old house for a year or so. The vicar added that he had not seen the young lady, but he could obtain her address. A reply came in due course, a reply that so pleased the impetuous Earl that he engaged the applicant on the spot. And now she had been just two hours in the house.

"Well," Littimer cried, "and how have you been getting on?"

Miss Christabel Lee looked up smilingly.

"I am getting on very well indeed," she said. "You see, I have made a study of this kind of thing all my lifetime, and most of your pictures are like old friends to me. Do you know, I fancy that you and I are going to manage very well together?"

"Oh, do you? They say I am pretty formidable at times."

"I shan't mind that a bit. You see, my father was a man with a villainous temper. But a woman can always get the better of a bad-tempered man unless he happens to be one of the lower classes who uses his boots. If he is a gentleman you have him utterly at your mercy. Have you a sharp tongue?"

"I flatter myself I can be pretty blistering on occasions," Littimer said, grimly.

"How delightful! So can I. You and I will have some famous battles later on. Only I warn you that I never lose my temper, which gives me a tremendous advantage. I haven't been very well lately, so you must be nice to me for a week or two."

Littimer smiled and nodded. The grim lord of the castle was not accustomed to this kind of thing, and he was telling himself that he rather liked it.

"And now show me the Rembrandt," Miss Lee said, impatiently.

Littimer led the way to a distant alcove lighted from the side by a latticed window. There was only one picture in the excellent light there, and that was the famous Rembrandt engraving. Littimer's eyes lighted up quite lovingly as they rested upon it. The Florentine frame was hung so low that Miss Lee could bring her face on a level with it.

"This is the picture that was stolen from you?" she asked.

"Yes, that's the thing that there was all the fuss about. It made a great stir at the time. But I don't expect that it will happen again."

"Why not?" Miss Lee asked. "When an attempt of that sort is made it is usually followed by another, sometimes after the lapse of years. Anybody getting through that window could easily get the frame from its two nails and take out the paper."

"Do you think so?" Littimer asked, uneasily.

"I am certain of it. Take my advice and make it secure. The panels behind are bard wood—thick black oak. Lord Littimer, I am going to get four brass-headed stays and drive them through some of the open ornamental work into the panel so as to make the picture quite secure. It is an iron frame, I suppose."

"Wrought-iron, gilt," said Littimer. "Yes, one could easily drive four brass-headed stays through the open work and make the thing safe. I'll have it seen to."

But Miss Lee insisted that there was no time like the present. She had discovered that Littimer had an excellent carpenter's shop on the premises; indeed, she admitted to being no mean performer with the lathe herself. She flitted down the stairs light as thistle down.

"A charming girl!" Littimer said cynically. "I wonder why she came to this dull hole? A quarrel with her young man, perhaps. If I were a young man myself I might—— But women are all the same, I should be a happier man if I had never trusted one If——"

Gin Pills Cure Kidney Troubles.

OR YOUR MONEY BACK.

Read this letter from Mrs. Gargill Has it not the ring of truth? Does it not describe your own sufferings? And does it not point the way to quick relief?

"For three years I suffered more than I can tell with terrible pains in the small of my back. When I stooped over, it seemed as though I would never be able to straighten up. I tried Kidney Pills for a year and a half, but was getting worse all the time, until advised by my neighbor to try "Gin Pills," as she had been almost similarly affected, and had been completely cured by them. I took three boxes of Gin Pills, and almost from the first dose I began to feel better. Now I am pleased to say I can do as good a day's work as ever in my life without feeling tired out. Before getting Gin Pills I had to have a girl to do my housework, but now I can do it all myself, including the washing. I will always recommend Gin Pills for kidney trouble.

Armour's Solid Extract of Beef

(POTTED IN CANADA)

is the kind that is simply the natural Essence of Prime Beef—concentrated. It is not a manufactured article like many extracts and fluid beefs, made from extract bought on the open market without any knowledge of its purity, and mixed with salt, water and other ingredients. Beef in fluid form offers opportunity for adulteration without detection. This cannot be said of solid extract.

MAKING THIN CHILDREN FAT

A child may be getting plenty of food—and getting NOTHING OUT of the food.

It's what the system assimilates that builds up and strengthens. A pale, thin, listless child is starving for proper food.

Orange Meat

is the food that every system can assimilate. It contains MORE dextrin and maltose (wheat sugars) than any other cereal.

Practically every spoonful of ORANGE MEAT means that much good, red blood—sturdy strength—power and vigor. And children will be as fond of ORANGE MEAT NEXT YEAR as they will be when you have it to-morrow.

Sold by all grocers in 15c. and 25c. pkgs. Every 15c. package contains a coupon good for valuable premiums. 25c. or "Jumbo" package contains 2½ times the quantity of 15c. size. Write "Orange Meat, Kingston" for new premium catalogue.

York

Sparkling Water ("SPARKS") is ideally pure spring water charged with purified carbonic gas. Its constant use as a beverage will surely give you a better digestion, a stronger stomach, and healthier blood. No water you ever drank is quite so refreshing, so zestful, so wholesome.

York Sparks quite lacks the salty taste common to imported charged waters; it does not change flavor in the slightest when mixed with spirits, but improves their taste while diluting their strength.

FORECAST OF FASHION.

Smart Cloth Costumes With Toques to Match—Fashions In Furs.

Many of the handsome new suits are made with cape wraps and are accompanied by toques of the cloth edged with a narrow band of fur.

It is early in the season to speak of furs, but the fashionable furriers are out with all their new styles. Very smart are the little coats built along pony and bolero lines.

Muffs are to be flat, but not quite so much on the pillow order as those of last winter.

Scarf ties and small neck pieces in all but short haired pelts are as modish

as ever. Later in the season no doubt there will be other ideas developed in these pieces.

Not a few women will regret to hear that last year's favorite—the dress of plum or prune color—has been ruled out of favor this season. Its place has been taken by a deep shade of red. Gowns of this description are elaborately trimmed with black braid, the coats being faced with white moire silk or black taffeta, while unobtrusive touches of gold are combined with the braid.

Manufacturers are pushing moire silk vigorously, but the chances are that it will be chiefly used for trimmings and elderly women's frocks.

Taffeta silk makes some of the smart hats of the season. The illustration shows a model of burgundy red taffeta. The brim is stitched, and about the high puffed crown is a twist of shaded brown and red silk, caught at the side with a bunch of autumn leaves. JUDIC CHOLLET.

SLEEVE TALK.

Short Sleeves For Young and Pretty Women.

A famous French man dressmaker, one of those wonderful personages who decide the styles for the coming season, has this to say about the winter sleeves:

"Young women and all beautiful women will wear the short sleeves. The long sleeve will be left to those women whose physical peculiarities are such that it is not becoming or to elderly women who cannot stand the weather. But all young women who aim at smartness will wear the elbow sleeve, which will be much puffed at the shoulder.

"We are making our very new sleeves puffed at the shoulder in exceedingly large puffs which extend almost to the elbow. They are trimmed at the elbow with lace in the form of two or three ruffles.

"There are long sleeves, but these are of very thin material and are crumpled from the elbow to the wrist. They are very full, and they are finished at the wrist with a very little jeweled trimming.

The Wedded College Girl.

"How common it used to be when a college girl married to hear people exclaim, 'What a pity they wasted a college education on her!'" a married college woman was saying the other day. "But I haven't heard it lately so much, and maybe the idea is slowly dying out. There was a time when even the college graduate herself felt that her home offered little scope for her acquirements in chemistry, sociology and so on. She knows better now. Besides, not a few married college women make considerable money as a result of their college training. Many write, some are engaged as professionals in charity work, some teach in schools and colleges and others assist their husbands in their professions. But the public and the college graduates alike seem to have waked up to the fact that the domestic career in itself offers a wide scope both for study and action."

A Trick of the Trade.

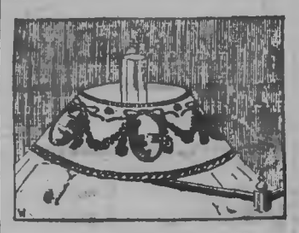
Crafty Milliner—Really, Miss Pussay, the white feather on your hat makes you look at least five years younger.

Miss Passay—Well, you may—er—put a couple more white feathers on it.

Simple Lamp Shade.

The elaborate flounced and frilled lamp shades of silk or paper, which were so popular awhile ago, are no longer seen in up to date rooms. Like tulle ball dresses, they were charming in their first freshness, but this soon wore off and left them crushed and dejected looking objects.

A simple lamp shade of a lasting type is the one shown in the sketch.



MADE OF WATER COLOR PAPER.

It began life as a plain white shade cut from stiff water color paper. The ovals are small prints. These are laid on the shade and pencilled round. Rather smaller ovals are then cut out of the shade and the prints glued over the holes so that the light shines through them. The rest of the device consists of festoons of roses and ribbon bows cut from a gayly colored chintz and glued on to the shade.

There is very little work involved in this dainty lamp shade, and the cost is naturally small.

VANITY'S VISIONS.

Corsets For Empire Gowns—Smart Bust Supporters—Girdle Hints.

Many women are compromising twixt fashion and comfort by wearing the short corset, to which they have become devoted during the reign of the blouse, and donning in addition a bust supporter to give the correct bust line necessary for princess and empire gowns.

Bust supporters are charmingly trimmed with frills of lace, ribbon knots and wide elastic matching the satin shoulder straps set in the side under the arms, so that despite the support absolute freedom is given to the wear-

LINGERIE BLOUSE.

er. Other bust supporters are of embroidered batiste in white or delicate tints, trimmed with soft frills of creamy valenciennes.

In girdles those with a more or less deep point extending down over the skirt at the front are still worn in spite of the fact that they are more than an old story. The chief variation in girdles is more in their material and ornamentation than in shape.

An attractive girdle is made of pale green liberty satin gathered over a pointed centerpiece of cloth of silver. The folds crossing from corner to corner and forming a large X are of inch wide bands of velvet. The satin ends of the girdle turn under and are fastened in the back with three large cabochons of silver.

The lingerie blouse in the cut is of fine handkerchief linen. Bands of wide swiss embroidery are used as trimming. JUDIC CHOLLET.

FORECAST OF FASHION.

A Dearth of Elbow Sleeves In the Coming Autumn.

Elbow sleeves are likely to disappear in the early fall. It is therefore wise when having a coat made to get enough material for extra sleeves.

Extremely simple though stylish are the black and white checked silks, ginghams and voiles made with Irish lace yoke and cuffs.

Brown straw hats are very much in evidence, and the smartest are trimmed with black. A flat, round shape is piled high in the back with black tulle, and over the top are a flat bow and a bunch of black peacock feathers. This is worn very much on the side of the head. In fact, all the shapes are so adjusted.

Later on in the season hats will be turned up at the side rather than in the back, as they are at present.

Natural colored straw is the hat of the moment. It is trimmed with flowers and wings or plumes of all sorts and shades. Colored straws fade before the end of the season, therefore the yellow colored braids are an economical as well as pretty fashion.

The summer dinner gown in the sketch is of white pongee. The skirt is adorned with three fitted flounces and diamond shaped motifs of lace. The deep lace berths about the decollete neck is fringed at the edge with pink roses. The girdle is of coral pink panne, and the lace ruffle is threaded with the same colored velvet ribbon.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

A Curious Tomb.

The most curious tomb in England is that of Lady Anne Grimston, daughter of the Earl of Thanet, who died nearly two centuries ago and was buried in Tewin churchyard. Upon her deathbed she disregarded the efforts of those who sought to administer spiritual comfort. An atheist she had lived, an atheist she would die. "It is as likely that I should rise again from the dead," she said, "as that a tree should grow out of the middle of my coffin." A tree has grown out of the middle of her coffin—an oak—and by its side a sycamore. The vault is square, of brick and granite. The two trees first filled the interior before they could find a way out. When they did burst through the masonry they so spread as completely to envelop the grave.

When Everything Is Poisonous.

All substances, even eggs, are poisonous when they are injected in certain quantities into the circulatory system of an animal. A French investigator has taken the powdered yolk of a duck's egg, treated it with a 20 per cent solution of salt and injected it into the veins of an animal until it died. In order to kill a rabbit fifty-five grains of the substance were required for each pound of the rabbit's weight. The yolk of a hen's egg is less poisonous, but that of a turtle more so than that of a duck. The albumen of eggs is also poisonous.

Far Enough.

One day when William M. Evarts, secretary of state under President Hayes, was a college student he was called on to read Virgil in class.

He started out bravely, "Three times I strove to cast my arms around her neck, and—and"—adding lamely—"that's as far as I got, professor."

"Well, Mr. Evarts," said the professor, "I think that was quite far enough."

Grumbling.

Grumbling is a potent cause of ill health. It keeps the sensitive nerves constantly vibrating with discordant emotions and not only hurts the grumbler, but every one who hears it. It really prepares the system of the grumbler for an attack of any malady that happens to be prevalent.

BABY'S GOOD DAYS.

One of baby's good days means that your child is thriving and well. Baby's Own Tablets bring all good days into your child's life for they make little ones well and keep them well. Mrs. Joseph Forland, St Tite des Caps, Quebec, says: Since giving my little one Baby's Own Tablets she shas been in splendid health, is growing plumper every day, and has beautiful rosy cheeks." These Tablets cure indigestion, colic, constipation, simple fevers, teething troubles and all the minor ailments of little ones. They do not contain one particle of the poisonous opiates found in all soothing medicines and most liquid preparations. The Tablets can be given with absolute safety to the babe just born as well as the child of advanced years. Her Only Request.

A housewife complained to her milkman of the quality of milk he sold her.

"Well, mum," said the milkman, "the cows don't get enough grass feed this time o' year. Why, them cows are just as sorry about it as I am. I often see 'em cryin'—regular cryin', mum—because they feel as how their milk don't do 'em credit. Don't you believe it, mum?"

"Oh, yes, I believe it," responded his customer, "but I wish in future you'd see that they don't drop their tears into our bottle."

FOOTWEAR HINTS.

Embroidered Linen Shoes For Children—Evils of the High Heel Craze.

Embroidered linen shoes are very fashionable at present for young children. They are usually worked in a design of roses and forgetmenots, in wash silk, and the straps fastened with small crochet buttons. In lieu of bows, tiny embroidered butterflies are to be seen, while the favorite broderie anglaise is responsible for some charming little shoes, the fastening straps being composed of narrow scalloped bands of linen secured with embroidery buttons.

Never wear one pair of shoes all the times unless obliged to do so. Two pairs of boots worn a day at a time alternately give more service and are much more healthful.

As a natural and necessary result of pinching, caused by wearing boots and shoes of a size too small, the foot becomes deformed and larger than it would naturally grow, with enlarged joints, the toes turned from a line parallel with the foot, to say nothing of the troublesome corns so annoying and crippling.

The bodice seen in the cut is arranged for a corselet skirt and may be carried out in silk or any of the sheer wash materials of the season. The velvet ribbon is easily removed when the waist is sent to the laundry.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

Peanuts In Europe.

Peanuts grow in large quantities on the northwest coast of Africa, but are known there as ground nuts. They are dug up by the natives and bartered with the European traders for merchandise, tobacco, etc., at many places on the Gambia river and afterward shipped in steamer loads to European ports, principally to Marseilles.

The Most Awful Accident.

The most awful accident in history was the fall of a Roman amphitheater in the time of Tiberius. Fifty thousand people were crushed

Do You Weigh Enough?

Everyone of average intelligence knows something of the immense value of Cod Liver Oil and Iron as remedial agents. Consequently no one would be surprised to hear that very satisfactory results had followed from giving "FERROL" (a perfect emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, Iron and Phosphorus) in cases where Iron and Oil appeared to be needed.

But, when we ask people to believe that in an actual and scientific test made by an eminent and well-known physician, twenty-five bottles of were given to ten patients and the result was a net increase in weight of ninety-five pounds, we are aware that we are asking a great deal; nevertheless we are prepared to prove that this is an absolute fact, by evidence that no reasonable person can reject. Moreover, this is no isolated instance, but only one of many equally remarkable.

Very few people properly appreciate the importance of maintaining their normal weight.

There is no surer indication of approaching disease than a considerable loss of weight and even where this is not the case, a man whose weight is not up to the average is always in danger of contracting any of the germ diseases which are unfortunately so prevalent. On the other hand, while his weight is well maintained, a man is practically proof against attack, and if disease is already present, the fact that the weight is being increased is proof positive that the disease is being overcome.

The desirability of maintaining the weight should therefore be apparent. In view of this we can confidently recommend "FERROL" as the surest, speediest and most effective medicine by which the weight may be maintained or restored.

FERROL is not a patent mystery. The formula is freely published. It is prescribed by the best Physicians. It is endorsed by the most eminent Medical Journals. It is used in prominent Hospitals, Sanatoriums, etc.

All Household Roads Lead to Kitchen Work

NINE-TENTHS of kitchen labor and worry is caused by ill-working cook stoves and ranges; by ranges that draw poorly; that have such complicated drafts that only a skilled mechanic can manage them; whose grates are so constructed that it is a strong man's work to shake them down; ranges which work well when the wind is in a certain direction, but act like a fiend at other times; ranges whose work is so unreliable that the housekeeper is in a constant nerve-racking worry lest the meals be late or the baking spoiled.

The Pandora range is built to make work easy, a child can shake it down; its drafts are so simple that one learns them in a minute; its heat is kept in the range so effectively that you can do a big baking and hardly know there is a fire in it two feet away; it keeps the kitchen cool; it saves you worry; it saves you time and money; it saves you backaches and headaches, because it is so easy to manage and so reliable.

The Pandora makes kitchen work easy.

an automobile you would want the latest improved style, or as near as you could get to it for the money you had to spend.

When offered a cheaply got up car, you would say: "I am afraid it will be too noisy and it won't ride comfortably."

You would want smoothness and noiselessness in an auto. Why don't you seek it also in your carriage? To improve it you have only to put on Dunlop Solid Rubber Tires. They will make riding more comfortable—add to the good appearance of your equipage—will stand any amount of wear on ordinary roads—will cost nothing in the end, because they pay for their cost in the wear and tear they save your rig.

You can't put Dunlop pneumatic tires on a carriage, but you can put on Dunlop Solid Rubber Tires, and they are the next best thing.

LACK OF ENERGY.

A Common Trouble Among Growing Boys—A New Blood Supply is Needed—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Actually Make New Blood.

There are thousands of young men just approaching manhood who have no energy, who tire out at the least exertion, and who feel by the time they have done their day's work as though the day was a week long. In some of these cases there is a further sign of warning in the pimples and disfiguring eruptions which break out on the face. These are certain signs that the blood is out of order, and unless it is promptly enriched, a complete breakdown, or perhaps consumption may be the result. All these young men should take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills actually make rich, red blood, clear the skin of pimples and eruptions, and bring health, strength and energy. Here is a bit of proof. Adolphe Rolland, St. Jerome, Que., is a young man of 19 years, who says: 'For more than a year I suffered from general weakness, and I gradually grew so weak that I was forced to abandon my work as a clerk. My appetite failed me, I had occasional violent headaches, and I began to suffer from indigestion. I was failing so rapidly that I began to fear that consumption was fastening itself upon me. Our family doctor treated me, but I did not gain under his care. I was in a very discouraged state when a friend from Montreal came to see me. He strongly advised 'em to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I did so and inside of three weeks I began to feel better, my appetite began to improve and I seemed to have a feeling of new courage. I continued the pills until I had taken ten boxes and I am now enjoying the best of health I ever had. My cure surprised many of my friends who began to regard me as incurable, and I strongly advise other young men who are weak to follow my example and give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a fair trial."

There is no mystery about the cures Dr. Williams' Pink Pills make. These pills actually make rich, red blood, which braces and strengthens every organ and every nerve in the body. That is why these pills cure all common ailments like anaemia, rheumatism, indigestion, neuralgia, St. Vitus dance, headaches and backaches and the special ailments of women and growing girls. You can get these pills from any dealer in medicine or from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50.

Incubator Has 14,000 Hen's Eggs

A Giant Chicken Producer on Australian Farm.

Australia has the largest duck farm and the largest incubator in the world. The incubator has a capacity of 11,440 ducks' eggs or 14,080 hens' eggs. The machine is, in fact, a hot house. It stands in open ground and is constructed of ordinary pine boards, with corrugateed iron roof. The egg trays each hold 130 ducks' or 160 hens' eggs, and there are four of these trays end to end in 11 tiers, one above the other on each side of the room, making a total of 88. Moisture is supplied in pans beneath the bottom tier of trays. The heat is supplied by means of steam pipes from a large boiler. The incubator is said to be working well and bringing out a big percentage of birds.

Omemee, October 23rd. — The farmers are very busy threshing and taking in their root crops, and preparing for the cold winter, predicted in last week's Examiner.

Some of our farmers have had heavy deposits in the Ontario Bank, at Peterborough and Lindsay, but no shareholders.

There were a number of visitors here from Peterborough on Thanksgiving Day, including W. J. English, of the C. G. E. Works, Mr. Morrison, Thos. Richardson and others; besides old citizens from Toronto, Lindsay and other places.

The Thanksgiving High Tea under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid of the Methodist church, proved a great success in every way The proceeds were about $85. Gordon Wright, pupil of Wilhelmj, Toronto and Peterborough, instructor, delighted everyone. This and a ladies' quartette, composed of Mesdames Mulligan, Boyson, Parson, and Balfour, proved one of the leading musical attractions.

The Rev. Mr. Lee of Toronto, occupied the Presbyterian pulpit very Pacceptably on Sunday.

Mr. J. C. and Mrs. Eaton, and friends, visited our village on Thanksgiving Day, making the trip from Toronto in about three hours in his magnificent new automobile of Detroit manufacture.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Webster passed through here to-day for Beaverton. The four bereaved sons, Thomas, of Lakefield, and three other brothers, from Beaverton, Fenelon Falls and Toronto, accompanied the remains to the cemetery, besides a large concourse of sorrowing friends.

There has been very good partridge shooting, and some of our sports have captured a raccoon and a mink.

Miss Jean Campbell spent Thanksgiving Day in Toronto the guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. Cruikshanks.

Rev. Mr. Harrison, pastor of the Methodist Church, preached the Thanksgiving sermon in the Presbyterian Church Thursday.

Owing to the unusually warm weather the duck shooting has been very poor, as the ducks wait for the colder weather before coming down from the north.

Mr. Peter Drummond arrived home on Friday after a six weeks' trip to Calgary, Edmonton, and other points in the West.

Under the direction of Mr. David Conroy, the old wooden bridge across the Indian River is being torn down and work will be commenced immediately upon the new bridge, which will, it is expected, be completed before the middle of next month. In the meantime, traffic over the bridge has been stopped, and people from the east of the village have to come in by the station bridge, two miles north of the village.

Mr. Thos. Boreland, whose sale took place on Wednesday, moved to Peterborough last week, where he has purchased a house.

Rev. Mr. Harcourt, the missionary whome the Keene and Westwood congregations are supporting in India, and who is home on furlough, gave an account of his work in India, in the Presbyterian Church on Sunday. A reception for Mr. and Mrs. Harcourt was held in the church Tuesday afternoon.

Personal Notes From Apsley

Apsley, October 24. — Rev. Father Phelan passed through the village to-day on his way to Clydesdale.

Mr. H. Kent of Montreal is the guest of Mr. T. Eastland.

Mr. Casement of Lakefield, has been the guest of Mr. E. Wigg, during the past week, at Jack's Lake.

CO. LOST HEAVILY IN OHIO

"Appleyard System" Did Not Prove So Profitable to Insurance Co. as Did Illinois Traction Investments—Lost Also on Cornwall Railway, Levis County Railway and the Montreal Terminal Railway.

Montreal, Oct. 25.—At the afternoon session of the insurance commission yesterday, the enquiry by Dominion Counsel Shepley passed from investments of the Sun Life in Illinois to those in similar traction companies in the State of Ohio. In Illinois the company made great gains from investments in interurban electric railway bonds, but in Ohio the case was reversed.

Lost Heavily In Ohio.

T. B. Macaulay, secretary of the Sun Life, attributed the losses to mismanagement of the Ohio chain by Appleyard, who controlled the system. The so-called "Appleyard System" of railways was one beginning at Dayton, Ohio, and running to Springfield and Columbus. The Sun Life bought securities from Appleyard on the understanding that he should take them back at an increase. It was really a loan to Appleyard.

When the time of repurchase came, Appleyard had no funds and so owed the company $539,000. To repay this he sold the Sun Life large blocks of bonds and stocks. Later these deteriorated in value and the company had to write almost all of them off the books. Now values have gone up again, but the company will lose the interest.

T. B. Macaulay said the case proved the necessity of the company securing control before investing largely in securities of any enterprise.

Cornwall Railway.

Mr. Shepley took up the matter of the Cornwall Street Railway, which the Sun Life finds on its hands after losing on his securities. Witness said it was an early investment and the company has more experience now.

Another case of loss was the Levis County Railway and the Montreal Terminal Railway.

Speaking of the latter security, Commissioner Kent amused the commission by asking witness whether he did not think that the Sun Life bonds in this road was not the reason why it so long continued to be a nuisance to the people of Montreal.

Witness replied that he had been converted from the idea that it was profitable to invest in securities of a competing road.

Towards the end of the session the methods of entering bonus stock holdings in books of the Sun Life were discussed.

The Illinois Venture.

Discussing the Illinois traction venture at the morning session Mr. Macaulay explained that the Sun Life financed the entire scheme except for a little aid given by Hon. T. H. McKinley of Illinois.

In 1903 the Sun Life bought a large block of Illinois Central Traction preferred stock from McKinley. A month later part of this was bought from the company by directors of the Sun Life.

The books showed only one transaction which took in the directors as well as the company.

Mr. Macaulay was called upon to explain this. He said the directors had intended to take a part in the stock, but had misunderstood the date of the deal and they simply took their share later. No written evidence is extant to show that this was the original intention of the directors.

Asked by Mr. Shepley how long it would take the Sun Life to get rid of the sort of stocks they had been investing in largely should a law be passed forbidding insurance companies such investments, Mr. Macaulay said ten years, and launched into a warm defence of the company's attitude, stating that Canada did not offer scope for investment.

TO BE MARTYRS THEIR AIM.

Women Suffragists Got Their Wish and Two Months.

London, Oct. 25.—Ten women suffragists, who were arrested Tuesday for rioting within the precincts of the House of Commons, were arraigned in a police court yesterday and were bound over to keep the peace for six months.

Such a commonplace outcome of the affair did not meet the views of the suffragists, who apparently desired to assume the roles of martyrs by being committed to jail, and they made an even greater hubbub.

When the disturbances had somewhat subsided, the police re-assembled the defendants, who were then informed by the magistrate that they must immediately find sureties for their good behavior or be imprisoned for two months.

The whole ten women refused to enter into recognizances and were removed in custody.

SCHOOL BOOK CONTRACT

Testimony Before Text Book Commission—Arnold W. Thomas of Copp, Clark & Co. Tells About Arrangement His Firm Made to Become Successors of Edinburgh Publishers in Ontario—The Price.

Toronto, Oct. 26.—The chief features of the testimony given at yesterday's sittings of the Ontario Text-Book Commission were the price said to have been paid by Copp, Clark & Co. for the privilege of succeeding Thomas Nelson & Sons of Edinburgh as contractors for the publication of public school readers for the Ontario Government in 1884, and the attempts of W. J. Gage & Co. to have part in contracts for school books secured by other local firms.

Paid $30,000 For Contract.

With reference to the money paid to the Edinburgh publishers by the Toronto firm, it was stated by Mr. Arnold W. Thomas of Copp, Clark & Co. that that firm gave Nelson & Sons $30,000 for the privilege of the contract for a term of ten years, and in subsequent renewals of the agreement paid, at one time, 2 1-2 and 5 per cent. on the trade price, and at a later date 10 per cent. on the retail price of the Ontario readers. In addition Copp, Clark & Co. undertook not to seek a renewal of the contract with the Government without the knowledge of Thomas Nelson & Sons.

Succeeded and Failed.

Touching W. J. Gage & Co.'s action in trying to secure a share of the contracts obtained by firms outside the alleged combine, evidence was given to show that Gage & Co. succeeded with the Methodist Book Room, but failed with Hunter, Rose & Co. There was testimony to the effect that the price of school books was being cut by department stores to such an extent that booksellers and stationers throughout the province were complaining.

Wanted One-Price System.

Mr. E. M. Trowern, secretary of the Retail Merchants' Association of Ontario, asked to have a one-price system adopted throughout Ontario. It was suggested to him that this might come under the head of conspiring to keep up prices. The Commission adjourned without deciding on the date of their next meeting.

UNITED STATES AND JAPAN.

Action of 'Frisco Authorities Leads to Unpleasant Feeling.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 26.—Viscount Aoki, the Japanese ambassador, at a conference with Secretary Root yesterday, made the request in behalf of his Government, that the United States see that the Japanese subjects in California were accorded their full rights under the treaty of 1894, including the public schools of San Francisco.

Secretary Root will take the matter up with the President, and it is likely that representation will be made to the authorities of California.

The ambassador said the exclusion of Japanese children from San Francisco schools was the chief cause of the harsh criticism of the United States.

Feeling Not General.

Tokio, Oct. 26.—It is definitely believed here that the anti-Japanese feeling existing in America is confined to the labor element in California. The tone of the Japanese press is sobering down.

CONSULTED "ANCIENT COLONY."

Kept Informed of Negotiations, But Didn't Concur In Agreement.

London, Oct. 24.—The Parliamentary Secretary of the Colonial Office, Winston Spencer Churchill, when questioned in the House of Commons yesterday on the subject of the recent Anglo-American agreement in regard to the Newfoundland fisheries, said that the Government of Newfoundland had been consulted before any negotiations were begun and was fully informed of their progress at each stage.

The British Government, however, the Secretary added, was not so fortunate as to obtain a concurrence of Newfoundland in the provisional agreement, which the circumstances rendered necessary.

His Death Was Sudden.

Toronto, Oct. 26.—"I wish to God I was dead!" said William Coleman, when Constable Hamilton took him in charge at 9 o'clock yesterday morning. Two hours later his wish was gratified in the ambulance while on his way from No. 1 police station. William, or "Bill" Coleman, as his acquaintances called him, has been a well known character in Toronto for years. He was about 64 years of age and leaves a widow, who resides in Oxford street. John B. Anderson, 22 1-2 Alice street, is a brother-in-law. Some 30 years ago he organized an amateur minstrel organization, which became popular. Coroner Johnson will hold an inquest.

CURATOR NEEDS MORE TIME.

Inquiry Into the Ontario Bank Affair Won't Go on To-Day.

Toronto, Oct. 26.—General Manager Charles McGill and President G. R. R. Cockburn will appear in the Police Court this morning, but the trial will not be proceeded with. The curator has not yet been able to complete the necessary statements. Crown Attorney Corley notified the out-of-town witnesses they would not be required until later.

It has been discovered that many of the securities purchased in New York are industrials that will yield a better profit than was expected.

When the new directorate is formed the shareholders will be directly represented in the group now looking after the assets of the bank.

According to one of the directors yesterday, their resignations were practically insisted upon. None attended with any intention of retiring.

Another one intimated that some of the brokers who encouraged McGill's speculation will be called to account.

Mr. Borden Addresses Meeting at Wiarton.

ABILITY OF THE PREMIER

Attitude of the Government to Scandals—He Complains That They Take No Steps to Protect the People's Interests—Reply to Mr. Aylesworth—Public Opinion a Higher Law—Transcontinental Railway.

Wiarton, Oct. 26.—A plea for a strong Opposition in the Canadian House of Commons was the text of the earlier remarks of Mr. R. L. Borden, leader of the Opposition, before a large audience here last night. "We are not blind," said Mr. Borden, when dealing with this particular argument, "to matters as they are. It happens that there are upon the outskirts of every party camp followers who look for favors to which they are not entitled. I do not pretend that the Conservative party is entirely free from this class. We would have to fight against them—we must fight against them. And yet what faith can we have in the efforts of our opponents to fight back these men? Why do they send into East Elgin a Cabinet Minister for the purpose of suggesting great expenditures to the people and of suggesting to the electors some affectionate regard for a Liberal member if he were returned.

The Premier's Ability.

"I admire the qualities of Sir Wilfrid Laurier as a man," said Mr. Borden. "That he has ability we do not question. On many matters of administration I do not agree with him." Mr. Borden ridiculed the idea that the prosperity of Canada was due to the Liberal Administration, and demanded to know one administrative act that had brought about prosperity. "Did the advent of Sir Wilfrid Laurier to power bring prosperity to the United States and Germany?" he asked. "The fact is that the conditions were here, a great country was here, but, above all, the men of Canada were here, able and willing to avail themselves of that prosperity when it did come." In his appeal for electoral purity Mr. Borden said that the first essential of democratic government was that the Government should be clean. Those states whose legislators were under the thumb of a certain powerful corporation did not enjoy democratic government. With honest administration in view, there should be honest expenditure of the public funds, and there should be decent appointments to public offices, regardless of political expendiency and with character and merit the only consideration.

Record of Scandals.

"These are not political questions at all," he said. "I am not prepared to believe that the rank and file of the Liberal party is less honest than the rank and file of the Conservative party upon these matters. I am as much entitled to claim the suffrage of the Liberals in the riding as of the Conservative voters. The Conservative party is not immaculate, but I do say that there never has been a party in the history of any country with as many scandals as during the ten years that this Government has been in power, and the serious part of it is that when these scandals have been disclosed no effort has been made to safeguard the people." Mr. Borden enumerated West Elgin, West Huron, Brockville, St. James', Montreal, West Hastings, Prince Albert, London, the "thin red line" and the "cruise of the Minnie M." as cases in point. In reply to Hon. A. B. Aylesworth's statement that the Conservatives had been dilatory in dealing with the London situation, Mr. Borden asked if it was not true that these proceedings were being taken regularly under the criminal code. "But there is sometimes a higher law," he added, "and that is the law of public opinion."

The leader of the Opposition dealt at length with the Transcontinental Railway arrangement, and reiterated his pre-election policy that the country should have financed the entire undertaking and have built the road from coast to coast.

TOTAL DEAD MAY BE TEN.

Many Others Missing as Result of Fire at Kansas City.

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 26.—Four persons are known to be dead, eight others are missing, two are fatally injured and fifty are suffering from hurts as the result of a fire which destroyed the Chamber of Commerce building in Kansas City early yesterday.

A single body has been recovered from the ruins, that of D. R. Young. It is known that Charles A. Lynch, a laborer, and the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. George Sparks, are dead, but their bodies have not been recovered. J. F. Branham, a wagon maker, died at an hospital yesterday.

It is thought that the total dead will be about ten.

Saves Daughter From Death.

Kingston, Oct. 26.—The Lakeview Hotel, at Portsmouth, was burned yesterday morning, due to gas in the kitchen igniting. Nothing was saved. The loss is $4,000; partly insured. A five-year-old daughter of W. B. Westlake, proprietor, was carried out by her father after she was overcome by smoke and had fallen to the floor.

Guests Barely Escape.

River Du Loup Wharf, Que., Oct. 26.—Fire broke out at about one o'clock yesterday morning in the Sanitarium Hotel, at River Du Loup Wharf, owned by J. B. E. Frenette, and quickly spread to the Hotel Venise owned and occupied by Mrs. Puize.

The Hotel Venise and G. N. W. Telegraph office, which was therein, were completely destroyed. The stables and outhouses were also reduced to ashes. The inmates of the Hotel Venise had barely time to escape in their night clothes. The fire is said to have been caused by the explosion of a lamp in the Sanitarium.

The loss by fire is estimated at about $10,000. There is said to be only $3,000 insurance.

Totally Destroyed.

Canora, Sask., Oct. 26.—The new Imperial Hotel was burned down at four o'clock yesterday morning. The cause is unknown. The loss is $12,000, with no insurance.

THE CHINESE ARMY.

Notable Feature of Manoeuvres Was Portable Wireless Outfit.

Changtofu, Oct. 26.—A notable feature of the autumn manoeuvres of the Chinese imperial army has been the presence in the field of portable wireless telegraphy apparatus carried upon light wagons and so adjusted that it can be erected in less than 30 minutes.

Experienced military observers are of the opinion that with the exception of certain minor defects and making allowances for the fact that these operations were an experiment, the manoeuvres were almost equal to those conducted in European countries.

The artillery and the principal equipment of the troops were manufactured in Japan.

It is estimated that the manoeuvres cost $500,000.

Zola's Ashes For Pantheon.

Paris, Oct. 26.—The French Parliament reassembled yesterday afternoon. The only business transacted was the appointment by the Senate of a commission to consider the proposition to transfer the ashes of Emile Zola to the Pantheon. Both Houses adjourned until Nov. 5, when the new Clemenceau Ministry's declaration will be ready.

Your Doctor

Can cure your Cough or Cold, no question about that, but—why go to all the trouble and inconvenience of looking him up, and then of having his prescription filled, when you can step into any drug store in Canada and obtain a bottle of SHILOH'S CURE for a quarter.

Why pay two to five dollars when a twenty-five cent bottle of SHILOH will cure you as quickly?

Why not do as hundreds of thousands of Canadians have done for the past thirty-four years: let SHILOH be your doctor whenever a Cough or Cold appears.

SHILOH will cure you, and all druggists back up this statement with a positive guarantee.

Synopsis Of Canadian North-West HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the North-west Provinces, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land is situate.

Homestead Duties.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:—

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act, as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Application for patent should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of his intention to do so.

ABIDE WITH ME.

O Lord, Thou knowest, lost Thou not
How many times I have forgot,
To love Thee best, and in my soul,
Leave all to Thine own free control?

When undismayed by any fear
I draw in sweet communion near,
My heart finds rest, why should it be?
I am not always close to Thee.

A storm-tossed bark, I start aside
And leave my shelter where I ride,
To find myself estranged, deceived,
My comforts crossed, Thy Spirit grieved

Restrain my wandering, let me feel
That Thy warm love in woe and weal
Shines through the storm and lights the calm;
A rainbow—God's encircling arm.

Close, closer keep, let every day
That lengthens life prolong Thy stay;
Then for the sake of Him who died
For ever, Comforter, abide!

S. S. LESSON.

Lesson IV., October 28. — Jesus Anointed in Bethany.—Matt. 26 6—16.

Golden Text.—"She hath wrought a good work upon me."—Matt. 26, 10.

BETWEEN THE LESSONS.

Chronologically our lesson text belongs before the lessons which we have already studied this quarter. It follows lesson X. of the last quarter. After his conversation with Zacchaeus, Jesus delivered the parable of the Pounds, at Jericho. He then went with His disciples to Bethany, arriving on Friday. Here He was the guest at a supper on the Saturday evening before His crucifixion.

CRITICAL NOTES.

6. Bethany.' Where Jesus was in the habit of lodging at night during this week, Matt. 21: 17; Mark 11: 19; Luke 21: 37. Simon the leper. Perhaps one of those whom Jesus had healed of the leprosy. The epithet may have clung to him after he was cured. Compare Matthew the publican, still called so after he had ceased to collect taxes, and Simon the zealot Matt. 10: 3; Luke 6: 15. He may have been akin, by blood or marriage, to Martha; but that she served (John 12: 2) scarcely proves that the supper (ch. 13: 2) was given in her house. Luke 10: 38.

7. A woman. Mary, the sister of Martha and Lazarus. John 12: 3. An alabaster cruse. A general name for a perfumery vessel. They were commonly made of a light gray, translucent limestone. This particular flask contained a Roman pound. Ch. 12: 4. Ointment. Of nard. Mark 14: 3. She poured it upon his head. An attention not infrequently shown to a guest. Ps. 23: 5; Song of Solomon. 1: 12; Luke 7, 46.

8. They had indignation saying. Judas Iscariot was the principal faultfinder, and perhaps the only speaker; but others shared the feeling. John John 12: 4-6.

9. Might have been sold for much. "For above three hundred shilling." Mark 14: 5.

12. She did it, consciously or unconsciously, to prepare me for burial. John 19: 39, 40. Perhaps, with woman's intuition, she understood remarks that others comprehended not. Matt. 16: 21; 20; 17-19; 21: 38, 39; 25: 14; 26: 2.

13. Wheresoever this gospel shall be preached in the whole world. The evangelization of the world lay within the knowledge and intention of Jesus. Ch. 24: 14; 28: 19.

14. Judas Iscariot, went unto the chief priests. Judas was already avaricious and a thief. John 12: 6. He was prompted by Satan. Luke 22: 3. The act was deliberate. The proposal came from him, not from the chief priests. The last step was taken in association with Satan. John 13: 27.

To-morrow In City's Churches

The majority of the church pulpits to-morrow will be occupied by the regular pastors, now that the Baptist Convention preachers have left the city. An event of much interest in local church circles is the appearance here of Rev. a designation used by her until 1864, when "George Geith, of Fen Court," the novel which made her name, appeared. Thenceforth her literary reputation was fully established, and she continued to write under her own name. Between 1861 and 1902 she wrote upwards of thirty novels, and many of them passed into a second and third edition. Her last, entitled "Poor Fellow," appeared in 1902. Her best known novels were: — "George Geith," "City and Suburb," "Maxwell Drewitt," "Austin Friars," "Mitre Court," and "The Head of the Firm." For several years from 1867 Mrs. Riddell was co-proprietor and editor of the now defunct St. James' Magizine. She likewise edited a magizine called Home, and wrote stories for the Christian Knowledge Society and for Routledge's Christmas Annuals, while in 1874 she revised Sir C. P. Roney's "How to Spend a Month in Ireland."

A struggle with two lunatics who made a determined attempt to hang themselves occurred recently at Blackwater, County Wexford. Patrick Leonard, of Askasilla, and another man named Simon Cullen were both observed entering an outhouse by some neighbours, whose suspicions were aroused by the strange conduct of the men some time previously. Accordingly the latter hastened to the house, and there found the men making a rope fast to the rafters, and expressing determination to hang themselves. The men at once closed with the would-be suicides, and eventually overpowered them.

A few days ago a sad sequel to a roadside dance occurred at Duffy's Cross, County Louth, by which a man named James Dooley lost his life. A dance was in progress, when a man named Duffy came along and made a remark to the effect that the girls taking part in it ought to be at home instead of there. Dooley, who was passing, and had two daughters in the dance, resented the remark, which resulted in an altercation, ending in a fight. In the course of the latter Dooley was either knocked down or fell, becoming unconscious, and dying almost immediately.

Frenzied because her husband was convicted of a small offence at the Belfast police Court, Clara Wilkinson murdered her 7-months-old daughter a few days ago. Her husband's offence preyed on her mind to such an extent that she carried the child to the Springfield dam, about a mile from her home, and threw it into the water. when charged she admitted throwing the child into the dam, and added: "I did it because my man deceived me. He would never tell me anything. I know he is fond of the child, and that is the only thing I could do to make him feel."

A brutal outrage was committed a few days ago at Cutteen, near Ennis, Clare, on Michael Woulfe. While picking hazel nuts a number of revolver shots were fired at Mr. Woulfe, two striking him in the thigh and side. A couple of men then made their appearance, and as Woulfe lay on the ground they beat and jumped upon him until he became unconscious. He recovered consciousness after a considerable time, and though much weakened by loss of blood, he managed to struggle to his home, some distance away, where thet wo revolver bullets were extracted.

SCOTLAND

The unveiling of the Clan Lamont Momorial in Argyllshire, a few days ago, added another interest to the busy little Cowal town. The monument has been set up by the Clan Lamont Society to commemorate those of the name who fell in the Dunoon massacre of 1646, which was a much more serious outrage than the similar massacres of Glencoe, which took place half a century later. While the massacre of Glencoe was perpetrated by the Campbells of Bredalbane, the massacre of Dunoon was the work of the Campbells of Argyll. The strongholds of Toward and Ascog were besieged, and after a stort defence were forced to surrender. Then the Lamonts, 200 of them, were taken to Dunoon, and in violation of the terms of surrender were horribly put to death. Thirty-six gentlemen of the clan were hanged on an ash tree, and the rest were dirked, kicked to death, buried while half alive, and otherwise atrociously massacred. Great difficulty was found in transporting the monument from the sculptors' yard in Glasgow to Dunoon. It weighs some 4 1-2 tons, and the regular steamers had no appliances strong enough to handle it. An attempt was made to send it by road, but its weight crushed through the culverts, and it stuck altogether on the steep ascent in Glencoe. Finally, it was brought back by rail from Arrochar, shipped at Bowling, and boarded at high tide at Dunoon.

A great sea monster was observed off the Stonehaven coast, near Dunottar Castle, a few days ago. A party of volunteers, members of the shooting teams of Stonehaven and Portlethen Deeside Highlanders and the Aberdeen Engineers were taking part in a triangular match, when one of their number observed a commotion in the otherwise calm sea. A huge body appeared above the surface, and as it was less than a mile off, the Volunteers were able, by means of field-glasses, to make out that it was some sort of sea monster. As far as could be judged, its length was 50 yards. The body was narrow and of dark brown colour, and was surmounted by a number of short fins, with protuberances, probably two or three, on each side of the main fin. The monster was going northwest at the rate of six miles an hour, and it remained above water for half a minute at a time. It did not blow as it came to the surface, and those who saw it are quite convinced that it was not a shoal of porpoises. It was sighted for half an hour. The sea monster was also observed the same night about 200 yards off Stonehaven beach. The monster encountered a ledge of rocks, called the Brichans, and rose high in the air, but, finding its way impeded, fell back into the water.

A curious subterranean chamber was discovered a few days ago in the middle of a corn field, not far from the ruins of Crichton Castle, Midlothian. Originally the home of red-haired men with abnormally long arms, this Pictish dwelling was discovered by the mere accident of a horse's hoof going through the soil when ploughing. The chamber was entered by a short flight of steps, and was built of long slabs of stone, without mortar of any kind. There is an extraordinary suggestion of Assyrian workmanship about the bird, but this can only be a coincidence. Eminent Orientalists have been called in, and have failed to solve the mystery of this strange bit of Pictish carving, which may be contemporary with some of the most famous statues of antiquity.

Mr. Henry Whyte, better known by his pen-name of "Fionn," has received a Civil List pension of £50 a year "in consideration of his services to Gaelic literature." Mr. Whyte, who is a native of Lorn, Argyllshire, has been long resident in Glasgow, where he is much esteemed among his fellow Gaels. He commenced to contribute to the "Gael" in the early seventies. Since then he has published such popular works as the "Celtic Garland," the "Celtic Lyre," (a collection of Gaelic songs with music), "Leabhar na Ceilidh" (a collection of popular Gaelic readings), "The Martial Music of the Clans," and a volume of "True Tails," translated from English to Gaelic.

In the Longforgan parish church, near Dundee, there is an old tombstone in perfect preservation, dated 1400 A.D., to the memory of one Dame Margaret Golightly, of that parish. A full length portrait of of Dame Golightly (whoever she may have been) is carved on the stone. The stone was unearthed about five years ago, and the Rev. Niel K. Mackenzie, the present incumbent of the parish, has now had it placed on a pedestal inside the church.

THE EDUCATION BILL.

Before the House of Lords for Detailed Debate—May Lead to Fierce Parliamentary Fight.

London, Oct. 26.—The crucial stage of the education bill was reached yesterday, when the measure came before the House of Lords for detailed debate.

Unless the peers should decide to postpone consideration of the bill until a judicial decision is rendered upon the question of the liability of local educational bodies for the expenses of religious education, the Upper House is likely to be the scene for some time to come of the bitterest legislative fight witnessed in the British Parliament of recent years.

Contentious Points Bristle.

The bill bristles with contentious points, but the main battle centres on the clauses relating to religious instruction.

The Liberals are allegedly immovably pledged that there shall be no denominational teaching at the public expense, while the Unionists, under the leadership of great church dignitaries, both Church of England and Catholic, are outwardly as unalterably determined to amend it so that children of parents belonging to these churches shall have denominational religious instruction during school hours.

The debate is expected to last three weeks.

HE FLEW 50 METRES.

M. Santos-Dumont Wins the Archdeacon Cup at Paris.

New York, Oct. 25.—The Herald prints the following special despatch from Paris:

M. Santos-Dumont won the Archdeacon Cup yesterday on the field at Bagatelle, with his Bird of Prey, a flying machine. Not only did he succeed in covering the necessary 25 metres, but in the opinion of every competent witness summoned in council immediately after the flight, it was agreed that he left the ground well even 50 metres from the point where he descended. His flight was free, with sustained balance. There was no hesitation.

The Deutsch-Archdeacon prize is worth $10,000. It was promised to the first aerial appliance which, unsupported by gas, should make a circle of at least one kilometre without coming to the ground.

BANK DIRECTORS RESIGN.

Curator Stavert Calls Meeting of Shareholders For Dec. 11.

Toronto, Oct. 25.—W. E. Stavert, the curator in charge of the Ontario Bank, last evening announced that the curator and the board of advisors had decided to call a meeting of the shareholders on Dec. 11.

The board of directors of the Ontario Bank held a meeting yesterday and placed their resignations before the bank for acceptance. They will be acted upon at the meeting of the shareholders.

It is the understanding of many that the Ontario Bank has ceased to be a corporation, but it was stated that the Ontario Bank is still in existence, and that the resignation of the present board of directors necessitates the election of a new board. The Bank of Montreal has merely taken over certain assets and liabilities of the bank and has not absorbed it.

The preliminary enquiry into the ways and means by which the Ontario Bank was put to the bad will commence in police court to-morrow, when Charles McGill, who was general manager, and G. R. R. Cockburn, president, will appear.

A TORONTO MAN TRIES

SOMETHING NEW AND IS DELIGHTED. FEELS LIKE A BOY.

MR. M. N. DAFOE

Mr. M. N. Dafoe, Manager The Dustless Brush Co., 29 Colborne St., Toronto, is telling his friends how he found health after years of illness and pain. He says: "I have been a great sufferer from dyspepsia for many years. I have been treated by local doctors and have taken nearly all the advertised remedies, with only temporary relief, if any at all but since using Anti-Pill I can eat anything, the same as when a boy. I have been taking one Anti-Pill at bedtime for the past three months, and find they regulate both stomach and bowels. My old time vigor has returned, so that my spirits are buoyant and temper normal. As a result of this unhoped-for experience I am duty bound to give all credit to this wonderful remedy, Anti-Pill."

Every druggist sells Dr. Leonhardt's Anti-Pill, or a sample will be sent free by the Wilson-Fyle Co., Limited, Niagara Falls, Ont.

The remedy that cured Mr. Dafoe so completely is surely worth a trial. 502

Suicided In Chicago.

Chicago, Oct. 25.—William S. Steward, 30 years old, whose home was at 26 Willcocks street, Toronto, Ont., committed suicide Tuesday night by shooting himself at the Saratoga Hotel. Steward had been making a tour of the west with Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Cloud, of Rochester, N. Y.

Toronto, Oct. 25.—Steward lived with his mother at 26 Willcocks street. His father, who was in the drug business, died ten years ago, left him a considerable sum of money and the son retired from the business as commercial traveler and took to a life of ease. His uncle, J. J. Hornibrook, left for Chicago yesterday.

Needs Law To Prevent Practice Of Rebating

Mr. Macaulay Declares a Law to Be a Necessity.

INFLUENCE OF EXPOSURES

Everybody Will Now Ask For a Rebate—Secretary of Sun Life Wants Insurance Companies to Be Left More to Their Own Initiative Respecting Reserves — President Gets $20,000, Secretary $15,000.

Montreal, Oct. 26.—The examination of the Sun Life was concluded yesterday afternoon here by the insurance commission. To-day the last company to figure in the proceedings in Montreal, the Royal Victoria, will come up.

Dominion Counsel Shepley said that to-day would finish the work of the commission in this city.

The commission will meet in Ottawa on Wednesday next to conclude necessary preliminaries before making up their report to Parliament.

The last session of the Sun Life examination was interesting, as showing the actuarial methods of that company, which differ materially from those of other companies in Canada. It was marked by a vigorous protest from T. B. Macaulay, secretary of the company, against the form issued by the commission to ascertain profit and loss to insurance companies.

Expense of New Business.

Witness insisted that loading was not the only item to be charged against the expense of new business, but that lapse gains and other natural sources should be added. Mr. Macaulay was one of the few witnesses yet heard by the commission to say that he was in favor of strict legislation against rebating. The law was made necessary, he said, by exposures of the prevalence of the evil, as everybody will now ask for rebate.

He also protested against the law requiring insurance companies to keep up a very high standard of reserve, and suggested something more like the British system, where companies are left more or less to their own initiative.

Mr. Shepley questioned the Sun Life secretary as to salaries in the company. For president and secretary there has been an arrangement for $1,000 increase each year since 1902. Next year the president will be getting $20,000 and the secretary $15,000.

At the conclusion of the examination by Mr. Shepley, Mr. Geary of Toronto, junior counsel for Ontario, took witness over several technical points in the evidence.

Deferred Policies.

The interests of policyholders in connection with deferred policies was the matter under discussion in the morning.

It was in 1886 that policies deferring for stock began to be shown. Mr. Macaulay said that there was nothing wrong, or immoral or objectionable in the system. He maintained that thousands of persons now insured would never have been so but for the fact that the companies have this system of insurance. The popularizing features of the scheme were that investments for the future were made far more permanent. The mortality, after five years, was marvelously low. Yet there were cases of deceit in connection with medical inspection. People had been squeezed through by the help of the doctors. In the earlier years the death rate was abnormally low. The feature in favor of deferred dividends was of persons hanging on to their policies. It made insurance more persistent.

Mr. Macaulay, in answer to the query that he appealed to the speculative interest, said he would not call it speculative.

RE. MONARCH LIFE CO.

P. Marshall Ostrom Writes to the Insurance Commission and Retires From the Field.

Winnipeg, Oct. 26.—Announcement was made here that P. Marshall Ostrom, of Toronto managing director of the Monarch Life Insurance Co., had resigned. His resignation is the direct outcome of insurance investigations.

Mr. Ostrom has sent the following communication to the insurance commission, which holds all stock that had been issued to him by Acting Vice-President Dr. Graham, which action caused so much comment before the commission:

"I desire to advise you that since testifying before your commission I have arranged with the executive of the Monarch Life Insurance Co. to retire from the company. I have also arranged with the company that all the stock filed with you, and which was issued to me, shall be handed back to Hon. Robert Rogers, chairman of the executive, and I have also arranged with the company and have surrendered all contracts of every nature and kind made by me with the company. This is to authorize you to deliver to Hon. Robert Rogers, or his appointee, all papers, etc., filed by me with the commission, also all the contracts."

Costa Rican Towns Wiped Out.

Boston, Oct. 25.—The United Fruit Co.'s steamer, which arrived yesterday from Port Timon, Costa Rica, reports that Bluefields, one of the most prosperous towns of Nicaragua, was in ruins, and that all the banana plantations had been destroyed. Little Corn, Island of Nicaragua, showed no signs of life when the steamer passed there, but Costa Rica appeared to have escaped.

Utes Looking For Trouble.

Omaha, Neb., Oct. 25.—Word was received here yesterday from the scene of the Indian depredations in Wyoming, to the effect that Capt. C. P. Johnson, with an orderly and a scout, overtook the Utes on Little Powder River. It is said the Indians absolutely refused to return to their reservation, and declared they were going to Dakota.

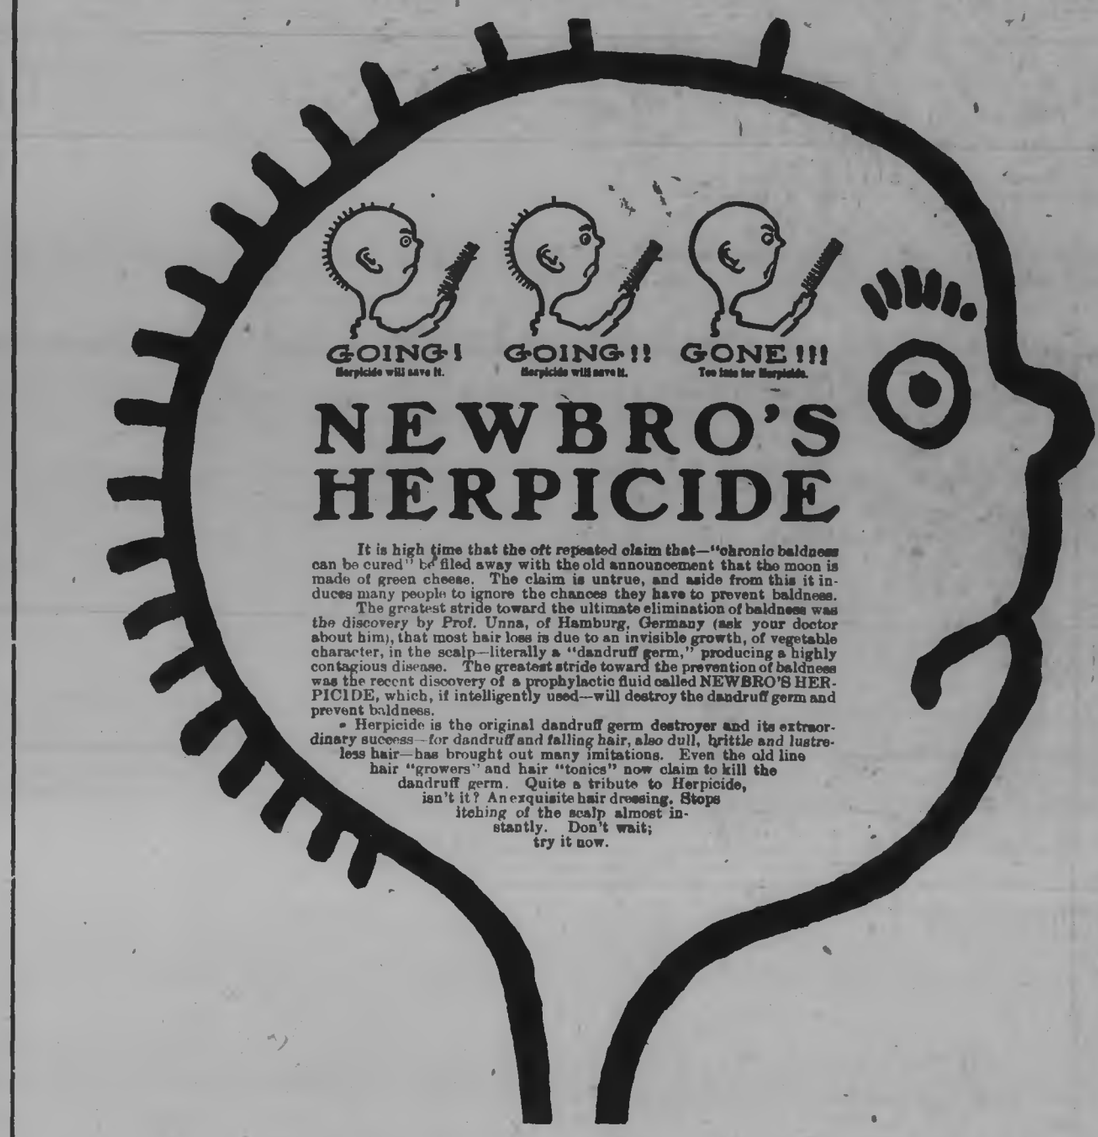
Brantford, Oct. 25.—At Brant County assizes Levi Claus, an Indian, was yesterday found guilty of rape, and sentenced to six years in Kingston Penitentiary.



NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE

It is high time that the oft repeated claim that—"chronic baldness can be cured" be filed away with the old announcement that the moon is made of green cheese. The claim is untrue, and aside from this it induces many people to ignore the chances they have to prevent baldness.

The greatest stride toward the ultimate elimination of baldness was the discovery by Prof. Unna, of Hamburg, Germany (ask your doctor about him), that most hair loss is due to an invisible growth, of vegetable character, in the scalp—literally a "dandruff germ," producing a highly contagious disease. The greatest stride toward the prevention of baldness was the recent discovery of a prophylactic fluid called NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE, which, if intelligently used—will destroy the dandruff germ and prevent baldness.

Herpicide is the original dandruff germ destroyer and its extraordinary success—for dandruff and falling hair, also dull, brittle and lustreless hair—has brought out many imitations. Even the old line hair "growers" and hair "tonics" now claim to kill the dandruff germ. Quite a tribute to Herpicide, isn't it? An exquisite hair dressing. Stops itching of the scalp almost instantly. Don't wait; try it now.

"RING" CLOSED TO HIM.

George N. Morang Tells of Non-Success in Text Book Enquiry—Much Technical Evidence.

Toronto, Oct. 25.—Questions of copyright of portions of the contents, and the comparative value of the Ontario school reading books with those of the United States, and unauthorized Canadian readers occupied the session of the Ontario School Book Commission yesterday at the Normal School. T. W. Crothers presided, and G. Lynch-Staunton examined the witnesses, who were all from the Morang Publishing Co., Limited.

Harry L. Grantham gave evidence of the cost of the Ontario reading books. Part I., First Reader, cost 3 9-10 cents, and sold for 10 cents. Part II. cost 5 1-10 cents, and sold for 15 cents. The books were poorly made. The Second Reader, selling at 20 cents, cost about 8 cents. The Third Reader cost 10 1-8 cents, and sold for 30 cents. The Fourth Reader cost 12 1-8 cents, and sold for 40 cents. It was very inferior. He contrasted the superior quality and higher cost of the Morang series, which were sold at the same prices as the others, and which were entirely produced in Canada.

A good deal of technical evidence as to the weight and quality of paper used, the style of binding, type, illustrations, and cost of electro-plates, was given, all reflecting disparagingly on the Ontario series.

George N. Morang told how he tried to get a contract with the Government for the publication of the Ontario readers, he had been refused. No satisfactory explanation had been given him by the Government of his non-success in breaking into what was several times during his evidence referred to as "the ring," which consisted of the Gage Co., the Canada Publishing Co. and the Copp, Clark Co. The agreement between these companies and the Government, he understood, allowed the latter to have the books published elsewhere than with the firms in the agreement. Notwithstanding this, he failed to get any guarantee that if he printed the readers he would not be molested by people who had copyrights on various matter in the book, nor could he get a list of those holding the copyrights, so as to negotiate with them. Mr. Ross had agreed, however, to authorize the use of primers issued by the Morang Co.

J. C. Saul, with four years' experience with Morang and Co., and knowledge of conditions in Manitoba and the United States, testified in the afternoon.

The commission will sit again this morning.

WEAK MEN AND WOMEN

The Most Perfect Restorative Known and Invigorating Tonic Vitalizer —Greatest Health-Renewer

Nature's greatest cure for weak, pale men and women is Ferrozone. It is invaluable for run-down, overworked, delicate people, and will restore them to robust health more quickly, at smaller expense, than any other tonic you can select.

We quote the following cases to show what Ferrozone has done for others. In your case it will act just as efficiently:—

FOR BUSINESS MEN

The Experience of a Well-known Lawyer Proves Ferrozone an Ideal Tonic.

Mr. N. W. Burke, a well known lawyer in Meriden, says:—"When I first took Ferrozone I was in a nervous run down condition, almost sick enough to give up work. I lacked strength, and felt as if I could not get down to work. Ferrozone at once gave me a good appetite, and drove away the nervous, apprehensive feelings that formerly made my life miserable. As I continued the use of Ferrozone I grew stronger, and am glad to say it has brought me back to perfect health. I know that Ferrozone is an excellent tonic for business men and people inclined to a sedentary life. I can recommend it to such."

FOR NERVOUS WOMEN

Nothing Compares With the Nerve-Strengthening Power of Ferrozone.

Mrs. E. D. Emmerson, of Centreville, says:—"I am glad to think that there is at least one honest remedy for nervous people. No one can imagine what I suffered with my nerves, and I sometimes wonder at the number of useless prescriptions and medicines I took. But Ferrozone acted differently from all the rest. It built up my system, and gradually the irritability left my nerves, and I got well. Ferrozone cured me by removing the cause of my trouble, and by giving me enough additional strength to overthrow the attack of nervousness. I can recommend Ferrozone strongly."

THOUSANDS ANNUALLY CURED BY FERROZONE

If you want to get well and keep well, by all means use Ferrozone. If you suffer from insomnia, nervousness, debility, loss of appetite, poor digestion, or any other symptom of disordered blood, nothing will tone up and vitalize your system like Ferrozone. Price 50c per box, or six boxes for $2.50. Sold by all druggists, or sent safely by mail to any address if price is forwarded to N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., or Kingston, Ont.

Discussion Waxed Warm At The Joint Meeting

Three Bodies Jointly Discuss Sanitary Inspector Problem—Do Not All Agree.

Board of Health Must First Define the Duties of the Proposed Official.

Repartee Between Medical Health Officer and Chairman Shall There be Two Inspectors?

Aldermen, Water Commissioners, and members of the Board of Health, gathered together last night in the city clerk's office, to jointly discuss the proposition of the appointment of a sanitary inspector — a question by no means a novel one. The opinions naturally were varied, and itt took considerable discussion and manoeuvring to arrive at a resolution satisfactory to all. The question of having two men to perform the work of inspection also arose, but no action will be taken before the Board of Health have specifically defined the duties of the proposed inspector.

Similar insinuations as were made at the Board of Health meeting the other morning against the competency of the present Medical Health Officer, were voiced last night by the chairman of the Board of Health and other members. Dr. Bingham, however, defied the chairman to point out any negligence in his duties, and for a time the discussion waxed hot.

Ald. Ball stoutly defended the Medical Health Officer, and believed that there were too many inexperienced men, just out of college, who had more cheek than brains.

The members of the council present were: Mayor Best, Aldermen Elliott, Graham, Wilson, McWilliams, Johnston, McIntyre, Adams, Mason, Ball; Board of Health, Mr. Wm. Eyres, chairman; Dr. McNulty, Mr. R. Neill, and Dr. Bingham, Medical Health Officer; Water Commissioners, Messrs. T. F. Matthews, W. H. Hill, and W. Henderson.

On motion of the Mayor and Mr. Neill, Mr. Eyres was elected to take the chair. He asked in opening, "Shall we take up the Isolation Hospital question, or shall we consider the other matter first?"

The Mayor informed him that the meeting was called to consider the appointment of an inspector to look after the water supply on behalf of the health of the citizens.

Mr. Eyres then reviewed the stand which the Board of Health had taken in reference to the pollution of the waters of the upper lakes, and of the Otonabee River. He looked upon the appointment of an inspector as a necessity, and asked what the council would do in the matter.

Ald. Johnston suggested that the Water Commissioners be heard with regard to the proposition.

To Ald. McWilliam's question, Mr. Eyres said that the Board of Health was unanimous on the question, and had passed a resolution requesting the council to make the appointment.

Mr. Matthews asked what jurisdiction the commissioners had in the matter of water supply.

The chairman said that the commissioners had power, as far as the provincial authorities saw there was danger, and this was from Stony Lake down to the city.

Mr. Matthews thought that it was highly desirable that an inspector should be appointed, but did not know what the commissioners had to do with it.

Mr. Neill said that the great trouble with the Board of Health was that there was no machinery to intelligently put before the people to show what was wrong with the milk or water.

He said that he had been in Brantford a short time ago, and was talking to the sanitary inspector there, who, he said, received $800 a year. His duties were to look after the cleanliness of all property. Mr. Neill also visited the Medical Health Officer. He received $1200 per year. The doctor informed him that the Medical Health Department had all the necessary authority to look after the milk and water used in the city, and had authority to have men see that all closets, etc., were kept clean. He thought that the same machinery would be most beneficial in Peterborough. The amount of money expended, he considered, would be little, compared with the better health the city would enjoy as a whole.

An Inspector Needed

"The pollution of the waters," said Mr. Matthews, "can only be remedied by the appointment of an inspector, and he should be under the Board of Health." He also stated that personally he thought that considering the state of the water he would favour the appointment of an inspector.

Dr. McNulty

Dr. McNulty's opinion was that some one should be appointed to look after the water above the intake dam. The flow of water between Lakefield and the city was not sufficient to cause the water to purify itself, and he considered it pro-

The deer-hunting season will open on Thursday of next week, a fact that is perfectly evident to every one who gets within hearing distance of any of the merry band of Peterborough hunters who, every year about this time, fly from business and home ties to live the simple life in the northern woods. The indications this year point to an unusually large exodus, and if the reports from the north are to be believed, the sport this year will be of the highest quality. One gentleman was heard to say that a few days ago he was throwing stones at the deer "just to see them leap."

A story from the north is authority for the statement that the farmers in the deer-hunting districts have prepared labels reading, "This is a cow," with some hope of saving the animals from destruction. Peterborough sportsmen have, however, learned to distinguish between a deer and a cow, and these signs will be largely superfluous. It might be mentioned for the benefit of novices that although there are indications of a violent outbreak of buck fever," that this will not result in camps being quarantined.

The preparations being made for the annual exodus are most elaborate. The hunter, with all his longing for the life in the woods, is anxious to make that life as comfortable as possible, and no provision that will add to the convenience of the camp will be neglected. The first few days of next week will see many of the parties already in camp and ready to get out early on Thursday morning. Meanwhile guns are being cleaned, ammunition bought, and all the other details attended to, including the purchase of a license, one of the most essential of all. As a result, Lieut.-Col. Miller, who is the issuer of licenses this year, has been busy in supplying the nimrods with the necessary papers. Needless to say, a plentiful supply of butter-milk is not neglected, when preparations are being made for the camp.

It is to be hoped that there will be no accidents to record. Peterborough sportsmen have the reputation of being careful with their weapons, and this reputation should be sustained this year. "Look before you shoot" is a good motto

Otonabee Sheep Again Worried By Hungry Dogs

Farmers are Gradually Giving Up Sheep Raising—An Important Question to be Considered.

Otonabee sheep-owners have again been molested by the hungry mongrels that are continually roaming about the country. During the past week Messrs. Jackson and David Crowley have had their sheep chased and torn by dogs. Last night Mr. J. J. Howden's fold was visited, and this morning he found a sheep hiding for safety in another resident's doorway.

These conditions have been existing for some time, not only in Otonabee but in Smith and North Monaghan townships, and the farmers are beginning to believe it opportune time that the Government was doing something to alleviate the epidemic.

The two former farmers named above, have stated their intentions of going out of sheep raising, complaining that it is impossible to make any profit under the present existing conditions. This has also been the chief reason for so few farmers sticking to the sheep-raising industry, which a few years ago was an important one.

It was suggested to the Examiner by a prominent sheep-raiser this morning that the Farmers' Institute deal with the problem in the annual tour through the country, and place before the Government the importance of the propagation of the industry.

Allen Young Saves Boy From Drowning

Mate of Steamer Water Lily Rescued Youngster Who Fell Off Wolfe Street Wharf Yesterday.

Mr. Allan Young, the genial mate on the steamer Water Lily, yesterday saved the life of one of the numerous small boys that make the Wolfe street wharf a stumping ground. The boy, whose name is unknown, fell off the wharf at the extreme south end, near the Matthews Company packing house, and had gone down a second time, when Mr. Young caught him and landed him on the wharf. The water at this time of the year being very cold, the boy, thinly clad, presented a pitiful spectacle, being nearly perished with the cold. This should prove a warning to the small boys to keep away from the river, especially at this time of the year. There may not always be a protecting angel, as Mr. Young proved himself to be yesterday, near at hand to rescue the foolhardy youngsters who frequent this spot, which seems to have a peculiar fascination for them.

The Lift Lock Lodge Of Rebekahs Formed

A New and Flourishing Organization Brought Into Being Last Night—Lindsay Ladies Here

With an initial membership of 53, Lift Lock Rebekah Lodge was instituted last night in the Oddfellows' Hall, and the prospects for its future success are bright indeed. The ladies are taking a deep interest in the new lodge, and a large number of additional members will be received in the near future, a considerable number of applications for membership having been laid over from last night's meeting.

Miss Ida J. Robins, of Hamilton, president of the Rebekah Assembly of Ontario, was the instituting officer, and she was assisted by Mr. A. H. Blackaby, of Kingston. The degree team of Kawartha Lodge, Lindsay, was present, and conferred the degrees on the candidates.

It was decided to meet on the first and third Fridays of each month.

The officers elected at the meeting last night were:

Noble Grand—Mrs. A. Gibbs.
Vice-Grand—Mrs. L. Jackson.
Recording-Secretary — Mrs. Parsons.
Financial Secretary—Mrs. M. Watt.
Treasurer—Miss Mann.
Warden—Mrs. Henderson.
Conductor—Miss Murduff
Inside Guard—Mrs. Monrison.
Outside Guard—Mr. W. S. Robinson.
R. S. of G.—Mrs. E. Hartley.
L. S. of G.—Mrs. Batten.
Chaplain—Mrs. Sills.
R. S. of V. G.—Mrs. M. Freehurn.
L. S. of V. G.—Mrs. W. S. Dodd.

JUDGESHIP AND CITY SOLICITORSHIP PROSPECTS OF PETERBOROUGH MEN

Mayor May, of Edmonton, States that Mr. N. D. Beck is Likely to be Given Former.

His Successor as City Solicitor Will Probably be Mr. E. B. Edwards, He Intimates.

Peterborough Men Who Are Forging to the Front in New Capital of Alberta.

"Your Peterborough men are getting along well in Edmonton," remarked Mayor May, of that city, to The Examiner last night, just as he was leaving the city for the West, after having spent twelve very pleasant hours in Peterborough. In support of this statement, he indicated that Mr. N. D. Beck, who accompanied him to the city, and who is at present City Solicitor of Edmonton, would, in the near future, be given a judgeship in Alberta.

City Solicitorship

His promotion to this position will in all probability result in the selection of Mr. E. B. Edwards as his successor in the position of City Solicitor.

Mr. Edwards' reputation as a municipal lawyer has preceded him to the West, and Mayor May was of the opinion that in case the position was vacated, as he expected it would be, shortly, Mr. Edwards would be the man chosen to fill it.

Municipal Ownership

Mr. May stated that the people of his city could see nothing but municipal ownership now. The city's experience so far was very satisfactory. The profits from the electric lighting plant, after paying interest and sinking fund, and allowing for depreciation of plant and operating expenses, was $9,000, while from the telephone system, with a very reasonable rate for the West, of $20 and $25, there was a profit of $5,000. With a few such revenue-producers, the ratepayers would have no taxes to pay.

City Spending Money

But there is not much prospect of that happy state being reached yet. Municipal improvements, costing many thousands of dollars, are being undertaken, the mayor stating that at present the city had for sale $500,000 of debentures.

The new Government buildings in the city will be erected at an estimated cost of $1,000,000, which, with all the other buildings in course of construction, or to be erected in the near future, will mean that there will be plenty of work for all who want it.

Peterborough Branch A Profitable One

Ontario Bank Shareholder Says Business Here Would Soon Make Up Loss—A Meeting Proposed.

Examiner Special.

Toronto, Oct. 27.—Mr. Cephas Good, one of the shareholders of the Ontario Bank, is taking steps to bring about a meeting of those who, like himself, are directly interested in the disposition of the bank's stock and assets.

"I would like to obtain a list of the bank's shareholders," said Mr. Good this morning, "for they have never been consulted directly in this matter. I have interviewed several of them, and we have come to the conclusion that it is time for us to assert ourselves. A prominent banker in this city approached me with the statement that he would pay $500,000 for the bank's assets. I'm positive that if the shareholders had been consulted in this matter, the bank would not be in its present condition. I, for one, would have been willing to double my stock in the emergency. The bank has the best branch system of any in Canada, and the Peterborough Lindsay and other similar agencies do sufficient business to make up the alleged loss in time."

Lightning Struck River At Orillia

And Gave McDonald A Close Call At Ragged Rapids Dam.

Examiner Special

Orillia, Oct. 26.—A workman named McDonald, in the employ of the contractors at the Ragged Rapids, had a close call during a thunder storm the other day.

The wires from the lightning arresters run into the water, and when a flash came the current went down these wires into the river, rendering Mr. McDonald unconscious.

Fortunately he was some distance from the wires, and the current had spread out in the river, and he did not receive the full shock, or he would likely have been killed instantly.

Child Was Run Over By Milk Cart

Infant of Mrs. Jordan was Badly Injured

A little child aged one and one-half years of Mrs. Jordon, corner of George and Sherbrooke streets, was badly injured yesterday morning. The little one was crossing George street when a milkman driving south on George street, drove his vehicle over the child. A passerby picked up the infant and carried him into his home. Dr. McNulty was summoned and attended to its injuries. The child was badly shaken up and sustained several injuries around the legs.

Presentation Of Prizes To Be Held

Collegiate Institute Philomathean Society Will Meet

On Monday afternoon the Philomathean Society of the Peterborough Collegiate Institute will meet, when the presentation of the prizes won at the recent field day of sports will take place. The meeting will be held in the Y.M.C.A. Hall at 4.15 o'clock, and it is likely that there will be a large attendance. The cups will be presented to the senior and junior champions, Allan Bravoundor and Wallace Armstrong. In addition, there are a number of other prizes to be presented.

DR. C. E. COUGHLIN
Who Has Been Appointed Superintendent of the Belleville Deaf and Dumb Institute.

Locks Will Close On November 10th

Lift Lock and Burleigh Locks Will be Closed to Navigation for the Season on that Date—A Record Year.

Orders were issued to-day from the office of the superintendent of the Trent Canal to close the lift lock, and the locks at Burleigh for the season on Saturday, Nov. 10th, and after that date neither of those locks will be used again this season. The Burleigh locks will be repaired during the interval between the time of the closing and the opening of navigation next year. The original intention was to close these locks on Oct. 15th, but a request from the steamboat men to keep it open later was favourably considered. Its operation until Nov. 10th will greatly facilitate the navigation interests of the lakes.

The lift lock will be put into shape for the season immediately after its closing. This season has been by far the busiest since the lock was opened, and it is a matter for congratulation that the whole season has passed, without an accident so far as the lock itself is concerned.

Considerable freight traffic will pass over the lock during the next two weeks before it is placed out of commission.

Boys Refuse to Kiss Their Titled Mother

Examiner Special

Munich, Germany, October 27.—The Countess Montignoso, who was the Crown Princess Louise of Saxony, and who eloped with the tutor of her sons in 1903, wept to-day when her children refused to embrace her when they met. The Countess had come here for the special purpose of seeing her two sons, and when she met them she rushed up to them with widely extended arms. They bowed politely and treated their mother courteously, but that was all. They positively refused her embraces, and declined to kiss her either at meeting or parting.

The interview, which was quite long, and which took place at the Continental Hotel was pathetic in the extreme. During most of the time the Countess sobbed bitterly, while the sons remained calm and unruffled. When the Countess took her departure, they merely bowed her politely out, refused to discuss the meeting. Their greetings to their grandmother, the Grand Duchess of Tuscany, were very cordial. The Grand Duchess accompanied her daughter here for the interview, and departed from the city with her.

Dastardly Deed Which Almost Resulted Fatally

Newcastle Family Had Narrow Escape—Stove Was Blown Up With Gunpowder in Wood.

Special to The Examiner.

Newcastle, Oct. 27. — Jos. Watts and family moved into town on Tuesday, bringing his wood along with him, and last evening when firing up, his stove was blown into atoms by the explosion of gunpowder, or as some think, dynmite, concealed in one of the sticks. Fortunately but a few minutes before, one of the children who had been lying down near the stove resting, arose and removed farther away from it, else the dastardly deed might have resulted in the loss of life. This is one step even in advance of the human depravity that led another specimen of our humanity a short time ago to mix paris green with the salt a farmer placed in the field for his cows.

Peterborough Boy Meets Death On Buffalo Steamer

His Father Wanted, to Take Action for Damages Against Owner—Kindly Inform the Examiner.

The Examiner is looking for information regarding Walter Crew, a former resident of Peterborough, who is wanted by a Buffalo attorney, to inquire into the circumstances of his son's death. A letter which is published below, was received this morning by the Chief of Police, asking him to assist in the hunt for Mr. Crew, sr., who once lived here, and who married a Peterborough lady.

The boy who was about 15 years of age, was killed on a steamer on which he was working through negligence on the part of the owners, and an action for damages can only be taken by the boy's father.

The Examiner requests any person who knows, or remembers, Mr. Crew to kindly inform the editor of the fact.

The following is the letter Chief Roszel has received:

Chief of Police,
Peterborough, Ont.:

Dear Sir:—On September 19, '00, in the Buffalo Harbour, a young man named Thos. J. Crew, aged 15 years, met his death through the negligence of the owners of a certain boat on which he was working. The only person living who can bring an action to recover damages by reason of his death, is his father, who in 18— or thereabouts, lived in Peterborough. Some time after, 1895, he married a lady who lived in Peterborough, and whose name I do not known. The name of the child's father is Walter Crew, who is about 40 years of age or more, and for a great many years was steward on the Niagara Company's boats running from Toronto to Niagara-on-the Lake.

An uncle of the boy requested that I try and locate the father, so as to have him bring an action to recover damages on account of the boy's death.

If you can help me to locate this man I shall be very grateful to you.

Attorney-at-law,

Celebrated Their Silver Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Kempt Entertained Their Friends Last Night.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Kempt, Antrim street, last night celebrated the 25th anniversary of their marriage by a silver wedding, which proved a very enjoyable affair, indeed.

There were fifty invited guests, and the evening passed most pleasantly with the playing of various games. Miss Florence Bestard entertained the company with songs, which were greatly enjoyed. The house was tastily decorated with Union Jacks and bunting, and the tables with chrysanthemums and carnations. Many beautiful and costly presents were received by Mr. and Mrs. Kempt, testifying to the high esteem in which they are held by a wide circle of friends.

Welland Gets Cheap Light

Stark Street Lights Are $40 A Year Each

The town of Welland has adopted the Stark system of electric street lighting, at $40 per 2,000 candle-power arc lamp per year. At that rate, Peterborough would save $1,500 per year on its street lighting, the amount paid here being $50 per lamp per year. The figure is placed, net, at $47.50, by deducting the price paid for the privilege of placing poles on the street, but this deduction would apply to any figure.

CANADA'S CENTURY

When the twentieth century was in its first infant days Sir Wilfrid Laurier claimed it for Canada, and every day demonstrates the strength of his claim. The closing days of the nineteenth century gave us visions of the greatness yet to be. The young giant began to stretch his limbs in preparation to rise to new activity in national achievement, and every passing day has been marked by evidence of a new national life throbbing with the vigour of young nationhood. A new national, or if not new, a more sharply defined national spirit, developed and from coast to coast this spirit working with common impulse has been translated into fruitful action. The East has caught this spirit of energy and advance, but it is in the breezy West that the most robust and healthy optimism is in evidence. Mr. May, ite Mayor of Edmonton, who was in the city yesterday, is a type of the vigourous young Canadianism the century has developed. A few minutes' conversation with him shows that he is full of confidence in the future greatness of the West, and of Canada. He says that the much vaunted ability, enterprise, energy and "hustle" of our southern neighbours is not unique. He believes that Canadians as a class are as clever, aggressive and enterprising as the Yankees, with moral qualities which give the former an advantage. Experience has proved the truth of this. In the days when the United States owned the nineteenth century and Canada had her dark days, thousands of Canadians sought the United States, and in a thousand cases out of a thousand and one, they have forged to the front in competition with the boasted cleverness and "hustle" of the Yankees. In the Northwest to-day the conditions are reversed, the shrewd Yankee is invading Canada, and in no way is he showing himself superior. As Mayor May says, Canadians can learn nothing in the way of enterprise, energy, ability and business aggressiveness, from the people of the United States. In the West where there is the most marvellous quickening of national growth the Canadian—generally an offshoot of solid old Ontario stock—is, so to speak, the man behind the gun. With such elements to work with, with such resources as Canada possesses, and as yet only sampled, there is the greatest warrant for conceding the twentieth century to Canada. We can offer homes to the world and the world is taking our offer. We get the best of our new population from the British Isles, and the United States—the Anglo-Saxon and Anglo-Celtic strains, world beaters in all that is best in civilizing qualities and nation-building. Many seem to fear that the Northwest will become "Americanized," but Mayor May thinks the leaven is working the other way. He says that Americans come into the Northwest and make splendid citizens—but more than that in political significance—splendid subjects; they take the oath of allegiance, and with the resulting Canadian citizenship, Canadian aspirations and sympathies. We, who play the game, do not, perhaps see as much of it as onlookers. The third son of Right Hon. W. E. Gladstone, has just completed a tour of Canada and from what he saw of American farmers in the West he thinks their coming to Canada is of immense advantage to this country. He also says that he was immensely struck with the activity of the people of Canada, and the extraordinary prospects for the future. He says it is evident that we have some big brains connected with the development of the country not only in railways but in commerce and industry. He concluded an interview by asserting that when he reaches the Old Country he will have no hesitation in recommending all his friends to come out here and invest their money. We have four-ply reason for an optimistic outlook into the unfolding century. We have unbounded national resources. We have the native courage, ability and enterprise of our people. We have won the good opinion of our neighbours to the south of us, who by thousands and tens of thousands see in Canada, not a hostile country, but a land of promise, a field for profitable employment of capital. We have conquered the insular prejudices of our solid British cousins, whose bulging eyes, as they look upon the unexpected greatness and possibilities of Canada push off the scales of insular blindness. Then with two of the greatest national communities in the world holding us and our capabilities in the highest favour as a land for making happy homes, a boundless field for development and industrial enterprise, a fruitful field not only for earth-grown crops, but for the planting of capital—with these two great nations and their influence coming our way with our country, climate and native energy there is ample reason for hoping for the fulfilment of Mayor May's prophecy, that at the end of the twentieth century Canada as she rolls into 2000, will be as much ahead of the Canada of 1899, as the United States is now in advance of this country in population and material development—the points where superiority ceases.

THE TARIFF CHANGES

Brockville Recorder.

The people are waiting with considerable anxiety the decision of the Dominion Government on the tariff question. Members of the Cabinet have traversed the Dominion gleaning information on this question, so that the Government might know something of public feeling concerning it.

The truth about the tariff is that we are protectionists in what we have to sell, but free traders in what we have to buy. The manufacturers may resolute till doomsday and talk about preference, but they are opposed to any preference to Britain, whenever this preference affects the price of the goods they have to sell. They want free trade in their raw material and protection on their finished product. They want to buy in an open market and sell in the protected preserve. Human nature is about the same in every department. The most persistent violaters of the customs laws are the noisiest advocates of protection. We like to have everybody and everything regulated to suit us, but object to being regulated ourselves, to suit any person else.

And this is the condition of things which the Canadian Government has to meet in the readjustment of a tariff. Manufacturers who cannot begin to meet present orders appeared before the Ministers praying for more protection for their industries, while others with a burning desire to establish industries out of which they expect to make fortunes, asked that a high rate of protection be placed on the goods they intend to produce, so that there may be no risk in their investment. But the Government's duty is to so adjust the tariff, if adjustment be necessary, that the interests of Canad as a whole will be safeguarded. The raising or lowering of the scale of duties depends on the effect it will have on Canada, not on the effect it may produce on some other country. Our own interests must be the first consideration, and that consideration should have a broad outlook and not be confined to any single section of the people. The Recorder fails to find that any industry in Canada that is being properly conducted, is doing anything but making money. Some concerns being managed at long range may not be prosperous, but that is not the fault of the business nor the tariff, but of the men who are making a botch of their jobs.

Canada's industries are in splendid shape, and their owners, who know their business, are making money. Under these circumstances, the Government should go slowly in making changes, unless they are sure such changes will be of universal benefit.

THE QUEBEC ELECTION

An independent Liberal is elected in Quebec County by a large majority over the "regular" Government candidate. The result is attributed to lack of organization. A better explanation is that it is due to too much discipline. Some days ago the Montreal Herald said that the prestige of Sir Wilfrid Laurier was being overworked. "Dragging the name of Sir Wilfrid Laurier into every little factional quarrel, or invoking it is sufficient to supply what is lacking in an otherwise deficient candidature, is neither fair to the party leader nor manly on the part of his followers."

This error is part of the larger error of shaking the whip of discipline over the heads of Liberals and seeking to crush out manifestations of independence. True Liberalism thrives upon independence. If there is discontent or difference of opinion, the wise policy is to give it free expression, and to allow it to be represented in Parliament as well as in the country. By this means the party leaders are kept in touch with independent public opinion and are saved from those mistakes which arise from being surrounded by flatterers and docile followers. The only test that ought to be applied to a Liberal candidate is his adherence to Liberal principles.—Toronto Star.

LET COMMERCIAL TRAVELLERS VOTE

A correspondent says that 17,700 commercial travellers in Canada are virtually disfranchised, through no fault of their own, but because of their calling. The figures are: Montreal, 5,200; Toronto, 7800; Winnipeg, 1,800; Martime Provinces, 700; London, 2,200. These men cannot go home to vote, and consequently a very intelligent vote is lost to the country.

Many of you must be impressed and surprised by these figures. Take Ontario alone, with 10,000 travellers. Ten thousand votes are quite enough to decide an Ontario or Dominion election. Our correspondent says that commercial travellers are in daily touch with the commercial and industrial life of the Dominion. Even as it is, their opinions are valued. when forecasts of a general election are made, one very commonly hears claims based upon the reports and estimates of commercial travellers.

It ought to be possible to devise some plan by which these votes can be polled. Very important votes in financial and educational institutions are sent by mail, and cases of fraud or mistake are unknown.—Toronto Star.

THE CRUX OF THE MATTER

Kingston Whig.

The appointment of Capt. Gauthier, a rabid politician, and political scout from Essex, to the office of deputy commissioner of fisheries, is remarkable because the occupant of that office was not to be a politician. Mr. Bastedo, who was for many years in the civil service, and who was pronounced by even the present government as a most efficient officer, was removed because he consulted the members of parliament about various things. He referred to the Liberals when the Liberal Government reigned and to the "Tories" when a "Tory" Government succeeded to office.

The Whitney party regarded that as a most objectionable way of doing business. Interentially there would be no more of it in the fisheries' department. And then came the announcement that one of Dr. Reaume's election managers had been selected for the place because—he was a good Conservative, with a long record of active service in election after election, and a reputation for partizanship that would rejoice the heart of the greatest political bigot.

The issue in this case is not the issue raised by the Hamilton Herald—that the man is the choice of a political caucus; and that Liberal executives have selected candidates for the public service, but that a politician was chosen for a place which was to be free of all political taint so far as the occupant and his work were concerned.

A CONSERVATIVE SLANDER

The London Advertiser, which throughout the present election revelations, has maintained an honourable and straightforward attitude, deals effectually with the parody of justice as contained in the attempt to link the London election with the West Elgin bye-election of 1899, and the recital of the fairy tale told by John G. Pritchett after that event. (A commission of judges was appointed to take evidence at St. Thomas, and witness after witness refuted Pritchett's allegations. The judges pronounced his story inredible, and Pritchett left the country till the storm blew over. Of course, he is obliged to tell the story as he told it even years ago, or be convicted out of his own mouth. It is now served up to the public as if it were a fresh revelation. It serves the purpose of the prosecution by giving the Tory press more mud to fling at the Liberal party and at Liberals who have proved, to the satisfaction of judges, innocent of the charges brought against them. This reshauffe of stale slanders shows the farcical nature of the proceedings at Toronto. There is no pretence at regular procedure. The prosecution has been allowed by the attorney-general's department to ride roughshod over law and justice, and violate practice and decency.—Brantford Expositor.

Progressive Order Is Chosen Friends

A Successful Open Meeting Under Auspices of Local Council Was Held Last Night —The Addresses.

An open meeting of Council No. 423, Canadian Order of Chosen Friends, was held in the S.O.E. Hall last night. A large number was present and the meeting was a great success. A good programme was rendered, and the Chief Councillor E. T. Essery, of London; Grand Recorder W. F. Montague, of Hamilton, and Grand Organizer W. F. Campbell, of Hamilton, were present and gave addresses. Excellent refreshments were served after the programme, which were heartily enjoyed.

The Canadian Order of Chosen Friends has been in existence 18 years, has a membership of 32,000, and is in a flourishing condition financially. A still greater membership is desired. The local council is in splendid condition.

The following was the programme:—

Instrumental .... Band
Address..... ....Chairman
Instrumental .... Band
Concertina solo ....Mr. Leader
Address...Grand Chief Councillor, E. E. T. Essery
Piano solo ... ...Miss Mabel Kennedy
Presentation of an address to Mrs. Milburn.
Address .... Mrs. Milburn
Violin solo ....Mr. Leader
Address ... Grand Organizer Campbell
Cornet solo ... ...W. Northcote
Address... ... Grand Recorder Montague
Recitation ... ...Olive Kennedy
Mandolin solo ....Miss D. Fry

Grand Chief Councillor Essery, said he was pleased with the large audience. The Canadian Order of Chosen Friends has always loved Canada. The Order owes its great success largely to the women. Fraternal organizations render poorhouses unnecessary. The C.O.C.F. has had $2,000,000 paid in for insurance. The Order was ready to face any government commission.

Mr. Essery's capable address was loudly applauded.

Mr. W. F. Campbell expressed delight at being present. The C.O.C.F. is growing rapidly. There are over 500 councils in Canada and 32,000 members. Mr. Campbell said that a distinctive feature of the society was the fact that the ladies had the same rights as men.

To Mr. Campbell's efforts the inauguration and growth of the C.O.C. is largely due. His address was greatly appreciated.

If any assurance of the reliability of the Order was needed, it was furnished by Mr. Montague's address which followed.

The meeting was an unqualified success in every respect, and to those who made the arrangements great credit is due.

A Recognition

—The illustrated section of Saturday's (to-day's) Globe contains an illustrated article upon the recent "Fellowship Tea" in St. John's School House, Peterborough. A capitally reproduced photograph—from a flash light picture by Roy—of the supper table, is presented. This article is a practical recognition of the importance of the movement in the direction of unifying in sentiment and action the representative moral and spiritual forces of Peterborough.

Minister Certifies to this Cure

OF KIDNEY TROUBLE, RHEUMATISM AND CONSTIPATION BY THE USE OF

DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS.

The experience of the writer of this letter is not unlike that of many people, but his case was such a severe one and the cure effected by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills so remarkable and so satisfactory, that the letter will prove interesting to anyone troubled with liver, kidney or bowel disorders.

Mr. J. A. Buehner, Port Robinson, Ont., writes: "For many years I was the unhappy victim of kidney trouble, rheumatism and constipation, which became so bad as to make life a burden. I was a constant sufferer and at times completely unfit for anything. The appetite was fickle, and I became thin and emaciated. I could not sleep and would arise in the mornings languid and enfeebled. I was so long in this condition, using all sorts of medicines to no purpose, that I grew discouraged and down-hearted.

"A friend advised the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and I am thankful that they fell into my hands when I was in such a miserable condition. The first box gave relief and hope, and I continued to use these pills until the time came when I was again enjoying my former good health and vigour. It took about eight boxes to make the cure complete, and I shall always recommend Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills as an ideal medicine. I am giving this testimony for the benefit of others suffering as I did."

Rev. W. D. Musson, Methodist minister, writes: "Being personally acquainted with Mr. Buehner, I can say I believe he would not make a statement knowing it to be in any way misleading or untrue."

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills succeed where ordinary kidney medicines fail, because of their direct and combined action on the liver and kidneys. This has been proven in thousands of cases of serious and complicated diseases of the kidneys.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, one pill a dose, 25 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.—5.

No Judgment On Conviction

The Lakefield Liquor Case in Osgoode Here

The Toronto Globe to-day has the following legal note of local interest:—

Rex. v. Spellman.—J. Haverson, K.C. for defendant Spellman, moved for a rule nisi calling upon the Police Magistrate for the City of Peterborough to show cause why a conviction made by him should not be quashed. The defendant was convicted of selling liquor without a license in the Village of Lakefield, and fined $100. J. R. Cartwright, K.C., for the Attorney-General for Ontario and the Police Magistrate, showed cause in the first instance. By consent the issue of the rule nisi was dispensed with, and the validity of the conviction argued. Judgment reserved.

Mistaken Name Was Published

Indian Hero's Name was Famm, Not Flam.

A few days ago The Examiner published an account of an heroic rescue from drowning at Clemong Lake, when a young man, who was sailing in a stiff breeze, upset near the Indian village. He was rescued by an Indian who happened to see the accident. In the account, this Indian's name was given as Flam. In justice to the performer of the brave action, it should be stated that the man's name was Famm.

Who Will Own Heating Plant?

City May Take Control of District Heating System

Shall the District Heating System, if instituted in Peterborough be controlled under Municipal Ownership. This was a problem which some members of the council touched upon last night in connection with the sealing of a deputation to inspect other plants. If the Council deem it advisable to grant a franchise for the opening of the streets to lay the mains they will probably consider the proposition of taking charge of the plant.

IN MEMORIAM.

In loving remembrance of Eugene Brick, son of John Brick, Ennismore who died August 20th, 1906, aged 9 years.

You do not seem to hear me, you do not come to me.
Why is it, "Jeanie" darling, must mother call in vain,
Is there no place, my darling, where we may meet again;
Must I forever mourn you, nor ever see your face,
Must I always miss the presence that brightened every place?
No, no, my little darling, surely this may never be,
The Christ who died to save us has prepared a home for thee;
And though in God's great wisdom, we are called upon to part,
There will come a day of meeting, when I'll press you to my heart.
Our Father who is in heaven will teach us how to wait,
While his small hand beckoning will lead me to the gate,
So desolate the world seems, now our home so full of gloom,
I seem to hear my darling's voice in every silent room;
And once again his loving eyes are looking into mine,
No pain or sickness in their depths, only a love divine;
The pressure of his kisses sweet; yet upon my cheeks,
I feel again the little hand as softly mine it seeks.
And then again in dreams I see my little winsome pet,
In fond imagination loving arms embrace me yet;
But when I wake from dreaming the loving form has fled,
And I alone know my darling is numbered with the dead,
The agony of waking, my heart could not sustain,
But that a voice from heaven tells me we shall meet again.
In the quiet of the churchyard the little body lies,
But the soul that made it lovely dwells with Christ above the skies,
Oh, doubting heart? canst thou not trust the Almighty Father's love,
And how that he will keep your child safe in his home above?
Has he not said to all the earth "Let little children come",
"Forbid them not" is His command of such is my bright home".
Then cease repining, look not at the darkness of the shroud,
But where the glory of God's love shines softly through the cloud;
The mighty depth of mother love that to a child is given,
God never meant to end below, 'twill bloom again in heaven.
Oh, Father, help me live so when this life is done,
I may go home to live with Thee, a crown of glory won,
And in that fair celestial home, freed from all earthly stain,
I feel that I shall meet and know my darling boy again.

From a friend in sympathy.

Hallowe'en Pranks Are Slowly Dying Out

Chief of Police Says Mischief Is Lessening—Is Taking All Precautions to Protect Property—Special Constables for Wednesday Night.

The old traditions with which Hallowe'en is associated are rapidly dying out in Peterborough. Chief Roszel, who has witnessed many of these memorable evenings and who has supervised the guardianship of citizens and their property for many yeras, is the authority for this statement. He says that each year the pranks played, by the mischievous ones are gradually becoming less and an less and of a more harmless character.

The city in the past has been comparatively free from damage of any importance, unlike Toronto and even some smaller cities than our own.

The citizens appear to consider Hallowe'en more seriously than in years gone by and at the present rate it it within the range of reason that in time the idea, that a rumpus must be raised in order to celebrate the evening, will have passed away. This fact is very gratifying to the Chief as well as to the owners of gates and other "liftable" property.

It is also an assured fact that law and order will prevail next Wednesday night, more so than in the past. The Chief is arranging to have half a hundred or more special constables on duty that night and disorder of any kind, he says, will not be tolerated. All boys or girls with false faces or disguised features will be given an opportunity of spending an evening in a cell if discovered.

With these precautions the public can therefore sleep peacefully as they will be protected as far as possible by the "man with the baton."

Chicken Thieves Busy In Lakefield

And Some Young Men Are Suspected by Police.

Many complaints are being made lately with reference to parties stealing chickens from hen houses in and around the village. One party lost eleven fine chickens a week or so ago, and on Wednesday night Mrs. Jas. Jackman had nine chickens taken out of her hen house. Other parties also report the loss of fowl. The thefts are supposed to have been committed by young men who have been holding roasts at Hague's Point, and the matter has been put in the hands of the police, who intends making it hot for the parties.—Lakefield News.

Ross Rifles Are Becoming Popular

Many Marksmen Are Using It This Fall.

There is a marked increase in the number of Ross Rifles used on the ranges throughout the Dominion during the autumnal practices. From present indications, many of the first class shots will use the Ross Rifle in next year's matches. Many marksmen who have heretofore used the plain bar sight are becoming converted to the moveable "V" on account of its better definition.

No Grain Rush On Midland This Year

Not the Usual Quantity of Grain Coming Over This Line of G. T. R. This Fall, According to Reports.

There will not be the usual rush of grain on the Midland division this year, according to the Midland Free Press. "There appears," it says, "to be quite a scarcity of grain coming down the lakes this fall and it now begins to look as if the amount handled at Georgian Bay ports this season will be considerably behind former years. What the reason for this is cannot be explained unless it be that the western farmer is getting in a position to be able to hold for higher prices. There has been a reported scarcity of cars in the west also and strikes that have interfered with things somewhat, all of which have an effect upon the transportation business and doubtless brought about the present condition. At any rate the grain is not coming down the lakes in any very large quantities this fall."

Dynamite To Scare Occupant

A Possible Explanation of Outrage at Bridgewater.

It is thought that the dynamiting of Marble Spring cheese factory at Bridgewater was done to frighten the cheesemaker, Mr. Bert Bouch, whose dog was poisoned the same night and died the next morning. The damage done was not serious. Two men, alleged enemies of the cheesemaker, are suspected, and a provincial detective may be set to work on the case.—Marmora Herald.

Deputation To Visit District Heating Plant

Manufacturers' Committee Get Permission From the Council—Will Leave Next Week in Two Sections.

At the meeting of the City Council last night, the Manufacturers' Committee were given permission to visit some of the places where the District Steam Heating System was used. Ald. McWilliams introduced the question on behalf of the Manufacturers' Committee. He explained that the city must be satisfied that the system was a success in the places where it has been instituted before a company would be given a franchise. It was for that reason that the committee deemed it most advisable to send a delegation to inspect the plants in other cities.

Moved by Ald. McWilliams and Johnston, that in view of the application from the Dominion District Steam Heating Company for a franchise to lay its mains on the streets of the city, and the importance of the matter, this Manufacturers' Committee be authorized to send a deputation to some place or places in which the system is in operation, to inquire into it, and that the treasurer be authorized to pay their expenses.—Carried.

The deputation will leave early next week and will be divided into two parts, so that more than one plant may be visited. It will probably visit Lockport, Detroit and Chatham.

Butter Company Elected Officers

Lakefield Butter Company to Commence Operations November 10th.

The annual meeting of the shareholders of the Lakefield Butter Co., was held in the factory on Monday evening. A statement of the business of the past season was presented, and which proved to be a very satisfactory one. The following officers were elected:—

President—R. J. Jory.
Secretary-Treasurer—F. E. Kline.
Directors—Messrs. H. C. Garbutt, A. Higgins, G. Johnson and Roland Garbutt.

It was decided to commence butter making operations about November 10th. Mr. Thos. Borland has been re-engaged as maker.—Lakefield News.

Rev. Dr. Symonds To Preach Here

Popular Former Peterborough Minister Here To-morrow.

To-morrow in St. John's and St. Luke's churches Rev. Dr. Symonds will preach, in the former at the morning service and in the latter at night. To Peterborough church goers the bare announcement of the fact that Dr. Symonds is to preach is sufficient. He was, while he was here, one of the most popular ministers, and since he went to Montreal he has risen rapidly, and one of the most prominent gentlemen from that city stated that he was the most talked of man in Montreal.

The "Water Lily" Establishes Record

Some Quick Work Between Peterborough and Rice Lake.

The Water Lily is to-day establishing a record for quick work.

Last night she arrived at the Wolfe street wharf, with a scow load of potatoes consigned by W. J. Edmison of Harwood. She left the locks again on her return trip at 11 o'clock, and arrived back again at the Wolfe street wharf today at 9.15. She leaves this afternoon on her regular trip, with her passengers, to Harwood, and later will go to Pengelley's Landing to load with grain, and will return on Monday.

The Special Delivery Vindicates Itself

The Failure in Delivery in Toronto of An Examiner Letter With Special Delivery Stamp Not Due to Any Lack in Duty or of Promptitude on Part of Postal Officials.

On the first page of The Examiner of October 20 there appeared a statement to the effect that pictures published that day should have appeared the previous day, but for the fact that a letter containing the photographs for engraving failed to reach the engraving establishment in Toronto, though provided with a special delivery stamp and regularly mailed.

The Examiner, in view of the disappointment to which it and its readers were subjected, and in view of the apparent failure of the special delivery service to specially deliver, reported the matter to the postal authorities, requesting explanation.

This morning an explanation was received which vindicates the special delivery service. It appears that the letter or parcel, armed with the special delivery stamp, was mailed in time, and promptly despatched from the Peterborough postoffice, delivered to the mail train, and on the arrival of the latter in Toronto, duly delivered at the Toronto postoffice, sent out for special delivery at 9.10, but was returned, marked "Out at 9.15." It was sent out for regular delivery the following morning.

Thus it will be seen that the postoffice service did its duty in regard to providing for the prompt delivery entirely relieved from blame in the matter of the letter in question, and is entirely relieved from blame in the matter.

The statement of the non-delivery of the letter in Toronto was made as a simple statement of fact, and not as a reproach, and it is a pleasure to receive a satisfactory explanation so far as the postoffice service is concerned.

The special delivery service is a very great public convenience, and it is gratifying to know that if it failed in one instance, such apparent failure was not due to any fault of the postal service, but of those to whom the letter was addressed.

Strong Head-light Caused Collision

The Danger Of These Lights Illustrated by An Accident.

The strong search-light on a street car, coupled with the disregard of the right of way on the part of a driver, resulted in a mix-up on George street last night, in which the damage was, fortunately, slight. A delivery rig was driving up George street on the left side of the road, and crashed into a light running about, resulting in some damage to the harness of the outfit. Neither driver was hurt. The blinding light from a street car prevented the drivers from seeing each other in time. The accident, although slight, shows the dangers which exist in the presence of these strong headlights, complaints of which have been frequently made.

Offered Position In Jarvis Street Collegiate

Mr. J. Jeffries May Leave City to Accept Position of English Specialist in Toronto.

Mr. J. Jeffries, who, for the last seventeen years, has been English specialist in the Peterborough Collegiate Institute, has been offered a corresponding position in the Jarvis Street Collegiate Institute, Toronto.

Mr. Jeffries has not yet given his decision, and will probably not do so until next week. The position is one which carries with it considerable responsibility, and is one of much promise. The initial salary attached to it is $1,400 a year.

Should Mr. Jeffries decide to leave Peterborough his departure would leave a vacancy in the Institute staff which would be hard to fill. During the seventeen years that he has been on the staff he has given splendid service, a fact to the truth of which the thousands of students who have been associated with him will attest.

In church circles, too, he will be greatly missed. He is one of the most prominent and energetic members of the George Street Methodist Church, and is a teacher in the Sunday School.

It is just possible that he may decide to remain in Peterborough, however, and his many friends here hope that this will be the case.

THE DUCHESS OF DEVONSHIRE

No doubt everyone has heard of that splendid opera, "The Madcap Princess," and has remembered the fine song, "When Woman Rules the King." The play last night, presented at the Grand, recalled that song very vividly, except that it was the Duchess of Devonshire ruling the Prime Minister, William Pitt.

A packed house greeted Rosella Knott in that historical play, "The Duchess of Devonshire." Her appearance last year in "When Knighthood Was in Flower" won her the esteem of the Peterborough public, and in the leading role last night she strengthened her former laurels. The play deals with public events in the time of the Georges II. and III., when William Pitt was Prime Minister of England. Rosella Knott as Georgina Spencer, afterwards the Duchess of Devonshire, portrayed very realistically the court coquette and schemer, and, at the same time, the true woman. Her stage presence was charming, and one of the most agreeable features of the performance. The supporting company, with perhaps one exception, was exceedingly strong and well balanced, and lended the heavy piece in a capital manner. Mr. Franklin Roberts, as the Duke of Devonshire, was exceptionally good, as was also Mr. Theodore Hamilton, as William Pitt. Harry Mills looked and played the part of a fop in his role, Beau Nash. Mr. Andrew Robson pleased the audience in the part of Sim. Blake, the captain of the highwaymen. Miss Agnes Findlay, as Dame Deborah Blake, certainly portrayed the grasping miserly kind of woman to perfection.

On the whole, the play was very successful, entire satisfaction being expressed by the large audience. The stage settings and the handsome costumes greatly enhanced the success of the play.

Sock Social Was A Great Success

Unique Entertainment Held by Charlotte Street Mission Band

The Olive Mission Band at the Charlotte Street Methodist Church held a somewhat unique entertainment last night in the form of a sock social, which was a decided success financially and otherwise. The attendance was very large, and the programme was one of exceptional merit and interest. The numbers were evidently greatly enjoyed by the audience, judging from the hearty applause with which each number was received.

The following verse from the envelopes supplied shows the derivation of the name of the entertainment:

This little sock we give to you,
Is not for you to wear.
Please multiply your size by two,
And place therein with care,
In pennies or in cents,
Just twice the number that you wear—
We hope it is immense.

Rev. Mr. Manning, pastor of the church, occupied the chair. In his opening remarks he congratulated the members of the Mission Band upon the large attendance, and referred to the necessity for increased work in mission lines, especially of the need of getting the boys into the work.

The following was the programme rendered:

Chorus—Mission Band.
Instrumental Solo—Miss Elliott.
Vocal Solo—Miss Daisy Sawers.
Recitation—Lillian Lightheart.
Vocal Solo—Olive Howell.
Instrumental Duet — Miss Clarty and Miss Campbell.
Dialogue — Misses Bell, Haskill, Bushnell and Edmison.
Recitation—Miss Mabel Pringle.
Instrumental—Miss Grace Edwards.
Chorus—Mission Band.

The members of the Olive Mission Band are to be congratulated upon the great success of their enterprise.

Fell Backwards Into A Well

Valuable Horse Belonging to Mr. Kemp Killed.

A valuable horse belonging to Mr. John Kemp, sr., of Douro, fell into a well on the owner's property yesterday and was killed. Apparently, the animal had been tramping about to get a drink, when the platform gave way and dropped it thirty feet or more into the well. Falling backwards, it is probable that the horse was instantly killed.

The animal was only five years old and was worth about $150, and it is understood the loss is covered by insurance.

An Address To The Ministers

Rev. Dr. Symonds Will Speak to Ministerial Association.

Stagnant Water Will Be Removed From Water Front

Deputation Waited Upon City Council Last Night—Committee Appointed to Rectify the Stagnation.

After the Board of Health and Water Commissioners retired from the joint meeting last night, the City Council remained in Committee of the Whole to discuss other matters of importance. They were waited upon by a deputation consisting of Messrs. R. R. Hall, M.P., Mr. W. H. Meldrum of the Peterborough Cereal Company, and Mr. R. E. Wood, in reference to the question of filling in between the C.P.R. spur line and the western shore of the Otonabee River in front of Col. Rogers' property, so as to prevent stagnation of water at that point.

Mr. Wood, who was present on behalf of Mr. Rogers, was asked to state the proposition which the owners wished to have carried out.

He had no proposition, he said, to make. He was just authorized to learn what is proposed to be done by the other parties interested. The proposition must come from Mr. Rogers. The latter only asked that the water in front of his property be not allowed to stagnate as it had done in the past.

Mr. Hall said that the Peterborough Cereal Company, were willing to carry out their part of the agreement—to lay a pipe 150 feet long through the land created by them in front of their premises. This would necessitate the continuance of the pipe at the city's cost to the southern boundary of King street and their cutting an opening through the Railway embankment into the main stream. There was going to be a large quantity of dredgings he said, which would be sufficient to fill up the water space as far as the southern boundary of King street, which if done, would prevent the further stagnation of water in front of the Rogers' property. He suggested that the dredge cut the bank south of King street and put in a pipe under the C.P.R. spur line, the cost to be divided equally among the City, the Company and the C.P.R.

Mr. R. E. Wood suggested that the city should fill in beyond the railway track for such a distance as Col. Rogers is entitled to by his deed.

Moved by Ald. McWilliams and Wilson, that the Mayor, Ald. Adams and Elliott be a committee to confer with the Government, the C.P.R. and the Cereal Company to arrange for a free flow of water to prevent any further nuisance.—Carried.

PETERBORO' CREATED A SPLENDID IMPRESSION

Upon the Hundreds of Delegates to the Baptist Convention —Rev. F. J. Scott, Pastor of Convention Church, Writes to the Examiner in Reference to Recent Gathering.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—Permit me, through your columns, to make a few remarks in regard to the recent large Baptist Convention that met in this city. The Murray Street Church in extending the invitation to the Convention last year to meet with us here this year, counted upon the Park Street Baptist Church, the Gilmour Memorial Church, and many of the members of other denominations in the city to assist in entertaining the visitors. Now that the Convention is over, I am able to report to the public that our expectation of the kindness of others in assisting was fully realized. Our own Baptist homes of both churches in the city, and of Gilmour Memorial responded gladly and generously, and we have nothing but gratitude to express in respect to the generosity of many homes of other denominations in the city. For the courtesy and kindness of the other denominations, I personally and the Baptists generally are very grateful. Canon Davidson's kind words and kind deeds will long be remembered by the Baptists of the city and of the two provinces represented. The George Street Church extended to us the offer of their building, provided we needed their larger auditorium; and several of the churches and Christian bodies requested Baptist ministers on the Sunday to preach. The press of the city gave fair, and excellent reports of the sessions, and the citizens in general seemed to be very glad that the Convention was meeting here. All this is pleasant to all to think upon, and was pleasant to experience at the time; and I cannot but feel that it indicates the ever-deepening and ever-widening spirit of love and of unity that is in the world.

It will be gratifying to all the citizens, I am sure, to know that this was one of the best conventions ever held by the Baptists of the two provinces; that the delegates emphatically express their appreciation of the entertainment afforded, and of the perfection of the arrangements; that they expressed their delight at the beauty and prosperity of our fair city; also that in the billeting and arranging there was not the difficulty we had anticipated when we first thought of entertaining the Convention. There was no very serious mistake that we know of in any of the arrangements. This is due in a large measure to the very efficient committees that superintended the work. It were impossible to enumerate all the names worthy of mention—names of persons who laboured most unselfishly and successfully, but there is one name that all who know the circumstances, feel is worthy of special honour. That is the name of Mr. Albert Martin, of the Examiner, and clerk of the church. Mr. Martin was not personally much in evidence during the Convention, and perhaps few outside of the committees knew the value of his work, but all who do know of his share of the labour are willing to give him the place of honour, though I am sure Mr. Martin himself is too modest to wish this reference.

I trust this Convention will prove an uplift to the city morally and spiritually. I believe it will. I am sure it will help the city in a material way. The advertisement a city gets by such a Convention meeting, and seeing for themselves, and then reporting is always considerable.

I conclude, Mr. Editor, by thanking all the citizens that personally or representatively honoured or assisted this Convention in anyway.

Very sincerely yours,
FREEMAN J. SCOTT,
Pastor Murray Street Baptist Church.

Were Fined For Bad Conduct

Youths Used Obscene Language Causing Disturbance at Midnight

Three disorderlies were arraigned in police court this morning to answer for their misconduct on Wednesday night in East City. They were Geo. Tetault, Jas. Tobin and Geo. Vinette. A fourth, David Hoben was also implicated but did not appear. Tobin was the only man who pleaded not guilty to the charge.

Mr. Moore, of East City, was the first witness in the case. He testified that he was awakened about midnight by loud talking on the corner. Obscene language filled the air and apparently a quarrel had arisen. A little later he saw a lady and gentlemen with a baby carriage hesitate to cross. They finally did however, and the man stopped behind for a short time. The lady came back and called somebody down. As the witness was in the act of ringing for the police, he met P. C. McGinly.

Roland Butcher and his wife stated they were the couple with the baby carriage, but they did not hear any profane language. They recognized two of the accused.

P. C. McGinty testified that he received a telephone message about midnight to call over to the scene of the disturbance. He saw the four youths there and heard loud swearing.

The Magistrate in passing sentence, stated that the four were all in one gang and must have been causing a disturbance to arouse people from their beds. He fined each $2 and those present paid their fines.

Mill Owner It Was Who Fired The Fatal Shot

Alex. Maclaren's Bullet That Which Killed Belanger.

J. B. CLEMENT'S EVIDENCE

Buckingham Riot Inquest Begun Before Coroner McMahon, Who Inquires Why the Riot Act Was Not Read—The Rifles Brought In a Buggy—Description of the Wounds on the Two Bodies.

Buckingham, Oct. 27.—At the enquiry before Coroner McMahon of Montreal into the deaths of Belanger and Theriault, who were killed in the strike riots here, one of the witnesses swore that the shot that killed Belanger was fired by Alex. Maclaren of the Maclaren Lumber Co.

Drs. Wallace and Secord, who made the autopsies, gave evidence that the bullet wound in Theriault's body was from a 32 calibre revolver. He died one shot. Belanger had three bullet wounds, but all the bullets passed through him and were not found.

Dr. Rodrigue was put under severe examination by M. Mayien, counsel for the Maclaren Co., as to his presence in the buggy with the rifles. The doctor denied that he knew anything about the rifles being in the vehicle until he heard it by rumor afterwards. He also denied that he told any persons there would be bloodshed that afternoon. He swore Albert Maclaren used a revolver.

Why Riot Act Was Not Read.

Coroner McMahon said he would examine all the magistrates to learn why they did not read the Riot Act.

Magistrate Pearson explained that he was out of the town, and Magistrate Gorman, who was at the affray, said he did not anticipate serious trouble until the firing became furious.

J. B. Clement, a striker, swore that Belanger did not have a revolver, and that Alex. Maclaren fired the shot which killed Belanger. He was positive that the police fired the first shot.

Louis Landry, in whose rig the rifles were found, said that he did not know the names of the men who had the rifles. He is secretary of the union and said that the strikers' rifles were not loaded, being designed as a bluff to frighten them.

An Effort To Avoid Rupture Is To Be Made

United States Cabinet Considers Jap Anti-Americanism.

THE SITUATION IS GRAVE

To the Exclusion of Japanese Children From the Schools of San Francisco Is Now Added Indignities to the Japanese Restaurant Keepers in the Pacific Coast City—Japanese Press Is Moderate.

Washington, Oct. 27.—At yesterday's Cabinet meeting, among the important matters discussed was the situation growing out of the anti-American sentiment in Japan and the exclusion of Japanese children from the public schools of San Francisco.

It was stated by a member of the Cabinet, after the meeting, that the general opinion of the members was that the Japanese situation was exceedingly grave and would require the most delicate treatement to avoid an open rupture.

It developed yesterday that proceedings initiated in San Francisco Thursday, to compel the authorities to receive Japanese pupils into the public schools, were directed by the Department of Justice.

Telling In Japan.

London, Oct. 27.—In a despatch from Tokio, the correspondent of The Daily Telegraph says the Japanese Foreign Office has received a reply, through Ambassador Viscount Stuze Aoki, at Washington, to the effect that the exclusion of Japanese children from the schools of San Francisco was quite a local affair.

The American Government was not aware of the details of the incident until after the receipt of the cablegrams from Japan. The American ambassador at Tokio, Luke E. Wright, has given a pledge that the United States will not discriminate between Japanese and other foreign children, and that she undertakes to protect Japanese interests fully.

Lamentable Incident.

Baron Kentare Kaneko, a member of the Privy Council, the correspondent continues in the course of an interview on this subject, said the incident was lamentable in view of the ever-increasing friendship between Japan and the United States. He applauded the moderate tone of the Japanese press, which he declared to be based upon gratitude.

He said further, there was undoubted evidence that Japan was deeply pained at the action of San Francisco, but it was universally held that the exclusion of Japanese children from San Francisco schools was an outcome of the present electoral campaign in the United States.

Jap Restaurants Suffer.

Japanese restaurant-keepers have suffered indignities in San Francisco as well as Japanese school children, according to reports received by the Japanese ambassador from the Japanese consular officials in that city.

At least seven or eight reports have been made concerning a boycott inaugurated against Japanese restaurants in the California city. Agents have been posted to prevent patrons from entering the restaurants, and in several instances stones have been thrown and windows broken, according to the statements of Japanese officials.

Aggression Is Purely Local.

These cases have been brought to the attention of Secretary Root by Viscount Aoki, who says it is with great reluctance that he brings to the attention of the central Government demonstrations against the Japanese, which are purely local in their nature.

Viscount Aoki said that all the trouble has been confined to San Francisco. The ambassador assured his Government again yesterday that the outbreak against the Japanese is purely local, and was much gratified at receiving despatches which showed that the Japanese press is for the most part attempting to check the feeling against Americans.

PETE, COLORED COOK, HERO.

Gave Life In Vain Effort to Save Aged Captain of Skagit.

Victoria, B.C., Oct. 27.—The steamer Salvor returned last evening from the scene of the Skagit wreck, reporting the barkentine rapidly breaking up, and landing here the eight survivors of the disaster—E. Lankow, first mate; J. Schluelle, second mate; O. Kruger, Dan Dovani, H. Johnson, John Weston, T. Sullivan and T. Silose.

All had a hard fight for life and are badly cut and bruised. The colored cook, Pete, is admitted the hero of the occasion, giving his life in a vain attempt to save Capt. Rosewell, who was advanced in years. His body was recovered and brought by the Salvor for burial here.

N. S. Ship Given Up.

Halifax, N.S., Oct. 27.—The barkentine Milton, Captain Jas. Manthorn, owned in Liverpool, N.S., on her passage from Havana to Mobile, has been out 32 days, and as the trip should be made in six days all hopes for her safe arrival are given up. The Milton was in ballast, and it is supposed she foundered with all on board. She was fully insured.

The Winnipeg Free Press says that Canada will produce enough wheat this year to meet all the demands of Canada until 1910.

Eggs Jumped To A Quarter A Dozen

High Price for Farm Produce Feature of To-day's Market —Some of the Figures.

Those who visited the market this morning found that eggs were eggs. They were also money, as the housewives who had to pay 25c a dozen for them found out to their sorrow.

This morning's market was very largely attended there being a greater number of farmers present than there has been for some time. There was a good supply of fresh pork and lamb, this being the first appearance of those products. In fact there was no scarcity of anything and high prices were asked at that. Potatoes have been boosted in price to $1.00 a bag, although some took 95c a bag. Eggs too have soared from 22 to 25c a dozen. Hay was available at $14.00 a ton.

The following is the price list:—

Potatoes, per bag	95	to	1 00
Apples, per bag	60	to	1 00
Onions, per peck	25
Beets, per peck	10
Cabbage, per head	5
Parsnips, per peck	15
Butter, per lb.	25	to	28
Eggs, per doz	25
Ducks, per pair	1 00
Chickens, per pair	60	to	75
Geese, each	1 00	to	1 10
Hay, per ton	14 00
Lamb, per lb.	10	to	12
Pork, per lb.	10	to	12

ROYAL VICTORIA CO.

Cost Little to Organize This Life Company—Insurance Investigation Concludes at Montreal.

Montreal, Oct. 27.—Evidence in the investigation of the Royal Victoria Assurance Co. of Montreal was concluded yesterday, and with it ended the session of the Insurance Commission in Montreal.

Chief emphasis was laid in the evidence of David Burke, general manager, on the small cost with which the company had been organized. He stated that the entire cost of stock, Parliamentary expenses, etc., had been only $1,700, and the Royal Victoria, unlike many new companies, had never had any bonuses or gifts from shareholders or directors.

No Dividends For Long Time.

Mr. Burke had organized the company. The men he sought to interest in the first place were A. F. Gault, James Crathern, Senator Forget, Senator Mackay and S. Finley. In the matter of inducements there was nothing of a personal character held whatever. The witness had pointed out to the stockholders that a considerable period must elapse before there could be any dividend. He had never felt safe in naming any definite period, and he had never discounted any notes.

The capital stock authorized was a million dollars, and the sum was now subscribed. No premium had been charged for the stock, but the cost of obtaining business was not so great then as now.

Rebates Prohibited.

The policyholders took no part in the annual meetings. It was true that if the directors were so determined, no policyholders could participate in person except at meetings called to increase the capital stock. The matter had never been discussed by the directors. No compensation was given to agents, where they had to give a rebate. In every instance it was prohibited.

Estimates were readjusted in 1900, judgment of surrounding conditions and previous experience setting the rate. A comparison of different insurance in different years was then gone into. The Royal Victoria estimate had been lowered in recent years annually.

The Commission adjourned until 11 o'clock Wednesday next in Ottawa, when the I. O. F. will be resumed

Four Witnesses Testify to His Identity —Magistrate Refuses Bail.

Toronto, Oct. 27.—Yesterday John O'Meara of London, who on Monday in the Police Court swore he had no connection whatever with the Brantford election of some years ago and that he had never met John O'Gorman, now on trial for election conspiracy, during the Heyd-Hen y election in 1897, was brought before Magistrate Denison on a charge of perjury and positively identified by four witnesses as the man arrested in Brantford for impersonation.

J. Walter Curry, K. C., has been retained with Robinette, Godfrey & Phelan for the defence. O'Meara was locked up last night, as no argument could induce the magistrate to grant bail. The case will be continued on Wednesday when the bribery cases are resumed.

Contractor Was Negligent.

Hamilton, Oct. 27.—This is the verdict brought in by the coroner's jury on the death of Robert McCoomb, the Chicago laborer who was killed by falling from the sixth storey in the Bank of Hamilton building Wednesday evening.

"That the deceased came to his death through falling down an elevator shaft, and we find that the contractor was negligent in not having the shaft protected."

$5,000 For Margaret Anglin.

New York, Oct. 27.—After remaining out an hour a jury has returned a verdict awarding Miss Margaret Anglin, actress, a verdict of $5,000 damages against the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Co. Miss Anglin sued for $50,000 damages for injuries received at Stamford, Conn., in being struck by an engine in July, 1905. The actress' collar bone was broken. The railway company will appeal the case.

Marlboros Have Parted.

New York, Oct. 27.—The World prints a story that the Duke and Duchess of Marlboro have finally parted. The King interferred in the affair and a settlement has been arrived at.

The duke's infatuation with a beautiful society woman is given as the principal cause of the trouble.

The duchess was Miss Consuelo Vanderbilt of New York.

Four More Bodies Found.

Kansas City, Oct. 27.—Four bodies were removed yesterday morning from the ruins of the Chamber of Commerce building, in Kansas City, making the total known dead to be eight.

Enlarged Till Nov. 2.

Toronto, Oct. 27.—In the Police Court yesterday the cases against ex-Manager Charles McGill and President Cockburn of the Ontario Bank were remanded until Nov. 2.

Spain's War Call.

Madrid, Oct. 27.—The military contingent for 1907 has been fixed at 100,000 men.

The New York Stock Market

(Furnished by J. R. Heintz & Co.)

New York, October 27.—The stock market opened firm but the volume of business was not heavy; the tone was cheerful, however. Aml. Copper was firmer on good tone shown in copper stocks in London. Reading ran into long stock at 140 and sold off early, but regained the loss and sold higher. The early selling was well absorbed. A good speculation is developing in Mexican Central and Mexican National issues.

Arbitrage houses did little. It is estimated that London mail to-day will contain $25,000,000 of American stocks for shipment to New York. The bank statement was better than expected in the loan item and rallied the market. Professional traders are well evened up and the market is a waiting one at present. So long as speculation remains quiet monetary conditions still continue to improve and be right for the substantial advance so confidently looked for. The rally grew quickly in the last ten minutes of trading under the lead of Steel Common and Copper. The close was active and strong at the best for the day.

PRISONERS GIVE LEG BAIL.

Use Iron Pump to Scale Wall and Jump to Liberty.

Brampton, Oct. 27.—A man named Macdonald, who is in jail on a charge of attempted murder, escaped from jail last night. A prisoner charged with a minor offence also escaped.

They slipped out of the corridor door, which had been left open, pulled up an iron pump about 25 feet long, stood it against the wall, climbed to the top and dropped over.

The sheriff offers a substantial reward for recapture.

Decides What Is "Dead Animal."

Hamilton, Oct. 27.—The decision of Justice Anglin in the Stroud case caused general rejoicing last evening amongst the members of the Board of Health. The Police Court decision was to the effect that offal from slaughtered animals might be fed to hogs. Judge Anglin upset that finding and ruled that a slaughtered animal came under the meaning of "dead" animals in the act.

Must Not Marry Divorcees.

New York, Oct. 27.—At the meeting Thursday night of the Union American Methodist Episcopal conference, which is in session here, the committee on divorce brought in a report forbidding any pastor in the connection marrying divorced persons. The resolution was passed unanimously by the general conference.

CLERICAL REBELS.

Must Yield to France or Property Will Be Sequestered.

Paris, Oct. 27.—The Cabinet has reached a decision regarding the application of the law providing for the separation of church and state, by which the property for revenues of the churches, in the event of the clergy persisting in their present rebellious attitude, will be sequestered Dec. 11, but the churches themselves will remain open for public worship under the law of assembly of 1881 during the ensuing year before the law goes finally into effect.

In the meantime, should the clergy refuse to yield, a Ministerial declaration will be issued, indicating very clearly the intention of the Cabinet to ask Parliament for special legislation to meet the situation.

Give Impetus to Schism.

Some of the newspapers declare that the Council of State is prepared to render a decision that only associations formed with the consent of the former church wardens and parish priests are legally entitled to take over church property, those formed by outsiders having no previous connection with the church wardens or parish priests being irregular. If this proves to be correct, the decision will give an impetus to schism, as of all the associations thus far constituted but two have the concurrence of both the parish priest and church wardens, and these have been formally interdicted by the bishops.

Threat to Priests.

Bordeaux, Oct. 27.—Cardinal Lecot, Archbishop of Bordeaux, has issued an appeal to the faithful not to join "false Catholics and bad priests" in the formation of associations to take over church property; warned the parishioners who disobey his injunction that they will lose the right to confess and receive the sacrament, and notified the priests that they will be prohibited from preaching and administering the sacrament, adding that those "who thus wrongfully acquire church property will not only die in a state of sin, but the obligation will rest upon their posterity so long as the memory of the robbery endures."

Railway Conductors Discharged.

Toronto, Oct. 27.—Having "spotted" for conductors who were not giving the company a square deal, the G. T. R. yesterday—if rumor be quite correct—asked for the resignations of between 50 and 60 conductors. No statement is forthcoming from headquarters at Montreal, and local officials profess a blissful ignorance either of the causes leading up to the discharges or the men affected. The conductors claim that they have been arbitrarily dealt with in not being allowed an opportunity to clear themselves, and it is their intention to bring the matter before the executive of the Order of Railway Conductors and Trainmen.

May Be Partial Renewal.

Toronto, Oct. 27.—Col. Orbis, president of the Canadian Improvement Co., and F. H. Clergue called at the Parliament buildings yesterday afternoon and had an interview with the Ministers present, including Premier Whitney, who returned by the 4.30 train. Premier Whitney stated that there was nothing to be said until after November 1. "There is nothing to trouble the Government in the affairs at the Soo," was Premier Whitney's declaration. There is a belief in some circles that a partial renewal of the loan may be expected.

Pacific Coast Mail Subsidies.

Wellington, N.Z., Oct. 27.—The House of Representatives yesterday approved the renewal of the San Francisco mail subsidy for three years, with the proviso that new steamships shall be provided within two years. The House also authorized the making of a contract for the Vancouver service, giving $3,000 to steamers making the trip in eighteen days, the maximum subsidy to be $160,000.

TRENT CANAL.

TENDERS FOR WATER POWER.

Sealed tenders addressed to the undersigned and endorsed "Tender for Water Power", will be received at this office until 16 o'clock on Thursday, the 29th November, 1906, for the surplus Water Power at Dam No. 4, Peterborough, on the Trent Canal.

Parties tendering must understand that in developing the power, the discharge below, must in no wise interfere with Navigation, and the Department reserves the right (without compensation to lessees) to raise Dam No. 5 two feet.

Lessees, as an evidence of good faith, will be required to expend in developing the power not less than $25,000 within 6 months and not less than $50,000 within 12 months from the date of the acceptance of the tender.

The term of lease shall be for 21 years renewable for three like terms, but the rent to be charged shall be subject to adjustment at each renewal term.

In the case of firms there must be attached the actual signatures of the full name, the nature of the occupation and place of residence of each member of the same, and further, an accepted bank cheque for the sum of $2,000 must accompany the tender; this accepted cheque must be endorsed over to the Minister of Railways and Canals, and will be forfeited if the party tendering declines entering into lease on the terms stated in the offer submitted.

The accepted cheques thus sent in will be returned to the respective parties whose tenders are not accepted.

This Department does not, however, bind itself to accept the highest or any tender.

By order,
L. K. JONES,
Secretary.

Department of Railways and Canals, Ottawa, 23rd October, 1906.

T. HURLEY'S LOT BARGAINS
This is fortune knocking at your door. Investigate before it passes to another.
Buy one block, 8 lots, 30x147 ft., cost $400—$10 cash, and balance $5 per month. When half is paid I will assist with building.
I believe those lots will be worth $400 each within 10 years. Cut it in two and say they will be worth $200 each, or $1600 for the eight. This gives you a profit of $1200.
Suppose you put $400 in the bank it will yield say $1.25, or $1,075 less than the lots at half estimated value, besides, the lots will supply many wants for your family.
There is brick factory and school at door; other industries will be added very soon. The low price quoted will not be accepted after this month. Call, see plan and get full information at office, 282 Hunter Street.

Stormy Weather Is Promised For November

Irl Hicks Says It Will Open With Storm Period and This Apparently Will be Continued at Intervals During the Whole Month—Some Advice He Offers to Believers in His Forecasts.

There is some rough weather in store during November, according to Irl Hicks, the versatile editor of "Words and Works," who in the last issue of that admirable journal, gives the following forecast of the weather for the coming month:

A reactionary storm period is central on the 2nd, 3rd and 4th. The indications are that the disturbances coming over from the last October period will be prolonged into this reactionary period. At any rate, the intervals between the two periods will be unsettled and threatening, making a "spell of bad weather" during the closing days of October and the opening days of November. These disturbances of snow and rain will culminate about the 3rd and 4th, and be followed by a rising barometer, northwesterly winds, and cold, frosty nights.

A regular storm period is central on the 9th, extending from the 7th to the 12th. The moon is in quadrature to the earth and sun, or at last quarter, on the 9th, the central day of the period. By the 9th the growing storm conditions will have increased, so that general cloudiness and rain will be in progress in western sections, and during the 10th 11th, and 12th, rain, turning to sleet and snow on the western flanks of storm area, will progress to the east across the country. This is another period which promises to be prolonged into a spell of unsettled, if not continued, snowy, stormy weather. The moon is on the celestial equator on the 13th, the central day of the Mercury equinox, hence a sudden rise in temperature, with possible lightning and thunder in the south, with autumnal rains and sleet will be most likely on that date. Altogether this period promises much disagreeable and stormy weather, especially on the lakes and the Atlantic ocean.

A reactionary storm period is central on the 15th, 16th and 17th. The new moon in perigree falls on the 16th at a time when the full force of the Mercury equinox will blend with other disturbing causes. One of the most severe disturbances of the month will culminate within 48 hours off noon on the 16th. The barometer will drop to one of its lowest readings for the month, thick cloudiness and great humidity will prevail, and general storms of autumnal rains, turning to destructive sleet, and later into blizzardous snow and northwest gales, may be expected, covering the northern and extending far into the central sections.

A regular storm period extends from the 19th to the 23rd, with the moon at the greatest south declination on the 19th, and at first quarter, or quadrature, with earth and sun, on the 22nd.

Falling barometer higher temperature and greatly increased intensity in storminess will develop and pass rapidly to the eastward about Tuesday, the 20th, to Friday, the 23rd. Cold, high winds out of the Northwest will rush in behind these storms as the high barometer moves eastward and southward displacing the storm areas. Sharp, cold, with frost and freezing towards the north, will visit most sections from about the 22nd to the 25th

A reactionary storm period is central on the 25th, 26th and 27th. The moon is on the celestial equator on the 26th, and this fact will insure more or less rise in temperature, with decided fall of the barometer, cloudiness and return of rain and snow. The disturbance of this period will culminate on the 26th and 27th, by which dates storms will have passed well to the east, with high barometer and colder, clearing weather following in the immediate rear of storm areas.

A regular storm period begins on the 29th and runs at least four days into December, being central December the 2nd. The full moon falls on the 30th, which fact will greatly tend to bring on the disturbances of this period on and touching that date. The inferior conjunctions of Venus and Mercury fall within an hour of each other, at 12 and 1 o'clock on the night of November the 29th. We believe that phenomenal perturbations of the barometer, excessive magnetic and electrical disturbances, with heavy seismic shocks in many sections of the globe, will occur on and close to the 29th and 30th. Naturally, storms and atmospheric trouble are of a kind with all these things and need not surprise anyone on land or sea as November goes out.

Commissioners To Handle Light Plant

Bobcaygeon Ratepayers Will Elect Three Men on Dec. 3rd to Manage System.

The village of Bobcaygeon has all the frills of the modern city. A municipal electric lighting plant was recently installed, and now the ratepayers will appoint commissioners to manage the business. On Dec. 3rd, the votes of the ratepayers will be taken on the bylaw to appoint three men, of whom the Reeve of the village shall ex-officio be one. These shall be called commissioners of light and heat and they shall be elected annually.

No provision is made in the bylaw for the payment of the commissioners. No doubt the experience of Peterborough in respect to the operation of its waterworks system has induced Bobcaygeon to try it.

Death Due To An Accident

No Neglect In Accident in Which Harry Gilman Was Hurt.

The inquest on the death of Emmanuel Maddeford, in an accident at the Maitland bridge, at which Harry Gilman, of this city, was injured, was held on Saturday before Coroner Hunter, Crown Attorney Seager was present and A. J. Patterson, Toronto, represented the Canadian Foundry Co., Toronto, builders of the bridge. After hearing a lot of evidence, the jury returned a verdict of purely accidental death. They attached no blame to anyone, but, on the contrary, found that every possible precaution had been taken by the manager for the safety of the workmen.

for deer-hunters to adopt, and if followed out will result in a minimizing of the chances of accidents.

The following information about some of the parties who leave next week for the woods should be found interesting:

Eagle Lake Party

The Eagle Lake party, always one of the largest and most successful of those leaving Peterborough, set out for their camp at Eagle Lake on Thursday afternoon. They have a comfortable lodge there, and no doubt will have an enjoyable outing. The party will be composed of C. Gunsolus, H. Evans, M. Dobson, Geo. Fitzgerald, C. Westlake, J. T. Evans, W. Sharpe, J. Gibbs and Lewellyn Hall.

Buckhorn Party

The Buckhorn party will leave on Monday afternoon for their camp at Stoney Creek, 25 miles from Buckhorn. This early start will enable them to have everything ready for the opening. The party consists of Thomas Eastwood, Isaac Eastwood, H. Burdette, of Port Hope; Wm. Long, John Scholes of Toronto, and Andrew Hall.

The Larocque Party

The Larocque party will go as usual to their camp on Stoney Creek, where they occupy as a lodge a building formerly owned by the Dickson Co. The party, which is composed of the following, leaves on Tuesday afternoon: Wm. Gere, Fred Reutot, Geo. Williamson, Albert Greenwood, Louis Houdrey and John Alexander. Their postoffice address will be Katchecoma.

Will Shoot in Algoma District

One Peterborough party will travel far, and after bigger game than deer. This party is composed of J. Cottingham, C. Butcher, T. Parker and A. Mitchell. They will go to Webwood, in the Algoma District, after moose, leaving on the 5.15 C.P.R. train Monday.

Gold Lake Club

The Gold Lake Club will be found as usual at their camp between Gold and Eagle Lakes, hunting on a number of the lakes adjacent to these. Their postoffice address will be Katchecoma, and they will leave early in the week. The personnel of the party is not yet complete. A number are already at the camp, having gone there for the purpose of fishing. Among those in the party will be Arthur Blade, Fred Stenson, Wm. Snowden, H. Snowden, M. C. Tooley, Chas. Francis and J. Stanger.

A Stony Lake Party

Young Couple Undertake To Walk 15,000 Miles

And for 1,400 of That They Push Wheelbarrow—Were in Cobourg Yesterday on Journey.

Special to The Examiner.

Cobourg, Oct. 27.—A young married couple, aged 24 and 22 years, a Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Worth, hailing from Philadelphia, put up at the Commercial House yesterday. They are out on a wager to walk 15,000 miles inside of three years, and for the first 1,400 miles had to push a wheelbarrow. They started form Philadelphia on August 11, and came by way of Pittsburg, Cleveland and Detroit, crossing at Windsor, and will walk through to Montreal and Halifax, where they will embark for England, disembarking at Liverpool. They are then to walk through England, Ireland, Scotland and Wales, across by boat to France and through that country to Germany, from where they will sail for New York, and on arrival there walk 93 miles to Philadelphia, where the money which is on deposit will be paid over. They have averaged 20 miles a day, and do not seem any the worse for their long tramp. Mr. Worth says that if their health continues they will complete the trip within two years. He is an electrician, and both are intelligent and relate many interesting incidents which have befallen them on the way. They keep a trunk with changes of clothing expressed three days ahead, and have also to get the stamp of the postoffice of every town they pass through stamped on a form specially prepared. They started out without any money, and have to make their expenses, including the ocean tickets both ways. This they do selling a couple of souvenir postal cards of themselves.

Lord's Day Will Be Discussed

At Special Meeting to be Held in Charlotte Street Church

Rev. T. Albert Moore, secretary of the Lord's Day Alliance, will address a public meeting in the Charlotte street Methodist church on Wednesday, 31st, inst., at 8.00 o'clock p.m. The interests and work of the Alliance will be discussed by the speaker and and special music will be furnished by the Charlotte street church choir. No admission fee will be charged and all are cordially invited.

It is kindly requested that the above announcement be made from the pulpits and platforms of the various church and other Christian organizations at their respective services to-morrow. R. Harrison, secretary local branch, Lord's Day Alliance.

Lakefield Youths Want Young Men's Association

Some Place Where Evenings May be Spent is Needed in That Village, Says the News.

The Lakefield News this week says: Lakefield stands in need of many things, but one of the most pressing is some sort of institution where young men may band together for the purposes of quiet enjoyment and intercourse. The winter is fast approaching and to a large extent the resort of some of our young men after working hours is now closed to them. "Well," we can hear the Local Optionist say, "they have their homes to go to, let them enjoy themselves there." This is most sage and excellent advice, and the only objection to it is that very many young men cannot be made to see it in that light. When the toils of day are over, they are anxious for a certain amount of pleasure, and however estimable their home circle may be, they are apt to find more comfort in association with others like themselves than in the company of the best parents and sisters in the world. Fathers and mothers who are at the present time worrying over the lounging, mischief-seeking propensities of their youngsters, would, we feel sure, hail the opening up of some such institution as this in our midst, whilst to many, who are older, it would come as a distinct godsend during the winter months.

Leper Dies From Heart Disease

His Body Will be Cremated by The Authorities.

Clarksburg, W. Va., October 27.—George Rashid, the Syrian leper, who several months ago was driven from various cities in the East because of his affliction, died in a shanty at Picken, near here. Heart disease was the cause of his death. The body will be cremated by the county authorities. The leper had been placed in a shanty built especially for him after his removal to that place by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, a few months ago, and a nurse was placed in attendance.

Rashid left Elkins, W. Va., to go to a leper colony in New York, but was discovered and ejected from the train, and later captured at Keyser. The railway company shipped him east in a box car, but he was not allowed to enter Philadelphia, and was sent back to Baltimore, where he was housed in a box car a few days until one night the Maryland health authorities placed him directly in the vestibule of a coach, and he was taken through here to Parkersburg, where the Baltimore & Ohio authorities refused to receive the train until after his removal. He was kept under a shade tree there for a day or two, and was then run into Randolph on a special at night.

At first the railroad company provided for his wants, until the county and state authorities looked after him. Later a nurse came from New York to take charge of him, but he circulated freely on the streets of Pickens, was assaulted, and later shot at several times at the shanty.

Pounded Piano For 48 Hours

Was Shaved While He Played a Funeral March.

Special to The Examiner.

London, Oct. 27.—The record of piano playing has just been obtained by a young musician named Napoleon Bird, in the little city of Stockport. For forty-eight consecutive hours the young musician kept playing the piano on a wager, assisted by his wife, who took care to bathe his face and head with Cologne any time she felt her husband was falling asleep. Before the performance had ended the pianist had played 1,500 different compositions, and had a barber shave him while he was performing a funeral march. At the end of the performance the large audience present at the finish escorted him in triumph to his home, where it was found that the only trouble the musician had underwent was a swelling of the fingers and cramps on the lower limbs.

The Milking Machine Problem

Will Try Them at State Farm in Nebraska.

Examiner Special.

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 27.—The University of Nebraska is now planning to install a number of milking machines at the State experiment station in order to test their efficiency and to obtain reliable data. At the State farm a system of records has been kept which dates back for ten years, and it will be interesting to compare the results obtained from the machines with those of previous years.

Experts declare that if the machine proved practical it will be of immense benefit to the dairy business. More economic production will thereby be made possible, and the quality of the milk, too, will be improved. Because of the expense of providing power and equipment the machine will doubtless be more popular with the large dairies than with the smaller ones.

The machines at the State farm will be run by electricity, the power being taken from the trolley wires of the Lincoln Traction Company.

It is very hard to get reliable labour for milking and caring for cattle. With these machines, one capable man can do the work done by ten or more now.

Blondes Are The Trouble Makers

Little Blue-eyed Ones Are Most Dangerous of Their Sex....

Little ones, with blue eyes and a baby stare, and who wear "fussy" clothes, are perhaps the most dangerous of the species, though the red-headed ones are often a menace to the peace and dignity of the state. However, the enlightened Russian Government does not discriminate, but to restore the equanimity of the empire is waging a relentless warfare against all blondes. It was in Warsaw that the great movement originated. A cablegram from that city declares that since a "light-haired" woman threw a bomb at the Governor-General, (incidentally she hit a proletaire), "all blondes are to be placed under arrest." If this programme is carried out we predict an early settlement of the Russian troubles. Blondes have caused nearly all the trouble in the world anyway. Eve was a blonde; Semiramis was a blonde; Cleopatra was a blonde; the original Florodora sextette, are blondes. Men pretend that they revolt, or rebel, or write, or preach, or pray, for the good of humanity. It is not so. They do these things for little blondes. Look up Mark Anthony, Martin Luther, Geo. Washington, Maximillian, and Banker Stensland. With the blondes all locked up Russia will have comparative peace. Affairs in the empire will run smoothly. There may be oppression, but there will be no revolt. Men will complain, perhaps, and talk about the yoke of despotism, and all that, but they will avoid bloodshed. Because all the blondes will be locked up and—brunettes are conservative.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The French Canadian Life And Literature

An Interesting Meeting of St. Peter's T. A. S. Literary Association—Miss O'Connell Presented a Thoughtful Scholarly Paper—Second Regular Meeting of Association Last Night Was Well Attended.

A large and appreciative audience was that which assembled last evening in the T. A. S. Rooms, when the second regular meeting of the Ladies' Literary Society was held. Miss O'Connell was the essayist of the evening, and her paper "French Canadian Life and Literature," was a comprehensive account of the characteristic points in the quaintly interesting life of the French Canadians of the province of Quebec, and a forcible and sympathetic summing up of their literary attainments.

Miss O'Connell introduced her subject by referring to the phenomena that the French-Canadians should have for three centuries maintained their nationality amid the resistless sweep of English speech and commercial domination.

The basis of the early French settlement was next dealt with, and conditions touched upon, in the province of Normandy, and the country around Paris and Rochelle, from which came these enterprising colonists. It was shown how these first expeditions to Quebec, always containing, as they did, so many priests, military officers, lawyers and other educated people, had a noticeable effect on the language in introducing the pure French of the court, which has been maintained to this day in its original grace and purity. Many authorities were quoted in refutation of the slander that the language of the people of Quebec has degenerated into a "patois." The different fields of literary achievement were then examined, it being shown that the French Canadians have an array of native "litterateurs," who do honour not only to their own province, but also to our Dominion.

In oratory such men as Papineau, Taschereau, Lafontaine, Chapleau and down the years to our own Laurier, prove that as parliamentary orators, in defence of their rights, the French Canadians are intellectually able. Among pulpit orators, the names of Paquett, Bruchesi and Lefleche command special attention.

In the department of history Quebec has undoubtedly out-distanced her English sisters, who owe a debt of gratitude to her historians for the preservation of records and documents, which form the basis of every history of Canada which has been written. The works of Sir James Le Moine Garneau, and Abbe Ferland have already furnished material to and army of literary workmen.

In fiction the historical romance predominates, the most noted being "Les Anciens Canadiens," by De Gaspe, and Bourassa's "Jacques et Marie."

Their poetry is marked by lofty thought, fine sentiment and great beauty of imagery. The poet-laureate, Frechette, in his "Tragedy of Papineau," and "Discovery of the Mississippi," Cremazo, who has written wonderful war songs, as well as Benjamin Sulte, who writes of great woods, where the majesty of nature reigns, or of historical scenes of the long-buried past, maintain the supremacy of their native province in their chosen field.

The essay was a complete and convincing refutation of the slander that the province of Quebec has failed in keep in touch with modern advancement.

The essay was written in a delightfully facile way which held the interested attention of the large audience present.

It was prefaced by a short musical programme of unusual excellence. Miss K. Hurley performed "Chaminade's Autumn in D." in brilliant style; Miss Norah Fitzgerald gave a vocal solo which was much enjoyed and Miss Josie Clancy contributed a faultlessly executed piano solo.

The next meeting of the society will be held on Friday evening, Nov. 9th, when a paper on the Shrine of Ste. Anne de Beaupre, will be read by Miss Coleman.

Japan is building in her own ship yards, forty vessels, of 150,000 tons, including two battle ships, in gun power and some other features resembling the Agamemnon, now building in Great Britain. These battle ships are the first to be built in Japan and will be launched before the end of the year. There are also four armored cruisers, a gunboat and thirty destroyers.

Discussion Waxed Warm At Meeting

vidential that typhoid fever had not sooner broen out in the city. This would certainly happen, he believed, if something was not done to purify the water.

Dr. Bingham was next heard. He said that there was no filter at the intake pipe, and he believed there was some pollution from Lakefield. However there were no infectious diseases recently in the city, and that was a good sign that the water could not be very bad.

Mr. Henderson stated that there were two objects to be considered in reference to the intake pipe. The city could not get any purer water, he said, by putting the intake pipe farther out in the stream, and it would then be endangered by the anchor ice.

Mr. Eyres said that the pollution emptied into the river from Young's Point down, was not very great in comparison with the amount of water but nevertheless the water would be better without it. He did not believe in locking the stable after the horse was stolen.

Mr. Matthews said there was no use of appointing an official who had not the machinery at hand to fulfill correctly his duties.

Mayor Best said that the Water Commissioners were elected by the people to look after the water, and he thought that the inspector should be appointed by the commissioners.

Mr. Neill remarked that the pollution of the waters was only a small part of the duties of the inspector, and he did not think this should be separated from the other. He agreed with Mr. Matthews that machinery should be installed in the official's office to provide that the water was not polluted.

Mr. W. H. Hill

Mr. Hill did not believe that the Water Commissioners had anything to do with the question, as everybody uses the water. He therefore did not think that the commissioners should pay any part of the inspector's salary, as it was a matter purely for the Board of Health. To carry out the law he believed that a good man should be appointed to see that it was enforced, but he could not see why the users of water should pay twice.

Ald. McWilliams did not think the amount to be paid would be very great for the Water Commissioners, but rather than separate the control of the inspector's duties, he thought that the city should appoint the inspector, and they would therefore have authority over him.

Ald. McWilliams concurred in these views.

Mr. Matthews stated that it was not a matter of money, but of principle, that the inspector should be under the control of the city council.

Dr. McNulty believed that the council had the jurisdiction in appointing the officer, but said the Board of Health should be consulted in his appointment and in the direction of his duties.

Ald. Elliott said the Medical Health Officer was appointed by the council, and the inspector should therefore be appointed by that body.

Mr. Hill said that it was a notorious fact that if an inspector had been appointed a few years ago, the sickness which prevailed then in the north end would not have occurred.

The Mayor suggested that the Board of Health recommend to the council an inspector who shall be paid by the council but for whom the Board of Health must be responsible.

Ald. McWilliams and Elliott agreed that the council should appoint the man, and pay him, and have authority over him.

Mr. Neill and Mr. Matthews believed that as the work of the Board of Health was confined to a specific duty they should be the more competent to select a suitable man.

Mr. Eyres wanted to know if there should be one or two men to perform the duties of inspector.

Two Men Needed

Dr. McNulty thought there should be two men appointed—one for the bacteriological examination of water and milk, and the more scientific work, and the other for the inspection of the condition of places from which the milk and water came.

Ald. McWilliams stated that the Board of Health would first have to specifically define the duties of the proposed inspector before the council could pass a bylaw for the appointment of that inspector.

Ald McWilliams moved that the Board of Health be asked to define the duties of the inspector, as far as possible. This was seconded by Ald. Johnston.

Officer Incompetent

Mr. Neill stated that the Board did not consider that the present Medical Health Officer was the man to look after the sanitary condition of the city.

Ald. Ball disagreed with this, and considered Dr. Bingham was fully competent to do his duties.

The chairman thought that the board knew more about the work of the Medical Health Officer than the council. He had often done work which should have been performed by the Health Officer, and he did not deem him capable.

From The Blazers

Dr. Bingham replied that the chairman's remarks were nothing more than slanders. He defied the chairman to point out a particular case where he had neglected his duties. He also defied the chairman to prove that he was no competent to perform his duties.

"What does he know about it," he remarked, "coming, as he does, from away down among the Blazers?"

Dr. McNulty explained that the man who looked after the duties must be a professional man of the highest standing, and ought to be a specialist in the testing of water and milk.

More Cheek Than Brains

Ald. Ball disagreed with Dr. McNulty. He believed that an experienced man was preferable to one who had just entered the profession, and who was characterized as having more cheek than brains.

Ald. McWilliams' resolution was then carried, and the meeting adjourned.

Objection To The Use Of Glasses
Sometimes people object to glasses, claiming that once put on they can not see without them. If after putting on glasses the wearer finds it difficult to go without them, this simply proves that before he wore glasses he was forcing his eyes beyond the limit of safety, a practice if continued, is sure to affect the health and sight. The person who lets pride, even excusable pride, stand in the way of glasses is doing his eyes and health injustice and is merely paving the way for future suffering and discomforts.
We will test your eyesight carefully, and tell you just what condition your eyes are in.

Two Perished In Fire In Home For The Aged

A Fatal Fire Which Occurred in Bowmanville Early This Morning.

Examiner Special

Bo...rmanville, Oct. 29.—The Home for the Aged here was burned this morning and two inmates perished in the flames, Mrs. James Wilson, of South Dollington, and Mrs. Mary Best Curtis, of Orono. The other inmates escaped in their night clothes. The fire started on the outside, having caught from the fire place through the wall. By the time the matron had aroused the inmates the building was in flames. Mrs. Wilson after being gotten out went back for her clothes and was smothered. The buildings belonged to the E. G. Burke estate. There was some insurance on the contents.

Armour's Hill To Be Used For Residental Purposes

Hon. Geo. A. Cox Said to be Endeavouring to Secure That Property—It is Reported That He Wants Another Section of Land, the Kennedy Property in Otonabee.

Hon. George A. Cox is evidently a firm believer in the prospects for Peterborough"s future prosperity. It is said that he has secured, or is endeavouring to secure, options on several large sections of property in and around Peterborough.

One of these, it is reported, is the Armour property, commonly known as Armour's, or Ludgate's, Hill. This, it is stated, is to be divided into building lots, and used for residential purposes. The Hill, if terraced, would be admirably adapted for residences, commanding, as it does, a view of the entire city.

Another property which Hon. Mr. Cox is said to be endeavouring to secure, is that owned by Mr. H. P. Kennedy, on the river road, in Otonabee, and containing several hundred acres. This, bordered as it is, by the river, would make a splendid site for manufacturing purposes.

Was Overcome By Illuminating Gas

Miss Alberta Davis Had a Close Call at George St. Church Last Night.

Miss Alberta Davis, of Division street, had a close call last night at the George Street Methodis Church. She was overcome by illuminating gas during the service, and had to be taken from the church to her home, where she has been confined to her bed since. She is now out of danger, it is thought, but is far from well.

It appears that the supply of gas became short during the service, and some of the jets went out from lack of gas. With the light extinguished in some of the jets, gas escaped, and Miss Davis, happening to be sitting near one of these jets, inhaled a considerable quantity of the fumes. She was overcome by them, and taken to her home, where Dr. Gray was called and succeeded in restoring her, after some difficulty.

It appears that escaping illuminating gas is particularly dangerous, one of the reasons being that one may inhale a considerable quantity before becoming aware of it.

Crusade Waged Against Blood-Thirsty Dogs

Depredations Among the Sheep-folds are Growing—H. P. Kennedy's Sheep Attacked—Left Torn and Bleeding.

The urgent need for a crusade against the sheep-worrying dogs is becoming more apparent. In Saturday's issue of The Examiner three cases were cited, where wolf-like canines had chased sheep last week in Otonabee. The Examiner has since been informed that the facts were much worse than stated. Sheep were hunted down, and next morning were found torn and bleeding, and attempting to hide from further ravages of the hungry brutes. Some were chased across the Locks bridge, and were found in the vicinity of Crawford's Grove the following morning. In addition to the losses mentioned on Saturday, Mr. H. P. Kennedy has been added. Three or four animals on his farm were chased and torn. Last night again dogs were after Mr. J. J. Bowden's sheep.

Sheep-killing by dogs is the most talked-of incident in Otonabee, and the farmers there are determined to see that something will be done to mitigate the growing evil. What they are looking for is legislation allowing them to shoot any dog on their property after 7 o'clock at night, without an owner. In view of the recent depredations among the sheep-folds, this seems to be a very reasonable request, and there is a probability that this will be accomplished in the near future.

Mr. Hamilton's Mills Are To Be Enlarged

Pulp and Paper Mills at Sturgeon Falls will be Amalgamated.

The pulp and paper mills at Sturgeon Falls, with which Mr. Alex. Hamilton is associated as woods superintendent, are to be considerably enlarged. The Toronto Star has the following in reference to it today:

A re-arrangement of the various bond issues of the Northern Sulphite Company, and the Imperial Paper Mills, at Sturgeon Falls, which has been rendered necessary by the proposed amalgamation of the two industries, has resulted in Mr. John Craig, the managing director of both companies, being appointed receiver. It is understood that as a result of the amalgamation, a considerable impetus will be given to business in Sturgeon Falls.

A representative of the company said on Saturday that the paper mills which are now producing fifty tons a day will have their capacity doubled, and the output of the sulphite mills will be increased to seventy tons per day.

The appointment of Mr. Craig was made recently by Mr. Justice Anglin, as the result of a friendly application by the company.

Removal Of Mr. R. J. Soden

To His New Premises on George Street.

Mr. R. J. Soden, who for the past year has conducted a bookstore on Hunter street, next to the Bank of Commerce, is removing his stock today. His new location is in the store formerly occupied by J. Sutcliffe and Son, in the drygoods business.

This stand is about twice as large as the one he is leaving and will thus enable him to increase his stock considerably. This he is going to do and thereby will be able to supply his customers with the very best and newest articles in his line.

Peterborough Man Asks For $1,000

W. C. Austin Has Claim Against Roller Bearing Co.

The Toronto Globe, of Saturday said:—Three creditors of the Henderson Roller Bearing Company have put in claims which are being contested by the liquidator, the Trust & Guarantee Company. They are Mr. W. C. Austin, of Peterborough, who asks $1,000 as commissions on stock sales; Mr. J. E. Haines of Brampton, who claims $4,200 for the same transaction, and Mr. Wm. Breese of Chatsworth, also for commissions. They appeared either in person or through counsel yesterday before Master in Ordinary Hodgins. Mr. Casey Wood appeared for the liquidator and Mr. S. T. Medd, of Peterborough, for Mr. Austin. Mr. Haines' claim was disallowed; Mr. Breese's claim was adjourned a week, and the claim of Mr. Austin was not concluded.

Meeting Of Lord's Day Alliance

Will be Held on Wednesday Instead of Tuesday.

The meeting of the Lord's Day Alliance, which was announced to be held to-morrow night in the Charlotte Street Methodist Church, has been postponed on account of circumstances which make such a course necessary, until Wednesday night in the same church, when Rev. T. Albert Moore, one of the secretaries of the Alliance, will give an address on the work of that body.

A Pleasure Park For Sandy Point, Clear Lake

Mr. R. B. Rogers Has Disposed of About 20 Lots to Peterborough People.

During the past week an important change in property has taken place above Sandy Point on the shores of Clear Lake. The lots there which formerly belonged to Mr. R. B. Rogers, have almost all been disposed of to Peterborough people. The property has been divided into some 20 lots and a large reserve which is left for a park to be known as Kawartha Park. This reserve alone has not been disposed of yet, and is still in Mr. Rogers' possession.

There is every possibility that the Street Railway will extend their line to Sandy Point as the park will be a spot which will be difficult to surpass in beauty.

An avenue known as Hiawatha avenue, 50 feet wide stretches to the rear of the lots, to the park, and it will be by this route, if any, that the street railway company will build its lines.

Merchant Tailors Are Alarmed

At the Progress Made by Semi-Ready Tailoring.

Referring to the progress made by the new art of men's tailoring a New York journal recently prophesied that in a few years the old-time journeyman tailor would be as scarce as a brevier compositor in a daily newspaper office. Semi-ready tailoring has made such strides in recent years that the tailoring journals are advising organization and action on the part of merchant tailors to combat the new idea. In bold type the National Fashion Bulletin recently issued "Confidential Circular No. 1," to the custom tailors, and quoted a prominent speaker at the merchant tailors' banquet, who said:

"Unless we combat the Semi-ready houses our profession will in a few years be in the same condition as the custom shoe trade is now. A few will pay big prices for custom-made. The rest will wear Semi-ready."

• • • •

The strides made by the Semi-ready tailoring in Canada have been remarkable. In Toronto recently two new Semi-ready Wardrobes were opened, Ed. Mack, one of the prominent merchant tailors, having secured the agency. In Montreal three new Semi-ready agencies were opened. A. M. Campbell, a manager of the Merchants' Bank, joined forces with R. C. McLean, a merchant tailor. The third was opened by F. X. Bourduas, a merchant tailor who had been in business for 19 years.

From three wardrobes in 1898, the Semi-ready Company announce in their new booklet, just published, entitled "Manners and Modes for Men," that there are 69 Semi-ready Wardrobes in Canada.

The Winnipeg house of the Semi-ready Company is to be in charge of William T. Peace, who for 15 years conducted the most prosperous and high-class custom tailoring business in that city.

In every town and city the Semi-ready Company seem to have no difficulty in getting the best agencies. While a merchant tailoring experience is not absolutely essential, the system upon which Semi-ready tailoring is based appeals more quickly to a man of practical experience. A practical tailor grasps the idea at once.

INSPECTED AT SIXTEEN STAGES

IN the Inspection Department one finds reasons for the uniformgoodness of a SEMI-READY Suit. In its progress through the tailor shops the work of each department is minutely examined and a coat passes through a series of inspections in its making. No less than sixteen times has it to pass the inspector, and only when the workmanship is absolutely perfect is the garment allowed to go forward to the next department.

New Engines On Toronto Line

G. T. R. Replacing Old Engines With Faster and Larger Ones From Port Hope to Toronto.

It is reported by those people who have seen them, that heavy engines are being placed on the Port Hope-Toronto route. They are of the No. 5 class, and are much heavier and faster than those running at present. They are to be used on the fast trains connecting between Port Hope and Toronto, and will undoubtedly add to the efficiency of the passenger service on that line. The engines that have been seen are Nos. 401 and 404, while Nos. 402 and 403 will also be added. All those who have seen them state that they are fine engines and should add materially to the speed of the Port Hope trains.

Improvements To The Canoe Works

New Set of Ways Erected by the Peterborough Canoe Co.

The Peterborough Canoe Company is building a new set of ways for handling launches, in the large shops at the rear of the company's works, on Water street. New doors have been put in, making it possible to have the boats enter the building, and, if necessary, take them right through the factory and load them on to trucks for shipping.

THE SECRET OUT

The reasons for the recent bye-elections not going just the way the Liberal Government would naturally prefer to have them go, has come out into the open. It is the fine Italian hand, or the mal occhio — evil eye — of the Review, which "done it." We read in our influental back-door contemporary, a claim, quite seriously made, that the Review is responsible for the dredging in the river opposite the city, or, at least, for the filling in of the basin at the foot of Charlotte lotte street and adjacently. The Review gave the Government the hint as to using the dredgings for this purpose, and, of course, its wish was law—the Government could do no other than meekly submit; it meekly submitted; the dredge Trent went to work, and, lo, we have as a result, a "piece of land worth $20,000 to $30,000." This is genius; it is more, it beats creation, and it is a blessed thing for this city that it has a newspaper which can hold governments in the hollow of its hand, and swing them to obedience to its will. It would be a nice thing if the Review would take Bourassa in hand, and do a little lion taming. If it can control and mould to its will a big government, it can certainly bring a man, with a big head, to reason. How does Mr. R. R. Hall, M.P., the duly elected representative of West Peterborough, relish being thus set aside and conveniently disposed of? He is supposed—though it may be a mere fiction—to be qualified and willing to give the government he supports, some little advice in reference to matters which affect his riding. One would like to know how the Review manages it. Such power in a hostile journal is more than peculiar, it is positively uncanny. But, as a matter of fact, our back-door contemporary had no more to do with suggesting that river dredgings be used for the purpose mentioned, than with suggesting the nebular hypothesis.

CONGRATULATORY

Mr. F. D. Moore, barrister of Lindsay, in receiving the appointment of police magistrate for the County of Victoria, has secured a position, which, in the light of the services of himself and family to the Conservative party, is a recognition of his fidelity. The whirligig of time brings changes in party control of patronage, and the dominant party is rightly seized of the right of patronage, if that is exercised to fill vacancies legitimately created, as in the present case, and with as good an incumbent. The Examiner congratulates Mr. Moore on this reward of fidelity to his party, all the more, because in conjuction he possesses the qualifications, legal and otherwise, which fit him for efficiently discharging the duties of his new position. As an old Peterborough boy, the Examiner heartily congratulates Mr. Moore, and hopes that he may long be spared to do justice, to love mercy and creditably fill the responsible position to which he has been promoted.

A HIGH-TONE JOURNALIST.

The editor of the Bowmanville Statesman, thus unloads his soul:

Our personal effort has always been through our journalistic career to give pure, honest and truthful service, thus making this journal a faithful guide and counsellor, leading or directing the footsteps of our readers in the pathway of virtue, truth and honour, thus giving assistance to all to weave a destiny bespangled by virtuous thoughts and noble deeds. Our earnest desire still is, that we may be yet more helpful in lifting humanity's burdens and pointing the way to purer air, sunnier skies and more wholesome environments.

Thus he sets plainly before every journalist a lofty standard in regard to the lofty mission of his calling. It will readily be seen that the Statesman's pre-figured and touching obituary notice accurately describes our own career, though we are not in Bowmanville, but in the land of the living — modesty has heretofore prevented us from taking such language upon our pen, though the warrant, therefore, may have been never so good, but it may be something for our local contemporary to aspire to live up to.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Toronto World reports Premier Whitney as saying: "There is nothing to trouble the Government in the affairs at the 'Soo.'" Of course there isn't. The late Government left the financial, and other affairs of the province in such excellent shape as to make the work of their successors easy. The late Government was simply lied out of office.

There is reason to believe that there is much mineral wealth in Ontario. We have proof that this province is rich in minerals. But there is also reason to believe that at least when the present mining boom has somewhat spent its force, there will be a large amount of money under ground. Two new Toronto million dollar mining companies have been incorporated.

Toronto is to have two more newspapers, which looks very like an embaras des richesses. As newspapers, the existing publications are very creditable, and, in this respect, the city is very well served. Unless, for special reasons, such as the need of organs for special interests, there does not seem to be a place for other newspapers. If, however, the cacoethes scribendi has seized anybody sufficiently to make him reckless of the disappearance of money, in the insatiable maw of a new newspaper enterprise, Toronto presents a capital opportunity for the absorption of surplus capital.

His Excellency Earl Gray, has always been regarded as patriotic and level-headed, but his proposal to give a "theatrical trophy" to what shall be adjudged the best amateur theatrical or musical combination in Canada, raises a doubt. Every capital of the Dominion is entitled to enter a competing team, and every city of 50,000 or more. The competition, which will be a continuous performance, opens in Ottawa, on Jan. 28th, 1907. It is thus seen that Peterborough is cut out of the competition. Otherwise we might reorganize our talented Board of Health into an opera bouffe company, and pull off the trophy—in the comic section anyway.

A delivery wagon driver in Toronto is under arrest on account of his running into a school boy, and piercing the latter's lungs with the shaft of his vehicle. Boys are generally reckless in exposing themselves to danger, but the average driver of a delivery wagon, as well as many other vehicles, are tremendously reckless and regardless of the safety of life and limbs of foot passengers. Like so many Jehus, they drive furiously, especially in turning street corners, and the wonder is that more passengers at street intersections are not maimed or killed. The authorities should keep a watch upon such conduct and provide for its cessation. In connection with furious driving, there is, incidentally, ill-treatment of the brutes driven so brutally.

The Toronto Star of Saturday said: The adherents of the Baptist Church were never looked upon as very keen for Church union. Consequently, the action of the recent convention of that denomination in Peterborough, in appointing a committee to confer with the representatives of other denominations in this regard, is considered very encouraging by the enthusiasts in the movement. In the meantime the Baptists are parting to a church union movement which will probably materialize in the near future—the amalgamation of the Disciples, who are strong throughout Ontario, with the larger denomination, the Baptists. Negotiations between the two sects have been in progress for years. There is now a substantial prospect of the accomplishment of the idea.

Installing New Silent Salesmen

In One of Mr. Thos. Hooper's Fine Stores.

Mr. Thos. Hooper had a staff of men busily engaged installing a new and up-to-date silent salesman, manufactured by the McLaughlin & Gourley Manufacturing Co., Toronto, in his premises, No. 327 George street. Mr. Eldrick White was noticed among those in charge in installing the new fixtures, and a good job has been done.

A Petition For Banwell's Release

Defaulting Banker Who May Not Have to Serve Term.

A petition asking for the release on parole of E. St. George Banwell, the young Crown Bank teller, who was convicted last March for stealing the bank's money, and sentenced to four years in the Kingston Penitentiary, has been prepared and is to be forwarded to the Governor-General. This points out that of the $13,350 taken, most was in unsigned bank notes, and that all save $1,879 was restored by him to the bank. The petition also states that his widowed invalid mother and his youngest sister are dependent on him and his brother, Henry, for their support, and that, at the time of the theft, he was engaged to be married, and the pressure of his straitened financial position caused him to yield to a sudden impulse.

WHO SHE WAS

SKETCH OF THE LIFE OF LYDIA E. PINKHAM

And a True Story of How the Vegetable Compound Had Its Birth and How the "Panic of '73" Caused it to be Offered for Public Sale in Drug Stores.

This remarkable woman whose maiden name was Estes, was born in Lynn, Mass., February 9th, 1819, coming from a good old Quaker family. For some years she taught school, and became known as a woman of an alert and investigating mind, an earnest seeker after knowledge, and above all, possessed of a wonderfully sympathetic nature.

In 1843 she married Isaac Pinkham, a builder and real estate operator, and their early married life was marked by prosperity and happiness. They had four children, three sons and a daughter.

In those good old fashioned days it was common for mothers to make their own home medicines from roots and herbs, nature's own remedies—calling in a physician only in specially urgent cases. By tradition and experience many of them gained a wonderful knowledge of the curative properties of the various roots and herbs.

Mrs. Pinkham took a great interest in the study of roots and herbs, their characteristics and power over disease. She maintained that just as nature so bountifully provides in the harvest-fields and orchards vegetable foods of all kinds; so, if we but take the pains to find them, in the roots and herbs of the field there are remedies expressly designed to cure the various ills and weaknesses of the body, and it was her pleasure to search these out, and prepare simple and effective medicines for her own family and friends.

Chief of these was a rare combination of the choicest medicinal roots and herbs found best adapted for the cure of the ills and weaknesses peculiar to the female sex, and Lydia E. Pinkham's friends and neighbors learned that her compound relieved and cured and it became quite popular among them.

All this so far was done freely, without money and without price as a labor of love.

But in 1873 the financial crisis struck Lynn. Its length and severity were too much for the large real estate interests of the Pinkham family, as this class of business suffered most from fearful depression, so when the Centennial year dawned it found their property swept away. Some other source of income had to be found.

At this point Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was made known to the world.

The three sons and the daughter, with their mother, combined forces to restore the family fortune. They argued that the medicine which was so good for their woman friends and neighbors was equally good for the women of the whole world.

The Pinkhams had no money, and little credit. Their first laboratory was the kitchen, where roots and herbs were steeped on the stove, gradually filling a gross of bottles. Then came the question of selling it, for always before they had given it away freely. They hired a job printer to run off some pamphlets setting forth the merits of the medicine, now called Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and these were distributed by the Pinkham sons in Boston, New York, and Brooklyn.

The wonderful curative properties of the medicine were, to a great extent, self-advertising, for whoever used it recommended it to others, and the demand gradually increased.

In 1877, by combined efforts the family had saved enough money to commence newspaper advertising and from that time the growth and success of the enterprise were assured, until to-day Lydia E. Pinkham and her Vegetable Compound have become household words everywhere, and many tons of roots and herbs are used annually in its manufacture.

Lydia E. Pinkham herself did not live to see the great success of this work. She passed to her reward years ago, but not till she had provided means for continuing her work as effectively as she could have done it herself.

During her long and eventful experience she was ever methodical in her work and she was always careful to preserve a record of every case that came to her attention. The case of every sick woman who applied to her for advice—and there were thousands—received careful study and the details, including symptoms, treatment and results were recorded for future reference, and to-day these records, together with hundreds of thousands made since, are available to sick women the world over, and represent a vast collaboration of information regarding the treatment of woman's ills, which for authenticity and accuracy can hardly be equaled in any library in the world.

With Lydia E. Pinkham worked her daughter-in-law, the present Mrs. Pinkham. She was carefully instructed in all her hard-won knowledge, and for years she assisted her in her vast correspondence.

To her hands naturally fell the direction of the work when its originator passed away. For nearly twenty-five years she has continued it, and nothing in the work shows when the first Lydia E. Pinkham dropped her pen, and the present Mrs. Pinkham, now the mother of a large family, took it up. With woman assistants, some as capable as herself, the present Mrs. Pinkham continues this great work, and probably from the office of no other person have so many women been advised how to regain health. Sick women, this advice is "Yours for Health" freely given if you only write to ask for it.

Such is the history of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound: made from simple roots and herbs; the one great medicine for women's ailments, and the fitting monument to the noble woman whose name it bears.

Keene Bridge Dismantled

The Old Bridge Was in a Very Advanced State of Dilapidation.,

A number of gentlemen were in the city to-day from Keene, where Mr. D. Conroy & Son are building a new bridge over the Indian River. These men stated that the old bridge was in a very rotten condition and expressed their wonder that an accident had not happened before the new one was undertaken. They considered that with the old one it would have been merely a matter of time till a serious accident would have occurred, Mr. John Carey, County Councillor for Otonabee, is to be congratulated for his foresight in providing for a new bridge at this time. The gentlemen referred to aloud in their praises of Mr. Carey's business ability in foreseeing this want and impressing the fact upon his colleagues.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment, Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Englishwoman With Family

Were Stranded Here on Saturday on Their way to Orono.

An Englishwoman with a family of six children all very young, arrived in the city by the C.P.R. 5.10 p.m. train on Saturday. Her name is Pearson and she, with her little ones are just out from the Old Country, on the way to join Mr. Pearson, who is working at Orono, a few miles from Newcastle, on the main line of the G.T.R. When they reached Peterborough the mother found herself without funds and went to the local G.T.R. station. Mr. Henry, of the Shelter, was informed of her plight, and kindly took her and the little ones in and kept them there until this morning when they left on the noon train. They were well dressed and fine looking children as was the mother too, and should thrive in this country.

Military Men Get Certificates

Were Successful in Examinations at School of Musketry.

Colonel Miller received to-day certificates from the Military School, at Ottawa, showing that Lieut. Hodgson, No. 5 Company; Sergt. B. Miller, No. 6 Company; and Sergt. Arnott, of No. 4 Company, have passed their examinations in the School of Musketry, Ottawa.

The same certificates qualify them to receive instructions in the use of the Maxim machine gun.

The above gentlemen attended the School of Musketry from July 1st to August 15th, and from the fact that 70 per cent. was required to pass, they did remarkably well. Their instructor was Major Helmer of Ottawa.

STRATTON'S BOOK SHOP

YOU who have been watching STRATTON'S store growing so rapidly during the passing year, will have noticed that our space has been severely taxed to meet the requirements of the business. We have been resorting to all sorts of internal changes and economies of space to meet this phenomenal growth. We think we have accomplished something towards making more room, in the plan which has been devised to remodel the store. The new fittings are now in process of manufacture and while they are being made we are exerting every effort to clear out many lines of stock by reducing prices with the view of economizing space.

New Store Features

THE tremendous increase in the publishing of Books makes it necessary that in some one place will be found a representative stock of all that is best in literature. On our shelves and tables are the latest and best Books from the foremost Canadian, British and American publishers. Our facilities for procuring any Book in print is unexcelled. We have intimate connection with London and New York, buying direct from publishers. But this Book business grows too fast, and we're always in danger of being overstocked. This is the case at present. Appealing Prices to book lovers will continue for another week. Ask all questions you like about prices.

Book Section

THIS Department is also overloaded. We must reduce without delay. Come and buy what you want at close to cost. The finest products of the best makers of Note Papers, Envelopes, Private Postal Cards, etc., will be found here.

Our knowledge of the requirements of social usages, places at our disposal correct information with regard to all the most fashionable in Fine Stationery.

Stationery Section

OUR Art Section includes dainty and inexpensive goods in unique designs. To make our assortment complete, we procured the gems of a leading maker. They are real novelties, well worth seeing.

We carry a recherche stock of Cut Glass, Crest Ware and Kelva, the newest modern art ware, Wedding Gifts, Ornaments for the Den, etc.

Everything in Our Art Section and Fancy Goods selling at about Cost.

Art Section

WE are noted for being Headquarters for Purses, Shopping Bags, Card Cases and all Fancy Leather Goods. Those who buy presents have a preference for this store.

Special Sermons To Young Men Asked

Ministerial Association Members Asked to Preach Them on Nov. 11th and 18th.

Rev. H. Symonds Gave Interesting Address to Ministers at Meeting Held To-day.

The Ministerial Association met in the Y.M.C.A. parlour this morning. The following members were present:—Rev. Canon Davidson, Rev. F. J. Scott, Rev. Dr. Crothers, Rev. J. G. Lewis, Rev. H. M. Manning and Rev. A. Bright. Other members were absent through indisposition or being out of the city.

In response to a letter received from Mr. Williamson, secretary of the Y.M.C.A., it was resolved to request all the Protestant ministers of the city to preach a sermon to young men on November 11th or 18th, which is the week of prayer for young men throughout Christendom. Words of warm appreciation and gratitude were spoken in reference to the success of the union social gathering held in St. John's Church, through the invitation of the association.

Rev. Dr. Symonds, who was present by request, as a former member and president of the association, received a very hearty welcome. In a most interesting and profitable address upon "The Present Trend of Theology" he spoke of the views taken of this trend. By some it is considered as the doing away with Theology as a science and by others, these being in the majority, it betokens only a reconstruction of theology. Unlike the search of the Bible at the time of the Reformation, for set forms and constitution for church government, there is to-day the conception of expansion and development that necessitates changing forms and corresponding readapting of constitutions. The outcome of it all, the speaker believed would be a more liberal spirit in and among the various churches while holding firmly the central and essential truths of the Bible.

A hearty and unanimous vote of thanks was tendered Rev. Dr. Symonds, for his inspiring message.

The Hospital and Home visitation for November is as follows:—

November 5-7—Rev. F. J. Scott.
November 12-14—Rev. J. G. Lewis.
November 19-21—Rev. Canon Davidson.
November 26-28—Rev. A. Bright.

Rev. F. J. Scott and Rev. H. Manning were appointed to prepare papers for December and January.

Music and Drama

GIRLS WILL BE GIRLS

At the Grand opera house on Friday, November 2nd, "Girls will be Girls," will appear. "Girls will be Girls" is a musical farce with a plot. An excellent company is headed by Al. Leech, whose eccentricities are well known, and he is reinforced by the Three Rosebuds, Maude Gray, Charlotte Towle and Lily Hart. The production is an elaborate one and is staged with the usual magnificence of the Brady plays. The score, written by Jos. Hart, is replete with musical bits that will be whistled on the streets, and many of the songs and dances rendred by a big chorus of pretty girls, are distinct novelties.

The possibilities for fun in a play which places Al. Leech at the head of thirty pretty girls, as professor of the Rural Academy, are apparent, when one remembers the fun that he produced when his class only numbered the Three Rosebuds. The supporting company is composed of capable actors and girls. "Girls will be Girls" is a well written musical farce produced by a well balanced company. There is a genuine cock fight, which is great. The company goes direct to the Grand opera house, Toronto for all next week, and Peterborough is fortunate to get the company for one single night, Friday, Nov. 2nd.

Sunday Music At St. John's

Musical Features of Services Much Enjoyed.

Yesterday being Sunday School Simon and Jude festival day, the services at St. John's ware festal. At Matins a full choir turned out and led the service heartily. Mr. Jos. Halpany sang well in the offertory solo, the song "The Heavenly Choir" and Sullivan's music to "Onward, Christian Soldiers" was heartily sung by choir and a large congregation.

The Evensong was fully choral. Responses to the grand old "Tallis". Psalms to Cathedral Chants, "By the Waters of Babylon" to Felton; Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis to "Winchester" (harmonized). The anthem was well rendered, viz: Whitfield's "I will lift up mine eyes". The Bass solo by Mr. Hague Sawers, and the soprano and contralto duet by Mr. R. J. Devey, and Mrs. Seward were sung with much expression. Stainer's "Sevenfold" Amen and the hymn "Palms of Glory" concluded a bright helpful service, and at the conclusion the Rev. Canon Davidson thanked the choir for their earnest conscientious work.

Two Good Jobs By Mr. Quinn

New House in Harvey and Chemong Church His Work.

Mr. John Dick, of Harvey, is the proud possessor of one of the finest houses in that district. It is a two-storey brick residence finished in ash. The carpenter work was done by Mr. Ed. J. Quinn, of Lakefield, while Mr. John H. Hislop had the contract for the painting and decorating.

Mr. Quinn has also the contract for the new Methodist (Indian) Church at Indian Village, Chemong Reservation, which is being built by the Government. The brickwork is nearly completed and Mr. Quinn and his staff will start in next week putting on the roof. Mr. J. H. Heaslop, Peterborough has been engaged to do the painting and finishing.

Spun Glass Box Was Made In 1700

Remarkable Relic of Old Time Workmanship on Exhibition.

A rather remarkable and unique relic is on exhibition in the window of F. Clarke and Son's jewellery establishment at the corner of Brock and George streets. It is a jewel box or work box, made entirely of spun glass, even the flowers and exterior decorations being made of that material. What gives interest to the relic is its age. It was manufactured by English glass-blowers in the year 1700, and thus is 206 years old. Although the flowers have faded somewhat from their original colours, the box itself is as perfect as on the day on which it was manufactured. The relic was the property of the Willis family, Somerset, England, and was exhibited at the Crystal Palace, London, in 1851. It now belongs to an English gentleman residing in Peterborough.

No Business Done By The Committee

House of Refuge Committee Met on Saturday.

The House of Refuge Committee met on Saturday afternoon in the County Clerk's office, but no business of importance was transacted. A number of reports was received upon which discussion was made, but the committee was lacking some information which compelled it to postpone their meeting to some future date.

BOARD OF HEALTH HAD NO QUORUM

A meeting of the Board of Health was called for this morning to talk isolation hospital questions again, but for want of quorum no business was done. Those present were Wm. Eyres, chairman, Dr. McNelly, Dr. Burnham and the Medical Health Officer, Dr. Bingham.

Rev. A. Bright Was The Speaker

At the Y. M. C. A. Men's Meeting Yesterday.

There was a large gathering of men at the Y.M.C.A. yesterday afternoon to hear the address of Rev. Dr. Torrance, on "The Young Ruler." Owing to a severe cold, the Dr. was unable to be present, his place being taken by Rev. A. Bright, who gave a very forcible, helpful address on the subject announced.

Mr. J. E. Thornton conducted the stirring song service, and also sang a solo.

Rev. H. M. Manning will be the speaker next Sunday, his subject being "Will Your Anchor Hold?"

Lithographic Strike Causes Inconvenience

Some Billing Paper for "Girls Will Be Girls" Has Not Yet Arrived.

The strike in lithographic establishments in the United States has been a great detriment to the advance agents of the Theatrical Companies and the managers of various Opera Houses in Canada. On this account part of the paper which should have been here last week to bill the city for "Girls will be Girls" has not yet arrived and it is for this reason that some of the bill boards are not covered.

The first bundle of paper contains all that the lithographic company can spare at the time of shipment and is sent forward to get as much printing into the city for each billing. The second shipment contains the balance due the order and generally reaches here too late for the agent to see it.

St. Luke's Congregations' Fowl Supper and Concert at Ashburnham Town Hall Monday, Oct. 29th Supper from 5:30 to 8 o'clock Admission 25c.

To Inspect Steam Heating System

Manufacturers Committee Will Visit Lockport and Detroit.

Ald. McWilliams, chairman of the Manufacturers' Committee of the city council, is busy to-day arranging for the deputation which is to go to Lockport and Detroit for the purpose of inspecting the plan and system of the District Steam Heating Company, who have applied for a franchise in this city.

The deputation will leave to-morrow and return on Thursday night. One section will go to Lockport, where the company's manufacturing plant is situated, and where also the first system of district heating was installed over twenty-five years ago. The other section will visit Detroit, one of the large cities in which the system is in operation.

The personnel of the deputation is not complete, although it is likely that all the members of the Manufacturers' Committee will go with the exception of Ald. Tovey, who is unable to get away. The city engineer will also form one of the committee.

Growing Interest In Protection of Game

Officials of Game Protective Assocation in the City To-day, Tell of Progress of the Movement—New Branch Will be Formed in Campbellford To-night.

Mr. Kelly-Evans, secretary of the Ontario Fish and Game Protective Association, and Mr. Oliver Adams, vice-president of the Toronto branch of the same association, were in the city this afternoon on their way to Campbellford, where they will address a meeting called for the purpose of organizing a branch of the association. Interest in the work of protecting the game and fish of the Province, these gentlemen state, is growing, and in all parts of the Province people are becoming alive to the importance of the movement, of which Messrs. Kelly-Evans and Adams were the originators. They find the work much easier now than it was at the commencement, and now, instead of them having to look for places at which to speak, requests are being received almost daily for them to address public meetings in the interest of the protection of the game of the Province.

The work was uphill at the beginning, and the money, of which about $1,400 has already been spent, has been for the most part supplied by private individuals, who are interested in the movement.

Mr. Kelly-Evans expressed his disappointment that there were no delegates from Peterborough to the convention, and expressed the hope that at the next convention, which will be held at Easter time, the local branch would be represented.

In Campbellford, Mr. A. B. Colville has been taking a deep interest in the work, and it is largely through his efforts that the meeting to-night has been arranged. For the week of November 19 meetings are arranged to take place at North Bay, Callandor and Midland, while in the week following, a big meeting will be held at Woodstock, where Mr. Taylor, of the Sentinel-Review, has been very active in promoting the cause of game protection.

Hubert Carver Returns After A Long Absence

Former Peterborough Boy, Now Living in California, Visiting His Old Home—Is Greatly Surprised at the Progress Peterborough Has Made—This Century, he is Convinced, Belongs to Canada.

After an absence of 21 years, Mr. Herbert Carven, the fourth son of Herbert Carver, the fourth son of the late S. J. Carver, former postmaster of Peterborough, returned this morning to pay a visit to his former home, and is a guest of his brother, Mr. S. D. Carver, of North Monaghan.

Mr. Carver is a resident of the now famous State of California, living at Fresno, about 200 miles south of San Francisco, and far enough away from that city, to escape the calamity which befell it last spring. He is engaged in the fruit business, and owns one of the largest fruit farms in that part of the State, raising grapes and peaches. This industry has developed into a most important one in that State, and, with the development of the West, a growing demand has arisen for the fruit products of California.

After an absence of this number of years it is but natural that Mr. Carver should notice changes in his native town—now a thriving city—and to say that he was surprised at the growth of Peterborough is putting it mildly indeed. He had heard reports of the progress that was taking place here, but was not prepared to see a bustling city of 16,000 people, with new houses by the hundreds springing up, practically on every side. Nor was the development of Peterborough the only surprise he was treated to on his trip. He came east by way of British Columbia and the Canadian Northwest, and, en route, stopped off at some of the cities. He was amazed at what he saw, and was particularly pleased with what he saw of Calgary, Winnipeg and the twin cities at the head of Lake Superior. He was quite prepared to believe that this century would be the century of Canada after having seen the progress of the West, and in the East as well this same spirit of progress was noticed.

Mr. Carver was kept busy this morning greeting old friends, who were most hearty in the welcome they extended to him after his long absence.

Musical Service At Charlotte Street

This Feature of Church Services Much Enjoyed.

At the Charlotte Street Methodist Church yesterday the choir rendered an appropriate and appreciated service. In the morning, the anthem, "Just as I Am," by Bierly, was sung with good effect, while at the evening service the choir sang "The Earth Is the Lord's," by Sudds, Mr. Walter Stocker taking the opening bass solo. At the offertory, Miss Belleghem was heard in Cowan's "Cast Thy Bread on the Waters," which she sang with much acceptance.

Sick With Diphtheria; Forced From Boarding House

Pathetic Case in South End of City—Need for an Isolation Hospital.

Will the citizens of Peterborough ever be protected from contagious diseases by an Isolation Hospital? This is a question which is uppermost in the minds of many who have had to suffer from the want of a proper institution in which to place those afflicted.

A rather pathetic incident occurred in a boarding-house recently in the south end of the city, in which were several boarders. One of them became ill with diphtheria, and the others, rather than be quarantined for six weeks, asked the poor fellow to leave, which he was forced to do. Sick with the disease, he walked through the city and out to a farmhouse near Lakefield, where he is now located. Had there been an Isolation Hospital, shelter would immediately have been afforded for him. In private houses in the city, where a contagious disease exists, the bread-winners have either to lie idle for a month and a half or leave their families and board out.

Such a condition of affairs in a city like Peterborough should be eliminated as soon as possible, and the sooner the Council subscribe money for a hospital, whether handsome or otherwise, the sooner the citizens will be satisfied.

Police Might Investigate This

"Eastender" Calls Attention to a Serious State of Affairs.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—I would like to call the attention of the police to some very unpleasant conditions of things on Rogers treet, between Hunter and Sophia streets, East City. A certain place in this vicinity has become notorious for midnight revelries of the basest sort. It is even said that it is a place of resort for immoral practices. Profanity and filthy language are poured forth to the dismay of respectable people. It would be a good thing to have a detective employed to clean the place out.

General Secretary Gave The Address

At the Y. W. C. A. Gospel Meeting Yesterday.

At the Gospel meeting in the Y.W.C.A. yesterday afternoon, the speaker was the General Secretary, Miss Maywood, who based her remarks on the 23rd Psalm. At the regular monthly meeting of the Board this afternoon the question of these Sunday afternoon meetings will be considered. Other matters of importance will be dealt with at this meeting.

"First Aid" Will Be The Subject

Dr. Jessie Birnie Will Speak at Y. W. C. A.

On Thursday night Dr. Jessie Birnie will give the first of a series of lectures on "First Aids," at the Y.W.C.A. These lectures will, no doubt, be very interesting, and should be well attended.

To-day's Roll Call Of Drunks

Four Men Pay Two Dollars Each For Their Jubilee on Saturday.

At this morning's police court a number of men appeared on the charge of being drunk and disorderly. The first case was that of Thos. McDonald, a poor unfortunate who is without a house or home, and without any means of support. He is just out of gaol a short time, where he was confined for vagrancy, and this morning was returned for six months with hard labour.

Richard Alfreds, James Heard and Robert Heard, pleaded guilty to being drunk in a public place. As one of them put it, they just took one glass too much and somehow had a greater effect than usual. They were fined two dollars each which they paid.

Mr. Wm. Boils also acknowledged his guilt of being found drunk in a public place and likewise swelled the city's exchequer by the usual two dollars.

HAIR NATURALLY ABUNDANT.

When It Is Free of Dandruff, It Grows Luxuriantly.

Hair preparations and dandruff cures, as a rule, are sticky and irritating affairs that do no earthly good. Hair, when not diseased, grows naturally, luxuriantly. Dandruff is the cause of nine-tenths of all hair trouble, and dandruff is caused by a germ. The only way to cure dandruff is to kill the germ; and, so far, the only hair preparation that will positively destroy the germ is Newbro's Herpicide — absolutely harmless, free from grease, sediment, dye matter or dangerous drugs. It allays itching instantly; makes hair glossy and soft as silk. "Destroy the cause, you remove the effect." Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to the Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Ormond & Wilson, Special Agents.

A Maple Leaf With A Record

One Found on London Street 16 1-4 in. by 10 3-4 in.

The season seems to have been a particularly healthy one for maple leaves as unusually large representatives have been picked up this month. On Saturday night a gentleman called at the Examiner office with one 16 1-4 inches long by 10 3-4 inches wide. It was found on London street by Miss Annie Goodfellow and is the largest which has been brought to the notice of the Examiner this year.

Announcement Of The Scholarship

Miss Katie Graham's Success Officially Announced.

The Toronto evening papers of Saturday contain the official announcement of the winning of the J. W. F. Harrison Scholarship for pianoforte at the Toronto Conservatory of Music, by Miss Katie Graham, of this city. The Examiner has already referred to the success of Miss Graham, but again congratulates her upon this satisfactory result of her study.

Awful Train Wreck At Atlantic City

Cars Plunge Through Drawbridge At Atlantic.

DEATHS MAY BE FIFTY-SEVEN

Twenty-Five Bodies Recovered Up to Midnight—For Brief Time One Coach Hung Over the Water, But Long Enough to Permit 20 to Escape—A Woman Saves Husband and Three Others From Drowning.

Atlantic City, Oct. 29.—By the wrecking of a three-coach electric train on the West Jersey and Seashore Railroad yesterday afternoon, at least 50 passengers perished, and the list may reach the appalling total of 75 when all is known.

While crossing over a drawbridge spanning the waterway known as "The Thoroughfare," which separates Atlantic City from the mainland, the train left the track and plunged into the water.

25 Bodies Recovered.

The passengers in the first two coaches, with few exceptions, were drowned. Up to midnight last night 25 bodies had been recovered, and it is possibly more bodies are still in the submerged coaches

The disaster is the worst that has happened since the terrible Meadom Wreck of July 30, 1896. The train, made up of three heavy vestibule electric coaches, which left Camden, N. J., at one o'clock in the afternoon, carried probably 88 passengers, as that number of tickets are held by the conductor. He is uncertain, however, just how many passengers the train carried, and until all the bodies have been taken out of the submerged coaches, it will not be possible to give an approximate estimate of the dead.

Cause Not Established.

The cause of the wreck has not been established. It was probably due to a defective rail or the breaking of some part of the superstructure of the first coach.

While running at a speed said to have been moderate and not unusual the first coach left the rails and dragged those following it over the ties for a distance of 50 feet. Suddenly swerving the first two coaches plunged over the side of the bridge into the water 20 feet below.

Quick Escape of 20.

The third coach struck a heavy abutment, broke its couplings and for a brief time hung perilously suspended over the water.

Brief as was this period, however, it gave more than a score of passengers an opportunity to escape by the rear door. Then the car slid off and followed the other two into the water. It is believed every one in the rear or third coach escaped alive, though all were more or less injured.

The accident was witnessed by many persons on shore, and assistance was promptly sent from Atlantic City. Little could be done, however, towards saving of the lives of those imprisoned in the submerged coaches. They quickly settled in the mud, and as the tide rose they were soon hidden from sight except for the trolley poles.

Divers were sent down and tried to reach the dead bodies, but darkness set in and the tide ran too swiftly for them to accomplish much.

Brave Attempts at Rescue.

John Taylor of Camden was among those who went overboard with the cars, but he kicked in a window of the rear car and swam to the piling of the bridge, where he held fast until bravely rescued by J. F. DeFord.

Charles Kessler, a local merchant, got an axe, jumped to the top of a submerged car, and began to hack in the roof to liberate the imprisoned passengers. He did good work, but could not release many, under the circumstances.

Mrs. McDonald of Philadelphia, who was in the third car and is a good swimmer, escaped by a window as the car toppled into the water. She dived four times for her husband and rescued him after she had brought to the surface three other men.

John Eades of this city was on the train and escaped by crawling through a window of the rear car and swimming ashore.

The man who attends the bridge says the bridge was properly closed and that the tracks had been inspected.

Not More Than 57 Dead.

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 29.—Late last night the Pennsylvania Railroad made the statement, showing, according to information received here, not more than 57 of the 80 persons on the train lost their lives in the Atlantic City accident.

T. C. S. Defeat Crescent's Team

Played in Mud and Rain—One Half Under Old Rules—Were Well Treated.

On Saturday the Crescents journeyed to Port Hope, where they were defeated by the T.C.S., second team. The game was played throughout in rain, which was a veritable downpour in the second half. The Crescents have no excuse to make although they played in a field of mud, against the head wind of the lake when Burnside rules were played and then in the second half had to play under the old scrimmage rules. The T.C.S. had a superior system, no doubt, acquired by daily practice with good coaching.

The backs played a great game. The right half was the star of the team with the centre a strong kick. Pete Campbell, son of Mr. Peter Campbell, of the Toronto Bank, has developed into a good quarter, playing a very heady game. For the Crescents Lclellior and Curtis, as outside wings, had it all over their opponents in running and tackling each making fine flying tackles. Captain Ray worked hard at quarter and Cummings at full played a consistent game. Harvey Staunton played a good game throughout.

The Crescents are loud in their praise of the treatment received and are anxious to have another go at them in fine weather and without mud. They were outkicked and were without proper system, but outran and tackled their opponents and outbucked them, being frequently near their goal line.

Breakdown On Morning Train

Train From Belleville Delayed Two Hours Owing to Accident.

This morning's train from Belleville was delayed two hours on its trip this morning, on account of a breakdown in the engine. This train usually reaches the city at 8.10, but did not arrive till 10.13 this morning. Some accident happened to the engine between Madoc Junction and Stirling, resulting in a two hours' delay. The "Hello Bill" Company was on the train and did not reach the city till after ten.

Tenders Will Not Be Opened Yet

Estimates for Enlarging North Ward School All In.

The time foor the receiving of tenders for the enlargement of the North Ward school to the capacity of a ten room school to meet the requirements of the Normal School, expired on Saturday, but are not likely to be opened for some time.

"Nothing will be given out for publication," was the statement given to an Examiner reporter.

The Golden Link Rebekah Lodge

The Name of the Lodge Instituted Friday Night.

The name by which the Rebekah Lodge, which was instituted on Friday night, will be known is somewhat different from that reported in Saturday's issue. It will be known as the Golden Link Rebekah Lodge No. 81. "Link Lock" was a suggestion made some time ago, but was not carried out at the meeting.

General Electric Prospects Good

Belief That Low Mark Has Been Reached.

While most local stocks made a further recovery on Saturday morning, General Electric declined to 130, the lowest yet for the present movement. Brokers said the stock had been hanging over the market for some time, and that now that it was out of the way some improvement in price might be expected.

The New York Stock Market

(Furnished by J. R. Heintz & Co.)

New York, Oct. 29.—Developments over Sunday in the financial world were conducive to some short covering in the stock market, especially when the bear element found but scant offerings at the opening session, and the market improved modestly under the leadership of a few specialties which policy seems likely to be continued, accompanied by dullness and a very narrow fluctuation, but without special weakness. The market is well in hand, and although another drive may be made at it before election day, we believe purchases on soft spots and on a scale down will prove to be a good policy. The election is, of course, the paramount feature now, as the money situation is temporarily relegated to the rear.

In the afternoon, heavy buying orders in Penna. caused it to rise nearly four points, the buying being accompanied by rumours of an increase in the dividend at an early date. The general market failed to respond, however, and sagged off toward the close, which was rather heavy.

Peterborough Lost Close Hard Game To The Argos

Chaucer Elliott's Team Won Senior O. R. F. U. Contest by 13-7—Game Was Played Under Decidedly Disagreeable Conditions—Neither Team Had Much on the Other.

For the third time this season the Peterborough rugby team were defeated on Saturday afternoon, when the Toronto Argonauts took them into camp, at the Riverside Park, by a score of 13-7.

The weather conditions were decidedly against fast Rugby. A cold wind blew from the south-east, the rain fell in torrents, and the field was a veritable quagmire, with a network of lagoons, from which the players emerged looking like the Chocolate Eclairs, of Gingerbread Man fame.

Despite these handicaps, the game was a remarkably good exhibition of rugby, and the fans in the stand received their money's worth. There was no let-up in the play; the teams went at each other hammer and tongs and the pace never slackened for a moment, although towards the end, every Argonaut man who was tackled took the count. Under the conditions that existed the amount of open work and fast playing displayed, was remarkable. The teams seemed at home in the heavy going, bad as it looked, and for the most part the wet and slippery ball was handled cleanly and accurately.

It was rather an unsatisfactory contest from a Peterborough viewpoint. The Argonauts did not show that they had anything on Peterborough, and yet they won. The home team had fully as much of the playing as their opponents; they were on the offensive just as much as on the defensive, they played as good Rugby all through, and yet they lost. The defeat is hard to explain, as one takes a retrospective glance at the game. All through it looked as if Peterborough would win out, but the final whistle blew, with the visitors six points in the lead.

After a few minutes' play it was seen that the Argonauts were nowhere near the Hamilton class. The snappy, heady team work, the wonderful system, of the Tigers' half, was nowhere in evidence. The Argonauts' whole system of play centred around Flett, the clever young centre field. His long punting, more than anything, was calculated to win them the game. The Argos may have developed trick plays to equal those of the Tigers, but if so, they were not in sight on Saturday. They played, for the greater part, straight football, varied with an occasional attempt at criss-cross passing, which were always ineffectual.

The back division is a capable one, although it fades into insignificance, when the magnificent back field of the Tigers is considered. Flett, at centre half, was the star of the team. He punted magnificently, caught cleanly and bucked the line splendidly. Dub Sale got away with a couple of runs, but beyond that did nothing brilliant. Hutchins, at full back, was the weak spot among the backs, making some costly fumbles, which, if Peterborough's rabbit's foot hadn't been sprained, might have been very costly.

Babe Hewitt played a stellar game at quarter. The wing line are heavy and tolerably fast. Crooks and Marsh were the pick of the bunch, although the latter displayed the same questionable tactics he has displayed on other appearances here.

The Peterborough team played their best rugby of the season, and it was hard to see the game slip away from them after their splendid showing. As has been stated, the Argos had nothing on Peterborough — in fact it seemed as if Peterborough had a little the better of the play. Every man played a plucky and hard-working game, but victory was not to be theirs. The back division had been shifted around and the change seemed an improvement. Mulhern was out of the game with a bad knee, and McWilliams was at full back, with Quinlan, Gillespie and Easton on the half line. McWilliams showed up in better form than he has done this year. He caught well and several times saved scores by splendid kicks at close quarters. Quinlan, at centre half, played a splendid game, his punting proving of great assistance. He dropped a pretty goal from the 30-yard line in the first half. Easton's playing was magnificent, especially in tackling. He never missed a tackle all day, getting the man he went after invariably, hard and low. He also carried the ball splendidly. Gillespie played his usual brilliant game, running and punting well. All played well on the line. O'Connor and McDonald especially distinguishing themselves. The former was the best man on the team. Gilbert was playing a splendid game, until his leg gave out, and Crowley, who succeeded him, was always prominent. Hurtubise also showed up well. Ford, at quarter, played brilliantly, handling the play well.

G. Clarkson, of the Argonauts, was hurt early in the third quarter, and was replaced by McLean.

The officials, Hugh Hayes, and F. C. Robbins of Hamilton, gave every satisfaction, both to the crowd, and the teams. They are the most impartial and wideawake officials seen here for some time.

The crowd, considering the wretched wather, was a large one, but no special constables were needed to keep them back off the field. The weather did that effectually, and there was no one on the side lines but the officials.

The teams were:—

Argos.	Peterborough.
Back.
Hutchins...	McWilliams
Halves.
Flett...	Quinlan
Sale...	Easton
Hay...	Gillespie
Quarter.
Hewitt...	Ford
Centre.
Russell...	Hurtubise
Inside wings.
Grant...	Dillon
Crooks...	O'Connor
Middle wings.
Holman...	Meagher
A. Clarkson...	McDonald
Outside wings.
G. Clarkson...	Crough
Marsh...	Gilbert
(McLean)...	(Crowley)

Crough kicked off for Peterborough against the wind, but the play was soon transferred into Peterborough territory. The Argos took advantage of the wind to kick frequently, and Flett's long punts were dangerous from the start. From centre field Flett kicked into touch near Peterborough's line. Quinlan kicked out of danger, but the ball soon came back. Flett made a good attempt at dropping a goal from the 25 yard line. The ball struck the cross beam, but Peterborough secured possession as it dropped. The scene of play was moved back to the centre a moment after. Ford made a cleverly-placed short kick to Gillespie, who caught the oval neatly and got away for a nice run. Clarkson was ruled off for mixing it too freely. Flett kicked over to Easton, who made a magnificent run for a twenty yard gain. Peterborough lost possession on a fumble a moment after, and then Flett kicked to the boundary for a point. Score, Argos 1; Peterborough.

A few minutes after quarter time was called.

Second Quarter

Peterborough had the wind with them in the second quarter, and the play was more in Argos' territory. At the beginning of the quarter McDonald was hurt, but was able to resume playing, distinguishing himself immediately after by cleverly blocking Flett's kick. Peterborough carried the ball down the field, and then Gillespie kicked over the dead line, ticing the score.

Flett's pretty run through a broken field was the feature of the next few minutes' play. The ball remained around mid-field; neither team gained much on bucks or runs and the punts were generally returned, so that the scene of play did not vary. Gilbert's leg was hurt and his place was taken by Crowley. The Argos gained on a long punt by Flett, and an offside by Peterborough. Flett made a short kick which Hewitt took on the run at Peterborough's ten-yard line, and went over for a try. Flett failed to convert. Score, 6—1.

Peterborough then took a hand in the game. Crowley followed up fast on a long punt to Hutchins, and brought the Argos' full back down in his tracks on his ten yard line. Argos on short runs, carried the play out to the thirty-yard line, and then lost possession on an off-side. Quinlan tried to drop a goal but his kick was low. Crough, however, followed up fast, and forced Flett to rouge.

Peterborough kept on the attack, and a few minutes after Quinlan was given another opportunity on the thirty-yard line to drop a goal. This time there was no mistake. The ball sped fairly between the uprights and the first hearty cheer of the season came from the grandstand. The score was even 6—6, and remained that way until half time.

Third Quarter

Meagher was ruled off in the first few minutes of the third quarter. During the ten minutes rest the wind had grown to the proportions of a small sized gale, and the rain came down in sheets. Playing with the wind at their backs the Argos had a decided advantage, which they were not slow in utilizing. Flett kept up the kicking game, and his punts gained ground. A few minutes after play started in the third quarter he was able to kick over the dead ball line for another point. The next few minutes of play was marked by a loose attempt at a goal from the field by Flett. Easton relieved by a brilliant run. Argos kept up the kicking game, and it was not long before McWilliams was forced to rouge on a punt from Flett. Gillespie fumbled a pass and in the play G. Clarkson was hurt, and had to be replaced by McLean. Once more Flett tried a goal from the field, and this time was successful, making a pretty drop from thirty yards out. Score, 12—6.

Flett's punts, aided by the wind, kept the play in Peterborough's quarters. McWilliams saved once, when Flett punted over. Flett, however, was ambitious for another goal from the field, and made still another attempt. It went wide of the mark but rolled to the dead line for the Argos' last point. Score, 13—6. Crowley made a nice run, and three-quarter time was called.

Fourth Quarter

It was Peterborough's turn to have the wind in their favour, but the breeze had died down considerably, and there was not the same advantage. Hurtubise was ruled off for two minutes for piling on a scrimmage. The play was very even and desperately contested in this quarter, but neither team having any apparent advantage over the other, and the chances for scores were not many. Peterborough got the only point, a rouge on a splendid kick by Gillespie, which looked as it would result in a try. Flett got in a couple of line-smashing runs in this quarter. Peterborough played eagerly and pluckily to score a try, but the whistle blew with the feat unaccomplished, and Argos still holding the lead of six points.

Quakers Won Protested Game

Defeated C. G. E. on Saturday by 10-6.

The Quakers turned the tables on the C.G.E. on Saturday afternoon, when the protested City League game was played over again. The Quakers, after a desperate struggle won by 10-6 in a game that, considering the heavy going, was very fast. The game was played after the senior struggle and the last half was finished in almost complete darkness. Neither team had anny decided advantage over the other. The C.G.E. lead by five points, but the Quakers won out in the last quarter. The C.G.E. points were scored on a rouge and a try by Whitcroft while the Quakers got two tries by Walker and Clarke. Walker got over the line nicely on a fake buck.

For the winners Kelly, Sisson, Clarke and Walker were the most prominent, while Whitcroft, Roddy and Dorris starred for the Electric men.

The officials, Chris Graham and L. M. Watson, gave general satisfaction.

Following were the teams:—

Quakers.		C. G. E.
Kelly	Backs.	Lang
Moore	Halves.	Derochie
Fitzgerald		Dorris
Bolin		Hendry
Sisson	Quarter.	Whitcroft
Canniff	Centre.	Hook
Clarke	Wings	Heffernan

Last Game Of Season Saturday

Toronto Vics Will Meet Peterborough Here.

The last rugby game of the season will be seen here on Saturday afternoon, when the Victorias, of Toronto meet Peterborough at Riverside Park. The locals won from the Vics in the first game of the season by 17-7 and should duplicate the feat here, although the Vics have strengthened up since then and will put up a strong game. The last match of the season should attract a large crowd. The boys have been playing in hard luck, but a victory on Saturday will give them a chance for second place and they are not going to let the opportunity slip by. There will be no practice to-night, but every man is asked to be on hand to-morrow night at the rink.

Another Protest Is Registered

C. G. E. Team Want Saturday's Game Played Over.

The City League has another protest on its hands. The C.G.E. team have registered a protest against Saturday's game on the ground that it was too dark to play rugby in the last half. A meeting of the City League is called for Wednesday night at 7.30 o'clock at the Examiner office.

A Brilliant Clergyman Visits Peterborough

Sermons in St. John's and St. Luke's by Rev. Dr. Symonds —Relation of Evolutionary Doctrines to the Gospel of Mutual Help—The Solidarity of the Human Race Clearly Considered—Two Powerful and Brilliant Discourses.

THE MORNING AT ST. JOHN'S

A notable event in Anglican Church circles was the visit to the city of Rev. Dr. Symonds, vicar of Christ Church Cathedral, Montreal, who came here to take part in the celebration of the anniversary of St. Luke's, of which he was at one time rector. Yesterday he preached the sermons at St. John's and St. Luke's.

In the morning, a large congregation assembled at St. John's. Rev. Dr. Symonds assisted in the service and preached the sermon, a most thoughtful and impressive deliverance. His subject was founded upon the 13th, 14th and 15th verses of the fifth chapter of St. Paul's epistle to the Galatians. Those words, the preacher said, expressed both the teaching and life of Christ, and His relation to humanity—love to one another and the bearing of one another's burdens, the unselfish life. This seemed to be in contrast, or conflict, with the commonly-held idea, proceeding for the doctrine of evolution—the survival of the fittest, in which the "fittest" broadly meant those who met with success—in the world of nature, in the world of man—in business, in society. We went to church and heard things we did not believe—to love our neighbour as ourself—to bear one another's burdens—ignoring in practice the relation of the law of love to the survival of the fittest, which did not express the true law of man's progress. In savage nations, where the struggle for the survival of the fittest was fiercest, there was least human progress. Man's intelligence made for progress and the promotion of human advancement—making every one fit. The law of "fitness," in the scientific sense, did not harmonize with the law of love for others. The gospel ideal was absolute justice and mutual help. Christ asked humanity to aim at the standard he set up and taught by the example of His life. Men asked, if the law of the survival of the fittest was true, how can we obey the law of love? It was the highest law of human development — that the strong should help the weak, which brings man's intelligence to bear upon his environment,—meaning "the greatest good to the greatest number. His hearers, especially the young, were cautioned against cheap cynicism founded on little knowledge. We should cast our lot with those whose object is to help, not to hinder their fellow men. The liberty spoken of in the text was the condition of true progress—not used for purely selfish ends, but for the help of others—bearing their burdens and so fulfilling the law of Christ.

REV. H. SYMONDS, M.A., D.D.
Vicar of Christ Church Cathedral, Montreal.

AT ST. LUKES CHURCH.

"The Solidarity of the Human Race" was the theme of the sermon delivered at St. Luke's church last night by the Rev. Dr. Symonds, of Christs Church Catherdal, Montreal. The church was filled before the hour of service, and although extra seats were provided many were turned away. During the service a solo was excellently rendered by Miss Ruth Dawson.

Rev. Dr. Symonds founded his sermon on the words of the 15th Chapter of St. Paul's Epistle to the Corinthians and the 22nd verse: "For as in Adam all die; even so in Christ shall all be made alive." The thought which underlies the words of the text, said the speaker, was that of the solidarity of the human race. The text showed that there were links which bind each and every man in this world and it was in virtue of this fact that we speak of common human nature, in the possession of which all men are akin. The figure which most truly represented the human race was the tree with its branches, twigs and leaves all connected through each other, with the trunk.

He had chosen his subject, he said, because of the drawing near of the season of All Saints and divided his discourse into three parts, first; To set forth the doctrine of solidarity, secondly, to show the evils which spring from denial of perversion of doctrine; and thirdly to show the glorious consummation of man's destiny to which the doctrine points.

The body is contrasted with the spirit, the lower nature with the higher. We have to fight obstacles to obtain success over our weakness of will through which we follow the lower things of life. The whole race are regared as one in Adam and even so in Christ. It could not be questioned, the speaker continued that St. Paul in the text was thinking of Adam as an historic man, and the lower man of the earth—the type of the physical man. The solidarity is is seen in the common nature which is revealed by death which comes to all. Death has no respect for human nature. All men agreed to this assertion, but when St. Paul says, "through Christ all men shall live," all do not agree. We are certain there is some spiritual birth, but it is partly concealed and not revealed to all. The spiritual things are less understood and less comprehensible than the physical.

St. Paul was a spiritual genius and a man who spoke authoritatively, though he may not have been infallible. Christ is the counterpart of Adam—the source of spirituality which was incarnate in him and it was through him that we have perceived the invisible God.

If the spiritual was in man before the advent of Christ, why was Christ on earth? The significance of a common nature was not even dreamed of before Christ come to the earth; there was no doctrine before of a communion of Saints. On the mind of St. Paul this truth came with the overwhelming force of a divine revelation. It gave to the Apostle a new conception of God, man and the world. Fundamentally the church does not exist to show and teach a specific dogma but is a counterpart of the whole world to assist in transforming it, to give peace for war and to give for hatred, love.

In dealing with the evils which spring from a denial of the doctrine of solidarity, Dr. Symonds said that the Supper was perverted when the ones of communion and fellowship were drawn more closely together. A learned writer has said, "In things that are not fundamental no error is so great as contention," and so evil effects depend entirely on its truth. No one can deny such a doctrine when he seriously considers it. The teaching of fellowship is not to be regarded as a piece of sentiment, as something convenient in churches and disregarded in the world.

The speaker next dealt with the prospects of the ultimate supremacy of the spiritual over the natural. Little by little love has been overcoming hate through all ages and we are now preparing the way for the generations which come after us. The text tells us that the solidarity of the race means that in the glorious consummation of the long trial of the ages we shall obtain gladness and sorrow and sighing shall flee away.

Sometimes faith burns low in our breasts when the hard, calculating world presses tightly around us but we should lift up our hearts patiently and confidingly in Christ. Faith has confessed that Christ's life is the ideal life for the whole human race—the life that is manifested in the innermost life of our Saviour to the world. He is the author and finisher of our faith, He who endured the cross and who now sits upon the right hand of God, the Father.

Objection To The Use Of Glasses

Sometimes people object to glasses, claiming that once put on they can not see without them. If after putting on glasses the wearer finds it difficult to go without them, this simply proves that before he wore glasses he was forcing his eyes beyond the limit of safety, a practice if continued, is sure to affect the health and sight. The person who lets pride, even excusable pride, stand in the way of glasses is doing his eyes and health injustice and is merely paving the way for future suffering and discomforts.

We will test your eyesight carefully, and tell you just what condition your eyes are in.

Speakers Announced For The Institute Meetings

Will Be Held In Peterborough on Dec. 4th—Lakefield and North Monaghan the Other Meeting Places.

Mr. Wm. Collins, secretary of the West Peterborough Farmers' Institute, has received notice from the Department of Agriculture, through Mr. Geo. A. Putnam, superintendent of the Institutes, of the meetings to be held here this year. On December 3 a meeting will be held in Lakefield; the following afternoon the speakers will be in Peterborough, and in the evening at North Monaghan.

The speakers this year will be Messrs. H. Glendenning, of Manilla; J. G. Clarke, Ottawa, and Miss Maddock, of the Domestic Science Department of the Guelph College. The former's subjects will be "Feeds and Feeding," "Growing Clover, and How to Save it," "Dairy Cow," "Farm Water Supply," and others on any one of which Mr. Glendenning may be called upon to speak. Mr. Clarke, who was here last week in connection with the horse culture meetings, will speak on "Breeder and Management of Heavy Horses," Dairy Cattle," and other subjects in the tour. Miss Maddock's subject will be "Our Institutes, how to make them interesting, and their relation to health and disease."

The secretary of the local association intends calling a meeting of the directors on November 10 to choose the subjects of the lectures. It will be held in the Council Chambers.

The supplementary meetings of the Institute will be held in January, when Smith, Buckhorn, Fenjamore, North Monaghan, and Stewart's (Otonabee) will be in the circuit.

Otonabee Taxes This Year Show Increase

$19,923.45 on Collector's Roll—An Increase of $2,400—Due to Requirements of New School Act.

Examiner Special

Keene, Oct. 25.—The Otonabee Council met on the 17th October. All the members were present except Councillor Stewart, who was ill in the hospital.

The clerk presented the recapitulation of the collector's roll as follows:—

County tax	$5,562 70
County School tax	296 40
Township tax for roads, municipal expenses, charities, etc.	4,495 46
Trustees levy for Schools ...	3,633 35
General township school tax...	5,003 79
Commuted statute labour	437 75
Dog tax	395 00
	$19,923 45

This is an average of over $2,000 over the 1905 taxes, caused entirely by increased levy for schools, to meet the requirements of the new school act, the general school levy is increased over $2,600, not including the so-called County School Tax, which is levied in the township paid to the county treasurer and by him handed back to the local treasurer for payment to the schools. The trustees levy was only $577 less than in 1905, the following accounts were passed:— Peterborough Lumber Company, plank, $30.26; Chas. Peters, excavating drain at watering trough, $6.00; for gravel, H. Doyell $2.59; R. J. H. Shut, $6.00; D. McCarthy, 80 cents; W. G. Hunter, $4.16; H. Orde, wood for crusher, $11.25; repairing account, J. Hastie, $6.00; D. Hastie, $1.25; J. E. Bennett, $1.15; draining culverts, Jas. Robertson, 25 cents; D. Armstrong $1.10; J. T. Drummond, $1.50; J. Corkery for picking stones off roads, $2.50; Kingan Hardware Co., nails, $1.30; for jury selecting, J. H. Fife, $4.00; W. Dickson, $3.00; J. M. Drummond, $8.00; S. Garrett, cedar, $3.25; draining plank, $3.00; express on rock crusher repairs, etc., $5.00.

MULE DRINKS HIS BEER AND CHEWS TOBACCO

Employed in a Mine and Won't Work Without a Chew—Was in Labour Day Parade.

Examiner Special.

Leavenworth, Kansas, October 27.—More than one hundred persons saw a mule led into the Star of the West Saloon where it lined up at the bar with a number of local coal miners, annd drank its fill of beer from a galvanized bucket, after which it was led out into the street and there hitched to the cart which it had drawn through the streets in the Labour Day parade, annd after being given a chew of tobacco, started off for the Home mine.

The mule works in the mine, and has great pot, but is badly spoiled. It absolutely refuses to work in the morning until one of the miners gives it a chew of tobacco, when it starts out and works like a slave all day. When hitched up to the coal cart for the parade there were four little boys in the cart. It was quite restless and remained so until the men gave it a chew of tobacco. Wash Liff is authority for the statement that it was fed a dime plug of tobaco during the entire parade.

It was after the parade John Werly said it would be impossible to get the mule inside his place. Liff not only had the mule taken inside his saloon, but lined up at the bar, where a bucket was provided. The animal seemed to enjoy the beer hugely, and was somewhat averse to being led out. He didn't stagger when driven out.

Cheese Market At Present In An Unsettled State

Montreal is Puzzled at the Events of the Last Few Days in Market — Best Ontario Cheese Said to be Procurable at 12 5-8c.

Montreal, Oct. 27.—It is practically impossible to give any positive quotations on cheese to-day. Stocks are being purchased throughout the country at considerably lower prices than for some weeks past, and the result is that those who are securing the goods are prepared to sell them in advance at a reasonable profit. Of course the really cheap goods have not yet reached here, so that the market cannot be quoted much, if any, lower than for some days past. As a matter of fact there was just a slightly better feeling noticeable throughout this morning, though this had no effect upon prices, these being fully as easy as they were yesterday. But the feeling of despondency was not so general, and many thought prices were not far off the bottom.

There were no cable orders coming from the other side at prices which could be accepted, but there were lots of offers from this side to the other. There is an impression that the recent action of the Bank of England in advancing rates has had a bad effect upon the market on the other side of the Atlantic.

As to prices, it is claimed that a buyer went through the whole market this morning trying to get finest October Quebecs at 12 1-4c and could not succeed. At the same time others claimed that they would be able to get the goods at that figure, and they thought they could get the best Ontario Octobers at 12 5-8c.

"Bat" Nelson Answers Gans

Dane Says He Will Meet Negro, Entire Purse for Charity.

Battling Nelson makes the astonishing statement that he cares nothing for money. The Dane is showing here with a burlesque show and in reply to Gans' offer to fight him again and give half of his end of the purse to charity Nelson retorts with the announcement that he will fight the coloured champion for nothing just to show that he is the better man.

The controversy has reached the emotional stage now and Nelson actually becomes tearful when he tells of his desire to get another chance at Gans. He says he has instructed his manager to meet Gans in Chicago tonight and try to arrange a match.

The New Game Of "Butt-in"

Played in Cleveland and Involves Disclosures.

Special to The Examiner

Cleveland, Oct. 27.—Cleveland society has a brand new game that is both diverting and racy. It was invented by a debutante of Bratenahl and already it has gained quite a vogue. It is appropriately called "Butt-in, butt-in, whose got the hammer?"

Bridge is dull, poker tame, compared with this new pastime.

It is a bit risque.

"Think of a man," says the hostess. Everybody thinks of a man. "Be ready to tell all you know of him."

"Oh-h-h," says everybody.

"Imogene, you begin," says the hostess. "He is dapper," Imogene says. "He rides in a Panhard car, plays eighteen holes like Egan just dotes on champagne, and when he's not at the stage entrance he is with the Prospect avenue grass widow."

Ten minutes are allowed. Then the hostess raps.

"Now, who is it?" she asks. "I'll make guesses."

The naughtier the things told about the men the livelier the game.

Pretty Shoulder Wins A Husband

Spectator at Trial of Damage Suit Fell in Love.

Examiner Special.

Louisville, Oct. 27. — A pretty rounded shoulder, displayed before a jury in a damage case won for Miss Stella R. Rescher last Christmas week a verdict of $5,000 against the street railway company, and, although she did not know it at that time, also a husband, F. Sherwood Lloyd, a local banker. The marriage has just been celebrated here.

Miss Rescher, who lived in Jeffersonville, Ind., was injured by a street car. She brought suit for damages, and when the case was tried displayed an injured shoulder as evidence. Her arm also was exhibited from the neck to the elbow. An area of about a foot on either side of the shoulder was also shown. The jury thought it was well worth $5,000 of the street car company's money.

Among the interested spectators at the time was Lloyd.

Pappalau Has Been Signed

Montreal Pitcher Has Been Secured by Rochester for Next Year in Eastern League.

The Rochester baseball club has secured the services of Pitcher John J. Pappalau for the next Eastern league season. For the last few years this twirler has been perhaps the steadiest pitcher with the Montreal club.

Pappalau broke into the Eastern league with the old Worcester club on his graduation from Holy Cross college. Worcester was his home. He pitched good ball for the Bay State club till its franchise was transferred to Montreal.

With the Royals Pappalau never had as good support as twirlers on most Eastern league clubs, but he always proved a dangerous man to face. He worked hard, never letting up till the last man was out in the ninth and was steady. Like all other twirlers, he has his bad days.

Pappalau is a left-hander. In recent years he has made Albany his home.

Douro Township Crystal Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Allen Celebrate 15th Wedding Anniversary.

On Monday, October 22, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Allen, of Douro Township, celebrated the Crystal, or fifteenth, anniversary of their marriage in a very pleasant manner at their residence.

They were united in marriage in Chicago fifteen years ago last Monday, and the fifteenth recurrence of the date of the happy event was happily celebrated. There were present upon the occasion, in addition to the four children with whish their union has been blessed, a large number of their friends and neighbours, including Mr. and Mrs. Martin Kylie and Mr. and Mrs. John Sullivan, Peterborough; Mrs and Mrs. John Collins, Mr. and Mrs. R. Allen, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. OToole, Mrs. E. Allen, Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Moher, (Reeve), Douro, and a large number of the younger members of the community. A large array of handsome presents, suitable for such an anniversary, were given Mr. and Mrs. Allen. After a sumptuous supper, greatly enjoyed by the guests, a season of social intercourse followed — cheerful chat, cards and games for the elders, and a little, informal dance for the juniors. A most delightful evening was spent, as pleasant to the hearty hosts as to their warmly-welcomed and pleasantly-entertained guests, and Mr. and Mrs. Allen were overwhelmed with congratulations and good wishes by the assembled guests, by whom, as well as by the neighbourhood and township at large, they are deservedly held in the highest esteem.

Garbage Made Into Bricks

Used as a Fuel and Burns Like Hard Coal.

Examiner Special.

New York, Oct. 27. — A Nebraska company has been incorporated to manufacture a briquet fuel made of a combination of packing house and other wastes. According to the National Provisioner, the new fuel is a combination of garbage, fertilizer and chemicals, and is made on an ordinary brick-making machine, and the briquets are about the size of a brick.

It is claimed for this fuel that when dry it has more heat and a greater evaporation than any soft coal, and also that it has only half the smoke, and no clinkers or gas. It makes six per cent. ash and is said to burn like hard coal. The makers have started a 50-ton plant near the South Omaha packing houses. It is said that this fuel can be used anywhere in place of coal, except for a self-feeder.

Many Strangers At The Y. M. C. A.

An Interesting Strangers' Tea Held in Association Buidling.

One of the best monthly Strangers' teas that have been held for some time was that in Y.M.C.A. Sunday evening, when strangers reported from England, Belleville, Plainville, Scotland, Cobourg, Glasgow, Otonabee, Berlin, and other places.

Mr. Galley, vice-president of the Fellowship Club, presided, the Board being represented by Messrs. Lees, Crossman and Madill.

All the guests paid a high tribute to the help rendered them by the Y.M.C.A.

A number of soldiers are said to have been killed and wounded at the German manoeuvres as a result of the Kaiser's keen desire for realism.

PICTURE HANGING.

The Best Treatment For Artistic and Pleasing Effects.

At this season of the year, when we are all busy arranging our rooms for the winter, one of the most important details connected with the interior decoration is one frequently treated very casually by the ordinary house wife. This is the hanging and arrangement of pictures. These form one of the best ornaments for a room if properly arranged, yet in the majority of cases, unless they chance to belong to a valuable collection, which requires and receives the attention of skilled and artistic hands, they are treated in a most haphazard fashion, either skied or hung in the most impossible positions, according to what the housekeeper imagines is needed by the last novelty in wall decoration. Now, there is a vast difference in the effect of pictures well and skillfully hung.

To begin with, no picture looks its best when hung directly opposite to a window, as then the light falls on it flat and hard; therefore, the least important should be kept for this position. Of course it is impossible to give strict directions as to the hanging of pictures without seeing them and the space they are to occupy, for so much depends on the room, its size and its position. There are, however, certain rules which cannot be transgressed with impunity. Of these the first regards the height at which the pictures should be hung. They should always be on a line with the eye, at which point they can be easily and pleasantly seen, and if possible their bases should be at one level and perfectly straight.

Next, pictures and prints should not be hung too close to each other, for not only do the colors clash, in the first case, but the different designs of the frames produce an equally discordant effect. If possible small pictures should be fastened to the wall, not hung by a cord, nor allowed to tilt forward at an angle, as this arrangement throws the frames out of the line of the wall. It is scarcely necessary to say that oil paintings and water colors should not be hung side by side. The former are considered most suitable for the dining room, library or hall; the latter for the drawing room, while prints and engravings may be hung where you please as long as they are not hung side by side with oil or water colors. A small hall hung with plain tinted paper is very suitable for engravings, but remember that no picture looks its best if hung against a patterned background unless the pattern be an indefinite one of tints of the same color.

How Gowns Are Created.

"How is your gown created? I might as well ask an empire maker how he creates an empire or a poet how he makes a poem. There are a thousand ways. Let me note down here an historic incident. It occurred only a few months ago, but it can never be omitted in any history of our art. The Countess de Greiffuhl wanted a gown to wear at her daughter's wedding. She went to Callot Soeurs.

"'It must be something,' she said, 'something—not a mere gown—something that is a mother's pride and glory and as well her anguish at parting with a beloved daughter even to the best of men—it must be something'—

"She walked the floor.

"The artist's eye was upon her. There was something somber, tragic, awful, in this great lady as she went to and fro in an agony of doubt, of apprehension, of indecision. It reminded him—the artist told me—of some great empire thronged round with fiery foes. And he cried aloud, 'Byzance!'

"Not for a moment did the countess think he was mad. She saw the light of genius in his eyes. She comprehended.

"He had created the Byzantine gown.

"And yet did he create it? At all events, she collaborated. And so gowns are made."—Woman's Home Companion.

How Athletes Keep Strong and Healthy

Their Diet Should Be a Revelation To All Men and Women.

Physical perfection, great endurance and unfailing health are positively essential in severe athletic work and great attention is given to the diet.

In schools where a "training table" is provided for the athlete, only the most nutritious food is served, and in cases where there is no training table the athlete is advised to eat the most healthful food only. Whether or not he follows such advice is soon shown by his physical condition. If the average worker—be he business man—the lawyer, the trainer, the clerk, the mechanic, the laborer—took such care as to the food he eats as the athlete does, there would be far less of sickness and suffering in this world.

Among athletes the food value of whole wheat is recognized. They have demonstrated what scientists have long declared to be true: that the various food elements found in wheat are the food elements with which the blood and muscle, the tissues and cells, the bone and brain of the human body must be replenished if life-long, perfect strength is to be sustained.

Every nutritive element of the best whole wheat grown is found in Malta-Vita and it is fast becoming as popular among our people as it long has been among athletes.

And Malta-Vita is so good to eat! Always crisp! All grocers, 10 cents.

MODES IN BABYLAND

NOTHING TOO EXPENSIVE FOR THE UP TO DATE LAYETTE.

Simplicity Is the Keynote of the Smartest Garments—Materials Are of the Finest Quality—Trimmings of Lace and Dainty Hand Work.

Nothing is too expensive nowadays for "their majesties from Babyland," and the daintiest clothes that skilled designers can contrive are scarcely fine enough for their wear.

At the most exclusive places where a specialty is made of layettes for those babies "born with a silver spoon"—since no others can pay the prices asked—one is impressed with the dainty simplicity that rules in make and garniture. Materials are of the finest quality—well cut and put together with the daintiest of hand work—but very little trimming is seen, and what is employed is in tiny babyish designs wrought as delicately as frostwork on a window pane. This delicate stitchery is what makes the little garments so costly, and the woman clever with her needle can fashion equally pretty wear for only the cost of the material.

For ceremonious wear when baby is on parade the robe illustrated is an excellent example of the best baby modes. Of sheer linen, with real valenciennes let into the material and dainty touches of embroidery at intervals to help out the design, nothing could be more charming. The bottom is edged with a frill of the valenciennes surmounted by the insertion, and bows of soft ribbon ornament the shoulders.

The first baby caps are very pretty, made of fine handkerchief linen daintily embroidered and edged with lace. These are worn over a little silk lining, wadded or plain, according to the temperature, and can be readily fashioned from fine French handkerchiefs if one does not care to buy them outright. The cap illustrated is a very new design and can be had in several different materials—in handkerchief linen, made over pale blue or pink china silk, the color repeated in the feather stitching and piping that edge the front. The same idea is shown in caps built of white silk of handsome quality. About the face there is a full lingerie ruche, and the strings of soft satin ribbon are adjusted by fastenings under tiny rosettes, so that the can be easily removed for renewal or laundering purposes.

The little underclothes are built upon the most hygienic lines. There must be no undue pressure anywhere, no tight bands, and everything must hang from the shoulders or be attached to a tiny "body," which is supported by broad straps. These clothes are made of the finest nainsook and trimmed with hand tucks of the tiniest description and narrow valenciennes lace.

AMY VARNUM.

Lamps Invented by Chinese.

It is supposed that the earliest lamps were made of the skulls of animals, in which fat was burned. Afterward seashells were used, then pottery and metals. The invention of lamps, like so many other implements of present day civilization, has been attributed to the Chinese.

This Forester Has Resigned His Post

Ontario's Forester Goes Into Lumber Business in B.C.

DR. JUDSON CLARK RESIGNS

Announcement Unexpected and Came as a Surprise to the Government—Was Stated to Have Had Chair of Forestry When University Founded Or In Near Future—Resignation Takes Effect Nov. 15.

Toronto, Oct. 29.—Dr. Judson F. Clark has resigned his post as Provincial Forester to the Ontario Government.

The unexpected announcement was made by Dr. Clark himself late on Saturday, and will come as somewhat of a surprise to the Government and the authorities of Toronto University. In the latter institution it has been the intention for some time to found a chair of forestry, and Dr. Clark was to have had the position. It was generally understood last spring that Dr. Clark refused the chair of foresty at Yale, with this appointment in view. Dr. Clark goes to take up the management of the British Columbia lumbering industry, which he is himself organizing.

Dr. Clark's resignation, which was handed in to Hon. Nelson Monteith, was accepted, and will take effect on Nov. 15.

Dr. Clark is a native of Prince Edward Island, and a graduate of the Ontario Agricultural College, subsequently taking the degree of Ph.D. at Cornell, where he also was lecturer on forestry. He afterwards joined the United States Bureau of Forestry, where he remained until he accepted the appointment he now resigns.

LECOUTEUR KILLS WIFE.

Tragedy on the Quebec Esplanade—Has Been Acting Strangely.

Quebec, Oct. 29.—Saturday morning a man named George Lecouteur shot and instantly killed his wife on the Esplanade here.

The pair, it seems, were sitting on one of the benches facing St. Louis street, near the Garrison Club, when Lecouteur suddenly drew his revolver and fired, the bullet entering his wife's left cheek and passing through the brain, causing instant death.

No cause is assigned for this dreadful act, but, it is said, by Lecouteur's friends that he has been acting strangely of late, and it is thought he was mentally deranged.

Lecouteur was immediately arrested and lodged in central police headquarters. The body of his victim, a lady of about 60 years of age, was removed to the morgue, where an inquest will be held.

Lecouteur is a man about 65 years old, and is the father of Donald Lecouteur, who was killed in the Transvaal during the South African war.

THE LUTIN'S VICTIMS.

Leaks In Hull of Submarine Tell Cause of Disaster.

Bizerta, Tunis, Oct. 29.—The bodies of six of the crew of the French submarine boat Lutin were removed from the vessel yesterday. The Lutin sunk off this port Oct. 16 with 14 men and two officers on board.

The work of removing the dead probably will not be completed before Monday. It is planned to hold the funerals Tuesday.

All the bodies were in a horrible conditions owing to the action of acids. The only means of identification was by objects found on the corpses. The indications are that the men met death instantly. The opinion prevails that the Lutin tried to come to the surface too rapidly and that consequently her stern struck on the bottom. This caused rivets to start and plates to burst. Six leaks were found in the hull.

FIRE HITS THE DYMENTS.

Buildings Situated a Mile Apart Fired by Incendiaries.

Barrie, Oct. 29.—Incendiaries are supposed to have been responsible for heavy losses sustained by the Dyments here yesterday morning.

At three o'clock the cutting shed at Mickle, Dyment and Son's woodyard was destroyed with a loss of $2,000.

Shortly before 7 the Dyment foundry, a mile away, was ablaze. It was totally destroyed with all its contents. Loss $95,000. No insurance.

Shanty McMillan Suicides.

St. Thomas, Oct. 29.—James McMillan, formerly a bartender at the Western Hotel here, committed suicide early Saturday afternoon at the farm of his father-in-law, Charles Bruton, Southwold, near Payne's Mills. "Shanty" McMillan, as deceased was called, was once a lacrosse player on the St. Thomas team and played with others clubs being a crack player. He leaves a wife but no children. He had been ill for several days. No cause is assigned.

Gave Grandmother Poison.

Thorold, Ont., Oct. 29.—Mrs. Cody an aged lady, told her granddaughter to mix a dose of medicine. By mistake the young lady got hold of a bottle containing eye medicine, a deadly poison which immediately stiffened the old lady out as if she were dead. The neighbors ran in and gave Mrs. Cody sweet milk to drink, and a doctor was summoned, and she is believed now to be out of danger.

BLOOD POISON

On account of its terrible effects, blood disease is called the King of all diseases. It may be either hereditary or contracted; so while it may not be a crime to have the disease, it is a crime to permit it to remain in the system. It may manifest itself in the form of Scrofula, Eczema, rheumatic pains, stiff or swollen joints, stubborn skin eruptions or blotches, ulcers in the mouth or on the tongue, sore throat, falling out of hair, disordered stomach, and a general depression of the system. If you have any of these symptoms don't neglect yourself. You have no time to lose. Beware of "old fogy" treatment—beware of mineral poisons—beware of Quacks and Fakirs. OUR NEW METHOD TREATMENT is guaranteed to cure this disease, never to return. Bank Bonds will protect you. Our treatment is not injurious in any way, but reaches the very root of the disease and eliminates all poison from the system. The symptoms of disease gradually disappear. The blood becomes pure and enriched, the whole system is cleansed and purified, and the patient feels prepared anew for the duties and the pleasures of life. BRIDGE SUPPERS.

A PRETTY COLOR SCHEME IN GOLD, GREEN AND WHITE.

Entrees That Carry Out Suggestions of the Fascinating Game—A Smart Centerpiece and Two New Sandwiches—How They Should Be Served

How to provide a supper for a small bridge party that shall be at once dainty, appetizing and original has always been a problem, and it is for the assistance of the puzzled hostess that the following carefully chosen and unhackneyed recipes are offered: Cheese sandwiches are one of these novelties. They are made of either brown or white bread buttered, cut very thin, or if liked both brown and white bread may be used in the same sandwich, an underlayer of the brown and an upper one of white bread. The mixture with which they are spread is composed of grated Parmesan cheese pounded to a paste and mixed with a rich mayonnaise dressing. To this mixture very finely chopped water cress or celery may be added.

The sandwiches are very attractive served with tiny pieces of celery, only the smallest and crispest of the shoots with curly heads being chosen. The fagots are tied up with satin ribbon.

Here is a pretty little color scheme carried out in gold, green and white by a smart woman at her bridge party recently. The tea table was effectively and simply decorated with trails of smilax wreathed around the various dishes. The centerpiece took the form of a large layer cake. It was in menu parlance a "gateau tangerin," but, in more ordinary dialect, orange cake, thereby supplying the gold and white tint in the scheme. Each of the three tiers was iced and piped with white glace, and each was edged with quarters of tangerine oranges. The little divisions being outlined with a sugar piping, the whole produced a light filigree effect in gold and silver. The orange quarters were glaced. This cake was mounted on a high old fashioned compotier of white and gold china.

Small rolls halved and generously spread with a mixture of smoothly pounded chicken meat moistened with a good white sauce were served in a paint silver cake basket.

A silver dish held the cutest little "lucky horseshoes" made of foie gras and egg. The nails of the horseshoes were tiny studs of truffles. These pretty trifles were arranged in a bed of water cress.

Opposite this dish was a jellied dish of game. For this entree are required little oblong molds which are first lined with aspic jelly. The pips of the cards are fixed on the jelly before it is set, the hearts and diamonds being formed from scarlet chillies and the black suits from truffles cut out. These cards are then set with a rich, white chaufroid filled with a fairly stiff puree of game. The molds are put on ice until ready to serve, when they are turned out and dished, as shown in the illustration.

A House Decoration.

The illustration shows a novel, artistic and inexpensive notion for covering an unsightly wall. The upper part of the wall should first be stripped of its existing covering, carefully cleaned and whitewashed or distempered. About four feet from the floor make a neat dado of brown paper. At the base lay panels of a light paper, and upon them paste neat designs cut from old scraps of wall paper. The whole effect when finished is novel and artistic, and the covering being effected in a material that can be obtained for so little, an economical scheme is the result.

Wrong Ways of Saving.

Don't save money by—

Using cheap soap. You will ruin your complexion and have to buy cold cream if you do.

Sewing in the dusk. Gaslight is cheaper than oculists' bills.

Wearing thin clothing. Flannel is cheaper and better than medicine.

Going without luncheon. You will injure your health and digestion if you do.

Walking when overtired to avoid car fares. You save money, but undermine your constitution.

Overworking. Nobody thanks you. You will be cross and irritable, and your husband will wish you were not so zealous.

frill on a low crown and plumes falling back over the hair. Crushed roses are placed under the brim at the back.

A smart coat trimming is the simulated hood effect, which is accomplished by a shaped drapery at the back of the coat, terminating in a little shallow hood and tassel.

The new hand bag is of suede leather exactly the shape of an opera bag. The leather matches the gown with which it is worn. It is hung from a chain of leather and turquoise.

Some felt hats are seen in two toned effects, the crown matching the upper side, or, again, a white felt hat will be combined with a colored brim.

Theater hats, it is predicted, will be very small—more of a resemblance to a headdress than actual hats. Many of them are without crowns and are, in fact, merely decorated bandeaux. There is often a trimming of tulle to match the hair.

The blouse illustrated is a natty little model carried out in coin dotted silk. The guimpe and stitched straps are of plain silk. Small buttons and simulated buttonholes are the adornments.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

Making It Plain.

In the lower Amazon country the temperature ranges about 87 degrees in the shade all the year round, says the author of "Ten Thousand Miles In a Yacht." At Manaos, 1,000 miles up the river, the temperature is six or eight degrees higher. Thermometers are little used in that country and little understood. So when a yachtsman returned down river and was asked by an official at Para, "How is the temperature at Manaos?" his reply, "Eight degrees hotter than here," elicited a stare of noncomprehension.

"At Manaos," said the yachtsman in explanation, "I used to wilt six collars a day; here in Para I only need three a day."

This was perfectly clear to the Brazilian, whose face lighted with understanding.

The Arab War Chant.

Captain Von Herbert describes how the sacred chant was sung by Osman Pasha's force in that last dreadful sortie from Plevna. He knows, for, as he says, "as a youngster of seventeen, being then in the Turkish service, I took part in the charge." It is a solemn four part chant for deep male voices, with intervals, the melody recurring again and again, of alternating harmonies hummed almost pianissimo, to the words "Allah Akbar," and then again rising "to a great outburst on the fifth note." There is more than a suggestion of plain song, that song which drifted westward from the east.—Pall Mall Gazette.

A Bad Break.

At a banquet held in a room, the walls of which were adorned with many beautiful paintings, a well known college president was called upon to respond to a toast. In the course of his remarks, wishing to pay a compliment to the ladies present and designating the paintings with one of his characteristic gestures, he said, "What need is there of these painted beauties when we have so many with us at the table?"

The Finger Nails.

The condition of the finger nails is the crowning attraction of a beautiful hand. Black rimmed nails show lack of culture and refinement. Every woman who is moderately bright can learn how to take care of her nails, although it is best, of course, to employ the services of a manicurist at least once a week. Shape the nails with a file, soak the finger ends in hot soapsuds, lift up the cuticle with an orange wood stick and snip away the shredded particles with the pointed scissors. When the finger tips are soft and moist it is an easy matter to put the cuticle in good condition. Never polish the nails too highly and beware of the claw-like outline. Apply a bit of nail rouge, then powder and use the chamois skin buffer, afterward bathing the hands in warm soapsuds and using a nailbrush to remove every sign of the tinting cosmetics.

SMART STYLES.

Plaid Silk Petticoats—Avoid the Short Circular Skirt—Brocade Linings.

For wear with tailor made clothes plaid silk petticoats are very popular finished with self trimming.

Black lace gowns trimmed with white lace applied on the black net are sufficiently new in design to be attractive.

When selecting a fall walking skirt be sure to avoid the circular shape. No matter how well it is cut, it will need rehanging almost every time it is worn. The correct length for a short skirt is two inches from the ground.

Brocade will line most of the smart fall and winter coats, and another old fashioned silk which is being largely used for belts is satin merveilleux.

In millinery, colors are chiefly on the dark and somewhat somber order.

BLUE VELVET HAT.

Black is in high favor, browns are much liked, and the wine shades are very prominent. Green appears in many charming shades, and blue in all tones is in evidence.

The brims of the large picture hats do not turn up in a freakish fashion from the face, as they did last year, but droop prettily over a high bandeau.

Crowns on the new hats are most varied in character, but the small round dome crown disappeared with the small round hat. Draped crowns are in the majority, and square crowns on the Gainsborough order are in good standing.

The hat pictured is of hyacinth blue velvet. About the crown is swathed malines of a lighter shade of blue. At the back of the chapeau is a panache of ostrich feathers in varying tones of this new blue.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

Kitchen Towels.

The most soiled of kitchen towels will become sweet and white with this treatment: Cover with cold water, put them at the back of the stove, add one tablespoonful of shaved castile soap and the juice of half a lemon. Let it come to a boil gradually, and repeat the process. Rinse first in tepid and then in cold water

Brooms.

It is well to know that brooms of green straw do not wear as well as those of the natural color. More brooms are used in the kitchen than almost any other part of the house, so do not buy green ones under the impression that they will outlast the others

To remove those distressing white spots on your polished mahogany, rub gently with a white flannel cloth moistened with spirits of camphor or even eau de cologne if the former is not in the house at the moment.

"PREPARING FOR STOLYPIN."

Terrorist Highwaymen With Bombs Rob Russian Government Wagon of $193,000 in St. Petersburg.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 29.—The revolutionary terrorists achieved Saturday in the heart of St. Petersburg an astounding victory over the Government's protected treasury. The scene was behind the Kazan Cathedral on the street leading to the Catherine quay.

The daring robbery was committed at about noon by which a number of terrorist highwaymen got away with $193,000 from a wagon which was conveying the cash from the Custom Department to the State Treasury.

Two Bombs Thrown.

Two bombs were thrown in quick succession at the vehicle as it was passing close to a branch of the treasury, after which a rush was made at the wagon by a number of armed men who, after exchanging a hot fire with the gendarmes escorting it, managed to secure the booty and fled across a small footbridge over the Ekaterinsk Canal, leaving five of their number in the hands of the police.

Many bystanders sustained slight injuries as a result of the explosions.

Preparing For Stolypin.

One of those captured was a boy named White, who, when interviewed at the hospital, said: "We got the money; we are preparing for Stolypin."

The act was unquestionably one of revolutionary terrorism and not common robbery.

PORT COLBORNE STRUCK HARD.

Storm Unroofs Houses and Causes Damage to Shipping.

Port Colborne, Oct. 29.—Considerable damage was done along the lakefront by a storm yesterday. Boat houses at the Humberstone Club resort were carried away, and a large ice-house was completely demolished.

Contractor Hogan had one or two scows beached. Several small boats were damaged, and several buildings were unroofed.

Fierce Storm at Buffalo.

Buffalo, Oct. 29.—A fierce wind and rainstorm prevailed here Saturday night. The wind reached a velocity of 60 miles an hour and continued to blow at that rate for several hours. Six yachts were torn from their moorings and cast high upon the beach.

Big Steamer Smashed.

Cleveland, Ohio, Oct. 29.—In a fierce gale, which swept down upon Lake Erie late Saturday, the steel steamer Lackawanna, owned by the Mutual Transit Co., was struck outside the west breakwater and ran upon the breakwater crib. Her side was stove in and she filled immediately.

CUBA STILL TROUBLED.

Insurgent Negroes Said to Be Causing Trouble Around Cienfuegos.

Havana, Oct. 29.—The American military commander at Cienfuegos reports that there are many rumors there to the effect that serious trouble between the political parties is coming.

A band of former insurgent negroes of bad repute passed through Soledad towards Canao yesterday. A slight disturbance took place.

Some alarm is reported from Palmira, owing to reports that armed blacks are concentrating there. The local authorities declare all it quiet.

Refused Switchmen's Demands.

Chicago, Oct. 29.—The railroads Saturday informed Grand Master Hawley of the Switchmen's Union that the demands of the men for an eight-hour day and an increase of wages would be refused.

Laborer Buried Alive.

Toronto, Oct. 29.—While engaged in digging a drain on Czar street on Saturday afternoon Harry Cousins, a civic employe, living at 70 Birch avenue, received serious injuries by the caving in of the sides. Eye-witnesses state that fully 20 minutes expired before his fellow workmen could remove the mass of earth which had fallen on him. He may recover. Cousins is a married man, about 40 years of age.

Body Found In Toronto Bay.

Toronto, Oct. 29.—At 5 p. m. Saturday a "floater" was found at the foot of Princess street. It was that of a man about 50 years of age, who had evidently been a laboring man. The body has the appearance of having been in the water for some time. There was nothing on him to identify him.

Dead Number Twelve.

Kansas City, Oct. 29.—Four more bodies were found Saturday in the ruins of the Chamber of Commerce building in Kansas City, Kas., making the total known dead to date 12. Four persons are still missing.

TRENT CANAL.

TENDERS FOR WATER POWER.

Sealed tenders addressed to the undersigned and endorsed "Tender for Water Power", will be received at this office until 16 o'clock on Thursday, the 29th November, 1906, for the surplus Water Power at Dam No. 4, Peterborough, on the Trent Canal.

Parties tendering must understand that in developing the power, the discharge below, must in no wise interfere with Navigation, and the Department reserves the right (without compensation to lessees) to raise Dam No. 5 two feet.

Lessees, as an evidence of good faith, will be required to expend in developing the power not less than $25,000 within 6 months and not less than $50,000 within 12 months from the date of the acceptance of the tender.

The term of ease shall be for 21 years renewable for three like terms, but the rent to be charged shall be subject to adjustment at each renewal term.

In the case of Firms there must be attached the actual signatures of the full name, the nature of the occupation and place of residence of each member of the same, and further, an accepted bank cheque for the sum of $2,000 must accompany the tender; this accepted cheque must be endorsed over to the Minister of Railways and Canals, and will be forfeited if the party tendering declines entering into lease on the terms stated in the offer submitted.

The accepted cheques thus sent in will be returned to the respective parties whose tenders are not accepted. This Department does not, however, bind itself to accept the highest or any tender.

By order,
L. K JONES,
Secretary.

Synopsis Of Canadian North-West

HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the North-west Provinces, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land is situate.

Homestead Duties.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:—

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act, as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Application for patent should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of his intention to do so.

BIG JAIL DELIVERY.

Six Months In a Jail Too Much For a "Drunk."

Montreal, Oct. 30.—There has been a great jail delivery. Twenty-three drunkards have been let out of the Montreal jail, and a still greater number are to be let out of the Quebec jail.

These men have been released on a writ of certorari, taken out by I. House, advocate, who took the grounds that the recorders had no right to sentence drunkards to such long terms as from six to nine months. The result of these long terms has been an overcrowding of the jails, so that about 50 of the prisoners had to be sent to Quebec.

Mr. House took a test case before His Lordship Judge Taschereau on the 15th inst., and he quashed the judgments given in the drunkenness and loitering cases by the recorders.

The result of the judgment will be far-reaching. Not only will a total of about a hundred drunkards and vagabonds be given their liberty, but this hundred has instructed Mr. House to sue the city, and the suits will be brought for amounts at the rate of $2 a day for each day spent in prison.

AFTER THE MINERALS.

Walker Lake Indian Reservation Thrown Open—A Wild Time.

Thorne, Nevada, Oct. 30.—Early yesterday morning thousands of men were prepared for the dash into the Walker Lake Indian reservation, although the signal for the start was not to be given until noon.

Promptly at 12 o'clock a big charge of dynamite was exploded and the race for gold was on.

Launches, rowboats, automobiles, horses and burros, were used to speed the prospectors to the place where the mineral deposits of the reservation are located.

Charges have been freely made that favoritism is being shown in allowing certain prospectors to enter the forbidden ground and stake out their claims before the signal was given.

Owing to the extent of the territory to be guarded the small force of Indian police have found it impossible to keep the thousands of prospectors in check.

Many of them have evaded the guards and are out of reach.

TELEPHONE AGREEMENTS.

Railway Commission Is Getting Business Due to New Act.

Ottawa, Oct. 30.—The Railway Commission is beginning to hear from the Bell Telephone Co., which the Railway Act of last session placed under its jurisdiction. So far eighteen agreements between the Bell Co. and as many independent companies have been submitted for approval.

The points which come for consideration are: (1) The Bell rates; (2) the local companies; (3) the clause which appears in all, restraining the local company from effecting connection with any other local company.

The express companies are working with Mr. Hardwell, the chief traffic officer, in submitting their tariffs to him in anticipation of its assumption of jurisdiction over them at the beginning of the year. So far no complaints have been received as to express rates.

RICHARD LAIDMAN DIES.

Foster Wedding Anniversary Was Very Tragic Event.

Hamilton, Oct. 30.—Richard Laidman of Binbrook, who was one of the guests at the Foster wedding anniversary in Oneida township, died Sunday. This makes the fourth victim among those who attended the affair. While it was thought at first that the deaths were due to ptomaine poisoning from eating gelatined chicken, it is now believed that they were due to typhoid fever, which resulted from drinking impure water. Mrs. S. A. Laidman and Mrs. Laidman are also very ill, but it is believed that they will recover.

$2,000 REWARD.

Dayton, O., Offers That Sum For Mayor Snyder's Body.

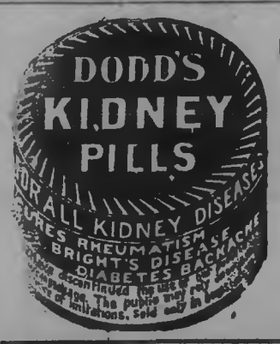
Port Arthur, Oct. 30.—A special train with 20 citizens of Port Arthur went out on Duluth extension yesterday morning to Whitefish Lake, to join a party there searching for the body of Mayor Snyder of Dayton, Ohio, who was drowned several days ago.

Search with grappling hooks and dynamite is still being continued, upwards of 50 dynamite shots having been exploded yesterday without effect.

The Council of Dayton have offered $2,000 reward for finding the body.

To Enthrone Bishop.

Montreal, Oct. 30.—Bishop Carmichael, coadjutor bishop of Montreal, will be enthroned in Christ Church Cathedral on Sunday, Nov. 4, as Lord Bishop of Montreal. The ceremony will take place at 4.30 o'clock.



JAIL SLACKNESS.

May Have Helped on the Escape of the Brampton Prisoners.

Toronto, Oct. 30.—Slackness on the part of Brampton jail wardens is understood to be the reported cause of the escape of McDonald and Abbott, awaiting trial on a charge of attempted murder.

Dr. Bruce Smith has conducted an investigation on the circumstances, a report of which has been laid before the Provincial Secretary.

The prisoners climbed over a wall by the help of a pump placed there for the purpose.

Former Orillian Suicides.

Buffalo, Oct. 30.—Charles R. Gray, 48 years old, a writer for journals devoted to horses, committed suicide at the Southern Hotel here yesterday morning. Until a few years ago he had lived in Orillia, Ont. No reason is known for his rash act, and his widow, who, with four children, survive him, said she could not explain why her husband had ended his life.

Two Die In Jail Fire.

Victoria, B. C., Oct. 30.—The Provincial Police Department was advised yesterday of the burning of the Court House and jail at Chilliwack, and the death in the flames of Daniel McKenzie, proprietor of the Dominion Hotel, and K. C. Cousins. The victims are believed to have started the fire. They were immured for drunkenness.

Artemus Douglas Suicides.

Charlottetown, P. E. I., Oct. 30.—The unknown man who drowned himself Friday from the steamer Northumberland, while en route to Pictou, is believed to be Artemus Douglas of Stanhope. On Thursday he had his savings in the bank transferred to his brother. He suffered from acute ear trouble.

DROWNED WHILE HUNTING.

John Draper of Public Works Department Dies In Quebec.

Ottawa, Oct. 30.—Word has been received of the drowning of John Draper of the Public Works Department at L'Annonciation, Que.

He was hunting and was in a canoe with Allan Fraser of the Riley Lumber Co. One stood up to shoot a deer and the canoe upset. Mr. Draper could not swim and perished.

He was a brother of P. M. Draper, the well-known labor man and secretary of the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress. His brother Thomas is mayor of L'Annonciation.

Issues Writ For Libel.

Toronto, Oct. 30.—Alleging that William Laidlaw, K. C., "did maliciously and falsely publish certain false statements about the plaintiff in connection with the sale of Farmers' Bank stock," a writ was issued yesterday against him by W. J. Lindsey, asking for $25,000 damages for the libel complained of. Masten, Starr & Spence issued the writ.

Breakwater Damaged.

Goderich, Oct. 30—A 60-mile-an-hour gale from the northwest swept this port Sunday. The remaining part of the concrete upper structure of the new Government breakwater was swept away and the new electric signal lights, just completed to mark the location of the cribwork, were completely demolished.

London, Oct. 30.—(C. A. P.)—The House of Commons informed Mr. Seeley that any agreement arrived at the Berlin wireless telegraphy conference would be subject to ratification by Parliament.

Collector Loses Satcel.

Bowmanville, Oct. 30.—The collector of taxes for Darlington, Solomon Williams, of Hampton, lost his satchel on the road near Courtice. It contained $164.14, his cash book and other valuable papers.

Butchers.

There was not enough of the good butchers' to supply the demand, and the export class was invaded to get enough good cattle, as will be seen by the quotations given. Best 'butchers' sold at $4.35 to $4.65, and a couple of loads of exporters were bought for butchers' purposes at $4.75; medium to fair butchers', $3.85 to $4.15; lighter grades, $3.65 to $3.75; common at $3.25 to $3.50; cows, $2.75 to $3.85; canners, $1 to $2.25 per cwt.

Feeders and Stockers.

Several of the dealers were buying feeders, and many farmers were also on the outlook for good short-keeps, all of whom without exception were wanting well-bred cattle which are scarce. Short-keeps, 1100 to 1250 lbs., were quoted around $4 per cwt., say from $3.85 to $4.10 per cwt.; feeders, 1000 to 1100 lbs. each, at $3.50 to $3.75; stockers were quoted at from $2.25 to $3.25 per cwt.

Milch Cows.

Several of the leading cow dealers were on the market, amongst them Messrs. Ryan and Rountree. Prices ranged from $40 to $58 each, and more good cows would have sold.

Veal Calves.

Prices ranged from $4 to $6.50 per cwt. More good calves were wanted.

Sheep and Lambs.

Lambs sold at $6 to $6.25 per cwt., and export sheep at $4.50 per cwt.

Hogs.

H. P. Kennedy bought the few hogs offered at $6 per cwt. for selects, and $5.70 was quoted for lights.

MONTREAL LIVE STOCK.

Montreal, Oct. 29.—(Special.)—Cables from Liverpool and London on Canadian cattle were strong and noted an advance in prices of ½c to 1c, with sales in the former market at 11½c, and in the latter one at 11½c to 12c. Ranch cattle in Liverpool were ½c higher, at 10½c; demand for ocean space has improved considerably, which has strengthened the market, and rates have advanced 2s 6d to 5s per head, and the bulk of the space has been engaged for the balance of the season at 30s to 35s to Liverpool, 27s 6d to 30s to London, 35s to Glasgow, and Manchester. Exports last week were 2921 cattle. Receipts to-day were 2000 cattle, 50 milch cows, 2300 sheep and lambs, 1000 hogs, 150 calves. The most important feature of the trade was the weaker feeling in the market for hogs, and prices declined 25c per 100 lbs., which makes net reduction of 65c to 75c during the month. This continued weakness in the hog situation is due to several reasons, of which the most depressing one has been the steady increase in supplies of late, and, in addition to this, the leading foreign markets for Canadian bacon have had a downward tendency, the decline in prices in Liverpool during the present month being 2s to 5s in London, 3s to 6s, and in Bristol 2s to 3s. The demand for hogs this morning at the above reduction in prices was good, notwithstanding the fact that the packers were fairly well supplied with stock, and sales of selected lots were made at $6 to $6.25 per 100 lbs., weighed off cars.

The butchers were out strong, and there was a good demand for the best cattle at last week's rates, but the common and inferior beasts were slow of sale at lower prices. Prime beeves sold at 4c to 4½c per lb.; pretty good, 3½c to 4c, and the common stock at 2c to 3c, while the lean canners sold at 1½c. There were a number of very fine milch cows on the market, and these sold at $50 to $60 each; the others sold at $25 to $45. Grass-fed calves sold at 2½c to 3½c per lb. Good veals at 4c to 5c. Sheep sold at 3½c to 4¼c per lb., and the lambs at 5c to nearly 5⅝c per pound.

Hogs—Receipts, 10,788; market higher; state and Pennsylvania hogs, $6.70 to $6.75; culs. $7.

Broken Bones.

While waiting for the doctor to come and set the dislocated arm or broken leg, lay the patient and the injured member in the most comfortable position possible and keep up the circulation and prevent swelling and stiffness by continuous fomentations. The operations of reducing the dislocation or replacing the broken bones will be much easier done.

A Monster Musical Instrument.

The most gigantic harp ever constructed, as far as the record goes, was that made by Veritan, the provost of Burkli, near Basel, Switzerland, in 1787. That was a long while ago, but the fame of M. Veritan's gigantic harp was such that it is still occasionally mentioned by writers on the rare and the wonderful, just as the sea serpent, bloody rain, live mastodons, etc., are. M. Veritan's colossal musical instrument was 320 feet in length, and, on that account, was constructed in an open lot instead of in a harp factory. It was most simple in construction, consisting of fifteen wires strung tightly between two poles. These wires were of different sizes, the largest being one-sixth of an inch in diameter and the smallest one-twelfth of an inch. They were stretched north and south and inclined in such a manner as to form an angle of from twenty to thirty degrees with the horizon. This queer instrument was not intended as an exaggerated toy, but was constructed for the express purpose of foretelling changes in the weather, which were calculated by Professor Veritan according to the different tones the instrument made when the wind was blowing through it.

Weasel and Rat.

Friendships are not uncommon between the cat and dog and have been known between a dog and a wolf, but the mutual attitude of the weasel and rat is invariably war—war that is waged to the death.

A Profitable Speculation.

One copy of Caxton's "De Confessione Amantis," or "The Confession of a Lover," was one of the most profitable speculations ever made in books. A Dublin bookseller of the eighteenth century bought a number of volumes at secondhand, as he supposed of no great value, paying for them one and sixpence, and found in the package this rare work of Caxton's, which he afterward sold for over $1,500.

Sandals.

Sandals were more fashionable among the Egyptians than among the Hebrews. They were worn by women of the highest rank, for we read of the sandals with long, turn up points which a beautiful queen habitually wore when she was at home.

Big Majority Of Two Hundred In The House

Lords Committee Amends First Clause of Education Bill.

ON LIBERAL AMENDMENT

The Government Was Defeated on First Vote—As Altered Clause Makes Bill Include Compulsory Religious Instruction During Part of School Day—The Government Refused to Accept the Amendment.

London, Oct. 30.—The first vote in committee of the House of Lords on the education bill was taken last night and resulted in the defeat of the Government by a majority of 200.

The vote came on an amendment to the first clause in the bill. The amendment, which was offered by Lord Heneage, Liberal, makes religious instruction compulsory during a part of the daily school hours in all public elementary schools.

Earl Crewe, speaking for the Government, refused to accept the amendment, but after a most business-like debate, the amendment was carried. 256 to 56. The majority included the entire Opposition in the House of Lords with the exception of Lord Ampthill, who voted with the minority. Among the majority were the Archbishop of Canterbury, 20 bishops and the Duke of Devonshire.

Among the minority were all the peers who are members of the Government, and Lord Rosebery, the Duke of Manchester, the Earl of Durham, Earl Russell, the Marquis of Northampton, Lord Brassey, Lord Grimthorpe, Lord Weardale, Lord Haversham and Lord Reay.

REDMOND'S PLAN.

Would Compel Irish Landlords to Sell Their Untenanted Lands.

London, Eng., Oct. 30.—John E. Redmond, the Irish leader moved the adjournment of the House of Commons yesterday in order to call attention to the lack of progress in the matter of reinstating evicted tenants, hindering the operations of the land act by refusing to sell untenanted lands. The land commissioners consequently were unable to provide farms for evicted tenants.

Mr. Redmond said it was obvious that the Government must resort to some system of compulsion. The patience of the Irish people was becoming exhausted, and, although the Irish party desired to give opportunity for the greatest degree of fair play pending a declaration of the Government's intention regarding Irish self-government, he thought the Chief Secretary for Ireland Bryce ought to grapple with the matter vigorously.

Replying to Mr. Redmond, Mr. Bryce, after some debate, said the Government had done its best to cope with the grave obstacles before it, and had won a certain measure of success. If the remedy is compulsion, the chief secretary said the Government might have to come to that.

Walter Hume Long, Conservative, then declared that Mr. Bryce's statement involved a complete triumph for the Nationalists, and the subject was dropped.

CONSULTED NEWFOUNDLAND.

Precise Details of Negotiations With U. S. For Modus Vivendi.

London, Oct. 30.—Answering a question in the House of Commons yesterday Winston Spencer Churchill, Under Secretary for the Colonial Office, gave precise details of the steps taken fully to inform the Government of Newfoundland of the course of the negotiations for a modus vivendi on the fisheries question. He said:

"The dicision of His Majesty's Government that a modus vivendi, was necessary and their intention to make proposals to the United States Government for such an arrangement was communicated to the Colonial Government telegraphically some days before the United States was informed.

"In the same telegram Newfoundland was asked to give her views of what form the modus vivendi should take, and no proposals were actually made to the United States Government until the reply of Newfoundland was received.

"Throughout Newfoundland was kept fully and promptly advised by the telegraph. His Majesty's Government answered no communications of the United States without first consulting Newfoundland and endeavoring to obtain her concurrence. The note from the United States Ambassador ratifying the arrangement was telegraphed verbatim to the Colonial Government the same day as it was written and received."

Welcome Greenwood.

On Hamar Greenwood's return to the House of Commons yesterday he was cordially greeted by the Premier, Winston Churchill and friends of all parties. Greenwood has the respect of the House because he never pretends to be other than he is, a typical Canadian. Greenwood is now advocating that the Colonial Office always hand out to the colonial press associations an official statement in matters like the recent Newfoundland question.

SUCCESSION DUES.

Province Gets Half a Million From the Gooderham Estate.

Toronto, Oct. 30.—The largest cheque ever received by the Ontario Government for succession dues, and perhaps the largest ever received by the Provincial Treasury, except from other Government sources, came into the possession of Hon. Col. Matheson yesterday.

It was for $519,672.43, and was in payment of the succession dues on the estate of the late George Gooderham.

The cheque was drawn on the Bank of Toronto and signed by W. G. Gooderham, as chairman of the trustees of the estate.

The sum received by the province is percentage collected on a valuation placed on the estate of $10,400,000.

Rossin House, Toronto, Scorched.

Toronto, Oct. 30.—The rear quarters of the Rossin House were scorched early this morning between 12 and 1 o'clock by a fire which originated in the boiler house, presumably about the roof, as it was in the upper stories of this annex which suffered most. The loss on contents will be $2,000 and $3,000 on the building. There was no panic, but many women, guests and help, were excited and left their rooms in any clothing they could find. They were all back in bed again at 2 o'clock.

Suggests Quarantine.

London, Oct. 30.—(C. A. P.)—Cathcart Wason, writing in The Scotsman on Canadian cattle importation, says if the agitators for the repeal of the present law are sincere let them ask for a quarantine the same as is enforced by practically every nation and colony of from forty to sixty days, and pay for it themselves. The farmers of South Ayrshire are not likely to forget the ravages of rinderpest and the foot and mouth disease.

Miss Sartoris Married.

New York, Oct. 30.—Miss Rosemay Sartoris, daughter of Mrs. Nellie Grant Sartoris, and the late Algernon Charles Frederick Sartoris, and granddaughter of the late Gen. Grant, was married here yesterday at noon to George H. Woolston of Hibernia, Fla. Before the couple return to this city they will probably visit the Sartoris summer home in Cobourg, Ont.

Off to Fight to Utes.

Omaha, Oct. 30.—The departure from Fort Robinson, Neb., yesterday, of four troops of the 10th cavalry, makes 16 troops of cavalry, in all a total of 765 officers and men now en route to round up the band of renegade Ute Indians, now supposed to be in camp on Powder River in Wyoming. The Indians are well armed.

Elected by Acclamation.

Montreal, Oct. 30.—Joseph Gauthier of St. Lin, Liberal, was yesterday elected by acclamation to the Quebec Legislature in L'Assomption in Iberville.

Cossacks Ready to Suppress Anticipated Disorders.

OVER CZAR'S MANIFESTO

People Warned Against Assembling on the Occasion of the Anniversary of the Proclamation of Russian Constitution — Already Government Has Been Defied and a Mass Meeting Held In University.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 30.—On the eve of the anniversary of the publication of the imperial manifesto, giving a constitution to Russia Oct. 30, the prefect of police has caused the city to be placarded with proclamations warning the public that in case of disorders, demonstrations, or even the assembling of crowds armed force will be used with all the vigor permissible under the rules of "extraordinary security."

The Government's ultimatum to the faculty of the university, announcing that the institution would be closed if meetings involving the participation of non-students were continued, was defied yesterday. An immense mass meeting was held in the university building, at which many workmen, professional men and several army officers were present.

Constitution Valueless.

After fiery revolutionary speeches had been delivered a resolution was adopted, declaring that the gift of a constitution by the Emperor last October had proved valueless and asserting that the situation of the country was as intolerable as before the manifesto. A second resolution rejected a proposition to celebrate to-day with a meeting or a demonstration, as the anniversary was not deserving of special notice, and it was useless to play into the hands of the police by provoking disorder.

The Emperor has signed a ukase granting full religious freedom to the sect known as the "Old Believers," who number several millions and constitute the most prosperous and industrious class of Russians. It is understood that the ukase will be published on the anniversary of the constitutional manifesto.

Cossacks to Suppress.

Warsaw, Oct. 30.—Fears that disturbances will occur to-day, the anniversary of the publication of the imperial manifesto, giving a constitution to Russia, have led to the adoption of vigorous measures by the authorities. Cossacks and infantry will suppress the slightest attempts at demonstrations.

Place Quick-Firing Guns.

London, Oct. 30.—A despatch to a news agency from Odessa says that elaborate military precautions have been taken there in view of the possibility of exciting events to-day. Four thousand Cossacks are ready for instant action, quick-firing guns are posted at a dozen points, and the streets are closely patrolled.

FOR BENEVOLENT PURPOSES.

Late Jairus Hart of Halifax Bequeaths Bulk of Fortune.

Halifax, N. S., Oct. 30.—The will of the late Jairus Hart, whose death took place on the 27th, and who was one of the wealthiest men of Halifax, was proved yesterday in the Probate Court.

The estate is estimated to be worth over half a million, the great bulk of which goes to benevolent and religious purposes.

Mount Allison University, of which Mr. Hart was regent, will eventually receive $100,000, and the Nova Scotia Methodist conference and the Missionary Society of the Methodist Church of Canada, $100,000; the Halifax Y. M. C. A., $10,000 for building fund; the Halifax citizens' library, $10,000 for new books; $20,000 for new ladies' college at Mount Allison. The School for the Blind is also a leading recipient.

Can't Land In Morocco.

Paris, Oct. 30.—While France and Spain are despatching warships to Tangier, acting on the theory that they already hold a European mandate to exercise police functions, the fact that the Algeciras convention has not yet been ratified, is a matter of embarrassment, and the action of the two powers will be confined to holding their ships in readiness to land marines for the protection of foreign subjects.

Clerk $2,000 Short.

Montreal, Oct. 30.—Henry H. Hull a young Englishman, who has been employed for some time as head bookkeeper by the Montreal office of the Cambridge Society, 151 St. James street, is missing, and with him a large amount of the firm's money. As far as the auditors have as yet determined, the amount of the embezzlement is about $2,000.

Coal Miners Celebrate.

Mahoney City, Pa., Oct. 30.—Every colliery in the Schuylkill region was idle yesterday, owing to the celebration of Mitchell Day. Parades were held at Shenandoah, Mount Carmel and Coaldale, where President Mitchell addressed a mass meeting of miners of the Panther Creek Valley.

Patriot Buried With Ceremony.

Kaschua, Hungary, Oct. 30.—The body of Franz Rakoczky, the Hungarian patriot, who died in exile, and those of his mother and son, Joseph, were brought here yesterday from Budapest, and were taken to the cathedral with great ceremony, where a requiem mass was celebrated.

Shares Fortune With Sister.

Kingston, Oct. 30.—William Hinton of this city recently fell heir to $20,000, left him by an aunt in Birmingham, England. He went to the old land, secured his share, and returned this week. He gave $2,000 of his windfall to a married sister in Arnprior, Ont.

Bye-Election Before Xmas.

Toronto, Oct. 30.—Premier Whitney yesterday anticipated the bye-election in East Hamilton as to be settled before Christmas. The issue of the writ may be expected before long.

Standard Oil Fined.

Findlay, Ohio, Oct. 30.—The Standard Oil Co. yesterday afternoon was fined $5,000 and costs for operating in restraint of trade in Ohio.

Fifty-one Bodies Recovered From Awful Wreck

All But Two In Atlantic City Car Wreck Identified.

TWO DEAD NOT YET FOUND

Sad Scenes at Morgue—Fred. Benckert Collapsed as He Viewed Bodies of His Entire Family of Wife and Two Children — Sad Case of Motorman Walter Scott — Workmen Brought Up Bodies In Relays.

Atlantic City, N. J., Oct. 30.—The total number of dead in the appalling wreck of an electric train, which on Sunday afternoon, loaded with passengers, plunged into the waterway separating this city from the mainland, now is placed at 53.

Of these 49 bodies have been identified, and two others remain unclaimed in the temporary mortuary.

The bodies of two persons known to have been drowned have not been recovered.

A special car containing the bodies of the Philadelphia victims left last night for that city.

Gruesome Scenes, Pathetic Incidents.

The day has been one of unceasing activity, of gruesome scenes and pathetic incidents. Wrecking crews with derricks succeeded in bringing one of the two submerged cars to the surface, and divers, working in relays, brought up bodies until their task was completed and they reported that no more dead remained either inside the second car or in the water and mud anywhere in the vicinity.

Interest now centres in the work of the coroner's jury, which yesterday made a careful inspection of the scene of the wreck, and the drawbridge, at which the train left the rails. State Senator Edward S. Lee is foreman of the jury.

No More Than 53.

After the forward car of the two submerged coaches had been hoisted to the surface and the divers who had worked on the wreckage all day long, had made a final examination of the second car without finding any more bodies, W. W. Atterbury, general manager of the Pennsylvania Railway, who, with several of his assistants, had been on the scene since Sunday night, expressed his belief that the total number of dead would not exceed 53.

"There is a bare possibility that one or two others may have been killed," he added. "I cannot believe that any of the unfortunates were carried out to sea by the ebbing tide."

Mr. Atterbury said the cause of the accident was a mystery to him.

Sad Scenes at Morgue.

At the morgue the scenes were pathetic. Persons who had friends on the train crowded about the entrance and were with difficulty restrained from forcing their way into the building. One of the most heartrending incidents was furnished by Frederick Benokert, who lost his entire family, a wife and two children. Benokert was not informed in Philadelphia of the accident until too late to catch a train, and he hurried here in an automobile. When he saw the dead bodies of his wife and two little boys lying side by side on the floor, he collapsed and had to be carried from the building. Benckert had intended to accompany his family Sunday, but was unable to get away.

Walter Scott, the dead motorman, lost his life through his anxiety to spend a part of the day with his wife here. It was his custom to run only as far as Millville, but Sunday he swapped runs with another motorman and his terrible death was the result.

Freight Steamer Ashore.

Halifax, Oct. 30.—A despatch from Trepassey, Nfld., says the large steamer Elixir went ashore, deeply laden, on Cape Ballard early yesterday morning.

Legs Burned to the Bone.

London, Oct. 30.—George Fletcher, a workman at the rolling mills, slipped while lifting a red-hot bar of iron, which burned both legs to the bone.

No G. T. R. Fleet.

Montreal, Oct. 30.—General Manager Hays declares that there is not a word of truth in the story of the Grand Trunk fleet cabled from London.

Postponed Until November 5.

Toronto, Oct. 30.—The Royal Insurance Commission will not resume sittings in Ottawa until Monday, Nov. 5.

A Natural Laxative

Inward cleansing is as necessary as outward bathing. To keep the bowels free and regular is of even greater importance than to keep the skin-pores from becoming clogged. The neglect of either invites disease. Everyone needs a natural laxative occasionally, to free the bowels of accumulated impurities For this purpose take the greatest boon ever offered to those who suffer from the ills that follow constipation. For over fifty years Beecham's Pills have been famous as a Stomach corrective, a Liver regulator and Bowel laxative. They never gripe nor cause pain. Powerful purgatives are dangerous. Avoid them. Use Beecham's Pills. They give relief without doing violence to any organ. Their action is in harmony with physical laws. Take them regularly and the necessity for their use becomes less frequent. They are a natural laxative and a positive cure for Constipation, Biliousness, Indigestion, Sick Headache and Dyspepsia.

BEECHAM'S PILLS

St. Luke's Gathering Was A Great Success

High Tea and Concert Last Night—Many Clergymen Were Present and Delivered Addresses—Success of Affair Reflects Great Credit Upon Those in Charge.

The high tea and concert held under the auspices of St. Luke's Church last night cannot be spoken of as anything else than an unqualified success, and reflects the greatest credit upon those in charge of the affair, the arrangements for which were perfect. The attendance must have been very gratifying to the people of St. Luke's. Not only was a large proportion of St. Luke's congregation present, but other denominations and churches were well represented. A significant feature in connection with the gathering was the presence of so many clergymen of other churches. In addition to Rev. Dr. Symonds, of Montreal, there were in attendance Rev. Canon Davidson, of St. John's; Rev. Wm. Major, of All Saints'; Rev. Dr. Crothers, of George Street; Rev. J. G. Lewis, of Mark Street, and Rev. W. L. Baynes-Reed, of Norway (Toronto). Rev. Dr. Torrance, of St. Paul's, was prevented by illness from being present.

The tea was held in the East City town hall, where six long tables fairly groaned with good things. Here, from 5 to nearly 8 o'clock, there was a steady stream of people, and the many willing workers were kept busy. The ladies of St. Luke's have achieved a great reputation in the past for their splendid repasts, and last night's affair was fully up to the previously established standard. Those in charge of the tables were Mrs. (Rev.) Langfeldt, Mrs. Boswell, Mrs. Jameson, Mrs. Turner, Mrs. Adams, Mrs. Denne, Mrs. Manice, Mrs. Louderville and Mrs. Butcher. Mrs. W. J. Scott and Mrs. F. J. Jameson were the ladies in charge of the arrangements, and to them and their able and willing assistants the credit for the success of the affair is due.

The concert was held in the schoolroom of St. Luke's, the capacity of which was severely taxed to accommodate the large audience that assembled. Mr. J. H. Burnham made a very efficient chairman, and the visiting clergymen occupied seats on the platform.

Chairman's Address

The chairman, in opening his address, said that the ladies of St. Luke's had maintained their reputation in providing a sumptuous repast. He referred to the long list of good clergymen which St. Luke's had enjoyed, and of which, he stated, the people had proven themselves to be well worthy. Special complimentary reference was made to the Rev. Dr. Symonds. Peterborough had seen a singular revival in kindliness in the city during the past year. The clergymen had united to join their forces, instead of having them divided. It was to the laymen a matter of great congratulation. No longer were heard criticisms of one church by another. There is found a spirit of dignity, of loving kindliness. It was something to look forward to with delight. It would be in the line of increased idealism. People would cease to mix up things earthly with things heavenly. The best things might be expected in the future. He closed by congratulating the incumbents of the churches of Peterborough, and had no doubt that the minds of the people would be so charmed by the new Christianity that they would go to church better and with a better spirit.

Mr. C. E. Coleman sang a comic song, in Highland costume, "I Love a Lassie," which was cleverly sung and well received by the audience. An encore number had to be given.

Rev. Dr. Crothers

Rev. Dr. Crothers, of George Street, was the next to give an address, and expressed appreciation of the honour done him at being invited to be present on such an occasion. He was present for two reasons, that he might show his respect to his friend, Mr. Langfeldt, whom he congratulated upon his predecessor, and also congratulated Dr. Symonds on his successor. He paid a glowing tribute to Rev. Mr. Langfeldt, whose influence, not only in St. Luke's, but throughout the city, had been for good. He referred to the good feeling existing among the clergymen of Peterborough. The second reason that he was present was to join in paying his respects to Rev. Dr. Symonds, to whom he paid a warm tribute.

Miss Ruth Dawson's fine soprano voice was most advantageously displayed in a solo, "A Little Rocking Chair and You," which was received with great pleasure, and she was compelled to respond to an encore.

Rev. Dr. Symonds

Rev. Dr. Symonds was the next speaker and was greeted with warm applause. In opening his address he referred to the many happy evenings he had spent in St. Luke's. On looking at the audience he noticed that some familiar faces were missing. It reminded one of the transitory nature of human life, and also the motto that, as you sow, also shall you reap. He trusted that for many a long years to come the congregation of St. Luke's might continue to grow.

He wished to thank a great many people. His heart was always full of thankfulness when he came back to Peterborough, as he always received a hearty and warm welcome. He thanked the people for their good will. The speaker also thanked Rev. Dr. Crothers for his kind words.

The wave of unity that was sweeping over Canada had special effect in Peterborough, which might be called the storm centre of the movement.

Peterborough's Life

The speaker referred to the fact that Peterborough was in a flourishing condition. There were many indications that the city would increase by leaps and bounds. Peterborough's growth was only a figure of what was going on over the whole of Canada. "We are living in a time of prosperity," said the speaker. There was a vast continent lying to the west whose possibilities were unlimited. There had been a long series of good harvests and a growth in export trade. The country was not only expanding, but there was much to be thankfull for to be living in a country whose prosperity was unlimited.

A Great Danger

There was, however, a great danger arising out of this prosperity which was affording great anxiety to public-minded citizens. It should never be forgotten that the ultimate test of a country's greatness was not the fertility of its soil, etc.; it was the honour of its people. The only great thing in any country was the people who lived therein. It was the people who strove to live upright and honest lives who made up a great country. This was seen in studying the United States, where the people did not appear to those of Canada, who looked upon them as too sharp and smart. The test applied is not of wealth, or numbers, or luxuries, but whether they are true, honourable and straight.

All the lesser tests could be answered in a hopeful manner in connection with Canada. But what of the people? He did not believe it was right that any man should close his eyes to palpable facts which indicated danger to Canada. "Could you honestly say of the people of Canada," asked the speaker, "that Canada is not so rich as the United States, but one thing we are proud of is our political purity, our municipal honesty?" He was compelled to say that they would have to leave that point on one side.

"What was to be done about it?" asked Dr. Symonds. One thing was certain, that all great movements had small beginnings. Some of the weakest things, filled with the spirit of faith, have been the means of accomplishing great things. The first advice given was, be not contented. The divine discontent was a discontent with things that are wrong. People could be filled with shame at the existing conditions and strive as best they could against them. Two great needs were a higher conception of truth. Here the speaker referred to the false impressions of truth existing in Canada, saying and preaching half truths. The second thing needed was a better conception of contentment. There was a discontent among the people of Canada, found among those already wealthy, with great privileges which they abuse by reason of this discontent. Everywhere a discontent existed which caused men to forget that "godliness with contentedness, that is gain." It was in the commonest things of life, after all, that man's chief happiness was found. He enlarged upon that point in conclusion.

Mr. W. Coleman sang a comic song with good effect, and was warmly applauded.

Rev. Baynes-Reed of Toronto, in a neat address, expressed his pleasure at being present, with the people of St. Luke's, and remarked that he considered the circumstances which lead up to it were very fortunate. He paid a tribute to Rev. Dr. Symonds, whose good qualities, he remarked, he would like to imitate.

Rev. Canon Davidson of St. John's, and Rev. Wm. Major of All Saints, in brief speeches, referred to their pleasure at being able to be present at such a gathering.

Miss Dawson was heard with great pleasure in another solo.

Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, rector of St. Luke's, in conclusion, thanked the people and visiting clergymen, for their presence.

The people of St. Luke's are to be congratulated upon the great success which attended their concert and tea. Such gatherings, marked as the affair of last night was, by the presence of so many clergymen, will go a long way towards church unity.

Hope Of Slocan Is The Leasing System

Some of the Advantages of Mining by This System—How Loss is Turned to Profit—S. S. Fowler Discusses Possibility and Limitations of Operations by Working Leases.

With the general renewal of the mining industry throughout the west, and especially in British Columbia, due in part, perhaps, to the rising values of silver, copper and lead, general interest is again being centered on the one district that seems to feel the stimulus least of all.

The Silvery Slocan was at one time the hope of Kootenay, but for the last six years it has been a scene of depression, disturbed on rare occasions by reports of rich strikes, only to subside again.

The Slocan district is known to contain many, at least hundreds, of rich properties. They are well known to engineers as well as to prospectors. They are neither inaccessible nor difficult to operate. They are not idle for want of capital. On the contrary capital has been spent on many and there have been adequate returns.

Evidently the system on which they have been worked must be defective, and if the country is to revive a new system must be followed.

A new system has already been introduced—the leasing system — from which much is hoped by those who have watched it in operation.

S. S. Fowler of Nelson has so far been one of the most successful operators on the leasing system, and his views on the possibilities and limitations of the system should be of considerable value. Asked his views on the subject by a representative of The Canadian, Mr. Fowler said:

"The greatest and also the most obvious advantage of the leasing system is the great saving of expenditure. The mining operations of a big company necessarily involve an office staff of fair salaried men, accountant, clerks, manager and engineer. Where the authority of the manager is limited it also involves frequently costly delays in obtaining consent and approval for projected operations.

"The system has been in vogue for some years in Colorado and has been successful there. The returns of printed contracts show that the lessees pay a much higher royalty in Colorado than has so far been paid in British Columbia. There the companies usually do a certain amount of development work, sink a shaft and equip it, and start drifts. Then they lease parts of the drifts, making it a condition of the lease that the lessee shall do a certain amount of development work before he begins to stope ore.

"As to the royalties paid, the figures I have apply to two years ago, but I think there has been no material change since. The royalty is on a sliding scale, from 10 per cent on the gross returns in the case of $25 ore to 70 per cent. for $200 ore, with the average of 45 per cent. on $100 ore. In British Columbia the rate is usually only 25 per cent. of $100 ore and calculated on the smelter returns.

"The first leases in British Columbia were generally taken on developed mines by former employees, who knew the location of small ore bodies and got leases merely to take them out, paying a small percentage of the returns. Such lessees were usually, though not always, working miners.

"That condition, however, is rapidly passing. It had many defects. Such lessees seldom had any capital. They had to work on credit, with a merchant sharing the risk, and they did no development work. The mine owners derived no benefit.

"The new condition is creating a class of lessees with small capital and usually with enough mining and business experience to satisfy the owners that the work undertaken will be well done.

"A recent contribution to the subject has advocated the formation of small syndicates, of 25 miners, each contributing $10 a month for development. Well, $250 a month will not go far to develop a mine.

"Few working miners have enough capital to really accomplish anything worth while. The lessees of the future will be men who can afford a few thousand dollars. They may then sub-lease special parts of the properties.

"It has been found that employees of a lessee do better work than men working for a big company. There is a definite object in view. They know that unless the work is successful it will stop and their occupation will be gone. In many cases, of course, where they are sub-lessees, they have a direct financial interest in the success of the work.

"Now, of course, the system cannot be followed with success in all fields. A big low-grade property — in which operation on a very large scale is necessary for profits, can only be handled by a company or individual with large capital. Even a high-grade property requiring big and costly development work, such as the long tunnel of the Rambler-Cariboo, will never, I think, be done by lessees.

"But it seems to me that the Slocan is peculiarly fitted now for successful application of the leasing system. There are many small high-grade properties already opened up, with ore bodies definitely located if not actually in sight, and many of them are equipped with mills, or are near to concentrating plants of some kind. Such properties will probably never be able to pay expenses of company operation with its costly incidentals, and pay interest on investment too, but they may give excellent returns to working lessees. If it be granted that a company manager and a working lessee are equal in efficiency, the latter has an immense advantage in economy.

"With the close supervision that is only possible with a small force, many other economies besides the saving of superfluous salaries may be effected. It is possible to see that all ore taken to the mill is clean ore, and there is every incentive to do so, as the returns depend entirely upon what is mined.

"One difficulty in the way at present is the scarcity of miners. The general prosperity of the West on both sides of the line has created a big demand for labour, and good miners are hard to get even at the highest wages.

"So far mining lessees in British Columbia have enjoyed very favourable terms. They have paid a low royalty as compared with that paid in other districts, and little in the way of development work has been required of them. There are no indications of any increase in the royalties, but the mine owners are now becoming keener as to the financial ability of the lessee to fulfill his contract, and do work that will benefit the property as well as himself and give the owner a substantial return in development as well as the small royalty, which amounts to little more, in some cases, than interest on capital already expended.

"With its limitations clearly understood and the need of economy and efficiency thoroughly appreciated, there is a splendid field in the Slocan for mining on the leasing system."

Proper, Careful Use Of Separators Is Advocated

Mr. P. Downham, of the Peterborough Creamery, Shows How Much the Farmers of Peterbougg County Are Loosing By Careless Running of Their Separators—Some Interesting Statistics.

The following circular, which has been issued by Mr. P. Downham, of the Peterborough Creamery, should be read with care by all dairymen and farmers:

I have found, from a large number of tests of skim milk from different separators, which I have made during the summer, that there has been considerable loss to the farmers, owing to poor separation of cream from the milk. This loss, in some cases, has been due to careless running of the machine, and in others to the use of inferior machines.

I fear that the loss has been considerably more than we are aware of. I would, therefore, strongly advise every one to run their separators right up to the letter of the instructions given with each machine. I would also strongly advise intending purchasers to buy the best separators; that will do the best work under all conditions.

There are machines on the market that, if properly run, the user will not sustain any loss.

Any machine that will not separate the cream from the milk perfectly, and give you a cream that will test from 28 to 32 per cent, butter fat in the cream is not worthy of the name of a separator.

If you run your machine too slow it will give you a thin cream and poor separation, leaving too much butter fat in the skim milk.

From the tests I have made during the summer of the different samples of skim milk, you will see what some of the farmers have lost, based on the price we have been paying for butter fat this season. The tests have shown that the butter fat left in skim milk ranges from 1-10 to 5-10 of one per cent. The majority of the samples contained from 3-10 to 5-10 of one per cent.

Those samples that contained 1-10 lost two and a half cents per one hundred pounds of milk. Those that contained 2-10 lost five cents per one hundred pounds of milk. And so the figures run up, that 5-10 lost twelve and a half cents per one hundred pounds of milk.

In giving these figures, I have made due allowance for the amount of butter fat left in skim milk. Where the separating has been well done there should not be more than from 2-1000 to 3-100 of one per cent. of butter fat left in skim milk.

PETERBOROUGH TUESDAY OCTOBER 30 1906

An elaborate plan for a new summer resort on the shores of Clear Lake, with connection with the Peterborough Radial Railway Company's proposed line to Stony Lake is in process of formation—Many Peterborough men are interested.

A gentleman threatens to issue an injunction against the city restraining the council from giving a franchise to a Central Steam Heating Company for use of the streets. A business man writes a letter on the same subject.

A British Soldier 82 years of age, who has served his country 27 years, is in the city—A Resident—With an invalid wife whom he would like to have taken care of in the Protestant Home.

AN INJUNCTION MAY BE ISSUED

A Business Man Says He Will Apply For One to Stop Council.

Would Prevent That Body From Giving Franchise to Central Steam Heating Concern.

A Letter From "Business Man" in Which He Sets Forth the Facts of the Situation.

Members of Council Are Away on Deputation To-day Investigating the Matter.

There is trouble in store for the city council if it passes a bylaw giving a franchise to any company to have the use of the streets to lay mains for a central steam heating plant.

The Examiner is advised that if such a course is attempted by the council, an injunction will be applied for, and the opinion of a prominent local legal authority is that the application would result in the injunction being granted.

To-day a goodly number of the members of the city council are away at Lockport and Detroit, on deputations investigating the working of the system of central steam heating in the cities, and the action of the council will in all probability be determined largely by the nature of the report submitted by these aldermen.

The coourse pursued by the council in this matter, so far, is being strongly condemned in some quarters, and to-day the Examiner is in receipt of the following letter on the subject:

Editor Examiner:—

Sir, — I see by the press of the city that a deputation of aldermen has gone at the city's expense on a jaunt to Lockport and Detroit to look into, and report on, a proposed system of heating for a central station, a franchise for which has been applied for from the council.

Don't you think, Mr. Editor, that it is pretty nearly time to call a halt to this deputation business? This year's council has spent a nice little pile of money running around the country on one pretext or another, and so far as I—an outsider, it is true—can see, the city had derived little, or no, benefit from these pleasure trips.

This last trip, however, is about the limit. I do not object to sending a deputation when there is a legitimate reason, but in this case, when it is to investigate something which the application of a little common sense proves to be unworkable on its face, it seems to me that the members of the council who are spending the city's money on this little trip, would be doing themselves, and certainly the city, a service, by remaining at home.

If a central steam heating plant is to be of any benefit to the citizens, it would be, I presume, because it would give them cheaper heat than can be procured at present, or, at any rate, at the same price; but, according to the figures, this new proposed system will not do this. I see that in Chatham the price is $3.00 per 1000 cubic feet per year. There are some good financiers in the council, but perhaps they have not figured this out. I am quite sure they have not, or they would not spend the ratepayers' money in running
